SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Sold by Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world. Prepared by Jas. Burke, London. Specially valuable Pills for residents abroad and travellers.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendencies, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

POLICE COURT.

HOUSE OF ILL-FAME.

SATURDAY, March 10.—Mrs. Mary Drake was charged with keeping a house of ill-fame on a lane off Simcoe Street. The charge was laid by the owner of the house. She pleaded not guilty. The case was adjourned until Wednesday morning, in order to give her an opportunity to leave the house. A charge against T. McCormick of frequenting the house was also adjourned until Wednesday.

First Casting.

The Campbellford Herald says that Messrs. J. Whyte & Co. are getting things into shape in their foundry in that village, and will soon be in the midst of a sprightly business. The first casting in the new premises was made on Tuesday, March 6th.

The Carnival.

Now is the time to get your costumes ready for the last grand skating carnival of the season, which is to take place on the evening of Friday, March 16th. The prizes to be offered are well worth making an effort to win. Remember that this will be the last carnival of the season, and will therefore be the best.

Sunday School Social.

A social entertainment for the Sunday School pupils of the Baptist Church was held on Friday night in that Church. A very pleasant time was enjoyed. The singing was furnished by the scholars of the school, short addresses were delivered by the Rev. Mr. Ratcliffe, the Rev. Mr. Best and Mr. Yelland, and readings and recitations completed a good programme.

For a good-fitting Ulster, latest style, go to Turnbull's.

India.

On the evening of Wednesday, March 14th, the Rev. J. M. Douglas, a retired Missionary of the Presbyterian Church, will lecture in the school room of St. Paul's Church, under the auspices of the St. Paul's Auxiliary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, on Mission Life in India, with illustrations of the life and religion of the people. Tickets for admission can be procured in the following shops: Miss Jenkins', Hall & Innis', Peter Connal's and W. W. Johnson's.

Personal.

We are glad to see that Mr. W. H. Pendry, an old resident of Peterborough, and at one time upon our staff, has had conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Veterinary Surgery by the American Veterinary College of New York at its recent commencement.

The Independent Reform Newmarket Era says:—

"Another fourth estate representative has been elected to the Local Legislature for the present term in the person of Mr. Carnegie, of the Peterborough REVIEW, for West Peterborough. He will prove a valuable acquisition to the debating talent of the House on the side of the Opposition."

Prof. J. G. McPherson, the horse educator, passed through town to-day on his way west, from paying a visit to his friends near Westwood.

OUTBREAK IN PARIS.

PARIS, March 10.—In the Esplanade des Invalides yesterday Louise Michel climbed up the ladder of a bill poster and harangued the crowd. Among those arrested was M. De Keratry, formerly prefect of police. The mob, which broke the windows, &c., was headed by Louise Michel, bearing a black flag. The cavalry, while dispersing the crowd, wounded a number of persons. But little importance is attached by the public generally to the outbreak. The firmness of the Government is generally commended.

TEN PERSONS SAVED.

LONDON, March 10.—A fishing smack has landed at Maaslina, in South Holland, with four sailors and six passengers of the foundered steamer Navaar.

SPECIE FOR AMERICA.

HAVRE, March 10.—The steamer Gellert has sailed for New York with £20,000 specie.

FRANCE AND MADAGASCAR.

VIENNA, March 10.—The commander of the French squadron in Madagascar waters has been ordered to blockade the shore and to occupy several ports on the island, but not to send troops into the interior.

AMERICAN.

HEAVY SUITS.

ATLAND, March 10.—The Chinese recently driven out of Waynesboro, have instituted suits for $115,000 damages against eighteen citizens of Waynesboro.

THE PANAMA CANAL.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—It is reported from the Isthmus of Panama, that the surface ground has been removed over the line of the canal from ocean to ocean. Digging machines are cutting away the earth rapidly.

TRAIN ROBBERS ARRESTED.

VAN BUREN, Ark., March 10.—All four men who attempted to rob the train on the Little Rock and Fort Smith Railway, has been captured. Rewards aggregating $9,000 were offered for their arrest.

A CONTESTED WILL.

CLARKSTOWN, N. Y., March 10.—The will of Elisha Ruckland, of Rockland County, whose estate is valued at half a million, has been admitted. His will has been contested for over a year by his wife, from whom he separated.

A WEALTHY MAN'S SUICIDE.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Roswell P. Flower, who when a boy went to school with Yost, who suicided at the residence of the Consul at Dumfermline, says that Yost was a farmer of good family. The ambition of his life was to amass $100,000. When he had $70,000 he married a worthy lady of Orleans. Owing to Yost's penuriousness she applied for a divorce and got an alimony amounting to a considerable sum. To avoid the judgment, Yost went to Kingston, Canada, where he met ex-Senator Spencer, who was born near Theresa. Yost accompanied Spencer to Scotland.

SCHOOL OF PHILOSOPHY.

PRINCETON, N. J., March 10.—Dr. McCosh has intimated to a committee of the Board of Trustees that he desired to retire from the Presidency of Princeton College, and devote himself to teaching philosophy. He wants a school of philosophy founded here.

A DENIAL FROM SHERIDAN.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Sheridan says:—"The statement that Egan fled from justice is untrue. He had gone to the continent solely to collect evidence for my defence. It will take him a week to finish the business in Paris in my case. He will return to Dublin. Egan's alleged letters to Carey may exist, but they have been misunderstood."

OBIT.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Jas. Otis Morse, one of the oldest iron merchants in the city, died yesterday. He was connected, as civil engineer, with the construction of the Erie Railway from Elmira west.

BLACKMAIL.

CLEVELAND, March 10.—Wm. Ambush, a prominent but eccentric colored attorney, was sentenced to the penitentiary for a year and a half for attempting to blackmail a physician in high standing. He sent a letter stating that patients had charges to make against the doctor, but that he would hold them back on payment of money.

LIGHT STORM.

CHICAGO, March 10.—Specials from the north west report light snow and winds in many points, but no very severe storms. The weather in Dakota is clear. In western Minnesota there are high winds and threatening snow.

SWORN INTO OFFICE.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The Civil Service Commissioner was yesterday sworn into office.

ASYLUM INVESTIGATION.

PITTSBURGH, March 10.—The testimony of Parks in Dixmont Insane Asylum investigation yesterday with reference to the ill treatment of patients caused a sensation. One attendant denied Parks' statements. Dr. Wiley testified that he never knew of any cruelty. He gave Parks money to go to Cincinnati, but denied it was for getting him off.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Since 1879 eighty-four million dollars has been expended by the Government in the construction of custom houses, court houses and post offices. The total expenditure in New York State for public buildings exceeds fourteen millions.

PAPER MILL BURNED.

MILLAN, Ill., March 10.—The Rock Island Paper Company's mill was burned last night. The company is bankrupt, and the property was advertised for foreclosure sale. Loss, $40,000.

ANOTHER CONFESSION.

MILWAUKEE, March 10.—It is reported that Michael Holmes, murdered here recently by Patrick Johnson, was one of the Phœnix Park murderers. It is alleged that Holmes told an acquaintance when he desired him to aid in getting his family to America, that he dared not write to his wife for fear of putting the detectives on his track.

AN ENERGETIC STORM.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—A storm of great energy, which first appeared at midnight on the North Carolina Coast, advanced on a north easterly track and is now near Delaware Breakwater. Dangerous north east winds are anticipated to-day and to-night on the New England coast, followed to-morrow by clearing and westerly winds.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

WRECK OF A STEAMSHIP.

LONDON, March 9.—The steamer Navarre, bound from Copenhagen to Leith, foundered during the gale yesterday. Eighty-one persons mostly emigrants, were onboard. Only 16 were saved. Forty-nine of the passengers had intended to embark for America. Four male emigrants, Anderson, Hazelburg, Nygrene, and Mannell, and five other passenger were rescued and landed at Hull.

BYRNE'S CASE.

PARIS, March 9.—The Government hold that the charge brought by the British Government against Byrne, namely complicity in an attempted murder of Juror Field and Judge Lawson, amounts merely to introducing arms into Ireland, and they claim that even if the arms were intended for the purposes of murder, the offence was political.

THE "INVINCIBLES."

LONDON, March 10.—A correspondent at Dublin states that the enrollment of recruits in the ranks of the Invincibles still proceeds, notwithstanding the readiness of the men now in prison to betray one another.

THE LAND LEAGUE FUNDS.

LONDON, March 10.—The Times says:—"We have good reason to believe that the inquiry now proceeding will implicate the Land League beyond doubt in the immediate patronage of crime in Ireland, even if it does not establish its direct connection with the Invincibles. The flight of Egan, unless explained, is a moral acknowledgement of guilt, from the damages in consequence of which his associates can now escape. Unless Egan can clear his own and his associates' characters we shall not be surprised to learn that the leaders of the Land League still in the United Kingdom may shortly find it convenient to follow Egan's example."

AMERICAN.

BILLARD MATCH.

NEW YORK, March, 9.—A billard match was played last night between Johnston and Davis, well known amateurs, for $500 a side. Johnston won by 200 to 196. $15,000 changed hands on the game, which was witnessed by a large number of sporting men. Johnston himself won $7,000.

WHERE'S THAT BLIZZARD?

Tremendous Loss to Fishermen on Account of the Wiggins' Scare.

Those who expected to be awakened this morning by the crash of falling walls and the howling of the tempest were agreeably disappointed. The morning was calm and beautiful not a breath of wind stirred, and the cloudless sun was a glorious sight. The railway blockade is being raised, and before night almost all the lines will be open. On the coast of Newfoundland the storm of yesterday has abated, and no long list of heart-rending wrecks are reported. There is no sign of storm energy along the Atlantic coast and people are getting over their scare. Some idea of the harm that Wiggins has succeeded in doing may be gathered from the fact that the total loss to those dependent on the Gloucester fisheries on account of the storm scare will be about $150,000. About 180 sails are hauled up idle. The average loss of time is about three weeks, which will be equal to one trip to the Georges Bank, and this is just the time when the fish are schooling on Georges. Of the total loss $90,000 is sustained by the fishermen themselves. In consequence of this and the fact that the fishermen have refused to go on the banks of Newfoundland, a fish famine has been caused in Boston and New York which will be indirectly felt here. The scare is rapidly subsiding, and even the sailors are beginning to think that the whole affair is a humbug.—Toronto Telegram, March 9th.

BOILER EXPLOSION.

Two Men Killed and Others Hurt—No Explanation of the Catastrophe.

MONTREAL, March 9.—A terrible disaster is reported as having occurred at the new pulp mills now in course of erection by a Montreal company at La Tortue, eighty or ninety miles east of this city. The full particulars of the catastrophe have not been received, but as far as known are as follows:—About thirty men were engaged in drilling rocks beside the mill, the power being a patent drill driven by a boiler and a steam cylinder. The former was quite new, having been constructed in one of the best shops here, and only put up a week before the accident, having been previously inspected and certified by the Government office. Everything seemed to go on well until the boiler exploded like a clap of thunder, blowing up the house it was in and scattering its timbers far and wide. Two men named Masson and Murphy are represented as killed on the spot and quite a number of others seriously scalded and burned. So deep is the snow on the country roads that neither the coroner nor doctors could start for the scene yesterday. Up to a late hour to-night no further facts could be learned by telegraph.

Intending purchasers of White and Grey Cottons, should see Turnbull's stock before buying elsewhere.

Daily Evening Review

SATURDAY, MARCH 10, 1883.

THE DANGLING BRIBE.

THE office of Registrar of the County of Peterborough has now been vacant for three months—for a quarter of a year. This strange fact would certainly require explanation were it not that the reasons are too evident and well known. Messrs. Mowat & Co. have delayed the appointment to make a corrupt use of it, and now that the immediate occasion for this outrage is over they dread to face the storm that they have raised.

Some think that no new appointment will be made, and that all the most sanguine applicants will be disappointed. It is argued that as Mr. Grundy has been judged capable of filling the office for a quarter of a year, and has done so in the satisfactory manner that was to be expected from his long experience, he may be left undisturbed in the position which he is undoubtedly qualified to fill. This, it is said, would probably be the best course which Mr. Mowat and his colleagues could adopt in the perplexing, and even criminal, position in which they have placed themselves and many of their supporters. Either the members of the administration have corruptly and dishonestly promised the appointment to several candidates in return for the support of themselves and their friends, or some of the friends of Mr. Mowat in this county have been guilty of the grossest falsehood in representing that such promises had been made. And even under this latter supposition, the Mowat administration cannot be cleared of complicity in the guilt, as it has delayed the appointment for the very purpose of allowing this corrupt use to be made of this piece of patronage. The chief stock in trade of many of the Ministerial canvassers was the assertion that the elector's vote would aid in obtaining the office for his particular friend, (the name being varied to suit the case), who was promised it in case of success.

Well may these corrupt men squirm and shrink now that the day of reckoning has come and their base duplicity must be exposed.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Globe is bragging that all the ministers were elected. Of course the Globe knows that it is speaking falsely, but it hopes to deceive the unwary. The administration has not dared to place one of its members in the field at all. As for the other five, all Toronto lawyers, as they have picked the five strongest Reform constituencies in Ontario, their election is not surprising.

⁂

WE are not of the number of those who think that race or denomination should be reasons for electing members. Still less do we think that race or denomination should exclude a man from parliament, who is otherwise well qualified. But if these matters are considered it is well to tell the truth about them, and not falsify the record for party purposes. The Reform majority recently elected includes three Roman Catholics; the Conservative minority includes four Roman Catholics. We would not deem it necessary to publish these facts but for the falsehoods that are being industriously circulated by Reform journals.

⁂

WHY is it that West Peterborough is still without appointed License Commissioners for this year, while the Boards in other constituencies have long been gazetted? What is the especial difficulty that is now puzzling Messrs. Mowat & Co. in regard to these particular appointments? What is this new crook in their political manipulation of the Crooks Act? Is the delay caused by temperance or party considerations?

⁂

THAT staunch temperance advocate the Orillia Packet, gives the following account of another instance in which the political license officials serve the cause, not of temperance, but of Mr. Mowat:—

> "During Tuesday there was liquor to be had in town all day, and in the evening drunken men were rather numerous. The Inspector was said to be electioneering for Mr. Drury, while the beauties of the Crooks Act were being thus practically exemplified in Orillia."

⁂

WE take from the Northern Whig, the following paragraph, which seems to be going the round of the "Reform" press:—

> "A return lately presented to the Dominion Parliament shows that at the June elections Sheriffs and Registrars were superseded as Returning Officers in no less than 45 Ontario constituencies."

This is only one of the systematic slanders by "the party of purity" put forth in the hope that readers will not compare the falsehood with the official document that are thus deliberately falsified. The return in question does not show that 45 Sheriffs and Registrars were superseded as Returning Officers in Ontario last June.

PORT HOPE.

RESIGNED.—The Times says that on Monday evening Mr. D. Marshall tendered his resignation of the position of Chief Constable, which he has held for so many years. It is understood, although not officially announced, that Mr. Marshall has received a Government position, under Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, Minister of Customs. Mr. John Gamble, Market Clerk, has been appointed temporarily to fill the vacancy. The Mayor and several Councillors referred in complimentary terms to the ability with which Mr. Marshall had performed his onerous duties.

ON THE TAPIS.—The bond given by Myles to the Harbor Board, the particulars of which our readers are familiar with, is likely to be transferred to the town for the purpose of aiding in bonusing the manufactories which are on the tapis. Mayor Hugel is sanguine that he can collect the face value of the bond, if not the interest as well, and the members of the Harbor Board seem quite willing to hand it over to the town for the purpose named, as they have realized nothing from it in the past, and have little hopes of being any more fortunate in the future. Of late, Mr. Myles has been very anxious to have the bond cancelled. It is understood that he wishes to sell the lands against which the agreement in connection with the bond is registered as a lien. We hope the Mayor will be successful in carrying out his scheme.

LINDSAY.

PERSONAL.—The Post says that Judge Dean, Mrs. Dean and Miss Daisy Dean proceed in a few days to Jersey City, where a brother of the judge resides. Judge Dean will stay there for a couple of months for the benefit of his health, and his many friends will join us in hoping that he may be fully restored. His duties as county judge will be discharged by Mr. Adam Hudspeth, deputy judge; and as local master-in-chancery by Mr. H. B. Dean, barrister.

CURLING.—Play for the "Wood" medal was finished on Wednesday morning, Mr. J. D. Flavelle winning the trophy, which he will hold for a year. All the club participated in the match, the eight highest scores making a point each. These eight then played off with each other and the victory of Mr. Flavelle is a case of the survival of the fittest. The contest for the club medal was finished on Monday morning. All the members of the club had participated and on Saturday the issue lay between Messrs. Flavelle, Keith and Matthie. Mr. Matthie was beaten by one shot on Saturday night, his opponent being Mr. Flavelle. Messrs. Keith and Flavelle settled the owner ship of the medal by meeting at the rink at 6.30 a. m. on Monday. Mr. Flavelle was successful, and holds the medal during this year. It is rumoured that Mr. Keith sat up in the club room of the rink the latter part of the night, so as to be on hand early, but of course there is no foundation in "what they are saying."

NORWOOD.

MAPLE SUGAR.—The Register says that Mr. R. Gardner offered some very fine maple sugar, (this season's make,) for sale here on Thursday, March 1st.

ACCIDENT.—Geo. Lendall, butcher, while cutting up a "beef" on Monday last had one of his fingers very nearly severed from his hand.

THE CORNET BAND.—At a late meeting of the members of the Norwood Cornet Band it was decided to reorganize and engage a teacher, and a committee was appointed to secure the services of Mr. W. H. Mullin's, who has for the last five or six years led the band so successfully, and without any renumeration whatever. The committee waited on Mr. M. and ascertained that his services could be had for the small sum of $200 per annum. How to raise this amount was the next question. After talking the matter over it was decided to call on the villagers for assistance, and if they responded liberally, to raise the balance themselves, and we are happy to be able to state that the people of our village showed their interest in the band to be undiminished by subscribing bountifully. It is the intention of the band to give open air concerts at least once a fortnight during favorable weather.

Triple Surgical Operation.

An unusual surgical operation, said to be but the sixth of its kind in the world on record in which the patient survived, was performed at the University Hospital, the latter part of last week, by Professor Ashurst, the chief surgeon, assisted by Professor H. R. Wharton, and in presence of members of the medical and surgical staff. The patient was Frank Van Dyke, aged forty five years, residing at 2,500 Lombard Street, who was brought to the hospital with both feet and the right hand, below the wrist, crushed. He had been standing in front of a moving locomotive, and attempted to step off when near the Almshouse lane, but slipped and fell under the wheels recieving the injuries stated. When brought to the institution he was in a greatly prostrated condition, and it was some hours before reaction set in. To hasten this cans of hot water were placed in the bed around his body and a little liquor administered internally as a stimulant. When he began to show signs of returning strength and was fit to undergo the operation, sufficient ether was administered to induce unconsciousness, and the amputation was begun, the right foot being taken off first, the operation occupying but a few minutes. The left was next amputated, the patient in both cases showing no signs of exhaustion. After a short interval of rest attention was given to the right hand, which was shockingly mutilated from the wrist down necessitating another amputation. The hand was also taken off in a few minutes, the triple operation lasting not over half an hour. No straps were used, and, during the cutting of the flesh and ligaments, sawing of the bones in the arm and leg, the patient gave no signs of pain. Last night he was reported to be doing well.—Philadelphia Ledger, February 19.

Shade Trees Along the Canal.

The St. Catharines Journal says:—Mr. Ellis, superintendent of the Welland canal, proposes, during the coming spring, to plant a number of shade trees along the banks of the canal. The idea seems to be an excellent one. While a general tree planting will add considerably to the scenic effect, a much more important and practical feature will be the advantage to the canal banks. In many places the banks being more or less exposed, the planting of trees will be of advantage by holding the soil by reason of the roots permeating in every direction. During the past summer a few willow trees were planted in the neighborhood of some of the locks; but the number was very small. We are glad to see that Mr. Ellis has contrived to have a good deal of very necessary work accomplished along the canal that was much needed. A great many exposed places at the approaches to locks and bridges have been securely fenced, so that there can be little danger of accidents occurring at these points. Had this work not been done there can be little doubt but sooner or later some serious accidents would have taken place.

SWIMMING.

The Long Distance Championship of the World.

Captain Webb and Wm. Beckwith, the latter the champion of England, began a a six days' swimming match of 10 hours each day at the Royal Acquarium, London, on the 19th of February, for £200 a side. Beckwith took the lead at the first plunge, and steadily increased it for five miles, when he began to feel "queer," and was obliged to stop frequently, so that at 12 miles Webb was half a mile ahead of him. Beckwith was then taken out of the water and reanimated, and he returned to the large tank in better condition than when he started. Webb left the water troubled with what was thought to be indigestion, after he had covered 17 miles, and Beckwith continued on till he had finished 17 miles 9 laps. Both men appeared on the second day, but it was evident that Webb was a sick man. On starting the swimmers went away at a steady pace and kept close company until they had finished 18½ miles. From here, Beckwith gradually drew away, and, warming to his work as he went on, he increased his pace. Webb kept steadily moving, but there was not much life in his stroke, and it was clear to anyone who knew him that he was not in form. After covering 21 miles 17 laps he left the water, and was away over half an hour, Beckwith meanwhile taking matters easy. Webb on his return, showed no better form, and, after struggling on pluckily up to 22 miles 24 laps, he again was forced to retire, as it afterwards proved, for good. Two physicians were at once called in, and they declared that Webb had a severe attack of congestion of the lungs, and was unfit to go into the water again. Webb was, of course, compelled to announce that he was unable to continue swimming, and Beckwith, after going on up to 25 miles 25 laps, also left the water, and the match was declared in his favour.

MURDER AT DUNNVILLE.

A Woman Fatally Shot by Her Husband—The Murderer at Large.

DUNNVILLE, March 8.—This morning a German named Jack Hynes quarrelled with his wife about the deed of some property. It appears when Mrs. Hynes refused to give him the deed he came to town, bought a revolver, and returning deliberately shot her; first in the breast, and afterwards in the back as she ran out of the door. She is still alive, but cannot live. Hynes has not yet been captured.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
Washington, D.C., Feb. 19, '82.

GENTLEMEN,—Inclosed find $1, and will you send me some of N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsamic Elixir by express. I have a bad cold, as has almost every one else here, but cannot find the Elixir, which I used frequently at home and consider a most valuable medicine; in fact, the very best remedy for a cold that I ever used.

Very truly yours, WILLIAM W. GROUT.

Personal! To Men Only!

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and Manhood, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

SMITH AGAIN.—Every day we receive testimonials from well known Montrealers testifying to the wonderful merits of Dr. Smith's Great German Worm Remedy. The latest comes to-day (November 24th) from Mr. J. O. Darois, No. 19 St. Mary Street, who says his child, six years old, passed an immense number of small seat or pin worms and large stomach worms, with only a few doses. For sale by all druggist at 25 cents. Use no other.

MR. THOMAS W. RACE, Editor and Proprietor of the Mitchell Recorder, writes that he had a prejudice against Patent Medicines, but being induced to try Burdock Blood Bitters, for Billiousness that occasioned such violent headache and distress as to often disable him from work. The medicine gave him relief, and he now speaks of it in the most favorable terms.

WALTER LINTON, of Waterloo, writes that Hagyard's Yellow Oil has done great good in his family, his wife being cured of Callouse lumps that other medicines failed to remove, he he also states that a neighbor was promptly relieved of Rheumatism by the same remedy.

FITS A Leading London Physician establishes an Office in New York for the cure of EPILEPTIC FITS.

From Am. Journal of Medicine.

Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician; his success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John St., New York.

THE
PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz. a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

Daring Attempts to Secure Money by Threats.

On the 27th of February Mr. George Stevens, of Galt, who is well known as a gentleman of means, and owner of a large farm near Preston, received an anonymous letter threatening him with death and his property with destruction by fire unless he placed a large sum of money on the northwest corner of his farm on a certain night. Mr. Stevens at once communicated the receipt of the letter to Constable McFeiggan and one or two personal friends, who set to work to discover a clue as to the culprit. On the night appointed a parcel was placed at the spot designated, and Mr. McFeiggan and others lay in ambush to discover if any one came after it, but no one appeared. On Friday last a second letter was received, renewing the threat. Meanwhile information had been received pointing pretty strongly to the guilty parties, and on Friday afternoon Constables McFeiggan and Ross, Preston, procured a warrant and arrested a young man named Charles Renner, a former employee of Mr. Stevens, at Preston. After locking up Renner in the village lock-up, they proceeded to the neighborhood of Fisher's Mills and arrested another young man named Henry Kummer, who was suspected of being a party to the villainy. Kummer made a confession to Constable McFeiggan, making a full breast of the whole matter.

It appears that Mr. Otto Klotz, of Preston, had also received a letter written in German threatening to bury him alive unless he disgorged $500.

The prisoners are young men between 20 and 24 years of age, and are native of Preston, both of them having worked for Mr. Stevens last summer. They were conveyed to Berlin goal and came up for preliminary trial before Magistrates Mackie and Klee on Tuesday last. In Renner's possession were found a number of letters, one being almost an exact copy of the first letter received by Mr. Stevens, and all in the same hand-writing. A brother of the prisoner's swore that the hand-writing in the letter received by Mr. Klotz was that of his brother. The evidence of Mr. Stevens and Constables McFeiggan and Ross was also taken, and prisoners were committed for trial at the next assizes.

The young man Renner is evidently a desperate character, and would not scruple to carry out his fiendish threat. Kummer, it would appear, was more sinned against than sinning, Renner's idea being that he should do the dangerous part of the work by carrying away the parcels in the event of their being left by the gentlemen threatened.

What Killed Him?

Several years ago, says the Arkansaw Traveler, Mr. Geo. Webley, one of the most promising young planters in Arkansas, came to the city, bringing the sad intelligence of his father's death, a sorrowful event, the cause of which he detailed as follows:—

"The old man, you all remember, was one of the most noted 'possum hunters in the state. He was getting pretty old, but he never felt too tired nor too feeble to hustle out of bed at the welcome bark which told that the dogs had treed a 'possum or coon. The other night when it was so dark that a black hat, thrown up in the air, would have looked like Bulwer's luminous shadow, the dogs treed. I begged the old man not to go, but he straightened himself up, gave me a kind of anti-bellum look, and wanted to know if I were a fool. He left the house and after he had been gone about two hours I became uneasy, and started out after him. After traversing a large area of wood territory I heard the sound of an axe, and approaching, I found the old man chopping on a tree about four feet thick.

"It's a coon, and I know he's up here, the old man said. The tree would have been down by this time, but its so dark that I have to strike by wood-chopper's instinct. He would not let me assist him, for he had attained that age when a Southern gentleman takes great pride in accomplishing a feat alone. It seemed as though the tree would never fall. The old man's strokes became lighter, for his strength was nearly exhausted. The dogs stood around and whined. They looked to me as though they were lying and had only "treed" to please the old man. Finally the enormous tree creaked and slowly fell—a stump, extending only a few inches higher than the old man's head. The tree had been chopped during the high water, and the poor old man had chopped down a big stump. By this time day was breaking, and when light came sifting down among the branches of neighboring trees, the old fellow looked at the stump, turned away and went home. He had just lost his third wife and had borne up manfully, but the stump disappointment killed him."

The Orleans Princes.

A correspondent writes from Paris:—If the Orleans Princes were the dangerous Pretenders that the Radicals make them out to be, they would have a singularly favourable opportunity of making themselves masters of the situation. Only last week all the commanders of Army Corps were assembled in Paris to settle the promotion list. If the Duke d'Aumale had had in him the enterprising and adventurous spirit of his ancestor Henri Quatre, he had only to go down to the Committee-room and say, "Gentlemen, you know what is going on. Will you help me to save France from ruin, bloodshed, and civil war?" He might have met with a ready response. But the Duke d'Aumale merely attended the meetings of the Academie Francaise. He is very popular with the Army. He was bred a soldier, and possesses a soldier's chief qualification sang froid, and has such an abhorrence of doing anything irregular as to sacrifice paramount interests to questions of form. He is liked, admired, and respected by the Army, but now as in 1848, he will go into exile, I will not say cheerfully, but certainly willingly, rather than participate directly or indirectly in a civil war. I may add that all the other members of his family are of the same way of thinking. But that is not the feeling of the Army or its Commanders, and the vote of the Senate on the Proscription Bill, is calculated to make the Army a actor in politics.

IT is rumoured in Ottawa that Mr. Forster, late Chief Secretary for Ireland, is to be the Marquis of Lorne's successor as Governor-General of Canada.

HEADACHE, Biliousness, Dyspepsia and Constipation promptly relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. As a family medicine they are far superior to Pills. In large Bottles 50 cents.

ROMAIN CHABOT, the condemned murderer at Arthabaskaville, has been caught in the act of sawing the iron bars of his cell with the object of making his escape.

WORTH KNOWING.—A Fact Worth Knowing. The best household remedy known for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough and all throat and chest troubles tending toward Pulmonary Consumption is Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, to be procured of any druggist.

THE influx of British immigrants for the season has commenced. Two hundred of the well-to-do farming class arrived in Montreal. The majority are bound for the North-West, and the remainder for Ontario.

LITTLE BY LITTLE.—The constant dropping of water will wear away even the hardest stone. So the constant irritation of a cough will so wear upon the lungs as to induce incurable Consumption. Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam will cure the worst cough, speedily and effectually.

TROUBLE is evidently brewing in Madagascar. A French gunboat has arrived at Tamative, the capital, and four war vessels are lying off the north-west coast. The natives are greatly excited, and are preparing for hostilities.

GOOD ADVICE.—If our readers will accept proffered advice, they will always keep a bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil at hand for use in emergencies, such as Burns, Scalds, Wounds, Lameness, Croup, Chilblains, Rheumatism and all varieties of aches, pains and inflammations. It will ever be found reliable.

THE ranch of the Pawnee Valley Stock-Breeder's Association is now considered the finest in Kansas. They own 2,700 acres, of which 1,100 are fenced, and have five miles frontage on the Pawnee and two miles on the Fort Larned Military Reservation.

"Blood will tell." A face adorned with Pimples, Boils, Blotches &c., is not particularly pleasant sight, and invariably betokens an impure state of the Blood. Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters free the system from all gross humours, renders the Blood Pure and Cool, aids digestion and gives a healthy appetite. For sale by all Druggists in large Bottles at 50 cents.

DECLINE OF MAN.—Impotency of mind, limb or vital function, nervous weakness, sexual debility, and all diseases caused by indiscretions and abuse, are radically and promptly cured by the use of Mack's Magnetic Medicine, which is for sale by all responsible druggists. See advertisement in another column. Guarantees issued only by Ormond & Walsh, Peterborough.

The best known remedy for all affections of the Chest, Lungs or Throat is Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum. It is constantly used by thousands of persons suffering from the above diseases, and in nearly every instance it affords immediate relief. In cases of troublesome, tickling Cough, where the patient passes sleepless nights, one or two doses of the Syrup has such a quieting, soothing effect that rest ensues and the Cough speedily disappears. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

For a low priced Tweed, double and twisted warp, suitable for boy's wear, try Turnbull's.

Failing!

That is what a great many people are doing. They don't just know what is the matter, but they have a combination of aches and pains, and each month they grow worse.

The only sure remedy yet found is SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS, and this by rapid and thorough assimilation with the blood purifies and enriches it, and rich, strong blood flowing to every part of the system repairs the wasted tissues, drives out disease and gives health and strength.

This is why SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS will cure kidney and liver diseases, consumption, rheumatism, neuralgia, dyspepsia, biliousness, intermittent fevers &c.

The Great American Remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LOSS OF VOICE, HOARSENESS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS.

GRAY'S SYRUP
GUM.

Every one has heard of the wonderful effects of the Spruces and the Pines in cases of Lung Disease.

In France the physicians regularly send their consumptive patients to the pine woods and order them to drink a tea made from the Spruce tops.

In this preparation the Gum never separates, and all its anti-spasmodic, expectorant, tonic, and balsamic properties are preserved.

This Syrup, carefully prepared at a low temperature, contains a large quantity of the finest picked Gum in complete solution.

Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large.

Sold by all respectable chemists. Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

The words "Syrup of Red Spruce Gum" constitute our Registered Trade Mark, and our wrapper and labels are also registered.

SATURDAY, MARCH 10, 1883.

That Runaway.

The horse which was found at the door of Mr. G. W. Hall's stable on Thursday morning, has been claimed. The driver, who had got the animal from a neighbor to come into town, did not give his name. He said the horse ran away on Wednesday night at about eleven o'clock, having been frightened by dogs, near Mr. Denoon's butcher shop.

Orillia Races.

The Orillia winter races will be held on the ice on Lake Couchiching on Tuesday and Wednesday, March 20th and 21st. On the first day there will be three races, namely, the green race, purse $50; 2.45 trot, purse $90, and a local race, purse $50. On the second day there will be two races, a three minute trot, purse $70, and a free for all race, purse $100. Mr. Wm. Briggs is secretary, and Mr. W. Hurst treasurer.

Peterborough Presbytery.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Presbytery of Peterborough will be held in the Presbyterian Church of Cobourg, next Tuesday. The meeting opens at 11 o'clock in the forenoon. This Presbytery is composed of twenty-two ministers and as many laymen. On Tuesday morning a conference on the State of Religion, Temperance and Sabbath Schools, will be held, to which the public are cordially invited. Interesting addresses will be delivered by several new members of the Presbytery.

Railway Notes.

The Pope Hope Times says that Mr. David Mallock, one of the Midland engine drivers, has gone to Manchester, N. H., to take charge of a new "Blood" engine while in transit from that place to Port Hope.

The same paper says that Mr. Haggas, late Mechanical Superintendent of the Midland Railway, was on Wednesday night presented with a remarkable clock, containing a chime of bells, by the employees of the Nipissing division. The presentation took place at Uxbridge, at a supper given him in the Mansion House. Mr. Haggas was twelve years Mechanical Superintendent of the Nipissing, prior to the amalgamation.

The Grand Junction and Midland trains were on time to-day. The Midland main line north is also clear of snow.

An engine arrived from Lakefield at noon with a snow plough, and when it came up to the station the plough caught on the boards of the platform and tore up a number of them.

THE TROTTING RACES.

Fine Weather and Good Sport—The Conclusion of the Races.

The trotting races on the Little Lake course were continued on Friday afternoon. The weather was again fine, being even warmer than on the previous day. The attendance of spectators, as on Thursday afternoon, was large. The ice inside the course was covered with onlookers, and on the bank of the lake there was a long line of vehicles.

At times considerable excitement was manifested as the horses sped around the track, but the proceedings passed off in a very orderly manner. The track, although in pretty good condition, was still a little heavy at some places, which affected the time record.

The were two races still remaining, and first called on was

for which four of the horses named entered. The following were the horses that started:—J. Simpson's "Lapedist Chief," J. Byrne's "Polly," H. C. Winch's "Tommy," and A. P. Morgan's "Little Rock." The first heat was made in 3.08 minutes, and was won by Lapedist Chief, with Little Rock second, Tommy third and Polly fourth. Polly passed the winning post third, but as the judges considered that she had gained by running they gave her fourth position. The second heat was a close race. Polly lead for about the first half mile, but Lapedist Chief drew past her and came in ahead, Polly second, Little Rock third and Tommy fourth. Time, 3.07. In the third round Polly again lead on the start, but was again passed by the Chief, which came in ahead. On the last half mile there was a close race between Polly and Little Rock, and the two horses finally broke into a run and ran nearly to the winning post. The heat was won as follows, and the prizes for the race were awarded in the same order:—Lapedist Chief first, Polly second, Little Rock third and Tommy fourth. Time in the last heat, 3.04.

THE DOMINION RACE.

The Dominion Race, open to all horses in the Dominion, was the next and last one. The chief interest appeared to be centred in this race. The following horses started in it:—J. Martin's "Uncle Joe," R. Ross's "Canadian Girl," and R. Croft's "Jim White." Uncle Joe was the favorite before the start, and the result proved that the judgment of those who favored him was correct. In the first heat the horses got a good start, and Uncle Joe at once took the lead. Towards the half mile post the Canadian Girl drew up to him, but he kept ahead and came in first, with the Canadian Girl second, and Jim White third. Time, 2.40. Soon after the start in the second heat the horses took positions in the race in the same order as they had come in in the first heat, and maintained them to the finish. Time, 2.30. The third heat was again won by Uncle Joe. Jim White drew up to the Canadian Girl near the close, and crowded her somewhat for second place, but when the winning post was passed the Canadian Girl was over a length ahead of him. Time, 2.36. The prizes were, therefore, won in three straight heats as follows:—Uncle Joe first, Canadian Girl second, and Jim White third.

This concluded the horse races, and they passed off in a very satisfactory manner. The decisions of the Judges, Messrs. C. Stapleton, John Glendenning and John Taylor, gave general satisfaction. They did their duty impartially and fairly, endeavoring to do justice to each horse, in which they succeeded. The Committee, Messrs. H. LeBrun, Jas. English, H. B. Merrick and D. Lundy, and especially the first two, were painstaking in their efforts to have everything arranged satisfactorily, and Mr. J. E. McIntyre, of the Oriental Hotel, the Secretary-Treasurer, attended carefully to his duties and assisted the Committee a great deal.

After the conclusion of the horse races, another race, which created considerable amusement, was arranged. This was for which three dogs were entered. Sleds were attached to the racers, and the boys who drove them rode on the sleds. The boys enjoyed this race even more than they did those between the horses. It was won as follows:—W. Watson's "Black Sam," 1st; T. Robinson's "Jumbo," 2nd; and Jno. Bogan's "Rover," 3rd.

For a good Ticking, none better, try Turnbull's.

The Cells.

Two prisoners and one tramp occupied the police cells last night.

The Weather.

The weather to-day is cloudy and mild. To-morrow, according to the prediction of Prof. Wiggins, we should be visited by that terrible storm, but the probs. say it is not coming to-morrow. Perhaps that will ease some minds. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Fresh to strong south westerly to north-westerly winds; generally fair weather, with a few showers in some localities; cooler at night; fine weather to-morrow.

Methodist Union.

Up to the present time 188 Boards in the Toronto Conference have voted in favor of the basis of union; 13 voting against it, and two ties. London Conference, 200 in favor of, 21 against, and one tie. It the Montreal Conference, 101 of the Boards voted for, 24 against, and three ties. Nova Scotia Conference, ten Boards voted for and two against. New Brunswick Conference, eighteen for and one against; and in the Newfoundland Conference one Board adopted the basis of union. The Eastern Conferences have only commenced to report, and it will be some weeks before all the returns will be in.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

A VALUABLE NERVE TONIC.

Dr. C. C. Olmstead, Milwaukee, Wis., says: "I have used it in my practice ten years, and consider it a valuable nerve tonic."

Narrow Escape.

On Friday at noon a number of school children got on a sleigh which was loaded with wood to have a ride. The horses were driven over a vacant lot on Rubidge Street and the sleigh sank in a hole which was covered with snow. The wood fell off, and a little daughter of Mr. Wm. Robinson, who resides in the south part of the town, was caught under it. She had a narrow escape from fatal injury, but did not altogether escape, as she was injured on the forehead, neck and breast. Dr. King was summoned, and attended to the little girl. Her injuries were found to not be of as serious a nature as was at first feared, and she will soon, it is expected, be free from the effects of them. This accident should convey a warning to those who are inclined to enjoy a ride by catching on sleighs on the street. If there had not been loose snow under the little girl where she fell she would probably have been more seriously if not fatally injured.

For Ulster Cloths, new Shades, plain and fancy Checks, try Turnbull's.

New Style of Dog Collar.

A Boston girl lost her engagement ring and advertised a liberal reward for its recovery. About a fortnight after a coarse-looking man called at her residence with the the trinket. In spite of the rough treatment it had received she reconized it at once and asked rather sharply:

"How did you come to get it all scratched and nicked up in this fashion?"

"Well, miss," explained the man, "you see I had no gal of my own, so I used it for a dog collar."

Gaining a World Wide Reputation.

About 150,000 bottles of medicine and 3000 Spirometers, the invention of M. Souvielle of Paris and ex-aide surgeon of the French army, have been used by physicians and patients during the last year for the cure of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma, consumption in its first stages and many diseases of the head, throat and lungs. Consultations with any of the surgeons belonging to the institute free. Poor people showing certificates can have spirometers free. Write enclosing stamp for pamphlet giving full information to either of the Canadian offices where competent English and French specialists are always in charge. Address International Throat and Lung Institute, 13 Phillips square, Montreal, P. Q., or 173 Church street, Toronto, Ont.

A Startling Discovery.

Physicians are often startled by remarkable discoveries. The fact that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and all Throat and Lung diseases is daily curing patients that they have given up to die, is startling them to realize their sense of duty, and examine into the merits of this wonderful discovery, resulting in hundreds of our best Physicians using it in their practice. Trial Bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's Drug Store. Regular size $1.00.

Oh, What A Cough!

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used more and more favourably to its widely increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly affected with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution. In Boxes at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., and 4s. 6d. Sold by Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world. Prepared by Jas. Rerke, London. Specially valuable Pills for residents abroad and travellers.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendencies, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

Daily Evening Review

MONDAY, MARCH 12, 1883.

ST. JOHN, N. F.

Special to the Review, March 12.

A TERRIFIC STORM from the south-east struck here yesterday. The wind was so strong that the congregation of the Catholic Cathedral had to be lowered away from the building, which is situated upon sloping ground, by a number of ropes attached to the pillars at the entrance of the edifice.

ONEMEE.

A BAD FALL.—The Herald says that the numerous friends of Mrs. Higinbotham will regret to learn that she had a bad fall on the side walk, a little west of the Herald office, on Wednesday evening, by which the back of her head and the small of the back were badly injured, the effect of which has caused the most acute suffering since.

A BLOW OUT.—On Monday morning no little excitement was created among the workmen in Mr. James Evan's foundry. The blow out pipe at the rear of the boiler being frozen solid and when the hot water touched it it burst, causing the steam and water to escape with a tremendous roar, striking terror to the hearts of all present, and fairly deluging the building in steam and water. The break was remedied by dinner time.

OBITUARY.—It is our painful duty this week to announce the death of Mr. Robert Ford, one of the first settlers in the township of Emily. He was born in Kingston in the year 1825, and came to this township in April of 1843, when the country was one vast wilderness, taking up the farm on which he has since lived. Deceased was much liked and respected, having held the offices of Reeve and Councillor for a term of years in Emily, and being a man ever willing to lend a helping hand to those in need, his demise will be much regretted by all who knew him. The family have the sympathy of the whole community in their sad bereavement.

MIDLAND.

REAL ESTATE.—The Free Press says that Mr. H. T. Switzer, real estate agent, disposed of 20 lots in ten days, realizing the handsome sum of $4,425. Several other deals in Midland real estate have been made of which we have not received notice.

MIDLAND RACES.—The second annual meeting of the Midland Trotting Association will be held on the Midland Bay on Wednesday and Thursday, March 14th and 15th. The purses are good and it is expected that a large number of good horses will be entered. All entries should be made with the secretary, Mr. D. H. Williamson.

FREE LAND.—One day recently A. Hugel, Esq., president of the Midland Land Company, informs us that his Company would give free land, near the Midland Railway and water front, for the erection of manufacturing establishments. This a very liberal offer on the part of the Company. Until we make an effort to get manufactories here we will not be likely to receive many offers. This is a good point for a woolen mill, foundry, wooden ware or stave manufactury. There is no better point in Ontario.

ANOTHER BRICK BLOCK.—Mr. Peters has completed arrangements for the erection of a two story brick block adjoining his hardware store, on King street. As soon as fine weather begins he will commence operations.

BELLEVILLE.

A BANQUET.—The Intelligencer says that the friends and admirers of A. F. Wood, Esq., the newly elected M. P. P. for the North Riding, have tendered that gentleman a complimentary banquet, to be held at Diamond's Hotel, Queensboro', on Friday, 23rd March. Hon. M. Bowell, Hon. R. Read, John White, M.P., Dr. Boulter, late M. P. P., Wm. Hudson, M.P.P. for East Hasting, and other prominent gentlemen are expected to be present. A large and able committee has charge of the arrangements, which will, no doubt, be well carried out.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

DEATH OF GORTSCHAKOFF.

BADEN-BADEN, March 10.—Prince Gortschakoff, ex-Chancellor of Russia, is dead.

THE APPROACHING CONSISTORY.

ROME, March 10.—The consistory, which has been already deferred several times, is now announced to take place on the 15th inst. It is said that several new cardinals will be nominated.

ARREST OF RIOTERS.

PARIS, March 10.—Nineteen rioters, arrested yesterday, have been sentenced to various terms of imprisonment, the maximum being six months. Seven were acquitted. The Government will positively prevent the proposed meeting of Socialists to-morrow. None will be allowed to approach the Hotel de Ville. La Liberte says these meetings are merely precursors of a grand display to be made on the 18th.

NIHILIST TRIALS.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 10.—She prisoners to be arraigned at the approaching trial of the Nihilists include several important State criminals, three naval officers, an army officer, and Kobeseff, the constructor of the famous mine in Little Garden street.

GAMBETTA'S SUCCESSOR.

PARIS, March 11.—In the election yesterday for member of the Chamber of Deputies to fill the vacancy in Belleville Arrondessement, caused by the death of Gambetta, Sigismond Lacroix, Radical, received 3,474 votes; Netevier, Opportunist, 2,042: Demay, Collectivist, 1,178; and Jules Guesde, Anarchist, 176. A second ballot is necessary.

AMERICAN.

TWO WOMEN MURDERED.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 10.—Lucinda Forman, a widow, aged 90, and a maiden daughter, aged 51, living alone on a farm fourteen miles distant, were murdered last night. One body was found outside the house under a pile of straw. The other was found in the kitchen. The instrument used was an axe. There is no clue to the murderer.

FATAL FIRE.

DEADWOOD, D. T., March 11.—Hood & Scott's lodging shell at Brownville Wood Camp, terminus of the Black Hills and Fort Pierre railroad, was burned at midnight. James Chambers, Thomas Tineless, R. C. Wright, Lewis Hanson, Peter Hanson, A. Tenneckliffe, Harvey Wood, W. H. Andrews, Chas. Hammontree, Fred T. Peters and Samuel Hynes were burned to death. Four others were seriously injured. The building was one storey, with a loft, where the men slept, accessible by a ladder. This was usually occupied by thirty lodgers, but last night only fifteen were in the house. There was one window in the loft, but only 4 badly burned men were saved by jumping. Two of these must have their legs amputated. The fire is supposed to have originated from kindlings left near the stove. Peters slept on the ground floor within five feet of the door, but the flames spread so rapidly that he could not escape. The bodies of eleven victims were charred beyond recognition.

THE MYSTERIOUS No. 1.

NEW YORK, March 10.—The World's London despatch says Mr. Gladstone is most sanguine now of the entire organization acting against the Government in Ireland and connected with the Phœnix park murders being brought to justice. No real clue as yet has been found to "No. 1." With that exception, every person who has ever taken any prominent part in the plots for committing assassinations in Ireland is known to the police. Some startling revelations in this matter may soon be expected.

INQUEST ON JIM ELLIOTT.

CHICAGO, March 9.—The inquest on the body of Jim Elliott, the pugilist, continued to-day. Dunn was held without bail to await the action of the grand jury.

Love in Lilliputia.

Major Littlefinger and Miss Ida Hosmer were united in the bonds of matrimony in Brooklyn on Wednesday afternoon in the presence of a large assemblage. The bride and groom are both Liliputians. The Major, who is a widower, is twenty-four years of age and tips the scales at fifty-four pounds, his height being three feet and six inches. His wife, a dwarf, whose maiden name was Millie Shay, died in June last at Kendall, Ind., her native place. She left a child, now living, weighs six pounds. The Major's real name is Robert H. Huzza, and he hails from Boston, Mass. It was while exhibiting at Hartford, Conn., that he met the young lady who won his affections. Miss Hosmer is twenty-five years of age, three feet high and weighs forty-five pounds. Her brother and sister, who were present opposed the union, but the lady asserted her determination to wed Major Littlefinger, and did so. The bride was attired in white satin, and the groom wore a full dress suit, white necktie and gloves. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Hugh O. Pentecost, of the Park Avenue Baptist Church.

The Insanity Plea.

California proposes to pass a law which will make prisoners charged with murder very careful about putting forward the plea of insanity. If the accused pleads that he was insane when he committed the murder, he is to be examined first on that point. If the examination declares him sane, he is then tried for murder, and his plea is to count an aggravation of the offence. If the examination declares him to be insane he is to be sent to a madhouse for life, and is not to be released unless his sanity at the time of his crime is established, in which event he is to be at once put on his trial for his crime. He must accept one of two certainties, either to be shut up for life in an insane asylum or be hanged.

The Arthabaskaville Murder.

Joseph Chabot, brother and accessory of the convicted murderer at Arthabaskaville, has been found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to ten years' imprisonment. The two other prisoners committed as accessories have been admitted to bail to stand their trial hereafter.

Gaining a World Wide Reputation.

About 150,000 bottles of medicine and 3000 Spirometers, the invention of M. Souvielle of Paris and ex-aide surgeon of the French army, have been used by physicians and patients during the last year for the cure of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma, consumption in its first stages and many diseases of the head, throat and lungs. Consultations with any of the surgeons belonging to the institute free. Poor people showing certificates can have spirometers free. Write enclosing stamp for pamphlet giving full information to either of the Canadian offices where competent English and French specialists are always in charge. Address International Throat and Lung Institute, 13 Philips square, Montreal, P. Q., or 173 Church street, Toronto, Ont.

THE IRON TRADE.

LONDON, March 12.—Delegates representing the South Yorkshire and Lancashire iron trades have resolved to restrict the output of finished iron.

THE RELIEF FUNDS.

LONDON, March 12.—The Duchess of Marlborough has given to Tuke's fund, $3,000 the balance of the fund which she raised for the relief of the distress in Ireland in 1879 and 1880.

THE UNIVERSITY BOAT RACE.

LONDON, March 12.—Betting on the Oxford and Cambridge boat race on Thursday, which at first was in favor of Oxford, is now 7 to 4 on Cambridge, owing to the better condition of the latter.

THE PARIS RIOT.

PARIS, March 12.—It is stated that the emeute here is due to the fact that 60,000 persons are out of employment. During the past few days many foreigners have been kept away from the city owing to its unsettled condition, many Americans at Rome intending to come to Paris have postpond their visit.

THE BLACK HAND.

MADRID, March 12.—Twelve hundred persons in all were arrested in Andalusia for complicity in the Anarchist movement. Three hundred are charged with murder, agrarain outrages and being abbetors of the Black Hand Society. Sixty have confessed complicity in four murders.

AMERICAN.

PRINTERS' WAGES.

NEW YORK, March 12.—A large gathering of the union and non-union printers yesterday decided that all union and non-union men employed in offices where less than 35 cents per thousand ems was paid should demand to-day 35 cents. The compositors were advised to quit work in case the demand was refused. There are from five to six thousand printers in New York, only 1,200 of whom belong to the union.

SHERIDAN'S CASE.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—It is reported that the reason that Sheridan will not be extradited is because the mandate of the State Department was improperly issued, and has been recalled. The treaty provides that extradition may be demanded only after the finding for indictment, or upon an information strong enough to lead to an indictment. There has been neither an indictment nor such information against Sheridan.

A DANGEROUS LUNATIC.

COLUMBIA, S.C., March 12.—Z. Watley, a dangerous patient in the lunatic asylum here, on Saturday cut a strap which bound his hand and seized a heavy piece of wood and attacked with great fury persons in the room with him. James Barrington, a patient, was struck on the head and died yesterday. Keeper Cantwell was badly hurt. The madman was finally overpowered.

OBIT.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Geo. W. Rathbone, late President of the Associated Banks of Indiana, died here yesterday.

REVENUE FRAUDS.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue rejects the offer of $33,000 to compromise the cases of Bush, the distiller, and Bayond and Perrenand, the New York wholesale liquor dealers implicated in frauds upon the Government.

ASSAULT WITH INTENT.

FREDERICK, Md., March 12.—James King, charged with forcing Dr. Roth, at the point of a revolver, to sign a $5,000 note in satisfaction for alleged intimacy with his wife, has been indicted for assault with intent to kill. After getting the note King gave it up and is now suing Roth for ten thousand dollars.

RAILWAY RATES.

CINCINNATI, March 12.—The General Passenger Agent of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway has decided to withdraw from the trunk line pool. It is supposed that this will demoralize the rates from Cincinnati to New York.

A FATAL EXPLOSION.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., March 12.—At the Locust Spring colliery yesterday one of the eight boilers exploded, fatally injuring John Noble, engineer, and Chas. Richmond, son of the inside superintendent of the mine. The report was heard for miles and attracted a large crowd. The boiler house, a large stone building, was wrecked and the roof was blown several hundred yards, and parts of the boiler were scattered in all directions. Four other boilers were knocked out of their places. The watchman was also blown several hundred yards. The cause of the explosion is a mystery. Had the accident occurred when the colliery was working the loss of life would have been great.

"RID OF PAIN SOON."

DAVENPORT, Iowa, March 12.—Simon Paige, aged 58, a wealthy lumber manufacturer, suicided by shooting yesterday. Yesterday he appeared in usual spirits and excused himself on account of a cold from going to church, but requested his wife to attend. The latter on returning found her husband dead. Paige left a note to his wife saying:—"I feel terribly; my brain is whirling. Do not blame me; I will be rid of pain soon."

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

PHILADELPHIA, March 12.—John Syrn to-day shot his brother's wife Lizzie in the breast and then shot himself in the temple. Both are in a critical condition.

Daily Evening Review

MONDAY, MARCH 12, 1883.

OF COURSE.

OF course there is much talk now, as there always is after a parliamentary election by those who have been worsted in the particular contest in which they have been engaged, about the undue influences of various kinds against which they had to contend and by which the victors won their victory. So common has this sort of outcry become that most people have come to look upon it as a matter of course, and to attach little importance to it. This, we think, is unfortunate. Charges of corruption—and all kinds of influences used to induce a man to vote contrary to the dictates of his own judgment, is corruption in the sense in which we are now using the word—should never be made unless those making them are not only prepared, but propose, to prove them, because an indiscriminate flinging about of such charges is calculated to, and does, weaken public sentiment with regard to the employment of such agencies in such contests. They, in fact, weaken the moral tone of the community indulging in them. The good old British rule is, that a man should be held innocent until he is proved guilty, and upon the same principle, a candidate and his friends should be held to have won his election fairly and honestly until the contrary has been proved. Vague charges to the contrary can accomplish nothing, but lower the tone of the electorate, and lead those disposed to barter their franchise for a consideration, and there are a great many kinds of considerations, to believe that such has been done, and that they can do it if they only set the right way about it. This is a bad way to purify the political atmosphere of any constituency. We do not, however, wish to be understood as deprecating all investigation into the proceedings of political parties during a contest. Quite the reverse. We hold that it is the duty of any political party which has reason to believe that it has been worsted by the use of undue influence of any kind to probe the matter to the bottom. But that will be best and most efficiently done, not by making loose and general charges, but by bringing the matter before the courts. No man should make a charge against another of the kind to which we are refering except upon such evidence as he believes will substantiate it in a court of law, and if he has such evidence, only one of two courses is open to any honorable man, namely, either to bring the matter before the courts or hold his tongue about it. Which of these two courses it is his or their duty to pursue, is a question which he or they can alone decide. But to talk about it without submitting their charges to a legal test is at once cowardly and calculated to degrade public life.

Entertaining these views, we need scarcely say that we hope our political friends will act upon the principles we have just enunciated. Wherever they have what they believe to be reliable evidence that they have been defeated by the use of undue influence of any kind, or have evidence that their opponents have been guilty of some of the many acts condemned by the present election law, we trust they will either hold their tongues, or take legal proceedings to prove their charges and enforce the penalties attachable to such misdeeds.

The Awful Fate of a False Prophet.

There is but one way to dispose of Wiggins and his weather, and that is to kill him. This was most successfully and effectually done in London, some years ago, in the case of a famous quack almanac maker who used to predict all sorts of portentous things, weatherwise and otherwise, for a year to come. A wag wrote and a leading journal published this weather-quack's obituary. His death by suicide at his lodgings was set forth with minute particulars. In vain did the prophet protest through the papers that he was not dead. The editors pronounced his "cards" to be forgeries by pretenders who wanted to succeed to the quack's name and shoes. The people who had believed in his prophecies now believed in his death—and dead he was, as a prophet, from that time forward.—Hartford Times.

The Fountain of Health cures Catarrh, Rheumatism, Scrofula, and all humours, such as Blotches, Pimples, Old Sores, Ulcers, and all obstinate diseases of the Skin and Blood; this it does by its power to cleanse the blood.

Those who "hack" to clear the throat every morning have Catarrh. The Fountain of Health is formulated to reach the seat of this disease, which cannot be cured by snuff or any other local remedy. We will help you or refund the money.

THE STEAMER QUEBEC.

A Long and Perilous Voyage—How Good Seamanship Landed Her Safely in Port.

The steamship Quebec belonging to the Dominion and Mississippi line, which has been overdue for five weeks, arrived safely in the Mersey last night, having been steered from Holyhead by the powerful tug Gamecock. It will be remembered that the Quebec which is of 2,700 tons burthen, left Portland, Maine, on the 1st of January last, with a crew of 45 hands, together with 11 men in charge of cattle, under the command of Captain Mark H. Gibson. She had on board a general produce cargo, 176 head of cattle, and 568 sheep, but carried no passengers. The steamer broke down on the 9th ult. in consequence of her rudder having been split in two just near the watermark, and she continued to beat about until she fell in with the Gamecock on Sunday morning. Considerable uncertainty prevailed as to whether the Quebec would put into Alexandra, Canada, or Langton dock, and for some hours the relatives and friends of the crew were kept going from one place to another, the dock officials being unable to give any definite information on the point. Ultimately all doubt was set at rest by the anxiously looked-for steamer entering the Langton dock, on the west side of which she was made fast to another vessel. It was near midnight when our representative had an opportunity of seeing the captain, who then supplied the following narrative of the eventful voyage:—"On the evening of New Year's day we left Portland, and we encountered strong winds up till the 9th. On that day, when in latitude 45 N., longitude 32 W., and 1,300 miles from Liverpool, with moderate and squally weather, we suddenly found that the ship would not answer her helm. On an inspection I discovered that the rudder had broken at the water's edge. I then tried to construct a temporary rudder by means of chains, but as the weather was getting worse we could not use it. After this we encountered fresh gales and heavy seas. We used our engines every day more or less, but I economized coal for the channel, and used the sales whenever it was possible. We made progress at the rate of 20 miles a day. On the 12th we sighted a Norwegian bard steering east, and signalled her to report us at Lloyd's with loss of rudder. She answered the signals, but we did not get her name. At that time it was blowing a terrible gale and the sea was running very high, and the ship was drifting with the wind. We tried to get up temporary steering gear by means of hawsers and spars rigged over the stern, but the violence of the gale prevented its being effective. We lost three bullocks on that day—the 12th. The ship rolled heavily, and they died through exhaustion. On the 20th of January we signalled Lamport and Holt's steamer "Memnon," which was bound east. We requested her to report us to the owners, and gave the captain all information respecting our breakdown. I added that we were doing well and wanted no help. On the 10th of February we spoke to the steamer "Avlona," when 93 miles west of the "Fastnet, and asked the master to report us to the owners and send a tug to our assistance. During the storms we shipped some big seas, some of which swept several sheep-pens from the deck with their living occupants. The cattle got into the motion of the rolling steamer, and it was amusing to witness the careful and regular manner in which they adjusted themselves to meet the oscillation of the vessel. I may say that out of the 176 bullocks we had on board we lost 127, and have just landed 49, while of the 568 sheep we have brought alive into this port 100. At 9.30 on Sunday morning, the 18th, we fell in with the Gamecock which came alongside. She at first tried to tow us, but that would not answer, and she then made fast behind and steered us. When she reached us we were sixteen miles from the Smalls, and our position was east by south. We got on very well with the tug and made eight knots an hour. We arrived at the bar by six o'clock this evening, and in the Mersey about half-past nine. I believe the Cruiser was sent to our assistance, but we did not see her. The cattle which survived have been 15 days without fodder. None of the crew suffered in the least, and the health of all has been very good. Our vessel has not sustained any damage, and none of our boats have been injured. Our provisions were amply sufficient to meet our wants, and we had only to entrench on the cargo to the extent of killing three sheep, in order to supply the men with fresh meat. Everything is almost as snug as when we started. The Quebec has has now been fifty days from Portland, and she usually accomplishes the voyage in twelve or thirteen days.

The Quebec was met on arrival by Mr. W. Wales, the freight manager, who made the necessary arrangements in connection with the reception of the crew. The steamer, after discharging cargo, will put into dry dock, and, after the rudder is replaced, she will resume her ordinary voyages across the Atlantic. It is expected that she will be ready to go to sea again next week.—Liverpool Courier.

LAKEFIELD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

FIRE.

On Sunday afternoon the 4th March, at about three o'clock the fire alarm attached to St. John's Church bell was sounded. A fire so seldomly occurs in Lakefield, for many years not over one a year, that the quick stroke of the fire alarm considerably startled many of our citizens, who rushed at once from their quiet homes into the streets, some in their slippers and in other cases the dress showed clearly the unexpectedness, of the sudden call. The general cry was, where is the fire? Smoke and flames were soon found issuing from a house on Regent street, owned by Mr. Peter Baptie, and occupied by Mr. F. Tate. A large number with pails and two fire engines were at the burning building in a very short time and all set to work with a will. No. One fire engine was getting nicely to work when the parties holding the nozzle attached to the hose, in endeavoring to get from the verandah into the house through a window, and in so doing, wrenched the hose from the engine, and they could not be repaired, but the engine kept at Mr. Hull's, the furthest from the fire, was quickly at hand and did good execution.

In the meantime a good proportion of the furniture was got out of the house and scores of willing hands were carrying water in buckets and wash tubs by which means, with the hand fire engine, the fire was put out which was generally deemed utterly impossible three minutes after the alarm was sounded, because the smoke and flame rose high above the building. Mr. Tate desired your correspondent to say: That he felt very grateful and thankful to all those who assisted so nobly and energetically in saving his furniture. The roof of the building and all the plastering were completely destroyed as also the windows in the upper storey. Mr. Baptie's lore will not be less than $300 on the building and Mr. Tate's loss on the furniture will be about $200. We understand that both are covered with insurance.

SAW MILL.

Mr. Proutt, a first class millwright from Keene, is engaged overhauling and making extensive improvements in the Messrs. Strickland's sawmill in Lakefield. It is their intention that when the necessary alterations and improvements are completed, which will be done in time for the season's sawing, to have one of the best saw-mills on these waters. We understand the increased capacity given by the improvements are necessary to enable the Messrs. Stricklands to manufacture their own lumber from the saw logs which are got out on these waters and which form but a small portion of their total cut. They have this season nine shanties in full blast.

GRAND ORANGE LODGE.

Messrs. W. C. Sanders, D.M. of the Lakefield District L.O.L., and D. Arnott, D. Secty., who was appointed a representative of L.O.L. No. 122, took their departure for Lindsay on Tuesday, the 6th inst., to attend the Provincial Grand Lodge for Ontario East, which held its annual meeting in that town.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

The members of the survey have removed from Clear Lake to Buckhorn, where they will be engaged for a time. A large number of men left Lakefield on Monday for Burleigh, to work at the buildings in progress there, cut ice and get things in order for work as soon as spring opens.

A Question.

Some of our exchanges are passing along the following, which is warranted to beat 13 15 14 as a destroyer of peace in the family. Take a strip of cardboard of paper 13 inches long and 5 wide, thus giving a surface of 65 inches. Now cut this strip diagonally, as possible, making two pieces in the shape of a triangle. Now measure exactly 5 inches from the larger end of each strip and cut it in two pieces. Take the slips and put them into the shape of an exact square, and it will appear to be eight inches way, or 64 square inches, a loss of one square inch of superficial measurement, with no diminution of surface. The question is, what becomes of that inch?

Rheumatism cannot be cured by external and local applications. Thus, to treat it is unwise as to doctor the leaves of a plant at whose root a worm was gnawing. It requires such a constitutional remedy as the Fountain of Health is proving itself to be.

SMITH AGAIN.—Every day we receive testimonials from well known Montrealers testifying to the wonderful merits of Dr. Smith's Great German Worm Remedy. The latest comes to-day (November 24th) from Mr. J. O. Darois, No. 19 St. Mary Street, who says his child, six years old, passed an immense number of small seat or pin worms and large stomach worms, with only a few doses. For sale by all druggist at 25 cents. Use no other.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
Washington, D.C., Feb. 19, '82.

GENTLEMEN,—Inclosed find $1, and will you send me some of N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsamic Elixir by express. I have a bad cold, as has almost every one else here, but cannot find the Elixir, which I used frequently at home and consider a most valuable medicine; in fact, the very best remedy for a cold that I ever used.

Very truly yours, WILLIAM W. GROUT.

FITS

A Leading London Physician establishes an office in New York for the cure of EPILEPTIC FITS.

From Am. Journal of Medicine. Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician; his success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John St., New York.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz. a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

ENGLAND.

MR. FAWCETT, the British Postmaster-General, has promised to make inquiry with a view to the improvement of the Atlantic mail service.

THE Cunard Steamship Company are to carry intermediate passengers to New York and Boston. This is a new departure for this company.

NEARLY the whole of the plate belonging to the officers' mess of the 2d Battalion Warwickshire Regiment has been stolen by burglars at Chatham.

NEARLY 400 express trains run across Great Britain every day. The Great Northern alone has a daily express mileage equal to that of all the railways in the world outside Britain.

THE Queen was present on the 9th inst. at the funeral in Windsor Cemetery of Pay-Sergeant Wm. Mayes, 1st Battalion Coldstream Guards, who died suddenly while relieving the Castle guard.

A PLAN for roofing the area of the Royal Exchange, London, has been adopted by the Court of Common Council. The expense, £12,000, is to be divided between the Corporation and the Mercer's Company.

A GREAT festival of diocesan choirs will be held this year in Lichfield Cathedral, for which an elaborate programme has been prepared. The afternoon service will be assisted by a full orchestra of sixty preformers.

THE sum of £120 was recently given by a London firm for a photographic negative of the Prince of Wales in Masonic dress. This is the highest price ever paid for a single negative. It will likely be reproduced in this country for a few cents.

IN London, George W. Foote, editor, William J. Ramsey, proprietor, and Mr. Kemp, printer, of the Freethinker, were found guilty of blasphemous libel. Foote was sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment, Ramsey to nine months', and Kemp to three months'.

IRELAND.

ABOUT £800 are to be expended in repairing the New Castle Market in Dublin.

THE Commissioners under the Irish Land Act have considerably reduced the rents on Parnell's estate.

OWING to the recent heavy rains several acres of the Clonaghill bog, about Parsonstown, were carried a considerable distance.

ON Feb. 16th, as the Earl of Meath was crossing a street in Dublin, he was knocked down by a dray, and sustained a fracture of the head.

THE town council of Dublin have expelled James Carey, the informer, from membership, and have declared his seat vacant.

THE football match, under Rugby rules, between Ireland and Scotland was played at Belfast on Feb. 18th, and ended in a win for Scotland by a goal and a try to nothing.

THE total expenses of bringing over from the West Indies the man Westgate, who falsely accused himself of complicity in the Phoenix Park murders, amounts to about £3,600.

EMIGRATION is assuming such extensive proportions in the county Mayo that the Allan Steamship Company have resolved to send a special vessel to Belmullet to take away the emigrants from that Union.

GREAT distress has ensued to many families in consequence of the moving bog at Bealick, near Castlerea. Numbers have been driven from their homes by the encroachment of the semi-liquid peat, which moves almost with the rapidity of a fast-flowing current; and they are now homeless.

SCOTLAND.

AT a meeting held in Glasgow on February 14th it was agreed to raise £5,000 to construct a meteorological observatory upon Ben Nevis.

DR. MACDONALD, Cupar, lately secured from Ceres churchyard an enamelled bronze crucifix of a very remote age and antiquity.

AT Burnhead, on the 10th February, Elspet Proctor was drowned in a ditch with only ten inches of water. She fell in while drawing water.

THE Glasgow U. P. Presbytery have approved generally the draft scheme of systematic visitation of the non-church going population of the city.

AN ancient maple was recently cut down by Capt. Montgomery, of Isle la Motte, Vt., and in splitting it open at the crotch he found a piece of brass about 4 inches long by 2½ inches wide which was ornamented with an eagle and inscribed, "E. Pluribus Unum" and "1776." The plate was so firmly imbedded in the wood that the lettering was embossed on the maple.

The best known remedy for all affections of the Chest, Lungs or Throat is Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum. It is constantly used by thousands of persons suffering from the above diseases, and in nearly every instance it affords immediate relief. In cases of troublesome, tickling Cough, where the patient passes sleepless nights, one or two doses of the Syrup has such a quieting, soothing effect that rest ensues and the Cough speedily disappears. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

IT is said that the Portuguese brought the first sweet-orange tree to Europe in 1547, and, further, that from this original tree were derived all the European orange-trees of this class. But the first mention of oranges in England is of much earlier date, for it is recorded that in 1290 Edward I's queen bought from the cargo of a Spanish ship that came to Portsmouth various fruits, among which were oranges—"poma de orenge."

The Great American Remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LOSS OF VOICE, HOARSENESS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS.

Prepared from the finest Red Spruce Gum. (Delicious Flavor.) Balsamic, Soothing, Expectorant and Tonic. Superior to any medicine offered for all the above complaints. A scientific combination of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce tree—without doubt the most valuable native Gum for Medicinal purposes.

Every one has heard of the wonderful effects of the Spruces and the Pines in cases of Lung Disease.

In France the physicians regularly send their consumptive patients to the pine woods and order them to drink a tea made from the Spruce tops.

GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM.

In this preparation the Gum never separates, and all its anti-spasmodic, expectorant, tonic, and balsamic properties are preserved. This Syrup, carefully prepared at a low temperature, contains a large quantity of the finest picked Gum in complete solution.

Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large.

Sold by all respectable chemists. Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

The words "Syrup of Red Spruce Gum" constitute our Registered Trade Mark, and our wrapper and labels are also registered.

Daily Evening Review

MONDAY, MARCH 12, 1883.

The Temperature.

The thermometer at Messrs. Taylor & Macdonald's registered as follows to-day:—At 8 a.m., 20° above zero; at noon, 26° above, and at 3 p.m., 32° above.

The Weather.

The probs. made a bad mistake in their prediction of the weather for Sunday. In place of being fine it was stormy. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Fresh to strong westerly to southerly winds; fair, milder weather, with light falls of snow in some localities.

Police News.

One tramp occupied the police cells on Saturday night and on Sunday night again found shelter there.

There was a blank at the police court this morning, a man summoned for committing an assault not having appeared.

Mrs. Mary Drake's landlord, who laid a complaint against her last week, was in the Court this morning making verbal complaints of her conduct.

The Ragan Lectures.

Mr. H. H. Ragan will lecture in Bradburn's Opera House on the evenings of Tuesday and Wednesday, the 20th and 21st of March, under the auspices of the Mechanics Institute, on "Paris, the Magnificent," and "London from the top of an Omnibus." Of the former lecture the Washington Post says:—

> "The Congregational church has seldom, if ever, contained a larger or more cultured audience than was gathered within its spacious walls last evening to hear the introductory lecture by Mr. H. H. Ragan, which was justly entitled, "Paris, the Magnificent." As might be expected Mr. Ragan easily scored a brilliant success, and delighted everyone present with his charming lecture and appropriate and really beautiful illustrations, of which over 60 were shown. Mr. Ragan is certainly a decided success as a lecturer and deserves all the praise that has been given him wherever he has lectured. His language is choice, poetical, instructive and entertaining and he evidently knows just what matter is best suited to please and deserve credit from the fine audiences who attend his popular lectures, including the very best representatives of culture and refinement to be gathered from select social and literary circles. Applause was frequently given. The pictures, many of which were beautifully colored, were shrown upon the the screen in a most artistic way by an evidently experienced and shillful operator and not a single hitch in the clock work of the apparatus was noticed throughout the entire lecture."

An Appeal to the Public for Support—Its Aims and Work.

A pamphlet has been issued by the Young Men's Christian Association of Peterborough, explaining the objects of the Association and the work that it is doing.

The object of publishing the pamphlet is to enlist more workers, and to secure a support commensurate, not with what has been done, but with what should and can be done.

The aim of the Association is, while not passing others by, to draw the attention of the young men to the great verities of life; to lead them to make a choice of that wisdom "whose ways are ways of pleasantness;" to seek such of them as are at a distance from home and accord them those civilities which have rendered these Associations throughout the world a refuge and a safeguard to the stranger. The Association has been obliged, in addition to its town work, to accept invitations to hold meetings, for longer or shorter seasons, at several places in the country. Although perhaps not properly its work, the Association could not refuse the earnest requests to visit these places, and it certainly would have been wrong to refuse, so long as it was able to answer the calls made upon it. The meeting at Tully's School House has been maintained throughout the winter, and the interest taken in the services, and the several instances of positive good resulting therefrom, make the outside work a most encouraging field of labor.

Another feature is that in connection with the railway camps on the "Missing Link." This was begun in April last, and every Sunday the camps are visited, the scriptures read, papers and tracts distributed, short addresses given, or conversations held with the men, who are very attentive, and eager to receive the reading matter given away. In this work 150 addresses have been delivered, 4,206 religious and temperance papers and tracts distributed, 6 copies of the French testament and 5 of the English bible disposed of. The Association has been invited to similar work among the railway camps on the Indian River. The town work consists in maintaining a reading room, open every evening from 7.30 to 10 o'clock; a Bible class, held on Tuesday evenings; a young men's meeting, on Saturday evening; and a prayer meeting on Sunday evening, after the close of the services in the churches. The efforts of the Association are divided among committees, each of which has its special work, such as receiving strangers, helping those seeking employment, watching the sick, giving relief, and distributing tracts.

Gratitude is expressed for the rooms which are given free of rent, the use of the organ, the services of organist, the use of conveyances to camps, subscriptions, papers for distribution and kind words. A renewal of such sympathy and support is asked.

The Association has at present forty-eight members, whose annual fee of $1 is its ordinary income. To maintain its present work $200 a year is required. The mention of the needs of the Association should be sufficient to obtain for it the required aid. The work which it has been doing should be carried on, and that, too, with increased vigor, and its field of operations should be extended. It has been doing a noble work, and with assistance it can do more, and this assistance it should receive.

Council Meeting

A special meeting of the Town Council will be held this evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Council Chamber.

Prepare Your Cards.

Those who intend to be present in costume at the skating carnival on Friday night are requested to hand in their names at the door, together with the character they represent, if they wish their names to appear in the reports.

Parlor Social.

The Ladies' Aid Society in connection with St. Andrew's Church, will give a parlor social at the residence of Mrs. W. Mercer, Hunter street, on Thursday evening next, commencing at 8 o'clock. Admission 15 cents. A very attractive musical and literary entertainment is provided. The public cordially invited.

The Prophets.

Mr. Vennor and Prof. Wiggins both predicted heavy storms for the days between the 9th and 12th of this month. Wiggins sent letters of warning to the President of the United States and the Governor-General, and Mr. Vennor published an advertisement warning railway companies, in large type, of this great storm. The Toronto meteorological office on Saturday also made an extra effort, and issued a prediction for two days. Now, so far as this section is concerned, all three weather prophets failed. The Toronto office predicted fine weather for Sunday, and it was stormy. Wiggins predicted an unprecedented storm, and Vennor a storm of unusual severity, yet the storm of Sunday was not as severe as that of last week, and did not effect railway traffic as much. Evidently, the prophets all failed in this section. Storms are reported from Halifax and St. John, but they do not fulfil Wiggins' predictions, and, as his predictions were founded on scientific deductions, he must have miscalculated.

Notice is given in the Canada Gazette that a special general meeting of the Ontario and Quebec Railway Company will be held at the head office of the company, Toronto, on Tuesday afternoon, the 10th of April, for the election of directors and other business.

British Columbia.

VICTORIA, B.C., March 10—The weather is glorious and the sky cloudless. The thermometer stands at 39° in the shade, and the barometer at 30.10. with an upward tendency.

Two companies are applying for a charter to build a road from Lower river to the boundary line. The capital of one company is one million dollars, and the other five hundred thousand. No lands are asked for, but merely the right of way.

The scheme to cede lands in the Kootenay district to an American company, in consideration of the construction of a railway and putting on a line of steamboats, meets with general condemnation from the press.

A Startling Discovery.

Physicians are often startled by remarkable discoveries. The fact that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and all Throat and Lung diseases is daily curing patients that they have given up to die, is startling them to realize their sense of duty, and examine into the merits of this wonderful discovery, resulting in hundreds of our best Physicians using it in their practice. Trial Bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's Drug Store. Regular size $1.00.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold, a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup, and Bronchitis, while it's wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parellel in the history of medicine. Since it's first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a Cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10 cts., 50 cts. and $1.00. For sale by J. D. Tully,

Answer This Question.

Why do so many people we see around us seem to prefer to suffer and be made miserable by Indigestion, Consumption, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Coming up of the Food, Yellow Skin, when for 75 cts., we will sell them Shiloh's Vitalizer, guaranteed to cure them. For sale by D. J. Tully

Catarrh cannot be cured by any local remedy. It is a deep-seated and constitutional wrong-being, the tendency of which is to lay the whole respiratory economy in ruins. The Fountain of Health will reach the seat of this malady. ☞

Mrs. Campbell, 344 Walton Avenue, Toronto, says:—"I had suffered much for a long time by derangements of Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Two months' using of Fountain of Health has almost completely restored me."

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcula which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly affected with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.

DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.) THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution. In Boxes at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., and 4s. 6d. Sold by Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world. Prepared by Jas. Burke, London. Specially valuable Pills for residents abroad and travellers.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

TUESDAY, MARCH 13, 1883.

THE election for a representative of the constituency of Muskoka and Parry Sound in the Ontario Legislature takes place to-day, and will be keenly contested. Mr. Pardee, the Commissioner of Crown Lands, of course, is there, as before, to endeavour to corrupt the electors by the manipulation of patents for our public lands, and by the use, where most needed (politically) of road funds, to which we contribute. That the supporters of the shaken Mowat administration are fighting with the despair of a garrison driven into the last ditch, is obvious from the fact that they have paid voters to go all the way from Peterborough to vote for Mr. Bettes, the Government candidate.

PORT HOPE.

DEAD IN THE SNOW.—The Guide says that at about noon on Monday Mr. Aaron Thompson, who was chopping in the woods on his father's farm, lot 13, 1st concession of Hope, found the body of a man buried in the snow. The deceased seemed to be between 55 and 60 years of age, about 5 feet 6 inches in height, bald headed with full beard. On his person was found a pair of tailor's shears, a tailor's thimble and a small glass bottle containing a lot of needles. He was well clothed; had on a good comfortable suit, flannel shirt and drawers, India rubber overshoes, one pair of extra pants wrapped around his feet and another around his head. There was nothing on his person by which he could be identified. A book containing a lot of figures with some writing in German would lead to the supposition that he was a German tailor. He had evidently lain down deliberately—not like a person that was intoxicated—for the snow had been scooped away at the root of an upturned tree. Besides the articles mentioned above, there was found a small hand looking glass, a comb, a brier-root pipe and a quantity of tobacco and matches. An inquest was held by Coroner Maxwell, and a verdict rendered in accordance with the above facts. He was an entire stranger in this section of the country.

LOST AN EYE.—Mr. Samuel Leach, Englishtown, was splitting wood on Saturday evening with an iron wedge and beetle, when a sliver from the iron wedge flew into his left eye ball, cutting the coating and completely destroying the sight.

The Dismal Swamp.

The Dismal Swamp in Virginia is much reduced in extent compared to what it was twenty years ago. It now contains, says a recent visitor there, some of the best farming land in the State. A railroad runs across it, and it is on its way to final extinction. The drainage of Lake Drummond, a central body of water lying higher than the average level of the swamp, would make the whole area fertile. This is a project of Gov. Benjamin F. Butler, who once had surveys made, but at length abandoned it. The one great industry of the swamp is lumbering. It is penetrated by small ditches in connection with larger canals, and by rude tramroads, over which the logs are hauled to be sawed up into shingles, railroad ties and fencing. The lake, however, with its fringe of cypress and its projecting roots and stumps, is just as dismal as ever.—Scientific American.

Gaining a World Wide Reputation.

About 150,000 bottles of medicine and 3000 Spirometers, the invention of M. Souvielle of Paris and ex-aide surgeon of the French army, have been used by physicians and patients during the last year for the cure of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma, consumption in its first stages and many diseases of the head, throat and lungs. Consultations with any of the surgeons belonging to the institute free. Poor people showing certificates can have spirometers free. Write enclosing stamp for pamphlet giving full information to either of the Canadian offices where competent English and French specialists are always in charge. Address International Throat and Lung Institute, 13 Phillips square, Montreal, P. Q., or 173 Church street, Toronto, Ont.

AN AGED STATESMAN'S LAST ACT.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 13.—The last act of Prince Gortschakoff was to dictate a telegram to the Czar saluting him on the occasion of his birthday.

THE CZAR'S CORONATION.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 13.—It is reported that the chief sovereigns expected to be present, at Berlin at the celebration of the silver wedding of the Crown Prince and Princess agreed to be represented at the coronation of the Czar by ambassadors only.

A COUNTER MOVEMENT.

HARVE, March 13.—Patrick Casey is endeavoring to secure the arrest of the English detectives who assisted in the apprehension of Walsh on French territory.

AN ALIBA.

PARIS, March 13.—Documents have arrived showing that Walsh, arrested at Harve, was not in Dublin at the time the Phœnix Park murders were committed.

AMERICAN.

TELEPHONIC SUCCESS.

NEW YORK, March 13.—The experiment of connecting Cleveland and New York by telephone yesterday was a success.

A SUSPENSION.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Hessom, Payne & Co., dealers in naval stores here and at Wilmington, N. C., have suspended. No statement has been made. It is said that one of the partners will retire and that the business will be continued. The firm has been regarded as worth $200,000.

EAST RIVER BRIDGE.

NEW YORK, March 13.—One of the Trustees says that the East River Bridge will be opened for travel in sixty days.

TERRIBLE EXPLOSION.

SHENANDOAH, Pa., March 13.—By an explosion of sulphur in Wm. Penn's shaft yesterday, Henry Krutz and Henry Bissel were terribly burned. There is little hope of their recovery.

STONE PACHA.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Stone Pacha (General C. R. Stone), for many years chief of the staff of the army of the Khedive of Egypt, arrived yesterday.

MEXICO'S PRESIDENCY.

MONTREY, Mexico, March 13.—It is understood that General Trevino has consented not to oppose the candidacy of Diaz for the Presidency in 1884, with the condition that Diaz will turn over the Presidency to Trevino in 1889.

A SENATOR'S MARRIAGE.

FAYETTVILLE, N.C., March 13.—David Davis announces that he will be married to-morrow.

AN EX-JUDGE DEAD.

BATH, N.Y., March 13.—David Rumsey, ex-Judge of the Supreme Court, died yesterday, aged 73.

DISASTROUS FIRE.

MILWAUKEE, March 13.—Last night a disastrous fire was in progress at Hartford, a village of one thousand inhabitants. Half the town is already destroyed. Two engines were sent from here. The loss is heavy.

CHARGE OF BLACKMAIL.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Noah Pike charges Foreman, an employee in the tax Collector's office, with endeavoring to blackmail him by demanding money to reduce the assessments of property in Pike's charge. The acused denies the charge. The commissioners will investigate.

PAUPERS' BODIES.

BOSTON, March 13.—In regard to the charges in the Governor's message that a traffic in the bodies of dead paupers in the State Alms House has been carried on for a long time, it is stated that of 2,800 deaths in ten years, 580 bodies were delivered to the medical colleges according to law. There is no record of the disposal of the remaining 2,200, suppposed to be buried in the potter's field, but it is alleged that some graves contain no bodies.

STRIKE OF PUDDLERS.

TRENTON, N. J., March 13.—At the Trenton Iron Works there has been a reduction of ten per cent. on the wages of the rolling mill employees. In Roebling's mill there has been a like reduction. At the New Jersey Steel and Iron Company's works a reduction of fifty cents per ton on puddlers' wages was announced. This would make the new rate $3.50 per ton. The men refused to accept the reduction and the works have been suspended in the hope that business may improve so that four dollars can be paid.

THE TARIFF BILL.

PITTSBURGH, March 13.—The iron manufacturers of this and other cities have been seriously considering the constitutionality of the new Tariff Bill. It is said that it is not unlikely that the United States Supreme Court will be asked to pass upon the measure. The secretary of the Western Iron Assocation says he has no doubt as to the unconstitutionality of the bill, and many able constitutional lawyers, among them Senator Edmunds and Representative Tucker, agree with him. He also has been informed that Senator Sherman said that he considered the constitutionality of the bill doubtful on account of its practical origination in the Senate instead of in the House.

A TERRIBLE DEED.

FORT FETTERMAN, Wyoming, March 13.—Al Pach, charged with killing five companions nine years ago, in a camp at Colarado, while they slept, has been arrested here.

FATAL RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., March 13.—Walter Webb, Master Mechanic for the Watertown and Ogdensburg Railway, was run over and killed to-day.

HARTFORD, Wis., March 13.—The loss by fire here was $10,000.

FATAL CAVE IN.

DEADWOOD, Dak., March 13.—An extensive cave in has occurred at the Highland Mine. The miners all escaped except one, who was fatally hurt.

DAMAGE BY STORMS.

COONEY ISLAND, March 13.—The hotels here were damaged to the extent of $100,000 by storms this winter.

INEXPERIENCED HUNTERS.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, March 13.—Yesterday three boys went duck hunting fifteen miles from the City. Andrew Mikelson, while passing through some willows, accidently discharged his gun and almost tore his arm from its socket, besides horribly mutilating the face of Peterson. The wounds will probably prove fatal, none of the boys are over fourteen years of age, and none ever handled firearms before.

RAILWAY EARNINGS.

ST. LOUIS, March 13.—The St. Louis and San Francisco railway's gross earnings last year were $3,572,000, an increase over the previous year of $412,000. The operating expenses were $1,421,000, an increase of $85,000.

ASSIGNED.

ALBANY, March 13.—Friend, Humphrey & Sons, leather dealers, have assigned to thirty-nine preferred creditors, whose claims amount to $123.000.

TREATIES EXPIRING.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 12.—The Porte has notified the United States Minister and other foreign representatives that the treaties of commerce will expire on March 12, 1884. It is believed there will be no difficulty in concluding treaties at 8 to 20 per cent.

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.

LONDON, March 12.—In the House of Commons this evening Mr. Kennard gave notice of his intention to ask the Government what steps had been taken to recover from the United States the £2,000,000 paid to the latter by England in excess of the claims allowed under the Alabama Treaty award.

SPAIN OBDURATE.

LONDON, March 12.—The negotiation with Spain have failed to secure the release of the Cuban refugees who are now in confinement at Cadiz.

THE GREAT TRIALS.

DUBLIN, March 12.—An Irish-American named Lee was arrested to-day on a charge of threatening the life of a witness against the conspirators. The trial of the murder and conspiracy prisoners begins in April. They will be tried on three counts, namely, the Phœnix park murders, attempted murder of Juror Field, and conspiracy. The Government has ordered prompt measures for the relief of the starving people in Loughrea.

EXPLOSION IN CUBA.

HAVANA, Cuba, March 12.—An explosion occurred on a plantation at Sabanilla deGuarievas. Six negroes and one Chinaman were killed and six negroes and four Chinamen were wounded. The engineer also died from his wounds.

LORD LORNE'S SUCCESSOR.

LONDON, March 12.—The report that Mr. Forster would succeed the Marquis of Lorne as Governor-General of Canada is discredited.

THE MADAGASCAR DIFFICULTY.

ZANZIBAR, March 12.—A British cruiser has gone to Madagascar and an another will follow.

AMERICAN.

SELF-CONFESSED MURDERER.

BOSTON, March 12.—Patrick Levy, passenger on the steamer Samaria, was arrested on her arrival to-day on a chrage of killing Patrick Hurley, a farmer in Mullingar, Ireland. Levy confessed the deed to the officers of the steamer. Hurley hired a farm over the head of an evicted tenant, and Levy was induced by the payment of £20 (by whom he would not state) to kill him. Levy says he never was suspected of the murder, and left Ireland to seek employment here. His aunt resides in New York. Levy in an interview denied the £20 story, and said the murder was committed in a drunken quarrel. The British Consul advised letting the man proceed to his destination, and that he be kept under surveillance until advices from England are received.

BUCKET-SHOPS DEFEATED.

CHICAGO, March 12.—It has been decided in the cases between the bucket-shops and Board of Trade to the effect that the Board has full jurisdiction over its market reports and the candidate to whom the reports may be delivered. The bucket-shop men hope to evade the effect of the decision pending the injunction against the telegraph companies preventing them from cutting off reports.

A Good Old Miller.

A New Jersey Miller, who had become old and rheumatic, one day called his sons about him, and said: "Boys, I am growing stiff in the knees and faint at heart. My liver is out of order, and I can no longer distinguish between a peck and a half bushel when taking toll. This mill is worth ten thousand dollars. In order to form a stock company, and render my own burdens the lighter, I shall give Reuben two-tenths, Samuel the same, and Henry, who is my first born, three-tenths. Bless you, my children, bless you. You may go fishing for half a day." The three sons took the papers which the old man had made out, and instead of going fishing they went down to a lawyer's office, called a meeting of stock-holders, and proceeded to business. The first-born was elected president, Reuben treasurer, and Samuel secretary, and the following resolution was passed: "Resolved,—That we bounce the old man, and run the mill after our own ideas!"

The above from the Millers' Review (Philadelphia), illustrates substantially the experience of a good many indulgent, confiding fathers. Some that read this will be reminded of like cases that have come under their own notice.—Scientific American.

Letter from Member of Congress.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
Washington, D.C., Feb. 19, '82.

GENTLEMEN,—Inclosed find $1, and will you send me some of N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsomic Elixir by express. I have a bad cold, as has almost every one else here, but cannot find the Elixir, which I used frequently at home and consider a most valuable medicine; in fact, the very best remedy for a cold that I ever used.
Very truly yours, WILLIAM W. GROUT.

Personal! To Men Only!

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and Manhood, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

FORTUNATELY Valvular disease of the heart is not very common, its disturbed action may be due to indigestion, liver irregularities &c. A Stomach disturbed with wind, or indigestable food will cause pain and fluttering by crowding on the nerves of the heart. Burdock Blood Bitters will speedily remedy all such difficulties.

THOSE CREAMERIES.

If the Advisory Board entrusted with the duty of selecting the sites, and if we mistake not with the general management of the three model creameries, for the erection and working of which provision was made during the last session of the Legislature, really desire to locate them in the best interests of the Province, we venture to think they should locate one of them on the shores of some one of the navigable chain of lakes which lie within the confines of the counties of Peterborough and Victoria.

In the first place we cannot see why the raw material—especially if the Fairlamb system be adopted—could not be conveyed by water for a greater distance, under more favourable circumstances, and at a proportionately less cost, than will ever be possible by the use of waggons.

In the second place, if the last supposition be correct, in no part of the Province could such a project be attempted with the same prospect of success as on our Back Lakes. Already the many miles which form the shores of Sturgeon, Pigeon, Bald, Buckhorn and Chemong Lakes, are accessible to boats starting from any point thereon, and at an early date by the completion of the Fenelon, Buckhorn and Burleigh Locks, this mileage and consequently the number of farms rendered accessible to such a mode of communication will be more than doubled, and an almost unlimited supply of the raw material necessary for the economical working of such an establishment, be rendered accessible by water communication.

In the third place, if there is one part of the Province better adapted for dairying and stock raising than another, that part is the section of country to which we are now referring, and certainly no part of the Province requires and would better repay the expenditure of the public money for such a purpose than it. If these creameries prove the success which it is to be hoped they will, it cannot be doubted but that the ice, as it were, only requires to be broken to cause a speedy development of a great dairying and stock-raising interest, right here in these two counties of Peterborough and Victoria. Unsurpassed as the district in question is for pasturing purposes, it only requires a little combination of interests which already exist to render the "rear" a valuable adjunct to the better lands to be found in the "front." May we express the hope that Messrs. Blezard and McIntyre, who have the ear of the Government of the day, will take an early opportunity of impressing upon them the claims of these counties to one of these creameries, and if our suggestions as to water carriage be feasible, its location at a point calculated not only to accomplish the primary object of their establishment, but also the growth and prosperity of our important section of the Province.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE best possible evidence that the position of the Mowat Government with regard to the Streams Bill is utterly untenable is the fact that the Globe bases a whole article with reference to the disallowance of this measure for the third time upon the false statement that it relates to "floatable" streams, whereas, as the Globe very well knows, the whole contention is based upon the fact that the judges have unanimously found the stream in question to be non-floatable. Had they found it to be a floatable stream, McLaren's improvements would have been, and would be declared to be, in precisely the same position as the dam across the river at Dickson's, or at any other point between here and Lakefield. To argue from false premises, as the Globe is doing, is to give its case away, as it should have done long ago.

* * *

ANOTHER week has elapsed and again the Ontario Gazette contains no notice of the appointment of the Registrar of the County of Peterborough, or of the License Commissioners of the West Riding of Peterborough. It might be supposed that this neglect was due to the fact of Mr. Mowat and his colleagues being engrossed in the necessary steps for filling the vacancies in their administration, but that they are still, as usual, appointing bailiffs, whose names are duly gazetted.

HOW COLD WAVES TRAVEL.

Some of the Impressive Facts of Meteorological Phenomena.

Cold waves, so-called—a name for which we are indebted to recent meteological science—do not appear to move in some instances much faster than a railroad express train. They vary, however, in their rate of motion. Where do they come from? It is not easy to say. It might be found, if one could travel at express train speed from the mountains of Montana and the frozen regions farther north, that the cold continued all the way to Eastern Alaska, and on to Behring Strait, with even a greater degree of intensity. In fact the coldest region is probably the wide expanse west, and especially north-west, of Hudson Bay, in the neighborhood of the magnetic pole. A "cold wave" is a wave of heavy air, following the rarefied track of "low barometer," and changing the rarefied and milder atmosphere (which is usually also stormy) to one of clear cold skies; a heavy air, full of tonic power, and exhilarating and hunger-producing to sound and healthy animal life. The establishment of the modern Government weather observation stations, with their appliances, including the electric telegraph and daily press, has enabled the country to see and comprehend something of the movement of these frequent cold waves. The movement is as marked as the advance of a veritable sea wave. The telegraph heralds its start from the Rocky Mountains (it always seems to begin there, though in fact it rarely does—having its origin much farther north), and its advance can be timed like that of a railroad train. Its speed varies from forty to sixty, or sometimes even seventy miles an hour; usually it would run about fifty. It rolls over the country, a real wave, an aerial counterpart, on the shore of its congener, the tidal wave of the ocean, and its direction is usually from the northwest to the southwest. It sweeps slowly down from the frozen wastes of the Asiatic shore, and the equally frigid wilds of the American mainland in the Arctic circle, to our Atlantic coast—its breadth reaching all the way from Nova Scotia to Cape Hatteras, and frequently making its chill presence felt as far south as Florida. The Bermudas—which lie just south of the Gulf Stream, a little over 600 miles almost due east of Charleston—feel the influence of our "cold waves" very perceptibly. That solitary little group of small, low-lying coral islands which can be reached by steamer from New York in the same time that it would take to go to Savannah, happen to lie on the leeward side of the Gulf Stream; and that great thermal current of the ocean forever saves them from frost and keeps them in spring foliage all winter: but while it finely tempers and modifies the north wind, it cannot quite rob it of all its intrinsic character—and the result is a wind that may at times be cool, and frequently boisterous, but never really cold; and these lonely islands, surrounded by wide-reaching coral reefs, have all winter a pleasant climate of spring. That is almost all that they or more southern islands of the Bermudas, ever know of our winter "cold waves." These come in an almost rythmical succession, and have their causes, doubtless, as potent as those of the ocean's tides, which they strikingly resemble.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A STRANGE STORY.

A Mother and Daughter Meet Every Day for a Year Without Knowing Each Other.

A remarkable story is told by the West Chester (Pa.) Record about a mother and daughter living at the Berks County Alms-house for a year, meeting each other every day and talking together without knowing the relationship that existed between them. The parties are Mrs. Mary Ulrich, who is said to have been a resident of Kutztown, and her daughter Miss Lavina Ulrich, who had left home years ago and had never been heard from. Lavina is 35 years old. The mother died on Saturday during the absence of the daughter, who had gone on a visit to Lutztown to see her mother, who, she believed, was still residing there. It appears the daughter, who has been living at the Alms-house for years, desired to visit her mother and spoke to several inmates of the Alms-house about going away. She said the management did not approve of her visit and she thought she ought to go. Among the persons to whom she spoke was her own mother, though she did not know her as such at the time and her mother advised her to go. She went to Kutztown one day last week, and on making inquiry about Mrs. Mary Ulrich, was told that she was at the Alms house and had been an inmate for over a year. When she stated her name and the object of her inquiry, she was informed that her mother and neighbors all believed her dead, she having left home many years ago and not made her whereabouts known. On her return to the Alms-house she learned that her mother had died during her absence.

Six Pounds of Coal a Day.

The coal-miners of the North, having obtained an increase from the masters of ten per cent. on their wages, have decided it is stated, to decrease the out-put. Their unions intend to restrict work to five days a week, and the working-day to eight hours, or forty hours in all. The object is to raise the price of coal by, say, ten per cent., and then obtain another rise for themselves. We doubt if they will succeed, as the contracts interfere, and as the cost of the coal itself is only one element in its price. But suppose they succeed completely. They will reduce waste, not raise price. It is perfectly well known that if it were only worth while to rebuild furnaces and fire places, the consumption of coal could be reduced at least one-third. During the coal famine a few years since, Sir John Hawkshaw is reported to have said that "coal could never be cheap in England till it was £4 a ton;" and whether he said it or not, the epigram is true. It is not only possible to build a German stove which will warm a large hall on a consumption of six pounds of coal a day, but it has been done The men may be quite right in seeking higher wages, for theirs is a terrible form of labor; but they will not find it pay to shut up open fireplaces. We cannot do without coal, but we can use hundredweights for tons.—London Spectator.

Another Chance For Hanlan.

A Portland genius writes as follows to a New York paper:—"In speaking of Hanlan, a great many people call invincible, and go so far as to say that he can beat any two men in England, even start, they to row double and he singly. A certain sculler in the United States, on hearing this, says he will be most happy to pick a partner from amongst the many scullers of America and row Mr. Hanlan a three or five mile race for a steak to suit himself, and give him the allotted time of twenty seconds on each mile, which is the allowance generally given to one man when rowing against two. This talk is made in good faith, and will be backed with money at the Turf, Field, and Farm office, should Mr. Hanlan be willing to make such a race."

A Startling Discovery.

Physicians are often startled by remarkable discoveries. The fact that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and all Throat and Lung diseases is daily curing patients that they have given up to die, is startling them to realize their sense of duty, and examine into the merits of this wonderful discovery, resulting in hundreds of our best Physicians using it in their practice. Trial Bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's Drug Store. Regular size $1.00.

A Telegraphic Error.

The case of Gorringe and the Great North Western Telegraph company was heard at the county court on Saturday morning before Judge Barnham and a jury. In September last the plaintiff entered into a correspondence with J. E. Eby relative to procuring a situation in his hotel at Galt. In reply to Mr. Eby's request to send salary required, Gorringe telegraphed $70 per month. The figures in the despatch as received by Mr. Eby only read $30. The error was not noticed until they came to settle up at the end of the month. The plaintiff placed his loss at $200 as he had left a good position for this one. The jury returned a verdict of $130 for the plaintiff.—World.

MR. THOMAS W. RACE, Editor and Proprietor of the Mitchell Recorder, writes that he had a prejudice against Patent Medicines, but being induced to try Burdock Blood Bitters, for Billiousness that occasioned such violent headache and distress as to often disable him from work. The medicine gave him relief, and he now speaks of it in the most favorable terms.

WALTER LINTON, of Waterloo, writes that Hagyard's Yellow Oil has done great good in his family, his wife being cured of Callouse lumps that other medicines failed to remove, he he also states that a neighbor was promptly relieved of Rheumatism by the same remedy.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES.

EXCELLENT BEAN SOUP.—Soak a quart of black beans over night in clear cold water; drain them well the next morning and put them on to boil five or six hours before dinner, with a small slice of pork (minced and fried), three large onions, minced and fried in the pork fat, or in butter; a carrot and three potatoes cut into small pieces, a pod of red pepper, salt, a gallon of clear cold water. Let it come slowly to a boil, then set it where it may simmer gently and steadily. Keep it well skimmed. Just before dinner is served strain and return it to the pot, add pepper and salt if necessary, and thicken with a table spoonful each of butter and flour worked together to a cream. Let it boil up once, and serve. Some persons like it flavoured with Worcestershire sauce.

BAKED CODFISH.—Stuff the fresh fish with a nice bread stuffing; sew it up well, season with salt and pepper, and dredge with flour. Cut into slices a large onion, a carrot, a turnip, a potato, and three sticks of celery. Put them into the bottom of a baking pan, and put the fish upon them; put some butter cut into small pieces over the top of the fish; put some boiling water in the bottom of the pan; baste the fish frequently with half a pint of red wine, or sherry, with a tablespoonful of Worcestershire sauce added to it. When the fish is done thicken the gravy in the pan. Serve fried oysters with it. This dish is a universal favorite.

LOBSTER PATTIES.—Cut a pint of lobster meat into dice and stir into half a pint of cream sauce. Season with Cayenne pepper, and add grated nutmeg and lemon peel to taste. Stir it over the fire until it is well heated, and then fill pate shells with the hot mixture.

MAYONNAISE OF SALMON.—Cut cold cooked salmon into any pretty shape you choose, then pour over it the following marinade:—Mix one salt spoonful of salt, one of pepper, and one teaspoonful of grated onion in a salad spoon; then add three tablespoonsful of vinegar and one tablespoonful of oil. Let the salmon remain on ice for several hours in this marinade, then drain well. Form shells of lettuce leaves upon a low platter by placing two or three leaves together. Put some of the salmon into each shell, and add a spoonful of thick Mayonnaise sauce to each. The salmon may also be arranged upon the lettuce in the form of a mound, and then the thick sauce should be spread over it, completely masking it.

ORANGE ICE.—Squeeze the juice from six large oranges and two lemons; pour about five gills of boiling water over the broken peel and pulp and let it stand until cool; then strain and add the water to the orange and lemon juice. Sweeten to taste with loaf sugar, and freeze.

Flotow's Duel.

The long and prosperous career of Flotow, the composer, who died last month, was temporarily clouded in 1864 by the death of his younger brother, which took place under painfully dramatic circumstances. He was rather what is euphemistically called a "wild" fellow, and a practical joke which he perpetrated in a half-drunken freak was taken as an insult by the whole body of the Mecklenburg Deputies, of whom he himself was one. A dozen challenges ensued, and young De Flotow agreed to meet any single antagonist selected by lot. This, as it happened, turned out to be a certain Count Z., one of the Deputies who resented the offence most keenly. On De Flotow's asking him if he thought a stupid joke worth fighting about, and receiving an emphatic answer in the affirmative, "Be it so," he said: "and if you attach as little value to life as I do, we will fight in the American fashion—I staking my life against yours in a game of ecarte of five points; the loser to blow out his brains in twenty-four hours." The proposition was agreed to, cards were brought, and the two men commenced their terrible game. The score stood at four points on each side, when Count Z., turned the king. "You have won, sir," said young De Flotow, rising. "I will pay before noon to-morrow." Next day he slept till eleven. After breakfast he took a turn in the park, and was observed by his valet gazing for some minutes at the facade of the ancestral mansion; after which he hid his face in his hands for a moment as if weeping. He then pulled out his watch; it wanted but five minutes of noon. M. de Flotow entered his study. At twelve precisely the report of a pistol shook the window panes. He had punctually killed himself.

Curious Superstition.

The curious hold superstition has on the mind of the Japanese is very well illustrated by the proceedings taken by a Japanese damsel when her lover proves false to his vows. When the world is at rest at two in the morning, the woman rises. She dons a white robe and high sandals or clogs. Her coif is a metal tripod, in which are thrust three lighted candles; around her neck she hangs a mirror, which falls upon her bosom; in her left hand she carries a small straw figure—the effigy of her faithless lover—and in her right she grasps a hammer and nails, with which she fastens the figure to one of the sacred trees that surround the shrine. Then she prays for the death of the traitor, vowing that if her petition be heard, she will herself pull out the nails which now offend the God by wounding the tree. Night after night she comes to the shrine, and each night she strikes in two more nails, believing that every nail will shorten her lover's life; for the god, to save his tree, will surely strike him dead.

An Apparition.

A despatch from Montreal says that a somewhat singular story is vouched for by Le Monde of Saturday evening, being nothing more or less than the appearance before several people of an apparition of our Saviour on the cross, shown upon the wall of the parlour in which the people were seated, engaged in playing cards to pass the time. The apparition was observed several times, but when the parties went towards it to investigate it the figure vanished. Eight persons who witnessed the apparition are willing to take oath as to the truth of the story. It has created a decided sensation among Catholics.

SMITH AGAIN.—Every day we receive testimonials from well known Montrealers testifying to the wonderful merits of Dr. Smith's Great German Worm Remedy. The latest comes to-day (November 24th) from Mr. J. O. Darois, No. 19 St. Mary Street, who says his child, six years old, passed an immense number of small seat or pin worms and large stomach worms, with only a few doses. For sale by all druggist at 25 cents. Use no other.

The best known remedy for all affections of the Chest, Lungs or Throat is Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum. It is constantly used by thousands of persons suffering from the above diseases, and in nearly every instance it affords immediate relief. In cases of troublesome, tickling Cough, where the patient passes sleepless nights, one or two doses of the Syrup has such a quieting, soothing effect that rest ensues and the Cough speedily disappears. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

Failing!

That is what a great many people are doing. They don't just know what is the matter, but they have a combination of aches and pains, and each month they grow worse.

The only sure remedy yet found is SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS, and this by rapid and thorough assimilation with the blood purifies and enriches it, and rich, strong blood flowing to every part of the system repairs the wasted tissues, drives out disease and gives health and strength.

This is why SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS will cure kidney and liver diseases, consumption, rheumatism, neuralgia, dyspepsia, biliousness, intermittent fevers &c.

Cor. Bleury and Lagauchetiere Sts.
Montreal, Nov. 7th. 1882.

I was a great sufferer from dyspepsia, and for several weeks could eat nothing and was growing weaker every day. I tried SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS, and am happy to say I now have a good appetite and am much better in every way.

EDWARD ELLIOTT.

SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS is not a drink and does not contain whisky. It is the only preparation of Iron that causes no injurious effects. Get the genuine. Sold by all dealers. Price 50c.

FITS A Leading London Physician establishes an Office in New York for the cure of EPILEPTIC FITS.

From Am. Journal of Medicine.

Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John St., New York.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz. a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

The Great American Remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LOSS OF VOICE, HOARSENESS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS.

Prepared from the finest Red Spruce Gum. (Delicious Flavor.) Balsamic, Soothing, Expectorant and Tonic. Superior to any medicine offered for all the above complaints. A scientific combination of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce tree —without doubt the most valuable native Gum for Medicinal purposes.

Every one has heard of the wonderful effects of the Spruces and the Pines in cases of Lung Disease.

In France the physicians regularly send their consumptive patients to the pine woods and order them to drink a tea made from the Spruce tops.

GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM.

In this preparation the Gum never separates, and all its anti-spasmodic, expectorant, tonic, and balsamic properties are preserved.

This Syrup, carefully prepared at a low temperature, contains a large quantity of the finest picked Gum in complete solution.

Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large.

Sold by all respectable chemists. Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

The words "Syrup of Red Spruce Gum" constitute our Registered Trade Mark, and our wrapper and labels are also registered.

Daily Evening Review

TUESDAY, MARCH 13, 1883.

The Cells.

Three tramps and two prisoners shared the police cells last night.

The Ragan Lectures.

The plan of the Opera House for the Ragan lectures, to be delivered on the evenings of March 20th and 21st, is now open at Mr. Menzies.

No Quorum.

A special meeting of the Town Council was called on Monday evening, but at eight o'clock there was not a quorum present, and no meeting was held. The following Councillors were present at that hour:—Messrs. Sewers, Hartley, McNaughton, Menzies, and Paterson.

The Weather.

The weather to-day is cloudy and mild. Prof. Wiggins said that his "great storm" would "continue with varying intensity to the 16th." Compare that with the weather experienced. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a.m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Moderate to fresh north-west to south-west winds; fine, mild weather.

A Fire.

On Monday evening, at about half-past eight, a fire broke out in the stable on Hunter street owned by Sheriff Hall. The firemen were promptly on hand, but the roof and wood work of the building, the walls of which were of brick, were burned. The walls, however, were preserved. Part of the stable was occupied by Mr. Denoon, butcher, and in this part the fire originated, but by what means is not known. Mr. Denoon lost a quantity of hay which was in the stable. Sheriff Hall's loss on the building is covered by insurance.

India.

On the evening of Wednesday, March 14th, the Rev. J. M. Douglas, a returned Missionary of the Presbyterian Church, will give a lecture in St. Paul's Church, under the auspices of the St. Paul's Auxiliary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, on Mission Life in India, with illustrations of the life and religion of the people. Tickets for admission, 25 cents each, can be procured in the following shops: Miss Jenkins', Hall & Innis', Peter Connal's and W. W. Johnson's. Sabbath school children admitted for 10 cents each at the door.

POLICE COURT.

ASSAULT.

Tuesday, March 13.—The assault case of Archambault vs. Mulvany was called. The case was dismissed, the defendant paying all costs.

WAGES CASE.

Margaret Sherin brought a case against Wm. Kennedy to recover $9.50 alleged to be due her as wages. The defendant denied the debt. Judgment for plaintiff.

VAGRANCY.

Amy Morrow was charged with being idle and having no visible means of support. He was badly crippled in one foot, through the effects of rheumatism, and said that he was unable to work, but would like to get to Quebec, where he had friends. He was allowed to go, and a subscription was started in his behalf in the court room.

DRUNK.

James Blone, who was only liberated from gaol on Monday morning, was arrested last night and charged at the court this morning with drunkenness. He said he wished to go to work, and was willing to pay a dollar, all his wealth, into the court to secure his liberty. Fined $1.

See the Prizes.

The prizes offered for competition at the skating carnival on Friday night, are now on exhibition in R. W. Muncaster's window. The quarter mile race will only be open for boys of sixteen and under. Take a look at the watch, boys, and go in to win it.

Accident to "Tommy."

While Mr. H. C. Winch was driving on a road outside of the town to-day, his horse, the favorite Tommy, got into a deep drift, and while floundering in the show cut his nigh front foot. The wound bled profusely, but Mr. Winch drove into town immediately and had the cut attended to, and it is hoped that it will not result in any serious injury to the horse.

Personal.

Mr. Adam Hudspeth has been appointed Deputy County Judge of Victoria, during the absence of Judge Dean.

Councillor H. H. Burnham, of Port Hope, was in town to-day, obtaining information regarding our Police and Fire departments. Several changes are to be made in the "City of Bricks."

Run Over.

A young man who was assisting to draw the Hook and Ladder wagon to the fire on Monday night fell directly in front of the wheels of the wagon. One wheel passed over his legs before he had time to roll out of the way, but he managed to clear himself of the hind wheels by drawing his legs under him. He was not injured, as, fortunately, the apparatus is light, but this should be a warning to those who assist in drawing the carts to be careful in future.

Snow Blockade.

While waiting for a quorum in the Council Chamber on Monday night, Councillor McNaughton complained to his colleagues that the snow had drifted in such quantities on the sidewalk on Rubidge street, south of Sherbrooke street, that the children living in that part of the town were unable to attend school. The Street Inspector said that he could not clear away the snow without instructions to do so from the Council.

Curling.

The point game for the Club Cup was played at the curling rink on Monday. The cup is held for the year by the person making the highest number of points, and becomes the property of any person who wins it three times. Last year it was held by Mr. W. G. Ferguson, but this year it goes to Mr. Melville Millar. Twenty-two persons entered the competition for the cup on Monday, and the playing was lively and interesting. The ice was in very good condition for the game. The following are the scores made by the players:—

Murderer Resigned to His Fate.

St. John, N. B., March 12.—Hughes, the wife murderer, has resolved to meet his fate without offering any defence, and has made up his mind to plead guilty when arraigned in the Circuit Court this week. The counsel who volunteered to defend has been informed that "since the murderer was now fully prepared to die he had concluded not to defend the charge and run the risk of becoming a backslider, and in the end be lost."

Salmon in Australia.

Australian news lately received gives the result of a very interesting experiment in pisciculture. In Sir Samuel Wilson's fish-rearing establishment at Ercildoune, Victoria, a number of young salmon were hatched from eggs forming part of a shipment sent from England to New Zealand four years ago. A number of these young salmon were placed in a pond, through which a stream of water was allowed to flow, and prevented from getting away to the sea by gratings at the outlet. These fish are now about 17 inches in length, and this season one pair have deposited their ova in an artificial gravel bed at the entrance to the pond. These eggs have been hatched successfully, and 350 healthy young salmon have been reared, of which 200 have been liberated in one of the most suitable rivers in Australia for this fish, being one of the streams falling from the Australian Alps in Gippsland. The remainder of the young salmon are retained for further observation. This experiment, having resulted successfully, leads to the hope that the efforts which have been made during the last eighteen years by the Governments of the Australian colonies, and the energy, enterprize, and large expenditure of Sir Samuel Wilson, Mr. J. A. Youl, C.M.G., and other gentlemen, may before long be crowned with complete success, and that the introduction of the salmon may be as certain as is now that of the salmon trout and brown trout in Australian rivers.

The Cow Tree.

Sir Joseph Hooker, in his report on Kew Gardens, gives a sketch of a most interesting botanical curiosity, the Palo de vaca, or cow tree. This tree grows in forests at the foot of certain mountain ranges in Venezuela, and attains a height of 100 feet, and frequently the trunk reaches to 70 feet without a branch. The remarkable characteristic of the tree is the milk which exudes from the trunk when an incision is made. The flavor is of sweet cream with a slight balsamic taste, but it is very wholesome and nourishing, the composition being said to approach very near the milk of a cow. From the fact that the milk is somewhat glutinous it would seem that the tree is of the caoutchouc order. Seeds which have been sent to Bombay and the colonies are said to be thriving well. It is noteworthy, as an example of the law of compensation traceable in nature generally, that this cow tree seems originally to have been a native of a country where milk giving animals were formerly totally unknown.

The Orange Lottery at Ottawa.

Mr. Wm. Mosgrove, one of Ottawa's leading barristers, is in town to appear before the police magistrate on behalf of parties charged with infringement of the lottery Act in connection with the grand Orange concert to come off in Ottawa in May. The Orange Hall Association are determined to fight the matter out, as they think by this concert they do not infringe the law.—Toronto World.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold, a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup, and Bronchitis, while it's wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parellel in the history of medicine. Since it's first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a Cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10 cts., 50 cts. and $1.00. For sale by J. D. Tully.

Answer This Question.

Why do so many people we see around us seem to prefer to suffer and be made miserable by Indigestion, Consumption, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Coming up of the Food, Yellow Skin, when for 75 cts., we will sell them Shiloh's Vitalizer, guaranteed to cure them. For sale by D. J. Tully

Good Advice.—If our readers will accept poffered advice, they will always keep a bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil at hand for use in emergencies, such as Burns, Scalds, Wounds, Lameness, Croup, Chilblains, Rheumatism and all varieties of aches, pains and inflammations. It will ever be found reliable.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain and cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

H. C. ROGERS Postmaster.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.

DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.) THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution.

In Boxes at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., and 4s. 6d.

Sold by Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world. Prepared by Jas. Burke, London. Specially valuable Pills for residents abroad and travellers.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendencies, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

WEDESDAY, MARCH 14, 1883.

VICTORY IN MUSKOKA.

The Conservative Candidate's Sweeping Majority—Mowat Condemned.

Special to the Review,

TORONTO, March 14, 3.30 p.m.—Faquier, the Conservative candidate, is 212 ahead, as far as heard from. His return is considered certain.

MUSKOKA ELECTION.

THE returns from the polls on Tuesday for the electorate of Muskoka and Parry Sound, though not yet complete, show beyound a doubt that another disastrous defeat has been experienced by Mr. Mowat.

The former returns for the Province showed a majority for the Government of 8, with 2 independents. This is now reduced to seven, or after the Speaker is taken from their ranks to six, so that Mr. Mowat and his collegues will be in the position of being maintained for a time by their own individual votes. On any question, and there are many such, upon which the two independent would vote with the Opposition the majority would be only four, and Algoma may safely be expected to reduce this to three.

It will thus be seen that only a change from one side of the House to the other of two members is required to place Mr. Mowat in a minority, and to remove him from the position that he has abused.

A SAD TALE.

A fatal accident, attended with peculiarly sad and terrible circumstances, occurred on the Esplanade, at the foot of Frederick street, on Monday morning about ten o'clock. A boy, about 15 years of age, named William Henderson, son of a labourer of the same name, who lives at No. 6 St. Charles street, was leaning with his back to the end of a detached car standing on the track at the crossing. Grand Trunk yard engine No. 141 was shunting some cars in the vicinity, and backing down with a number of them they struck the car upon which the boy was leaning at the other end. The sudden jolt threw the lad down, and his face falling on the track with the body outside the rails, the wheels crushed over the upper portion of his head, reducing it to a pulp, and scattering the brains on the ground adjoining. The accident was observed by a train hand, and the cars were immediately brought to a standstill, but, of course, when the boy was picked up he was stone dead, and from the nature of his injuries was quite irrecognizable. The body was at once taken to the morgue by Esplanade Constable Williams, and during the day a large number of people called and saw the remains, but they were not identified till about half-past nine at night. At that time Mr. Henderson called on Constable Williams, and was taken to the morgue, where he at once recognized the lifeless remains of his son. The father's woe knew no bounds, and in an abandon of despair he threw himself upon the corpse and gave vent to his grief in the most pitiable manner. The boy had left home early in the morning, and was down at the Esplanade with the object of earning something by carrying the valises, etc., of passengers by the incoming trains, an occupation in which he had been engaged for some little time. It was resolved to leave the body at the morgue till Tuesday morning, and the father returned home to a scene probably not less pitiful there. His wife had undergone confinement on Saturday, and is very low, while the new-born babe is at the point of death. The father bears the reputation of being an honest and industrious man, but has been out of employment for some time, and the family, which numbers five, and of which the dead boy was the eldest, have been subsisting to a considerable extent upon the charity of neighbours. Of course the news of the accident was kept from the ears of the prostrate mother. The cup of woe seems indeed to be full when want and death conspire to afflict so sorely such poor mortals as these.—Mail.

An inquest was begun at the Morgue last night by Coroner Philbrick and a jury with the object of ascertaining the facts connected with the death of the boy Wm. Henderson, who was killed on the esplanade, Toronto, on Monday morning. Mr. W. G. Falconbridge watched the proceedings in the interest of the Grand Trunk railway. A number of witnesses were examined, one of whom stated that the train was running at the rate of about ten miles an hour at the time of the accident; that the bell was not ringing, and that there was no person stationed at the rear of the train. The engine-driver, James Christopher, testified that he was not running at a rate of more than two miles an hour; that the fireman was ringing the bell; and that it was not customary for a brakesman to be on the lookout at the rear of a train when shunting. Owing to the absence of several important witnesses the inquest was adjourned until half-past seven to-morrow evening.

SMALL POX IN CHILI.

PANAMA, March 3.—Small-pox is raging fiercely in the southern department of Chili. A fight is reported in Arancania between Argentine and Chilian detachments.

THE WAR IN THE SOUTH.

PANAMA, March 3.—The peace party in Peru are gathering strength. It published a newspaper in Lima. There are reasons for hoping that the Chilians have made terms with the peace representatives.

PANAMA DESPATCHES.

PANAMA, March 3.—Chas. DeLesseps and a number of engineers have arrived from France. A powerful dredge is expected in a week from the United States, and work on the mouth of the canal on the Atlantic will then be commenced. Blackman has been elected Vice-President of the Colombian Senate, and a meeting of delegates of the Central American States will be held at Salvador this month to consider the federation scheme. Eighteen cannon for the Equadorian Dictator, Veintamilla, have been ordered in New York. It is probable that Colombia will prohibit the passage across the Isthmus.

CAREY PROTESTS.

DUBLIN, March 13.—Carey, the informer, protests against his expulsion from the Town Council. It is said that he will contest the legality of his expulsion. Alfred Webb, a Quaker merchant of Dublin, has succeeded Egan as National Treasurer.

LOST ON THE ALPS.

GENEVA, March 13.—A party of English tourists while ascending Mont Blanc yesterday, were overtaken by a snow storm, and losing their way, fell over a precipice. It is not yet known how many lives were lost.

MURDERED AND ROBBED.

BERLIN, March 13.—A postman who was sent out from the general postoffice to-day to pay money orders was attacked by an unknown man, murdered, and robbed of 5,000 marks. The assassin escaped, and has not been arrested.

MADAGASCAR.

BERLIN, March 13.—In the event of an outbreak of war in Madagascar a man-of-war will be sent to protect German interests. It is stated that Madagascar has requested England and Germany to intervene to avert the bombardment of Tamatave by the French.

ITALY'S FOREIGN POLICY.

ROME, March 13.—In the Chamber of Deputies Signor Mancini defended the pacific foreign policy resulting from the union with Germany and Austria, which be claimed time had shown to be compatible with the improvement of Italy's relations with France and the preservation of sympathy with England.

THE LOST "CIMBRIA."

BERLIN, March, 13.—The salvage steamer has returned from the wreck of the steamer Cimbria. Divers report that a number of bodies are jammed amongst the gear of the lifeboat on the deck. The entrances to the cabin are closed by a compact mass of bodies. To save the cargo the three decks would have to be removed by explosives, and the explosions would shatter four hundred corpses in the hold.

AMERICAN.

YOUTHFUL DEPRAVITY.

WESTBURY, L.I., March 13.—During the absence of Mrs. Kline from the house this morning her son, aged ten, placed his sister, aged eight, on a bench, and procuring his father's shot-gun, said he would have some fun. The boy then shot his sister fatally. He washed the wound, and told the girl to say that she cut herself with glass. He then got a doctor, when the nature of the wound was discovered. The boy says he didn't know the gun was loaded.

SMALL-POX IN MINNESOTA.

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 13.—The small-pox scare is subsiding. About a 100 Indians and whites died in the northern part of the State.

LIST OF CASUALTIES.

NEW YORK, March 13.—During January 147 sailing vessels and 21 steamers of all nations were reported lost or missing.

INSANE ASYLUM POISONING.

STANTON, Va., March 13.—An analysis of the stomachs of the patients poisoned at the insane asylum shows that the durg used was aconite. This deep ens the mystery, as there has been no aconite in the asylum dispensary for a year.

EGAN IN AMERICA.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Patrick Egan, the former treasurer of the Irish Land League, arrived here yesterday. He refuses to give the name of the vessel on which he arrived or the port from which he sailed, on the ground that it would give a clue to his private matters, which he did not wish made public. The stories regarding his alleged escape from Dublin he pronounces devoid of foundation.

DISHONEST OFFICIALS.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 13.—In the case of Crowther, charged with complicity in the robbery of $100,050 of city bonds, John Cox, one of the defendants, testified that Crowther, Irwin, and Scott planned the robbery, and Crowther and Scott entered the office of the City Registrar at night and abstracted the bonds. Subsequently Scott and Irwin went to New York to negotiate them. The testimony produced a sensation.

Gaining a World Wide Reputation.

About 150,000 bottles of medicine and 3000 Spirometers, the invention of M. Souvielle of Paris and ex-aide surgeon of the French army, have been used by physicians and patients during the last year for the cure of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma, consumption in its first stages and many diseases of the head, throat and lungs. Consultations with any of the surgeons belonging to the institute free. Poor people showing certificates can have spirometers free. Write enclosing stamp for pamphlet giving full information to either of the Canadian offices where competent English and French specialists are always in charge. Address International Throat and Lung Institute, 13 Philips square, Montreal, P. Q., or 173 Church street, Toronto, Ont.

Personal! To Men Only!

THE TRANSVAAL.

LONDON, March 14.—There are strong differences of opinion among Liberal members of Parliament on the Transvaal question. Many believe that England is bound to protect Bouchana.

A NIHILIST ARRESTED.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 14.—A woman named Figner, an important Nihilist who arranged the murder of Gen. Streinidoff at Odessa in 1882, has been arrested.

STRIKE OF WEAVERS.

LONDON, March 14.—Three thousand weavers in the Huddersfield district have struck, owing to a disagreement regarding wages.

THE LAND ACT.

LONDON, March 14.—In the House of Commons Mr. Parnell moved the second reading of his bill amending the Land Act. He said agitation in Ireland must continue to increase until the act is amended.

GERMAN CABINET DISSENSIONS.

BERLIN, March 14.—The resignation of Von Stosch, Chief of the Ministry of Marine, is partly owing to a difference with Bismarck in regard to the actions of the captain of the German corvette, in seizing territory near Hong Kong, and partly owing to the fact that the Cabinet declined to accept the proposals of Von Stosch to expend three million marks in fortifying Kiel.

WILL NOT RESIGN.

PARIS, March 14.—The report that Grevy intended to resign the presidency is officially denied.

THE IRISH QUESTION.

LONDON, March 14.—A meeting of Irish, Scotch and English members of Parliament yesterday decided to form a political committee with a view of informing public opinion in regard to Irish reforms. The committee is quite impartial. No Parnellites are connected with it.

THE WORST OVER.

MEMPHIS, March 14.—The river has declined thirteen inches in all. The people are hopeful that the worst is over.

CONSPIRACY AT AN ELECTION.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The Tribune's despatch says that the managers of the election at Bennetsville, and fifteen other Democrats in Morlbri County, were arrested on Monday, charged with conspiracy at the last general election.

RHODE ISLAND GOVERNORSHIP.

NEWPORT, R.I., March 14.—It is generally conceded that ex-Governor Sprague will be nominated for Governor by the independent convention to-day.

THE TARIFF BILL.

PHILADELPHIA, March 14.—Congressman Kelly says there is no question in the mind of any lawyer of the constitutionality of the Tariff Bill as passed by Congress. He states that Edmunds, Tucker and Sherman do not, as was reported, doubt the constitutionality of the bill.

SEVERE EARTHQUAKE SHOCK.

BALTIMORE, March 14.—The people of Harford county an much excited over an earthquake shock of considerable severity which occurred on Sunday evening. The houses shook, the furniture rattled and the crockery upon the shelves was thrown down and smashed. The women rushed screaming from the houses. A gentleman near Forest Hill was thrown from a chair by the shock.

A MINISTER DISAPPEARED.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The Rev. J. B. Hamilton, a prominent Methodist minister in Westerly, R. I., lectured at Hoboken on Monday night. He left the church intending to cross to this city and stay with his brother. He has not been seen since. It is feared that he met with foul play.

RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

OSWEGO, March 14.—Yesterday when a freight train on the New York, Oswego and Western Railroad was a mile north of Fulton the rear car struck a broken rail and quitted the track just as the train went on a trestle twenty-five feet high. One freight car and a caboose toppled over to the ice and both were wrecked. Conductor Stewart was badly cut about the head, chest and right leg and became insane. Martin Eckhart, a brakeman, was found under the caboose with one hand terribly burned, and both legs broken. Notwithstanding his agony, Eckhart directed the operations of the men rescuing him. His injuries will probably be fatal.

WORSE THAN BRIGHAM.

NEW YORK, March 14.—A Cairo, Egypt, letter says that the false Prophet has been the cause of four hundred women being divorced from their husbands, and that during the past three years he has become the father of over fifty children. He has acquired such an ascendency over the sterner sex that the injured husbands have begin to remarry the divorced wives and now consider the sentimentality or flirtation between the Prophet and their own spouses as a mark of divine favor.

THE MISSISSIPPI FLOOD.

HELENA, March 14.—The river is declining slowly. The water from the Mississippi is still rushing through the delta break in immense quantities. Thousands of acres of the richest lands are inundated and immense losses will occur. Seven miles of the Mobille and North Eastern Railway has been swept out of position to a distance of a mile and a half. A portion of Gen. W. S. Hancock's place is under water.

LYNCHED.

ST. PAUL, March 14.—John Jessarang was arrested at Glendale, Montana, on the suspicion of murdering one Davidson, for the purpose of robbery, and with burning the corpse. The prisoner was strung up six times by a mob to extort a confession, which he refused to make. His feet were badly frozen and the case was postponed. The mob, however, broke into the jail at night and hanged him. Jessarang showed wonderful nerve.

Cold winds and sudden changes make this the most trying season. To throw off a cold or that feverish condition of the system resulting from impure blood, use a bottle or two of nature's great remedy—Fountain of Health.

Daily Evening Review

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 14, 1883.

A WORD OF WARNING.

THE Toronto World owns the correctness of our criticisms of the ludicrously inaccurate paragraph, which, as it says, "slipped into its editorial columns the other day," being "presumably clipped from an American paper." Our contemporary says that "when wrong it likes to be corrected," and proceeds to show its liking by the use of such terms as "withering irony," "lying in wait," "puny strength," &c. It also sneers at us for knowing anything about the nobility, but we are not ashamed of having some acquaintance with the history of such a family as the Wellesleys, or with the history, laws and customs of the mother country.

Since our contemporary is confessedly so lax in giving its editorial sanction to come-by-chance rubbish, we would like to know whether its article on "The Disputed Territory" also "slipped into the editorial columns" of the World, for the blunders in it are equally absurd and more mischievous. It talks of things being "at such a low ebb in Australia forty years ago, that the British Government had serious thoughts of abandoning the colony." There was just as much (and just as little) intention of abandoning the three or four colonies or provinces at that time existing in Australia, as of abandoning the then provinces of British North America. Next we are told of the discovery of the Burra-Burra copper mine in 1845 (thought it was really in 1842) and of gold in 1851, as working a wonderful revolution by attracting capital and immigration. What a precious jumble of events a decade apart, of localities separated by hundreds of miles and in different colonies, and what a gross misinterpretation of the facts. It would be about as sensible to talk of the discoveries of gold in British Columbia and of coal on the Saskatchewan as causing the rapid advance of our North West. The Burra-Burra and a few other copper mines in the colony of South Australia paid well, but there were more than ten times as many of these copper mines put on the market that were only traps for unwary investors, and were utter and disastrous failures. Our contemporary proceeds with its absurd medley of copper and gold, of Burra-Burra and Ballarat, of 1842 and 1851, much as if we were to describe the coal mines of Nova Scotia and the Huntington copper mines as belonging to the same place and date. Gold was never found largely near this South Australian copper region, nor in the colony. The gold diggings that were discovered many years later and hundreds of miles distant, in the Colonies of New South Wales and Victoria, attracted an enormous immigration, because they were emphatically and beyond comparison "poor men's diggings," rich alluvial surface deposits, from which wealth might be gained with the inexpensive outfit of a shovel and a tin dish, or a rough wooden cradle. The quartz mining with its costly processes for getting, crushing and reducing the ore was a subsequent development. Yet a fallacious comparison is drawn by the World with the discovery of the gold bearing quartz reefs of the Lake of the Woods district.

This confused rigmarole and absolute perversion of facts, minor details of which we pass over, seems to have been perpetrated with two objects in view; one to make political capital by suggesting that someone is trying to rob Ontario of part of its wealth, and the other to make more substantial capital for someone by "booming" Lake of the Woods mining stocks. As to the robbery, nobody, so far as we know, is trying to rob Ontario, and the recent elections have fortunately increased the probability of Mr. Mowat giving way, and no longer hindering us from obtaining a valid title to whatever territory we are entitled to. And as to the speculations, though we have no doubt of the richness of the mines, we think that no heavier blow could be dealt to Canada, than by persuading investors to deal in such stocks without the fullest and most trustworthy information. Experience shows that the richer the mine, the greater the certainty of bogus operators trading upon its reputation. We want no more Canadian mines to extract gold from shareholders not for them, since nothing could do our country more injury. We want no more of "Hodge's razors made to sell"—no more Sheffield (or Shefford) wasters.

As to the invitation to investors to "at once become enriched at little risk comparatively," it should be received with great caution, for of all speculations, mining is the most hazardous and requires the most careful and thorough preliminary investigation. As to the experts' essays, we have heard all about them often before, and we will simply ask of what value they can be, however honest and skilful, if the result for carefully picked ounces is represented by interested speculators as the average of tons of ore, which are not submitted to the test?

We are convinced that the region in question is rich in minerals and that it will be developed, but not by such means as this. The whole article, and the distribution of marked copies of it, look suspiciously like "bulling the market."

Perhaps, however, we are mistaken in this, and the article may merely have "slipped into the editorial columns" of our contemporary.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

On Thursday March 8, Mr. McCarthy moved the second reading of his bill to constitute a court of Railway Commissioners, to consist of a lawyer, a railway expert and a man of common sense, to have jurisdiction as to freights, amalgamations and other matters. After some discussion the bill was read a second time and referred to the Railway Committee.

On March 9, the double return for Kings County P.E.I., was considered. Mr. Blake made a disgraceful personal attack upon Sir. John Macdonald, falsely charging him with choosing his own returning officer for the constituences where he ran, Lennox and Carleton. Sir John showed that the returning officers at Lennox was the Sheriff, who had held the office for a quarter of a century, and for Carleton also the Sheriff, a reformer appointed by Mr. Mackenzie. He jokingly alluded to Mr. Blake's dislike of the Election Committee shown by his absence during the consideration of the case of the contract held by the Speaker, Mr. Timothy Anglin, and suggested it might have been a case of hay fever. Mr. Blake, stung to the quick by the exposure of his connivance in this job, lost his temper and became abusive.

Mr. McCarthy made an able speech, stating clearly the law of the case and quoting precedent. One strong point he made was the production of an authoritative decision that the returning officer should report the candidate receiving the next highest number of votes when the candidate with the majority was disqualified.

On March 12, Mr. Hector Cameron resumed the discussion, pointing out among other things that the mover of the resolution to seat Dr. Robertson, Mr. Cameron, (West Huron) would not be sitting in the House if his theory had been observed, for some of the returns giving him a majority were not regular, but the returning officer had allowed their amendment though declaration day was passed, acting upon the advice of Mr. Dalton McCarthy.

After further discussion the amendment referring the matter to the Election Committee was carried by 118 to 60, being the first division of the new Parliament,

MYSTERIOUS DOINGS.

The Ottawa Citizen says:—The "mysterious doings" connected with the overthrow of the Hannington Government in New Brunswick appears to be as suspicious as the tactics resorted to by the Blake party in Ontario in 1871 to overthrow Sandfield Macdonald, and by the Mackenzie party to "oust" Sir John Macdonald in 1873. The St. John Sun says:—

"Some curious things are said to have happened in Fredericton after the vote of No Confidence was passed. Among other reports going is one to the effect that Mr. Mitchell, who voted on Monday No Confidence, had agreed on Thursday to vote for a reconsideration of the No Confidence resolution. On the day following he entered Mr. Blair's Government. There may be another side to this story, and if so, the public, who have been a good deal perplexed by the report, will be glad to hear it. Mr. Mitchell has generally been regarded as a high principled gentleman, of strong convictions on most subjects, and his alleged passing from side to side in the manner described seems incredible."

The Rapid Increase of Professors.

In the United States the professor is running the colonel a pretty close race, and the colonel may just as well understand that he has to hump himself or he'll get shut out at the distance pole. Just after the close of the war the colonel took such a start that the most sanguine friends of the professor admitted that he could not catch up. But the professor is one of the immortal few that were not born to die, and while the republic lasts he will be on deck. Seed time and harvest may fail, summer may cease and winter may not endure, morning and even time may pass away, but the professor will be here. This is the country for him, and while it is definitely settled by the last census that the colonel is dying out, and that there is now but one colonel to every thirty-seven of the population, the professor is on the increase and holds all that he gains. The colonel differs widely from the professor in that no reason is ever assigned for his being. A man is simply called "colonel," either because he was a lieutenant in the army, or never was in the army, it is immaterial. He is just colonel, that's all. But the professor claims his title by reason of his "profession," whether it be the cobbling of shoes or the training of dogs. And as the occupations increase in variety, so the professor increases in numbers.

Prince Gortschakoff.

Alexander Michaelowitsch Gortschakoff ex-Chancellor of Russia, whose death has been announced, was born in 1798, and educated at the Lyceum of Zarskoe-Selo. He commenced his diplomatic life at the Congresses of Laybach and Verona, in the capacity of attache to Court Nesselrode; was secretary to the Russian embassy in London in 1824, charge d'affaires to the Court of Tuscany in 1830, and was attached, in 1832, to the legation at Vienna, where the death of his superior, the Russian ambassador, gave him great influence. In 1841 he was sent to Stuttgard, where he negotiated the marriage of the Grand Duchess Olga of Russia with the Prince Royal of Wurtemberg. It is said that in 1850 he exercised some influence in procuring the abdication of the Emperor Ferdinand I., in favor of his nephew, Francis Joseph. During the dispute respecting the Eastern question, the prince was ambassador at Vienna, and at his instance the Russian Government accepted the basis of the Conference of Paris in 1856. He was recalled to St. Petersburg in 1857, and replaced Nesselrode as Minister of Foreign Affairs; and until a few years ago continued to occupy a very prominent place in Russian politics.

Good Order Secured.

A clergyman was recently annoyed by people talking and giggling. He paused, looked at the disturbers, and said: "I am always afraid to expose those who misbehave, for this reason: Some years since, as I was preaching, a young man who sat before me was constantly laughing, talking and making uncouth grimaces. I paused and administered a severe rebuke. After the close of the service, a gentleman said to me, 'Sir, you have made a mistake. That young man whom you reproved is an idiot.' Since then I have always been afraid to reprove those who misbehave themselves in church, lest I should repeat the mistake and reprove another idiot." During the rest of the service at least there was good order.

A Curious Will.

A farmer who lived near Kingston is making his will provided that his heart should be pierced after his physician had pronounced him dead. He has a horror of being buried alive.

These are Solid Facts.

The best blood purifier and system regulator ever placed within the reach of suffering humanity, truly is Electric Bitters. Inactivity of the Liver, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Weak Kidneys, or any disease of the urinary organs, or who ever requires an appetizer, tonic or mild stimulant, will always find Electric Bitters the best and only certain cure known. They act surely and quickly, every bottle guaranteed to give entire satisfaction or money refunded. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Taylor & McDonald.—4

Catarrh cannot be cured by any local remedy. It is a deep-seated and constitutional wrong-being, the tendency of which is to lay the whole respiratory economy in ruins. The Fountain of Health will reach the seat of this malady.

Mrs. Campbell, 344 Walton Avenue, Toronto, says:—"I had suffered much for a long time by derangements of Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Two months' using of Fountain of Health has almost completely restored me."

DR. WIGGINS' THEORY.

The Basis of his Predictions, which he Claims were Fulfilled.

Ever since Dr. Wiggins first predicted this great storm he has had numerous enquiries from scientific men throughout the world for the deductions on which he based his predictions. Dr. Wiggins persistently refused on any account to disclose these. He was pleased, however, yesterday, the storm having come and gone, to give the Free Press representative the coveted theory, which will no doubt find acceptance in the scientific world. He said:—This storm satisfies me that the theory of the opposite tide, which I advanced in 1864, is correct, namely, that it is caused by the vibratory motion of the ocean from east to west. If you will look at a terestial globe and see the peculiar position of the Gulf of Mexico and the tendency of Cape St. Roque to glance northward, the tides moving west, you will not wonder at my alarm when observing that the moon's forces have been increasing to the greatest possible extent, and that too when she is hastening with the other planets from south to north across the equator. This was exactly the condition of things during this storm and only one element was lacking to have made this a terrible affair for the people of America; for, mark it well, if the moon's conjunction with the sun had taken place at one o'clock on the meridian of London instead of four o'clock in the morning, London time; in other words, if the conjunction had taken place over the Gulf of Guinea instead of the China Sea, the whole American coast, granting her to have been as she was, in perigee, would have been put under water, and a time will come when this will take place, and should Venus and Mercury happen that moment to be at their inferior conjunction, and Jupiter, Mars and Saturn at their superior conjunction, the breakers will roar in the streets of New York city, and Florida will be under water. All astronomers, from the Astronomer Royal down, make this explanation to show scientific men that my system of foretelling storms is not only founded on science but on the earth and heavenly bodies.—Ottawa Free Press.

COUNCIL MEETING.—The Council met at Centreville, pursuant to a call of the Reeve, at 11 o'clock a. m. on Monday, March 12th. Present the Reeve, Mr. Rutherford, Councillors Messrs. Lightfoot, Riddell, Perrin and Byers. The Reeve in the chair. The minutes of the last regular meeting of the Council were read and on motion of Mr. Riddell, seconded by Mr. Byers, were confirmed. A communication was read from R. Fair, tendering his resignation as clerk of this municipality, and on motion was laid on the table. Petitions from J. D. Perrin, Henry Perrin and four others, praying the Council to grant a sum of money sufficient to put the sidewalks in the village of Bailieboro in a proper state of repair. On motion of Mr. Byers, seconded by Mr. Perrin, a grant of 2,000 feet of cedar was given for the purpose mentioned in the petition. A committee consisting of the Reeve and Mr. Perrin were appointed to inspect the cedar, now being supplied by Messrs. Dodds and Crebe. Moved by Mr. Byers, seconded by Mr. Perrin,—That this Council do now adjourn for one hour and a half for dinner.—Carried. The Council did then adjourn and resumed at 1.30 p.m., the Reeve in the chair. A by-law to define the limits of the road divisions was introduced by Mr. Riddel, and was finally passed, signed and sealed. A by-law to appoint pathmasters for the year 1883, was introduced by Mr. Perrin, and was finally passed, signed and sealed. A by-law appointing E. B. Graham clerk of the municipality, was introduced by Mr. Lightfoot. The by-law received the first, second and third readings, and was signed and sealed. The retiring clerk was allowed the sum of $12.00 for extra services rendered in preparing by-laws in lieu of those destroyed by fire in this office. The Reeve was instructed to take legal advice as to the proper course of procedure in stopping and selling the original road allowance between lots 18 and 19, con. 4, and opening up in lieu thereof a new road across the south-east corner of lot 19 to lot No. 20 on same concession. An account was received and ordered to be paid, from L. Byers, as price of keeping open the road on boundary, opposite concession 1, during the recent storm, $3.70. Moved by Mr. Rutherford, seconded by Mr. Lightfoot, and resolved,—That the thanks of this Council be tendered to Robert Fair, the retiring clerk, for the very satisfactory manner in which he has discharged the duties pertaining to his office and do take this opportunity of placing on record their high appreciation of his services during connection with this corporation.—Carried. On motion of Mr. Lightfoot, seconded by Mr. Byers,—That this Council do now adjourn, subject to a call of the Reeve.

HEADACHE, Biliousness, Dyspepsia and Constipation promptly relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. As a family medicine they are far superior to Pills. In large Bottles 50 cents.

IT is expected that the Dominion Parliament will adjourn for the Easter holidays from Wednesday of next week until Tuesday of the week following.

The Fountain of Health cures Catarrh, Rheumatism, Scrofula, and all humours, such as Blotches, Pimples, Old Sores, Ulcers, and all obstinate diseases of the Skin and Blood; this it does by its power to cleanse the blood.

THE London Times says it has information that if the measure giving native judges in India jurisdiction over whites in certain cases is persisted in the results are likely to be serious beyond conception.

Those who "hack" to clear the throat every morning have Catarrh. The Fountain of Health is formulated to reach the seat of this disease, which cannot be cured by snuff or any other local remedy. We will help you or refund the money.

"Blood will tell." A face adorned with Pimples, Boils, Blotches &c., is not particularly pleasant sight, and invariably betokens an impure state of the Blood. Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters free the system from all gross humours, renders the Blood Pure and Cool, aids digestion and gives a healthy appetite. For sale by all Druggists in large Bottles at 50 cents.

DECLINE OF MAN.—Impotency of mind, limb or vital function, nervous weakness, sexual debility, and all diseases caused by indiscretions and abuse, are radically and promptly cured by the use of Mack's Magnetic Medicine, which is for sale by all responsible druggists. DURING January and February of the present year 12,048 immigrants arrived in this country, as against 7,477 during the corresponding period last year. Of these arrivals for the current year, 5,456 were passengers for the United States, as against 5,191 for the past year, leaving the number who remained in Canada 6,592, as against 2,286 in 1882.

SMITH AGAIN.—Every day we receive testimonials from well known Montrealers testifying to the wonderful merits of Dr. Smith's Great German Worm Remedy. The latest comes to-day (November 24th) from Mr. J. O. Dubois, No. 19 St. Mary Street, who says his child, six years old, passed an immense number of small seat or pin worms and large stomach worms, with only a few doses. For sale by all druggist at 25 cents. Use no other.

The best known remedy for all affections of the Chest, Lungs or Throat is Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum. It is constantly used by thousands of persons suffering from the above diseases, and in nearly every instance it affords immediate relief. In cases of troublesome, tickling Cough, where the patient passes sleepless nights, one or two doses of the Syrup has such a quieting, soothing effect that rest ensues and the Cough speedily disappears. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz. a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R. R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

A POSITIVE CURE

Without Medicine.
ALLAN'S SOLUBLE MEDICATED BOUGIES,
Patented October 16, 1876. On Box

No. 1 will cure any case in four days or less.

No. 2 will cure the most obstinate cases, no matter of how long standing.

No nauseous doses or cubebs, copaiba or oil of sandalwood, that are certain to produce dyspepsia by destroying the coatings of the stomach.

Price $1.50. Sold by all druggists, or mailed on receipt of price. For further particulars send for circular. P. O. Box 1,533,
J. C. ALLAN CO., 83 John street New York.

The Great American Remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LOSS OF VOICE, HOARSENESS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS.

Prepared from the finest Red Spruce Gum. (Delicious Flavor.) Balsamic, Soothing, Expectorant and Tonic. Superior to any medicine offered for all the above complaints. A scientific combination of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce tree—without doubt the most valuable native Gum for Medicinal purposes.

Every one has heard of the wonderful effects of the Spruces and the Pines in cases of Lung Diseases. In France the physicians regularly send their consumptive patients to the pine woods and order them to drink a tea made from the Spruce tops.

GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM.

In this preparation the Gum never separates, and all its anti-spasmodic, expectorant, tonic, and balsamic properties are preserved. This Syrup, carefully prepared at a low temperature, contains a large quantity of the finest picked Gum in complete solution.

Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large.

Sold by all respectable chemists. Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

The words "Syrup of Red Spruce Gum" constitute our Registered Trade Mark, and our wrapper and labels are also registered.

Daily Evening Review

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 14, 1883.

An Accident.

We regret to learn that Mr. Kelly, foreman of the "Missing Link" works at the first cut, is laid up from the effects of an injury which he accidentally received a few days ago. He is recovering, however, under the care of Dr. Kincaid.

Making Gates.

Messrs. McKay and Caruth, of Toronto, who have a sub-contract from Mr. Fraser, have arrived here and intend to manufacture four hundred gates for the Ontario and Quebec Railway. The work is to be done at Mr. Hilliard's mill.

Parlor Social.

The Ladies Aid Society, in connection with St. Andrew's Church, will give a parlor social at the residence of Mrs. W. Mercer, Hunter street, on Thursday evening next, commencing at 6 o'clock. Admission 15 cents. A very attractive musical and literary entertainment is provided. The public are cordially invited.

A Pleasant Evening.

Surprise parties are quite fashionable this winter. And that is not a matter for surprise, if they are all as successful in providing an evening's entertainment as one was at Mr. Esterbrook's on Tuesday night. There was a large number in attendance and the enjoyment was unmarred by anything.

Over an Embankment.

A few days ago a horse driven by Lewis Jewell fell over an embankment at the first shovel, and both the driver and the horse were seriously injured. The horse which belonged to Neil Mulvany, had to be shot. Jewell's arm was fractured and his wrist was dislocated. His injuries were attended to by Dr. Kincaid, and he was taken home to his friends in Dummer. Last accounts stated that he was recovering from the effects of the injuries.

Is he Likely to Come Here?

The Chief of Police has received, and has posted up in the constables' room, a placard, signed by George Williams, Chief Superintendent, of Liverpool, Eng., offering a reward of £50 for the arrest of David Bell, lately cashier of the Manchester and Liverpool District Banking Company, who suddenly left the employment of the company and carried with him £1,000 in excess of his salary. The Chief does not feel hopeful of arresting him in Peterborough.

Journalistic.

The Peterborough Times made its appearance to-day, have changed the day of its issue from Saturday to Wednesday.

The County Prison.

There are at present fourteen persons confined in county gaol, eleven males and three females.

Carnival at Lakefield.

The Peterborough band has been engaged to attend a fancy dress skating carnival at Lakefield on Thursday night.

The Temperature.

The thermometer at Messrs. Taylor & Macdonald's registered as follows to-day:—At 8 a.m., 32° above zero; at noon, 46° above, and at 3 p.m., 60° above.

The Market.

There was a fair attendance on the market this morning, and prices remained at about the same figures. The prices on the grain market to-day were as follows:—Spring wheat 96c. to $1, fall wheat 95c., barley 50c. to 68c., peas 70c. to 73., oats 47c. to 48c., and rye 55c.

Wounded by a Saw.

While working in Mr. Belleghem's cabinet factory this morning, William Crowe, of Ashburnham, had a thumb and finger severely cut by coming in contact with a small saw. He will not lose the fingers, but will probably be compelled to desist from work for a time.

T. V. C.

Mr. T. M. D. Croly, the foreman in charge of the works at Buckhorn and Burleigh, being Mr. Goodwin's contract on the Trent Valley Canal, is now in town and has just received the amount of the pay roll for February of the men employed. Mr. Goodwin is evidently a prompt pay master as well as a pushing and trustworthy contractor.

Success Assured.

Bear in mind that the grand skating carnival at the rink on Friday night. The ice is in good condition, many from neighboring villages and towns have signified their intention of being present in costume, a number of new and beautiful costumes are being made in town for the occasion, and everything points towards a very successful carnival, which will be well worth attending.

Police News.

One tramp occupied the police cells last night. He has been in so often for a night's rest that the police term him a regular lodger. As mentioned yesterday, a subscription was started to raise money to take him to his friends, and to render such assistance would be a charitable deed.

The case against Mrs. Mary Drake, which was adjurned until to-day, did not come up, as she had departed.

The Weather.

Last night was mild, and to-day the weather is mild and cloudy, with a chilly breeze. Prof. Wiggins claims that his storm arrived as he predicted, but he surely cannot claim that it is "continuing with varying intensity." The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a.m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Fresh southerly to westerly winds; fine very mild weather.

Woollen Mill.

Several manufacturing establishments were unfortunately destroyed by fire last year, but they have almost all been re-established and continue operations as before. One of those burned was the woollen mill occupied by Mr. E. B. Wilson, which was brought to the ground at the same time as Messrs. Whyte & Co.'s foundry. A new building for Mr. Wilson to enter, erected by Mr. Haslitt, is now ready for occupation. Mr. Wilson this morning departed for the machinery, which will probably arrive next week.

India.

The Rev. J. M. Douglas, a returned Missionary of the Presbyterian Church, will give a lecture in St. Paul's Church, this evening, under the auspices of the St. Paul's Auxiliary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, on Mission Life in India, with illustrations of the life and religion of the people. Lecture to commence at 8 o'clock. Tickets for admission, 25 cents each, can be procured in the following shops: Miss Jenkins', Hall & Innis', Peter Connal's and W. W. Johnson's. Sabbath school children admitted for 10 cents each at the door.

Bucket-Shops Again.

The bucket-shop business does not seem to be ended yet. Circulars from another of these frauds are being received in Canada, although surely no one who has heard of the result of transactions with them will be bitten. The Globe says that their circulars contain the most extravagant promises, and they "guarantee" that for every $10 invested with them the investor will receive $2.10 per month as interest. In support of these promises they have a large number of glowing testimonials from lucky investors. The names of these investors, however, are not given, but the "public are assured that the original communications can be seen at their offices." The attention of the authorities have been directed to the matter, and an effort is to be made to stop the operations of the firm in Toronto.

A Startling Discovery.

Physicians are often startled by remarkable discoveries. The fact that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and all Throat and Lung diseases is daily curing patients that they have given up to die, is startling them to realize their sense of duty, and examine into the merits of this wonderful discovery, resulting in hundreds of our best Physicians using it in their practice. Trial Bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's Drug Store. Regular size $1.00.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

A VALUABLE NERVE TONIC.

Dr. C. C. Olmstead, Milwaukee, Wis., says: "I have used it in my practice ten years, and consider it a valuable nerve tonic."

Poisoned by Foul Air

The family strangely poisoned a few days ago in Quebec are now all out of danger. After a careful in vestigation the doctors attribute their singular attack to the leakage of foul air or nuisance from the subterranean drains of the street, and which in many places, owing to the tight closing by frost of all the openings, penetrate into the house cellars at this season.

Sentenced to Death.

ST. JOHN, N.B., March 13.—William Hughes the colored man who murdered his wife in cold blood at Willow grave, St. John County, a few weeks ago, because she refused to live with him, was arraigned at the Circuit Court to-day. He pleaded guilty. Judge Weldon, with the usual formalities, sentenced him to be hanged on May 9th.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.

DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.) THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution.

In Boxes at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., and 4s. 6d.

Sold by Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world. Prepared by Jas. Rorke, London. Specially valuable Pills for residents abroad and travellers.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort witeen 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

Daily Evening Review

THURSDAY, MARCH 15, 1883.

EITHER West Peterborough or Muskoka seems to have had a bad effect upon the Examiner, which is dreadfully out of temper, and therefore indulges freely in its usual tissue of abuse, personalities and falsehoods. There is one improvement however, for it gives long quotations from the REVIEW, which its readers must certainly prefer to its own puerile nonsense. We cannot be expected to supply our contemporary with the intellect to understand these passages and to see that they are not necessarily inconsistent. Perhaps, however, with a little patience, time will show their consistency.

THE column of nonsense that appears in the last issue of the Examiner under the heading of consistency contains its own answer in the following extract from these columns with which it concludes that article and which reads as follows:—

"We hold that it is the duty of any political party WHO HAS REASON TO BELIEVE THAT IT HAS BEEN WORSTED by the use of undue influence of any kind to probe the matter to the bottom. But that will be best and most efficiently done, not by making loose and general charges, but by bringing the matter before the courts."

Not having been worsted in the West Peterborough contest, "our side" is not in a position to prove, and have nothing to gain by proving their charges, but we will promise the Examiner one thing, and that is: That if they fyle the petition which it is said they are going to fyle against Mr. Carnegie's return, and claim therein the seat for Mr. Campbell, they shall have an ample opportunity of disproving every one of the charges which has been made in these columns against their conduct of the campaign in West Peterborough.

OXFORD AND CAMBRIDGE.

The Oxford Crew win the Annual Race by Three Lengths.

By Telegraph to the Review.

LONDON, March 15.—The weather is gloomy and cold. The water is smooth and there is but little wind. Large crowds line the banks of the Thames. The boats started at 5.41. Cambridge had the Middlesex side and Oxford the Surrey side. Oxford led by a length at Duke's Head, a short distance from the starting point. Oxford won by the three lengths.

FRANCE AND TONQUIN

PARIS, March 14.—In the Senate De St. Vallier questioned the Minister of Foreign Affairs regarding the position in the French Colonies, especially Tonquin. England, Germany and America, he said, had absorbed the extreme east. He urged the occupation of Tonquin to accelerate the occupation of Cochin China. The Minister replied that the Government intended neither to abandon nor to conquer Tonquin, but occupy it at certain points in order to demonstrate that France proposed to remain there.

MURDER IN BERLIN.

BERLIN, March 14.—A postman who was sent out from the General Post Office yesterday to pay money orders, was attacked by an unknown man, murdered and robbed of 5,000 marks. The assassin escaped and has not been arrested.

AMERICAN.

STARVATION.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The Nun of Kenmare has addressed a letter upon the state of Ireland to the Bishops of Newark and Detroit. It appears from her statements that the accounts of the present famine which have reached this country have not been aggregated. "Men and women and little children are literally dying—dying by inches." The suffering is especially severe in Donegal, Clare, Mayo, Galway and Connemara. Outdoor relief is refused unless the applicant brings a doctor's certificate. She adds: The English Government has sent us no less than four different inspectors to look at the people. One gentleman drove through the district in five hours, with his carriage blinds down, but he entered one or two hovels, and in one admits that he found a cat fighting for the seaweed the unhappy children had for their only food. If such a tale had been told of a district in any other country in the world, what tirades of righteous indignation would not the English people and English press have poured forth! But presumably seaweed is good enough for the mere Irish! Would that the mere Irish had even enough of that to eat! Inspector after inspector came down only to assure the people that they would report the matter to Her Majesty's Government; but they take care to assure the victims of English misgovernment that they must not hope for help.

Killed by a Bursting Saw.

MERRICKVILLE, March 13.—A man named Colin McMartin, aged 22, was killed this morning in the township of Montague while assisting in cutting wood with a portable circular saw. The saw burst, a piece striking the deceased with such force as to cut the thigh bone in two and inflicting fatal internal injuries.

Fatal Fire.

ST. JOHN, N.B., March 14.—Last night fire broke out in the cabin of the fishing schooner "Nellie," lying in the market slip, but the flames were extinguished before much damage was done. One of the crew named William Conway, said to belong to Halifax, was in the cabin intoxicated and was badly burned. He was removed to hospital and died there this morning. He was twenty years old.

Gaining a World Wide Reputation.

About 150,000 bottles of medicine and 3000 Spirometers, the invention of M. INDIAN NATION DOOMED.

MUSKOGEE, Indian Territory, March 15.—Spieche claims that over one hundred men, known to be in favor of his cause, have been killed in cold blood during the last four months. He claims that the majority of the Creek Nation are on his side, but the minority is sustained by the United States Government, or rather by the agent and inspector. It is now plain that if the agent's policy is farther sustained, the Creek nation, as a nation is doomed.

ANGRY LAWYERS.

BARNWELLE, S. C., March 15.—Col. S. W. Youmans and Capt. L. B. O'Bryan, leading lawyers, recently had a difficulty in a court room. Youmans called O'Bryan a liar, and O'Bryan slapped Youmans' face. Next day Youmans challenged O'Bryan to a duel. The acceptance of the challenge was evaded by O'Bryan on strict code of honor rules. Youmans posted O'Bryan as a liar and a coward. On Tuesday both were arrested and bound over to keep the peace.

PERU'S CONDITION.

NEW YORK, March 15.—Admiral Garcia, formerly commander of the peruvian fleet, sailed hence for Europe yesterday. He fled from Peru to prevent his being taken to Chili as a hostage. He states that Peru is in a perilous condition and attributes its misfortune mainly to the action of United States minister Hurlbert. He says that minister Logan attempted the same role as Hurlbert. Garcia's brother, formerly minister to Washington, is under arrest in Chili for giving a dinner to Trescott.

A SUSPENSION.

CINCINNATI, March 15.—Phirmann & Phair, whiskey dealers, have suspended. Liabilities $425,000; assets $960,000. The suspension is alleged to be due to over production and the failure of Congress to pass the bonded whiskey bill.

A YOUNG INFIDEL.

ST. PAUL, March 15.—The teacher of a school at Spring Valley ordered a pupil to prepare an oration. He presented a selection from Bob Ingersoll's papers. She refused to allow him to use the selection. He refused to give anything else and was expelled. The Attorney-General decided that the teacher's prejudice against Ingersoll's ideas is not a sufficient cause for the expulsion, and the boy must be reinstated.

INTENSE EXCITEMENT.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 15.—The excitement is intense, but beyond the burning of Dukes and the jury in effigy no breach of the peace has occurred. At midnight the crowd thinned out, but it is expected that the excitement will be renewed to-day.

BREWERS IN SESSION.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, March 15.—The State Brewers Association is in session here. Its plan is to use every endeavor to prevent the Supreme Court from reversing the recent decision declaring the prohibition amendment void. Millions of dollars of brewing property is at stake.

SNOW BLOCKADE.

SYRACUSE, March 15.—The snow blockade which existed on the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg Railway and its branches since Sunday, was raised yesteday between here and Ogdensburg. Between Richland and Rome it is still in force. In the Chenango Valley the road is also closed.

THE FIGHTING EDITOR.

BRADDOCKS, Pa., March 15.—The Editor of the Times recently wrote an article on the depravity of the young men of the town, which was resented by a son of Burgess McCune. On Tuesday the latter met the local editor of the Times, Harry Eisonbies, and challenged him to fight. They met outside the borough limits and nine rounds were fought in regular prize fight style. The editor was declared the winner, having hammered his adversary in good style.

THURSDAY, MARCH 15, 1883.

THE CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

OUR attention has been so fully occupied with other matters of late that we have hitherto been prevented from referring to the subject of the Central Exhibition, in which our readers have a special interest just now seeing that it is Peterborough's turn to have it this year.

The usual annual meeting was held at Millbrook in February, and, after appointing officers for the current year, it was decided that the Central Exhibition should be continued on the same basis as during the last four years, and that it should be held in Peterborough, provided Peterborough gave the usual guarantee, viz.: $700 to the guarantee fund of $1,000, and that it would provide at its own expense the necessary accommodations for the exhibition. Not feeling at liberty to absolutely guarantee this, the Directors of the West Riding Society were given six weeks to ascertain whether they could carry out these conditions or not.

On last Saturday our local directors met and after talking they decided to ask the East Riding Society to assist them with the guarantee fund to the extent of $100 at least, and the Branch Societies of Smith, &c., South Monaghan, Otonabee, and the Peterborough Horticultural Society to the extent of $50 each, and which if all granted will only aggregate $300 of the $700 guarantee fund required, still leaving upon the shoulders of the West Riding Society $400 of the guarantee fund, and the providing of the accommodations. It is expected that the societies to whom this application has been made will have said yes or no thereto before the last Saturday of this month, and upon that day, to which they have adjourned, a final decision can be arrived at as to whether Peterborough should have a central exhibition this year or not. Certainly if it is desirable to have it or any other general exhibition in Peterborough, the societies mentioned should have little hesitation in complying to the fullest extent with the request which has been addressed to them.

As our readers are aware the REVIEW has always given a hearty support to these exhibitions and we desire to continue to do so, but we cannot shut our eyes to the fact that circumstances have very much altered since they were inaugurated eight years ago. Then we had not even our present railway facilities and still less in prospect those which we can now look forward to with confidence in the course of another twelve month, and which when completed will render Peterborough the most convenient and central point for an exhibition between the cities of Toronto and Ottawa. That being the case and it being indisputable that the holding of such exhibitions does confer a considerable advantage upon the cities and towns in which they are held, we must confess we have doubts as to the wisdom of our people entering into another four years arrangement with our neighbors with regard to these exhibitions. Of course if we accept their aid this year we will be in honor bound to extend the same aid to them for the next three years, and also in honor bound, during these three years, not to hold an exhibition in Peterborough which would rival and therefore prove detrimental to the usual Central exhibition Looking simply to the interests of this town and county, we are inclined to think the wiser plan for its people to pursue would be to withdraw from the present central arrangement, and so far as the West Riding Society is concerned devote its energies for this year to procuring suitable and permanent accommodations for a good exhibition with the view to inaugurating in 1884 an annual exhibition in Peterborough which would be a credit not only to this county but to this section of Ontario. We are confident that the matter only requires to be taken up in the right spirit to ensure a hearty response from the people generally towards the carrying out of any well devised scheme calculated to secure the end suggested.

As the official returns come to hand it is more and more apparent that the majority of the popular vote was against Mr. Mowat, and that he has retained his present sparse majority of the members solely through his gerrymandering operations after the census of 1871. We will give the figures when they are complete.

LAKEFIELD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

COUNCIL MEETING.

The regular monthly meeting of the Lakefield village council was held in the council room on Monday evening last, the 12th inst. Members present,—Mr. R. C. Strickland, Reeve, in the chair, and Messrs. Cox, Nelson, Urquhart and Williams, Councillors.

The minutes of former meeting were read and confirmed.

Moved by Coun. URQUHART, seconded by Coun. COX,—That the tender of the Times Printing Company be received, but that no action be taken in the matter by this council as the cost to the village would not be materially lessened by accepting the said tender.—Carried.

Moved by Coun. MCWILLIAMS, seconded by Coun. NELSON,—That the village Clerk be and is hereby authorized to purchase a pair of handcuffs for the use of the village.—Carried.

Moved by Coun. MCWILLIAMS, seconded by Coun. COX,—That the following accounts be paid, and that the Reeve's order be issued for the several amounts, viz:—

Isaac Watson, wages of men shovelling snow, &c. .... $ 5 00
E. Chapin, services as village constable. 25 00

Total .... [illegible]

—Carried.

Moved by Coun. NELSON, seconded by Coun. MCWILLIAMS,—That this council hereby authorize the village Clerk and Treasurer to purchase on behalf of the village 50 feet of new hose for the fire engine, and to have the engine repaired.—Carried.

Moved by Coun. URQUHART, seconded by Coun. COX,—That this council be and is hereby appointed a committee of the whole to take into consideration the advisability of providing a lock-up with power to act.—Carried.

Moved by Coun. MCWILLIAMS, seconded by Coun. NELSON,—That this council do now adjourn.—Carried.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING.

The regular meeting of the Lakefield Public School Board was held in the Council Room, Lakefield, on Tuesday evening last, the 13th instant. Members present Mr. G. J. Galvin, Chairman, in the chair, and Messrs. Armour, Caldwell, Gorden and Sanders.

Moved by Mr. SANDERS, seconded by Dr. ARMOUR,—That the reading of the minutes be postponed until the next regular meeting.—Carried.

Moved by Dr. ARMOUR, seconded by Mr. GORDEN,—That the following accounts be paid and that the Chairman's order be issued for the several amounts, viz:—

W. H. Down, 7 cords of wood..........$21.00
W. H. Casement, 1 cord of wood...... 3.75
Total.. $24.75

—Carried.

Moved by Dr. Caldwell, seconded by Mr. SANDERS,—That this Board do now adjourn.—Carried.

FORESTERS MEETING.

The semi-monthly meeting of Court Lakefield, No. 42, C. O. F., will take place on Union Hall, on Thursday evening next the 22nd instant.

FENELON FALLS.

MORE POWER.—The Gazette says that a few weeks ago we noticed that Mr. F. Sanford had commenced to run his carriage factory in this village by steam, and has purchased a five or six horse power engine to drive the new machinery just introduced. The experiment proved so successful that other machinery has since been added, and the engine, which is not strong enough to do the work required, is to be exchanged for one of twenty horse power, the boiler for which has already arrived.

A WARNING TO MERCHANTS.—Some days ago, while Mr. John Brandon, of the firm of McDougall & Brandon, merchants, of this village, was standing talking to a customer, he observed that one of the windows was half full of smoke, and, upon looking for the cause of the rather alarming phenomenon, he discovered that the cloth top of a lace boot was on fire and burning rapidly. At first he was at a loss to account for the occurrence; but, upon taking a critical survey of the contents of the window, he noticed that the boot had hung in such a position that a lamp reflector (which was fastened to the wall) had concentrated the rays of the sun upon it, and the mystery was at once solved. A serious fire from a similar cause might easily happen in the window of a dry goods store, and merchants will, therefore, do well to take down their reflectors, or otherwise render them harmless, while the sun is shining brightly.

BELLEVILLE.

TYPHOID FEVER.—An outbreak of typhoid fever has occurred in the Deaf and Dumb Institute, and four children have been prostrated with the disease. Dr. Murphy, Physician to the Institute, says the fever is of a mild type, and that it is owing to the bad weather. It is not anticipated that there will be any general spread of the disease, and teaching will be carried on as usual. Mr. Mathison, the superintendent, has issued circulars to the parents of the pupils, in which he advised them to allow their children to remain, because all have already encountered the course of the disease, and if taken ill the pupils can be better treated at the Institute than at their homes.

INVITATION ACCEPTED.—Rev. J. W. Jeffrey, of Port Hope, has accepted the invitation of the congregation of the Bridge Street Methodist Church to become their pastor.

Still Another.

The chief weather prophets of Canada are Mr. Vennor, Prof. Wiggins and Moses Oats, but there number is multiplying, and Melleville Granville, Toronto, must be added to the list. He writes as follows to the World:—"As you have been paying much attention lately to weather prophets, and as I intend issuing an almanac for next year, I drop you a line as to what will be the state of the weather in August next; but mind you must not mention anything about my almanac, from signs, of which I am the sole possessor. At any rate this is my opinion—we shall have awful hot weather on or about the tenth day of August next. In fact the thermometer will register 110 in the shade, so I warn the inhabitants of this little earth to keep in doors, or take the consequences. I may also inform you that I was a pupil of the Whitby schools, but finished my education at the Toronto university. I give you this last information so that the American papers may not claim me."

A Hottentot Peeress.

The successor to the title of the late Earl of Stamford, says the London Truth, lived long at a place about ten miles from Capetown, but for some time past he has resided at Wynberg, on the sandy flats, in an iron house of two rooms. By his first wife he had no issue. By his second wife he had issue, a daughter. On his wife's death he married a Hottentot, by whom he had three children. He insists upon being called "my lord," but passes his time picking up fir cones and bits of stick in the woods to keep the domestic fire burning, while his children run about the flats barefooted and only partially clad.

Foretelling Danger.

"Well, now you mark my words for it," said an old crone to a reporter several weeks ago when young Curran, who lived on Sumach street, was killed while driving a coal cart across the Esplanade at the foot of Young street, "you see if there ain't three young fellows go one after the other." When the news of the death of the poor youth Johnson, who was killed a week later while attempting to board a morning express train, was brought to her, the old beldame fairly screamed, "Didn't I tell you, now God help the poor soul whose turn has to come next, for come it surely will," and yesterday the old hag's prediction came in too true in the death of the boy Henderson at the foot of Princess street. Perhaps Dr. Wild can tell us if this woman can see into the future or not. The prediction, however, was made, and the facts go to show that the old woman had some ground for her belief. In the olden times women would have been burned as witches for prophesying so near the truth.—Evening Canadian.

Snowing Sand.

At last Monday night's meeting of the Microscopical society H. G. Hanks read an interesting paper on "Some Notable Features of the Great San Francisco Snow Storm." The lecturer, it seems, being desirous of getting some chemically pure water, collected some of the snow, and found to his surprise that the water from it was muddy and milky. On placing it under the microscope he found that the water contained fine sand, resembling that of the Colorado and Majave deserts. While making further experiments he happened to read a telegram from Fresno, announcing that a shower of sand had fallen, although the atmosphere had been perfectly quiet for a week. He then procured some of this sand, and found that it was almost identical with that obtained from the snow. The lecturer stated, further, that he had made a calculation as to the amount of sand which fell in that memorable storm, and that he had found it to be 76 tons to the square mile, supposing the fall to have been equal.—Chronicle.

These are Solid Facts.

The best blood purifier and system regulator ever placed within the reach of suffering humanity, truly is Electric Bitters. Letter from Member of Congress.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
Washington, D.C., Feb. 19, '82.

GENTLEMEN,—Inclosed find $1, and will you send me some of N. H. Downs' Vegetable Balsamic Elixir by express. I have a bad cold, as has almost every one else here, but cannot find the Elixir, which I used frequently at home and consider a most valuable medicine; in fact, the very best remedy for a cold that I ever used.
Very truly yours, WILLIAM W. GROUT.

LITTLE BY LITTLE.—The constant dropping of water will wear away even the hardest stone. So the constant irritation of a cough will so wear upon the lungs as to induce incurable Consumption. Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam will cure the worst cough, speedily and effectually.

FORTUNATELY Valvular disease of the heart is not very common, its disturbed action may be due to indigestion, liver irregularities &c. A Stomach distended with wind, or indigestable food will cause pain and fluttering by crowding on the nerves of the heart. Burdock Blood Bitters will speedily remedy all such difficulties.

A DARING OUTRAGE.

A Young Man Suspended by his Feet in a Burning Barn.

The Ottawa Free Press contains an account of a daring outrage, which was perpetrated at St. Andre Avelin, in Ottawa County, Quebec. Robberies for some time had been of frequent occurence, and Mr. Rocque was compelled to return home from his work on account of them. Mr. Rocque, in February of this year, again went to the shanty with his eldest son, but was once more compelled to return, as the two robbers were committing greater and more bold-faced thefts than previously in that locality. On one evening, they came to the door of Mr. Rocque's house, and were threatening to forcibly enter, when a neighbor coming up the road frightened them, and they cleared away. Nothing was heard of them for about a month, but on the 2nd of March they perpetrated an act for which they justly deserved to have been summarily dealt with by Judge Lynch, and it was a great pity that they were not captured. On this occasion the youngest son, aged about 18, was closing the barn in the evening about dark to return to the house, when two masked men suddenly rushed from behind, grabbed hold of him, gagged his mouth and carried him into the barn. When inside they tied a rope to his feet and left him suspending from a beam, while they set fire to the barn. The boy fortunately managed to free his arms, and undoing the gag cried aloud. The fiends at this hastily made off. The father heard the noise and just as he opened the door he saw the men running down a lane and at the same time noticed the fire in the inside of the barn. He rushed to the building and was there horrified to see the terrible position in which his son was. The rope was cut, the boy lowered, and the fire extinguished in a short space of time. A week elapsed before the boy fully recovered from the shock. Word of this occurrence spread like wild fire in the locality, and the residents turned out to capture the villians, but did not succeed. Mr. Rocque is an inoffensive and law abiding farmer, and the motive which prompted these two individuals to commit this dreadful deed is a mystery.

Sunrise on the Prairie.

The Regina Leader is a new Northwest paper of which Mr. Nicholas Flood Davin is editor. In its first issue it gives the following description of sunrise on the prairie:

"The sunrise over the prairie yesterday was indescribably beautiful—unbelievable if describable. First there was the clear morning, the snow white as an infant's conscience, the sky pale blue with a hint of warmth on the horizon, and the half-moon in the zenith. Then in the east a short bar of molten gold, the horizon immediately on each side yellow, merging into the delicate half-toned purple, which completed the circle. The short bar of molten gold became a crescent of living fire, and the little protuberances on the prairie threw small shadows on the expanse of 'snow crust white,' which lay wide as the open sea. The air was so spring-like and balmy, that an Old Country ear could fancy the lark springing up, a sky-piercing shaft of song. Regina reposed in the sun-light under as blue a canopy as spans the bay of Naples. Reposed! a hundred hammers were ringing, and the Canadian Pacific railway engine which had brought its load from Winnipeg three hours ahead of time, was taking a canter and flinging smoke against the sky—smoke which lingered as loth to pollute what was so fair. The horses were pawing the snow and getting their breakfast, and the cows lingered about the hotel waiting to be milked. Meanwhile the sun, large as an autumn moon—a dazzling white fire—has come above the horizon; strike over the prairie to your feet comes the lane of dazzling light; the expanse of glorified snow full of purple shadows, and on all sides, far away to the rim which has now become pale, pale gold, a few paces distant from each other, the houses and shanties of the squatters. It was a morning to make even an impious heart love the hand which made the world so fair."

Inhuman Relatives.

A correspondent writes: Dying in a far distant land away from friends and relations is indeed sad, but dying at home surrounded by friends and relatives under the following circumstances is sadder. A few days ago a poor, middle-aged widow woman, Eliette by name, lived with her ten sons and ten daughters in a very humble way on a small farm situated near the southern townline, between Grimsby and Saltfleet, where the inhabitants are very few, at least it appeared so in this case. The old lady was generally regarded as the strong one of the family, but was the other day stricken down with typhus fever. Nobody came in to offer a word of consolation; not a Christian came tempering the wind to the shorn lamb; no philanthropist dropped in to show how hospitable his kindness would prove to the widow in distress; but her noble-minded boys stayed with and comforted her until life departed. Then, without the aid of any benevolent neighbor, although overwhelmed with grief by the loss of their mother, they dressed her in her funeral wardrobe and in perfect silence they completed their preparations for the grave, bore her there, and hurried home to take care of their sisters, who were also down with the same disease. The deceased widow had sisters and brothers-in-law living near by, but there is not the widow's mite. They reside on a highly respectable 50 acres of land, with a white painted house on the corner, and hold out a tempestuous abjuration because George didn't marry congenially.—Hamilton Spectator.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

A party of English tourists while ascending Mont Blanc on Sunday were overtaken by a snowstorm, lost their way, and fell over a precipice. It is not yet known how many lost their lives.

Headache, Biliousness, Dyspepsia and Constipation promptly relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. As a family medicine they are far superior to Pills. In large Bottles 50 cents.

Shanty teams are returning to Ottawa in droves. The weather has been unusually advantageous for a good cut. The entire cut in the Kippewa district has been got out to the streams ready for the drive.

The little girl Barrow, who left her home at Ottawa on Thursday last, is still missing. There is more reason to fear that she has been decoyed away from home than that she has met with an accident.

Worth Knowing.—A Fact Worth Knowing. The best household remedy known for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough and all throat and chest troubles tending toward Pulmonary Consumption is Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, to be procured of any druggist.

Emma Richards, a notorious, fashionably-dressed shop-lifter, was arrested in Montreal in the act of making away with a silk dress. There is scarcely a draper in that city who has not suffered by her depredations.

Walter Linton, of Waterloo, writes that Hagyard's Yellow Oil has done great good in his family, his wife being cured of Callouse lumps that other medicines failed to remove, he he also states a neighbor was promptly relieved of Rheumatism by the same remedy.

Sister Thibaudeau, of the Confraternity of the Soeurs Grises, died at Ottawa on Saturday night. She was one of the six who founded the home of the congregation in Ottawa, and of that little band only one survives her, Sister St. Joseph, of Montreal.

"Blood will tell." A face adorned with Pimples, Boils, Blotches &c., is not particularly pleasant sight, and invariably betokens an impure state of the Blood. Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters free the system from all gross humours, renders the Blood Pure and Cool, aids digestion and gives a healthy appetite. For sale by all Druggists in large Bottles at 50 cents.

Decline of Man.—Impotency of mind, limb or vital function, nervous weakness, sexual debility, and all diseases caused by indiscretions and abuse, are radically and promptly cured by the use of Mack's Magnetic Medicine, which is for sale by all responsible druggists. See advertisement in another column. Guarantees issued only by Ormond & Walsh, Peterborough.

Smith Again.—Every day we receive testimonials from well known Montrealers testifying to the wonderful merits of Dr. Smith's Great German Worm Remedy. The latest comes to-day (November 24th) from Mrs. O. Davis, No. 19 St. Mary Street, whose little child, six years old, passed an immense number of small seat or pin worms and large stomach worms, with only a few doses. For sale by all druggist at 25 cents. Use no other.

The best known remedy for all affections of the Chest, Lungs or Throat is Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum. It is constantly used by thousands of persons suffering from the above diseases, and in nearly every instance it affords immediate relief. In cases of troublesome, tickling Cough, where the patient passes sleepless nights, one or two doses of the Syrup has such a quieting, soothing effect that rest ensues and the Cough speedily disappears. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

Oh, my Back!

Is there a miserable, weakening pain in the small of the back? Is urination painful? Do you have palpitation of the heart? Do strange, indescribable feelings creep up your back and sides? Does the least exertion weary you? Does your urine show brickdust or albuminous deposit? Does any sudden fright cause an intense, sharp pain in the small of your back? Do you have an aching in the groin? Is your memory impaired? Is your breath short? Are there shooting pains about your vitals? Are you becoming dropsical?

These are all symptoms of kidney diseases. Be on your guard against them. If let run it may end in Bright's Disease, which is sure death.

Your best course is to procure at once a bottle of SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS costing only 50c. It will cure any form of Kidney Complaint, except Bright's Disease, it will relieve the symptoms and defer the evil day sometimes indefinitely.

SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS is a medicine as harmless as water. The world has not seen its equal as a cure for diseases which attack the Kidneys and for the complaints to which females are alone liable. It is of more value than any medical compound known to the medical faculty.

Sold by all Druggists and at Depot 150 St James St. West, Montreal, Price 50c.

FITS A Leading London Physician establishes an Office in New York for the cure of EPILEPTIC FITS.

From Am. Journal of Medicine.

Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John St., New York.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz. a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R. R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

The Great American Remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LOSS OF VOICE, HOARSENESS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS.

Prepared from the finest Red Spruce Gum. (Delicious Flavor.) Balsamic, Soothing, Expectorant and Tonic. Superior to any medicine offered for all the above complaints. A scientific combination of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce tree—without doubt the most valuable native Gum for Medicinal purposes.

Every one has heard of the wonderful effects of the Spruces and the Pines in cases of Lung Diseases.

In France the physicians regularly send their consumptive patients to the pine woods and order them to drink a tea made from the Spruce tops.

GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM.

In this preparation the Gum never separates, and all its anti-spasmodic, expectorant, tonic, and balsamic properties are preserved. This Syrup, carefully prepared at a low temperature, contains a large quantity of the finest picked Gum in complete solution.

Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large.

Sold by all respectable chemists. Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

The words "Syrup of Red Spruce Gum" constitute our Registered Trade Mark, and our wrapper and labels are also registered.

Daily Evening Review

THURSDAY, MARCH 15, 1883.

Police News.

Two tramps inhabited the police cells last night. No prisoners were arrested and there was a blank record at the Police Court this morning.

Piano Tuning.

Mr. George Gumpricht, tuner for Messrs. Mason & Risch, Toronto, will be in town for a short time. Orders left at Mr. T. Menzies' bookstore will be promptly attended to.

Parlor Social.

Remember the Parlor Social at Mrs. W. Mercer's this evening. To commence at 8 o'clock, not 6 as was stated; through a typographical error, in yesterday's issue. Admission 15 cents.

The Weather.

To-day there is a cold wind blowing, and the weather is not to say comfortable. We are promised more cold weather for the next twenty-four hours, as will be seen by the probs. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes, strong winds and moderate gales from the west and north; fair, considerably colder weather, with snow flurries in some localities.

Life in India.

On Wednesday evening the Rev. J. M. Douglas, a returned missionary of the Presbyterian Church, gave a lecture in St. Paul's Church, under the auspices of the St. Paul's Auxiliary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, on "Mission life in India." The Rev. E. F. Torrence presided and the Rev. Mr. Bennett occupied a seat on the platform. The Rev. lecturer dwelt on the extent of India, the animals of the country, its vegetation and on the people, their character, superstitions and mode of government. He related many incidents which occurred during his sojourn in India, which illustrated the difficulties with which the missionary has to contend and many of the characteristics of the people. After the lecture proper was concluded, to those who remained he exhibited a number of idols, &c., and explained them. There was a large attendance at the lecture, and it was interesting and instructive.

IF YOU WANT large fresh oysters dished up in good style, go to T. Darcy's Restaurant and Oyster Parlour.

Personal.

The Belleville Ontario says that Mr. A. R. Craig, of the Dafoe House, returned home from East Saginaw, Mich., on Tuesday night, where he has been disposing of some timber lands.

No Western Mail.

The Grand Trunk train from the west did not connect with the noon Midland train at Port Hope to-day, and consequently the western mail did not arrive here.

Shipping Machinery.

A large boiler and other machinery, for the saw mill at Waubashene, was shipped to-day at the Midland station. It was manufactured at Mr. Wm. Hamilton's foundry.

On Wheels.

A number of vehicles on wheels were seen on the streets to-day, and they seem to run much easier than those on runners. Yet the snow is not all gone, for under the road there is a large quantity of snow and ice.

Thefts.

Several petty thefts have lately been reported. One night last week some person entered a house on Harvey street and carried off a quantity of pork, a piece of beef and other articles. The perpetrator of the deed is not known, but it is to be hoped that, if any more such acts are attempted, he will be caught.

Railway Notes.

Large quantities of stone are being taken through here for the Ontario and Quebec bridges west of this. It comes up on the Grand Junction railway.

The Belleville Ontario says that it has been informed that the erection of the new Midland elevator in that city will be begun as soon as the snow leaves the ground.

The Carnival.

The skating rink will be decorated and brilliantly illuminated for the carnival on Friday night next, so that the costumes can be viewed to advantage. A point game of curling will be played by members of the Peterborough Curling Club, to commence at 7.30 o'clock, which will be another attraction to those who take an interest in the "roarin' game." Every effort is being made to make the carnival a successful one and there is now doubt that it will be most successful.

An Owl Captured.

At noon on Wednesday Mr. R. H. Green saw a young owl sitting on a hogshead in his yard, quietly surveying the surroundings. He went up behind the bird cautiously and captured it, and it was afterwards taken to Mr. Beemer's office. As the owl is supposed to be a wise bird (Mr. Vennor has the picture of one on the first page of his almanac as signifying weather wisdom), can the appearance of this bird be taken as a sign of an earlr spring? The young owl was cared for, and if it lives it will probably be kept as a pet.

Curliana.

The "silver cup" recently played for at "points" has had the effect of creating a new interest in the game in the younger portion of the club, and in order to enable those who did not carry off the cup another opportunity of displaying their prowess in this new departure, the management offer a silver medal for competition at points, to be played on Friday evening (Carnival night) commencing at 7.30. The arrangements are that the contestants shall be evenly divided, half to play on the west side and half on the east, the one having the highest score on each rink, to play off at the termination of the game, should time permit, and in the event of there not being time they will play of the following evening, or such other time as will be the most suitable to both parties. As this is considered the best game at curling, it is expected there will be a large number of contestants and some good. spirited play.

SKATING.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—Please allow me space to state that I do not intend to give an exhibition of skating at the carnival on Friday night, and did not authorize the placing of my name in the advertisement.

Yours, &c.,
E. J. HARTLEY.

Peterborough, March 15th, 1883.

CARD OF THANKS.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—I beg to acknowledge the reception through Mrs. W. Plunkett, of a beautiful family Bible from the ladies of the congregation of Westwood, also of a costly silver cake-basket from the ladies of the congregation of Keene. The ladies of these congregations will please accept my warmest thanks for their valuable and well selected gifts, and I trust that whilst I look at these gifts from time to time they may be mementoes of affection and kind consideration.

Yours truly,
MAGGIE ANDREWS.

Keene, March 14, 1883.

New Canal Business.

Notwithstanding the increased wharfage accommodation of the Lachine Canal and its basins, the forwarding trade has increased to such an extent as to warrant the Department of Railways and Canals to take steps to have the two projected basins east of Seigneurs street constructed as soon as practicable. The Minister of Public Works has announced his intention of advertising for tenders for this work early in the coming summer, and the terms of the contract will provide for the carrying out on of the work with all despatch. The new basins will be exactly the same size as the two basins west of McCord street, and will be constructed parallel to them, occupying the vacant Government property between them and Ogilvie's mills. These basins will be faced with cut stone, and will take about two years in construction.—Montreal Star.

A Startling Discovery.

Physicians are often startled by remarkable discoveries. The fact that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and all Throat and Lung diseases is daily curing patients that they have given up to die, is startling them to realize their sense of duty, and examine into the merits of this wonderful discovery, resulting in hundreds of our best Physicians using it in their practice. Trial Bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's Drug Store. Regular size $1.00.

A Lady Disappears.

A lady residing on St. Lewis street, Quebec, has mysteriously disappeared. She had been employed doing some copying for some of the Government departments, and left her boarding house on the 28th of February, to go and take tea with a friend, but nothing has been heard of her since leaving home.

Singular Coincidences.

In connection with the last three murder case which have come before the Court of Queen's Bench in Montreal, a coincidence is talked about. The indictments in the Milloy, Jacobsen and Hayvern cases, which were all made out by the officials of the Court in the regular order of business bore the number 13. The room in the California Hotel, in which Jacobsen killed Olofson, was also numbered 13.—Witness.

Convicted of Manslaughter.

WINNIPEG, Man. March 13.—Drewes, charged with the murder of Maloney, at Rat Portage, was tried at the Assizes to-day. The prisoner was defended by Henry J. Clark, Q. C., who made a powerful appeal to the jury. The jury found a verdict in an hour of guilty of manslaughter. Drewes was completely overcome, and fell in the dock on hearing it. Sentence was deferred till to-morrow. This concludes a list of three murder cases on the docket, all escaping the gallows.

Faith.

A teacher once tried to explain to her little scholars the meaning of the word faith, so, for an example, she said:

"Suppose a thief tells another thief that he has hidden a leg of mutton in a boat, and the other theif believes what he says, would not that be putting faith in what he said?"

The next day, test their memory, she asked: "What is faith?

And the children, with one voice shouted: "A leg of mutton in a boat."

MR. THOMAS W. RACE, Editor and Proprietor of the Mitchell Recorder, writes that he had a prejudice against Patent Medicines, but being induced to try Burdock Blood Bitters, for Billiousness that occasioned such violent headache and distress as to often disable him from work. The medicine gave him relief, and he now speaks of it in the most favorable terms.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.

DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.) THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution.

In Boxes at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., and 4s. 6d.

Sold by Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world. Prepared by Jas. Burke, London. Specially valuable Pills for residents abroad and travellers.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

WISE people are always on the lookout for chances to increase their earnings, and in time become wealthy; those who do not improve their opportunities remain in poverty. DYNAMITE IN LONDON!

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP THE GOVERNMENT OFFICES AND THE "TIMES."

Tremendous Explosion at Westminster.—The House of Commons Shaken—Explosives Found Concealed Behind the "Times" Office—Two Little Children Somewhat Injured.

LONDON, March 15.—A terrific gas explosion occurred in the Local Government Board offices in Westminster at 9 o'clock to-night, destroying much property. The report was heard in the House of Commons, and caused much alarm. The concusion was so great that it shook the side galleries and reporters' gallery. It being the dinner hour few members of the House were in the hall. The Duke of Edinburgh was in the peers' gallery, and seemed alarmed. The Speaker forthwith rang his bell, and asked the cause of the alarm. No one was injured. The wildest rumours are afloat. The report resembled the discharge of an 80-ton gun.

LATER.—It is now believed the explosion was caused by dynamite, and that a deliberate attempt was made to blow up the Government offices.

BROUGHT UP IN THE HOUSE.

The explosion being the subject of consideration in the House of Commons, Sir William Harcourt said he did not think it would be right to say anything about the matter until an official enquiry had been made. He had heard an attempt had been made to blow up the Times office, but no injury was done.

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP THE "TIMES" OFFICE.

The explosion was heard two or three miles. Yesterday evening a canister containing explosive material was found behind the Times office with, it is rumoured, a lighted fuse attached. The police are investigating. The officials think the explosion was caused by gunpowder or dynamite. The officers of the gas company declare they can find no evidence that it was caused by gas. The force of the explosion shot large portions of masonry across the street.

FENIAN'S WORK.

The explosion was undoubtedly the work of Fenians. The adjacent streets are filled with myriads of fragments of glass, and heavy plate glass is lying in heaps on the ground. A stone weighing 200 pounds was projected against the King street police station, making a hole the size of a man's head. Nothing will be allowed to be touched until an enquiry is made to-morrow. The full extent of the damage cannot be estimated till daylight. Five hundred constables are guarding the scene. The building has

THE APPEARANCE OF HAVING BEEN BOMBARDED.

There is a deep tench, 10 feet by 3, in one room, the floor of which has been literally ploughed. Two children sleeing in the house on the corner of King street were thrown from their beds by the explosion and their faces bably cut. They were rescued and taken to the police station. Every pane of glass in the vicinity is shattered. A man was arrested at midnight on suspicion of being concerned in the explosion.

POLICE PRECAUTIONS.

Sir William Harcourt has had a conference with the chief of police, at which several witnesses were examined. The conclusion reached was that the explosion occurred inside a room, and not from outside the building. After the explosion the force of police at the Houses of Parliament was doubled, and the Government offices and residences of Ministers are strongly guarded.

SYMPATHY DYING OUT.

LONDON, March 16.—The Times says:—"In Manchester, Leeds, Liverpool and London the feelings of the English workingmen towards the Irish people, once sympathetic, has become cold. It only depends on a few more cases of dynamite outrages to turn this feeling into anger, which the authorities will find very difficult to control."

NO ARRESTS YET MADE.

LONDON, March 16.—There is an enormous crowd at the scene of the explosion. The Inspector examined the portion of the building damaged by the explosion, and places the loss at $4,000. The inspection shows that the explosion occurred from the outside of the building. The Times says:—"If the Irish extremists are really going to reply with dynamite to any measure they disapprove of, it is certain that the day of remedial legislation is over." No arrests have yet been made in connection with the explosions. The police noticed nothing suspicious before the explosion.

PRESS OPINION.

The Times attaches little importance to the explosion which occured at this office. The canister contained only a small quantity of powder.

The News says:—"It is obvious the explosion was the result of premeditated design. We are confronted with the fact that there are in London persons bold enough to act on the wildest counsels of O'Donovan Rossa. It is not improbable to connect the authors of this outrage with certain phases of Irish crimes."

The Times says:—"The Fenian answer to Mr. Gladstone's speech on the Land Act has not been long delayed. We are in the presence of the first attempt of the dynamite party to carry out its policy of bringing the war into the heart of London." The Times says:—"The explosion at our office occurred at 9.45 on Wednesday evening, but the falling of the canister prevented serious damage. There is reason to believe two attempts of this kind were made by the same miscreants."

By Telegraph to the Review.

LONDON, March 16.—Every part of Westminster, the Abbey, the House of Parliament, the great structures of public offices, clubs and dwelling houses, were violently shaken by an explosion last night. The detonation was followed by a crash of glass falling from thousands of windows. That Charles street is unfrequented at night partly explains the extraordinary fact that no lives were lost. It is stated that dynamite was placed on a window sill inside the balustrade where the fuse when burning would be concealed from the view of persons passing. The great stone balustrade was obliterated. The massive masonary was rent into fragments, and the pavement was shattered and ground to powder. The wooden structure opposite was blown into splinters. Inside the Government offices there remained nothing but splintered wood and broken plaster—walls burst asunder. The doors in the King street police station were burst in by the blast of air, and the detachment present was prostrated. Broken timbers and masses of stone were sent flying into King street. The people crossing at Parliament street were knocked down. A hansom and horse were flung across the sidewalk against the front of Whitehall Club, in which the great plate glass windows were driven in a shower into the rooms. Everywhere the greatest consternation prevailed. People poured out of the houses, broken glass cracking under their feet. In the House of Commons the alarm was general among the members. They left immediately. The lobby was emptied and the people rushed into Westminster Hall. Thousands flocked from all parts towards Westminster.

MIDLAND.

STEALING HARNESS.—The Free Press says that boys who are anxious to fit up dog harness had better not be caught in hotel yards stealing portions of harness from farmer's teams. Some one took a new halter shank off a team belonging to Mr. Thomas Crawford the night that Mr. Drury's meeting was held here. Mr. Crawford will give five dollars reward to find out who took it.

Remarkable Lunatic Deceased.

KINGSTON, March 14.—A remarkable woman died yesterday at Rockwood Asylum, namely, Susan Donaldson, known as the "Queen." She was originally convicted of larceny, but becoming insane was committed to Toronto Asylum. From there she was removed to Rockwood in May, 1857. She was a most eccentric person, addressed everyone as "My Lord" and "My Lady." She believed herself to be the ruler of a great kingdom, dyed her face, and wore the most elaborate, yet comical robes, and a crown of her own manufacture. The jewels were an assortment of buttons and trinkets collected, during the last quarter of a century, from visitors to the institution. She came from Ireland, was married, and resided for some years on the Rideau Canal, but beyond this nothing is known of her or her relatives.

Aurora Borealis Manipulated.

Professor Foerster, the renowned Berlin astronomer, gave an account at a meeting lately of the marvelous experiments made in the north of Finland by Professor Lendstroen, of Helsingfors. At about 67 degrees north he placed a network of copper wire, terminating in many perpendicular points, on the top of two mountains, one of which is 6,000 feet high. This network of wire he connected with the earth at the bottom of each hill in the usual manner. The astonishing result, as foreseen, was the formation of an aurora borealis, rising above the mountain top, to an elevation estimated at 360 feet. The atmospheric electricity attracted to the earth by the copper created this interesting phenomenon. Our aeronauts may thus in those northern parts, where lightening is unknown, turn atmospheric electricity into a motor by refilling their accumulators from the air around them.

Extensive Ore Beds.

D. W. Allison, of Adolphustown, is interested in mines in the back country. He has about 2,000 acres of ore land in Portland, Clarendon, Barrie and other townships. Some of it is alongside the K. & P. R.R., while other plots rich in minerals, are from ten to fourteen miles away. Mr. Allison says the ore, in quality and quantity, is very remarkable. Some of the ore he has had examined by the same firm who tested his Michigan ore and the comparison is very favorable. The present duty on ore to the States may retard Mr. Allison in the development of the mines as he had intended, but he will begin operations shortly. He is already negotiating for the necessary apparatus. To reach some of the ore beds branch railways will be required. Mr. Allison places great hope on his property, and his judgment is good as his knowledge of mining has not been formed in a day.—Kingston Whig

Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

A VALUABLE NERVE TONIC.

Dr. C. C. Olmstead, Milwaukee, Wis., says: "I have used it in my practice ten years, and consider it a valuable nerve tonic."

Gaining a World Wide Reputation.

About 150,000 bottles of medicine and 3900 Spirometers, the invention of M. Souvielle of Paris and ex-aide surgeon of the French army, have been used by physicians and patients during the last year for the cure of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma, consumption in its first stages and many diseases of the head, throat and lungs. Consultations with any of the surgeons belonging to the institute free. Poor people showing certificates can have spirometers free. Write enclosing stamp for pamphlet giving full information to either of the Canadian offices where competent English and French specialists are always in charge. Press Despatches to the Review.

AMERICAN.

THE ACQUITTED MURDERER.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 16.—Lizzie Nutt denies the charges against her in Duke's letters. There is a disposition among the leading people here to show Lizzie that they don't believe Duke's allegations by inviting her to visit their families. Her physical condition, as indicated by Duke's letters, is beyond doubt. Duke says he did not fire on Nutt until he saw the latter attempt to pull a pistol from his pocket. Duke asserts that no one was present when the shot was fired, except himself and his victim.

POLK'S DEFALCATION.

NASHVILLE, March 16.—It is reported that Polk's Atttorney made a proposition for a full settlement of his deficit to the state.

ACQUITTED.

MADISON, Ind., March 16.—After an exciting and disgusting trial lasting four days. The Rev. James Davis was acquitted on a charge of seducing women.

A GAMBLER'S WINNINGS.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Dink Davis Phelan played faro at the big Barclay street game yesterday till the bank would no longer deal for him. He won $17,000. This makes his total winnings in New York $80,000.

STEAMERS ARRIVED.

NEW YORK, March 16.—The Adriatic from Liverpool and the Switzerland from Antwerp have arrived.

A COLORED FRAUD.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, March 16.—A colored minister who was collecting funds in aid of a colored church at Des Moines, was detected squandering the results at gambling at Halls, Omaha. He is now in prison.

STOCK TRANSACTIONS.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Dealings in stock yesterday included transactions in sixty three different issues. The total sales were only 138,427. These were on the general list sixty three other different issues in which there were no trantactions.

MANSLAUGHTER.

ST. LOUIS, March 16.—Reuben Starr, charged with murder in the second degree, is dying of rheumatism and scrofula. He was brought into court on a stretcher yesterday, and pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the third degree.

FILTHY STREETS.

PHILADELPHIA, March 16.—Yesterday the bankers and brokers hired men to clean Walnut street and Third street. No street cleaning has been done in the city since the beginning of the winter, and the thoroughfares are filthy.

DUKES TO BE EXPELLED.

HARRISBURG, March 16.—There is deep indignation in legislative circles over the verdict acquitting Dukes of the murder of Nutt. The Democrats and Republicans unite in the assertion that while they cannot prevent Dukes from taking his seat in the Legislature, yet they will vote to expel him immediately.

A STOLEN WATCH.

NEWPORT, R. I.. March 16.—A woman supposed to be Kate Judd, suspected of burning Weaver Villa and who recently escaped from gaol with George Rounds, last evening tried to sell at jewelry stores here a watch belonging to Mrs. Weaver, and which the woman claimed her husband found in the ruins of the Villa. One jeweler sent a message to the police, but the woman left. She was joined after leaving the store by a man supposed to be a Rounds.

The Stylograph Pen.

The stylographic pen is one of the necessaries of our modern civilization. If Hood's song had been "Dip, dip, dip," instead of "Stitch, stich," it would have lost its text at the hands of Mr. Livermore, who has given his age this perfection of pen, penholder and case, and ink, all in one, handsome, and always at hand and ready for use. The inventor has put some new improvements into it, and now what remains but for every scribe and letter writer to find it on his desk. Ink, filler, and cleaner, all go with it. And to crown all the price has been reduced to $2. Send that amount to the sole agent, Mr. Louis E. Dunlop, 290 Washington St., Boston, Mass., and the return mail will bring you this most perfect pen.—Contributer, Boston, Mass.

An Imposter

An impostor is going the rounds of Hastings county soliciting aid from the Catholic people, and representing himself as a Catholic priest from the Ogdensburg diocese, New York State. He alleges that his name is "Little Father Donaghue," and his intention, no doubt, in assuming the present name is to palm himself off as Father Donagh, of Kingston, but he will hardly succeed. In Trenton recently he succeeded by false pretences in securing quite a sum of money. A warrant was issued for his arrest, but before the paper could be executed he made good his escape. Those who saw him there describe him as a man about 5ft. 10in. in height. His dress is similar to that of an ordinary priest.

Rocky Mountain Costumes.

"Don't you think it's warm?" enquired a Colorado man.

"Not especially."

"Well, I s'pose it's because I've got my winter flannels on. I always buy six flannel undershirts in September, and put one on. In October I put on another; in November another."

"What! not over the rest!"

"Yes, over the rest; in December, another; and so on till the first of March, when I take off the top one; in April I take off another, and so on until I take off the last one."

"Then what do you do?"

"I take a bath."—Kansas City Times.

The Bench Show.

A despatch from Ottawa says that so far the Secretary of the Dominion of Canada Kennel's Society has received four hundred entries for the bench show to be held on the 26th of March. Many of them are from Great Britain and the United States.

Personal! To Men Only!

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and Manhood, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

FRIDAY, MARCH 16, 1883.

HOW THE COUNTRY IS PROGRESSING.

The report of the Post Master General for the year 1881-82, just published, contains some interesting and gratifying figures, bearing upon the growth and prosperity of the Dominion.

The following statement shows the rapidity with which this Canada of ours is going ahead:—

	1879.	1880.	1881.	1882.
Number of post-offices......	5,606	5,733	5,935	6,171
do miles of mail route...	39,598	40,611	41,681	43,087
do do mail travel...	16,154,084	16,486,939	17,068,941	18,091,986
do do letters......	43,900,000	45,800,000	48,170,000	56,200,000
do do post cards......	6,940,000	7,800,000	9,640,000	11,300,000
do do regist'd letters.	1,980,000	2,040,000	2,253,000	2,450,000
Postal revenue..........	$ 2,534,363	$ 1,648,017	$ 1,767,163	$ 3,032,086

The distribution of newspapers and periodicals, posted from the office of publication, during the eleven months ending 31st May, 1882, was no less than 4,856,000 pounds. The reason that the quantity posted in June is not given is because, after that date, they went free of postage. At the same rate, for June, however, the amount for the year would be no less than 5,045,800 pounds, or about a pound and a quarter for every man, woman and child in the Dominion. Besides these there were 7,150,000 papers and periodicals posted otherwise than from the office of publication.

Out of the 2,450,000 registered letters passing through the post office, during the year but 113 went astray, including those lost by fire, which speaks volumes for the management of this Department.

During the year money orders payable in the Dominion were issued to the value of $7,018,526; payable in the United States $781,167; in the United Kingdom $550,150, and in Newfoundland $4,309.

But, the best proof of the great and general prosperity enjoyed by the great mass of the people during the year under consideration is the following statement of the operations of the Savings Bank department:—

	1881.	1882.	Increase of 1882.	Percentage of increase.
Number of deposits..........	71,747	97,380	25,633	36 per cent.
Amount of deposits..........	$4,175,042	$6,435,989	$2,260,947	54 "
Number of withdrawals......	28,398	35,859	7,461	26 "
Amount of withdrawals......	$2,072,389	$3,461,619	$1,389,230	67 "
Number of open accounts.....	39,605	51,463	11,858	30 "
Balance due to depositors....	$6,208,226	$9,473,661	$3,265,435	52 "

This steady increase of business continued month by month down to the 31st of December, 1882, when the deposits reached the sum of $10,840,642, exactly double what they were in March, 1881, an increase of one hundred per cent. in one year and nine months.

We question if any other country in the world can show a similar record.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Reformers have unearthed a real case of bribery, and as might have been expected it is in their own ranks. It seems, according to their accounts, that a mysterious personage named "Harris," (vide Dickens) went through West Wellington giving money to electors who were in favour of McKim," the Purist candidate. Some of this money, however, seems to have been wasted, for the recipients declined to be sworn and lost their votes, though of course very many who were thus bribed would swear readily. A Reform journal says this was a "Tory dodge," though we really fail to see why, if this bad man Harris were a "Tory," he should bribe men to vote against his candidate and not for him.

⁂

The Belleville Ontario, a thick and thin supporter of the Mowat administration, is the authority for one of the gravest charges against Mr. Mowat and his supporters that we have yet seen. Our contempory with an astonishing access of candour relates how Mr. Vankleek, Mr. Mowat's candidate in North Hastings, agreed with the Madoc Review for its support on condition of its receiving the Government printing. It appears, according to the same authority, that Messrs. Mowat & Co. carried out their share of the corrupt bargain and were ready with their bribe. But now comes the place where the shoe pinches. It seems that the Madoc Review (still according to the Belleville Ontario) having received from Mr. Mowat the consideration for its support of his candidate, did not in fact give the support thus purchased. Mr. Mowat has thrown away his money (or rather our money), and hence the blind rage that has lead to the exposure of this corrupt piece of jobbery on the part of the Mowat administration.

⁂

We have received from the office of the Dublin Freeman's Journal a paper showing conclusively the injustice done to that journal and to its proprietor and editor Mr. Gray, by certain of its contemporaries; which allege that an article in that journal contributed to bring about the assassination of Lord F. Cavendish and Mr. Burke. No such interpretation can fairly be placed upon the article in question, and though we cannot agree with Mr. Gray in his political proclivities and in some of his views, we beg to enter our protest against such an injustice as has been done to him by this attack.

THE FISHERIES EXHIBITION.

Arrangements for the Canada Section all Completed—The Exhibits.

A despatch from Ottawa says that arrangements are completed for the Canada Section of the London International Fish Exhibition. The specimens consist of commercial fish of every variety in the Dominion; fish that are not used as food; birds that destroy fish; animals that prey upon fish; nets of every description showing the readiest means of capturing fish, fish traps, fish registers, models of fishing schooners, boats, canoes, &c. The range of country whence exhibits come extends from British Columbia to Cape Breton, and in size the specimens are from a 2,000 pound white porpoise to a sea mouse, six inches in length. All the Provinces have contributed to the general representation, except Manitoba and the North West Territories. It is to be hoped that exhibits will yet arrive from Manitoba in time for shipment. Arrangements have been made to take over three or more freezers in which many of the more important food fishes can be exhibited fresh. These freezers will be replenished frequently during the Summer by new supplies from different parts of Canada. Nearly 100 tons of ice will be taken across thus, making a great saving in this respect, as ice which costs in Halifax $1.50 per ton, furnished on the Exhibition Grounds, in London costs £1 15s. sterling. The Canadian exhibits will be in charge of special commissioners appointed by the Government, who will make a report on their return.

THE COURSE OF TRUE LOVE.

A Romance of To-Day in Which Love Proves Stranger than Fiction.

The course of true love has many a devious turning, but it generally manages to come out all right in the end, even though the lovers have to wait some little time for the happy moment. Mrs. —— keeps a boarding house on Jarvis street, about half a block from Queen street. Mrs. O—— is an Englishwoman, and probably about fifty years of age. Before she left her native country to settle in Canada, she made the acquaintance of a young man in her own station in life. Acquaintance ripened into love, which, as usual, did not run smoothly in its course. There was a quarrel. He left in pique for Australia and she came to Canada. The lady married, but the gentleman remained a bachelor. In course of time Mr. —— died, and his widow started a boarding-house. Her old time lover, though he had departed from her in anger, still treasured her face in his memory. He never lost track of her and was always well-informed of her movements. All this time the lady was in total ignorance of his whereabouts, and in fact believed him either dead or long since married. Not long ago, to her great surprise, she received a letter from Melbourne, Australia, from the gentleman in question, in which he laid his heart at her feet once more, and solicited her hand in marriage. The world had gone well with him in his exile, and should the lady accept his offer, he declared his intention of settling the sum of $100,000 on her when the marriage knot was tied. The lady, who had not forgotten her lover, signified her willingness, and he accordingly started from Australia on receipt of the happy letter. He is now in Toronto, and is stopping at one of the principal hotels, preparatory to undergoing the ceremony which will make him one with the woman whose image he has held in his breast for so many years.—Toronto Canadian.

The Sherbrooke Forgery Case.

The trial of David Kelly in Sherbrooke for the forging of a note for $2,000 has created a great deal of interest throughout that district. It will be remembered that he was previously tried and found guilty, and sentenced by Judge Doherty to six month in gaol. The facts were that he took a leaf out of his sister's autograph album, bearing the signature of Mr. John Taylor, and wrote over it a promise to pay $2,000. A writ of error was obtained upon an information, and the conviction and sentence were quashed. The prisoner had only four months more to serve. A new trial proceeded last week, lasting five full days. Messrs. J. N. Greenshields of this city, E. L. Johnson and Morry of Sherbrooke, appeared for the defence, and Mr. White for the Crown, with Mr. J. L. Terrill for the private prosecution. The verdict was rendered, after twenty minutes' deliberation, against the prisoner, with a recommendation to mercy. Chief Justice Dorion then sentenced Kelly to two years in the penitentiary.—Witness.

Roughs.—The Herald says that the Rev. Mr. Buchanan, of Warkworth, was insulted by a party of roughs at the station on Wednesday evening.

Crow River Bridge.—Seymour Councillors have advertised for tenders for the erection of a new bridge on Crow River. Also tenders for building the centre span of the same bridge, and repairing the remainder of the structure.

New Buildings.—A number of new buildings, dwellings and business places are to be erected during the coming summer. Campbellford is increasing in material prosperity, and seems to be a favorite spot for those who love to dwell in a brisk place and pretty locality.

Poisoned Liquor.

The coroner's inquest held at Mansonville Monday night, over the body of Nicholas Courser, rendered the following verdict: "We find that Nicholas Courser came to his death by the hand of Henry Fullerton." The facts of the case are as follows;—Last Wednesday, said Courser, who is much addicted to drink, with two companions, went to the "Line House," situated on the line between the United States and Canada, on the Troy and Mansonville road and called for liquor. Fulleston, who dispensed the liquor, filled a bottle that formerly contained bed bug poison. Courser poured out and drank a glass of the liquor, and said there was poison in it. His companions drank none of the liquor. He was immediately taken sick and died Monday night in great agony. He was about 55 years of age. Fullerton is not to be found.

The Lottery Cases.

The first victory in these prosecutions was scored by Mr. Fenton on Monday, when he succeed in bringing home the charge of publishing the lottery to Mr. E. F. Clarke, of the Orange Sentinel. The case was one of the strongest which the Crown prosecuter had, and the defence was made the most of by Mr. Mosgrave, of Ottawa. There were five other charges against Mr. Clarke, and these were held in abeyance, as notice of appeal from the magistrate's decision was given. The case is to be made a test one and will establish a precedent.—Mail.

ONTARIO TREE-PLANTING ACT.

The following is a copy of the Tree-Planting Act passed at the last session of the Ontario Legislature, and will no doubt prove interesting to many of our readers:

Her Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, enacts as follows:

1. This Act may be cited as "the Ontario Tree-Planting Act, 1883."

2. Chapter 187 of the revised statutes of Ontario is hereby repealed.

3. Section four of this Act shall not apply to any incorporated city, town, or village, unless the Council thereof first passes a by-law making the same apply thereto.

PLANTING TREES.

4. Any person owning land adjacent to any highway or to any public street, lane, alley, place, or square in this province, may plant trees on the portion thereof contiguous to his land; but no tree shall be so planted that the same is or may become a nuisance in the highway or other public thoroughfare, or obstruct the fair and reasonable use of the same.

(2) Any owner of a farm or lot of land may, with the consent of the owner or owners of adjoining lands, plant trees on the boundary lines of his farm or lot.

(3) Every such tree so planted on any such highway, street, lane, alley, place, or square, shall be deemed to be the property of the owner of the lands adjacent to such highway, street, lane, alley, place, or square, and nearest to such tree; and every such tree so planted on a boundary line aforesaid shall be deemed to be the common property of the owners of the adjoining farms or lots.

(4) Every tree now growing on either side of any highway in this province shall upon, from, and after the passing of this Act be deemed to be the property of the owner of the land adjacent to such highway, and nearest to such tree, shrub, or sapling.

MUNICIPAL BONUS.

5. The Council of any municipality may pass a by-law for paying out of municipal funds a bonus or premium not exceeding twenty-five cents for each and every ash, basswood, beech, birch, butternut, cedar, cherry, chestnut, elm, hickory, maple, oak, pine, sassafras, spruce, walnut, or whitewood tree, which shall, under the provisions of this Act, be planted within such municipality on any highway or on any boundary line of farms as aforesaid, or within six feet of such boundary.

(2) Such by-law shall further provide for the appointment of an inspector of trees so planted; for their due protection against injury and against removal by any person or persons, including the owner, excepting as authority may be given therefor by special resolution of the Council; for the conditions on which bonuses may be paid; and generally for such regulations as are authorized by chapter one hundred and seventy-four of the Revised Statutes of Ontario, section 454 (16).

(3) Printed copies of the said by-law, together with sections four, five, six, and seven of this Act, shall be posted throughout the municipality, and all claims made to the Council under the provisions of the by-law shall be referred to the inspector to obtain proof of the same and report thereon.

DUTY OF THE INSPECTOR.

6. The Inspector shall make to the Council one report for each year, if required so to do giving the names of all persons entitled to any bonus or premiums under the by-law, the number of trees of each species planted, and the amount of bonus or premium to which each person is entitled, and certifying that the distance between any one tree and the tree nearest thereto is not less than thirty feet, that the trees have been planted for a period of three years, and that they are alive, healty, and of good form; and upon the adoption of such report the bonuses or premiums shall be paid.

PROVINCIAL TREE-PLANTING FUND.

7. The Treasurer of the Province, upon receiving a copy of the inspector's report, certified by the Reeve and Clerk, shall recoup to the Treasurer of the municipality one-half of the the sum paid by the municipality under the authority of this Act, the said copy to be forwarded on or before the first day of November in each year.

8. The sum of fifty thousand dollars is hereby apportioned and set apart for the object of the foregoing section, and shall be known as "The Ontario Tree Planting Fund."

PENALTIES.

9. Any person who ties or fastens any animal to or injures or destroys a tree planted and growing upon any road or highway, or upon any public street, lane, alley, place, or square in this Province (or upon any boundary line of farms, if any such bonus or premium aforesaid has been paid therefor), or suffers or permits any any animal in his charge to injure or destroy, or who cuts down or removes any such tree without having first obtained permission so to do by special resolution of the Council of the municipality, shall, upon conviction thereof before a justice of the peace, forfeit and pay such sum of money, not exceeding twenty-five dollars besides costs, as such justice may award, and in default of payment the same may be imprisoned in the common gaol of the county within which the municipality is situate for a period not exceeding thirty days.

(2) One-half of such fine shall go to the person laying the information, and the other half to the municipality within which such tree was growing.

TREE BY-LAWS.

10. The Council of every municipality may pass by-laws:

(1) To regulate the planting of trees upon the public highway.

(2) To prohibit the planting upon the public highways of any species of trees which they may deem unsuited for that purpose.

(3) To provide for the removal of trees which may be planted on the public highway contrary to the provisions of any such by-law.

One of our best citizens would say to the public that he has tried Hall's Catarrh Cure, and that it is all that is claimed for it. Price 75 cents per bottle. For sale by John McKee, druggist.

EXERCISE FOR YOUNG CHILDREN.

Whether systematic exercise should be employed for the physical development of infants and young children is a question, says the Lacet, that has been frequently asked, and to which no very definite answer has been given. Some years ago considerable attention was bestowed on the subject, and several very ingenious devices were suggested by which infants and very young children might exercise their muscles. The "baby jumped" is perhaps the best remembered of these. It was largely advertised, and for the time had a considerable sale, but now one rarely hears of its existence. In considering the form of exercise that might be employed for very young children, it should be borne in mind that at no period in life does the organism exhibit greater developmental activity than during the first years of existance. Hence it is not advisable that fatigue should be allowed to depress the vital powers, and so interfere with the processes of growth and nutrition. At the same time, it must be remembered that a desire for exercise seems to be inherent to the infant. Sir William Jenner has graphically pointed this out, and compared the spontaneous activity of a healthy child to a quiescence and fear of movement exhibited by a child suffering from rickets. This can be seen at a glance, for if a young child can be stripped and laid on a bed, it will appear how ceaseless are its movements, how each limb is brought into play, and with what almost continuous action it seems as if endeavoring to turn itself inside out. This natural exercise ought to be encouraged, and instead of being kept, as is too frequently the case, for the greater part of the day tightly held in its nurse's arms, or confined in its cot weighed down with heavy bed clothes, carefully tucked in, which prevent its slightest movement, it ought for some time each day to be allowed to roll freely on a matress, lightly and loosely clad, so that it can indulge freely and unrestrained in the natural and instinctive exercise of its limbs. As the infant gets older, its desire for exercise seems if possible to increase, and it is never tired of creeping about and making premature attempts to walk. While these efforts should be encouraged, they should never be unduly prolonged. As the child grows older and becomes firmer on its feet, combined movement seems to become its object, and these are best encouraged by the use of the "ball." When the limbs are firmly set, the rocking-horse may be introduced into the nursery, but we would not permit its use until after the fifth year. The seventh year is the earliest year at which systematic exercises should be introduced, and then these ought to be of the simplest kind—as ordinary drill, extension movements, etc. We cannot approve of the suggestions that have reached us on the use of the trapeze, dumbbells, and the like at so early an age. What seems to us of the most importance, and what is most generally overlooked, is the necessity of securing for the young child complete freedom for all its movements, and thus permitting it to engage in spontaneous exercise without let or hindrance.

These are Solid Facts.

The best blood purifier and system regulator ever placed within the reach of suffering humanity, truly is Electric Bitters. Inactivity of the Liver, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Weak Kidneys, or any disease of the urinary organs, or who ever requires an appetiser, tonic or mild stimulant, will always find Electric Bitters the best and only certain cure known. They act surely and quickly, every bottle guaranteed to give entire satisfaction or money refunded. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Taylor & McDonald.—4

Smith Again.—Every day we receive testimonials from well known Montrealers testifying to the wonderful merits of Dr. Smith's Great German Worm Remedy. The latest comes to-day (November 24th) from Mr. J. O. Darois, No. 19 St. Mary Street, who says his child, six years old, passed an immense number of small seat or pin worms and large stomach worms, with only a few doses. For sale by all druggist at 25 cents. Use no other.

The best known remedy for all affections of the Chest, Lungs or Throat is Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum. It is constantly used by thousands of persons suffering from the above diseases, and in nearly every instance it affords immediate relief. In cases of troublesome, tickling Cough, where the patient passes sleepless nights, one or two doses of the Syrup has such a quieting, soothing effect that rest ensues and the Cough speedily disappears. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

FITS

A Leading London Physician establishes an office in New York for the cure of EPILEPTIC FITS.

From Am. Journal of Medicine.

Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John St., New York.

THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz. a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

The Great American Remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LOSS OF VOICE, HOARSENESS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS.

Prepared from the finest Red Spruce Gum. (Delicious Flavor.) Balsamic, Soothing, Expectorant and Tonic. Superior to any medicine offered for all the above complaints. A scientific combination of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce tree—without doubt the most valuable native Gum for Medicinal purposes.

Every one has heard of the wonderful effects of the Spruces and the Pines in cases of Lung Disease.

In France the physicians regularly send their consumptive patients to the pine woods and order them to drink a tea made from the Spruce tops.

GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM.

In this preparation the Gum never separates, and all its anti-spasmodic, expectorant, tonic, and balsamic properties are preserved.

This Syrup, carefully prepared at a low temperature, contains a large quantity of the finest picked Gum in complete solution.

Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large.

Sold by all respectable chemists. Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

The words "Syrup of Red Spruce Gum" constitute our Registered Trade Mark, and our wrapper and labels are also registered.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

A LITTLE ROGUE.

Grandma was nodding, I rather think ;
Harry was sly and quick as a wink ;
He climbed on the back of her great armchair,
And nestled himself very snugly there.
Grandma's dark locks were mingled with white.
And quick this little fact came to his sight ;
A sharp twinge soon she felt at her hair,
And woke with a start to find Harry there.
"Why, what are you doing, my child ?" she said,
He answered : "I'se pulling a basting fread !"

Ladies who want Stylish patterns in Prints, should pay Munro & Alexander a visit. They are now showing the newest things in "Floral Effects," &c. Sateen Cloths in every desirable shade.

There is a strong feeling in favor of wool fabrics for spring wear, and nuns' veilings and vermicelli cloths are the most popular materials. Pink and blue are popular colours in prints, and some exceedingly pretty floral effects have been produced in this article. In cretonnes some exceptionally fine patterns are being shown this season, and these goods, on account of their extreme prettiness, are interfering with the sale of wool damasks and reps.

Housekeepers who intend purchasing Cretonnes would do well to examine the stock of these goods at Munro & Alexanders'. Their assortment of patterns is acknowledged to be the best in Peterborough.

The favorite shades during the coming summer will be frais ecrasée, aanjos, terre cuite, mordore, and electric. There may be a few whom these terms will fail to enlighten as to the popular hues, and they will be pleased to learn that frais ecrasée is another name for crushed strawberries, that aanjos is literally mahogany, and terre cuite is French for terra cotta. Crushed gooseberries or bruised lemon have not yet been heard of from Paris, but certainly crushed strawberries is a very pretty idea, and suggests something exceedingly sweet in the way of trimmings.

Munro & Alexander have several very desirable lines of Union and all Wool Dress Goods to hand. They will open out in a day or two a direct importation of Nun's Veilings, in all the newest shades including "Crushed Strawberries" and "Cream." Prices right.

Though not in these days generally cultivated, at least in Europe, the despised nettle was at one time, and that for several centuries, held in high honour and esteem throughout the world. In Kamschatka the fibres have long been used for fishing-lines ; in France they have been made into paper ; in Hindustan and China, woven into so-called "grass cloth ;" and in Scotland and some parts of England the stalks have been dressed, spun, and woven into linen as good as that made from flax ; while the old German name for muslin, "nettle-cloth," shows that it must have been at one time extensively used for weaving purposes on the Continent.

Munro & Alexander are now showing a large stock of New Ducks and Denims. Strong Tweeds, Cotton Shirtings, Grey and White Cottons. Tickings and Table Linens.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, MARCH 16, 1883.

Personal.

Mr. Hargreaves, of London, is in town in the interests of the London Masonic Mutual Benefit Association, insurance in which is only open to members of the craft, and which they will find on investigation to offer them unusual advantages. Mr. Hargreaves is at the Caisse House.

Police News.

This morning, the third time in succession, there was a blank at the Police Court. The town appears to be very orderly.

Three tramps were given shelter in the police cells last night. One of them said that he had walked that day all the way from Belleville, and if that was true he might be persuaded to enter at the next horse races.

The Weather.

The weather to-day is clear and cold. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows :—North west to south west winds ; fine, milder weather ; mild to-morrow. Upper St. Lawrence—Moderate to fresh north west to west winds ; fine weather, higher temperature, continued milder to-morrow.

The Ragan Lectures.

Mr. H. H. Ragan, who will deliver two lectures in Bradburn's Opera House under the auspices of the Mechanic's Institute, has received flattering notices from the press at every place where he has lectured. The subjects for his lecture here are, for the evening of March 20th, "Paris the Magnificent," and March 21st "London from the top of an Omnibus." The lectures will be illustrated by oxy-hydrogen light, of which the Boston Traveller says :—"His lectures are all illustrated with the stereopticon, and one hardly knows which to admire most—his finished oratory and the subject matter of his lectures, or his superb pictures. He certainly has no superior in the country."

A Valuable Property.

Mr. John Ludgate will offer for sale by public auction, at Cavanagh's Hotel, on Thursday, March 29th, valuable proprty in Otanabee, part of lot 31, in the 12th concession, adjoining the village of Ashburnham. This is a good chance for a paying investment in real estate. Parcel No. 1 contains 14½ acres, adjoining the residence of Mr. Ludgate. On the lot are a cottage, stable and garden, and the lot is ready for a spring crop. Parcel No. 2 contains 57 acres, lying east of Mr. Ludgate's house. The land is excellent, in a good state of cultivation with a spring of water. This lot contains a splendid building site and the whole property is well adapted for building lots, market garden or gentleman'samateur farm and residence. Sale begin at two o'clock.

IF YOU WANT large fresh oysters dished upin good style, go to T. Darcy's Restaurant and Oyster Parlour.

The Temperature.

The thermometer at Messrs. Tayler & Macdonald's registered as follows to-day :—At 8 a.m., 15° above zero ; at noon, 24° above, and at 3 p.m., 28° above.

Y. M. C. A.

The annual meeting of the members of the Young Men's Christian Association of Peterborough will be held in the rooms of the Association on Monday evening next, for the election of Directors, receiving annual reports and other business.

Parlor Social.

A very pleasant parlor social was held on Thursday evening at Mrs. Mercer's, Hunter street, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of St. Andrew's Church. There was a large attendance, and a good musical and literary entertainment was provided.

The Carnival.

Remember that the grand skating carnival, the last of the season, takes place this evening at the rink. The ice is in good condition, and complete arrangements have been made for a successful carnival. A point game of curling will also be played on the ice. It is expected that the attendance will be large.

Railway Notes.

The Port Hope Times says that the new engine we spoke of last week, has arrived. It is large and powerful, and will add materially to the service of the Midland. Mr. Hallock has gone to Manchester, N. H., for another of the same kind.

Mr. J. D. Barnett, Mechanical Superintendent of the Midland Railway, is registered at the Oriental Hotel.

St. Patrick's Eve.

The Rev. L. Keating will deliver an address in St. Peter's Cathedral this evening, under the patronage of His Lordship Bishop Jamot, for the benefit of the Emerald Club of Peterborough. The choir will render special selections during the evening. The address will commence at 7.30 o'clock, doors open at 7 o'clock. Admission 25 cents ; reserved seats 50 cents.

Plate Glass Window Broken.

At noon to-day a man while passing Messrs. McKee & Davidson's hardware store either stumbled over a fork or in some way knocked it against one of the plate glass windows. The glass was struck in about the centre of the light, and the crack extended each way almost to the frame. The glass remains in its position, although the crack is a long one, reaching almost across it. There was no insurance on the glass, as the insurance ran out a few days ago and was not yet renewed.

A New Hotel.

Mr. T. Fitzgerald has leased for a term of years the building on the corner of Charlotte and Aylmer streets, now used by him as a grocery and dwelling house, to Mr. John Norris, of Millbrook, who intends to fit it up for an hotel. Mr. Norris, in anticipation of getting a license, has erected an ice house in the rear of Mr. Fitzgerald's carriage factory and is storing in it a quantity of ice for use in the hotel, so that he will be prepared to furnish his temperate customers with "ice cold lemonade." Mr. Norris has experience in the hotel business, having been proprietor for a time of a house of entertainment in Kingston. He will take possession of the premises in about a month.

Baptie's Planning Mill.

The manufacturing power in Mr. J. D. Baptie's planing mill has been increased by the addition of new machinery. The motive power has been increased by a new boiler having been put in, which is seventy five horse-power strong, and the engine has been fitted up and furnished with a patent chest. A large fly wheel has been added, which weighs between seven hundred and eight hundred pounds. A new saw table for tail fittings has been put in, and a machine for mortising. A new blind fitter is on the road, and will be here in a few days. In addition to these new machines having been put in, which add greatly to the facility for doing good work expeditiously, all the machinery in the mill has been carefully gone over and improved, new wheels having been put on and other work done. Mr. Baptie, the energetic proprietor, has now a well furnished planing mill and sash, door and blind factory, and these things show that he is possessed of enterprise, and that his business, like that of the town generally, is prospering.

Presbytery of Peterborough.

The Presbytery of Peterborough met in Cobourg, on the 13th March. There were present twelve Ministers and seven Elders. The Rev. Mr. McCrae, of Cobourg, was chosen Moderator for the next six months. The Presbytery adopted a scheme for the visitation Presbyterially of the congregations within the bounds. The delegates appointed for next Assembly are Messrs. Ross, McCrae, Torrance, Duncan and Bennett, Ministers ; and Messrs. W. H. Taylor, M. D., W. E. Roxburgh, J. Russell, J. Henderson, W. Scott, Elders. The Rev. R. McLennan of Charlottetown, P. E. I., was nominated as Moderator of the Assembly. Leave was granted to the congregations of Bobcaygeon and Dunsford, to hold a meeting for Moderation in a call. It was agreed to ask the Synod to overture the Assembly on the subject of the supply of vacant congregations. Next meeting of Presbytery was appointed to be held in Norwood, on the last Tuesday of June, at 7 o'clock p. m. A conference on the state of religion was held in the evening, a good number of the members of the congregation and other friends were present. Interesting addresses were delivered by Messrs. Torrance, Jamieson, Carmichael, Cooke, Ministers ; and Mr. Russell, Elder. The Presbytery adopted the report of the committee on the state of religion, and ordered it to be transmitted to the Synod.

Legislation for Boom Companies.

Hon. Mr. Mitchell, in the House of Commons asked leave to present a petition permitting the Quaddy Boom Company, of New Brunswick, to seek legislation from Parliament. He explained that for years past the local legislatures have given charters to boom companies, but a doubt having recently arisen as to the jurisdiction of the legislatures over navigable waters, a test case is now before the Supreme Court, and in the course of the argument the judges dropped such hints as led to the opinion that the judgment of the New Brunswick Court, declaring these charters ultra vires, will be sustained. The consequence will be that, unless the Dominion Parliament gives the companies an Act of incorporation, an immense quantity of valuable timber will be exposed to the mercy of any reckless or miliciously disposed person who may cut the booms employed to catch and retain the logs as they float down the streams. Sir Leonard Tilley explained that recognizing the importance of this question, a deputation of New Brunswick members had waited upon the Minister of Justice to ask that the rights of the boom companies should be protected until legislation by Parliament could be obtained. The Government does not intend this session to introduce legislation of a general character in relation to the subject, but they would take the proper steps to protect the rights of the boom companies in the event of the Supreme Court declaring their provincial charaters of incorporation ultra vires.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold, a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup, and Bronchitis, while it's wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parellel in the history of medicine. Since it's first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a Cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10 cts., 50 cts. and $1.00. For sale by J. D. Tully,

A Startling Discovery.

Physicians are often startled by remarkable discoveries. The fact that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and all Throat and Lung diseases is daily curing patients that they have given up to die, is startling them to realize their sense of duty, and examine into the merits of this wonderful discovery, resulting in hundreds of our best Physicians using it in their practice. Trial Bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's Drug Store. Regular size $1.00.

Answer This Question.

Why do so many people we see around us seem to prefer to suffer and be made miserable by Indigestion, Consumption, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Coming up of the Food, Yellow Skin, when for 75 cts., we will sell them Shiloh's Vitalizer, guaranteed to cure them. For sale by D. J. Tully

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic ; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar to itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d. ; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

The Cells.

One tramp was the only occupant of the police cells last night. No prisoners were arrested.

St. Patrick's Day.

This being St. Patrick's Day, services were held in St. Peter's Cathedral this morning, and shamrocks and green ribbons in button holes were noticeable on the streets.

Reformers vs. Conservatives.

A curling match will be played on Monday evening next, commencing at 7.30 o'clock, between rinks composed of Reformers and Conservatives, for 100 lbs. of flour, which is to be donated to the Protestant Home.

Fire at Young's Point.

The new hotel which was in the course of erection at Young's Point, was burned half past six this morning. It was being put up by Mr. Wm. McFarlane. McDonald Bros. men, who were returning from their shanty and passed there this morning, noticed that it was burned.

Midland Railway of Canada.

The traffic for the above railway for the week ending March 10th, 1833, was as follows:—Passengers and mails, $4,651.78; freight, $8,513.44; total, $13,165.22, as compared with $18,026.32 for the corresponding week of 1882, being a decrease of $4.861.10; and the aggregate traffic to date is $139,756.65, being an increase of $4,718.11 over 1882.

Cattle for Easter.

There were a number of fine, large cattle exhibited on the market this morning. A herd of eight, purchased by Mr. H. C. Winch, were a fine lot of young cattle, heifers and steers, and comprised a portion of those he has bought for the the Easter trade. One cow offered for sale by Mr. D. Steele, of Lakefield, of the Devon breed, weighed 1,770 pounds. There were other fine looking large animals shown.

Successful Season.

The last of McDonald Bros.' men returned from their lumbering shanty in the first concession of Dummer, at the head of Clear Lake, this morning. They had a most successful season, and took out more logs than they did last year. The only drawback was the loss of of two horses, both of which died in the same week, one dropping dead in the harness and the other dying after being sick a day and a half. The firm has lost in the shanties eleven horses inside of nine years, which is no slight loss.

STEAMSHIPS IN COLLISION.

London, March 16.—The British steamers Glenrath and Boyne have been in collision. Both were seriously damaged. The Glenrath has been docked, and the Boyne lies in the mud.

THE BOERS AGAIN DEFEATED.

Durban, March 16.—Latest reports from the Transvaal state that the country is in a state of anarchy. Chief Mapoch has again defeated the Boers.

LETTERS TO CAREY.

Dublin, March 16.—Carey, the informer, has received letters from all parts of the Kingdom notifying him that there are plenty of men to take the places of those arrested. He is now not allowed to read the newspapers containing attacks upon him.

KARL MARX DEAD.

Paris, March 16.—The report of the death of Karl Marx, founder of the International workingmen's Association, is confirmed. He died at Argenteuil yesterday.

WATERFORD ASSIZES.

Dublin, March 16.—The Waterford Court Assizes was crowded to-day. It was expected that the Crown would proceed with the case against Mr. Biggar, Member of Parliament, for his speech made in December. No bill, however, was presented by the Grand Jury.

THE FRENCH ANARCHISTS.

Paris, March 16.—Several warrants for the arrest of Anarchists have been issued. The lodgings of Louise Michel before her flight have been searched and a number of documents seized.

SOCIALIST MEETING.

Geneva, March 16.—The Socialists have convoked a public meeting for Sunday, the 18th, when they intend making a grand demonstration.

BANISHED.

London, March 16.—A man who recently fired at the coat-of-arms on the Austrian embassy at Rome has been banished for three years.

HOTEL ON FIRE.

Albany, March 17.—Early this morning a fire broke out in the kitchen of the Delan House. The smoke rapidly filled the house. The most of the 106 guests fled from their rooms panic stricken, and half clad. In half an hour the flames were subdued and the guests returned. Damage $1,000; fully insured.

A NEW THEORY.

London, March, 16.—The Pall Mall Gazette says:—In many maps of London the Local Government Board office is marked as the Home Office, and it is thought the attempt to blow up the former building was make with the idea that it was the latter, Sir William Harcourt, Home Secretary, being very obnoxious to the Fenians.

A REWARD OFFERED.

London, March, 16.—The Government offers a reward of £1,000 for the discovery of the authors of the explosion.

OPINION IN DUBLIN.

Dublin, March, 16.—The Evening Telegraph charges the London press, especially the Times, with endeavouring to excite mob violence against the Irish. The Mail hopes the London public will not jump to any rash conclusion as to the authorship of the explosion. It says atheists and Socialists are as likely to commit such outrages as Invincibles or Fenians.

THE INDIAN BUDGET.

Bombay, March 16.—The Indian Budget fully discusses the competition of Indian with American wheat in the London market. The Budget report says India, though at great disadvantage in regard to internal communication, has a great advantage through free trade. The railway rates from the North to Bombay will be immediately reduced 18½ per cent., which is equivalent to a reduction in the price of wheat of a shilling and sixpence per quarter in the London market. The report anticipates a reduction of rates on other rates directly interested.

AMERICAN.

ROSSA SPEAKS.

New York, March 16.—O'Donovan Rossa says:—"The explosion in London was caused by dynamite. It was intended to do all the damage possible, and it was done to show England that she had better give Ireland her own Parliament. England is at war with Ireland, and Ireland should be at war with England."

SAVAGE BOXING MATCH.

New York, March 16.—A boxing match took place last night at an entertainment for the benefit of Jim Elliott's mother between Nick Murphy, pedestrian, and Jim Fox. There was bad blood between the contestants. They fought savagely, and finally Murphy knocked Fox senseless. It was at first thought that Fox's neck was broken. Murphy left the hall. Fox afterwards recovered. There were a number of police present.

CHINA RETALIATING.

Washington, March 17.—It is stated that in retaliation for the passage of the anti-Chinese bill the Chinese Government is adopting every means to drive Americans from the Empire. Onerous restrictions are placed upon their business and new enterprises are entirely prohibited if conducted by Americans.

Gaining a World Wide Reputation.

About 150,000 bottles of medicine and 3000 Spirometers, the invention of M. Souvielle of Paris and ex-aide surgeon of the French army, have been used by physicians and patients during the last year for the cure of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma, consumption in its first stages and many diseases of the head, throat and lungs. Consultations with any of the surgeons belonging to the institute free. Poor people showing certificates can have spirometers free. Among others present was Patrick O'Meara, representative of the Irish Societies in Montreal. There was a large number of spectators along the route of the procession. Solemn pontificial mass was celebrated at St. Patrick's Cathedral and a panegyric delivered. There was no parade in Brooklyn.

EXTRADITION.

Washington, March 17.—The Secretary of State is preparing for the promulgation of an extradition treaty between Spain and the United States, to which important clauses will be added by the supplemal treaty made last summer and recently ratified by the Senate.

A MISTAKE CORRECTED.

Newport, R. I., March, 17.—The woman who tried to sell a watch belonging to Miss Weaver was not Kate Judd, the alleged incendiary. The watch has been restored to the owner. It is claimed that it was found in the ruins of the Villa.

NOT "NUMBER ONE."

New York, March 17.—Capt. Aylward denies that he is "No. one," as intimated in a Denver despatch.

THE STAR ROUTE CASES.

New York, March 17.—The Times' Washington despatch says that the cross-examination of Brady has been much more effective than some of the spectators may suppose. Bliss is presistent and tireless and has drawn out many statements and exposed many inconsistencies which will be used with force in the argument. He has of necessity dealt almost exclusively with the record of the evidence and the points he has made against the witness can be fully appreciated only by those who have studied the case.

WHISKEY BOND BILL.

Washington, March 17.—It is thought that the predictions of financial disasters because of the failure of Congress to pass the whiskey bond debt are not likely to be fulfilled, as only about half the amount of fine whiskies required for consumption for the year ending May 1st will be enforced out of bond.

GERMANS AND AMERICAN PORK.

Washington, March 17.—The State Department correspondence shows that there is no proof in Germany that American pork caused the disease. The State Department invites the German Government to send competent persons to this country to investigate the hog question, but this has not been done. It is thought that the next Congress may consider measures prohibiting the importation of German products.

THE TARIFF CHANGES.

New York, March 17.—The Times' Washington despatch says that the new tax and tariff law must reduce the Treasury's estimated surplus to the extent of ten to fifteen millions. The indications are that the Secretary cannot safely call more bonds to be redeemed out of the surplus without drawing upon the cash in the Treasury. It is thought at the department that anticipating the interest on the bonds maturing on May 1st would not have the effect of reducing the money market, because bonds would not be promptly presented for redemption.

TENNESSEE ROBBED.

Nashville, March 17.—The Legislative Committee report that during the administration of four State Treasurers since 1865, the State has suffered heavy loss by defalcations and otherwise. The committee recommends legislation to prevent the robbing of the state. The committee has been unable to discover the person connected with Polk in his embezzlements.

RICH MAN ARRESTED.

Boston, March 17.—Otis Randall, a broker, reported to be worth a million and a half, was arrested yesterday on a charge of purchasing stolen postage stamps from office boys at low figures.

SATURDAY, MARCH 17, 1883.

THE GOVERNMENT CREAMERIES.

The more the subject of the proposed Government Creameries is discussed, the more apparent will it become that it would be well for Mr. Mowat and his colleagues to hasten slowly with their erection and equipment.

Although we were taken to task at the time for an article which appeared in these columns, a few weeks ago, pointing out that this project had been undertaken without that previous investigation and consideration necessary to render it a success, and in a manner indicating that political considerations had more to do with its inception than the interests of butter makers, yet we have no hesitation in reiterating that opinion, in view of the fact that the little discussion that has already taken place on the subject has only served to develop the difference of opinion which exists, not with regard to the general propriety of the measure, but with regard to the kinds of creameries and appliances best calculated to promote the object aimed at.

As a result of our own article on the subject we have been favoured with some very important information with regard to this matter by Prof. S. M. Barre of the Quebec Government Dairy School, and who, we may mention, has personally investigated the Danish Dairy System. Mr. Barre writes calling our attention to the centrifugal system of separating the cream from the milk. This system, we may state, consists in the use of a rapidly revolving cylinder, for the separation of the cream from the milk. Cream being of less specific gravity than milk, and the action of centrifugal force being to throw the heaviest materials furthest from the centre, the separation is accomplished entirely by it. Mr. Barrie summarizes the advantages to be derived from the use of this system, as follows:—

1st. The transportation of milk but once a day, which so far had been considered impossible in our butter factories. The cost of transportation of milk is thus decreased by half.

2nd. A great saving of time before skimming. By the old method, the milk requires 36 hours setting before skimming. By this new system 10,000 lbs. of milk will yield its cream in 4 or 5 hours, and farmers can carry back their skimmed milk at once.

Here again is a saving of temperature as well as of time. The longer the milk has to remain in the creamery the greater is the risk from the various contingencies to which it is exposed, and in proportion as it is quickly rendered marketable and passed out of dairymen's hands, are they lessened.

3rd. More thorough skimming and greater yield. From a report of Prof. Fjord dated October 18th 1882, we find the results of experiments conducted by the Danish government during the year 1881 and 1882. We make the following extract.

The principal aim of Prof. Fjord has been to compare the butter yield of the six different systems. "The centrifugal," "Ice 10 hours," "Ice 24 hours," "Water 50°, "Fahrt" 34 hours." The pan system 34 hours, and the "churning of milk."

1881 & 1882.	PROPORTION OF BUTTER YIELD.
	Ice 10 hours.	Ice 34 hours.	Water at 50 Fahr. 34 hrs.	Pans 34 hours.	Centrifugal.	Churned Milk.
April	93·1	100	81·1	102·9	112·	107·7
May	92·2	100	81·7	97·5	111·3	98·2
June	94·6	100	86·8	96·4	109·6	95·6
July
August	94·8	100	86·5	97·7	109·2	101·2
September	94·7	100	84·1	97·5	111·6	108·0
October	92·4	100	81·8	102·9	117·6	113·6
November	91·5	100	77·5	99·0	120·2	115·1
December	92·0	100	79·1	101·9	119·6	116·0
January	92·3	100	79·7	100·9	118·0	110·9
February	92·4	100	88·4	101·2	116·2	110·3
March	93·1	100	78·7	100·5	114·	108·
	92·1	100	81·9	99·6	114·6	107·2

From this table, we see that the gain of the centrifugal system during 12 months, has been 23 per cent over "Ice 10 hours," 14 per cent over "Ice 34 hours," 41 per cent over "Water "churning of milk" and 14 per cent over the 50° Fahrt. 34 hours," 7 per cent over the "Pan system."

The churning of milk comes next to the centrifugal, as far as obtaining quantity. But chemical analysis showed that butter obtained by the churning of milk, contained more "Foreign matter," than butter made by the other systems.

In our centrifugal dairy at St. Mary (Beauce) we obtained 12 per cent more butter than the greater number of factories running on the pan system.

4th. Centrifugal allows of the acidulation of the cream being brought under control. This is one of the most important points in butter making and the only means of producing at will a butter sure to keep.

It is also the means of obtaining cream of uniform ripeness, and thus enabling us to churn it equally clean.

5th. The butter is purer and of better quality.

The centrifugal extracts from the milk, from the cream, and consequently from the butter a large amount of impurities, which adhere to the sides of the apparatus and which old methods could not remove. Few things absorb impurities and even odors more easily than milk and cream, and if the milk and cream are allowed to stand with all the impurities which are revealed by the centrifugal, their delicacy must necessarily be impaired, and the delicacy of the butter also.

An important fact lately developed by Dr. Sturtevant is its (butter made from cream separated by the centrifugal) melting point being remarkably high, 98 Fahrt. The melting point of ordinary butter being 94° Fahrt.

The same reasons as mentioned above in regard to the butter apply to the skim milk and render it remarkably sweet and nice, so that it commands a higher price in the market than the ordinary article.

6th. A great saving of water and ice.

Water is used for washing butter and for cleaning purposes only.

As the best results from the centrifugal are obtained when the milk is used soon after milking, the saving of ice is very great. As the amount of cream obtained averages about 15 per cent of the milk, and as by this method nothing but the cream need be cooled it is evident that there will be a saving of 85 per cent of the ice used in a creamery, where the ice system is employed. This alone renders the machine an invaluable one.

7th. As the plant necessary for a successful creamery is expensive, economy is an important factor. By separating the cream immediately on receipt of milk, all room necessary for vats or pans is saved, except for a small vat for heating milk and a cream vat.

The space necessary for the centrifugal is very small, not more than 4x8 feet for the large size machine. The expense of maintenance is also greatly reduced by doing away with the pans and other appurtenances now necessary."

As usual there seem to be several kinds of these separators made in Denmark, and one is now being manufactured by a Philadelphia firm, and Mr. Barre gives us the result of certain tests made between the rival Danish machines conducted by a Professor of the Royal Agricultural College of that country, but we need not trouble the reader with the result of these tests at this stage of this discussion. We may, however, mention that the Danish machines have attached to them a "controller," which shows exactly the quantity of cream contained in the milk sent by each patron, thus enabling the factories to pay for quality as well as quantity.

In addition to the information so kindly volunteered by Mr. Barre, we find in the January number of Chambers' Magazine for the current year a favourable notice of the Danish centrifugal system, in an article on England's milk supply, and in which it is asserted that "the butter, skim-milk and butter-milk yielded by this process are perfectly fresh and of first rate quality." This, if not so enthusiastic as Mr. Barre's statement, "that any one wishing to erect a creamery or butter factory will certainly miss it if he adopts any other system," is yet of such a character as to materially strengthen the claims put forth by Mr. Barre in its behalf, and to justify us in calling for a thorough enquiry into the whole subject before the Province commits itself to any one of the several modes which are open for adoption, and each of which has its advocates.

In his letter to us, Mr. Barre makes a suggestion which we think will commend itself to every one. He says:—"I consider that the best mode of reaching the largest number and doing the most good, would be to give a bonus of say $1,000 to a certain number of factories started in a certain number of counties, for buildings put up of a certain quality and standard, equiped with certain machinery and so arranged that for a small nominal sum students who wish to learn dairying would be able therein to obtain the necessary knowledge," —a suggestion which seems to us to be at once more practical, more beneficial and more business-like than that approved of by the Ontario Legislature during its last session, and one which it is to be hoped may yet be adopted, seeing that the political necessity for immediate action which existed a few weeks ago now no longer exists.

MR. Blake has now dropped the half hearted pretensions of love for the National Policy to which he condescended for the purpose of entrapping votes before the last Dominion general election. In the House of Commons the other day he described the National Policy as a sham in name and fact, and a device to gain votes. That is where self-styled "Reformers" and "Liberals" are so far astray. They cannot see that our tariff policy is "national" in that is framed for the practical benefit of the country and not in accordance with the ideas of mere theorists, and still more that it is "national" in the sense of being repeatedly adopted by the people of Canada. These pretended "friends of the people" have a horror and contempt for popular opinion whenever they fail in manipulating it for their own purpose. Like the three tailors of Tooley street they think their little clique is the people.

THE Globe makes the strange but, as we believe, the true admission that some Deputy Returning officers in the recent Muskoka election refused to take the votes of large numbers of Conservative voters

PORT HOPE.

IRON WORKS.—The Times says that a malleable iron works is next on the tapis, and the proposed projectors of it will lay a proposition before the Council shortly for a bonus. At the special meeting of the Council, held here on Friday, the gentleman interested interviewed the Councillors personally, and received sufficient encouragement to formulate his scheme. The works will be on a small scale, and will have for its chief object the manufacture of staple articles in the harness trade. Although acquainted with the particulars of the proposed scheme we have been requested not to publish them till the scheme is more fully matured.

BOBCAYGEON.

MEASLES.—The Independent says that for some time measles have been prevalent in the south part of Verulam, and have lately appeared in the village. Several cases are reported but are of a mild character.

SHANTIES.—The work of the lumber shanties is drawing to a close. For some days numbers of teams have passed through on their way home from the woods. Their has been a very fair cut of logs, and the prospects are good for plenty of water for "driving."

An [illegible] Little Rebel.

When [illegible] Atlanta, General Meade [illegible] and visited the highest [illegible] of [illegible] society, and was a [illegible] guest at the house of Dr. L[illegible]. A bright, prattling little girl of five years, of a neighboring family, under the influence of her old nurse, had imbibed a mortal fear and hatred of the "terrible Yank." One evening at a social gathering [illegible] present, in a spirit of mischief, [illegible]:—"What are you?" "I'se a webel," was the quick reply. "Well, who's a Yank?" was the next question; and before anybody could interpose the child answered, "Old Meade." The good-natured General laughed heartily at this, and taking the child on his lap—for she was very found of him—told her that he was "Old Meade." The child, looking into his face, in an incredulous voice asked, "Is you Old Meade?" "I'm Old Meade!" Then followed a succession of screams as the child struggled to release herself, while the general was convulsed with laughter. Standing in the middle of the room, and looking the general straight in the face, her little form quivering with anger and excitement, she stamped her feet and said:—"I hate you, 'Old Meade,' I hate you!" Everyone present save the gallant soldier felt deeply mortified. He never failed to enquire after his little enemy, and would lend her [illegible]. She would meet him on the streets afterward, but could never be induced to address him [illegible] "How do you do, Old Meade?" Finally the little one's prejudice wore away, and meeting the soldier one day, in a meek voice, scarcely audible, saluted him, "How do you do, General?" "No, no," said Meade, "I'm only 'Old Meade!'" They eventually became very warm friends.—Nashville American.

MORE GRIT HYPOCRISY.

Mr. Rykert Further Explains the True Inwardness of the Famous Chicora Trip.

To the Editor of the St. Catharines Journal:

During the late campaign in Ontario, I took the opportunity of exposing the falsehoods of the Globe in connection with the now famous Chicora trip, and showed how despicably mean these self dubbed virtuous Reformers will act when driven into a corner, and how they invariably seek to justify their own misdoings by comparing their conduct with that of their predecessors in office. What better evidence can we have than that which appears in the journals of the Ontario House, where he sought to cover up the meanness of the corkscrew trip by examining the stewart who had been on the Chicora some twelve years previous, with a view to showing that Mr. Carling and members of the Legislature who accompanied him had consumed as much champagne as was paid for by the Province for the corkscrew trip. In order that the public may have some idea of the hypocrisy of these political nobodies who misrule Ontario, it may be well to reproduce some of the incidents of the Parliamentary trip on the Chicora in 1868. And here let me repeat that this trip was one organized with the consent of the representatives of the people in Parliament, while the corkscrew trip was organized in the private interest of the Reform Lieutenant Governor of Ontario, and a few of his select Reform friends.

In my former letter I stated that the Globe and Grit party not only approved of the Chicora trip as being in the interest of the public, but they refused to discuss the cost of the same when the account was presented to the House in the following session.

During the progress of the trip, when there was a feast of reason and a flow of soul, and at a time when those grand old Reformers, Hon. Archy McKellar and Hon. Alex. McKenzie, could no longer restrain their pentup feelings, toasts were the order of the day. At one of these convivial meetings, in response to the toast of the "Legislature of Ontario," that guileless old Reformer, Archibald McKellar, who claimed to be the father of the House, assigned to himself the duty of replying. In the paper of Oct. 6, 1868, I find the following report of his speech:—

"Mr. McKellar, in his usual fluent and capital style, among other things, said he thought the expenditure in regard to the trip was a wise one, and congratulated the Hon. John Carling on the great success which had attended it."

As a matter of courtesy, the health of the guests was proposed, and cheerfully and willingly that old war horse, the Hon. Alex. Mackenzie, M.P., responded, and is reported in the same paper:

"He said he quite concurred with the former speaker (Mr. McKellar) as to the success of the trip and the wisdom of the expenditure in regard to it."

And yet, in the face of these public utterances of the leaders of the Reform party, and their recognition of the wisdom of the expenditure in connection with the Chicora trip, there are to be found missionaries of the party mean enough to ridicule it.

But this is not all. Later on, and just outside of Collingwood harbor, another meeting was organized, at which were present the following defenders of Provincial Rights: Hon. Archibald McKellar, M.P.P. (now Sheriff of Wentworth); Hon. Alex. McKenzie, M.P., (ex-Premier of the Dominion); Moses Springer, M.P.P., (now Sheriff of Waterloo); Donald Sinclair, M.P.P., (now Registrar of Bruce); Peter Gow, M.P.P., (now Sheriff of Wellington); John Stevenson, M.P.P., (President Reform Association of Lennox); A. P. Cockburn, M.P.P., (one of the 9 martyrs, and now general dispenser of colonization money); R. McKim, M.P.P., H. D. Smith, M.P.P., J. S. Smith, M.P.P., Hon. John McMurrich, M.P.P., H. Finlayson, M.P.P.; John Eyre, M.P.P.; James Trow, M.P.P., (now Grit whip, House of Commons); A. Oliver, M.P.P.; H. Crosby, M.P.P.; S. S. Clark, M.P.P.; J. Craig, M.P.P.

At this meeting the following resolutions were unanimously passed:

"That we tender to the government of Ontario, especially to Hon. John Carling and the Hon. Stephen Richards, our thanks for having organized this trip which has combined so much information with great pleasure."

"That we respectfully urge on the Government of Ontario, as one of the results of that which we have seen, the improvement of the navigation of the Kaministiquia—the throwing open of the land on the north shores of Lake Superior—and the exercise of a liberal policy in the mineral districts in which we can look forward with the utmost confidence to the rapid settlement and development of the extensive and important region we have visited."

In no part of the very elaborate (published) report of that trip do I find that any of the above named Reform patriots complained of the superabundance of champagne and other luxuries, nor do I find that any suggestion was made by any of them, that the expenses of the same should be charged to their private account.

It is said that the piper who favored the company with such delightful music was engaged by the leading members of the Reform Party, which will account for the fact, (now for the first time disclosed to the public by the Grit member for Monck), that his services have not yet been paid for.

Yours truly,
J. C. RYKERT.

"Blood will tell." A face adorned with Pimples, Boils, Blotches &c., is not particularly pleasant sight, and invariably betokens an impure state of the Blood. Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters free the system from all gross humours, renders the Blood Pure and Cool, aids digestion and gives a healthy appetite. For sale by all Druggists in large Bottles at 50 cents.

The best known remedy for all affections of the Chest, Lungs or Throat is Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum. It is constantly used by thousands of persons suffering from the above diseases, and in nearly every instance it affords immediate relief. In cases of troublesome, tickling Cough, where the patient passes sleepless nights, one or two doses of the Syrup has such a quieting, soothing effect that rest ensues and the Cough speedily disappears. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

Oh, my Back!

Is there a miserable, weakening pain in the small of the back? Is urination painful? Do you have palpitation of the heart? Do strange, indescribable feelings creep up your back and sides? Does the least exertion weary you? Does your urine show brickdust or albuminous deposit? Does any sudden fright cause an intense, sharp pain in the small of your back? Do you have an aching in the groin? Is your memory impaired? Is your breath short? Are there shooting pains about your vitals? Are you becoming dropsical?

These are all symptoms of kidney diseases. Be on your guard against them. If let run it may end in Bright's Disease, which is sure death.

Your best course is to procure at once a bottle of SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS costing only 50c. It will cure any form of Kidney Complaint, except Bright's Disease, it will relieve the symptoms and defer the evil day sometimes indefinitely.

SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS is a medicine as harmless as water. The world has not seen its equal as a cure for diseases which attack the Kidneys and for the complaints to which females are alone liable. It is of more value than any medical compound known to the medical faculty.

Sold by all Druggists and at Depot 150 St. James St. West, Montreal, Price 50c.

Death at the Card Table.

FITS A Leading London Physician establishes an office in New York for the cure of EPILEPTIC FITS.

From Am. Journal of Medicine.

Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz. a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

The Great American Remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LOSS OF VOICE, HOARSENESS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS.

Prepared from the finest Red Spruce Gum. (Delicious Flavor.) Balsamic, Soothing, Expectorant and Tonic. Superior to any medicine offered for all the above complaints. A scientific combination of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce tree—without doubt the most valuable native Gum for Medicinal purposes.

Every one has heard of the wonderful effects of the Spruces and the Pines in cases of Lung Disease.

In France the physicians regularly send their consumptive patients to the pine woods and order them to drink a tea made from the Spruce tops.

GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM.

In this preparation the Gum never separates, and all its anti-spasmodic, expectorant, tonic, and balsamic properties are preserved.

This Syrup, carefully prepared at a low temperature, contains a large quantity of the finest picked Gum in complete solution.

Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large.

Sold by all respectable chemists. Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

The words "Syrup of Red Spruce Gum" constitute our Registered Trade Mark, and our wrapper and labels are also registered.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

A LITTLE ROGUE.

Grandma was nodding, I rather think ;
Harry was sly and quick as a wink ;
He climbed on the back of her great armchair,
And nestled himself very snugly there.
Grandma's dark locks were mingled with white.
And quick this little fact came to his sight ;
A sharp twinge soon she felt at her hair,
And woke with a start to find Harry there.
"Why, what are you doing, my child ?" she said,
He answered : "I'se pulling a basting fread ?"

Ladies who want Stylish patterns in Prints, should pay Munro & Alexander a visit. They are now showing the newest things in "Floral Effects," &c. Sateen Cloths in every desirable shade.

There is a strong feeling in favor of wool fabrics for spring wear, and nuns' veilings and vermicelli cloths are the most popular materials. Pink and blue are popular colours in prints, and some exceedingly pretty floral effects have been produced in this article. In cretonnes some exceptionally fine patterns are being shown this season, and these goods, on account of their extreme prettiness, are interfering with the sale of wool damasks and reps.

Housekeepers who intend purchasing Cretonnes would do well to examine the stock of these goods at Munro & Alexanders'. Their assortment of patterns is acknowledged to be the best in Peterborough.

The favorite shades during the coming summer will be frais ecroissés, acajou, terre cuite, mordore, and electric. There may be a few whom these terms will fail to enlighten as to the popular hues, and they will be pleased to learn that frais ecroissés is another name for crushed strawberries, that acajou is literally mahogany, and terre cuite is French for terra cotta. Crushed gooseberries or bruised lemon have not yet been heard of from Paris, but certainly crushed strawberries is a very pretty idea, and suggests something exceedingly sweet in the way of trimmings.

Munro & Alexander have several very desirable lines of Union and all Wool Dress Goods to hand. They will open out in a day or two a direct importation of Nun's Veilings, in all the newest shades including "Crushed Strawberries" and "Cream." Prices right.

Though not in these days generally cultivated, at least in Europe, the despised nettle was at one time, and that for several centuries, held in high honour and esteem throughout the world. In Kamschatka the fibres have long been used for fishing-lines; in France they have been made into paper ; in Hindustan and China, woven into so-called "grass cloth ;" and in Scotland and some parts of England the stalks have been dressed, spun, and woven into linen as good as that made from flax ; while the old German name for muslin, "nettle-cloth," shows that it must have been at one time extensively used for weaving purposes on the Continent.

Munro & Alexander are now showing a large stock of New Ducks and Denims. Strong Tweeds, Cotton Shirtings, Grey and White Cottons. Tickings and Table Linens.

Personal.

The Mail has the following item in regard to the death of Mr. James Duffy of Toronto, father of Mr. Frank H. Duffy, of the Railway Mail Service, who has friends and connections in this town, having married the daughter of Mr. Faucher.

"Mr. James Duffy, the well-known hotel-keeper, corner of Carlton and Church streets, died at his residence on Thursday morning. He had been ill for several weeks with typhoid fever and congestion of the lungs, and during the latter part of his illness suffered very much. Mr. Duffy was born in Enniskillen, county Fermanagh, Ireland, in 1823, and came to Canada in 1849. After spending some time in farming, he started a hotel in Toronto, in which business he has been ever since. Mr. Duffy was married in 1852. His wife died a couple of years ago. He had a family of two sons and four daughters. In politics he was a Conservative, and rendered good service to his party in St. James' ward. He was a man universally respected."

A MASQUERADE ON ICE.

A SKATING CARNIVAL ON THE PETERBOROUGH RINK.

Numerous and Beautiful Costumes—The List of the Masqueraders and the Prize Winners—A Large Attendance.

The fancy dress skating carnival on Friday evening was attended by a large number of spectators, and the number of fancy costumes worn on the ice was large, there being about seventy persons in costume in the rink. The Fire Brigade Band was present, and enhanced the pleasure of the evening by rendering many selections in their usual superb style. The galleries were well filled with the onlookers, and the curling ice on each side of the skating rink was used by the members of the Curling Club in playing a point game for a silver medal.

THE SCENE

was a brilliant one, as the skaters in their costumes circled around on the ice. It would take up too much space to particularize all the costumes, where there were so many, and so many, too, that by their excellence deserved special mention. However, the Dewdrop and Joan of Arc were among the prettiest, and the one contrasted with the beautiful representative of Winter, and the other had a gallant assistant in the Sergeant of the French Guard. The Daisy Queen was a "daisy" and queenlike, and the Pink of Perfection was no misnomer. The Snowshoers looked capable of withstanding cold weather in their comfortable looking and neat costumes, and the Queen of Hearts was a pretty costume, from which Wilkie Collins might get some suggestions as to how to adorn his heroine. The Queen was not alone, for there was also a King of Hearts, and hearts was trump. The stately and formidable Knight in Armour and the Prince of Denmark shared the admiration of the audience, and it must have given some trouble to the Judges to decide which was the better costume, but the gallant Knight carried off the prize from the melancholy Dane. It was proper that education should be represented, as it was by a Fair Girl Undergraduate and a University Student, and the 16th and 17th centuries were also represented by ladies of those periods. The Genius of the Sea was not afraid of the Fisherman, and those enemies, the Arab Chiefs and the French officers and Spy, and the Zulu Chief and the English soldiers did not quarrel, and even the fierce Red Man allowed the Yank to pass without making an attempt to seize his hair. The Navee Officer was an attraction, both to the audience and the young ladies on the ice, and æsthiticism was not forgotten, for an Æthetic Young Lady and Oscar Wilde were there. The Star of the Evening shone brightly and the Snowflake glistened in the light, and a Comet reminded one of the wonders of the heavens. The modern highway had its representatives in the Freight Department and Ticket Department of the Midland Railway, and the Irishman and English Soldiers and the Turk remembered the Crimea and were friendly. The Elizabethan Page was a splendid costume, and one of the best was the Zulu Chief, with his tiger skin shield, leopard skin robe and tigers teeth and claws for ornaments. The mountainous Scotland and Switzerland were well represented by a Highland Lassie and a Swiss Peasant, and the Flower Girls (although they were boys) looked pretty. The Polish Girl (from Lakefield, not Poland) had nothing to fear, as there was no Russian present, and the White Cat looked neat in her coat of fur. If Mrs. Langtry had seen the Jersey Lily no doubt she would have been flattered, and her great fear would then have been that Freddie might also see this new Lily. Mowat's Blizzard was not fierce looking although the costume was well got up, and its sweep would not be destructive. Mowat After the Siege was a worn out looking man, and showed too plainly what effect the anxiety occasioned by the siege had upon him. The Star Clown was very comical in appearance and actions, and the Unknown was perhaps the great unknown.

While the skaters still whirled around on the ice, the judges took their seats in order to view the costumes and

AWARD THE PRIZES.

The Judges were, Messrs. Robert Hall, Alex Elliott, J. J. Lundy and Andrew McNeil. After some time they picked out the costumes which their judgment told them merited the prizes and announced them. While looking for the lady in comic costume that should win the prize, the Judges were several times "sold" by calling young men to them and enquiring their names, but as soon as a reply was given they were allowed to pass on. There were no ladies present in what might properly be called comic costume, and the prize was awarded to a good costume. Three boys entered in the race for the watch and it was a close one. The following is the prize list :—

Lady in Costume.—Miss M. Fawcett, a silver jewel case.

Gentleman in Costume.—Mr. Wm. R. Turner, a calendar alarm clock.

Lady in Comic Costume.—Miss Hall, a silver card receiver.

Gentleman in Comic Costume.—Mr. George H. Kirby, a silver napkin ring.

Quarter Mile Race (for Boys.)—Master Edwy Stratton, a hunting case watch.

THE CHARACTERS.

The following is as complete a list of those in costumes as could be obtained, and it shows that there was a large number in costume and that the most of them were of a superior class. The comic was not very largely represented, and was much better than it usually is :—

A Startling Discovery.

Physicians are often startled by remarkable discoveries. The fact that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and all Throat and Lung diseases is daily curing patients that they have given up to die, is startling them to realize their sense of duty, and examine into the merits of this wonderful discovery, resulting in hundreds of our best Physicians using it in their practice. Trial Bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's Drug Store. Regular size $1.00.

Answer This Question.

Why do so many people we see around us seem to prefer to suffer and be made miserable by Indigestion, Consumption, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Coming up of the Food, Yellow Skin, when for 75 cts., we will sell them Shiloh's Vitalizer, guaranteed to cure them. For sale by D. J. Tully

Fortunately Valvular disease of the heart is not very common, its disturbed action may be due to indigestion, liver irregularities &c. A Stomach disturbed with wind, or indigestable food will cause pain and fluttering by crowding on the nerves of the heart. Burdock Blood Bitters will speedily remedy all such difficulties.

Mr. Thomas W. Rack, Editor and Proprietor of the Mitchell Recorder, writes that he had a prejudice against Patent Medicines, but being induced to try Burdock Blood Bitters, for Billiousness that occasioned such violent headache and distress as to often disable him from work. The medicine gave him relief, and he now speaks of it in the most favorable terms.

H. C. ROGERS Postmaster.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic ; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Sold by Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world. Prepared by Jas. Rorke, London. Specially valuable Pills for residents abroad and travellers.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d. ; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

AN EXCITING BEAR HUNT.

How a Bruin was Captured in the Streets of the Town.

A chase after a bear is a very unusual thing in the streets of a populous and civilized town, and is certainly unprecedented in the history of Peterborough. But a very exciting bear hunt took place in the heart of the town on Saturday night last, the 17th of March. On that evening a lady and gentleman were going home, at about half past nine, and at the corner of Water and Brock streets they noticed on the opposite side of the street. They supposed it to be a drunken man, and another gentleman coming up, the two men started towards the supposed unfortunate to assist him. But the object stirred, and commenced to move away. "It is a beaver," said one, but as the object of attention rose out of the ditch, and its proportions became more distinct, the startling exclamation was that

AN OBJECT IN A DITCH

IT WAS A BEAR.

One of the gentlemen called for a rope to lasso it, and the lady, frightened by the statements of the men, ran to a house near by and startled the occupants. But a rope would not be a fit weapon with which to attack so formidable an enemy, and a run was made to an hotel, the proprietor of which, together with several more, joined the party, armed with a gun, an axe, a bar of iron and other weapons. The bear proceeded up the gravel walk by the Court House green, going over the ground by making hops. The party followed and were assisted by a canine quadruped. The bear evidently noticed that he was pursued, for he stopped at the fence, and "he is climbing the fence," was the cry of those ahead. But again the bear proceeded, and his next pause was made at a shade tree, which it appeared that he was trying to ascend. Again he proceeded, and up towards the central school the hunting party was led. The

EXCITEMENT RAN HIGH

as the foremost of the hunters, an engineer, was closing upon him, having discarded his coat in order to be free to run after and to close with the bear. The dog which accompanied the hunters several times came close to the animal, but a snap from it freed it from the little tormentor, and made the sportsmen more eager to reach it. Finally bruin again paused at a fence and

STOOD AT BAY,

but the hunters were not frightened. The foremost one sprang upon him, and held him fast. The struggle was of short duration. It was a silk umbrella! and the result of the fight was that its ribs were terribly broken. It had been carried along by the wind, and two broken ribs, which were moved by the wind, was the mouth that snapped at the dog. And now, dear reader, be careful to whom you speak of this bear hunt, for peradventure you might speak of it to one of the party, and unpleasantness might result therefrom.

The Storm.

A heavy snow storm raged all day on Sunday and commenced again this morning. The noon Midland train was two hours late in consequence, although a snow plough was run over the track from Port Hope to Lakefield, and the Grand Junction train had not arrived at three o'clock.

HEAVY STORM IN SCOTLAND.

LONDON, March 19.—Saturday's gale in the north of Scotland was accompanied by extraordinary snow storms and extensive drifts. At Macduff considerable damage was done. It is reported that a number of boats were driven from their moorings in Findon Harbor and wrecked. Large quantities of wreckage was washed ashore on the coast of Aberdeenshire. The heavy snowfall in North Wales and the Midlands materially interfered with traffic. Scotland is almost entirely blockaded. The passenger trains from Inverness to Perth stuck in a drift on Friday night. There were no trians on Saturday. The intense frost seriously retarded every department of agriculture.

ATTEMPT TO STIR UP MUTINY.

PARIS, March 19.—The riotous meeting of Socialists in Brasserie des Pagues, reported in a despatch yesterday, was held in Geneva, not Paris. The only serious symptoms in France yesterdad of socialistic activity was an attempt to seduce soldiers stationed at Rheims by throwing over the wall of the barracks, placards giving directions for blowing up of public buildings. Nine persons were arrested.

EVIDENCE BROKEN DOWN.

VIENNA, March 19.—The evidence in the charge of high treason against the Socialists on trial here has broken down.

PARNELL IN PARIS.

PARIS, March 19.—Parnell spent Sunday in company with Clemenceau and Henri Rochefort.

AMERICAN.

ROSSA DID NOT DO IT.

NEW YORK, March 19.—It is stated that leading Irishmen in New York, members of the Land League and various other societies, disbelieve the assertion that Rossa and his gang planned and executed the recent explosion in London.

A MOTHER'S SUICIDE.

ST. LOUIS, March, 19.—Caroline Frank, wife of a merchant who suicided two years ago, drowned herself on Saturday evening while intoxicated. Her husband left $20,000, nearly all of which she squandered. She leaves a house and lot and six children.

CARRIED AWAY ON ICE.

ST. PAUL, March 19.—Despatches from points on the Upper Missouri and Yellowstone Rivers indicate that the ice is going out quietly without the destructive gorges and floods anticipated earlier. Glendive reports say that the Yellowstone broke while three men were crossing, and when last seen they were floating down the river on the ice. They are supposed to be Dougherty, late sergeant of the Seventh Infantry, a mail carrier called Shorty, and F. Codd.

A HUMAN RAT CATCHER.

PHILADELPHIA, March 19.—Wm. Lewis, colored, tried on Saturday to pick up with his bare hands and arms and place in a barrel one hundred live rats in an hour for a wager of $200. Rats were thrown into a small enclosure. Lewis picked up eighty rats, but did not try to pick up the remainder for lack of time. He was bitten thirteen times, once on the lip.

THE TREASURY RESERVE.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—It is stated that the Treasury reserve available for the redemption of United States notes now amounts to 40 per cent., which it is deemed necessary to maintain. It was three million less on the 15th of March.

SITTING BULL TO BE RELEASED.

ST. PAUL, March 19.—Fort Randall advices state that the government has decided to release Sitting Bull and one hundred and forty braves from military custody. They will be taken on May 1st from Fort Randall and placed upon the reservation of Standing Rock agency. There are no indications of future trouble with the chieftain and his band, who profess an earnest desire for a life of peace and industry in agriculture and stock raising.

MORMON MISSIONARIES.

CHATTAWOOGA, March 19.—A presiding elder of the Mormon Church is here arranging for the emigration of converts to Utah. There are now ninety missionaries in the South and he says the annual number of converts is 7,000. There will be 150 emigrants next week.

ELOPMENT.

CORTLAND, March 19.—Mrs. Bostwick, wife of the Sheriff of Cortland county, eloped with Chas. Young, a carriage painter, having first sold all the furniture in the house. She abandoned two children.

AN UNUSUAL CASE.

DE RUYHER, N.Y., March 19.—The vitality of Justice Haight, who was mysteriously shot while in bed, is regarded as phenomenal. He was shot twenty days ago and the ball remained in his brain. He takes very little nourishment, and is irrational most of the time. It is said that the records show no case where with such a wound death has been so long postponed.

THE MODE OF RELIEF.

DUBLIN, March 19.—MacEvilly, Archbishop of Tuam, replying to the Lord-Lieutenant on behalf of the Catholic Bishops of Ireland, writes that the action of the Government insisting on extending relief to the distressed people through the workhouse is an outrage on humanity, and a covert system of exterminating the native race. Archbishop Croke contributed £50 to a testimonial fund for Parnell.

STABBED HIMSELF.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 19.—Persilieff, formerly director of the post office, has again stabbed himself. The wounds are more serious than at the first attempt to commit suicide.

COUNTERFEIT MONEY.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The number of counterfeiters have increased manifold since the metal currency resumed circulation, and the amount of base money now current is much greater than before that resumption.

SEVERE STORM.

CHICAGO, March 19.—The storm continues. The cold belt extends over the entire northwest. Considerable damage to property has been done at Milwaukee, Wakegan and other parts on the east shore of Lake Michigan. The change is expected to do serious damage to wheat sowing.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTASIVES,
Washington, D.C., Feb. 19, '82.

GENTLEMEN,—Inclosed find $1, and will you send me some of N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsomic Elixir by express. I have a bad cold, as has almost every one else here, but cannot find the Elixir, which I used frequently at home and consider a most valuable medicine; in fact, the very best remedy for a cold that I ever used.

A DASTARDLY ATTACK.

LADY FLORENCE DIXIE'S LIFE ATTEMPTED BY MASKED MEN.

They Strike at Her With Daggers—Defended by a Dog—The Affair a Mystery—Her Opinion of the Origin of the Attack.

LONDON, March 18.—Lady Florence Dixie was attacked at Windsor yesterday by two men disguised in women's clothes. Her dress was cut with daggers, but she received no injury. Lady Florence was walking in a secluded spot in the woods when two men asked her what time it was. She replied that she had no watch and afterwards noticed that, though they wore women's clothes, their faces had been shaved. Much alarmed, she started to walk away, followed by the men, one of whom seized her. She struggled to escape, but, seeing their daggers, fell in a swoon. This occurred at 4 p.m., and she did not recover her senses until 4.45. Lady Florence has been prostrated today. The story of the affair was elicited from her only at intervals. The saving of her life is attributed to a St. Bernard dog, which it is supposed protected her while she lay in the swoon. Lady Florence had no reason to suspect immediate danger, although she has been somewhat fearful since the receipt of letters about the Land League. The last thing she remembers is one man pushing a quantity of mud into her mouth. On her recovery she found that both her palms were cut across and her gloves severed; there were two inches apart, in the right breast of her dress and a broad steel corset rib was broken by the weapon, which penetrated to the inner lining of her dress at the first stroke, and her corset at the second. Lady Florence supposes she unconsciously struggled with the men, assisted by the dog, until the scoundrels were disturbed by a cart passing the woods. She received threatening letters while in Ireland lately. One of the men wore a green dress and a large hat with a veil. The veiled man attempted the assassination. No arrests have been made, but the police have a slight clue. It is believed the scoundrels were bitten by the dog in the struggle.

TWO DAGGER HOLES,

"MOST MYSTERIOUS."

LONDON, March, 19.—It is supposed that Lady Florence Dixie's dog followed her assailants some distance. The Queen requested the painting of the dog to be done for her. Lady Florence says:—"The whole affair is most mysterious. I can ascribe a motive to no one, as my sympathy for the Irish people has been openly avowed and is well known." She warmly repudiated the assumption that the crime was of Irish origin.

WITHIN SIGHT OF WINDSOR.

LONDON, March 19.—The boldness of the attack on Lady Florence Dixie is extraordinary, as it was committed close to a busy highway in open day and within sight of the towers of Windsor.

THE ASSAILANTS.

LONDON, March 19.—Lady Florence Dixie says her assailants spoke no brogue. She remembers seeing her dog drag one of them backwards.

PRESS OPINION.

LONDON, March 19.—The papers generally attribute the attack on Lady Florence Dixie to Irish malcontents.

THE COBOURG ROAD.

It is reported that an effort is being made by both the Canadian Pacific and the Grand Trunk Railway, to purchase the Kingston and Pembroke road. The Grand Trunk has got control of all the roads running into the interior which would give the Canadian Pacific an outlet but two, the one just mentioned above, and our own the Cobourg and Peterboroug line. While the Canadian Pacific is looking for an outlet to the waters of Ontario, we would suggest that it take under consideration this of ours. At a meeting of the ratepayers, a little over a year ago, the President of the road, Col. Chamblis, made a most liberal offer, which is no doubt open still, that he would give them one half interest in the road to Chemong Lake, if they would complete and equip it. So far as we can ascertain a comparatively small amount would be sufficient for this purpose—from two hundred to two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, being all that would be required to put the road in thorough working order, including the finishing of Rice Lake Bridge. We believe the charter extends to Parry Sound on the Georgian Bay, passing through Bobcaygeon and Fenelon Falls en route, and takes in a portion of country filled with timber and minerals, and which no road touches except the Canadian Pacific. The distance from Cobourg to navigable waters, beginning at the Chemong Lake, is only about thirty-seven miles, and the road is built north of Peterborough to that point. From there to Fenelon falls is some twenty-five miles, further to the terminus at Parry Sound, about the same distance. The road has right of way over the Midland and the Ontario and Quebec Railway at Peterborough.

Whether the Canadian Pacific Railway purchases our road or not, we believe it will yet become a highly remunerative line. The Dominion Government is rapidly making the Cobourg harbor a harbor of refuge, and one of the best east of Toronto, and having this outlet will tend greatly to enhance the value of a railway terminating at such an important point on Lake Ontario.—Sentinel-Star.

The Hum of Industry.

The St. Thomas Journal has an interesting account of the hum of industry at the Cochrane company's works there; and mentions that one year of the company's buisness with Manitoba alone foots up to $160,000. Our contemporary omits to add, however, that but for the N.P. all this buisness would have gone to Ohio, Illinios, and Minnesota instead of St. Thomas, in Ontario. And, further, that the Cochrane company is only one among a number more in the province that are now doing a heavy buisness with the North-west in agricultural implements, waggons, sleighs, &c., which buisness would most certainly have gone to the United States but for the N.P.

A PORTENTOUS THREAT.

THE Ottawa Free Press, the Reform organ at the Dominion capital, has the following suggestive paragraph:—

> "Mr. Mowat has a good working majority, and we are sure he knows how to exercise his power so as to increase it. Certainly, since this is a fight for life, every means for the preservation of life should be employed. As Davy Crockett once remarked—'When I fought that bear I used everything God gave me to kill him, for I knew if I didn't he'd kill me.'"

We are really curious to learn what unscrupulous means for the preservation of his (political) life Mr. Mowat can adopt in his present dire extremity, beyond those that he has previously used. He has already grasped at local patronage till the whole country swarms with his official electioneering agents. He has used the public funds to bribe constituencies by pretended expenditure upon colonization roads, a large portion going into the pockets of political bosses. He has prostituted his patronage for the purpose of corrupting the electors by dangling before their eyes promises of office for their friends or themselves—as in the case of the Peterborough registrarship. He has confiscated private property for the benefit of a partizan supporter, as in the case of McLaren and Caldwell. He has gone to the country with an incomplete Cabinet in order to hold out hopes to half a dozen constituencies that his candidate, if elected, would obtain a portfolio. He has made every possible appeal to sectional and denomination rivalries. He has gerrymandered the constituencies till his small legislative majority represents a popular minority.

We fail to see what further steps he can take to corrupt or unduly influence the electorate. He can hardly grasp more patronage, unless, as some of his friends and organs have advised, he usurps all our school appointments, and that would raise a storm about his ears. He can take no more private property for the Supreme Court and the Canadian government stand in his path. He must fill up vacant offices and expose the duplicity with which he has showered his promises. He must complete the list of his colleagues with the risk of having them defeated unless he takes them from the Reform "Home Park," just round Oxford, which certainly would not increase his popularity. His other old devices are about worn out, and it will be hard to find new ones to adopt.

The perservation of Mr. Mowat's (political) life may be very important to himself, and may lead him, as the Free Press suggests, to adopt desperate measures. But the country does not place the same value upon his political life and is prepared to resent rather than to favour any reckless means for its perservation.

The truth is that the Mowat administration is doomed by the voice of its judges, the people of Ontario.

THE North Hastings Review repudiates in the strongest terms the accusation of the Belleville Ontario that the Review agreed to support Mr. Vankleek in return for government patronage, and plainly accuses the Ontario of sacrificing the reputation of its own party in order to gratify its personal spite.

"BIG PUSH."

The Globe editorially refers to Mr. J. A. Wilkinson, of Cobourg, as "big push Wilkinson." It is true that the late Hon. Geo. Brown took proceedings against Mr. Wilkinson for stating in the West Durham News that he had been informed by one J. B. Miller that Mr. Browne had spent $27,000 during the election contest in South Ontario in 1867; but why that fact should cause the Globe to call Mr. Wilkinson "big push" we are at a loss to discover. The "big push" letter, appealling to the Hon. John Simpson, the "mesmerizer of voters in batches" to be "one of six" to "come down handsomely" to aid the Toronto Grits in carrying the local elections, as they had spent all their spare money in aiding the out-counties, was written, not by Mr. John A. Wilkinson, of Cobourg, but by the Hon. George Brown, of Toronto. The cause that it was intended should be benefitted by responses to the "big push" appeal was not the Tory cause, but the cause of Gritism. Judge Wilson, on the bench in Toronto, said of the new historic document: "It is of course a plain demand for money, to oppose, it is said, the expenditure of the Government candidates at the Toronto elections, and it its an admission that the writer and those co-operating with him had expended their strength in other constituencies for a like purpose. It is a letter written for corrupt purpose to interfere with the freedom of elections. It is an invitation to the recipient, as one with some others and the writer, to concur in comitting the offence of bribery and corruption at the polls." The Globe would have displayed some discretion if it had not resurrected the "big push" matter by associating Mr. Wilkinson's name with it; but as it has been foolish enough to allude to it, it is just as well that it should be reminded of some of the facts of the case.—Ottawa Citizen.

ERIN GO BRAGH.

An Address by the Rev. Father Keating on the Eve of St. Patrick's Day.

The annual entertainment of the Emerald Club, under the auspices of His Lordship Bishop Jamot, was held this year in St. Peter's Cathedral on the eve of the festival of Ireland's Patron Saint. The cathedral was beautifully decorated with flowers and pictures appropriate to the occasion, and was crowded to the utmost extent, showing that the shamrock, no matter how long or how far transplanted from its native soil, still flourishes as bright and glorious as on the hillsides of old Tara.

The performance of the evening opened by an instrumental selection by Miss Lauder, organist, in a way that certainly reflected credit on this young lady's musical abilities. Miss Dunn followed with a solo, "The Harp," which was excellently rendered. The vocal talents possessed by Miss Dunn are certainly far above the average; but it remained to Miss Begley to carry off the palm of the evening. Never were the talesmanic words of "All Praise to St. Patrick" sung in so efficient a manner, or to so appreciative an audience. It was simply perfection in itself. We congratulate Miss Begley on her success, and the Saint Peter's choir in having as a member such a favoured "child of song." The chorus to this hymn was sung by the choir and, it is needless to say, was admirably executed.

Of course the principal feature of the evening's entertainment was the lecture delivered by the Rev. Father Keating. Although the rev. gentleman has been but a short time in Peterborough he has established such a reputation for eloquence as a lecturer that the audience were anxious for the treat that was in store for them, and it is needless to state that he justified the confidence they reposed in him. We are sorry that want of space prevents us from giving more than a limited sketch of the lecture.

The Rev. gentleman took for his text Matthew, 28 chap., 19th and 20th verses:—"Go ye therefore and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost; teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you; and behold I am with you always, even to the consummation of the world." These words were spoken by Christ under circumstances which give them a peculiar meaning. He remained forty days after His resurrection to instruct His disciples, during which period He addressed His apostles with these words. The law there given was never to be changed, but was to be taught to all ages and nations. God has willed that His doctrine should be taught by men and their successors, chosen by Him, and has filled their souls with great and peculiar graces. No saint has probably equalled St. Patrick, none certainly as an evangelizer. He compared him with St. Francis Xavier, who, hought assalous a deisciple of the Lord, never accomplished such magnificent results. The faith of the Irish race in whatever country, in whatever clime and subject to whatever persecution, famine or oppression, remains as pure to-day as when taught 1,400 years ago by St. Patrick to their Druid ancestors. His remarks to night were on the faith more than the history of St. Patrick and his children. To understand the strength of their faith it is necessary to understand the trials St. Patrick underwent to teach and the persecutions they have undergone to preserve it. He briefly but glowing sketched the history of St. Patrick from his infancy until his remains were consigned to an honored grave in the loved country of his adoption. He claimed that the Irish race must have been an intelligent and a moral one; intelligent, or they would not have turned to the light of instruction so readily; moral, or they would not have preserved it so pure and unsullied in the presence of so many temptations. Theirs was no heathen mythology which pandered to the sensual vices of a licentious age. No, their Drudical worships was the vent of moral soul purely searching for what is right. He referred to the prestage which Ireland had established for knowledge and science for centuries after the light of Christianity had dawned upon her shores, and retained until the barbaric hordes of the surrounding nations landed on her coasts, and robbed, with profane hands, those temples which were a source of instruction to Europe. He sketched and exemplified the war of the Roses. He showed how disastrous the turbulancy of those times had been to the Church of Rome by so occupying the feelings and the passions of the people that they had not time to attend to the moral welfare of their souls. He narrated the history of the Tudors, confining himself in those controverted points to historical truths and pointing to admitted facts as proofs of his statements. He alluded to Ireland's share in the history of the Commonwealth. No time, he thought, in the annals of the world has the hoof of oppression been placed so heavily on the breast of any suffering nation, as it was on Ireland by Cromwell and his soldiers. So great had been the persecution by this man that the hatred of his name seems to grow stronger as it is handed down from one generation to another. The treaty of Limerick next claimed his attention. He contended that the principles of this treaty, which had been entered into with good faith by the Irish, should have been observed, but on the contrary the opposite was the case, and he considered this as one of the greatest links in the chain of persecution which had been wrapped around Ireland, eating into her very vitals. The first concession ever granted to the Irish race had come to them from Canada, when, after the conquest of Quebec by the British, they were placed on the same footing and enjoying the same privileges as the French Canadians Catholics; but it was not until 1829, until the passing of O'Connell's Emancipation Bill, that the yoke was in any way removed from their galled shoulders.

He paid an eloquent tribute to the purity of Irish women, and showed that in no nation on the face of this earth was female virtue guarded so sacredly as among the Irish. He beautifully depicted the harmony of love and respect with which the Irish priests and their people are united. He exhorted them to cherish and preserve the memory of St. Patrick warm in their hearts, and that they and their children's children might remain pure and firm in their faith, in spite of all obstacles and temptations, was the blessings he wished them on this eve of the festival of Ireland's glorious saint.

The evening's entertainment was brought to a close by the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by his Lordship Bishop Jamot, assisted by Rev. Father Conway and Rev. Father Plante. The singing in connection with this imposing ceremony was rendered by the choir, which is a sufficient guarantee for its efficiency, especially the Ave Maria, which was sung by Miss Alice Delaney. This young lady possesses a voice of singular sweetness and well suited to the gravity of the occasion.

We would like to mention before closing this report that the Cathedral parish of Peterborough possesses in the persons of his Lordship Bishop Jamot, and the Rev. Fathers Conway and Keating three of the most indefatigable workers to be found in any Canadian diocese.

THE EAGLE TREES.

Great pines that watch the river go
Down to the sea all night, all day,
Firm-rooted near its ebb and flow,
Bowing their heads to winds at play,
Strong-limbed and proud, they silent stand,
And watch the mountains far away,
And watch the miles of farming land,
And hear the church bell tolling slow.

They see the men in distant fields
Follow the furrows of the plough;
They count the loads the harvest yields,
And fight the storms with every bough,
Beating the wild winds back again.
The April sunshine cheers them now;
They eager drink the warm spring rain,
Nor dread the spear the lightning wields.

High in the branches clings the nest
The great birds build from year to year;
And though they fly from east to west,
Some instinct keeps this eyrie dear
To their fierce hearts; and now their eyes
Glare down at me with rage and fear;
They stare at me with wild surprise,
Where high in air they strong-winged rest.

Companionship of birds and trees!
The years have proved their friendship strong;
You share each other's memories,
The river's secret and its song,
And legends of the country side;
The eagles take their journeys long,
The great trees wait in noble pride
For messages from hills and seas.

I hear a story that you tell
In idleness of summer days;
A singer that the world knows well
To you again in boyhood strays;
Within the stillness of your shade
He rests where flickering sunlight play,
And sees the nests the eagles made,
And wonders at the distant bell.

His keen eyes watch the forest growth,
The rabbit's fear, the thrushes' flight;
He loiters gladly, nothing loath
To be alone at fall of night.
The woodland things around them taught
Their secrets in the evening light,
Whispering some wisdom to his thought
Known to the pines and eagles both.

Was it the birds who early told
The dreaming boy that he would win
A poet's crown instead of gold?
That he would fight a nation's sin?—
On eagle wings of song would gain
A place that few might enter in,
And keep his life without a stain
Through many years, yet not grow old?

And he shall be what few men are,
Said all the pine trees, whispering low;
His thought shall find an unseen star;
He shall our treasured legends know;
His words will give the way-worn rest
Like this cool shade our branches throw;
He, lifted like our loftiest crest,
Shall watch his country near and far.

BELLEVILLE.

PLEURO-PNEUMONIA.—The Intelligencer says that an epidemic of catarrhal disease is prevalent here. Pleuro-pneumonia is the affection and young children are its victims. No fatal cases are reported in the city, though it is said in the vicinity of the village of Thomasburg several who were attacked by it have died.

LINDSAY.

SHOULDER DISLOCATED.—The Post says that a Mr. Myers from Manvers had his shoulder dislocated by being thrown out of his cutter near the Riverside cemetery. The cutter was upset while being dragged over one of the worst pitch-holes on the road. The sufferer was brought to Bannan's hotel and surgical aid called in to re-set the injured limb.

THE NEW RAILWAY BRIDGE.—Work on the piers and abutments of the new bridge for the Midland through line has been going on, despite the severe weather, for the last three weeks. The contractors, McNeely & Walters, have taken advantage of the ice on the river to push forward the putting in of the coffer-dams. Channels were cut in the ice of sufficient width and the foundation for the coffer-dams dredged out. The structures were then sunk down to the bed rock and the space between the inner and outer frames of the coffer-dams puddled with clay. As soon as the weather moderates the dams will be pumped out, and when the stone can be brought from the quarries the work of building the piers will commence.

NORWOOD.

CONTRACT AWARDED.—The Register says that Mr. David Nelson, of Hastings, has been awarded the contract for the erection of the Asphodel town hall at Westwood.

NEW SCHOOL BUILDINGS.—The chairman of the School Board recieved instructions at the meeting of the Board held on Friday evening last, to convene a meeting of the ratepayers of the section at as early a date as possible, in order to learn their views in reference to erecting new school buildings.

RUNAWAY AND COLLISION.—On Monday afternoon last a team belonging to Mr. D. McDonald, and attached to a wood sleigh, became frightened while standing in front of McGregor's Hotel and ran at a furious pace down Peterboro' St. When opposite J. D. Ackerman's store they collided with another vehicle, smashing both rigs to smithereens, and throwing No. 1 team on the ground. No. 2 then started, and succeeded in demolishing the small balance of sleigh attached to it. By this time quite a crowd had gathered and as one team had been placed hors de combat and the other had disappeared, something had to be done to keep up the excitement. An enterprising youth, taking in the situation at a glance, immediately arranged a dog-fight, and when our reporter left there was no less than eight "brace" of sturdy dogs engaged in a war of extermination. All the scene required to make it resemble a miniature bedlum was a brace or two of cats.

From Am. Journal of Medicine.

Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John St., New York.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz. a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

A LITTLE ROGUE.

Grandma was nodding, I rather think;
Harry was sly and quick as a wink;
He climbed on the back of her great armchair,
And nestled himself very snugly there.
Grandma's dark locks were mingled with white.
And quick this little fact came to his sight;
A sharp twinge soon she felt at her hair,
And woke with a start to find Harry there.
"Why, what are you doing, my child?" she said,
He answered: "I'se pulling a basting fread!"

Ladies who want Stylish patterns in Prints, should pay Munro & Alexander a visit. They are now showing the newest things in "Floral Effects," &c. Sateen Cloths in every desirable shade.

There is a strong feeling in favor of wool fabrics for spring wear, and nuns' veilings and vermicelli cloths are the most popular materials. Pink and blue are popular colours in prints, and some exceedingly pretty floral effects have been produced in this article. In cretonnes some exceptionally fine patterns are being shown this season, and these goods, on account of their extreme prettiness, are interfering with the sale of wool damasks and reps.

Housekeepers who intend purchasing Cretonnes would do well to examine the stock of these goods at Munro & Alexanders'. Their assortment of patterns is acknowledged to be the best in Peterborough.

The favorite shades during the coming summer will be frais ecroissais, acajou, terre cuite, mordore, and electric. There may be a few whom these terms will fail to enlighten as to the popular hues, and they will be pleased to learn that frais ecrossais is another name for crushed strawberries, that acajou is literally mahogany, and terre cuite is French for terra cotta. Crushed gooseberries or bruised lemon have not yet been heard of from Paris, but certainly crushed strawberries is a very pretty idea, and suggests something exceedingly sweet in the way of trimmings.

Munro & Alexander have several very desirable lines of Union and all Wool Dress Goods to hand. They will open out in a day or two a direct importation of Nun's Veilings, in all the newest shades including "Crushed Strawberries" and "Cream." Prices right.

Though not in these days generally cultivated, at least in Europe, the despised nettle was at one time, and that for several centuries, held in high honour and esteem throughout the world. In Kamschatka the fibres have long been used for fishing-lines; in France they have been made into paper; in Hindustan and China, woven into so-called "grass cloth;" and in Scotland and some parts of England the stalks have been dressed, spun, and woven into linen as good as that made from flax; while the old German name for muslin, "nettle-cloth," shows that it must have been at one time extensively used for weaving purposes on the Continent.

Munro & Alexander are now showing a large stock of New Ducks and Denims. Strong Tweeds, Cotton Shirtings, Grey and White Cottons. Tickings and Table Linens.

Daily Evening Review

MONDAY, MARCH 19, 1883.

The Cells.

The police cells were occupied on Saturday night by five tramps and on Sunday night by two. No arrests were made.

Fishing Party.

A party of five men have gone from Peterborough to Stony Lake, taking with them a camp and camping utensils, to engage in fishing on the ice on that Lake.

Piano Tuning.

Mr. George Gumpricht, tuner for Messrs. Mason & Risch, Toronto, will be in town for a short time. Orders left at Mr. T Menzies' bookstore will be promptly attended to.

A Runaway.

On Saturday evening a horse with a cutter attached ran up George street from below Charlotte street to the north end of the street. At the time of the runaway the street was filled with rigs, but it passed through among them without doing any damage, and made towards its stable. When it arrived near its stable the cutter upset and the horse was caught, no damage being apparent.

Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Martin, of Dalhousie street, on Saturday evening celebrated the twentieth anniversary of their wedding day by giving an evening party, at which a large number of their friends were entertained to an oyster supper. The 17th of March is also the natal day of their youngest child, which made it an anniversary of double domestic importance.

Personal.

We find the following reference in the Port Hope Times to a gentleman who has relatives in this town:—

"We were greatly pleased to meet Major George W. Hatton, (son of the late Mr. S. Hatton of this town), a native of Port Hope, in Toronto on Tuesday last. Major Hatton left Port Hope seventeen years ago, and has had a varied experience, having filled a responsible position in a large hardware establishment in Montreal for some time, and afterwards going to the North-West and establishing a cattle ranch. He has travelled the prairies so much that he is now familiar with nearly every trail, and is at present fitting out an expedition in Toronto with everything necessary for carrying out the operations of a wealthy company about to open a large cattle ranch in the Rocky Mountain region."

Railway Notes.

Whilst Henry Brigden, of Hungerford, and his son were crossing the Grand Junction track, at Hayden's Corners, on Thursday, their cutter was struck by the locomotive of a passing train, throwing the horse on the rails, were it was killed, and the cutter smashed. Mr. Brigden and his son escaped uninjured.

The Norwood Register says that a large force of men are engaged on Mr. J. Knox's farm, Dummer, in bridging a marshy piece of land. Logs about 15 feet in length are driven, by machinery, into the earth until level with the surface. On the foundation thus constructed an iron bridge will be erected.

PRESENTATION.

On Saturday night, at the firm of R. Stenson & Son, one of the employees, Mr. John Wells, an old resident of Peterborough about to leave for Manitoba, was presented by his fellow-workmen, of the above establishment, with a serviceable pair of gold spectacles, and a handsome gold pen and pencil-case.

Mr. Stenson, in making the presentation, feelingly alluded to the friendly relations which ever characterised the services rendered, between himself and Mr. Wells; and that he was sure he only faintly echoed the feelings existing in the hearts of all his fellow-workmen, when he said they regretted exceedingly to sever the fraternal tie that had bound them together for so many years. It is always a sad thing to say farewell, yet we trust this step you are taking may be for the best. These spectacles, we hope, will help you in your declining years to read your Bible, and aid you at your work. This pen and pencil, perhaps, will remind you of your friends in Peterborough, and fail not to hint that they would like to hear of your welfare from time to time. Mr. Stenson concluded by wishing Mr. Wells a safe journey, God speed and that success might attend him in the far west.

Mr. Wells briefly and touchingly replied, thanking the donors for the handsome gift and their kind wishes. This mark of esteem and regard, coming from his fellow-workmen, he would never forget. He now bade them good-bye, and should they never meet on earth again he trusted that all would enjoy the companionship of one another in the realms of bliss above, where parting is unknown.

The Weather.

The probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Northerly to north westerly winds; clearing, cold weather; higher temperature to-morrow.

Upset and Runaway.

On Saturday night a team of horses belonging to Mr. T. Fitzgerald ran away, when about a mile this side of Millbrook. They were driven towards Peterborough, and the sleigh ran up on a snow bank. The driver was thrown out and the frightened horses sped away at a rapid rate, soon getting out of the driver's reach. The pole of the sleigh broke off, and was carried away. The horses have not yet been found.

Canoeing.

The Ottawa Free Press of March 16th contains the following:—

"A meeting of aquatic sportsmen was held last evening, in the Parliament Buildings, when a club with the title of the Ottawa Canoe Club was organized and a constitution, signals, and uniform adopted. The following officers were elected for the season of 1883: Commodore, George L. Maunsell; Secretary P. B. Symes. Regattas, cruises, and meetings for the coming season were discussed, espically the annual one of the American Canoe Association, which will be held at Stony Lake, near Peterborough, Ontario. The cruise of the A. C. A. promises to be a most delightful one lasting several weeks, through the beautiful chain of the lakes surrounding Peterborough, and terminating either at Rice Lake, which is celebrated as affording the best bass fishing in America, or continuing through the picturesque and rapid Trent river to Belleville and the Thousand Islands. The Ottawa Canoe Club promises to send about twenty representatives to this great international canoe congress. No more charming or health-giving manner of spending a vacation in an inexpensive way could be devised."

Good Work Not Forgotten.

From the Selkirk Southern Reporter of Feb. 22nd we have, under the heading of Galashiels, an instance of the manner in which good work still has its effect, even after the lapse of many years. Mr. Curwen, President of the Tonic Sol-Fa College, London, was giving a public lecture there, and in the reports of it allusion is made in the following manner to Mr. D. D. Galletly, now of Peterborough, who left Galashiels as many as nineteen years ago:—

"Of late years the sol-fa system has been greatly popularised in Galashiels; and in this connection there may be mentioned the name of a gentleman who may be said to have initiated and given an impetus to the sol-fa system in the town—Mr. David Galletly, who a number of years ago emigrated to Canada. In Mr. Galletly's hands the new system found a patron who, by natural talent, culture, and force of character, was able to bring it before the public in a fitting manner. Quite a host of ardent followers have built on the foundation he so well laid, and for a good number of years this system may be said to have been the sole method followed in the teaching of music in Galashiels. This accounts for the enthusiastic greeting which awaited Mr. Curwen on Thursday evening."

Good Templary.

On the evening of Friday, March 16th, a delegation of members of Peterborough and Friendship Lodges of Good Templars visited the Good Templar Lodge at Nassau, and assisted in the resuscitation of that Lodge and the initiation of new members. The Rev. John Shaw, P.D.C.T., called upon Bro. H. Nesbit, P.C.D., to officiate as Chief Templar. Sister D. Reid acted as Vice Templar, Bro. Shaw, Chaplain, Bro. Reid, Secretary, Sister M. Reid, Inside Guard, Bro. A. D. Russell, Marshal, and Bro. W. A. Kelsey occupied the P. W. C. T.'s chair. On the conclusion of the initiatory ceremonies, the Rev. Bro. Shaw addressed the members on the importance of keeping up the organization, and after recounting some scenes of wretchedness which had come under his observation, urged them to renewed vigor in the prosecution of temperance work. Then followed an interesting programme prepared by the Peterborough members for the entertainment of those present. The sleigh ride to Nassau, on the Smith side of the river, was enlivened by music by sisters of Peterborough Lodge. It is proposed to make another visit to the Lodge on Friday evening next, when several new members will be added to the Lodge and members of Carswell, Peterborough and Friendship Lodges are invited to attend on this occasion to aid in building up this Lodge, which promises to be a thriving one.

Oh, What A Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50 cts., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will Cure your Cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves Croup, and Whooping Cough, at once. Mothers do not be without it. For sale by J. D. Tully.

The Temperature.

On Sunday night the Rev. V. Clementi's self-registering thermometer showed a temperature of exactly zero. The thermometer at Messrs. Taylor & Macdonald's registered as follows to-day:—At 8 a.m., 10° above zero; at noon, 10° above, and at 3 p.m., 9° above.

Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held in the Association rooms this evening, for the purpose of electing Directors and general business. Matters of importance to the Association will be discussed, and a full attendance of members is requested.

Well Rewarded.

A liberal reward will be paid to any party who will produce a case of Liver, Kidney or Stomach complaint that Electric Bitters will not speedily cure. Bring them along, it will cost you nothing for the medicine if it fails to cure, and you will be well rewarded for your trouble besides. All Blood diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, and general debility are quickly cured. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Price only fifty cents per bottle. For sale by Taylor & McDonald.

Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint.

Is it not worth the small price of 75 cents to free yourself of every symptom of these distressing complaints, if you think so call at our store and get a bottle of Shiloh's Vitalizer, every bottle has a printed guarantee on it, use accordingly and if it does you no good it will cost you nothing. For sale by J. D. Tully.

Catarrh is the seed of Consumption, and unless taken in time is a very dangerous disease. Hall's Catarrh Cure never fails to cure. Price 75 cents. For sale by John McKee, druggist.

Mrs. Campbell, 344 Walton Avenue, Toronto, says:—"I had suffered much for a long time by derangements of Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Two months' using of Fountain of Health has almost completely restored me."

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.
DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.)
THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution.
In Boxes at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., and 4s. 6d.
Sold by Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world. Prepared by Jas. Berke, London. Specially valuable Pills for residents abroad and travellers.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

DISTRICT INTELLIGENCE

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—On Saturday morning March 17th, at about 6.30 a.m., a fire was seen raging in the rear of the building which Mr. Joplin of Bridgenorth is erecting for Mr. McFarlane for a new hotel. The flames spread so rapidly, with the north west wind that was blowing at the time, that not a vestage of the fine new building could be saved. There were plenty of willing hands with pails and water, but they availed nothing. Mr. Joplin, who slept on the premises, had just left for breakfast, and every thing appeared to be safe then. Mr. Joplin and his assistants have lost all their working tools and clothes, amounting to over $400. Mr. McFarlane has lost over $1,200 and has no insurance. Mr. Chalmers has headed very handsomely a subscription list, and nearly all those in the village and in the suburbs have given with money, lumber, teaming or work to enable him to re-build at once. The front part of the building was 26x34, 2½ stories high, the back part 20x30, 18 feet high. Mr. Kearns had it all first coated with plaster, and Mr. Scrymigour of Lakefield had it all first coated with paint. In two weeks more it would have been finished and it was going to be the finest looking building in the village. Mr. McFarlane, Mr. Joplin and his workmen have the sincere sympathy of the village people in their loss.

COBOURG.

GET THEM NOW.—The Sentinel-Star says that Mr. W. Burnham, emigrant agent, is in receipt of a letter from the old country, stating that if places can be found for them, from five to ten families a week can be sent out from the north and west of Ireland, in the months of May and June next. These people are thoroughly familiar with agriculture, having been brought up and lived on farms all their lives. Any of our farmers desiring such help, should communicate with Mr. Burnham at once. He got places for thirteen of these emigrants on Saturday last.

PROSPEROUS.—During the year 1882 the Norval Woollen Mills turned out the following: One hundred and two thousand and fifty-four yards all wool flannel, value $33,678.82; 35,626 yards Union flannel, value $8,216.96; 5,760 lbs stocking yarn, value $3,744; and 1,258 pairs of blankets; value $4,528.80. The total value of all the work turned out was $50,168.58. During the year they paid in wages $8,913.68. Besides this a large amount was paid carpenters, blacksmiths, tinsmiths, painters, bricklayers, etc., for various work done. The factory has also constantly employed from 32 to 34 hands. This was one of Cobourg's industries that could not succeed under the jug-handled free trade, but revived when protection began to shed its benign influence around.

MILLBROOK.

NEW CHURCH.—The Messenger says that for some time back, the rector and congregation of St. Thomas' church, Millbrook, have had in contemplation many expensive improvements, both of the exterior and interior of the church, the outlay to reach about $2,500. After liberal subscriptions being promised, at the last meeting, at which Mr. Belcher, architect, of Peterborough, was present, it was deemed best to build a new church, and Mr. Belcher has promised to meet the building committee, and as many of the congregation as can find it convenient to be present, in the school building on Wednesday evening next, March 21st, at half past seven, and will have a sketch of the proposed new church, when it is expected immediate steps will be taken for the erection of the new building on the site of the old one—with the exception that the new church will be built facing the road—north and south. Probable cost, about $6,500.

POLITICS OR TEMPERANCE.

THE Reformers boast of being in favor of temperance, but their recent speeches and actions show their hypocrisy; it is political capital, not temperance, that they are seeking.

Both in Parliament and in the press some very unfair criticism has been passed upon Sir John Macdonald's course in regard to the liquor question. It has been untruthfully asserted that a measure on the subject was promised in the speech from the throne, and that the Conservative administration has shirked the fulfilment of this pledge. The following is the paragraph, which, as will be seen, contains no such promise :—

> "I am advised that the judgment of the Lords of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, delivered last June on the appeal of Russell versus the Queen, goes to show that in order to prevent the unrestrained sale of intoxicating liquors, and for that purpose to regulate the granting of shop, saloon and tavern licenses, legislation by the Dominion Parliament will be necessary. Your earnest consideration of this important subject is desired."

It was considered that this "earnest consideration" could but be given in the first place by a special committee. That the judgment of the Privy Council had altered the position of affairs is certain, but there might be a reasonable difference of opinion as to how far existing legislation is effected. The different provinces have at present different laws and in some degree different requirements, to which due weight should be given. There may also be a question as to the best means of restricting the sale of liquor without leaving the present doubts as to jurisdiction, whether by a substantive measure for instance or by an enabling act. All these points could be better considered by a special committee of carefully selected members, among whom was an adequate representation of temperance views, than by debates in the House with all their tendancy to be effected by political bias. By adopting this course Sir John and his colleagues show their desire to promote the cause of temperance rather than to make political capital.

But this did not suit the opposition. What they desired was precisely political capital for themselves. They did not want to aid in framing and passing an efficienct temperance measure, but to have the government introduce a bill to which they might take exception, raising an outcry against [centralization of if it did much, and a temperance appeal if it did little.

So they not only declined to assist in forwarding the cause of temperance, but they did all in their power to thwart the Administration in its efforts. First they raised a quibbling point of order and failed. Then their leader spoke strongly against the reference to a committee, but took care all the time to express no opinion in denial of the conclusion that some legislation was necessitated by the recent judgment, his principal point apparently being that legislation would be an interference with municipal rights, as if Mr. Mowat had left us any municipal rights in this respect. Next came a division, in which the Reformers as a body voted against a special committee on the liquor question, only to be defeated. Then followed more quibbles as to points of order, with equal want of success. Then, nothing else being left for them, the Reformers nominated on the committee all declined to act, thus declining to give any aid in framing that temperance legislature for which they pretend to be so anxious. Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues had endeavoured to lift this question out of the domain of political conflicts, and to ensure a practical measure in the best interests of temperance, as the composition of the committee plainly showed. If they have been thwarted in this it has been by the determination of the opposition to prefer party exigencies to temperance, and to keep up a political wrangle in the hope that they can turn it to their own advantage. It is their doing if the Conservatives reap the laurels that will be awarded for beneficial legislation, while the self-styled "Reformers" show that their pretended love of temperance was chiefly a political dodge, or at least must be overborne by party exigencies.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

On Thursday March 15 Mr. Charlton's Bill for the punishment of seduction, etc., was passed through Committee of the Whole with some amendments.

Mr. Richey's Bill for the prevention of cruelty to animals was read a second time and referred to a special committee.

Mr. Blake in moving for papers as to the North Renfrew election, referred to a rumoured Conservative promise that the bonus of Pembroke to the Canada Central should be assumed by the Government. Mr. White, the member, produced a Reform handbill containing a telegram from Mr. Blake, promising his favorable consideration. Very reluctantly Mr. Blake acknowledged the telegram.

Mr. Homer introduced a resolution in favor of reciprocity between Canada and the Hawaian Islands, at which Mr. Blake sneered. Mr. Homer immediately retorted that he was glad to see the Opposition leader taking such a sudden interest in British Columbia, after his former hostile attitude. Perhaps, however, he had seen the error of his ways, and after ten more years of labor as Opposition leader, he might retire to their balmy atmosphere. Again Mr. Blake sat crestfallen, as he listened to the laughter and applause.

On March 16 Sir John Macdonald moved the reference of the paragraph in the speech from the throne, in regard to the liquor question, to a select committee.

The Opposition strenuously opposed this, Mr. Casgrain unsuccessfully raising a point of order, and Mr. Blake speaking strongly against the motion, which was carried by 111 to 63.

Sir John Macdonald then moved the suspension of the 78th rule of the House, and that the committee be composed as follows :—Messrs. Blake, Ross (Middlesex), McCarthy, Cameron (Victoria), Blanchet, Laurier, Desjardins, Casgrain, Hall, Foster, Burpee (St. John), Richey, Robertson (Shelburne), Bracken, Royal, Baker (Victoria), and the mover.

Mr. Blake objected to the suspension of the rule, and when that point was decided against him, he refused to serve on the committee, as he was opposed to the principle, an example that was followed by the other Opposition members.

POLITICAL CONTROL.

The Orillia Packet a strong advocate of temperance, speaks as follows :—

> "In the Mother Country, which many people believe to be behind us in controlling the liquor traffic, applicants are required to give public notice of intention to ask for licenses, and residents interested can appear before the Licensing Sessions to show cause why license should not issue or be transferred. But in Ontario, under the vaunted Crooks Act, the License Commissioners meet only in secret, receive reports privately from their Inspector, and grant licenses whatsoever and to whomsoever they choose. In the Mother Country, too, the subject of licensing has been treated by the Government as being rather a branch of local or municipal administration, than as a system to be worked under general control. The members of Mr. Gladstone's government regard the matter very differently from those of the Mowat administration. While the former say the municipalities ought to have charge of the question, the latter say, "Oh, the Act must be worked by friends of the Government, the whole thing must be under government control." The Home Secretary in England says "that it is essentially a question upon which localities ought to judge for themselves." And our Grit contemporaries are of opinion that "the question is one merely of police." If so, it is an argument in favor of popular control, seeing that the people through their Police Commissioners and Councils have the direction of police affairs. Liberal English journals congratulate the Gladstone Government upon this step which they have made in the work of decentralization."

A NEW OUTLET.

The Fargo, Grand Forks & Pembina Railway.

The Emerson International of March 10th says :—

> "The Hon. T. A. Gaffney of Pembina, Provisional President of the Fargo, Grand Forks & Pembina Railway, for which a charter was recently secured from the Dakota Legislature, was in town to-day, and spoke of the prospects of the line in a very hopeful tone to a reporter of the International. A meeting of the directors of the road is to be held at Grand Forks next week. The charter members comprise some of the most solid men of Fargo, Grand Forks, Pembina and other points along the West bank of Red River. Negotiations are now in progress with the Rock Island and the Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway companies, and it is not unlikely that one or the other of these two powerful companies will take hold of the line, and build it, but whether they do or not, the line is pretty certain to be constructed, and that very soon.
>
> "This line which will probably terminate at the boundary line on the west side of the Red River, will prove an inestimable boon to the farmers of North Dakota and those of Southern Manitoba, as it will furnish a competing line long desired here. The line will also do much to build up Emerson and West Lynne."

A Curious Find.

One of the clerks in Messrs. Grimson & Co.'s coffee and spice mills, Church street, made a rather curious discovery yesterday afternoon. He was engaged in emptying a forty pound tin of castor oil, which, with a number of others, had recently arrived from the West Indies. While doing so a many legged reptile came out along with the oil. It was about six inches in length, and was at once sent up to the Mail office, where it was pronounced to be a centipede. Some wonderful stories are told about the poison of the centipede, especially by the negroes of the West Indies and Southern States. It is said, however, that their bite, though more painful than that of the scorpion, is never fatal.—Mail.

One Hundred and Eleven Years Old.

Mrs. Catharine DeLong died suddenly at her home in Fulton, N.Y., Thursday morning, aged 110, years 7 months and 3 days. Mrs. DeLong was born here in 1773, but left for Oswego, N. Y., when three years of age, residing there till eight months ago, when she removed. When Mrs. DeLong reached Oswego it was a mere hamlet, and during the 106 years passed there she witnessed its growth and advancement. She was the mother of 27 children, 26 of whom are still alive, a number being residents of the city. Her grandchildren and her great grandchildren are to number 150. Mrs. DeLong's memory continued good up to her death.

A common, and often fatal, disease is Jaundice. Regulate the action of the Liver, and cleanse the blood with Burdock Blood Bitters, and the worst case may be speedily cured.

TRAINED NURSES.

The following letter appears in the Mail ;—

SIR,—Having seen not long since an advertisement for probationers by "Sister Emma, the lady superintendent of the St. Catharines Training School," for nurses, and having been associated for some weeks with one of the trained nurses from that establishment in a severe case of typhoid fever, I feel that in commending to your attention and that of your many readers this invaluable institution (the only one of the kind in the Dominion), I am only doing justice to its object. It is very desirable that it should be more widely known. This establishment sends forth most efficient and capable nurses, whose services are thoroughly appreciated. The undersigned medical men can testify to their importance in the sick chamber, the tender care, the unwearied watchfulness, the skilful treatment, the faithfulness in carrying out the doctors' orders. How much depends on this, in serious cases especially, where the recovery of the patient has been due to the attention paid? What a boon to suffering humanity that such help is within reach! What a noble work for women, whose right God has given her, to minister to the sorrowing, to alleviate distress, to pour balm into the wounded heart, what an opportunity to tell of the Saviour's love! How many there are who, if they enlisted in this cause, would find the blessing and happiness which an aimless life knows not. What a position of respectability, what a grand mission; and have we not great examples in England, on the continent of Europe, and in America of noble-hearted women who have devoted their lives to help their suffering fellow-creatures? How has the name of Florence Nightingale and her heroic example inspired others to go and do likewise. I think did many of our young ladies know that they could be so admirably trained so near home that they would be glad to avail themselves of the opportunity.

There are but eight ladies in training just now, while there is accommodation for twenty-five! The General and Marine, as well as the Maternity Hospital are under their care, besides which lectures are delivered on such subjects as fit them for their work. Sisters of Canada! will ye not arise and join the noble band? Christ says, "Work while it is day." May the call not be in vain.

Yours, etc.,
J. R.

FROST.

The pane is etched with wondrous tracery;
Curve interlaced with curve and line with line,
Like subtle measures of sweet harmony
Transformed to shapes of beauty crystalline.

Slim, graceful vines and tendrils of such sort
As never grew save in some fairy world
Wind up from roots of minted silver wrought
Through tulip flowers and lilies half unfurled.

Here fir and hemlocks blend with plumy palms,
Spiked cacti spring from feathery ferns and weeds,
And sea-blooms such as rock in southern calms
Mingle their foamy fronds with sedge and reeds.

And there are flights of birds with iris wings
That shed in mid-air many a brilliant plume,
And scintillating shoals of swimming things
That seem to float in clear green ocean gloom.

And there are diamond-crusted diadems,
And orbs of pearl and sceptres of pale gold,
Stored up in crystal grottoes, lit with gems
And paved with emeralds of price untold.

And marvellous architecture of no name,
Facades and shafts of loveliest form and hue,
Keen pinnacles and turrets tipped with flame,
And fretted domes of purest sapphire blue.

All these the Genii of the Frost last night
Wrought through the still cold hours by charm and rune;
And now, like dreams dispelled before the light,
They float away in vaper on the noon.

THE BLACK BUOY!

"Swim?" said grandmamma, as we sat round the crackling billets one evening. "Every boy and girl should learn to swim. Why, I could swim like a duck when I was a girl. Dear me, dear me!"

Grandmamma sat bolt upright in her high-backed chair, resting her elbows on the arms and smiling across at grandpapa—who sat on the other side of the hearth—with a conscious look in her bright old eyes. Grandpapa, the general, pausing in the act of raising his tumbler to his lips, nodded and smiled back at grandmamma. They were both white-haired, bright-eyed and rosy-cheeked; both sat straight and erect, in tall, red-cushioned oak chairs, and each saw the other through an effacing medium that smoothed out wrinkles, restored hyacinthe locks, and blotted out the fifty years that lay between them and youth.

Now, when we, the youthful descendants of this stately pair, grouped in lazy attitudes around the vast roaring hearth, with its tall carved chimney-piece, saw the meaning looks that were exchanged between our respected progenitors, we scented a story. And when a many-voiced appeal for the story broke from us, grandmamma hesitated for a moment and shook her head, then looking across to grandpapa, who nodded again, and, after a little pressing, she thus began:

You know, young people, that you are of good family only on your grandfather's side, and not on mine; for he came of an old and honorable stock, while my father was only a ship's bos'n. My father was killed in a great sea fight when I was only a little child, and I was brought up by grandfather, who was ostensibly a boat-builder and fisherman, but in reality a smuggler. A successful smuggler, too. In those days smuggling meant great risk and enormous profits, for duties, especially on foreign wines and spirits, were exceedingly high. It was not only a profitable trade, but it was reputable in a peculiar sort of way; for it required great courage and great skill. England was always at war in those days, and the smugglers ran the risk of being snapped up by an enemy's cruiser as well as of falling into the clutches of a revenue cutter. In addition, there were the inevitable chances and dangers of the sea. So that a good smuggler had to be not only a man of great daring, but of great knowledge of navigation. He had to work into harbor on the darkest night, for it was only on dark nights he could venture on "a run," with the utmost secrecy and dispatch. To do that he must know every inch of his way, be able to distinguish landmarks and buoys where an unpractised eye would only see indistinct blackness, and know to a nicety the time the tide turned, the twists of the sandbanks, and the position of the sunken rock.

My grandfather could neither read nor write and he had, as I think for that reason, a wonderful memory. He was assisted in his work by my two uncles, both illiterate men like himself, and the three seemed to find their way, by long practice and acute observation, as if by instinct. There was only one channel leading to the landing place, the mouth of the little river where we lived being almost choked by sandbanks which ran out to some distance. It was necessary to hit this channel a considerable way out at sea, and a small black buoy bobbed up and down to indicate its commencement. One side of the harbor was formed by a line of rocks jutting out to some length, and shelving down gradually into the water, and the buoy was distant from the extremity of these rocks about three quarters of a mile. This headland was called the Point.

The black buoy, a mere speck on the waters, was hard enough for anyone to find in the broad day; yet my grandfather never failed to find it in the dark—for of course is was only the moonless night that he could hope to run a cargo. The usual course of proceeding was thus: The lugger arrived off our coast at nightfall, lay to until a signal was flashed from our friends on shore, and then found the entrance to the channel, and worked in with the tide. It was necessary to be very careful in hitting off the channel at first, where the buoy was, or they might ultimately run on the sunken rocks at the extremity of the Point.

Grandfather and I lived in a pretty cottage at one extremity of the village. Our house was better than most of the others, for grandfather had money in the bank, and was well to do. The cottage was covered with honeysuckles and creepers; at the back was a well-stocked kitchen garden; in front was a grassy bank sloping down to the sand, at its junction with which stood our wooden boat house. By the boat house lay three or four of our boats, broad, strong and unwieldy, and opposite the boat house were the moorings of the Little Lady, our naughty, fast-sailing, clever little lugger

I had a very independent, irregular sort of life. My grandfather was often away for days at a time, and the old woman who looked after the house—for grandmother was dead long since—would have had little time for scouring and cleaning if she had tried to look after me. I got a little book learning from the old vicar, but it was not enough to hurt me. No, my dears, I knew no Italian, no Latin, no algebra; but my eyes were none the less bright, my lungs none the less clear my color none the less blooming, that I passed most of my days in the bright sunshine, and free, fresh air. I could run a couple of miles and jump a gate; I could pull an oar with the best, and I could swim like a duck. I was thoroughly at home either on water or in it. The sea had no terrors or difficulties for me, except such as it was a pleasure to overcome. So, at sixteen, I am told, I was a fresh-colored, free-limbed, bright-eyed young maid, whose only trouble was her long tresses of thick brown hair, and who bothered her head very little with the other sex.

Not but that I had my admirers. But they were limited in quantity and coarse in quality. I mean rough; manly enough but lacking in that refinement which a young girl in any rank of life always longs for, and with sometimes sad results. Anyhow, the bold young fisherman who made sheepish overtures to my formidable self excited nothing on my part but polite, amusement. I was very happy, had a wonderful appetite and sound in wind and limb, and perhaps young people, you have to thank the rough freedom of my early life for the excellent constitutions which you now enjoy.

A Rope About our Necks.—A weak stomach or enfeebled circulation is like a rope about our necks. We are strung up and unstrung alternately till existence becomes unbearable. Burdock Blood Bitters will arrest all this misery. Burdock Blood Bitters is a boon to the sick. Let us remember this fact.

"Blood will tell." A face adorned with Pimples, Boils, Blotches &c., is not particularly pleasant sight, and invariably betokens an impure state of the Blood. Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters free the system from all gross humours, renders the Blood Pure and Cool, aids digestion and gives a healthy appetite. For sale by all Druggists in large Bottles at 50 cents.

The best known remedy for all affections of the Chest, Lungs or Throat is Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum. It is constantly used by thousands of persons suffering from the above diseases, and in nearly every instance it affords immediate relief. In cases of troublesome, tickling Cough, where the patient passes sleepless nights, one or two doses of the Syrup has such a quieting, soothing effect that rest ensues and the Cough speedily disappears. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

Oh, my Back!

Is there a miserable, weakening pain in the small of the back? Is urination painful? Do you have palpitation of the heart? Do strange, indescribable feelings creep up your back and sides? Does the least exertion weary you? Does your urine show brickdust or albuminous deposit? Does any sudden fright cause an intense, sharp pain in the small of your back? Do you have an aching in the groin? Is your memory impaired? Is your breath short? Are there shooting pains about your vitals? Are you becoming dropsical?

These are all symptoms of kidney diseases. Be on your guard against them. If let run it may end in Bright's Disease, which is sure death.

Your best course is to procure at once a bottle of Sulphur and Iron Bitters costing only 50c. It will cure any form of Kidney Complaint, except Bright's Disease, it will relieve the symptoms and defer the evil day sometimes indefinitely.

Sulphur and Iron Bitters is a medicine as harmless as water. The world has not seen its equal as a cure for diseases which attack the Kidney and for the complaints to which females are alone liable. It is of more value than any medical compound known to the medical faculty.

Sold by all Druggists and at Depot 120 St. James St. West, Montreal, Price 50c.

FITS A Leading London Physician establishes an office in New York for the cure of EPILEPTIC FITS.

From Am. Journal of Medicine.

Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John St., New York.

TO THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz. a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

The Great American Remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LOSS OF VOICE, HOARSENESS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS.

Prepared from the finest Red Spruce Gum. (Delicious Flavor.) Balsamic, Soothing, Expectorant and Tonic. Superior to any medicine offered for all the above complaints. A scientific combination of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce tree—without doubt the most valuable native Gum for Medicinal purposes.

GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM.

Every one has heard of the wonderful effects of the Spruces and the Pines in cases of Lung Diseases.

In France the physicians regularly send their consumptive patients to the pine woods and order them to drink a tea made from the Spruce tops.

In this preparation the Gum never separates, and all its anti-spasmodic, expectorant, tonic, and balsamic properties are preserved.

This Syrup, carefully prepared at a low temperature, contains a large quantity of the finest picked Gum in complete solution.

Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large.

Sold by all respectable chemists. Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

The words "Syrup of Red Spruce Gum" constitute our Registered Trade Mark, and our wrapper and labels are also registered.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

A LITTLE ROGUE.

Grandma was nodding, I rather think;
Harry was sly and quick as a wink;
He climbed on the back of her great armchair,
And nestled himself very snugly there.
Grandma's dark locks were mingled with white.
And quick this little fact came to his sight;
A sharp twinge soon she felt at her hair,
And woke with a start to find Harry there.
"Why, what are you doing, my child?" she said,
He answered: "I'se pulling a basting fread!"

Ladies who want Stylish patterns in Prints, should pay Munro & Alexander a visit. They are now showing the newest things in "Floral Effects," &c. Sateen Cloths in every desirable shade.

There is a strong feeling in favor of wool fabrics for spring wear, and nuns' veilings and vermicelli cloths are the most popular materials. Pink and blue are popular colours in prints, and some exceedingly pretty floral effects have been produced in this article. In cretonnes some exceptionally fine patterns are being shown this season, and these goods, on account of their extreme prettiness, are interfering with the sale of wool damasks and reps.

Housekeepers who intend purchasing Cretonnes would do well to examine the stock of these goods at Munro & Alexanders'. Their assortment of patterns is acknowledged to be the best in Peterborough.

The favorite shades during the coming summer will be frais ecrosssais, acajou, terre cuite, mordore, and electric. There may be a few whom these terms will fail to enlighten as to the popular hues, and they will be pleased to learn that frais ecrossais is another name for crushed strawberries, that acajou is literally mahogany, and terre cuite is French for terra cotta. Crushed gooseberries or bruised lemon have not yet been heard of from Paris, but certainly crushed strawberries is a very pretty idea, and suggests something exceedingly sweet in the way of trimmings.

Munro & Alexander have several very desirable lines of Union and all Wool Dress Goods to hand. They will open out in a day or two a direct importation of Nun's Veilings, in all the newest shades including "Crushed Strawberries" and "Cream." Prices right.

Though not in these days generally cultivated, at least in Europe, the despised nettle was at one time, and that for several centuries, held in high honour and esteem throughout the world. In Kamschatka the fibres have long been used for fishing-lines; in France they have been made into paper; in Hindustan and China, woven into so-called "grass cloth;" and in Scotland and some parts of England the stalks have been dressed, spun, and woven into linen as good as that made from flax; while the old German name for muslin, "nettle-cloth," shows that it must have been at one time extensively used for weaving purposes on the Continent.

Munro & Alexander are now showing a large stock of New Ducks and Denims. Strong Tweeds, Cotton Shirtings, Grey and White Cottons. Tickings and Table Linens.

The Church and Telephone.

St. John's Church has been connected with the telephone system, the transmitter being placed in front of the reading desk. Last Sunday several of the members of the church, who did not attend service on account of the storm, enjoyed the privilege of listening to the singing and hearing the instruction given by the rector while sitting in their homes. Several who reside in the western part of the town, and even outside of the town, heard the anthem plainly and heard every word of the sermon distinctly. This is a privilege which will no doubt be appreciated by them when on account of storms or sickness they are unable to attend the service.

"Paris, the Magnificent."

This evening Mr. H. H. Ragan will deliver an illustrated lecture on "Paris, the Magnificent," in Bradburn's Opera House, under the auspices of the Mechanics' Institute. Many of our readers have no doubt seen the flattering notices Mr. Ragan has received from the Toronto press. The following is from the Chicago Daily News.

"Mr. H. H. Ragan delivered an illustrated lecture last evening at Farewell Hall. His subject was "Paris the Magnificent," and his illustrations consisted of a series of very fine stereopticon views thrown on a large canvas suspended over the platform. The lecture itself was really very fine, blending as it did history romance, art, and literature in the most elegant and graceful manner. Mr. Ragan has an excellent voice, a deliberate and careful delivery, and a very pleasant manner. The stereoscopic views were the best of their kind, and admirably selected. The audience frequently broke out in spontaneous applause, but perhaps their delight was greatest over the series of colored views of the exterior and interior of the Grand Opera House, the grounds of which cost $2,000,000 the building itself $6,000,000, and the new avenue cut through the heart of Paris as approaches to it $20,000,000 more. The lecture was more than an hour and a half long, but was listened to, for the most part, with breathless attention."

Annual Meeting of the Members of the Peterborough Association.

The annual meeting of the members of the Peterborough Young Men's Christian Association was held on Monday evening in the Association rooms. Although the weather was most unpropitious there was a good attendance. Mr. J. Frith Jeffers, President, occupied the chair.

After routine, the Secretary read his annual report, giving a synopsis of the work done during the year, and stating that the different fields were encouraging, as there were evidences of much good being accomplished.

The Treasurer's report was submitted, which showed that the Association had been working economically; in fact it was a matter for surprise how so much work had been done through so small an outlay. There was, however, a deficit, as the receipts of the Associaton had not been large.

Reports were also received from the Chairmen of the different apppointments at which meetings were conducted by the Association. They were interesting and of such a nature as showed the desirability of continuing the work at these appointments.

A discussion then took place on the financial situation, and several suggestions were made as to the best means of raising funds.

The nominations were made for the different offices, a discussion took place on the advisibility of engaging a general secretary, who would devote his whole time to the interests of the Association, and the meeting adjourned for one week.

Mr. T. Fizgerald wrote to the post masters at the different offices in the country around where his horses ran away on Saturday night, and on Monday night received word that they were a farmer's near Fraserville and he has sent after them.

◆

The Temperature.

The thermometer last night touched 1° below zero, according to the Rev. V. Clementi's self-registering instrument. The thermometer at Messrs. Taylor & Macdonald's registered as follows to-day:—At 8 a. m., 10° above zero; at 3 p. m., 24° above.

Fine Cattle.

Two very fine cattle were weighed on the market scales to-day by Mr. Doherty. They are three years old, and kicked the beam at 3,710 pounds. Mr. James Howden has purchased them from Mr. Chas. Moore, of Smith, for the easter trade. It would be hard to find two finer looking animals in this or adjacent counties.

◆

The Weather.

The weather last night was clear and cold. To-day it continues cold, and the sun is shining brightly. The higher temperature will be welcome. The probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Moderate to fresh winds; fine weather and higher temperature.

◆

A Bad "Send off."

Oe Saturday afternoon three men, with one horse and a cutter, went to the race course on the Little Lake to try the speed of their animal. They drove around the course to see that all was right, and then two of them got out to allow the driver to guide the horse around the mile at its best speed while they took the time. The driver went back of the starting point and then drove up, but when he came to the starting point the starters, judges and time keepers (the two men aforesaid) did not consider it a good start and called him back, in order to give him a better "send off." The driver brought the trotter around in a small circle, and the cutter upset and threw him out, and the noble animal at once made for the road and was soon making good time on his way home, while the three sports gazed at each other in speechless amazement. There was no use, however, in staying there any longer, and they made the best of it and went home, but the horse was there before them. The owner is only sorry now that the time was not taken in the home stretch, as the distance could easily be measured.

◆

Curliana.

A match was played at the rink on Monday night between rinks composed of Conservatives and Reformers. The rinks, as will be noticed by the score, were not complete, and it is intended to play the match again on Wednesday night. The score was as follows:—

RINK NO. ONE.

Conservatives.	Reformers.
Jno. McClelland.	W. Haultain,
Jno. McClelland,	A. Hall,
A. McNeil,	W. G. Ferguson,
Dr. Boucher, skip,—10	M. Millar, skip,—16,

RINK NO. TWO.

W. H. Cluxton,	Robt. Hall,
W. H. Budden,	C. McGill,
T. P. Attrill, skip,—12.	G. Dunsford, skip,—13.

Majority for the Reformers, 7.

The match was played for a bag of flour, which is to be donated to the Protestant Home.

Curling matters are lively just now. Two rinks, from Lakefield and Peterborough clubs, play a match to-day, the Banker's play with Mr. Millar's rink this evening, and a match will be played between the Canadians and Old Countrymen on Friday morning.

Well Rewarded.

A liberal reward will be paid to any party who will produce a case of Liver, Kidney or Stomach complaint that Electric Bitters will not speedily cure. Bring them along, it will cost you nothing for the medicine if it fails to cure, and you will be well rewarded for your trouble besides. All Blood diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, and general debility are quickly cured. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Price only fifty cents per bottle. For sale by Taylor & McDonald.

The Storm.

The snow storm continued on Monday, and although the noon train on that day was only an hour late, the evening trains found it more difficult to get through. The Grand Junction train, which is due here at 6.30 p. m., did not arrive until midnight, and the train from Port Hope, which should arrive here at ten o'clock, got stuck in a snow drift between Garden Hill and Millbrook. It did not arrive here until a quarter after four this morning, the passengers having been all night on the train. The 7 o'clock train to Port Hope was drawn this morning by two locomotives. The noon Midland train was an hour late in leaving Port Hope, and was still an hour behind time when it arrived here, having lost no time on the way. The Grand Junction train was also late, but made its way through. Every effort has been made by the use of snow ploughs to keep the track clear.

Misfortunes Coming Thickly.

A Hamilton despatch says that a melancholy accident occurred in the northern part of the city. James Allen and his son John lay in a front room, both suffering from injuries recieved recently, the former at the Grand Trunk Railway works, the latter at the Ontario Cotton Mills. Last evening the mother, it is supposed, turned the stop damper of the self-feeding coal stove which was in the room, then lay down in the bed with her husband and went to sleep. The gas from the stove filled the room, and this morning when the room was opened it was found that the son, aged about 15, and the mother were dead, and Mr. Allen's life nearly extinct. At two o'clock this afternoon Mr. Allen was yet alive, but insensible. The case is a very sad one. There were five of a family, from three years of age up to fifteen. Four young children sleeping up-stairs escaped.

Rev. E. Shirin,

Bewdley P. O., Ont., like hundreds of others who have been cured of catarrh, caterrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma, consumption and all diseases of the head, throat and lungs, says: "The Spirometer, invented by M. Souveille, of Paris, ex-aide surgeon of the French army, and the medicines and treatment prescribed at the International Throat and Lung Institute, have cured me completely of consumption (first stage) or advanced bronchitis, after everything else failed." Consultations and a trial of Spirometer free. Those who are unable to come to the Institute or see our surgeons, who visit all the principal towns and cities of Canada, can be successfully treated by writing, inclosing stamp for a copy of our International News, published monthly, which will give you full particulars and references, which are genuine. Address, 173 Church Street, Toronto, or 13 Phillips' Square, Montreal.

H. C. ROGERS Postmaster.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly affected with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.

DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.)

THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution.

In Boxes at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., and 4s. 6d.

Sold by Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world. Prepared by Jas. Rorke, London. Specially valuable Pills for residents abroad and travellers.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, billiousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

JOHN HACKETT.

Daily Evening Review

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1883.

ONCE more the Globe is talking about "writing the epitaph of the Confederation," apropos of the liquor laws. This means in plain terms that Mr. Mowat and his friends would rather give up confederation than be compelled to relinguish the system of political license officials by whose means he is coercing electors while the enforcement of the law is confessedly neglected. Mr. Mowat ought rather to be writing his own political epitaph, which will soon be needed.

TEMPERANCE PEOPLE PREFER.

THE Montreal Witness is well known as being a strong temperance advocate, making almost a specialty of the subject. It is almost as well known as a Reform journal, and cannot be said to have any leanings in favour of Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues, in whose favour, however, it thus testifies:—

"Instead of bringing in a measure the Government has had a committee struck with a strong temperance element upon it, with power to investigate the whole question of the drink traffic. This is the very thing that was somewhat diffidently asked for by the recent Ottawa meeting of the Dominion Alliance, and what the temperance people would probably prefer to any other possible course on the subject."

NO PARTY GOVERNMENT.

The St. John, N. B., correspondent of the Montreal Gazette says:—

I gave you a general review of the political situation here in my last, and prepared your readers for the false outcry that the fall of the local Government was the triumph of Gritism. I told you then that the triumphant Opposition of the day, which had carried a vote of want of confidence in the Government, was composed of members of both political parties, and the Liberal-Conservative element has been given three or four seats in the New Executive Council. Mr. Mitchell, the new Surveyor-General, is a thorough-paced supporter of the Dominion Government, and was an aspirant for the nomination of the Liberal-Conservative party at the last general election. Mr. Gillespie, the President of the Council, is a life-long supporter of Hon. Peter Mitchell in Northumberland. Mr. Ryan, Chief Commissioner of the Board of Works, helped Mr. Burns to oust Mr. Anglin, and Mr. Turner, another member of the Executive, is a staunch Liberal-Conservative. Here are four of the nine who are opposed to Mr. Blake and his amateur statesmanship, and this is not at all consistent with the cry that Sir Leonard Tilley was defeated and Mr. Blake exalted in the fall of the Hanington Government. Of all the members of the Government, only one is a rampant opponent of the Dominion Government and its policy, namely, the Provincial Secretary. The neutrality traditions of the Government will be necessarily preserved, as in no other way can the two sections of the Government camp live together harmoniously.

Offered an English Suffragan Bishopric.

The London Free Press created a genuine surprise to Episcopalians throughout the west by the announcement that the Queen, in accordance with the desire of the Lord Bishop of Ripon, had offered the Bishop of Huron, Rev. Dr. Hellmuth, the appointment of Suffragan to the Bishop of Ripon, with the title "Bishop of Hull." Bishop Hellmuth will bring this matter before the standing committee of the Diocesan Synod, which meets on the 29th inst. His acceptance of the See in England now introduces the interesting question of who may become his successor, and already the names of several preminent clergymen have been mentioned. Bishop Hellmuth has been connected with the diocese of Huron for nearly twenty years, and during that time the Church of England has made marked progress in many ways. Among the special enterprises to which his energies have been directed has been the establishment of the Western University.—Mail.

A Pestiferous Rag Warehouse.

Another case of smallpox has been discovered in Boston. The contagion can be directly traced to the rag warehouse where several preceding cases originated. When the first case broke out among the rag assorters the health physician took the precaution to vaccinate all of the employees, among others two girls named Wack, who resided at 420 Carlton street with another family. The case now reported is that of a child in the family, aged about four years. The infection was undoubtedly carried in the clothes of the Wack girls. The child for good reasons could not be sent to the pest-house, but every precaution is being taken to prevent the spread of the disease. Altogether there have been from and including the outbreak seven cases in this city, of which two were fatal, the victims being Pauline Pfeiffer and Joseph Engle. All the cases are traceable to the rag factory except that of Engle, who is supposed to have contracted the disease by handling emigrants' baggage.

THOSE LEAGUE FUNDS.

DUBLIN, March 20.—Richard Piggott repudiates the statement of Mr. Egan that he wrote him, threatening that unless Egan gave him £300 he would accept the offer of five hundred pounds made by the Castle officers to publish an article charging the officials of the Land League with misappropriating League funds.

THE REFUGEE QUESTION.

LONDON, March 20.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. Gladstone said the Government has received a despatch from Madrid indicating that there is a prospect for a settlement of the Cuban refugee question.

O'DONNELL AT GLASGOW.

GLASGOW, March 20.—At a meeting last night Mr. O'Donnell, M.P., repudiated the charges by Mr. Foster against Mr. Parnell and the Land League. He advocated the organization of the Irish in England and America for the attainment of the Irish demands.

A THREATENING LETTER.

LONDON, March 20.—The Dean of Canterbury has received a letter threatening that the deanery will be blown up on the occasion of the enthronement of the new Archbishop.

A FOOLISH EMPLOYER.

BIRKENHEAD, March 20.—A large employer has discharged all his Irish workmen, declaring he would no longer disgrace himself by paying people who foster assassins.

DISTRESS IN SCOTLAND.

LONDON, March 20.—The Lord Mayor issued an appeal for subscriptions to relieve the distress in the western islands of Scotland.

DYNAMITE IN RUSSIA.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 20.—Two dynamite depots have been discovered at St. Petersburg. Forty persons were arrested yesterday. There have been two hundred arrests this week, including pupils of the military schools and railway officials. The Government has resolved to expel all Italians who are without permanent occupation.

EMIGRATION TO CANADA.

LONDON, March 20.—At a meeting of the Charity Orginization, a society to promote emigration, a letter from Sir Alexander Galt, High Commissioner from Canada, was read, stating that the Canadian Government would not sanction the emigration to Canada of habitual paupers. She was willing to absorb destitute boys and girls in reasonable numbers, and to provide periodical inspection of them, and a record of their disposal.

FLOGGING IN MORROCO.

CASABLANCA, March 20.—The American Consul has lodged a protest with the British Minister in Morroco against Amiel, the British consular interpreter, who caused the flogging of Jewesses, being allowed to quit the country without trial.

ITALY, GERMANY, AND AUSTRIA.

BERLIN, March 20.—The North German Gazette endorses the recent statement by the Italian Minister of Foreign Affairs. It says Italy has never been rebuffed by Austria and Germany; both those powers welcome the existing friendly relations with Italy. Any suspicion against the peaceful policy of Germany is unfounded.

SHOT BY AN OFFICE-SEEKER.

GOTHA, March 20.—Herr von Wangenheim, Minister of Worship and Schools, was shot dead by a disappointed applicant for office. The murderer suicided.

ANOTHER PARNELLITE M. P.

TIPPERARY, March 20.—Mr. Mayne, a Parnellite, has been declared elected member of Parliament because of the informal nomination of his opponent. The vacancy was caused by the resignation of Mr. Dillon.

TRUE BILLS.

BELFAST, March 20.—The grand jury have found a true bill agranst Nugent and 12 other members of the Aamagh assassination society arrested in October.

Balloons in War.

The London Queen, in an editorial on the centenary of ballooning, says that few persons know the extent to which the balloon and pigeon post served the exigencies of the Parisians between September, 1870, and January, 1871. No less than sixty-four balloons ascended from Paris, and in addition to the sixty-four aeronauts, they carried out of the city ninety-one passengers, of whom Gambetta was the most eminent. Of these balloons five fell into the hands of the Prussians, whose anger was so great at being thus foiled in isolating the city that they used the prisoners with extreme harshness, which was even extended to one unfortunate Englishman, whose sole desire was to escape to his own country. Two of the balloons had a still more unhappy fate—they were carried out to sea, where the aeronauts (a sailor in one case and a soldier in the other) perished miserably, but not before the letter-bags had been thrown over into the channel, from whence some were rescued and reached their destination. The sixty-four balloons carried out of Paris 363 pigeons, of which number fifty-seven returned, bringing the thin films on which were printed the microscopic letters, to be magnified, transcribed, and transmitted in a few hours. In the balloons were 9,000 kilos of despatches, equal to 20,000 pounds in weight; these consisted of more than three million letters, which were distributed all over the world.

A CONTRIBUTION.

BERLIN, March 21.—The King of Wurtemburg contributed 5,000 marks to the American inundation fund.

WHO MADE THE THREAT.

LONDON, March 21.—The threat to blow up the Canterbury Deanery is attributed to English farmers who oppose the payment of certain church tithes.

SUSPICIOUS CLOCK WORK.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 21.—A person was arrested at Moscow while ordering a clock of suspicious description.

FRANCE AND MADAGASCAR.

VIENNA, March 21.—The commander of the French squadron in Madagascar waters has been ordered to advance in Tamtave as far as possible and blockade the ports.

SENSATIONAL REPORT DENIED.

LONDON, March 21.—The report that the Dean of Canterbury has received a letter threatening that the deanery would be blown up is denied.

AMERICAN.

THE TENNESSEE DEBT.

NASVILLE, March 21.—The Governor has signed a bill to pay the state debt at 50 cents on the dollar and three per cent. interest.

A STRIKE IN MILK.

NEW YORK. March 21.—Over a fifth of the entire milk supply of New York is held back by the striking of the farmers yesterday. It is said that 90 per cent. of the dealers here are now ready to accede to the farmers' demand for 3½ cents per quart, but the farmers will not supply the market until the dealers formally agree to pay that price.

HEAVY LOSSES.

NEWBURG, March 21.—Later development in the affairs of the late Judge Taylor indicate that the losses to individuals and estates exceed $300,000.

A DRUNKARD'S SUICIDE.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 21.—Wm. Clark, dentist, vowed not to drink liquor. A craving came upon him so strongly that rather than endure the agony resulting from restraining the appetite he cut his throat and will die.

DAVIS AND HIS BRIDE.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 21.—David Davis and his bride will be here at the end of the week. Great preparations are being made for their entertainment.

CANCELLING RISKS.

RED BANK, N. J., March 21.—Eleven fire insurance companies are cancelling the risks they hold on property here, because of the refusal of the Town Commissioners to contract for supplying the town with water. One agency paid $250,000 losses growing out of five large fires since 1881, while the premium received was only $12,000.

OIL SPRING DISCOVERED.

PLEASANT HOLLOW, N. J., March 21.—There is great excitement here over the discovery of an oil spring.

REGETTA AT LAKE GEORGE.

NEW YORK, March 21.—The Committee having charge of the inter-collegiate four oared regatta at Lake George, met here yesterday. Chas. S. Francis was elected permanent chairman. The committee decided to procure a set of colors for the winning four oared crew and four individual medals for the members. It was agreed to open a single scull race for all the college oarsmen, two entries to be received or no race. For this the presentation of a medal will be offered. The first race will be called at four o'clock on the afternoon of July 7th. Francis was authorized to carry out the views of the Committee respecting the preliminary arrangements. Five colleges have already expressed their intention to be represented. It is highly probable that the number starters will be about ten crews.

CATTLE DISEASES.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Dr. D. E. Salmon, who was for several years employed by the Department of Agriculture to investigate the disease of swine and poultry, has been called here to conduct a like examination on a more elaborate scale. Land will be leased and provided for experiments on inoculation, etc. The investigation will be conducted with a special view to ascertaining the nature and means of cure and prevention of the Texas cattle fever, pleura-pneumonia, and hog and chicken cholera.

A FURIOUS BURGLAR.

PITTSBURG, March 21.—Van Kennedy was sentenced yesterday to ten years for burglary. He furiously berated Judge Kirkpatrick, and declared that when his term was ended he would kill the judge.

MURDER AND ARSON.

BYERS STATION, Ohio, March 21.—The house of Duncan Doles was burned on Monday night. Doles, aged 98, lived alone. The neighbours found the dead body of Doles under the bed with a rope around his neck. It is thought that he was strangled by robbers, who fired the house. He had a large amount of money about the house and leaves a large estate.

WAS THERE AN ATTACK?

NEW YORK, March 21.—The World's London despatch says that those likely to be best informed regard the statement of Lady Florance Dixie as to the attack upon her as a pure fabrication. Not a trace of the struggle can be found on the damp mould. Two large men dressed in woman's clothes could not possibly have reached her house without being seen. A soldier, who were all within a few yards of the scene of the alleged attack neither saw nor heard anything of it. Lady Florence herself is now bewildered about it. She has a reputation for being half mad. It is now known that she wrote to Mr. Parnell on his release avowing herself a strong Nationlist and urging him to act with her.

FEARS OF CROP FAILURES.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The rain fall this far is very light. It is feared that unless there are plentiful showers before April the wheat and barley crops will be almost a total failure, except in the coast counties.

APPEAL TO THE LEGISLATURE.

ALBANY, March 21. The Rev. Edward Cowley appeals to the Legislature to reverse the decision of the Court in the case of general Stephens in 1880, that he starved a child of the Sheppard fold of New York. He asserts that he was convicted on insufficient evidence and asks the Legislature to pass a bill refunding the fine imposed on him and compelling the city of New York to pay bills amounting to $6,500 which he incurred as manager of the children's fold.

SHAM SYMPATHY.

MR. BLAKE and his supporters seem to have a great sympathy for shams. They are now raising an outcry because the returning officer for King's County, P. E. I. has made a double return for that constituency, and the matter has been referred by Parliament to the Election Committee. It is falsely asserted that this is a case of the seating of a candidate having the minority of votes by a partisan returning officer, to the exclusion of the candidate having the majority. This charge contains three deliberate misstatements. The returning officer, as in the cases where Mr. Blake so impudently slandered Sir John Macdonald in regard to the returning officers for Lennox and Carleton, was the sheriff of the County, an old returning officer, and the official who would under the former law have equally filled the position. The minority candidate is not seated to the exclusion of the majority candidate, but their rival claims are left for the Committee and ultimately the House to decide upon. And the protege of Mr. Blake and his supporters was an illegal candidate, his candidature being a mere sham and fraud.

The facts of the case are very simple. Dr Robertson, a member of the Local Legislature, and therefore by law ineligible as a candidate for the House of Commons, obtained the majority of votes last June. The Returning Officer returned his name accordingly, but knowing that his election was void, he also returned the name of the other candidate, Mr. McDonald, acting thus in accordance with the dicta of the best authorities on these subjects. If he had simply returned Dr. Robertson he would have proved himself forsworn, by knowingly returning a disqualified member. In the event of Mr. McDonald obtaining the seat on a petition, as he necessarily would, the returning officer, according to the 106th clause of the Election Law, would have rendered himself liable to heavy penalties. He could not defend himself on the plea of ignorance of the facts, for it so happened that as Sheriff and returning officer he had himself returned Dr. Robertson for the Provincial Assembly. Neither could he plead ignorance of the law, for he actually knew it, besides the presumption that every citizen is acquainted with the laws of his country. He might have taken no notice of the illegal and sham candidature and have returned the only legal candidate, but he adopted the milder course of making a double return, leaving it to the House or the courts to decide, and so avoiding an illegal and punishable action.

The committee can authoritatively ascertain the facts, and there can be no doubt that the rightful member will be seated. Yet Mr. Blake and his friends are raising an autcry because an illegal and sham candidate is not foisted upon the House. Only their love for sham can account for their sympathy.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

ANOTHER week has passed and we have no Registrar appointed. Apparently Mr. Mowat has not yet been able to make up his mind which of the promised applicants he can most safely disappoint, and with which be had better keep faith. He still shrinks from facing the consequences of the duplicity with which the appointment was made the means the of unduly influencing different sections of our community at the recent election.

⁂

ACCORDING to the Globe, some Conservatives in Muskoka circulated before the election exaggerated accounts of their gains throughout the Province, to counteract still more exaggerated accounts on the other side by the Reformers. Now those who used falsehood to further the cause of either party are deserving of censure for their use of such a weapon. But apart from this consideration, there is an inference that cannot fail to be drawn, viz., that when the people of Muskoka found they need no longer dread the tyranny to which they have been subjected by the Mowat administration, and its supporters—as soon as they were free to express their true opinion—they voted for a Conservative.

⁂

THE Rivers and Streams Bill has again been disallowed by the Governor-General in Council. It would have been a disgrace to us if there had been allowed to remain upon the Statute Book a confiscatory measure which boldly asserts that the law has always been such as our highest Canadian Court authoritively decided that it never has been.

MUSKOKA ELECTION—NIPISSING POLL.

The following letter appears in the Ottawa Citizen:—

SIR,—I was much amused at the account in Friday's Free Press of the proceedings at the Nipissing poll on Tuesday last, and as I see that the Free Press again calls your attention to it to-night, I have decided that it would be better to give you a statement of what happened at that poll during the day named. Just before the poll was opened Mr. Scarlett, the Deputy Returning Officer, a Mowat official, stated that he would only receive votes from persons living or owning property in the township of Nipissing. I asked him to show his authority for such an unusual proceeding. His answer was, "These are my instructions from headquarters and from Mr. Bettes, and I am going to carry them out to the letter." After expostulating with him and showing him that the statute allowed any voter in the district to vote at any poll provided he took the oath, made and provided for such emergencies, and also showing him that the custom had always been carried out at previous elections by both parties, he said he did not care, that he was carrying out his instructions. I then told him I feared there would be trouble, to which his answer was, "all right; I rule to-day. To-morrow you can have your recourse." Mr. Alexander Dreany was, I think, the sixth man who came in to vote. Mr. Scarlett asked him where he lived. I took exception to the question, and suggested that he should first ask the man his name, whereupon Mr. Scarlett called on the constable to eject the voter at once. Mr. Dreany expostulated, and was collared by both Mr. Scarlett and the bailiff, but the two of them found they could not put him out. Mr. Scarlett immediately rushed out of the room and was gone about twenty minutes. When I saw that the poll was without a Deputy Returning officer I moved another gentleman present into the position, who took the chair and laughingly said he was prepared to proceed, but no ballots were touched and none were put in the box during Mr. Scarlett's absence. When Mr. Scarlett returned I told him I thought he had gone to Toronto for FRESH INSTRUCTIONS, and finding he would not get back in time I had put another man in his place; but seeing that he had returned, and not being desirous to dispossess him of his position, that we would make way for him, which we did. He then ordered me off the platform, but I told him in such a confident way that I would not get off that, after shoving me two or three times, he sat down and we got to work again.

During the day we tendered him some forty votes, all of which were as good votes as any man could have under the statute. But Mr. Scarlett refused to put the names on the poll book, or even to give the voters ballots, although he had them there for that purpose. However, so heartily was he ashamed of his action that before the poll closed he said he was sorry for what he had done, and also admitted that we had shown an unusual amount of forebearance under the circumstances. At the close of the poll he consented (as partial atonement for his conduct) to record the names of most of the rejected votes on the polling book, giving his reasons for so doing. Instead of the Conservatives acting in the blackguardly manner as stated in the Free Press, we were complimented by both Mr. Scarlett and the scrutineers for Mr. Bettes for the gentlemanly manner in which we behaved. The following is a copy of the certificate issued by Mr. Scarlett to us at the close of the poll, which I now hold in my possession:—

NIPISSING.

Polling Division No. 60 for Electoral District of Muskoka and Parry Sound.

Number of votes polled for Bettes	32
do do Farquier	34
Ballots spoiled for Farquier	2
Majority for Farquier	2

(Signed) JOHN S. SCARLETT,
D. R. O,

So that by this certificate you will see the absurdity of the statement of the Free Press that the ballot-box had been stuffed. The forty votes that were rejected were those of men who were at work near Nipissing, and who lived from thirty to fifty miles from there, and who were unable to get to their poll; but had they known the night before that Mr. Scarlett was going to act on "instructions from headquarters and from Mr. Bettes," instead of acting according to the laws made and provided for such cases, they could have all, at a little inconvenience to themselves, have been at their own poll, in which case the Conservative majority would have been that much more.

I do not think that the Reformers of Nipissing, or even Mr. Lount, the Returning Officer, or Mr. Scarlett, his deputy, are desirous of a protest being entered; for if there were facts brought to light it certainly would be very much to their discredit. More partizan action I never saw perpetrated by any set of officials at an election than was committed by them. What would the electors of Otawa think or say if Mr. Burritt was found standing in the Russell House on the eve of an election, openly canvassing for one of the candidates? Yet Mr. Lount did this in Gibson's hotel in Nipissing. But of course Mr. Lount holds a position under the Mowat Government (that of Stipendiary Magistrate for the district) and therefore he had to do their bidding. But notwithstanding all this wire pulling and illegal conduct on the part of the Grits the Conservative party polled the first majority that was ever recorded in the valley of the Nipissing (at least so I am informed), and the small majority polled that day will be largely increased the next opportunity that is afforded, as a number of persons who voted Reform that day said they would never do so again, as they were heartily ashamed of the action of these officials. Thanking you for so much space,

I remain, yours etc.,

ONE OF THE CONSERVATIVE
SCRUTINEERS FOR NIPISSING.

P. S.—Mr. Scarlett, the Deputy Returning Officer, is Crown Lands Agent at Nipissing for the Mowat Government.

Ottawa, March 17th.

"Too Pure and Good."

Politicians will not soon forget Mr. Blake's letter introducing his "friend Moore," the contractor, to Mr. Mackenzie. It has come out in debate that during the elections of June last Mr. Blake telegraphed to his friends in Pembroke, promising "justice to the town" in the matter of a bonus in case he were elected, of which he had then some hopes. Of course, Mr. Blake's opponents are just as prone to this sort of thing as he is, but the joke on the Opposition leader is that he provokes these revelations by posing as "too pure and good for human nature's daily food."—Evening Canadian.

The Interests of Party.

The Toronto Evening Canadian says:—

"From the cellar to the garret is a long leap, but some of our Reform friends are equal to it. A few years ago Mr. Laflamme's supporters got at the ballot boxes through a trap-door in the basement, and a couple of weeks since the Grits of Elizabethtown watched the electors marking their ballots through augur holes in the floor of the garret. As these things are all done in the interests of purity we have no complaint to make."

A Legacy.

A few months ago there died at Gananoque an Englishman named F. M. Hooper. Mr. George Taylor, M. P., at the request of the deceased gentleman's relatives, took an active part in settling his affairs. On Saturday Mr. Taylor received a letter from England, stating that an uncle of Mr. Hooper had left the latter's children a legacy of $5,000, and asking him to ascertain their whereabouts as early as possible in order to prevent the money being placed in Chancery. This will be no easy task, as shortly after her husband's death Mrs. Hooper and her children left Gananoque.

THE BLACK BUOY!

On a certain day in September, when I was nearly seventeen years of age, my grandfather being absent on one of his expeditions, and expected back at night, I set off for one of the long rambles in the country which I was in the habit of taking when he was away. As I was not allowed to go off in this fashion when grandfather was at home I made a big day of it, starting immediately after breakfast, and, taking some bread and meat with me for dinner, I rambled much further than I intended, lost my way more than once, and the night was coming apace when I returned. Tired and footsore, I was taking a short cut over the heathery cliffs, there was only a narrow track made by the sheep, when amidst my dreamy anticipations of supper and bed came the recollection of a little serge bathing suit, which I had meant to fetch in the morning in order to repair it. The little cave where I kept it was among the rocks of the Point, and from where I was, being already on the seaward side of the village, it was not far distant. So I stepped on briskly and soon came to the little gully or ravine in the rocks which led to my cave, and up which, in the course of the night, our smuggled treasures would be stealthily conveyed. Carts used to stand at the upper end of it to take them away.

I slipped into my cave, felt for my dress and found it, and too lazy just then to face the ascent upon the gully again, stood gazing out to sea a wondering where my grandfather was at that moment. Then I turned homeward. I had gone about a third of the gully, which was very dark, when I heard a strange sound. I stopped to listen. It was not the scream of a sea-bird, nor the moaning of the sea. It came down the gully and drew nearer, beat, beat, with a little, very distinct, jingling sound. It was the tramp of men and the clink of steel. Soldiers! I had never seen any, but I guessed what they were. In a moment I had scrambled cautiously up the rocks and hidden behind a ledge. I crouched perfectly still, with every sense on the alert. Suddenly the measured tramp ceased, and presently two men came slowly down the gully, talking in low voices. They wore long cloaks, and their weapons jingled as they walked. They passed me and stood at the lower end of the gully. The air was still and I could hear every word they said.

"This is the place, sir," said the bigger and stouter of the two. "The goods are landed a little to the left of here, carried up the gully and received at the top by carts. The carts stand where we came down."

The other, who by the ease of his bearing and the deference of the big man, I took to be an officer, had a paper in his hand. He looked around him, evidently taking in the features of the place.

"There won't be any carts to-night, sergeant," he said in a pleasant voice. "The people in the village know we are here and will be sure to warn them. I hope they won't manage to warn the man we want."

"Not they, sir," answered the sergeant.

"Not a boat can leave the harbor without its being stopped by our men, and not a man leave the village and come in the direction of the Point, if you post the men as I venture to suggest."

Here the conversation became inaudible for a moment. "A man at the top of the gully, sir, and the others at intervals along the seaward side of the village. You and I, sir, to manage the signals down here, and then I step up to the man at the top of the gully, one calls in another, and we are all down here ready to receive them."

"By all means," said the officer; "and as you know the place and I don't, you had better post the men. By the way," he added scanning the paper in his hand and holding it close to his eyes, "at 12.30, I think it is the signal. You understand that, don't you?"

The sergeant produced something, probably a lantern, from under his cloak.

"Here is the signal, sir."

"Then we're all right. Now post the men."

The sergeant saluted and clanked up the gully, while the officer walked slowly toward the water and stood at the edge—some distance from me for the tide was getting low—with his head bowed and his hands clasping the paper behind his back—I ventured to breathe freely again, and began to review the situation. What did it mean? It meant that the authorities had got wind of my grandfather's doings, and had sent this detachment of soldiers to take him in the act. It must be grandfather, because there was no one else in the village likely to be aimed at; and if they caught him, what then? What was that form of words that kept ringing in my ears over and over again? "Transportation for life." What was that? It was uncommon punishment, I had heard, for a smuggler taken, as my grandfather was, red-handed. For a moment the hope flashed into my head that he might not come that night. But no; the wind was light and not unfavorable; there was no suggestion of a fortunate storm in the sky, and I knew that our friends with the wagons had arranged to come and that all was in readiness. My heart sank within me as I thought of my old grandfather's gray hairs dishonored in the felon's dock—for I had once seen a man tried—and his kind old face bidding me farewell forever. I bowed my head on my hands and longed to cry.

Suddenly I raised my head, and my heart beat with a loud resolve. I would save him. Yes, I! The skill that I had attained for my own heedless pleasure should be put to stern service. My resolve was this. When the lugger showed her signal in answer to that treacherous one from shore, I would swim out to the buoy, and keep myself afloat at the entrance of the channel until I could hail our people and warn them of their great danger.

I never hesitated after I had formed this resolution. I forgot that I was tired and hungry, put aside the thought of cold and exhaustion in the water, and began at once to make my preparations. On the narrow ledge of rocks where I now knelt, I undressed and put on my little bathing dress, which consisted only of a tunic and drawers. My own clothes I made into a bundle and stowed away behind a stone. Then like a cat, I clambered up the rocks, hiding behind every projection and keeping a fearful watch upon the sentinel at the head of the gully. Fortunately the gully was not very deep. When I got to the top I crept on my hands and feet till I judged I was well out of sight, and started for the end of the Point. I took my time, for their was no hurry, and I had to husband my strength; and at last I reached the rock from which I meant to start. There I sat down to wait.

I did not know the time, and could only guess it by calculating from the sunset. How long should I have to wait? How long did I have to wait? Heaven knows; but it seemed an age. I got sleepy from my day's exertion. The night air was cold, too, and my clothing, however well adapted for exercise, was somewhat scanty for sitting in. Besides, it was damp. The wretchedness of that long watch comes to me now. Oh! would the slow minutes never pass?

Thicker and thicker grew the gathering darkness. The water and the heavens were blended in obscurity, and there, at the end of the rocks, I sat patiently, a poor little figure shivering in the gloom, listening to the lap of the waves as they beat upon the rocks, and peering out to sea with my heart in my eyes. I waited so long that I believe I must have fallen asleep and missed the signal, and at that thought I was burying my face in my hands to give way to despair, when something stopped me—a flash! far out upon the dark sea—there it was! I sprang to my feet, every nerve tingling. The moment for action had arrived.

SIR JOHN MACDONALD announced that for personal reasons Sir Alexander Galt has tendered his resignation, but at the request of the Government, he will hold office till spring.

ONE OF OUR BEST CITIZENS would say to the public that he has tried Hall's Catarrh Cure, and that it is all that is claimed for it. Price 75 cents per bottle. For sale by John McKee, druggist.

THE French Government purposes shortly introducing a bill in the Chamber for the relief of distressed workmen. A notice to grant an amnesty to political press offenders has been defeated in the Chambers.

Mrs. Campbell, 344 Walton Avenue, Toronto, says:—"I had suffered much for a long time by derangements of Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Two months' using of Fountain of Health has almost completely restored me."

GREAT BRITAIN will not interfere in the troubles between France and Madagascar, her mediation not having been requested, and no further British war vessels will be sent to the Madagascar waters.

Catarrh cannot be cured by any local remedy. It is a deep-seated and constitutional wrongbeing, the tendency of which is to lay the whole respiratory economy in ruins. The Fountain of Health will reach the seat of this malady.

FOUR boys, playing in a deserted cemetery, in Springfield, Ill., on Friday, found a small blue locket. Surprised at the discovery, they hunted further, and in an unused sarcophagus were found two satchels filled with jewelry, valued at $10,000, which had beeen stolen from a store in that city shortly before.

HEADACHE, Billiousness, Dyspepsia and Constipation promptly relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. As a family medicine they are far superior to Pills. In large Bottles 50 cents.

WE have a speedy and positive Cure, for Catarrh, Diphtheria, Canker mouth and Head Ache, in Shiloh's Cattarrh Remedy. A nasal Injector free with each bottle. Use it if you desire health and sweet breath. For sale by J. D. Tully.

New Life for Functions Weakened by Disease, Debility and Dissipation.

Ask for the Great German Invigorator, the only specific for impotency, nervous debility, universal lassitude, forgetfulness, pain in the back or sides, no matter how shattered the the system may be from excesses of any kind, the Great German Remedy will restore the lost functions and secure health and happiness. $1.00 per box, six boxes for $5.00. Sold by all druggists. Sent on receipt of price, postage paid, by F. J. Cheney, Toledo, Ohio, sole agent for United States. Circulars and testimonials sent free. For sale by John McKee, druggist.

Well Rewarded.

A liberal reward will be paid to any party who will produce a case of Liver, Kidney or Stomach complaint that Electric Bitters will not speedily cure. Bring them along, it will cost you nothing for the medicine if it fails to cure, and you will be well rewarded for your trouble besides. All Blood diseases, Billousness, Jaundice, Constipation, and general debility are quickly cured. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Price only fifty cents per bottle. For sale by Taylor & McDonald.

Personal! To Men Only!

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and Manhood, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

"Blood will tell." A face adorned with Pimples, Boils, Blotches &c., is not particularly pleasant sight, and invariably betokens an impure state of the Blood. Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters free the system from all gross humours, renders the Blood Pure and Cool, aids digestion and gives a healthy appetite. For sale by all Druggists in large Bottles at 50 cents.

The best known remedy for all affections of the Chest, Lungs or Throat is Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum. It is constantly used by thousands of persons suffering from the above diseases, and in nearly every instance it affords immediate relief. In cases of troublesome, tickling Cough, where the patient passes sleepless nights, one or two doses of the Syrup has such a quieting, soothing effect that rest ensues and the Cough speedily disappears. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

FITS A Leading London Physician establishes an office in New York for the cure of EPILEPTIC FITS.

From Am. Journal of Medicine.

Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John St., New York.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz. a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Teams, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

A LITTLE ROGUE.

Grandma was nodding, I rather think ;
Harry was sly and quick as a wink ;
He climbed on the back of her great armchair,
And nestled himself very snugly there.
Grandma's dark locks were mingled with white.
And quick this little fact came to his sight ;
A sharp twinge soon she felt at her hair,
And woke with a start to find Harry there.
"Why, what are you doing, my child ?" she said,
He answered : "I'se pulling a basting tread ?"

Ladies who want Stylish patterns in Prints, should pay Munro & Alexander a visit. They are now showing the newest things in "Floral Effects," &c. Sateen Cloths in every desirable shade.

There is a strong feeling in favor of wool fabrics for spring wear, and nuns' veilings and vermicelli cloths are the most popular materials. Pink and blue are popular colours in prints, and some exceedingly pretty floral effects have been produced in this article. In cretonnes some exceptionally fine patterns are being shown this season, and these goods, on account of their extreme prettiness, are interfering with the sale of wool damasks and reps.

Housekeepers who intend purchasing Cretonnes would do well to examine the stock of these goods at Munro & Alexanders'. Their assortment of patterns is acknowledged to be the best in Peterborough.

The favorite shades during the coming summer will be frais ecroissais, acajou, terre cuite, mordore, and electric. There may be a few whom these terms will fail to enlighten as to the popular hues, and they will be pleased to learn that frais ecrossais is another name for crushed strawberries, that acajou is literally mahogany, and terre cuite is French for terra cotta. Crushed gooseberries or brussed lemon have not yet been heard of from Paris, but certainly crushed strawberries is a very pretty idea, and suggests something exceedingly sweet in the way of trimmings.

Munro & Alexander have several very desirable lines of Union and all Wool Dress Goods to hand. They will open out in a day or two a direct importation of Nun's Veilings, in all the newest shades including "Crushed Strawberries" and "Cream." Prices right.

Though not in these days generally cultivated, at least in Europe, the despised nettle was at one time, and that for several centuries, held in high honour and esteem throughout the world. In Kamschatka the fibres have long been used for fishing-lines; in France they have been made into paper ; in Hindustan and China, woven into so-called "grass cloth ;" and in Scotland and some parts of England the stalks have been dressed, spun, and woven into linen as good as that made from flax ; while the old German name for muslin, "nettle-cloth," shows that it must have been at one time extensively used for weaving purposes on the Continent.

Munro & Alexander are now showing a large stock of New Ducks and Denims. Strong Tweeds, Cotton Shirtings, Grey and White Cottons. Tickings and Table Linens.

Hot-cross Buns for Good Friday at Carton Bros.'

Piano Tuning.

Mr. George Gumpricht, tuner for Messrs. Mason & Risch, Toronto, will be in town for a short time. Orders left at Mr. T Menzies' bookstore will be promptly attended to.

The Temperature.

The Rev. V. Clementi's self-registering thermometer showed 3° below zero last night. The thermometer at Messrs. Taylor & Macdonald's registered as follows to-day :—At 8 a. m., 16° above zero; at noon 36° above, and at 3 p.m., 42° above.

The Weather.

The weather last night was again clear and cold, and continues the same to-day, only moderated. The probabilities for the following twenty four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows :—Moderate winds ; milder weather, and higher temperature.

A Disastrous Storm Ahead.

It seems that we have not had enough of stormy weather yet, for Mr. Vennor says that the heaviest storm of the month is yet to come. He told us that we would have a heavy storm, which would commence on the 17th of March, and as it came there may be those who will rely on this prediction :—

> "It is probable that a very much heavier and more disastrous storm will occur over a large part of Canada and the United States during Easter week, and probably on the 25th, 27th and 30th, one of which dates will furnish the heaviest storm of the month."

Skating.

In speaking of the recent skating competition at Campbellford, the Toronto Mail sneers at Mr. Leavens for claiming to have been the amateur champion of Canada, saying that "Mr. Leavens must have found his championship where Wiggins found his storm—in his mind." This is, no doubt, said with the intention of belittling the abilities of Mr. Hartley, who won the medal in the competition with Mr. Leavens, as a fancy skater, in order to indirectly puff the Toronto skaters, particularly Mr. T. H. Robinson, who claims the title of champion. Perhaps the Mail has forgotten that Mr. Leavens won a gold medal at a fancy skating competition in Ottawa and another gold medal in a similar competition in Quebec, which, if it did not give him a right to claim the amateur championship, shows that he is no "very small" skater. An arrangement was made this winter for Mr. Hartley to meet the "very large champion" of Toronto, and it was not Mr. Hartley's fault that the meeting did not take place. And if the Mail would refer to one of Toronto's former champions, Mr. Sherwood, it would learn from him that it was Mr. Leavens who instructed him in the art of fancy skating.

On the evening of the same day a rink composed of bankers played a match with Mr. Melleville Millar's rink, which, by the way, is composed of merchants. The playing was close, and the game was an interesting one. The score was as follows :—

BANKERS.	MILLAR'S RINK.
C. H. Gale,	A. Hall,
— Stewart,	A. McNeil,
C. McGill,	W. G. Ferguson,
W. H. Sudden, skip—13.	M. Millar, skip—16.

Majority for Millar's rink, 3.

The Cells.

Two tramps were the occupants of the police cells last night. There were no arrests made.

The Market Tolls.

At a meeting of the Market Committee, on Tuesday night, two tenders for the market tolls for the year were received. The tolls were awarded to Mr. John Doherty, the amount of his tender being $750. Mr. Doherty has had the market for four consecutive years, and his management of it has been very satisfactory, as he has had no dispute with the town, and during that time has never had a case in the court. There are but few places in which the Market Clerk has not had to bring some person before the Magistrate in connection with the infringement of the by-law, and the fact that Mr. Doherty has never had to do so speaks well for his management.

The Last Week of Lent.

The present week being Passion, or Holy Week is one observed by both creeds. In the Roman Catholic Churches it is especially sacred, and closes the Lenten season. It was opened by Palm Sunday, on which the blessing of the palm commemorates the entrance of the Son of Man into Jerusalem. In both Anglican and Roman Catholic Churches there are special evening services during the week, and on Good Friday a still deeper interest will be taken in the religious observances. Maundy Thursday precedes Good Friday, and Saturday is Easter eve, when the long fast in the Catholic Church is ended, and Easter Sunday opens the season of feast.

London and Paris.

There was a good attendance at Bradburn's Hall on Tuesday evening, to hear the lecture on Paris by Mr. Ragan. As the lecture was given under the auspices of the Mechanics' Institute, the Rev. V. Clementi, Vice President of the Institute, in the absence of Mr. Poussette, the President, introduced the lecturer, Mr. Ragan. The illustrations of the excellent stereopticon views of most important buildings and other scenes in Paris were very beautiful and were the theme of appropriate descriptions by the lecturer, who also gave a graphic account of the historical reminiscences connected with each locality. This evening there will be another lecture in Bradburn's Hall by the same gentleman, the subject being "London from the top of an Omnibus." A Peterborough audience will feel even greater interest in a description of the great metropolis of the British Empire, and there should be a full attendance.

Obituary.

Mr. D. W. Dumble, Police Magistrate, has returned from Cobourg, where he went to attend the funeral of his father, the late Thomas Dumble, Esq., which took place on Monday. The deceased gentleman was born in Cornwall, England, in the year 1800, and while yet a young man he went to Ireland and was engaged in the Ordinance survey in that country for twenty years. He then came to America, and was engaged in the survey of the boundary line between the State of Maine and Canada during the year 1844 and for several succeeding years, after which Mr. Robinson's survey of the Intercolonial Railway engaged his attention. In 1847 he went went to Cobourg, where his family had preceded him several years, and resided there until the day of his death. He was largely engaged in public works in the counties of Northumberland and Durham, in the construction of macadamized roads and in railway construction. For twenty years he held a responsible position as a Commissioner of the Cobourg Town Trust. The late Mr. Dumble was known as a clever, public spirited, and energetic man. He enjoyed perfect health, and although well up in years, he possessed great physical activity until about six months before his death, which occurred on Friday night last, at the age of eighty-three years. Mr. Dumble was a friendly neighbor, and as to his business dealings it was remarked of him that he had never been sued, and never sued anyone in a court of law. He leaves a large family of children, grand-children and great-grand-children.

Guilty of Murder.

Timothy Milloy was found guilty in the assize court at Montreal of the murder of his former employer, Mr. Nesbit, of Longue Point. The prisoner was sentenced by Judge Ramsay to be hanged on the 27th prox. He received the sentence without flinching.

FROM ACROSS THE SEA.

IRELAND.

THE directors of the Belfast Steamship Company have past a half-year dividend at the rate of 3 per cent. per annum.

ON Feb. 20th the village of Castleconnell was dangerously flooded, and the inhabitants were obliged to use boats.

A PACKAGE, containing six ounces of dynamite, and addressed to the Lord-Lieutenant, has been found in the Ballydehob post office.

IT is proposed to establish an extensive drainage district in the north of the county of Kilkenny, opening the counties of Tipperary and Queen's.

PRIVATE FORWELL, 55th Border Regiment' stationed at Newry, who holds the fifty miles championship of Ireland, lately ran from Rostrevor Hotel to Newry, a distance of nine miles, in 48 m. 33 sec.

THE two Irish elections which took place on Feb. 28th have in both cases resulted in the return of the Conservative candidate. In the county Dublin contest Colonel King Harman had the large majority of 1,086 over the Parnellite, while at Portarlington, where there are only 138 voters on the register, the Nationalist candidate was defeated by 13 votes.

ENGLAND.

A PORTRAIT of George Eliot, by Mr. Frederic W. Burton, has been placed in the National Gallery, London.

THE Queen has consented to open the International Fisheries Exhibition at South Kensington on the 1st of May next.

THE annual congress of the Social Science Association will take place this year at Huddersfield from the 3rd to 10th October.

THE British Archæolocical Society have accepted the invitation of the Mayor of Dover to hold their meeting in that town this year.

THE remaining portion of the natural history collection at the British Museum is now rapidly being transferred to South Kensington.

THE Hon. Roger Molyneux, brother of the Earl of Shefton, is about to take to the stage ; he is to make his debut at the Haymarket.

AS a "sign of the times" a Bristol paper mentions that a well-known brewer in Frome has reduced the price of his best beer 1d per quart, alleging as his reason the falling-off in the demand of late.

IN their report for the past year the directors of the Great Eastern Steamship Company state that although they are frequently receiving applications in respect to the vessel, nothing has yet resulted. The debit balance to profit and loss has been increased from £12,646 to £17,048.

The London Gazette shows that public house property in the large cities of England is rapidly depreciating in value. There were thirty public houses within half a mile of Liverpool Custom House closed within the year, because they did not pay the cost of rent, taxes and license fees.

A Good Disinfectant.

Mr. Mattieu Williams recommends sulphate of copper (blue vitriol) as a cheap and effective domestic disinfectant, "I have lately used it,' he says, "in the case of a trouble to which English housekeepers are too commonly liable, and one that has in many cases done serious mischief. The stoppage of a soil-pipe causes the overflow of a closet, and a consequent saturation of floor-boards, that in time would probably have developed danger by nourishing and developing the germs of bacteria, bacilli, etc., which abound in the air, and are ready to increase and multiply wherever their unsavoury food abounds. By simply mopping the floor with a solution of these blue crystals, and allowing it to soak well into the pores of the wood, they (the pores) cease to become a habitat for such microscopic abominations. The copper salt poisons the poisoners. The solution should not be put into iron or zinc vessels, as it rapidly corrodes them, and deposits a nonadherent film of copper. Stone-ware resists it, and it may also be safely kept in wooden buckets.

Lemon Jelly.

Half a box of gelatine soaked in half a pint of water, juice of five large leamons, two cupfuls of loaf sugar, the beaten white of an egg, one and a half pints of boiling water. Soak the gelatine in the half pint of water one half hour. Rub several of the pieces of the sugar on the rind of the lemon. Pour the pint and a half of boiling water on the soaked gelatine, and add lemon juice sugar and egg ; let it come to a boil, then set it at the side of the range a few moments. Skim carefully and pass through a jelly bag into moulds.

A Run on a Drug Store.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic ; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Health; Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Sold by Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world. Prepared by Jas. Rorke, London. Specially valuable Pills for residents abroad and travellers.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d. ; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, billiousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6 Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

THURSDAY, MARCH 22, 1883.

The Last of the Season.

The Fire Brigade Band has been in attendance at the skating every Friday night during the season. To morrow night will be the last occasion on which they will be present, and there should be a large attendance.

An Unjust Charge.

The Belleville Ontario of March 20th refers to the skating competition at Campbellford and charges the Mail with failing to tell the truth, and then proceeds to multiply words and economize the truth most flagrantly. We do not wish to discuss what claim Mr, Leavens had to the championship, or whether he made such a claim, but at any rate he allowed himself to be billed at Campbellford and elsewhere as the champion of Canada. The Ontario, true to its instincts as a Reform journal that when Judges do not agree with it they must be biased, makes an attack upon the Judges at the competition where Mr. Hartley won the medal from Mr. Leavens. It says that "the two judges who decided the contest were former residents of Peterborough, and it was natural for them to want to see the 'Peterborough boy' win," and that "it was clear that they were not capable of deciding the contest on its merrits." Now, although Mr. Patton, one of the judges, some years ago lived in Ashburnham (not Peterborough), Mr. Hartley did not know him at that time, and several "old residents" to whom we have spoken do not remember of Dr. Goldsmith, the other judge, ever residing here, and Mr. Hartley never saw that gentleman until the evening of the contest. Moreover, Dr. Goldsmith resides in Campbellford, and Mr. Leavens has also recently lived there, and is well acquainted and has relatives in that village, and if the doctor would favor either of the contestants it would be Mr. Leavens. In fact, Dr. Goldsmith said to a Campbellford friend of Mr. Leavens, after the decision was given, that he would like to have given the medal to Mr. Leavens, but that he could not do it, as Mr. Hartley was ahead. It was not very flattering to Mr. Taylor, the manager of the Pinafore Rink, to say that he invited gentlemen to act as judges who could not decide the contest on its merits, but the fact is that one of the judges is a good skater himself, and Mr. Leavens acknowledged after the contest was over that Mr. Hartley "knew too many tricks for him." The same paper that now makes this serious charge, on March 3rd said: "We suppose there can be no doubt that the judges arrived at their decision honestly," and in another paragraph in the same issue it said that Mr. Craig, of Belleville, who was present, confirmed the decision of the judges. The decision was given correctly, in accordance with the merit of the skaters, but if Mr. Leavens feels aggrieved, Mr. Hartley is willing to meet him again and skate for a cup of the value of $50, to be provided by themselves and to be awarded to the winner.

SHALL WE HAVE A PROVINCIAL PLOUGHING MATCH IN THIS COUNTY?

To the Editor of The Review.

SIR,—I desire to avil myself of the use of your columns to inform all interested that at a meeting of the Council of the Agricultural and Arts Association just held in Toronto it was decided;

That four Provincial Ploughing Matches should be held in this Province during the month of October next, that the Province was divided into four districts for this purpose, and the sum of $300 appropriated for prizes in each district. It was also provided that these matches should be held under the direction of the members of the Council representing each district, and who, with the Presidents of such Agricultural Societies as shall contribute $25 to the match in their district, shall have the entire direction of the same.

During the same meeting the members of the Council for this district met and and agreed to hold their match in the neighborhood of Peterborough, provided the sum of $200 were added from local sources to the prize funds, and provided a suitable field or neighboring fields could be obtained for the match.

Under these circumstances and as I am expected to report at a meeting of the Council to be held on the 24th April, whether these conditions are or are not likely to be complied with, I take this method of soliciting the assistance of all who desire to see such a match held in this locality, in enabling me to promise compliance with the conditions mentioned.

In view of the past liberality of the County Council and the citizens of Peterborough, I have little apprehension but that the two hundred dollars required will be forthcoming, but I have some apprehension as to the possibility of obtaining suitable and convenient grounds for the match, and for this reason I would ask, that special and immediate attention be directed to this point, and that the information obtained be communicated to me as soon as possible.

Yours,
JOHN CARNEGIE.

Peterborough, March 22nd, 1883.

TORONTO.

Special to the Review, March 22.

MR. DWIGHT has received the following message from Col. DeWinton, secretary to the Marquis of Lorne:—"It affords the Governor-General great pleasure to transmit the following authentic news concerning Her Majesty the Queen. Her Majesty is suffering from the effects of a slight sprain of the knee and will soon be well."

THE QUEEN'S OWN RIFLES will not accept the invitation of the Brooklyn, N. Y., corps, to visit that city this year. Col. Otter says that if the same invitation is extended next year, and the Canadian Government gives permission, the visit will be made.

HASTINGS.

FIRE PROTECTION.—From the Star we learn that a meeting of the ratepayers of the village was held on Friday night to confer with Mr. W. Perry, representing Messrs R. H. Buckanan & Co., of Montreal, in reference to suitable fire appliances for the village. Mr. Perry's proposal was, that the corporation should purchase a site, with the necessary hydraulic power, for the pump house, erect the building and put in a forty horse power turbine wheel. This being done, Mr. Perry, for the sum of $3,100 would put in a No. 3 rotary pump—making connections with the wheel—lay 600 feet of 4½ inch cast iron pipe in the bed of the race, and extending west-ward, erect and connect with the main, four hydrants, provide 2,000 feet of 2½ inch canvas hose, two horse carts, the necessary couplings, wrenches, nozzles, &c., and do all the excavating required. Mr. Perry guarantees to throw an 1½ steam over any building in the village, distant 2,000 feet from either hydrant. Considerable interest was manifest at the meeting, and Messrs. John Peters, J. H. Scriver, T. Hurley, R. Steele, John Walsh and John Coughlin were appointed a committee to select a site, and learn from the Messrs. Fowld's the probable cost of the land and power required, and report to the Reeve, who will call another meeting to consider the matter.

A Seance Spoiled.

Some time ago, at a spiritualistic seance—the genuine article—a fiery hand was seen waving overhead in the darkness, rushing from end to end of the room with incredible swiftness, now high, now low, and occasionally smiting people on the cheek with the cold clammy contact of a corpse. In spite of the medium's stringent injunctions that no one should move, a gentleman clutched this awful apparition as it swept past him, and regardless of protestations and threats, refused to let it go until the lights were turned up. Then the messenger from the other world proved to be nothing more supernatural than a dirty white kid glove, rubbed with phosphorus and stuffed with wet tow; this, at the end a thin line, was suspended from a fishing-rod convenient for the pocket. Thus the medium could cause all manner of appalling "manifestations" without rising from his chair.—Chambers' Journal.

Rev. M. Shirin,

Bewdley P. O., Ont., like hundreds of others who have been cured of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma, consumption and all diseases of the head, throat and lungs, says: "The Spirometer, invented by M. Souveille, of Paris, ex-aide surgeon of the French army, and the medicines and treatment prescribed at the International Throat and Lung Institute, have cured me completely of consumption (first stage) or advanced bronchitis, after everything else failed." Consultations and a trial of Spirometer free. Those who are unable to come to the Institute or see our surgeons, who visit all the principal towns and cities of Canada, can be successfully treated by writing, inclosing stamp for a copy of our International News, published monthly, which will give you full particulars and references, which are genuine. Address, 173 Church Street, Toronto, or 13 Phillips' Square, Montreal.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain and cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

THE U. S. TARIFF.

LONDON, March 22.—The Times says that the new tariff law of the United States is only a step towards free trade, the prospects for which might be clouded if the prosperity of America were checked, or if the Democrats were to spring to the frontier position on the question. The alarm of the protectionists indicates how the prospects for free trade is at present brightened.

THE FRENCH IN AFRICA.

PARIS, March 22.—The French troops under Col. Des Boode, after a severe fight, captured Bowakere, situated beyond the Niger. Unless the troops are supplied with provisions and money they will be compelled to abandon the position.

THE SKYE TROUBLES.

LONDON, March 22.—The crofters at Waters, Isle of Skye, are cited. They drove the stock of Lord Macdonald away.

TWENTY DUELS.

VIENNA, March 22.—The recent demonstration of the Rading Club students here in the memory of Wagner led to twenty duels among the students, the combatants being German on oneside and Austrians on the other. One participant was severely wounded.

REVISION OF THE CONSTITUTION.

PARIS, March 22.—The League's programme attacks the present constitution as framed in the interest of oligarchy and declares that a reform or durable government is impossible with two hostile legislative houses.

AMERICAN.

A LEGISLATIVE MISTAKE.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 22.—It is discovered that the material part of the revenue bill passed at the recent session of the Legislature was omitted in enrolling and signed in that shape by the Governor.

A RAILROAD COMMISSION.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 22.—The House has passed the Railroad Commission Bill.

A COUNTESS EJECTED.

PHILADELPHIA, March 22.—Madame Emile Kocuska, claiming to be a Polish Countess, was ejected from a fashionable hotel here yesterday, because she refused to pay her bill. She threatens legal proceedings.

HEAVY LOSS BY FIRE.

NEWPORT, R. I., March 22.—The loss by the burning of Dr. Fisher's dwelling yesterday was $60,000, chiefly on a collection of curiosities.

TERRIBLE SUICIDE.

NEW YORK, March 22.—At Mount Vernon yesterday Mrs. Elizabeth Dreyer, aged 65, threw herself before a train and was killed. She had trouble recently regarding a piece of land.

AN AGED CAPTAIN DEAD.

BROOKLYN, March 22.—Capt. Andrew M. Hitchcox, the oldest captain on the North River, died yesterday of Bright's disease, aged 75. He was known familiarly as Capt. Kneely at every landing place between New York and Albany. He commanded steam boats on the Hudson more than fifty consecutive years. He was born at West Troy. His remains will be interred at Albany.

A TERRIBLE ASSAULT.

MANHEIM, Pa., March 22.—Charles Horn and his wife and three children were ejected from a house because of their failure to pay rent. They took to peddling and camping in the woods. Yesterday during the absence of the others, John Lough, a tramp, assaulted Mrs. Horn and threw hot coals over her. She was fatally burned. Lough was arrested.

NEW YORK'S MILK SUPPLY.

NEW YORK, March 22.—There was a shortage yesterday of nearly one quarter in the city's milk supply. It is rumoured that the farmers contemplate coming into the city and selling their own milk at a low price. A New York dealer yesterday at Oxford station shot, slightly wounding one of a crowd who spilled his milk.

THE MISSISSIPPI RIVER.

NEW ORLEANS, March 22.—Capt. Eads yesterday resigned from the Mississippi River Commission because the other members disagreed with him regarding the measures to prevent a diversion of the waters of the Mississippi river into an artificial river.

INCREASED WAGES DEMANDED.

MILWAUKEE, March 22.—The cigar makers here are preparing to strike on the first of May unless the employers agree to give them a share of the profits accruing from the three dollar box reduction. They want an increase of a dollar a thousand. There are 3,600 cigar makers here. It is said that all the union cigar makers in the country, numbering 75,000, will take a similar action.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 22.—The Fontaine cotton warehouse was burned this morning. Loss, $200,000.

CATTLE BURNED.

SHIPMEN, Ill., March 22.—The barn of Edward Medthard was burned last night, involving the death of 135 cattle. Loss, $12,000.

No Flounces Allowed.

A little girl wore a dress with a flounce around it in a Vicar of Wanborough's parish school in England recently, although he had ordered the pupils to be plainly dressed. The Vicar said that the child must either take off the ornament or remain away from school. Her parents refused to remove the ornament and the little girl was put out of school. Next, the parents were summoned to the County Court to show cause why the child did not attend school. Upon hearing the facts, the Court upheld the Vicar and his ordinance forbidding any but plain apparel, but mercifully omitted the fine that might have been imposed.

Daily Evening Review

THURSDAY, MARCH 22, 1883.

We have been asked who are the License Commissioners for the West Riding of Peterborough. We can only reply that there are no License Commissioners for West Peterborough, and that there have been none for some months. Possibly Mr. Mowat and his colleagues are too busy considering how they shall complete their administration, and what seats they can venture to open without seeing their slim majority disappear.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

On March 19th, Mr. John White (Hastings) introduced the bill to incorporate the Orange Association of British America and it was read a first time. To the question whether it be read a second time the following day Mr. Coursol moved in amendment that it be read that day six months. After some debate the amendment was defeated by 94 to 89 on a non-party vote, the leaders on both sides voting some one way and some the other.

The bill to incorporate the Royal Society of Canada was read a second time.

In answer to Mr. Blake Sir John Macdonald said that Sir Alex. Galt had proferred his resignation, but had agreed to hold office till some time this spring.

There was a debate on the fitness of Regina for a North West capital, when the excellent of the choice and the good faith of Mr. Dewdney in the matter were satisfactorily shown.

FALSIFYING STATISTICS.

The Globe, without waiting for all the official returns, rushes into calculations (?) to show that Mr. Mowat is sustained by a popular majority, which by the grossest falsification of the figures it places at 3,089. If this was reversed it would be nearer the truth, and it is at least certain that Mr. Meredith has a considerable popular majority, as we will show when all the returns are in.

Mr. Mowat's organ arrives at this fraudulent result by means of unequivocal falsehood. In some cases the figures are boldly falsified; for instance Mr. Clancy's Conservative majority in West Kent is understated by 126, while Mr. Widdifield's; Reform majority in North York is overstated by 80. Then though neither we nor the Globe have the official figures for East Kent, we are convinced that its claim of a Reform majority of 300 for Mr. McCraney is a gross exaggeration. In other cases the figures are dishonestly manipulated; for example Mr. Merrick is absurdly credited with a majority of only 1, though this was his majority over another Conservative, with yet a third Conservative in the field. In the same way Dufferin and East Grey are put down for 369 and 167 respectively, though these were majorities over rival Conservatives, none else daring to face the electors of these constituencies. Then there were ridings in which though there was a party contest there were other Conservatives in the field, yet the Globe only allows a majority over the next highest candidate, even when he also was a Conservative. Thus the combined Conservative majorities in Carleton, South Lanark and Russell were 1,572, 1,620 and 496 respectively, while the Globe gives only 778, 37 and 318. It also claims Mr. Gillies' majority of 120 in North Bruce for the Reformers, though it was obtained against their party candidate and by means of Conservative votes.

We have not gone thoroughly into the figures in the absence of the full returns, but we have shown enough to prove that the Globe has arrived at a dishonest conclusion by the most fraudulent and despicable means. That it should have been driven to the use of such devices proves the utter weakness of its case.

The fact remains that the popular majority was in favour of Mr. Meredith.

TWEED.

Powder Company.—The following appears in the last issue of the Ontario Gazette:—"Incorporating Francis Nugent, Leslie Tuttle, William Wright, George Easterbrook, and W. T. Easterbrook, of the village of Tweed, in the County of Hastings; for the manufacture and sale of all kinds of explosive powder, dynamite, dualin, vigorite and giant powder, by the name of "The Ontario Powder Company (limited)," with a capital stock of twenty-five thousand dollars, divided into one thousand shares of twenty-five dollars each."

A Puzzled Britisher.

One of the recent arrivals at the Windsor Hotel is an Englishman of note and capital fresh from London. Yesterday he started out with an old time friend, who is now at Denverite, for a stroll. The couple had scarcely left the door when the Denver man met a number of friends, whom he addressed as "captain," "major," and "general." The Englishman halted, turned around, scanned the building from top to bottom, and said, "Say, Hed, this 'ouse must be a barsenal."—Denver Tribune.

LAKEFIELD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

VILLAGE CONSTABLE.

There has recently been a good deal of discussion among the ratepayers of Lakefield concerning a village constable, lockup, &c., perhaps a little more than the importance of the matter would seem to warrant. It seems difficult to get a constable to suit. The general complaint is that they do not do enough. The reason is not far to ask—there is nothing or very little for a constable to do. So far as the citizens of Lakefield are concerned, a constable, bailiff or magistrate would be at most only an empty title. Outsiders occasionally become a little noisy, but even this occurs so seldomly that a constable or very few others know anything about it until afterwards. Several years ago a lockup was provided and kept in order for six months, but it was no use. It was never occupied by a law-breaker. If we had a lockup now it would be just the same. There would be no one to put into it. Of course it may be said that we will soon require one; that a large number of men will soon be engaged on the T. V.C. at Burleigh and Buckhorn, and that a place of that kind will be required or the village will get a bad name. It will, surely, be time enough to meet the evil when it comes. Some people are never satisfied. If Lakefield, as a village, is not troubled with law-breakers, it is certainly burdened with a few chronic grumblers, who are continually finding fault and picking holes in other peoples garments, oblivious of the large rents in their own cloaks. Well, Lakefield cannot get a constable or any other officer to please such people. It would be ridiculous to attempt the trial. Unfortunately the law does not apply to such cases or a good lockup would be a necessity in this village.

The Village Council were recently aroused concerning the matter, and resolved itself into a committee of the whole with power to act, to consider the lockup question. The constable's salary, $25.00, for six months, became due. The grumblers said the constable did not do anything for the money. The constable said he could not do anything because there was no lockup. So the Council went to work, laboured, but has not yet brought forth a lockup, but a pair of handcuffs. Your correspondent does not know of a single case in the village this winter where an offender could legally have been taken to a lockup. Perhaps at no distant day it may be found expedient to unite the offices of road master, health inspector, constable, &c., and get a good man and pay him a salary and keep him employed all the year round, but at present even this would be premature.

ORANGE DEGREE MEETING.

Young Canadians, L.O.L., No. 1395, will hold a special meeting for the purpose of conferring degrees, on Tuesday evening next, the 27th instant, at 7.30 o'clock. Refreshments are to be provided. The members of the old lodge have been invited to attend. A pleasant and profitable time is expected.

SKATING RINK.

The Lakefield skating rink was closed on Saturday last, for the season, so far as skating is concerned. We understand that the Lakefield Curling Club will still use the rink for the purposes of the roarin' game, having relieved the Skating Rink Co'y from the burden of caretaking, etc.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

On Wednesday, the 14th inst., Mrs. W. Batton, of this village, while walking on the street near her home, fell on some ice and broke her arm a little above the wrist.

NARROW ESCAPE.

On Saturday afternoon, the 17th inst., while Mr. Freddie LeFevre was busy digging out the model of a boat with a pen-knife, in drawing it towards him the knife slipped and entered his breast, but glancing downwards on a rib did not do any serious injury, but it was a very narrow escape.

SHANTIES.

Many of the lumber shanties at the north are breaking up. Large numbers of teams have recently been passing through Lakefield on their return from the woods. The horses generally look remarkably well, showing the effects of good feeding and lots of snow.

GOING WEST.

A number of people from Lakefield and vicinity, the middle-aged as well as the young, are this spring taking Mr. Greeley's advice to go west. Mr. George Preston and family, and Mr. Samuel G. Roseborough leave on Tuesday next for Birtle, in the North-west, to make it their future home. At least three other parties are to leave Lakefield for the west, at different times between now and the middle of April.

ENNISMORE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

A Severe Storm.—On Saturday evening about 7 o'clock with the thermometer at 37°, it commenced raining and continuing to do so till 5 o'clock on Sunday morning, falling to the depth of 30-100 of an inch. At half-past 9 the wind having veered around to the northwest, it commenced to snow, and with only four hours interval during Sunday night and Monday morning, it snowed heavy from the northeast till 10 o'clock p.m., falling to the depth of 11 inches, the thermometer droping rapidly. On Monday morning at sun-rise it stood 2° below zero, and during the whole day with a fierce storm raging it never rose above zero. On Tuesday morning it ranged 6° below zero, a cold never attained before during such a down fall in all my experience. On placing my gage 3 inches deep and melting the snow it gave the usual depth of ½ an inch of water or 1 87-100 for the storm being considerable above the average, caused no doubt by the fineness of the snow and sharp beating wind. If Wiggins did not give us the 28 hours rain at all events we received full measure with the two combined. On Tuesday morning two of the largest and prettiest weather dogs accompanied the sun for a considerable time. They are always believed to foretell a coming storm. On Wednesday morning the thermometer was 15° below zero at sun-rise.

A Mission.—A mission will open in the Ennismore Church on Sunday next and continue for a week. Besides other religious exercise, a sermon will be delivered on the morning and evening of each day. The Rev. Father Beauvien a member of Jesuit Order, will conduct the services. In announcing the mission last Sunday the Rev. Father Keilty said the public generally were invited to attend.

Wife Murder Confessed.

St. John, March 19.—The coloured man Hughes, under sentence of death for murdering his wife, made a long statement to a newspaper reporter to-day, the substance of which is that he always had hard feelings against his wife. For some unknown reason they quarrelled, and she left him. He tried to persuade her to return but she refused. Then, says Hughes, I was overcome with the wicked spirit, which told me, "You want to live but a few weeks anyway; kill her, and then you will be hung, and both of you will be out of the way." My mind told me I'd grieve myself to death in a short time, not having her to live with me. I then snatched a hatchet, and killed her. I gave myself up to the law, and was brought to gaol.

Honesty Exemplified.

A Louisville family contributed some clothing for the flood sufferers. It was afterwards remembered that in the pocket of the child's garment was a silk handkerchief with its little owner's name woven upon it. About the same time one of the young ladies of the family missed a diamond ring, which was supposed to have been stolen from the house. A few days later an advertisement was noticed giving the name of the little owner of the silk handkerchief, and saying that something of interest could be learned by calling at a designated street and number. The call was made and the handkerchief found with the diamond ring wrapped up in it. The family who had been at so much pains to return the lost articles to their owners had lost everything by the flood.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Ross Challenges Hanlan.

St. John, N.B., March 19.—A Toronto telegram having stated that Hanlan expressed himself as anxious to row Wallace Ross this year, and willing to make the stakes $1000 a side, Ross to-day issues a challenge to Hanlan, offering to row a four or five mile race for the amount stated, the winner to receive all moneys received from railways, etc. Ross will give $500 toward expenses provided Hanlan will row at St. John, or he will take $500 and row at Toronto—the race to take place on or after the 1st of July.

DO I REMEMBER IRELAND?

Do I remember Ireland? is it that you ask asthore?
Well, maybe you have reason, child, for fifty years and more,
Have left their changes on me, since through tears and ocean spray,
My swollen eyes beheld her shores grow dim and fade away.

Yes, fifty years and over—that's a length of time 'tis true,
With all its cares and troubles, its scenes and faces new.
But neither years nor oceans, child, will ever wear away
My memory of Ireland—its as fresh as yesterday.

And when I call the vision up, how vivid it appears,
So near me, and so real, thro' the long, long lane of years;
Ev'ry scene I used to love, ev'ry haunt I used to know,
When youth's bright days were with me, in poor Ireland long ago.

The hill a'l crowned with heather, where I loved so well to climb
For cowslips sweet and daisies in the beautiful spring time,
To rob the prickly furze bush of its gems of golden pride,
Or search beneath the hedges where the primrose used to hide.

The redbreast's merry chirrup and the thrush's matchless lay,
The perfume of the hawthorn; all the beauties of the May.
The fragrance of the turf smoke, as it curled blue and thin,
With the tales and laughter laden from the merry hearts within.

I mind me how we wandered thro' the castle old and grey,
A thousand years 'twas standing (and 'tis standing yet, they say),
How grim it looked, and solemn, keeping watch upon the flow
Of the river that swept headlong past the mossy rocks below.

These pictures from the buried past come trooping up at will,
The coach, the house it stopped at, the bridge, the noisy mill,
The dear old whitewashed chapel, where my childhood's prayers were said,
The churchyard with, God rest them, its loved and honored dead.

You say, and maybe rightly, that this land has scenes as fair,
I know and love its beauty, yet it's not the same as there.
Your mountains, lakes, and rivers may be wonderful and grand,
But give to me the beauties of my good old native land.

Yes, I remember Ireland, child, and if it were God's will—
A foolish wish you'll call it, p'raps, but I must own it still—
When death shall end my days on earth I wish my bed of clay
With Irish sods was covered in the churchyard far away.

THE BLACK BUOY!

I paused for a moment to picture to myself the bearings of the buoy. I knew exactly how it lay from the point, for I had swam round it often enough. But not in the dark. Not with the water a vast black plain, mingling with the fear of sinking to those mysterious depths, unseen, unheard, unhelped. But I never hesitated. Into the cold flood I plunged and struck out boldly in the direction I had determined upon. After a few vigorous strokes the sense of active exercise, exultation in physical power and use of skill overcame my misgivings. But they came on again when I looked around upon that murky waste of water. Could I be sure I was going in the right direction? Might I not swim and swim and never find that for which I was in search, lose myself and become exhausted in that lonely waste that silent sky alone?

But on I went, struggling hard to keep my wits about me in spite of the horrors that would rush over my brain again and again. It was a physical work, too, for the tide was coming in, there were breakers in the shallows, and in the channel the stream was fast and strong. It was impossible to see more than a few yards ahead, level as I was with the water. With the tide running so hard against me it was difficult to see how far out I had succeeded in getting. Once I all but gave up. I got out of the channel into the breakers, and the buffeting and beating bewildered me so that I fell in a sort of a panic. I threw myself on my back, and in the very act—thanks to my practiced eye-sight that could more or less see in the dark—I caught sight of the buoy. There it was bobbing up and down, looking to me like a thing of life. I swam to it and kept close by. It was like a friend in all this desolation of heaving seas. But now came the worst watch of the whole. The lugger must inevitably pass within hail of me, but what if my strength was ebbing fast? I had been without food since noon. I had walked many miles. Swimming is an exacting, exerting exercise, and I had still to exert myself resolutely, with the tide running fast, to maintain my present position. My limbs moved mechanically, my head was dull and heavy, and there was a sort of tingling in my ears. I knew I was going fast.

A little gleam of parting waters, a black mass looming blacker than the darkness, and I summoned all my energies for a shout. "Little Lady, ahoy!"

A voice came from the darkness: "Little Lady it is. Who are you?"

"Lay to and throw a rope over your starboard quarter."

The lugger was not thirty yards distant. I made my last effort and swam to her. A rope was thrown; they hauled me on board, and I had just time to give my warning before I fell fainting on the deck.

When I came to the last keg of our cargo was lowered into the sea. We were some little distance up the coast, and floats were attached to the kegs so that we might be able to find them again. So expeditiously was all this done that it was only some two hours afterwards when we beat cautiously up the channel, and cast anchor opposite the mouth of the gully. We pulled ashore in our boat. As she grounded and we leaped out dark figures started up around, lights flashed upon us, and we were surrounded by soldiers.

"In the king's name," said the young officer, advancing with his sword drawn and his cloak thrown back to show his scarlet uniform.

It was a picturesque group, illuminated by the flickering light of the soldiers torches. My tall old grandsire with his weather-beaten face and gray hair; the boyish, handsome officer, bright with scarlet and steel; the stolid seamen, in their jerseys and sou' westers; the soldiers, with their bronzed faces and glittering accoutrements, and, I suppose, myself, keeping under shelter of my stalwart grandsire, disguised as I was, in a suit of oilskins and a big sou'wester that almost covered my rebellious hair.

My grandfather said nothing when the young lieutenant ordered the sergeant to board the lugger, and only a twinkle of his keen gray eye showed his enjoyment of the scene.

He stood looking up at the sky, while the lieutenant kept his eyes fixed on the ground and toyed with his sword belt. The soldiers had to row, and clumsily enough they did it, provoking one of the seamen to a loud guffaw, which was instantly suppressed.

The sergeant was back again pretty soon; his red face was purple with wrath.

"We've been made fools of, sir," he exclaimed saluting the lieutenant. "Nothing on board except some meats."

The lieutenant's face fell for an instant; then he looked at the sergeant's wrathful countenance, and bit his lips to keep from smiling.

The sergeant was at white heat. "With your permission, sir, I'll search these fellows," he said.

"If you like," answered the lieutenant, carelessly.

The search was soon accomplished, and they found nothing that they wanted. I kept behind my grandfather's back, hoping to escape observation. But the sergeant caught me by the wrist. My grandfather interposed.

"There is nothing contraband on that boy," said he, peremptorily.

"We'll soon see that," answered the soldier, grasping my wrist until I could have screamed with pain.

My grandfather did not strike him, but administered a kind of push with his heavy shoulder that sent the sergeant, big as he was, staggered a yard or two. With the loosing of his hold I slipped and almost fell; off went my sou'wester, and down, alas! streamed my long brown hair all over me. The young officer stepped between the sergeant and me.

"I don't think we need search this youngster," he said in a tone of quiet authority. "He is not likely to have anything contraband about him. Where have you been to-night?" he added, turning to my grandfather, while I got into the background, conscious that the young gentleman's eyes had found me out.

"Lobster fishing," answered my grandfather, unblushingly.

"Not much sport, I'm afraid," said the lieutenant, looking abstractedly over my grandfather's shoulder.

"Not a great deal," answered my grandfather. "But we've taken as much as you, sir. Perhaps you would like to come with us some time and we might do better."

"Perhaps I will," answered the officer, still glancing over the other's shoulder. "Meanwhile, I am sorry to have caused you or yours any annoyance. Good night to you. Fall in, men."

And away they went. But my grandfather gave up the trade soon after that and sold the lugger.

Grandmamma paused and looked at grandpapa with a smile.

"And did you never see the lieutenant again after that?" inquired a bright girl of fourteen, with long, bright hair, probably like what grandmamma's once was.

"My dear," said grandpapa, "I was the lieutenant."

CANADA LUMBER WANTED BY DODGE & CO., Baltimore, Md., U. S. A.

FITS A Leading London Physician establishes an office in New York for the cure of EPILEPTIC FITS. From Am. Journal of Medicine. Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John St., New York.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz. a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

"Lobster fishing," answered my grandfather, unblushingly.

"Not much sport, I'm afraid," said the lieutenant, looking abstractedly over my grandfather's shoulder.

"Not a great deal," answered my grandfather. "But we've taken as much as you, sir. Perhaps you would like to come with us some time and we might do better."

"Perhaps I will," answered the officer, still glancing over the other's shoulder. "Meanwhile, I am sorry to have caused you or yours any annoyance. Good night to you. Fall in, men."

And away they went. But my grandfather gave up the trade soon after that and sold the lugger.

Grandmamma paused and looked at grandpapa with a smile.

"And did you never see the lieutenant again after that?" inquired a bright girl of fourteen, with long, bright hair, probably like what grandmamma's once was.

"My dear," said grandpapa, "I was the lieutenant."

THE END.

DON'T PUT IT OFF!

A common, and often fatal, disease is Jaundice. Regulate the action of the Liver, and cleanse the blood with Burdock Blood Bitters, and the worst case may be speedily cured.

WELL AS EVER.—Lottie Howard writes from Buffalo, N.Y.:—"My system became greatly debilitated through arduous professional duties; suffered from nausea, sick headache and biliousness. Tried Burdock Blood Bitters with the most beneficial effect. Am well as ever."

Would you avoid the Biliary complaints incidental to spring and summer? Cleanse the system with Burdock Blood Bitters. It regulates the Liver, Bowels, Kidneys and Blood, and is the purest tonic in the world. Trial bottles 10 cents.

WE have a speedy and positive Cure, for Catarrh, Diphtheria, Canker mouth and Head Ache, in Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. A nasal Injector free with each bottle. Use it if you desire health and sweet breath. For sale by J. D. Tully.

"Blood will tell." A face adorned with Pimples, Boils, Blotches &c., is not particularly pleasant sight, and invariably betokens an impure state of the Blood. Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters free the system from all gross humours, renders the Blood Pure and Cool, aids digestion and gives a healthy appetite. For sale by all Druggists in large Bottles at 50 cents.

The best known remedy for all affections of the Chest, Lungs or Throat is Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum. It is constantly used by thousands of persons suffering from the above diseases, and in nearly every instance it affords immediate relief. In cases of troublesome, tickling Cough, where the patient passes sleepless nights, one or two doses of the Syrup has such a quieting, soothing effect that rest ensues and the Cough speedily disappears. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

FITS A leading London Physician establishes an office in New York for the cure of EPILEPTIC FITS.

From Am. Journal of Medicine. Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John St., New York.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz. a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

A LITTLE ROGUE.

Grandma was nodding, I rather think ;
Harry was sly and quick as a wink ;
He climbed on the back of her great armchair,
And nestled himself very snugly there.
Grandma's dark locks were mingled with white,
And quick this little fact came to his sight ;
A sharp twinge soon she felt at her hair,
And woke with a start to find Harry there.
"Why, what are you doing, my child ?" she said,
He answered : "I'se pulling a basting fread !"

Ladies who want Stylish patterns in Prints, should pay Munro & Alexander a visit. They are now showing the newest things in "Floral Effects," &c. Sateen Cloths in every desirable shade.

There is a strong feeling in favor of wool fabrics for spring wear, and nuns' veilings and vermicelli cloths are the most popular materials. Pink and blue are popular colours in prints, and some exceedingly pretty floral effects have been produced in this article. In cretonnes some exceptionally fine patterns are being shown this season, and these goods, on account of their extreme prettiness, are interfering with the sale of wool damasks and reps.

Housekeepers who intend purchasing Cretonnes would do well to examine the stock of these goods at Munro & Alexanders'. Their assortment of patterns is acknowledged to be the best in Peterborough.

The favorite shades during the coming summer will be frais ecrasesés, acajou, terre cuite, mordore, and electric. There may be a few whom these terms will fail to enlighten as to the popular hues, and they will be pleased to learn that frais ecrasesés is another name for crushed strawberries, that acajou is literally mahogany, and terre cuite is French for terra cotta. Crushed gooseberries or bruised lemon have not yet been heard of from Paris, but certainly crushed strawberries is a very pretty idea, and suggests something exceedingly sweet in the way of trimmings.

Munro & Alexander have several very desirable lines of Union and all Wool Dress Goods to hand. They will open out in a day or two a direct importation of Nun's Veilings, in all the newest shades including "Crushed Strawberries" and "Cream." Prices right.

Though not in these days generally cultivated, at least in Europe, the despised nettle was at one time, and that for several centuries, held in high honour and esteem throughout the world. In Kamschatka the fibres have long been used for fishing lines ; in France they have been made into paper ; in Hindustan and China, woven into so-called "grass cloth ;" and in Scotland and some parts of England the stalks have been dressed, spun, and woven into linen as good as that made from flax ; while the old German name for muslin, "nettle-cloth," shows that it must have been at one time extensively used for weaving purposes on the Continent.

Munro & Alexander are now showing a large stock of New Ducks and Denims. Strong Tweeds, Cotton Shirtings, Grey and White Cottons. Tickings and Table Linens.

Easter Eggs.

Call and see the Easter eggs at China Hall.

Hot Cross Buns.

Hot-cross Buns for Good Friday at Carton Bros.'

No Issue.

To-morrow being Good Friday, a legal holiday, the DAILY EVENING REVIEW will not be issued.

The Cells.

Five tramps occupied the police cells last night. No arrests were made, and there was a blank at the Police Court this morning.

Piano Tuning.

Mr. George Gumpricht, tuner for Messrs. Mason & Risch, Toronto, will be in town for a short time. Orders left at Mr. T Menzies' bookstore will be promptly attended to.

Good Work.

Mr. W. G. Ferguson has done some good work in the south part of the town, by clearing the snow off the sidewalks with his snow plough, and the benefits of the plough are appreciated by those living in that part of the town.

London.

There was a good attendance in Bradburn's Opera House on Wednesday evening, when Mr. H. H. Ragan delivered his illustrated lecture on "London from the top of an Omnibus." The audience appeared to be more interested in this lecture than in the one on Paris, as the historical references were to matters connected with the British history and the views were of scenes and buildings in the capital of our Empire.

The Weather Probabilities.

Of the 144 weather predictions issued from the Toronto office during February, only 103 were fully verified ; 18 were partially verified ; and 23 were not verified. The probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows :—Moderate to fresh southerly to westerly winds ; fair, milder weather, with a little light snow in some localities at night.

Manitoba Property.

We beg to call attention to the extensive auction sale at the Caisse House on Saturday, March 31st, of farm property in our Prairie Province, and of town lots in the flourishing town of Nelson. This is not one of the speculative sales with which we have become familiar, but is a genuine opportunity of making a good purchase, as Mr, W. J. Hall finds that he has more of this valuable property than he cares to carry, and therefore is willing to allow to others a share in his favorable investment, while retaining the great bulk of it in his own hands.

IF YOU WANT large fresh oysters dished up in good style, go to T. Darcy's Restaurant and Oyster Parlour.

Arrested.

A man was brought in from the Link at noon to-day by Constable Pidgeon, charged with assault.

No Western Mail.

The Grand Trunk train from the west did not connect with the Midland train at Port Hope to-day, and consequently the western papers and mail did not arrive here at noon.

The Rink.

The Fire Brigade Band will be in attendance to-morrow (Friday) night at the rink for the last time this season. The ice is in good condition. Admission 15 cents ; ticket holders free.

Good Friday.

On Friday next, which will be Good Friday, the Fire Brigade Band will give an open air rehearsal at the post office corner, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. A good programme has been prepared, and the citizens may expect to hear superior music, if the weather proves favorable.

The Temperature.

The Rev. V. Clementi's self-registering thermometer showed 13° below zero last night. The thermometer at Messrs. Taylor & Macdonald's registered as follows to-day :—At 8 a. m., 6° above zero ; at noon 47° above, and at 2.20 p.m., 47° above.

Runaways.

A team of horses attached to a pair of bob-sleighs ran away on London street on Wednesday, having been frightened by a piece of paper carried past them by the wind. At the corner of Bethune street the horses ran one on each side of a lamp post and were stopped. This forenoon a horse belonging to Mr. Baptie ran away on Hunter street and made straight for home, going by Water street to Brock street, then to George and up George to London street. It received a slight cut on its foot and a shaft was broken.

Conservatives Victorious.

In the curling match on Wednesday night between rinks composed of Conservatives and Reformers, the followers of Mr. Blake sustained a decided defeat. The score was as follows :—

REFORMERS.	CONSERVATIVES.
Rink No. One.
W. Hamilton,	M. Hamilton,
A. Hall,	J. McClelland,
W. G. Ferguson,	A. McNeil,
M. Miller, skip—12	Dr. Boucher, skip—30
Rink No. Two.
R. Hall,	C. H. Gale,
C. McGill,	W. H. Clanton,
G. Dunsford.	W. H. Bodden,
G. Brown, skip—12	T. P. Attrill, skip—30.
24	60

Majority for the Conservatives, 36.

At the match for Monday night, which was won by the Reformers, the rinks were not complete, but it is argued that both sides have now won a match, and they will play again on Monday night.

Our Militia.

In the official report of the Militia, for 1882, Peterborough receives a gratifying share of praise. Lt.-Col. Villiers, the Deputy Adjutant General of the District, in his report on the Cobourg Camp, says :—

"The four Battalions, viz., the 40th, 45th, 46th and 57th were very good, but I must give the palm to the 57th."

The same officer also expresses his entire satisfaction with his staff, among whom he mentions Lt.-Col. H. C. Rogers, 3rd Cavalry, Assistant Brigade-Major. Of the artillery he says that the Durham Field Battery had greatly improved since the last year, and came into camp well horsed. Lt.-Col. Montizambert, Assistant Inspector of Artillery, in his report on the Durham Field Battery says :—

"A very efficient battery, clean, smart and well up in their work. Horses very good, field manœuvres very good, gun drill very good. A detachment of this battery came from Peterborough, and seem to have been ably instructed at voluntary drills by Lieut. Sanderson, all the year round. That officer is one of the best swordsmen I have seen in Canada outside of the Royal Schools of Gunnery. Sergt. H. Strange, "B," Battery, Royal School of Gunnery, instructed during the training."

It will thus be seen that in the three great arms of the service, the County of Peterborough has earned laurels, though happily only on a peaceful field.

A Run on a Drug Store.

Never was such a rush made for any Drug Store as is now at Taylor & McDonald's for a Trial Bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. All persons affected with Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Severe Coughs or any affection of the Throat and Lungs, can get a Trial Bottle of this great remedy free, by calling at above Drug Store. Regular size $1.00.—5

Oh, What A Cough !

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50 cts., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will Cure your Cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves Croup, and Whooping Cough, at once. Mothers do not be without it. For sale by J D. Tully.

Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint.

Is it not worth the small price of 75 cents to free yourself of every symptom of these distressing complaints, if you think so call at our store and get a bottle of Shiloh's Vitalizer, every bottle has a printed guarantee on it, use accordingly and if it does you no good it will cost you nothing. For sale by J. D. Tully.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Eruptions, and all diseases of the Skin and Blood are promptly cured by Burdock Blood Bitters. It purges all foul humors from the system, imparting strength and vigor at the same time.

A ROPE ABOUT OUR NECKS.—A weak stomach or enfeebled circulation is like a rope about our necks. We are strung up and unstrung alternately till existence becomes unbearable. Burdock Blood Bitters will arrest all this misery. Burdock Blood Bitters is a boon to the sick. Let us remember this fact.

Davy & Clark, druggists, Renfrew, date of June 3rd, write :—"Burdock Blood Bitters, though comparatively a new preparation, has taken the lead in this locality as a blood purifier, our sales of it being equal to that of all other medicines used for the purpose during the last year."

EASTER BEEF.

"May Good Digestion wait on Appetite."
—SHAKESPEARE.

The undersigned has spared no pains once more to procure for his customers and the public generally during the EASTER HOLIDAYS the primest quality and greatest variety of Meats that could be purchased in this County. The following is the

BILL OF FARE :

One Durham Steer, from the herd of Mr. Wm. Graham, of Smith, fed by him especially for the occasion, and doing him credit as a breeder and feeder.

One Grade Steer, from the herd of Mr. James Campbell, of Walkerfield, North Monaghan. From the reputation this gentleman has gained for himself as a feeder, something superfine may be expected.

Three Steers and One Heifer, from the herd of Mr. James Wallis, of "Merino," North Monaghan. The Steers are not of large stature, but are of prime quality, and reflect great credit on their feeder.

Two Steers and One Heifer, from the herd of Mr. Richard Dundas, of Cavan. These cattle are coming two years old ; thoroughbred Durhams, and are good specimens of what can be done by our local feeders.

Two Steers, from the herd of Mr. Hamilton Moore, of Otonabee, which are fine specimens of careful feeding.

Two Heifers, from the herd of Mr. Andrew Nelson, of Otonabee, both being in prime condition, and will add greatly to the Easter display.

One Heifer, from the herd of Mr. Geo. McKee, of Smith, which he has carefully fed for the holidays, and is one of the best in the Easter herd.

One Heifer, from the herd of Mr. Neil McDonald, of Smith, fed for the occasion, and whose appearance has been greatly admired by good judges.

One Calf, fed by Mr. Edward Sutton, of Cavan, who has on former occasions produced some of the finest veal for our Easter market, but this calf "takes the cake," and is well worth seeing.

One Calf, from Mr. S. Staples, of Cavan ; one from Mr. Cameron, of Otonabee ; and one from Mr. J. W. Lowes, of Manvers ; all are worthy of praise.

Spring Lambs, from the folds of Mr. Joseph Foster, of Monaghan, which have been carefully "fostered" for the Easter market.

A Number of Sheep, from the folds of Messrs. A. Nelson, of Otonabee, and Wm. Dawson, of South Monaghan ; in prime condition.

A Number of Pigs, from the pens of Messrs. James Campbell, of Monaghan, and William Graham, of Smith, which have "cracked their own corn," to the satisfaction of their feeders.

Also, a fine display of Fancy Meats, consisting of Sausages, Brawn, Tripe, 'Calves' Head, Roasters, &c., all got up in the best style.

Come one! Come all! Give Harry a Call, at his Easter Stall ; and you will find he is not behind, in catering for all Mankind.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic ; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar to itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly affected with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.
DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.)
THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution.
In Boxes at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., and 4s. 6d.
Sold by Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world. Prepared by Jas. Berke, London. Specially valuable Pills for residents abroad and travellers.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendencies, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d. ; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, billiousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

AN N. P. RESULT.

THE Globe publishes some figures showing that while our annual imports from the United States have fallen off between 1877-8 and 1881-2, our imports from the United Kingdom for the same dates show an increase of $13,166,160, or more than 35 per cent. With the usual free trade logic the Globe argues that the result shows that our present tariff discriminates against the mother country.

When arguing in favour of the adoption of the National Policy we claimed that it would be found favorable to British manufacturers, and though we were ridiculed at the time for the assertion it has proved to be true. The reason is not difficult to find. The tariff aimed to protect the manufacturers of staple articles and those of common use in Canada and therefore naturally bore more heavily upon their rivals in the United States who make the same class of goods. On the other hand the general prosperity caused by the National Policy has increased the consumption of finer goods and other luxuries which we obtain largely from the Mother Country.

POLITICAL LICENSE OFFICIALS.

THE Orillia Packet, that noted advocate of temperance, does not think that the Crooks Act is so well carried out by the political license officials as Mr. Mowat and his supporters maintain. It says:—

> "There are many complaints and much dissatisfaction in Tiny and Tay, arising from the non-enforcement of the Crooks Act. We are assured by persons well qualified to judge that never before was the illicit traffic in strong drink carried on as openly and extensively. And even were our informants less respectable or reliable, we could well believe their statements from what we know of what is going on in this town and other parts of the Riding. Now that the elections are over, perhaps Mr. Tudhope will make a real effort to prove the Ontario License Act the beneficent law he claims it is."

THE Ontario Gazette contains a notice of the appointment of Messrs. John McClelland, Thos. Dolan and Robert Graham as License Commissioners for the West Riding of Peterborough. It seems that Mr. Mowat and his colleagues have at last found time to make the three appointments for this Board, but they have not yet been able to decide which of the corrupt promises to appoint the Registrar of Peterborough in return for political support is to be kept and which are to be broken.

THAT independant Reform journal, the Newmarket Era, has the following sensible remarks:—

> "The course pursued by the Opposition, on the proposition for temperance legislation about to take place at Ottawa, is not commendable. If they could not have their own way they should at least have accepted a place on the committee and endeavored to mould the result according to their notion, as far as possible. That's what they were sent to Ottawa for, and not to act the part of children."

Circumpolar Expedition Wrecked.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 23.—Word has reached here of the wrecking in the latter end of August, while going across Great Slave Lake from Fort Resolution to Fort Rae of the British circumpolar expedition detailed to take polar observations last year. No lives were lost, but considerable hardships were endured. The expedition had arrived at Fort Rae, its destination, on Sept. 2, and placed its instruments and taken two observations.

Never Give Up.

PARNELL'S UTTERANCES.

VIENNA, March 26.—Brosse asserts that Parnell in an interview in Paris gave his word of honor that three of ten men recently hanged in Ireland were innocent of the crimes from which they were executed. Brosse also states that Parnell said he had no hope that Gladstone's Government would succeed in pacifying Ireland.

AMERICAN.

HOWE'S DEATH.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Howe is the first member of the Cabinet who died in office since the death of Senator Rawlings in 1869. The following are mentioned as possible candidates for the vacancy:—Assistant Postmaster-General Hatton, Chancy J. Filley, of Missouri, ex-Congressman Butterworth, of Ohio, ex-Senator Windom, and John C. New. The President was deeply shocked by Howe's death, and has abandoned for the present his plans for a southern trip.

GLOVE FIGHT.

FAR ROCKAWAY, March 26.—Adrien Saportas, real estate broker, and Pierre Lamontague, liquor importer, both of New York, fought ten rounds here on Saturday night with gloves in the presence of a number of club men. Saportas won. Neither was seriously hurt.

SERGEANT MASON'S CASE.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Lincoln is reported as saying that the petitions for the capture of Sergeant Mason, who shot at Guiteau, have invariably asserted that he was illegally sentenced, while none have been received asking for clemency on the ground of executive power. There are many grounds on which his pardon could be asked that would not conflict with the general judgment of what is right, but surely the people do not intend to ask for a man's pardon to justify the essence of mob law. It is stated that Bigelow, Counsel for Mason, will file a bill in equity in the Supreme Court of the District, alleging that he has not been paid for services, and praying for a judgment for $3,500 against the funds deposited for the benefit of Mason's family with bankers here.

THE U. S. CABINET.

NEW YORK, March 26.—The Times' Washington despatch says that it is generally believed that the President will select a man of maturer year's and judgment than Hatton, and that the next Post Master General will be a western man, unless other changes in the Cabinet appear imminent. Although Folger's illness is abating there are grave doubts of his ever being able to accustom himself to the climate of Washington. The probabilities that he will resign are considered being great.

CHURCH DEDICATED.

NEW YORK, March 26.—Cornell Memorical was dedicated by Bishop Simpson yesterday. It had a debt $23,000, and the whole amount was subscribed at a meeting yesterday.

THE RESULT OF A COLD.

KENASHA, Wis., March 26.—Howe's illness was the result of a cold contracted by walking a mile through a bad storm on Green Bay, a week ago yesterday. His daughter arrived from Washington yesterday morning. Up to that time he was conscious, but his mind after that wandered, and at 2.20 p.m., he died without a struggle.

DIED IN POVERTY.

ST. LOUIS, March 26.—Daniel K. Russell, formerly well-known in theatrical circles all over the country, and the first husband of Adah Isaac Menken, died here yesterday. He has been a mendicant for years.

FLOODS.

NEW ORLEANS, March 26.—Considerable damage was done to the levels on the lower coast by the storm on Saturday. Thirty-one breaks are reported, varying from 20 to 200 feet in length. The whole Burac settlement is under water. This is the second largest village in the lower coast opposite the quarantine station. The breaks put almost the entire line of Orange groves under water, and if the water is not quickly drained off the crop will be a total loss.

EMINENT PHYSCIAN DEAD.

NEW YORK, March 26.—Wm. H. Van Buren, an eminent pysician and surgeon, died yesterday, aged 64.

VALUABLE PICTURE RUINED.

CINCINNATTI, March 26.—The painting of "St. Paul in chains," by Murville, in St. Peter's Cathedral here, valued at $25,000 has been ruined. The Sexton was trying to place the screen over it and he slipped from the scaffolding and fell through the picture to the floor.

RECOVERING THE BODIES.

BRAIDWOOD, Ill., March 26.—The bodies of nine of the victims of the Diamond Mine disaster were brought to the surface at midnight. From the earliest hour yesterday up to the time of the recovery of the bodies the roads leading to the scene were blocked by excited people going to and from the mine. Two thousand people were around the shaft when the bodies were hoisted. The party which explored the mine yesterday came across a trap door partly imbedded in the caved roof. Bursting open the door, the party entered the passage, where the black damp almost choked them, and discovered not far ahead two bodies lying upon their faces. Proceeding further they found two more upon two huge piles of soapstone, which dropped from the roof. Without removing the bodies the party retreated before the black damp, which was coming upon them faster and faster, to the main shaft, where they were raised to the surface. The bodies were recovered by another party, which went down after dark. Half of the crowd viewed the first body brought up, but were unable to identify it. A small boy, however, recognized it as the body of his father, Paddy Wall. The face was in a horrible condition. The flesh was red and white, and the scalp was badly crushed. Two of the other bodies were identified as those of Wm. Johnson and John Huber. Two shafts will be in the mine to-day, working through the immense piles of fallen soapstone. The work of the searchers is regarded as dangerous. Each miner engaged in unearthing the victims has a sponge fastened over his mouth and saturated in chemicals to preclude the possibility of being stricken down by gases.

THE McINTYRE TRAGEDY

THE MURDER IN CALIFORNIA OF AN OLD PETERBOROUGH RESIDENT.

The Confession of One of the Murderers—Full Details of the Crime.

We are indebted to Mr. Robt. McKee for a copy of the San Francisco Bulletin, forwarded to him by his partner, Mr. R. S. Davidson, from which we obtain the following particulars of the murder of Mr. Archibald McIntyre, a former resident of Otonabee:—

SAN JOSE, March 15th.—There were startling developments in the matter of the late murder of Renowden and McIntyre to-day. L. L. Majors testified that on Saturday night Jewell came to him, telling him that he was going to San Jose, and asked to borrow a pistol, which Majors loaned him—a heavy 44-calibre weapon; that on Sunday night, about ten o'clock he heard a knock on the back door, and opening the door saw Jewell, who stepped in and said he did not wish to be seen by any one. On procuring a light he was discovered to be covered with blood, and had a wound in the hand, and also a long wound in the forehead. Majors said, "My God! what is the matter with you?" and was answered, "I have had a —— of a time in San Jose, and I must leave the country until it blows over." He then bought a bottle of whiskey and left. From Majors' actions and from the conflicting statements made by him, suspicion was aroused that he knew more of the matter than he told.

Showers' confession reveals one of the most frightful histories of crime ever heard in this section. He says that Majors told him and Jewell that Renowden had a large sum of money buried in his cabin, fully $20,000; that he gave Jewell the pistol, for which he had previously purchased him cartridges, also cartridges for Jewell's pistol, a 41-caliber; that he (Showers) and Jewell went on Sunday afternoon to Renowden's place, and were surprised to find McIntyre there. They said they had lost their way, and stopped at the house and had supper. After dark Jewell decoyed Renowden outside, and when about the place where Renowden's body was found pulled both pistols and told him that if he moved he was a dead man. He then demanded to know where his money was hidden. Renowden replied by springing upon Jewell and seizing one of the pistols, Jewell firing it at the same moment. In the struggle which followed Renowden tore the pistol from Jewell's grasp, breaking one of his fingers. Jewell then fired again and Renowden struck him over the head with the pistol which he had taken, cutting the gash in his forehead before referred to. Jewell again fired and Renowden fell dead. In the mean time Showers had attacked McIntyre in the house, the two men clinching and falling to the ground in the struggle. When Renowden fell, Jewell ran to Showers' assistance, placed his pistol against McIntyre's body as he lay on the ground and fired. He then fled, and Showers, freeing himself from McIntyre's grasp, also fled. McIntyre then rose and grasped his rifle, but fell dead before he could use it. Jewell and Showers then went to Los Gatos and to Majors' saloon and told him that they had killed them both and had not got a cent. Majors gave them a sum of money and told them to flee, which they did, taking two horses from Showers' father's stable. These are the main points of Showers' confession.

The feeling against Majors, although it was not known that Showers had implicated him, ran so high at Los Gatos to-day that it was feared he would be lynched. Towards evening the demonstration became so threatening that Majors asked the citizens to take him to the jail at San Jos, and a very strong armed band brought him in to-night, leaving before the officers with the warrant for his arrest, who left San Jos this evening, arrived. In connection with Showers' statement it should be stated that the two bullets found in Renowden's body were respectively 42 and 41 caliber, and that Majors in his testimony also stated that he had bought at different times both numbers for Jewell. No news has been received from the officers who are scouring the mountains for Jewell. The most intense excitement prevails here, but no violence is anticipated. The inquest will be resumed here to-morrow, as it is not deemed prudent to continue it at Los Gatos, as Showers will be a witness.

POLICE COURT.

FINED.

MONDAY, March 26.—John Ryan, who was charged on Saturday with assaulting J. Venard, and in whose case judgment was reserved, was fined $10 and 5.70 costs or twenty days in gaol. He was given three days to pay the fine.

VAGRANCY.

Owen Dowling, a vagrant, who was liberated from gaol on Saturday morning, was sent back again for six months.

Rev. H. Shirts,

Bewdley P. O., Ont., like hundreds of others who have been cured of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma, consumption and all diseases of the head, throat and lungs, says: "The Spirometer, invented by M. Souvielle, of Paris, ex-aide surgeon of the French army, and the medicines and treatment prescribed at the International Throat and Lung Institute, have cured me completely of consumption (first stage) or advanced bronchitis, after everything else failed." Consultations and a trial of Spirometer free. Those who are unable to come to the Institute or see our surgeons, who visit all the principal towns and cities of Canada, can be successfully treated by writing, inclosing stamp for a copy of our International News, published monthly, which will give you full particulars and references, which are genuine. Address, 173 Church Street, Toronto, or 13 Phillips' Square, Montreal.

The best known remedy for all affections of the Chest, Lungs or Throat is Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum. It is constantly used by thousands of persons suffering from the above diseases, and in nearly every instance it affords immediate relief. In cases of troublesome, tickling Cough, where the patient passes sleepless nights, one or two doses of the Syrup has such a quieting, soothing effect that rest ensues and the Cough speedily disappears. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

MACK'S MAGNETIC MEDICINE is an unfailing food for the Brain and Nerves, and by its rejuvenating effect on these organs never fails to cure nervous exhaustion and all weaknesses of the generative organs. See advertisement in another column. Guarantees issued only by Ormond & Walsh, Peterborough.

THE AGRICULTURAL AND ARTS ASSOCIATION.

A Fat Stock Show at Toronto in December—Provincial Ploughing Matches.

The annual meeting of the Council of the Agricultural and Arts Association was held in Toronto on the 20th and 21st of March.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year, viz.:—D. P. McKinnon, South Finch, President; [illegible] Legge, Gananoque, Vice-President; and George Graham, Brampton, [illegible].

Messrs. White, Legge and Morgan were appointed a committee to confer with the Commissioner of Agriculture with reference to the Hall [illegible].

A conference was held with the representatives of the Toronto Electoral Agricultural Society with reference to the holding of a fat stock show in Toronto in December, and it was ultimately decided that each association should contribute $800 for such a purpose, and that they should share the profits or losses equally between them, and Messrs. Drury, Moore, Snell and Carnegie were appointed the representatives of the Council on the joint committee for its management, and they, with Messrs. Smith, Rennie, Withrow and Mitchell, of the Toronto Society, will compose the managing committee. At a meeting of the committee Dr. Smith, V. S., was appointed Chairman, Mr. Edwards, Treasurer, and Mr. Wade, Secretary.

The following standing committees for the current year were appointed, (the gentlemen first named to be chairman thereof):—Executive and Buildings, Messrs. Parker, Moore, Rykert, Aylesworth and Shipley; Finance and Printing, Messrs. Drury, White, Carnegie and Morgan; [illegible] and [illegible], Messrs. Aylesworth, Legge, Hunter and White; Herd Books, Messrs. Carnegie, Drury, Snell and the Secretary; Prize Farms, Messrs. Drury, Snell and Carnegie.

It was agreed to give the Provincial Grange 20 per cent. of the receipts of Thursday in excess of the receipts of Wednesday at the Provincial Exhibition, the Grangers to do the advertising, &c., in connection with the excursions.

It having been decided that $1,200 be appropriated for ploughing matches, the Province to be divided into four districts and $300 to be allotted to each.

Mr. Carnegie moved, seconded by Mr. Aylesworth, that the ploughing divisions be composed as follows:—Division No. 1—districts 1, 2, and 3; division No. 2—districts 4, 5, and 13; division No. 3—districts 6, 7, 8, and 9; division No. 4—districts 10, 11, and 12. He said that under the old system the territory from Peel to Kingston was too large for one division.

Mr. Rykert moved, seconded by Mr. White, that the second division be composed of districts 4, 5, 6, and 13, and the third division of districts 7, 8, and 9.

Mr. Rykert's motion was carried.

Mr. Aylesworth then moved that in view of the large extent of territory composed in the second division $100 additional be granted to that division. He thought it was only fair to the eastern part of the Province.

Mr. Carnegie supported the motion.

On being put the motion was lost.

Mr. Legge moved:—"That in view of the great importance of the dairy interest to the farmers of the Province of Ontario, and the necessity of encouraging the production of an improved quality of butter, this council desires to express its hearty approval of the measure passed in the late session of the Legislature making provision for the establishment of public creameries in the province for instruction in all the process of butter-making, both on the dairy and the creamery system, and that the council will cheerfully co-operate with the Commissioner of Agriculture in giving practical effect to the proposed object of the Creamery Act."

Mr. Carnegie did not object to the motion, but urged the appointment of a committee to collect information upon the creamery question, and suggested that the motion should be amended, so as to include the appointment of a committee.

Messrs. Moore and Parker opposed the appointment of a committee to collect information, because the Government had not asked them to take any action.

Mr. Carnegie pointed out that any information they could collect would be for the farmers as well. He promised to bring it up again as an independent motion.

The motion was adopted.

Mr. Drury presented the report of the Committee on Finance, which consisted of the Auditor's and Treasurer's statements, showing the receipts of the year to have been $[illegible], which with the balance from 1881, made a total of $[illegible]. The gross expenditure amounted to $25,073.52, leaving a balance on hand of $6,904.15. The present statement shows that during the last year both Council and exhibition expenses had been largely reduced. It also showed that the Herd Books have been placed on a business footing, the receipts therefrom having been $2,[illegible] against an expenditure of $2,007.

On motion of Mr. Moore, Messrs. Drury and Carnegie and Professors Buckland and Mills were appointed a committee to report to the next meeting a method for carrying out the the scheme for examination of farmers' sons in agricultural subjects, for which an appropriation of $[illegible] had been inserted in the estimates for the current year.

Mr. Carnegie gave notice that at the next meeting he would move for the appointment of a committee on dairying interests.

Mr. White moved that the committees having charge of the ploughing matches make their own arrangements, that the electoral division and agricultural societies be asked to contribute, the president of any society making a grant of $25 to be ex officio a member.

For the information of those interested we may state that the committee for the ploughing match for this District are Mr. J. C. Snell, Edmonton, Chas. Drury, M.P.P., Crown Hill, John Carnegie, Peterborough, and J. R. Aylesworth, Newburgh.

THE MINING BOOM.

The Winnipeg Times has the following letter:—

"Now is the time to raise a warning voice against the indiscriminate survey of so-called gold claims, which is taking place in the Keewatin district at the present time, solely for the purpose of anticipating the boom, which is bound to come for investment in mining stock and purchase of mining locations. It is well known to all, who, like myself, have made this the business of life, that we have in this country plenty of bona fide gold and silver bearing claims that will pay richly those who invest in them, being guided by properly authenticated reports of experts upon whom the public can rely. Unfortunately, the greed to get rich, honestly or dishonestly, seems to be the aim of some men's lives; and I know from personal observation, that at this time, surveys are being made in the Keewatin district of locations which will be dubbed gold bearing claims that never had, nor ever will have, a particle of gold in them, unless "salted" to catch some poor simpleton caught with the idea of becoming the owner of a gold location. Already, in this city, I have seen notices of claims for sale which are nothing more or less than bare-faced swindles, being composed of hard trap rock and granite, but which gullible people will be induced to invest their hard earnings in with the idea that "there's millions in it."

If those who desire to invest will take proper precautions and not be led away by some smooth-tongued, sweet-talking agent, they can circumvent these gentry by simply declining to deal in any but legitimate mines attested by competent experts whose word can be relied upon for a truthful report of the claim and its surroundings, and the value of the test made.

Yours, &c.,
A PROSPECTOR.

Winnipeg, March 19.

PORT HOPE.

ACCIDENT.—The Times says that Mr. John Little received an injury to his arm last week in the Midland Railway shops which will lay him up for a few days. It was a narrow escape from losing the limb.

NAVIGATION NOTES.—Preparations are active at the harbor for the opening of navigation. A number of vessels are undergoing repairs, particularly the schooner Wave Crest, the steam barge Van Allen and the steamer Norseman. The Wave Crest is getting a general overhauling; the Van Allen is having new decks put in, and otherwise being repaired; the Norseman will come out as good as a new vessel. Her hull was re-built last season, and now new decks are being put in. Fifteen or twenty hands are at work on her. In addition to the other improvements, a new boiler is being placed in her, and it is intended to burn coal instead of wood.

The Vanderbilt Fancy Dress Ball.

The cream of the "Upper Ten" of New York are in a state of great excitement over the grand fancy dress ball to be given by Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt on Easter Monday. Great preparations have been made for the event, both by hostess and guests. The entire Vanderbilt mansion from top to bottom is to be thrown open, and a temporary pavilion has been erected in the rear; while the floral display will be the most profuse and magnificent ever seen in New York. Over 1,000 invitations have been issued. As a consequence the leading modistes, tailors and costumers of this and neighbouring cities are overwhelmed with orders for fancy dresses; and last week the Catalonia brought over from London some gorgeous historical costumes which had been ordered by cable, and said to have been made from models in the British Museum, and in Hampton Court Palace. Certainly this ball will be one of the events of the season.—Scottish American.

Statue of Cartier.

The following is the description of Mr. Hubert's design for the projected statue of Sir Geo. E. Cartier, which has been accepted by the committee:—The deceased statesman is represented as standing erect. One hand rests on a pedestal, and displays a scroll bearing the following legend:—"Constitution de 1867, Le Government d'opinion que la Confederation est necessaire." Under his hand is a map of the Dominion, bearing the arms of Canada; his right hand points to the scroll. Cartier is dressed in modern costume wearing a tightly-buttoned frock-coat over which is a loose paletot. The attitude is dignified and graceful, the pose of the head characteristic, and the facial resemblance very striking.

Personal! To Men Only!

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and Manhood, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

A ROPE ABOUT OUR NECKS.—A weak stomach or enfeebled circulation is like a rope about our necks. We are strung up and unstrung alternately till existence becomes unbearable. Burdock Blood Bitters will arrest all this misery. Burdock Blood Bitters is a boon to the sick. Let us remember this fact.

FROM ALL OVER.

FRAUDS to the extent of four hundred thousand roubles have been discovered in the Ministry of the Interior.

DON'T PULL IT.—Use Newton's one minute toothache cure. Relief at once; of all dealers, 15cts.

CAPT. CAREY, who commanded the skirmishing party of English soldiers who were with Prince Napoleon when he was killed in Zululand, is dead.

THE Paris Intransigeant, a revolutionary organ, urges the French Government to support with all its forces and money the "revolt in Ireland."

A [illegible], and other fatal, disease is Jaundice. Regulate the action of the Liver, and cleanse the blood with Burdock Blood Bitters, and the worst case may be speedily cured.

WINNIPEG has 120 licensed liquor houses or one for every 200 of the population. They are more numerous than the stores in any other line of business.

IT is reported that a boy named Bembridge died in Eardley township, Ottawa county, on Thursday, after suffering intense agony brought on through fear of Wiggins' storm.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Eruptions, and all diseases of the Skin and Blood are promptly cured by Burdock Blood Bitters. It purges all foul humors from the system, imparting strength and vigor at the same time.

MR. LAWRENCE has entered a civil suit for $5,000 damages against the collector of customs at Montreal for refusing to give up two infidel works of Voltaire and Paine imported by plaintiff.

HEADACHE, Biliousness, Dyspepsia and Constipation promptly relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. As a family medicine they are far superior to Pills. In large Bottles 50 cents.

AFTER an investigation a committee of citizens at Montreal recommended the contestation of Mayor Beaudry's seat on the ground of all sorts of corruption and personation having occurred at the last election.

Would you avoid the Billiary complaints incidental to spring and summer? Cleanse the system with Burdock Blood Bitters. It regulates the Liver, Bowels, Kidneys and Blood, and is the purest tonic in the world. Trial bottles 10 cents.

THE debt of Helena, Ark., is $425,000, and the property within the corporation is worth only $706,000. A meeting of citizens has appointed committees to confer with the bondholders and secure a compromise. The bonds are held mainly in New York and Liverpool.

WELL AS EVER.—Lottie Howard writes from Buffalo, N.Y.:—"My system became greatly debilitated through arduous professional duties; suffered from nausea, sick headache and biliousness. Tried Burdock Blood Bitters with the most beneficial effect. Am well as ever."

Davy & Clark, druggists, Renfrew, date of June 3rd, write:—"Burdock Blood Bitters, though comparatively a new preparation, has taken the lead in this locality as a blood purifier, our sales of it being equal to that of all other medicines used for the purpose during the last year."

"Blood will tell." A face adorned with Pimples, Boils, Blotches &c., is not particularly pleasant sight, and invariably betokens an impure state of the Blood. Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters free the system from all gross humours, renders the Blood Pure and Cool, aids digestion and gives a healthy appetite. For sale by all Druggists in large Bottles at 50 cents.

NORWOOD.

BAND OFFICERS ELECTED.—The Register says that at a meeting of the Band held on Friday evening last, the following officers were elected: President,—Mr. John Hunter; Vice-President, Mr. James Calder; Secretary, Mr. J. A. Harvey; Treasurer, Mr. Alex. Calder; Committee, Messrs. C. R. Bresson, James Pennelly, and [illegible]. It was decided to practice every Monday and Wednesday evenings, commencing at eight o'clock sharp.

ENTERTAINMENT.—An entertainment under the auspices of the Norwood Presbyterian Temperance Society was held in the basement of the Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening last, and, notwithstanding the fact that it was not advertised, was largely attended. John Finlay Esq., occupied the chair, and discharged the duties pertaining to it in a very satisfactory and creditable manner. A good musical and literary programme was provided.

THE NEW STORE HOUSE.—The Herald says that Messrs. Ladding & Waugh expect to have all the timber and lumber for their storehouse, on Sturgeon street, on the ground by the first of April, soon after which building operations will be commenced.

B[illegible] that there would be sufficient business for the establishment of a branch bank here, and why there is not one here we are at a loss to explain. Let the citizens put their heads together and we have no doubt a bank could soon be established.

GOING WEST.—On Wednesday evening last a number of our villagers consisting of Mr. W. H. [illegible], wife and family, Messrs. James Ballingall, Wm. Redmond, Wm. Williamson, John [illegible], and Wm. Henderson, left for the North-West. A great number of friends and acquaintances assembled at the station to see them off and wish them good luck.

HARVEY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

COUNCIL MEETING.—The Harvey Council met at the Clerk's office on the 19th of March; all the members present. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed. On motion, the Clerk was instructed to notify Mr. Pearce that all the lots unredeemed at the date of the Clerk's letter, be returned to the township, and sold in 1883 or 1884. On motion the Auditor's Report was received and adopted, and the Clerk directed to procure 200 printed copies of the same for distribution among the ratepayers. Charles Griffin was appointed pathmaster instead of Alex. Beadle. On motion the Reeve was instructed to issue orders on the Treasurer in favor of the parties named as follows:—[illegible], for road scrapers for Thomas Nichols' road [illegible], $3.75; [illegible] Bros. [illegible]; W. F. [illegible] and [illegible] Hicks, as auditors, each, $2.00; George Oliver, attending [illegible] for taxes, $3.00. On motion the Council adjourned, to meet at the Town Hall on the first Monday in June for Court of Revision.

LINDSAY.

MISSING.—The Warder says that Willie, a young son, aged 14 years, of Mr. D. S. Carmichael, of the Lindsay paper mill, has been missing since the 9th of March, and so far his parents have been unable to obtain any information of his whereabouts. He is described as being of a light complexion, bright and intelligent, and a boy who is likely to be able to make his way in the world. The latest information that could be obtained of him was that on the morning of the day referred to he was noticed at the Midland depot a few minutes before the Midland train left for Port Hope, but whether he left on the train or not, cannot be determined.

CANOE CLUB.—The Post says that the matter of forming a canoe club is again talked of. Possibly it may end in talk, but we hope not. There is material enough in town among our young men to form a good active club. And the boys, too. The boys would be the most active men among the lot. The institution, when formed, need not necessarily be an expensive affair, quite the contrary. It would bring our young men of muscle to the front, and presently in aquatic channels Lindsay would become renowned as she has in curling annals. The meeting of the American canoe association at Stoney Lake during August next will afford an opportunity for races and contests, both paddling and sailing. We are confident that a couple of pairs can be picked out of Lindsay to give the back water to any other canoeists at the meeting, say Messrs. W. Walters, R. J. Knowlson, W. Howe and others.

THE Irish National League does not appear to be in a flourishing condition. Only twelve persons attended its meeting in Dublin on the 7th inst., and of those five were press reporters.

SERGEANT GOOLD, of the Scots Greys, was shot dead by accident on the 2nd inst., at Ballincollig Barracks, County Cork. He and two others were engaged on special patrol duty on the lawn in front of the officers' quarters, some suspicious circumstances having recently occurred. The night was very dark, and Goold ran against Lieut. Towers, the orderly officer, who was going round inspecting the guards. The Lieutenant thought he had been attacked, and lifting his hand, in which he held a pistol, to defend himself, the pistol suddenly went off, and the bullet entered Goold's breast, killing him almost instantly. The coroner's jury gave a verdict of accidental death, entirely exonerating Lieut. Towers.

A COMMITTEE of the Clyde Trustees, Glasgow, have recommended the construction of four boats, at a cost of £1,500 each, to ply up and down the harbor with passengers at a fare of one penny. The recommendation was adopted, and a committee appointed to have it carried into effect.

ON Sunday the 25th February, an amusing incident took place in the Free Church at Cockenzie. After the services of the day had been brought to a conclusion two children were brought forward for baptism. As usual, the congregation were [illegible] to hear the names, and, as the parent of the first was a supporter of the present Lord Elcho, it was at least not unlikely that the name should be "Hugo Charteris;" and so it was given. The opposite political party were not, however, to be outdone in naming, and both minister and congregation smiled when the second parent gave the name of "Bannatyne Finlay."

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz. a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the Main Line of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California R.R. Co's and their numerous branches, in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The Great American Remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LOSS OF VOICE, HOARSENESS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS.

Prepared from the finest Red Spruce Gum. (Delicious Flavor.) Balsamic, Soothing, Expectorant and Tonic. Superior to any medicine offered for all the above complaints. A scientific combination of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce tree —without doubt the most valuable native Gum for Medicinal purposes.

Every one has heard of the wonderful effects of the Spruces and the Pines in cases of Lung Disease.

In France the physicians regularly send their consumptive patients to the pine woods and order them to drink a tea made from the Spruce tops.

GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM.

In this preparation the Gum never separates, and all its anti-spasmodic, expectorant, tonic, and balsamic properties are preserved. This Syrup, carefully prepared at a low temperature, contains a large quantity of the finest picked Gum in complete solution.

Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large.

Sold by all respectable chemists. Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

The words "Syrup of Red Spruce Gum" constitute our Registered Trade Mark, and our wrapper and labels are also registered.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

[illegible] was nodding, I rather think;
[illegible] was sly and quick as a wink;
He climbed on the back of her grand armchair,
And nestled himself very snugly there.
Grandma's dark locks were mingled with white,
And quick this little fact came to his sight;
A sharp twinge soon she felt at her hair,
And woke with a start to find Harry there.
"Why, what are you doing, my child?" she said.
He answered: "I'm pulling a basting thread."

Ladies who want Stylish patterns in Prints, should pay Munro & Alexander a visit. They are now showing the newest things in "Floral Effects," &c. Sateen Cloths in every desirable shade.

There is a strong feeling in favor of wool fabrics for spring wear, and nuns' veilings and vermicelli cloths are the most popular materials. Pink and blue are popular colors in prints, and some exceedingly pretty floral effects have been produced in this article. In cretonnes [illegible] fine patterns are being shown this season, and these goods, on account of their [illegible], are interfering with the sale of wall [illegible].

[illegible] who intend purchasing Cretonnes would do well to examine the stock of these goods at Munro & Alexander's. Their assortment of patterns is acknowledged to be the best in Peterborough.

The favorite shades during the coming summer will be [illegible] cervicale, aspen, terra cotta, mordore, and [illegible]. There may be a few whom these terms will fail to enlighten as to the popular hues, and they will be pleased to learn that fron cervicale is another name for crushed strawberries, that aspen is literally [illegible], and terra cotta in French for terra cotta. Crushed [illegible] or [illegible] lemons have not yet been heard of from Paris, but certainly crushed strawberries is a very pretty hue, and suggests something exceedingly sweet in the way of trimmings.

Munro & Alexander have received very [illegible] lines of Nuns and all Wool [illegible] Goods to [illegible]. They will open out in a day or two a [illegible] of Nun's Veilings, in all the newest [illegible] [illegible] [illegible].

The nettle is, in these days generally cultivated, at least in Europe, the despised nettle was at one time, and that for several centuries, held in high honor and esteem throughout the world. In Kamschatka the fibres have long been used for fishing-lines; in France they have been made into paper; in Hindostan and China, woven into so-called "grass cloth;" and in Scotland and some parts of England the stalks have been dressed, spun and woven into linen as good as [illegible] muslin, "nettle-cloth," [illegible] at one time extensively [illegible] portions of the Continent.

Munro & Alexander are now showing a large stock of New Ducks and Denims, Strong Tweeds, Cotton Shirtings, Grey and White Cottons, Tickings and Table Linens.

The [illegible] annual meeting of the members of the Peterborough Young Men's Christian Association will be held this evening in the Association rooms. All interested are invited.

License Commissioners.

Among the appointments of License Commissioners in the last issue of the Ontario Gazette appears the following:—

Peterborough (West Riding)—John McClelland, Thomas Dolan, Robert Graham.

Complimentary.

We have to thank the Toronto World for the following appreciative paragraph:—

"The Peterborough REVIEW is a model as to size and style for the evening papers of our smaller cities, and time will soon bring them all to near its dimensions."

Personal.

The International, of Emerson, Manitoba, in its issue of March 19th, says:—

"Mrs. Burnham, wife of the Local Member, arrived home Saturday evening from a sojourn at Atlanta, Georgia, whither she went some time ago for the benefit of her health.

His Lordship Judge Wilson, Toronto, Wm. Kerr, Cobourg, and R. Tyson, Toronto, are registered at the Caisse House.

Bread and Butter Social.

A bread and butter social and entertainment will be held at the residence of Mr. A. L. Davis, on Tuesday evening next, commencing at eight o'clock. A choice programme has been prepared, and a real good time may be anticipated. Tickets 25 cents. Proceeds in aid of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church.

The Weather Probabilities.

The weather yesterday was fine, and to-day is warm and cloudy. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Easterly to northerly winds; generally cloudy weather, with rain or snow in some localities; stationary or slightly lower temperature.

Fears of a Flood.

Several of our exchanges are calling attention to the large amount of snow that covers the earth, and point out the danger of a flood when this snow is melted. The "beautiful" is piled up in some places very high, and the old snow which lies nearer the ground must contain a large amount of water, and if it goes off quickly, or is taken off by rains, it will, of course, swell the streams. At the same time it might be borne in mind that the swamps are unusually empty, there is little frost in the ground, and that the earth is very dry, so that it will absorb a great deal of water and will need a considerable quantity to give it the necessary moisture.

HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE

SPRING SITTING OF THE QUEEN'S BENCH AND COMMON PLEAS DIVISIONS.

The Judge's Address to the Grand Jury—List of Grand Jurors—A Small Number of Cases, Only One There of a Criminal Nature.

The Spring sitting of the Queen's Bench and Common Pleas Divisions of the High Court of Justice commenced in the Court House this afternoon, His Lordship Chief Justice Wilson presiding.

There were four cases on the docket—two with jury and two non-jury cases.

Besides the local members of the bar, the following legal gentlemen from a distance were present:—W. Kerr, Q. C., Cobourg; B. B. Osler, Q.C., Toronto; A. H. Hudspeth, Lindsay; G. T. Blackstock, Toronto; H. T. Beck, Toronto. The local bar was represented by Messrs. N. D. Beck, R. H. Dennistoun, E. G. Peck, C. W. Sawers, G. Edmison, D. W. Dumble, E. B. Edwards, R. E. Wood, J. O'Meara and C. A. Weller. Mr. Jno. Tyson, County [illegible], was present in his official capacity.

THE GRAND JURY.

The following are the names of those who compose the Grand Jury:—

JOHN HOLDEN, FOREMAN.

Wm. Anderson,
Henry Best,
Wm. Bell,
Jno. [illegible],
Jas. Campbell,
Geo. Chalmers,
Patrick Collins,
Wm. Langford,
Jesse Leon,
M. J. Lewis,
Thos. McGrotty,
Jas. Carter,
John Donoghue,
Robert Hall,
R. Humphries,
Arch. [illegible],
Robert B. Lundy,
Henry LeFevre,
J. C. Miles,
Jos. Redmond,
Arch. Shearer,
R. A. Strickland,
James Wood.

His LORDSHIP, in addressing the Grand Jury, said that there was not one prisoner confined in the gaol against whom a charge would be laid before them. The only case which they would have to investigate was one of aggravated assault, for which a man was committed on Saturday, but who was out on bail. This was the third assize in the circuit which he had attended this spring, and in each there had been no criminal cases. The present case did not arise out of ordinary circumstances, as a large number of men were employed on the construction of railways, where a disturbance had occurred. However, he did not think it was of a serious nature. He attributed the absence of crime to the more prosperous condition of the people—there was more employment and better wages, and the people were in better circumstances, or to the effect of our system of education beginning to be felt. There was reason for congratulation in the absence of crime. He directed them to inquire into the condition and management of the gaol.

The Grand Jurors then retired.

The Cells.

One tramp occupied the cells on Saturday night. They were untenanted last night.

Plate Glass.

A box of plate glass was brought in this morning, imported by Mr. Melville Millar, for Mr. Geo. A. Cox. It contains glass for windows and doors, intended for Mr. Cox's buildings on George street. A portion of it will be used in the store which Messrs. Mills Bros. will occupy and in the store of the Messrs. Carton Bros.

Railway Notes.

The Port Hope News says that notwithstanding the increased facilities of the Midland railway, new locomotives and rolling stock generally the road will be taxed to its utmost extent this year with lumber and grain.

The Norwood Register says that Messrs. W. E. Roxburgh and Thomas Rork, who have the contract for supplying twenty-five miles of the Ontario and Quebec Railway with ties, report 50,000, out of the 70,000 required, as having been delivered along their section.

The Port Hope Times says that two new cars are in process of construction at the railway shops. One is a baggage car, and the other a combination baggage and smoking car. It also says that the Mechanical Superintendent's office, Midland Railway, has been moved to rooms above the chief despatcher's office, Midland station.

Obituary.

On Wednesday of last week Mr. R. Winch, well-known here, died at his residence in Cobourg. Mr. Winch was born at Maidenhead, England, and at the time of his death was seventy-five years of age. He came to Canada when a young man, and resided a few years in Cobourg, after which he came to Peterborough, and remained here for about twenty-five years, during which period he paid several visits to the Old Country. He was one of the early settlers in Peterborough, and built in 1849 the stone house known as the Phelan Hotel, which was then the largest house in Peterborough, and at the time it was erected there was not a brick house on George street. Part of this house was used by Mr. Winch as a butcher shop and the other part was used for a bank and dwelling. Mr. Winch removed to Cobourg again in 1860 and resided there until the time of his death. He was but a short time ill. The deceased gentleman was a consistent member of the Methodist Church, and was well known for his kindness in visiting sick persons. He was greatly respected by all who knew him, and many of the old residents of Peterborough and Cobourg will regret his loss.

A PUBLIC BATHING HOUSE.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—Now that summer is rapidly approaching, and with it all the enjoyment to be found in the healthful and invigorating practice of swimming, would it not be a wise plan for some energetic individuals to erect swimming baths or bathing houses for the benefit of the citizens of Peterborough. There are a great many who would avail themselves of the opportunity to learn the art of swimming, to say nothing of the number who would become members solely to have their daily bath. I, for one, (and I know many others) would become a member for both of the above reasons, and it would have the effect also of stopping the nuisance of bathing in exposed places. Would not some person who is posted in such matters give the public a little information on the subject?

Mr. Burritt Edwards, who is ever ready to give a helping hand and promote all kinds of manly sport, will, perhaps, wield his able pen in behalf of the above object. Feeling confident that such an institution would prove a blessing and also pay the parties who undertook it, I write this letter with the hope that Peterborough will not be behind other towns of a like size in such matters. Thanking you for your space,

I remain, yours, etc.,
March 27, 1883. CITIZEN.

Council Meeting.

A regular meeting of Town Council will be held in the Council Chamber at 7.30 o'clock this evening, not Tuesday evening, as stated in Saturday's issue through a typographical error. The Fire, Water and Gas Committee will report at this meeting on the question of erecting a stable, &c., and hiring a team of horses and driver by the year, and the report will recommend that this be done.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; while old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widely increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.

DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.) THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution. In Boxes at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., and 4s. 6d. Sold by Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world. Prepared by Jas. Rorke, London. Specially valuable Pills for residents abroad and travellers.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and develops the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendencies, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

SOVEREIGN SANCTUARY OF CANADA.

An Important Meeting of the Executive Council in Belleville.

A most important meeting of the Executive Council of the above named body was held on Thursday at the Masonic Hall in this city, for the purpose of finally revising the constitution and auditing the accounts of the united body. Amongst those present were: M. Ill. Bro, Robert Ramsay, P. G. M. & Substitute Gr. Master, Orillia; Oronhyatekha, P. G. M. & Grand Lecturer, London; C. D. Macdonald, P. Gr. Z., Gr. Ch. of Canada; K. C. T., P. G. M., Peterborough; L. H. Henderson, P.G.Z., Gr.Ch. of Canada; K.C.T., P.G.M., Belleville; E. H. D Hall, Dep. Gr. Master, Peterborough; Turner Keyl, Prov. Gr. Master, Ottawa District, Brockville; J. Parker Thomas, Prov. Gr. Master, Belleville District, Belleville; John Easton, M. D., Gr. Treasurer, Brockville; M. D. Dawson, Gr. Sec. Gen., London, and others. At half past three the Substitute Grand Master, M. Ill. Bro. Robert Ramsay took the chair and the object of the meeting being explained, Rt. Ill. Bro. Hall, as Chairman of the Committee on the Constitution, proceeded to give the views of the same. After considerable discussion it was decided to change the name to "The Sovereign Sanctuary of Oriental Freemasonry for the Dominion of Canada and Island of Newfoundland." This was decided upon unanimously in order to cover the various rites of Egyptian Masonry and the allied orders over which this body has supreme jurisdiction. The various clauses of the constitution were then taken up, seriatim, and thoroughly reviewed. At six p.m., an adjournment took place till the evening, when that portion of the work was completed. Several accounts were then audited and others referred to a special committee, composed of M. Ill. Bros. Oronhyatekha and Wilkinson, and M. Ill. Bro. Rose and Dawson, with full plenary powers to settle any that might be in dispute. Charters for Senates were granted to the Brethren at Toronto and Belleville, which as soon as taken up will give four Senates 45° in the province, and the Western Mystic Temple was located at Toronto. New diplomas and charters were decided upon and the revised charters ordered to be printed immediately. A letter of apology of absence was read from M. Ill. Bro. Geo. C. Longley, Grand Master, ad vitam, in which he announced that he had just received official notice from M. Ill. Bro. Pessina, Grand Master of Italy, of the formal reception of the Sovereign Sanctuary of Canada into the Confederated League, which places the legal Masonic standing of the body beyond doubt; M. Ill. Bro. Ramsey also announced that the Sovereign Sanctuary of Great Britain and Ireland had recognized the Sovereign Sanctuary of Canada and appointed him Grand Representative of the same; M. Ill. Bro., L. H. Henderson explains that the absence of M. Ill. Bros. the Rev. Dr, Clarke, Ph. D.; LL. D. P. G, M. was due to his continued illness and that although better his physicians forbade him venturing out; a letter to a similar effect from M. Ill. Bro. Jas. Seymour of St. Catherines, P. G. M. and P. G. Z. of the Grand Lodge and Grand Chapter of Canada, P. G. M. was also read expressing his regret at unavoidable absence. Other letters of apology from M. Ill. Bro. Dumbrille, P. G. M. Maitland, R. Ill. Bro. Dr. Street, G. S. W. London, R. M. Bro. J. B. Trayes, G. J. W. (Craftsman) Port Hope and were reported. Expressions of sympathy for Bros. Clarke and Seymour were given and about midnight one of the most satisfactory and harmonious meeting of the Rites was brought to a close. We may state that the Sovereign Sanctuary of Canada has now on its roll ten Mystic Temples; four Senates and fourteen Rose Croix Chapters with a membership of nearly four hundred; and having many of the most prominent masons in Canada in its ranks is undoubtedly the most influential and important masonic high grade organization in the Dominion.—Belleville Ontario.

Letter from Member of Congress.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
Washington, D.C., Feb. 19, '82.

GENTLEMEN,—Inclosed find $1, and will you send me some of N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsamic Elixir by express. I have a bad cold, as has almost every one else here, but cannot find the Elixir, which I used frequently at home and consider a most valuable medicine; in fact, the very best remedy for a cold that I ever used.

Very truly yours, WILLIAM W. GROUT.

SOUTH AMERICAN REVOLUTION.

PANAMA, March 17.—Guayaquil advices state that rioting is only prevented by the presence of the Italian and English men-of-war. It is probable that the revolutionists will capture the city without much trouble, although the Dictator declares that he will hold out at all hazards.

A PEERAGE FOR THE MARQUIS.

LONDON, March 27.—It is stated that the Marquis of Lorne on his return from Canada, will be raised to a peerage.

LAND LEAGUE FUNDS.

LONDON, March 27.—Thomas Power, a member of Parliament, delivered an address at Leeds last night. He had been challenged by newspapers to say whether he received any funds of the Land League, and whether he was willing to have the League accounts audited. O'Connor failed to notice the questions.

AMERICAN.

A FLOODED CITY.

ARKANSAS CITY, March 27.—All the houses are now free from water, though the streets are covered from 2 to 5 feet. Comparatively little damage has been done in this section.

HELPING HIS FATHER.

ST. LOUIS, March 27.—Owen, who stole $250,000 from the Third National Bank, while teller, now says that the bulk of the money went to prop up his father's butter and egg business, and that his father is chiefly responsible for his downfall.

LEVEES ENDANGERED.

NEW ORLEANS, March 27.—The river is now eight inches below last year's mark, and is stationary. There is some apprehension concerning the safety of the levees about the city. Three hundred feet of the upper end of the Bonnette Carree levee is reported to be in a bad condition. A large force is strengthening it.

UNITED STATES FINANCES.

NEW YORK, March 27.—The Times' Washington despatch says that Gilfillan states that the reserve in the treasury yesterday was $15,000,000 more than the 40 per cent. reserve required by law. Gilfillan thinks that ten to twelve million will be added to the reserve by May 1st when fifteen million of bonds will be paid. The internal revenue Commissioners say that if the internal receipts continue as goods as at present for the remainder of the year the the total receipts will be only three million less than last year.

AN OUTLAW'S CASE.

LOUISVILLE, March 27.—In a suit against a newspaper here for damages for intimating that the mother of Clarence Hite the outlaw, was Jesse James' mistress, Gov. Crittenden yesterday testified that the woman's husband informed him that James had caused a separation between him and his wife. Crittenden denied that he intended to pardon Frank James.

FATAL JEALOUSY.

HERKIMER, March 27.—It is stated that jealousy was the cause of Mrs. Parks shooting herself and her two children. Both the children have died.

EXCITED NEGROES.

HANNIBAL, Mo., March 27.—The excitement was very high here last night, the coloured people desiring to hang Towey, a white man, who is in jail for killing David Combs, a negro, in a a drunken quarrel.

JUVENILE PUGILISTS.

MAHONEY CITY, Pa., March 27.—Two boys aged fourteen, named O'Brien and Lawler, having read accounts of the old prize fights, determined to have a fight of their own. Four rounds were fought. Lawler's arm was broken.

HARD ON WIGGINS.

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 27.—Officers in the Dexmont Insane Asylum says that weather prophet Wiggins was once an insane patient there.

A RECKLESS FORGER.

LOUISVILLE, March 27.—It is stated that Edward Tyler, nephew of Mayor Jacob, ran for office, got into debt, was defeated, and then obtained from the bank $3,000 on a note on which the endorsements of Jacob and Judge Richardson, Tyler's brother-inlaw, were forged. The case was hushed up, but Tyler has since been accused of embezzlement, writing worthless checks, incurring debts he never intended to pay, committing other forgeries, and finally deserting his family. Tyler disappeared a fortnight ago.

AN INSANE WIDOW.

MILWAUKEE, March 27.—The guardian of the widow of Gov. C. C. Washburn, will resume proceedings in the Probate Court of Hennipen County, Minn., to secure for the widow who had been an inmate of an insane asylum, a third of Washburn's estate, worth two million. The will only cited that the widow was to be cared for, and left her no stipulated sum. A strong effort is now being made to break the will.

A DIABOLICAL ACT.

CHATTANOOGA, March 27.—The residence of Henry Porter, a wealthy farmer near here, was burned on Sunday night by four masked men, because Porter refused to give them $500, which they claimed he had concealed in his house. It is believed that a large sum belonging to a lady visitor was burned. The residence was valued at $40,000, The affair has created great excitement.

POSTMASTER-GENERAL.

ST. LOUIS, March 27.—A despatch from Washington says that Chauncey J. Filley was promised the place of Postmaster-General before Howe was appointed, and is pretty certain to get it now.

THE SALVATION ARMY.

EASTON, Pa., March 27.—Father Dillon, at St. Bernard's Catholic church, warned the members of the congregation from participating in the meetings of the Salvation Army. He expressed himself forcibly against the Army.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION.

NEW YORK, March 27.—A detective, who was sent to Trinity Church on Sunday to look for pick pockets, arrested on suspicion a well dressed man. At the police station the prisoner proved that he was the Rev. Ethan Curtis, of Camden, N. J. He was discharged.

NAVIGATION OPENING.

KINGSTON, N. Y., March 26.—The ice is still firm in the river above. It began to move below on Sunday and boats are expected through in a few days. Above the ice is still very strong and some ferries are not yet running.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION.

NEW YORK, March 26.—A conversation was carried on by telephone yesterday between here and Chicago, 1,000 miles.

A Great Discovery.

That is daily bringing joy to the homes of thousands by saving many of their dear ones from an early grave. Truly is Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Hay Fever, Loss of Voice, Tickling in the Throat, Pain in Side and Chest, or any disease of the Throat and Lungs, a positive cure. Guaranteed. Trial Bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's Drug Store. Large size $1,00.—6.

Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy.

A marvelous cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria, Canker mouth, and Head Ache. With each bottle there is an ingenious nasal Injector for the more successful treatment of these complaints without extra charge. Price 50 cts. For sale by J. D. Tully

The best known remedy for all affections of the Chest, Lungs or Throat is Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum. It is constantly used by thousands of persons suffering from the above diseases, and in nearly every instance it affords immediate relief. In cases of troublesome, tickling Cough, where the patient passes sleepless nights, one or two doses of the Syrup has such a quieting, soothing effect that rest ensues and the Cough speedily disappears. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

"Blood will tell." A face adorned with Pimples, Boils, Blotches &c., is not particularly pleasant sight, and invariably betokens an impure state of the Blood. Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters free the system from all gross humours, renders the Blood Pure and Cool, aids digestion and gives a healthy appetite. For sale by all Druggists in large Bottles at 50 cents.

MACK'S MAGNETIC MEDICINE is an unfailing food for the Brain and Nerves, and by its rejuvenating effect on these organs never fails to cure nervous exhaustion and all weaknesses of the generative organs. See advertisement in another column. Guarantees issued only by Ormond & Walsh, Peterborough.

TUESDAY, MARCH 27, 1883.

DOMINION FINANCES.

WE have not yet received the detailed estimates for 1883-4, but from the summary which has been published we may draw satisfactory conclusions. It is true that there is an increase of expenditure from the consolidated fund of $[illegible],128, and that this fact is criticised by the Opposition, but the revenue without much pressure from taxation is equal to the demands upon it, and the increase is almost wholly due to the growth of the country and its advance under our present administration. It is like the extension of a flourishing business, which, of course, requires additional outlay, but with still more profitable results.

One of the largest increases is for railways and canals under the head of collection of revenue, being $620,000 for the additional service required for the growing and profitable business on the Intercolonial and Prince Edward Island Railways. Then we have $277,000 additional for post offices and mails, directly owing to our growth and prosperity, and recouped by receipts for postage. Another large item of increase is $189,000 for immigration and quarantine, a most satisfactory and reproductive investment of our money. In the same category may be placed the addition of $80,000 for public lands, resulting from increased settlement. Then there is the $150,000 for the fisheries of our Maritime Provinces, which certainly will not be grudged to them out of the millions received from the United States. Civil Government is responsible for an increase of $[illegible], the bulk of which is for the interior, post office and public works. The items we have mentioned make up nearly a million and a half, leaving about $400,000 for minor increases, which contain such items as the collection of our larger revenue, public works, steamboat inspection, police, lighthouses, subsidies to provinces, and other matters directly consequent upon our advance as a country, or contributing to it.

This is the kind of economy that the people of Canada desire to see, a judicious and reproductive expenditure of their money with an immediate or prospective return for the outlay either in cash or in the growth of the Dominion; not the system of the late Government, that of starving our public works, immigration, &c., while far larger per centages were paid for the collection of our then insufficient revenue.

No wonder that under such able financial management our credit is steadily improving, and Canadian securities stand high in the money markets of the world.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Welland Telegraph protests against the falsification of its words by the Globe in order to make out that it said that the Conservatives were badly beaten throughout the Province. To give this false impression the Globe misquoted the word "the election is over and we are beaten," refering to the local contest, as "the elections are over." But a forgery more or less makes little difference to the Globe.

⁂

WE notice that the name of Mr. Gordon Brown has been struck from the list of the Directors of the Globe company as given in that journal. Messrs. George and Gordon Brown made the Globe, but now the surviving brother is cut adrift.

Canada's Mercantile Fleet.

Blackwood's Magazine, in an article on the progress our country, pays the following very just tribute to our rank as a maritime state:—"It is to the fisheries that Canada owes, to a large extent, the important mercantile fleet she now possesses. The little province of Nova Scotia owns more shipping, in proportion to population, than any one of the great commercial States of the American Union. Her ships are seen in every part of the globe, and it was an energetic Nova Scotian merchant who established the first and most successful steamship line between Europe and America. The Dominion is now the owner of between seven and eight thousand vessels, making an aggregate tonnage of over 1,300,000,000 tons and valued at £8,000,000 sterling. This large tonnage enables Canada to occupy the proud position of the fourth if not the third maritime state of the world—the United States having only 1,000,000 tons, and Norway only 100,000 tons more than the tonnage of the Dominion. Nor is the spirit of maritime activity confined to the provinces by the sea. Ontario has a marine comprising nearly 500 steamers, chiefly propellors. It says much for the enterprise of the Canadians, that they are fast outstripping their American neighbors as a ship-owning, ship-sailing people. While they continue to have this love for the sea they must sooner or later obtain the maritime supremacy in the waters of the western hemisphere."

TOWN COUNCIL MEETING

A TEAM TO BE HIRED FOR THE FIRE ENGINE AND A STABLE ERECTED.

Five Per Cent. Additional on Unpaid Taxes—The Market Tolls—Finance and Charity Committees—Lumber for the Town—The Municipal Printing—A Culvert on Brock Street—Communications, &c.

A regular meeting of the Town Council was held on Monday night.

PRESENT—Councillors Cahill, McNaughton, Kelly, Paterson, Douglas, Rutherford, Menzies, and Denne.

In the absence of the Mayor Councillor Menzies was, on motion, called to the chair.

Councillor KELLY moved, seconded by Councillor CAHILL,—That the reading of the minutes be dispensed with.—Carried.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON asked for the yeas and nays, and they were taken as follows:—

YEAS.—Councillor Cahill, Kelly, Paterson, and Douglas.

NAYS—Councillors Rutherford, Denne, and McNaughton.

Councillor Yelland came in.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From James Johnston, asking for remission of taxes.—Finance Committee.

From J. Valois, to the same effect.—Charity Committee.

From John Fraser, Secretary of the Fire Brigade Band, asking for the usual grant to the band.—Finance Committee.

From Daniel Turcotte, asking for remission of statute labor taxes.—Granted.

From Mrs. M. McCabe, also asking for remission of taxes.—Charity Committee.

From T. McGrath, presenting an account for $7.12 for repairs to market.—Town Trust Commissioners.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Councillor PATERSON read the report of the Finance Committee, recommending the payment of the following accounts:—

R. Pidgeon	$1.00
G. Matheson	9.30
J. White & Co.	2.10

The account of T. Cavanagh was, the report stated, held over for further consideration.—Adopted.

THE MARKET TOLLS.

Councillor DENNE read the following report of the Market Committee:—

To the Mayor and Council of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—The Market Committee, to whom was referred, with power to act, the letting of the market tolls for the present year, beg leave to report that they have awarded a lease of the same to John Doherty, the present lessee, for the sum of $780, inasmuch as it appears that at the letting of the same last year it was agreed that Mr. Doherty's lease should be renewed for another year at the same sum.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

C. W. SAWERS,
Peterborough, March 20, 1883. Chairman.

The report was adopted.

FIRE PROTECTION.

Councillor RUTHERFORD read the report of the Fire, Water and Gas Committee, as follows

To the Mayor and Council of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Committee beg to report that in accordance with instructions, they have taken steps to get at the amount required for the erection of a stable, loft and bedroom for a man, and also tenders for furnishing a team and a driver for drawing the fire engine, and to be kept otherwise employed for the term of one year from the time of signing the contract.

And your Committee, therefore, recommend that the tender of Patrick McNamara, which was the least, amounting in all to $590, be accepted for the erection of the buildings.

And for furnishing the team and driver for one year, that Terrance Smith's tender be accepted at the full sum of $775, the contract to specify all his duties.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

A. RUTHERFORD,
Peterborough, March 26, 1883. Chairman.

Councillor HARTLEY would like to know the size of the building. He supposed that the man who supplied the team must supply a proper team.

Councillor RUTHERFORD submitted the plan and specifications of the building as drawn up by Mr. John E. Belcher. He thought Mr. MacNamara's tender was very low. The team would have to be one such as the committee would accept.

The CLERK, in reply to Councillor Patterson, said that the town paid $1,400 for teaming last year.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said that there had been dissatisfaction in connection with the drawing of the engine to the fire and some steps were necessary.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON would like to know if this was to be by local or general tax. He understood that the Council had employed these teams last summer. He was willing to have the team kept for drawing the fire engine alone, and not for watering George street, which had always been done by local tax. By being employed on the streets the horses might not be on hand at the time of fires.

Councillor HARTLEY thought that the town could not afford to have a team standing idle in the shed all the time. The team could be employed nearer the centre of the town. Something was needed for fire protection.

Councillor RUTHERFORD, in reply to Councillor CAHILL, said that the Council had ground enough on the market for the purpose.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON said that Mr. Stevenson said that the Commissioners would not allow the building on the market.

Councillor DOUGLAS thought that if the town was going to any expense the better plan would be for the town to buy a team, for then they would be sure of always having a good team.

Councillor CAHILL suggested the propriety of adding a lock-up to the building, as the present one was not fit to put persons in. It was also worthy of considering the propriety of erecting a building for a stable, a lock-up and a butter market. He could not say that he favoured getting the team, yet if the Council thought different it might be well to consider his suggestions.

Councillor YELLAND favoured getting a team, either by buying it or hiring.

Councillor KELLY favoured buying a team as the same team would then always be used and would be used to their work. He thought that the people of George street would still be willing to pay by local tax for watering the street, and that would lessen the expenses.

Councillor HARTLEY and PATERSON favoured hiring a team for this year. The latter stated that, according to the tender, the cost would only be $2 per day. As to George street he hoped that street would have hydrants and would not need the fire engine.

Councillor CAHILL remarked that, as Councillor Yelland had said, the lease of the Council Chamber would soon be run out, and it would be well to decide the matter with an eye to the future.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said he believed it was contemplated for the town to purchase the building known as the old Bank of Toronto, which could be converted easily into a Council Chamber and city offices. The idea was to have the stable as close as possible to the engine shed. An insurance agent told him the other day that this town had the most ineffective fire protection of any town of its size, and that the company were considering the advisability of withdrawing their business from the town.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON.—Waterworks!

Councillor RUTHERFORD, continuing, referred to the work which the team would be capable of doing.

Councillor DENNE said that the cost of this building would be a mere bagatelle.

Councillor CAHILL moved, seconded by Councillor MCNAUGHTON, that the matter be left over to the next meeting of the Council for consideration.

Councillor CAHILL said that the insurance agents would still be trying to push their business in this town, and it must not be thought that this team would do $1,400 worth of work.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said that those who tendered for the work on the building and for the team expected that, if their tender were accepted, they would commence at once, and if it was put off for three weeks they might withdraw their tenders.

The amendment was put and lost.

The original motion, adopting the report, was adopted on the following division:—

YEAS.—Councillors Kelly, Paterson, Douglas, Rutherford, Yelland and Denne.

NAYS.—Councillors Cahill, McNaughton and Hartley.

CHARITY COMMITTEE.

Councillor KELLY read the report of the Charity Committee, in the absence of the Chairman, recommending the payment of the following accounts:—E. McEver, $6.34, and R. Wainwright, $3.10, and also that the petitions of Mrs. Mary Brown and Mrs. Mary Collins, for remission of taxes, be granted.

After a long and acrimonious discussion the report was adopted.

The yeas and nays were called for an taken as follows:—

YEAS—Councillors Cahill, Douglas, Hartley, McNaughton and Kelly.

NAYS—Councillors Denne, Paterson, Rutherford and Yelland.

MORE COMMUNICATIONS.

From E. B. Edwards, calling the attention of the Council to the act passed by the Legislature in regard to the planting of shade trees, and asking the Council to take action.—Received.

From J. Brooks, presenting an account for one double ink stand, $2.30.—Order to be paid.

From Dr. Fife, stating that John Campbell was sick and needed relief.—Received.

TAX COLLECTION.

Councillor PATERSON introduced a By-law respecting the collection of taxes. The Council went into Committee of the whole, Councillor Cahill in the chair. The By-law imposed an additional tax of five per cent. on all taxes unpaid on the 31st of March, and ordered the collector to return the roll on or before the 14th day of April. The By-law was reported by the Committee.

On the third reading, Councillor CAHILL moved in amendment, seconded by Councillor MCNAUGHTON,—That the dates in the By-law be changed from the 31st of March to the 14th of April and from the 14th of April to the first of May.

The amendment was put and lost on the following vote:—

YEAS—Councillors Cahill, McNaughton and Kelly.

NAYS—Councillors Paterson, Yelland, Rutherford, Denne and Hartley.

LUMBER.

Councillor CAHILL moved, seconded by Councillor HARTLEY,—That the Street and Bridge Committee be authorized to advertise for tenders for lumber for the use of the town.—Carried.

THE TOWN PRINTING.

Councillor RUTHERFORD moved, seconded by Councillor DENNE,—That the Printing Committee be authorized to advertise for tenders for the town printing for this year.

Councillor CAHILL moved in amendment, seconded by Councillor HARTLEY,—That the printing contract be let the same as last year.

After a discussion of considerable length, the amendment was put and carried.

The yeas and nays were called for on the original motion, and recorded as follows:—

YEAS,—Councillors Yelland, Rutherford and Denne.

NAYS.—Councillors Cahill, McNaughton, Kelly, Douglas and Hartley.

A CULVERT.

Councillor DOUGLAS moved, seconded by Councillor YELLAND that the Street Inspector have a culvert put across Brock street at the intersection of Downey street.—Carried.

NUISANCES.

Councillor YELLAND complained of a nuisance on George street, near the post office, where gravel had been thrown on the sidewalk when work had been done on the waterworks.

Councillor KELLY called attention to the obstruction of Water street, when the Dunsford block was built.

These matters were referred to the Street Inspector.

The Council then adjourned, at 11.15 o'clock for four weeks.

BIBLE STUDY.

For your study of the Bible you require four things:—

I. A Bible, with references if possible.

II. A complete Cruden's or Young's Analytical "Concordance."

III. A blank book that can be ruled in columns.

IV. An undisturbed desk or table where you can keep the above three things, with pen and ink, always ready. Having provided these few necessary things proceed as follows:

I. Commit yourself in a few words to the Lord, asking for light and guidance, and expecting to receive them.

II. Choose a subject appropriate to the occasion.

III. Turn to the Concordance [illegible] each [illegible] and select such texts as seem to you best to elucidate it, noting them down under their appropriate headings in you blank-book.

IV. Read over these selected texts carefully, and make a list of the most striking on a separate piece of paper, putting them in the order that will best develop the lesson. Begin this list with a familiar text, and gradually progress to those not so well known, letting each successive text develop the subject a little more clearly than the last. Close the list, if possible, with [illegible].

V. Having thus prepared your list, open your Bible at the first text, and on the margin beside it write the reference to the second text on your list. Turn to the second one and write beside it the reference to the third. Turn to the third and write beside it the reference to the fourth. And so on through the whole list.

VI. On a blank page at the end of your Bible write down an index of all the subjects you have thus studied, with a reference at each to the first text on your list concerning that subject. If you have no blank leaves at the end of your Bible, gum the edge of half a sheet of note paper and fasten it in.

VII. By this plan you will have a complete chain of texts on any given subject running all through your Bible, [illegible] each verse referring you to the next one you wish to read, without having the trouble of loose slips of paper to embarrass you. Having once studied out a subject, you have it all ready for any future use, and by turning to your index list you can at a moment's notice open your Bible at the [illegible] text, and can then [illegible] through the whole [illegible] of your [illegible].—H. W. S. in Watchword.

REVERSING POSTS.

It is firmly believed by many people that posts set in the ground in a position the reverse of which they stood while growing in the tree, will last much longer than when set top end up. In the spring of 1878 I selected seasoned sticks, three feet long. These were split in two, and each then cut in two crosswise, making four pieces each. One set was placed in well drained sand, the other in clay soil. In every case two pieces were set side by side, with earth between, one as it stood in the tree, the other reversed. I tried thirteen kinds of timber. Some of these were young wood with the bark on. All contained some heart wood. Those set in sand were examined in the autumn of 1881. In case of the beech, sugar maple, ironwood, black ash, and black cherry, the piece reversed or placed top end down was somewhat most decayed. In case of red maple, American elm, butternut and red elm, the piece set bottom end down was a trifle the most decayed. In case of basswood white ash, white oak, and blue ash, there was no perceptible difference. In the autumn of 1882, the posts set in clay soil were examined. In case of red maple, sugar maple, American elm, basswood, butternut, red elm, the piece set top end down was most decayed. In case of beech, white ash, black cherry, the piece set bottom end down was most decayed. In case of ironwood, white oak and blue ash, there was no perceptible difference.

I infer that where one piece decayed more than the other it was caused by some trifling difference in the sticks. The freshly sawed ends in each case were placed uppermost, and came an inch or two above the ground.

In some cases one half of a stick (one piece containing the reverse of the other) lasted considerably better than its other half. As will be seen, it was sometimes the top end down which lasted better, sometimes the bottom end down, and in some cases there was no difference in durability.—W. J. Beal.

North American Newspapers in 1883.

From the new edition of Messrs. Geo. P. Rowell & Co's American Newspaper Directory, which is now in press, it appears that the total number of newspapers and periodicals of all kinds issued in Canada is 596. There are no less than 76 daily papers, while the monthlies number 57. The weekly papers number 432. This is an excellent showing for the Dominion, though it cannot of course equal the United States and Territories, in which the journals and periodicals of all kinds now reach the imposing total of 11,[illegible]. This is an increase of 585 in twelve months. Taking the states one by one, the newspaper growth is some is very considerable. The present total in New York State, for instance, is 1,[illegible]—a gain of 60 in the past year. The most remarkable change has occurred in the Territories, in which the daily papers have grown from 43 to 68, and the weeklies from 169 to 343—Dakota being the chief area of activity. The number of monthlies throughout the united States grew from 978 to 1,034, while the dailies leaped from 996 to 1,062. Referring to our own journalistic growth, it is interesting to note that the newly-settled regions of our Canadian North West are productive of newspapers as well as of wheat, for the number of journals issued in Manitoba was nearly doubled during the year.

Those who "hack" to clear the throat every morning have Catarrh. The Fountain of Health is formulated to reach the seat of this disease, which cannot be cured by snuff or any other local remedy. We will help you or refund the money.

John Bright's Views.

John Bright, in a speech at Glasgow, dwelt upon the advisability of a peaceable policy even with a view to self-interest. The cost of the civil war in America, he declared, would have more than sufficed to free every slave without bloodshed. Regarding Ireland, he said if the Limerick had been fulfilled and freedom of religion granted the sad history of that country might never have been recorded. India was the great problem of the future.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold, a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup, [illegible] while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a Cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10 cts., 50 cts. and $1.00. For sale by J. D. Tully.

Answer This Question.

Why do so many people we see around us seem to prefer to suffer and be made miserable by Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Coming up of the Food, Yellow Skin, when for 75 cts. we will sell them Shiloh's Vitalizer, guaranteed to cure them. For sale by D. J. Tully.

CATARRH is the seed of Consumption, and unless taken in time is a very dangerous disease. Hall's Catarrh Cure never fails to cure. Price 75 cents. For sale by John McKee, druggist.

HEADACHE, Biliousness, Dyspepsia and Constipation promptly relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. As a family medicine they are far superior to Pills. In large Bottles 50 cents.

ONE OF OUR BEST CITIZENS would say to the public that he has tried Hall's Catarrh Cure, and that it is all that is claimed for it. Price 75 cents per bottle. For sale by John McKee, druggist.

Catarrh cannot be cured by any local remedy. It is a deep-seated and constitutional wrong-doing, the tendency of which is to lay the whole respiratory economy in ruins. The Fountain of Health will reach the seat of this malady.

The Fountain of Health cures Catarrh, Rheumatism, Scrofula, and all humours, such as Blotches, Pimples, Old Sores, Ulcers, and all obstinate diseases of the Skin and Blood; this it does by its power to cleanse the blood.

Mrs. Campbell, 344 Walton Avenue, Toronto, says: "I had suffered much for a long time by derangements of Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. The [illegible] using of Fountain of Health has almost completely restored me."

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain and cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

[illegible]

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California R.R. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

The Great American Remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LOSS OF VOICE, HOARSENESS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS.

Prepared from the finest Red Spruce Gum. (Delicious Flavor.) Balsamic, Soothing, Expectorant and Tonic. Superior to any medicine offered for all the above complaints. A valuable combination of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce tree—without doubt the most valuable native Gum for Medicinal purposes.

GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM.

Every one has heard of the wonderful effects of the Spruces and the Pines in cases of Lung Diseases.

In France the physicians regularly send their consumptive patients to the pine woods and order them to drink a tea made from the Spruce tops.

In this preparation the Gum never separates, and all its anti-spasmodic, expectorant, tonic, and balsamic properties are preserved. This Syrup, carefully prepared at a low temperature, contains a large quantity of the finest picked Gum in complete solution.

Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large.

Sold by all respectable chemists. Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

The words "Syrup of Red Spruce Gum" constitute our Registered Trade Mark, and our wrapper and labels are also registered.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

A LITTLE ROGUE.

Grandma was nodding, I rather think;
Harry was sly and quick as a wink;
He climbed on the back of her great armchair,
And nestled himself very snugly there.
Grandma's [illegible]
And quick [illegible];
A sharp twinge then she felt at her hair,
And woke with a start to find Harry there.
"Why, what are you doing, my child?" she said.
He answered: "I'm pulling a basting thread!"

Ladies who want Stylish patterns in Prints, should pay Munro & Alexander a visit. They are now showing the newest designs in "Floral Effects," de Sateen Cloths in every desirable shade.

There is a strong feeling in favor of wool fabrics for spring wear, and camel's hair [illegible] are the most popular materials. Pink and blue are [illegible] this article. In [illegible] patterns are being shown [illegible] wool [illegible].

Housekeepers who intend purchasing Cretonnes would do well to examine the [illegible] of Munro & Alexander. Their assortment of patterns is acknowledged to be the best in Peterborough.

[illegible] during the coming season will be [illegible], and electric. There may be a few whom these terms will fall to convey a meaning to the popular ear, and they will be pleased to learn that fraise écrasée is another name for crushed strawberries, that acajou is literally mahogany, and terre cuite is French for terra cotta. Crushed gooseberries or bruised lemons have not yet been heard of from Paris, but certainly crushed strawberries is a [illegible] something [illegible] in the way of colorings.

Munro & Alexander have several very desirable lines of Union and all Wool Dress Goods to hand. They will open out in a day or two a direct importation of Nun's Veilings, in all the newest shades including "Crushed Strawberries" and "Cream." Prices right.

Though not so [illegible] at [illegible] in Scotland and some parts of England the [illegible] have been [illegible], and never have been as good as [illegible], while the old German name for [illegible] shows that it must have been at one time extensively used for weaving [illegible] on the Continent.

Munro & Alexander are now showing a large stock of New Prints and Dimities. Strong Tweeds, Cotton Shirtings, Grey and White Cottons. Tickings and Table Linens.

St. John's Church Vestry.

The Easter vestry meeting of St. John's Church was held in the chapel on Monday evening, with the Rector, the Rev. J. W. R. Beck, in the chair. The financial statement was not laid before the meeting, in consequence of the absence of the Churchwarden, Mr. A. P. Poussette, who is still suffering from the effects of his unfortunate accident. Messrs. A. P. Poussette, George Burnham, M.D., and J. E. Belcher were elected lay delegates to the synod. On the nomination of Rev. V. Clementi, seconded by Dr. George Burnham, Mr. A. P. Poussette was unanimously re-elected churchwarden for the congregation, and the Rector named Dr. George Burnham as his warden. Messrs. W. E. Sherwood and N. D. Beck were elected auditors. Messrs. C. H. Sheffield, W. E. Sherwood, W. English, H. Long, F. J. Jameson, F. E. Bell and James English, were appointed sidesmen. The following committee was chosen to consider the subject of securing a curate, Mr. A. P. Poussette, Dr. George Burnham, Messrs. E. J. Toker, Jas. English, Albert Hall, J. E. Belcher, C. H. Sheffield and C. S. Dudman, with power to add to their number. The vestry then adjourned for four weeks, when it is hoped that Mr. Poussette will be able to be present.

HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE.

Spring Sitting of the Queen's Bench and Common Pleas Division.

Peterborough vs. Victoria.—This was an action brought by the County of Peterborough against the County of Victoria to restrain them from [illegible] impeding half of the cost of the rebuilding of the Kinmount bridge on Peterborough County. It was claimed that the County of Peterborough was not liable for any part of the cost, but that, if it was, then the County of Haliburton was equally liable and should be a party to the action, and also contribute towards the maintenance of the bridge.

Mr. Osler and Messrs. Dennistoun & Hall appeared for Peterborough, and Mr. A. Hudspeth for Victoria.

THOS. O. [illegible], P. L. S., of Belleville, was the first witness called. He said that he had been employed in making a survey at Kinmount. [Plans of the survey of the four townships, of the position of the Burnt River at the junction of the townships, and adjacent [illegible] were put in.] The bridge is wholly in the township of Summerville. The survey made by him corresponded with the original survey by the Department and with the field notes. Excluding the road allowance, no part of Burnt River touches the township of Galway. A dam a little south of the bridge backs up the water. In the field notes the "arm" of the river is referred to as a Beaver pond. He came to the conclusion, from the appearance of the of the ground, that before the dam raised the water it was a beaver pond. A small stream runs into the beaver pond. The north-west angle of Galway was thirty-eight links from the edge of its river. The Bobcaygeon road starts at Bobcaygeon and generally follows the Town Line, it leaves the Town Line at Kinmount, and does not again touch the County of Peterborough going north. The Monck road starts in Muskoka and runs eastward to Hastings County; it crosses the bridge at Kinmount.

Cross Examined.—The Bobcaygeon road was built before the Monck road. The ground is rough at the place where the road divides from the Town Line. The Monk road could never be made a boundary line between Peterborough and Victoria.

MICHAEL SANDERSON, who was with the last witness when he made his survey, corroborated his evidence and gave further evidence as to the separation of the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria and the formation of the Provisional County of Haliburton.

JOHN E. BELCHER, County Engineer, who was with Mr. Bolger in making the survey, corroborated his evidence as to that survey.

ACH. CREGO, of Kinmount, also gave evidence in which he stated that the pond was caused by the dam backing up the water; that there was originally a small creek there, and that the water in the pond was between five and six feet deep. In cross-examination he stated that there was no village at Kinmount when the bridge was built; that the bottom of the pond was muddy and that there was a slight current in it, and that the people of Galway use the bridge. In answer to Mr. Osler he said that the people of Haliburton also use the bridge.

The Court then adjourned until 9.30 o'clock on Tuesday morning.

THOS. E. BAKER, of Kinmount, gave evidence, in regard to the pond, similar to the evidence of the witness Crego.

GEO. CLUXTON, of Kinmount, said that the dam was a wooden structure on a rock foundation, and that it was six feet high.

JAS. DICKSON, P. L. S. was called for the defence. In his evidence he said that the dam was not formed by beavers. The water was eight feet deep in the pond. It is effected by a creek flowing into it and by the river. He gave evidence as to the boundaries of the township and the cause of the deviative of the road from the boundary line. The river, he said, took in a foot or two of the land of Galway.

ALEX. SILVERWOOD, who assisted Mr. Dean, P. L. S., in the survey of Summerville, gave evidence in regard to that survey.

JOHN FELLS gave evidence in regard to the bridges on the Bobcaygeon road, and regarding Mr. Dickson's survey, at which he assisted. Part of the village of Kinmount, he said, was in the township of Galway.

Mr. Hudspeth and Mr. Osler then addressed his Lordship.

Judgment was reserved.

TRUE BILL.

The Grand Jury came into Court and brought in a true bill against Robert Montgomery for aggravated assault.

PRESENTMENT.

The presentment of the Grand Jury was as follows:—

We, the Grand Jury of our Sovereign Lady the Queen humbly submit:

We were much pleased to hear your Lordship's statement in reference to the absence of crime in this, as in other, sections of the country.

That we have inspected the gaol, as directed by your Lordship, and found no complaints, and everything clean and in good order. It does the gaol officials much credit.

There were confined in the gaol ten male and four female prisoners. The most of them are vagrants.

JOHN MOLONEY,
Foreman Grand Jury.

Peterborough, March 27, 1883.

The Grand Jury were then discharged.

The case of OTTMAN vs. SPROULE was called and is proceeding this afternoon.

POLICE COURT.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Diseases. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used more and more favourably to its widely increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.

DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.) THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution. In Boxes at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., and 4s. 6d. Sold by Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world. Prepared by Jas. Rorke, London. Specially valuable Pills for residents abroad and travellers.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC purifies and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendencies, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6d. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

The Weather Probabilities.

The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes, light to moderate winds, fine weather, not much change in the temperature.

Canoeing.

The following letter, from Mr. C. A. Post, who is well known in Peterborough, appears in the current number of Forest and Stream:—

"SIR,—I notice by reference to your columns, as well as those of our Canadian papers, that the A. C. A. has decided upon Stony Lake, County of Peterborough, Canada, as the place of the annual meeting next August. As one well acquainted with the locality, I have to congratulate the association on the choice of so beautiful a spot. It has, with me, been the scene of many a conflict with that noble game fish, the black bass, as also the gamey maskinonge. The noble buck has fallen on its shores at the crack of my rifle, and many a wild duck has fallen in its marshes at the report of my gun. As a camp ground scores of places are held sacred in my memory. The lake is dotted with almost hundreds of islands, most of them suitable for camping, and no doubt next August will witness such a spread of canvas on Stony lake as she never saw before. Hundreds of warm-hearted Canadian canoeists will give these American knights of the paddle a right royal welcome. That their visit to Stony lake will be a very enjoyable one, I have no doubt, and I hope a profitable one in the way of prize winnings. Any information regarding Stony lake and its surroundings I will cheerfully give to your readers upon application. I would say to those fond of black bass and maskinonge fishing, by all means bring your bass rods and trolling lines and a few good spinning baits, it will repay you for the trouble.

"C. A. POST."

Care for the Widow.

The following letter has been received by Mr. F. J Jameson, Chief Rnager of Court Peterborough, No. 29, of the Canadian Order of Foresters:—

PETERBOROUGH, March 24th, 1883.

Mr. F. J. Jameson, Chief Ranger Court, Peterborough, No. 29, C. O. F.

DEAR SIR,—Accept my sincere thanks for the very prompt payment by the Treasurer of the High Court of the Canadian Order of Foresters, through you, to me of the sum of one thousand dollars, ($1,000), being amount of endowment due me on the death of my late husband. I wish also through this medium to express my grateful thanks to the members of Court Peterborough, for their many acts of kindness to me during my late husbands prolonged illness, and also to acknowledge the receipt from them of thirty dollars, ($30),—Funeral Benefit—paid me since his decease.

Wishing the order that prosperity which it deserves,

I remain yours sincerely,

MARIA MADDEN.

We may add that Mr. Madden died on February 23rd, and the $1000 endowment was paid to his widow on March 24th. Mr. Madden in his last illness had the benefit of the fraternal ministration of his brother members, besides the comfort of knowing that he had made some provision for those dependant upon him when he was thus leaving. It is not surprising that such an institution should be in a flurishing condition.

HALIFAX.

THE SIXTY THIRD HALIFAX VOLUNTEERS, muster this afternoon when one hundred men will be chosen to proceed to the liquor coal mine to look after the rioters.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

CABLE.

DRUGGED AND ROBBED.

LONDON, March 26.—Mr. G. Rawlins Allen, of Grand Travers, Mich., writes a letter to the Advertiser for the benefit of his fellow-travellers in which he says that in the train he got into conversation with a respectable young man, who persuaded him to taste what he called his celebrated "Hospital Jamaica rum." He took no more than two mouthfuls, shortly after which he remembered nothing until Saturday morning when he found himself minus his watch (a gold one) and nearly all his money.

THE ARMAGH PRISONERS.

BELFAST, March 27.—The jury at Belfast have rendered a verdict of guilty in the case of the six members of the Armagh Assassination Society. Council for the defence mainly tried to impeach the evidence of the informer, Duffy. He argued that the Crown doubted its own case because it failed to secure the indictment of men who, according to the evidence offered by the Crown, were strongly implicated in the crimes charged against the prisoners. The Crown counsel strongly asserted the complicity of the Land League in the projected murder of the landlord Brooke through Boyle, then treasurer of the Land League.

WHOLESALE ARRESTS FOR MURDER.

BALLINROBE, March 27.—Twenty-six persons have been arrested at Ballinrobe, county Mayo, charged with complicity in the murder of Freaick in June, 1880.

AMERICAN.

IN PURSUIT.

MUSKOGEE, Indian Territory, March 27.—Gen. Porter has disbanded the militia forces, leaving United States troops to capture Spiches' band. There is no doubt that the latter will surrender without resistance. Several other members of Spiches' band were reported killed.

ATTEMPT TO BREAK A WILL.

MILWAUKEE, March 27.—The guardians of the widow of Governor C. C. Washburn will resume proceedings in the Probate Court of Hepnepie County, Minn., to secure for the widow, who has been an inmate of an insane asylum, the third of Washburn's estate, worth $2,000,000. The will only recited that the widow was to be cared for, and it left her no stipulated sum. A strong effort is now being made to break the will.

MORE OUTRAGES.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Gen. Crook telegraphs to Secretary Teller stating that outrages have recently been reported to have been committed by a small raiding party of Chiricahtua Apaches coming back from Mexico. Seven persons are known to have been killed on the American side. Troops are after them. Gen. Crook says the Chiricahtuas have killed 1,000 persons in the past ten years, and he is in favour of subjugaring or exterminating them. No Indians have left San Carlos reservation. Secretary Teller replied that the renegade band must be subjugated or destroyed. The interests of the whites and peaceable Indians demanded it.

THE EXTRADITION OF No. 1.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The State Department officials deny that there has been any correspondence between the United States and Great Britain, the tenor of which would induce the British Government to abandon hope of the extradition of the mysterious "No. 1." "The State Department," said one of these officials, "has no knowledge of who 'No. 1' is, and cannot officially know who he is until specific charges are preferred against him as an individual by the British Government. If such charges were preferred against a foreign citizen or an American citizen by a foreign Government, the usual course of procedure would be to have the accused person arrested, and the truth or falsity of the charges enquired into before a United States Judge or United States Commissioner. The accused would thus be given an opportunity to meet the charges, and the evidence, together with the recommendation of the committing magistrate, would then be sent to the State Department. Then for the first time," said this official, "would the State Department be called upon to act. If the magistrate favoured surrendering the prisoner, or favoured setting him free, the Department could overrule him. In a word, only at this stage of the proceedings could the State department begin to treat the matter diplomatically. Until all steps are taken it is out of the question for a warrant of extradition to be issued."

LABOUR STRIKES.

LYNCHBURG, Va., March 27.—A strike of 1,000 roll-makers occurred to-day for increased wages and nearly all the tobacco manufacturers have suspended work. The manufacturers are determined to resist the demand of the operatives. About 300 of the operatives went to Ford's factory and threatened the roll-makers there with violence if they continued work, but the menace was disregarded. Further trouble is feared.

FATAL EPIDEMIC OF SCARLETINA.

HARPER, Iowa, March 27.—All the schools, churches, and public resorts in this place have been ordered to be closed in consequence of an epidemic of scarlet fever. Seven deaths in one family occurred one day.

A PETRIFIED CORPSE.

DETROIT, March 27.—The remains of Mrs. P. Farley, who who was buried fourteen years ago, near Berrien Springs, were taken up this week for removal to Assyria, in Barry County, when they were found to be petrified, resembling yellow marble, and quite as solid as stone. The features, body and limbs appeared to be perfect, except the top of the hands, which, as they lay crossed, were out of the water, with which the coffin was nearly full. The ground where the coffin lay was clay. Mrs. Farley was a fleshy woman, weighing nearly 300 pounds. The petrified corpse was estimated to weigh 800 pounds.

INDIAN OUTBREAK FEARED.

PORTLAND, Oregon, March 27.—There are rumours of an outbreak of the Umatilla Indians. One report states that 400 have left the reservation, and refuse to return. Another says they have gathered at the river for the annual salmon fishing. Numbers are crossing the Columbia river into Washington Territory. The object is unknown, There are no hostilities yet. A man was killed near Stein's Pass, Arizona, yesterday by two Apaches.

ATTACKING A CAMP.

RICHMOND, N. M., March 27.—The Indians attacked Camp Palmer and Camp Emerick yesterday. Jack Haynes and a stranger were killed; John Emerick, missing, is supposed to be killed. The other men in camp escaped to York's ranch. It is reported that a large band of Indians are secreted in the mountains north of York's ranch.

LATER.—The Indians attacked Irving's station, seven miles south of York's ranch, and five men were killed.

CONSPIRATORS SENTENCED.

BELFAST, March 28.—Judge Lawson sentenced twelve members of the Armagh Assassination Society, convicted of conspiracy to murder, to terms of penal servitude varying from 5 to 10 years.

BOYNSON'S PAPERS.

DUBLIN, March 28.—The police are searching for the papers of Michael Boynson who was arrested in Kildare yesterday. It is believed his arrest is connected with murder and conspiracy.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION.

LONDON, March 28.—Two men who had a quantity of gun cotton, on their persons were arrested at Dover to-day.

AMERICAN.

AN AWFUL DEATH.

SAVANNA, March 28.—A train on the South Florida Railroad killed two men asleep on the track. One was Michael Kenny aged 28, of New York, city.

A HEAVY FAILURE.

NEW YORK, March 28.—Elias Apfelbum, manufacturer of gloves here, and Gloversville has asked his creditors to grant him an extension. He has given mortgages of bill of sale of property in Gloversville, valued at $70,000 as security for indorsements, etc. It is stated that his liabilities are $12,000.

THE DUKE-NUTT AFFAIR.

HARRISBURG, March 28.—State Treasurer Bailey has an unpublished letter from Dukes to Nutt which he promises to let the House Committee examine. It is Hinted that the letter reflects more severely on the character of Miss Nutt than the published letters. It is thought that Duke's seat will be declared vacant within a few days whether he appears here or not,

A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

BOSTON, March 28.—Last evening near Redeville Station on the New York, New England Railway, the drawbar between the locomotive and tender of a freight train broke while climbing a heavy grade. Fireman Francis Sturgis, aged 20, fell into the gap. He grasped the brake rod and was dragged a quarter of a mile, his feet striking against the ties and wearing the flesh from the bones. The engineer witnessed his struggle for life without power to render aid. He whistled for down breaks, but the brakemen did not respond. It is alleged that they were not at their posts. Finally Sturgis strength giving out, he fell beneath the train and was killed.

A VIGILANCE COMMITTEE.

NEW YORK, March 28.—The effigy of Mrs. Haight, who is accused of shooting her husband, yesterday morning was dangling from a tree in front of the Union church. On a piece of paper attached was the warning: "Mrs. Haight beware! Your turns comes next. Vigilance committee." A picture of Mrs. Haight shooting her husband, which appeared in a New York illustrated paper, was pinned between the warning and the signature. The effigy hung there for several hours.

A RUINED BANK.

TRENTON, N. J., March 28.—A nulle prosequi was entered yesterday on the Directors of the first National Bank of New York. All the claims against the bank have been adjusted. No proof has been disclosed of participation in the frauds by the Directors or that they derived any personal profit from the ruin of the bank.

A DETERMINED SUICIDE.

PHILADELPHIA, March 28.—Yesterday Chas. Deckert committed suicide by hanging himself in the eastern penitentiary. The corpse was found dangling from the gas bracket with one foot upon the floor and the other elevated upon the sill. Death was apparently very slow and agonizing. Deckert committed a crime in Prussia, which caused his flight to America. He became a member of a band of tramp thieves in this state. On Wednesday last during a paroxysm of rage he tore up his bed clothing, took out the bedstead and flung everything into the corridor.

HONORING THE DEAD.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—This being the day of the funeral of Howe, all departments are closed. Flags draped in mourning and at half-mast are flying.

A Great Discovery.

That is daily bringing joy to the homes of thousands by saving many of their dear ones from an early grave. Truly is Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Hay Fever, Loss of Voice, Tickling in the Throat, Pain in Side and Chest, or any disease of the Throat and Lungs, a positive cure. Guaranteed. Trial Bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's Drug Store. Large size $1,00.—6.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

is very valuable for professional men. It supplies the phosphates which are always lost by severe mental labor.

The best known remedy for all affections of the Chest, Lungs or Throat is Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum. It is constantly used by thousands of persons suffering from the above diseases, and in nearly every instance it affords immediate relief. In cases of troublesome, tickling Cough, where the patient passes sleepless nights, one or two doses of the Syrup has such a quieting, soothing effect that rest ensues and the Cough speedily disappears. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

"Blood will tell." A face adorned with Pimples, Boils, Blotches &c., is not particularly pleasant sight, and invariably betokens an impure state of the Blood. Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters free the system from all gross humours, renders the Blood Pure and Cool, aids digestion and gives a healthy appetite. For sale by all Druggists in large Bottles at 50 cents.

MACK'S MAGNETIC MEDICINE is an unfailing food for the Brain and Nerves, and by its rejovenating effect on these organs never fails to cure nervous exhaustion and all weaknesses of the generative organs. See advertisement in another column. Guarantees issued only by Ormond & Walsh, Peterborough.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 28, 1883.

THE VACANT TREASURERSHIP.

Few, we imagine, will dispute that it is now a cardinal principle of the system of parliamentary government which we enjoy in Ontario that the advisers of the crown should individually as well as collectively possess the confidence of a majority of the electorate—individually by being the duly elected representatives of constituencies and collectively by having the support of a majority of the representatives. The only exception permitted to this wise and well understood rule of our constitution is when a minister is looking for a constituency and when an administration is about to appeal from their representatives to the people themselves. Neither of these exceptions however apply to the present Treasurer of Ontario—Mr. Wood. Had he been a candidate at the recent election and been defeated, it would neither be unconstitutional nor contrary to fair play to allow him a reasonable time to find another seat, and thus requalify himself for the position which he was temporarily holding; but this is not his position. Some months ago he took the somewhat unusual course of publicly announcing his intended withdrawal from political life and consequently from the position which he occupied as a member of the Mowat Government. When that announcement was made we believe that the almost universal impression was that Mr. Wood would withdraw from the Government as soon as the then session closed, and that his place would be filled before the general election took place, and the Province saved the expense and some constituency the excitement of a second contest.

This, however, was not done. Mr. Wood continued and still continues to discharge the responsible duties of the Treasurer of this Province, and to have a voice in the direction of its affairs, notwithstanding that he was not a candidate for, has not and does not propose to obtain the confidence of and become responsible to any one of the 88 constituencies into which the province is divided, and in this way responsible to the Legislature, as required by our constitution. This, we say, is a position which is directly contrary to the well understood requirements of our system of Parliamentary Government, and should not be permitted to continue.

If Mr. Mowat, as Premier, is so forgetful of what is due to his position and to the Province, or so preoccupied with schemes to maintain his tottering Government in power, that he has overlooked the requirements of the constitution in this respect, it is about time the Lieutenant-Governor, in the discharge of his duty, called his attention thereto and insisted upon the executive being composed of men possessing the confidence of constituencies. Although his Honor may, and no doubt is somewhat loath to do anything which can by any possibility be construed as calculated to embarrass the Mowat Government, yet he must not forget that he has important, if not prominent, duties devolving upon him as the representative of the crown, and that no desire to avoid even the appearance of embarassing an old political opponent will prove an excuse for a neglect of his plain duty—and we take it that it is his plain and unquestionable duty to only accept advice from, or in other words, to permit the Province to be governed only by gentlemen possessing the confidence of the electorate as required by the well understood, although unwritten, law of our constitution. Should further delay take place in the filling of the Provincial Treasurership—now in reality vacant—it seems to us the Lieut.-Governor has a plain duty to perform, and that is: That he shall require Mr. Wood either to vacate his position or find a seat in the Legislature, and in the first event, Mr. Mowat to find a successor to Mr. Wood in the Cabinet who either is or shall speedily become the representative of a constituency in the Legislature. If he has any serious difficulties in complying with so reasonable and necessary a request, it can only be because Mr. Mowat has in reality, as we believe he has, lost the confidence of the Province.

A PETITION was on Saturday, the 24th inst., fyled in the Court of Appeal, against the return of Mr. J. M. Ferris, as member-elect for East Northumberland. The petitioner charges Mr. Ferris with personal bribery, and a general indulgence in ways that are contrary to the letter and spirit of our election laws.

A PUBLIC BATHING HOUSE.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—As I am directly appealed to in the letter of [illegible] published in the Review of the 26th, I cannot hesitate to express my view that a public swimming bath has become a necessity in Peterborough, and if people will only bestir themselves, there is no reason why the first of June next should not see one opened. I hold that it is the duty of every man to know how to swim, and that his education is incomplete without that knowledge, and I equally hold that when by the growth of population and the enforcement of the law, the use of the rivers in the neighborhood of towns is taken away, it is the duty of the public to provide some other convenient place where swimming may be learned and practised, just on the same principle that it is our duty to provide schools for teaching children to read. The nuisance of public bathing in the river and Little Lake will have to be put a stop to some time or other—and perhaps our new policeman will have something to say about that matter this coming summer—and when it is put a stop to, we must provide some other place for bathing. Public baths are equally a necessity for those whose daily toil requires a daily cleansing and for all who regard cleanliness as next to godliness.

To make the baths a success they should be in a place easily accessible. I would suggest the neighborhood of the iron bridge at Hunter street. There would be the advantage there of a constant supply of fresh water through the current that exists at that point. If others also are interested in this matter let us hear from them. A public meeting will probably be necessary to discuss the question and to appoint a committee to secure estimates of the cost, plans, etc.

Yours, etc.,

March 27th, 1883. E. B. EDWARDS.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER.

Interviewed Respecting His Appointment as High Commissioner to England.

The independent Montreal Star has the following:—

Sir Charles Tupper is very reticent with regard to his appointment as High Commissioner to England. In an interview this afternoon, he stated that he had not yet received the appointment, pointing out that if such were the case he would at once be deprived of the right to sit in the House of Commons. He said, however, he would be very sorry to say he would not accept the position at the end of the session, and he would have done so last year considering his ill-health at that time, had it not been for the general elections then coming on. He said that it had not even been mentioned in the Cabinet as to who his successor would be as Minister of Railways. Regarding the rumours published by the Opposition papers to the effect that Sir Charles had in view a profitable connection with the C. P. R., and was going to devote himself to its interests, he indignantly denied the statements, saying it was preposterous to suppose that after spending a great many years to build up a public character he should destroy it, as he considered he would by taking such a step. He positively declared that there had never been any proposal to him of any personal connection with or interest in the C.P.R., and he had no idea of forming any such connection or acquiring such interest in the future. Sir Charles stated that his health is much better than it was a year ago.

HYPOCRISY UNMASKED.

This is what that staunch temperance organ, the Orillia Packet, thinks of the tactics of Mr. Blake and his followers:—

The Opposition issued from the debate on Sir John Macdonald's motion to refer the liquor license question to a committee, badly worsted. They dared not to move an amendment to the Premier's motion; they did not venture to question the necessity of legislation, or the sole jurisdiction of the Dominion Parliament. They would not question the morality and wisdom of the proceeding which aimed to restrain the sale of intoxicating liquors, and yet, when invited to share in the preparation of the basis of legislation, when asked to assist in moulding a measure which would be acceptable to the people at large, and which would promote the cause of morality and temperance, they exerted every ingenuity to avoid the responsibility. The public will know what estimate to place hereafter on the professions of morality of these gentlemen, and having so thoroughly unmasked their hypocrisy, Sir John Macdonald did well to strike their names from the committee from which they were so anxious to escape.

MILLBROOK.

IMPROVED STOCK.—The Messenger says that Messrs. W. M. Fair, W. H. Armstrong and Mr. J. Porter, have purchased some improved thorough-bred horses, a stallion Enterprise, for $2,700; two mares, for $1,000 and $900. Mr. Fair purposes turning his farm into a stock raising tariff.

THE MILLBROOK FOUNDRY.—Mr. Robert Lancashire and Mr. Hamilton McCartney, two of our well-known citizens, have entered into partnership, and leased the Millbrook foundry and machine shop, and intend to supply their customers with first-class work. As these gentlemen are both well-known mechanics, it is to be hoped that they will meet with liberal encouragement.

FIRE IN MILLBROOK.—On Wednesday morning, between one and two o'clock, a fire broke out in Miss Johnston's fancy goods store, opposite the post office. The fire had gained such headway, that it was impossible to save anything. No idea as to cause of fire. Mr. James Johnston says everything appeared perfectly safe, about 10 o'clock, when he was in to see that all was right. The stock was all new, on which there was only a small insurance. The building—though on the Johnston property—belonged to Mr. Thomas Medd. As the building was entirely isolated, nothing else was burned.

Afraid of Wiggins' Storm.

In the Dublin Police Court, five sailors of the British barque Fanny were brought up in custody charged with having refused to proceed to sea without reasonable cause. The master stated that his vessel, which was bound for Virginia, U.S., had been for some time past lying in Kingstown harbour waiting for a favourable wind, and when he gave orders to proceed to sea the prisoners refused to work the ship, alleging as their reason for doing so that a storm had been predicted by Prof. Wiggins to reach England from America on the 10th, and that they would have to meet it. The men in reply to the Bench, said this was the only reason they had for refusing to proceed to sea. The prisoners were sentenced to two months' imprisonment each, but were subsequently discharged on their agreeing to go out in the vessel.

The Largest Cattle Transaction Known.

On Saturday 79,000 cattle were sold by J. Kard and Harold Brosto, the Franklin land cattle company of New York for $3,000,000. This is perhaps the largest transaction in cattle that ever occurred in this country.

POLICE COURT.

DRINK'S DOINGS.

MONDAY, March 26.—Henry Weyhouse and John Barker were both charged by Constable Pidgeon with having been found drunk in a public place. They were, however, as it was their first appearance, allowed to depart.

VICIOUS DOG.

W. G. Ferguson charged Thomas Beavis with keeping a vicious dog. The defendant said he did not know that the dog was vicious. James Young testified to seeing the dog bite a little son of Mr. Ferguson, and the Magistrate ordered Mr. Beavis to destroy the dog.

Rev. H. Shirts,

Bowdley P. O., Ont., like hundreds of others who have been cured of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma, consumption and all diseases of the head, throat and lungs, says: "The Spirometer, invented by M. Souvielle, of Paris, ex-aide surgeon of the French army, and the medicines and treatment prescribed at the International Throat and Lung Institute, have cured me completely of consumption (first stage) or advanced bronchitis, after everything else failed." Consultations and a trial of Spirometer free. Those who are unable to come to the Institute or see our surgeons, who visit all the principal towns and cities of Canada, can be successfully treated by writing, inclosing stamp for a copy of our International News, published monthly, which will give you full particulars and references, which are genuine. Nearly Kills Four French-Canadians in the St. James Hotel—Their Suffering.

On Sunday four French-Canadians from Ottawa, named Joseph d'Aupont, [illegible], Edward Barthiaume and Joseph Charbonneau, arrived in the city and put up at the St. James hotel. They all retired to a double bedded room for the night. Yesterday morning one of the servants noticed a strong smell of gas coming from the room, and gave an alarm. The men did not answer the knocks, and the door had to be broken open with an axe. The four lumbermen were found insensible, two of them being on the floor. It was with the utmost difficulty that they were resuscitated. The men suffered a great deal of pain. They say that [illegible] They had a narrow escape.—Toronto World.

THE HUNTINGTON MINE.

The Liquidation Under the Supreme Court of Scotland.

The shareholders of the Huntington Copper and Sulphur Company have received the following circular from the liquidator, Mr. A. J. Gray, dated at Dillonton, P. Q., the 22nd instant:

I beg to inform you that on the 14th instant the Supreme Court of Scotland granted a Supervision Order in terms of the Companies Act, 1862 and 1867, over the Liquidation of the Huntington Copper and Sulphur Company (Limited). This Order secures the Liquidation to be carried out under the Supervision of the Court, thereby insuring full protection to all the creditors. I trust to your forbearance to [illegible] of the debts being accurately ascertained, [illegible] the assets realized.

The "debts" above referred to are said to be enormous, whilst the assets will not amount to very much.—Montreal Star.

Murderous Attack by a Madman.

HAMILTON, March 24.—Between ten and eleven o'clock this morning a lunatic named James Enright, living at [illegible], ran out into the street in an almost naked condition, having in his hand an iron ornament, which he took from a stove as he passed out of the house. With this in hand he ran down the street [illegible] gentleman brutally, when Wm. Keays ran to his rescue. The crazed man then turned upon Keays, knocking him down with a severe blow from the iron upon his face. At this time the lunatic had divested himself of all clothing except a shirt and his socks. Being almost unhindered, and both his victims felled, he looked around, then tore his shirt off his body and ran up the street. The people in the vicinity stood helpless, as to attempt to seize the man was very dangerous. He, however, was seized from behind by a man named Fred Hutty, who jumped from a corner grocery as Enright was passing. Hutty held his man until the police arrived. A coat and buffalo robe was procured and wrapped about the lunatic, and he was conveyed to the King William-street police cells. Rev. Father Heenan's and Mr. Keays' injuries are serious but not dangerous. Enright has twice been in the lunatic asylum. He has been employed on the Grand Trunk Railway as baggageman.

Deep Ocean Soundings.

The deepest sounding ever made in the Atlantic has lately been made by the coast and geodetic survey steamer Blake, which has just returned to New York after a ten weeks' cruise between Bahama and the Bermudas, taken with a view of perfecting the chart of the bottom of the ocean. The sounding, 4,561 fathoms, was taken 75 miles north of San Juan, in Porto Rico, about 80 miles south-west of a sounding of 3,875 fathoms made by the English steamer Challenger a few years ago, which has hitherto been the greatest depth ever reached. The further soundings made show that the region is the bottom of a great sub-aqueous [illegible], and it is noted as a curious fact that the temperature of the water at the bottom of these basins is exactly the same as that which runs over the tops of the ridges, several hundred fathoms above—in this case, 36 degrees. A still more interesting discovery, however, is that the soft, brown ooze at the bottom shows evidence of a fauna existing in the darkness of this great depth.

An Obstreperous Prisoner.

Early on Friday morning a Frenchman named Samuel Mell was arrested and lodged in the cells at Belleville. He was not confined long before he showed signs of violence, and the officers were put to a great deal of trouble in taking care of him. His clothing had to be removed, his hands were handcuffed behind his back, his legs were strapped together, and even yet he succeeded in demolishing almost entirely two cells. The seats were broken into matchwood, the lath and plaster were torn off the walls, and generally speaking he "turned everything upside down." It is thought his condition is bordering on insanity caused by the ill-treatment of a brother. He says he is from Ottawa.

Mount Etna.

Advices from Catania state that three earthquake shocks, accompanied by rumbling, have been felt at [illegible] Villa, a town on the declivity of Mount Etna. There is a great panic among the inhabitants; they are building huts in the open country, fearing that the houses will be destroyed. The prisoners in the gaol have been removed to a place of safety.

Ocean Steamship Officials Arrested.

Irving and Chief Officer Parrett of the steamship Republic were arrested in a suit for $25,000 damages brought by Downs, a stowaway rescued from the wrecked steamer Glamorgan, and detained on the Republic on suspicion of being implicated in the Phoenix Park murder. The prisoners were bailed in $5000 each.

"Number One."

The Dublin Freeman's Journal states that the correspondence between the Home Office and Mr. Lowell, United States Minister, resulted in the former renouncing all hope of securing the extradition of the person known as "No. 1." The Journal declares "No. 1," whose name is Tynan, was in Dublin until the first day Carey was examined at the hearing of the conspirators. He then managed to reach [illegible] by way of Hull. From [illegible] he proceeded to Havre, and thence to New York. He was a member of one of the London volunteer corps.

Fatal Accident in a Sawmill.

PICTON, March 24.—A fatal accident occurred this morning in Irving & Downey's steam sawmill, by which Peter Hall, a young man employed in the mill, was instantly killed. Just after starting the machinery Hall attempted to adjust a belt or pully on the line shaft, and while leaning over the shaft some part of his clothing caught on a bolt head on a coupling of the shaft hurling him around the shaft with frightful velocity. At the same time his feet caught in the shaft, mangling them shockingly. Hall, who was twenty years of age, was a steady, sober young man, and had been employed in the mill about two months.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz. a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean. NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California R.R. Co's and their numerous branches, in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for Sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific R.R. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

The Great American Remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LOSS OF VOICE, HOARSENESS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS.

Prepared from the finest Red Spruce Gum. (Delicious Flavor.) Balsamic, Soothing, Expectorant and Tonic. Superior to any medicine offered for all the above complaints. A scientific combination of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce tree—without doubt the most valuable native Gum for Medicinal purposes.

Every one has heard of the wonderful effects of the Spruces and the Pines in cases of Lung Diseases.

In France the physicians regularly send their consumptive patients to the pine woods and order them to drink a tea made from the Spruce tops.

GRAY'S
GUM.

In this preparation the Gum never separates, and all its anti-spasmodic, expectorant, tonic, and balsamic properties are preserved. The Syrup, carefully prepared at a low temperature, contains a large quantity of the finest picked Gum in complete solution.

Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large.

Sold by all respectable chemists. Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

A LITTLE ROGUE.

Grandma was nodding, I rather think;
Harry was sly and quick as a wink;
He climbed in the back of her great armchair,
And nestled himself very snugly there.
Grandma's dark locks were mingled with white,
And quick this fact came to Harry's sight;
A sharp twinge soon she felt at her hair,
And woke with a start to find Harry there.
"Why, what are you doing, my child?" she said,
He answered, "I'm pulling a basting thread!"

Ladies who want Stylish patterns in Prints, should pay Munro & Alexander a visit. They are now showing the newest things in "French Prints," "Cretonne Cloths" in every desirable shade.

There is a strong feeling in favor of wool fabrics for spring wear, and wool challies [illegible] are the most popular materials. Pink and blue are popular colors [illegible] Wool challis have been produced in this article. In cretonnes some exceptionally fine patterns are being shown this season, and these goods, on account of their extreme cheapness, are taking with the sale of wool damasks and reps.

Housekeepers who intend purchasing Cretonnes would do well to examine the stock of these goods at Munro & Alexander's. Their assortment of patterns is acknowledged to be the best in Peterborough.

The favorite shades during the coming summer will be fraise écrasée, acajou, terre cuite, mordoré, and électric. There may be a few whom these names will fail to enlighten as to the popular hues, and they will be pleased to learn that fraise écrasée is another name for crushed strawberries, that acajou is literally mahogany, and terre cuite is French for terra cotta. Crushed gooseberries or bruised lemon have not yet been heard of from Paris, but certainly crushed strawberries is a very pretty title, and suggests something exceedingly sweet in the way of trimmings.

Munro & Alexander have several very desirable lines of Union and all Wool Dress Goods to hand. They will open out in a day or two a direct importation of Nun's Veilings, in all the newest shades including "Crushed Strawberries" and "Cream." Prices right.

Though not in these days generally cultivated, at least in Europe, the despised nettle was at one time, and that for several centuries, held in high honored esteem throughout the world. In Kamschatka the fibres have long been used for fishing-lines; in France they have been made into paper; in Hindostan and China, woven into so-called "grass cloth;" and in Scotland [illegible] and the stalks have been dressed, spun, and woven into linen as good as that made from flax; while the old German name for muslin, "nettle-cloth," shows that it must have been at one time extensively used for weaving purposes on the Continent.

Munro & Alexander are now showing a large stock of New Ducks and Denims. Strong Tweeds, Cotton Shirtings, Grey and White Cottons. Tickings and Table Linens.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 28, 1883.

HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE.

Spring Sitting of the Queen's Bench and Common Pleas Division.

Ottesen vs. Sproule.—An action against a physician for malpractice in setting a fractured leg. This action was tried at the last assize and the plaintiff was non-suited, but an order was obtained for a new trial.

Mr. G. J. Blackstock and Mr. C. W. Sawers appeared for the plaintiff, and Messrs. Dumble & Henry for the defendant.

Frederick Ottesen, the plaintiff, was the first witness called. His evidence was substantially the same, as to the attendance of Dr. Sproule, as he gave at the trial last fall, which we published at that time. The leg which was injured, he said, was two inches shorter than the other one. In cross-examination he said that a small piece of bone came out of his leg from a wound he received in Port Hope while splitting wood.

Nels Ottesen, the father of the plaintiff, was the next witness. He gave evidence similar to that which he gave last year. In cross-examination he said that he never saw a bone that came out of his son's leg, and didn't know that one came out.

Hilda Ottesen corroborated the evidence of the former witnesses, her evidence also being similar to that which she gave last fall. In cross-examination she said that the evidence given last fall was read over to herself, and her father and brother since they came here from Lindsay to attend this trial.

Aaron Comstock testified to taking a mattress to Ottesen's by order of Mrs. Beck.

William McMaster said that Frederick Ottesen had worked for him. He paid him $1.25 per day previous to the accident. He visited him a week after the accident. He was lying on a couch. The couch was so narrow that he could not lie comfortably on it. The last time he saw him was about the first of July. Saw his leg then, and it was as crooked then as it is now. Noticed that the leg was crooked on the first Sunday he saw him.

John McFarlane was sworn. He said that he saw the plaintiff lying on the lounge about a week before the twelfth of July. The lounge was too narrow for his body. The splints were on at that time. The leg looked crooked.

Cross-examined.—Have slept on this couch. Never had a box and two chairs alongside of it. Ottesen was untidy.

Mrs. Beck testified that she visited the plaintiff while he was ill. The lounge he was lying on was not wide enough for his body. Had a mattress sent to him from Mr. Comstock's. The doctor said he could be moved if there was a place to put him. Sent the mattress about the end of May, on a Saturday night. The doctor said he would move him next day. There was an empty bedstead standing in the corner of the room.

Cross-examined.—There was no bottom in the bedstead. The family were very poor and the house was in a wretched condition.

The evidence of Louise Ottesen, the mother of the plaintiff, as given at the last trial, was read and put in.

Dr. Clark was sworn. Saw the plaintiff's leg on the 18th of July last. He was lying on the bed. The leg was very much the same to-day as it was then, except that the sore had healed up. Would prefer stronger splints in a case of that kind than those produced. Comfort and ease for a patient is one of the first things to be consulted for a patient. [The plaintiff placed the splints on as he said Dr. Sproule placed them on.] Would not consider them placed on in that way [illegible]. The witness explained the way in which he should place the splints, which differed from the way in which the plaintiff said they were placed.

Cross-examined.—The splints look as though made by a surgical instrument maker. Straight splints are often used for broken limbs. A compound fracture is one when there is a wound. A compound comminuted fracture is one in which there are pieces broken off the bone. Do not know whether the fracture of the plaintiff's leg was a comminuted one; it was a compound fracture. Amputation is sometimes necessary in the case of a compound comminuted fracture, and under the most skilful treatment bad results sometimes followed. When one's fractured limb is put up [illegible] the latter. The condition in which the leg is now might follow without any malpractice on the part of a physician. In further cross-examination, and in re-examination, the witness described the different kinds of fractures and different treatment and effect of the treatment.

Dr. Kincaid testified that he had been practising for twenty years [illegible] on the medical staff in the Market Square Hospital, Washington, in 1864, and afterwards Medical Inspector of the United States army for Maine. First saw the plaintiff on the 18th of July. The splints were off the leg. The [illegible] about the middle of August was asked to go to see him then by the Mayor. The limb was then about as it is at present, except that the wound was not healed. The splints produced were not the kind of splints that he would use, but he was not prepared to say they were improper splints. He described the manner in which he would have placed the splints on. Assisted in measuring the leg to-day. It was an inch shorter than the other; that was a fair result from the nature of the fracture. He gave evidence as to how frequent the physician's visits should be in a case such as this. In cross-examination the witness stated that the nurse ought to keep the wound clean.

Extracts from the examination of the defendant were put in, where he stated that both legs were of the same length when he stopped attending him.

This was the close of the plaintiff's case.

His Lordship cautioned the jury, and the Court adjourned until Wednesday morning.

The case of Ottesen vs. Sproule was continued on Wednesday morning.

Robert Lang was called for the defence and sworn. He said that he went for Dr. Sproule to see Ottesen when the leg was broken, went with the doctor to the house. Saw an open wound on the plaintiff's leg which Mrs. Ottesen said was caused by an axe. It was an old wound. The father showed him a small piece of bone which he said came out of it. The doctor asked for a bed to place the plaintiff on, and he was told they had none. The doctor suggested that he be sent to the hospital.

Cross-Examined.—Saw the plaintiff twice after he was hurt, the first time he was lying on the lounge and the second time on a bed. Looked at the leg on the occasion of his last visit. It was bent a little, but he thought very little, saw a bedstead standing in the corner.

Mrs. Mary Parks was sworn. Went a few times into Ottesen's house, it was evidently offensive and dirty. The elder Ottesen acted like a drunken man, saw the sore on the boys leg. It needed to be bandaged good. Did not think the boy received proper nursing.

Cross-examined.—Saw the lounge on which Ottesen was lying. Though the lounge was wide enough, it was wider than his body. Thought the most of the smell came off his sore leg. Was there three times. Said to his mother that she thought the leg was straight. Saw one sore.

Re-examined.—There was an old sore on the leg, of which his mother told her, that was the sore that smelt bad.

John Haggart was sworn. Went to Ottesen's house with Dr. Sproule. Saw the elder Ottesen on one occasion at the door, in the latter end of May. The father used abusive language towards the doctor. Considered that the father was under the influence of liquor. Saw the father in Dr. Sproule's office on the 12th of July. The father said that he was a better doctor than Dr. Sproule, for he had taken the splints off himself.

Cross-examined—Have spoken about this conversation with Dr. Sproule. Have seen Dr. Sproule drinking, but never drunk. Am the doctors brother-in-law.

Wm. E. Whitehair, sworn, testified that he was in Ottesen's house on the day the boy's leg was broken. The house was very untidy. Seen Dr. Sproule there. Seen him set the leg. To all appearance he was sober, and he was very careful. The doctor suggested that the boy should be sent to an hospital, and asked for a bed. He was told that was where the boy usually slept. There was a bedstead in the room, but no bed.

Cross-examined—Did not smell liquor on the doctor. Think I have seen him once a little under the influence of liquor. Watched the doctor all the time he was setting the leg. The bones seemed to be sticking out when the leg was broken. There was a big gash in the leg where it had been cut with an axe. Would think the bones were broken square off.

Re-examined—Thought the break opened up the old wound.

Richard Parks, was sworn. Have been in Ottesen's house three or four times; it was very dirty. Saw young Ottesen's leg. Thought it was straight two weeks after it was broken, and young Ottesen thought it was straight then. Saw the elder Ottesen drunk in the house. Saw the boy drunk once since he got up.

Cross-examined.—Told Mr. Sawers once in his office once that the leg was crooked. Did not think the sofa he was lying on was a comfortable one to lie on. Never saw the doctor under the influence of liquor when he was attending a case. Have seen him a little funny, about two weeks ago.

Re-examined.—Was asked by Mr. Sawers to go to his office.

Mrs. Tamlin was sworn, and said she was in the Ottesen's house on the second or third day after the boy was hurt. Was in four or five times afterwards. The house was not clean. Saw the leg when it was done up. Saw the father put his hand under the heel and raise up the leg shortly before the 12th of July. Saw the father when I thought he was under the influence of liquor.

Cross-examined.—The son was lying on the lounge when the father raised the leg up. It might have been two weeks before the 12th of July. Heard them talking about the leg being crooked.

Miss Mary Grundy was sworn. Was in the Ottesen house on the 29th of May, the 1st of June and the 5th of June, and on other occasions afterwards. Mrs. Beck was with her. Mrs. Ottesen appeared to be very surly. The father told her on one occasion that Dr. Sproule was negligent, and that he had attended to the boy himself and had taken the splints off. Believe that was after the 5th of June. The house was dirty. Saw Mr. Ottesen on the street very drunk.

Cross examined.—Never saw Dr. Sproule under the influence of liquor. The lounge that he was lying on was a fit place to lie on; never took any particular notice of the lounge.

Robert Tamlin was sworn. Was in the Ottesen house twice—once in June and once in July. The old man showed him the boy's leg in June. The boy asked if the leg was straight, and after looking at it Richard Parks and the witness said the leg was straight. Saw him on the 16th of July. There was no splints on and no bandages. Raised the leg to move him, and a [illegible] slipped under his heel and when his [illegible] fell on it he screamed. Then moved the lounge close to the bed and moved him into it. Saw a sore on the side of his leg, which looked to be healed up.

Cross-examined.—The leg was crooked on the day he was moved. The leg was more swollen that day. I have since used the expression that the leg was as straight as that of a bow-legged man.

The case is still going on.

The Late James B. McEwen.

Mr. James B. McEwen, who died at Bridgenorth, Smith, on the 22nd inst., was one of the early pioneers of that township, having settled therein now over half a century ago. Mr. McEwen, was born near Stirling, Scotland, in the year [illegible], and emigrated from thence to Canada in [illegible]. He at once took up land in Smith, about four miles from Peterborough, and by perseverance and industry speedily hewed out in what was then a woods, a comfortable home for himself and his family, and where he continued to reside until about three years ago, when he went to live with the daughter in whose house he has just died. From the time of the organization of a congregation of the Presbyterian Church in Peterborough in 1833, by the late Rev. J. M. Roger down to the day of his death Mr. McEwen was a consistent and uninterrupted member thereof, and for a considerable portion of that time, one of its office bearers—first as a deacon, and subsequently as an elder. He was also an earnest advocate of temperance and free schools. Until within a few days of his death, Mr. Ewen, throughout his long life of eighty six years, enjoyed excellent health, the full possession of all his faculties until the last, and the universal respect of all those with whom he came in contact. He leaves behind him a widow, two sons and four daughters.

Photographing Sound.

The direct photography of sound vibrations has recently been effected by Professor Boltzmann as follows:—A small, thin platinum plate was attached perpendicularly to the centre of a thin iron plate, which as in the telephone or phonograph, was fixed on a wall piece and vibrated to sound. With a solar microscope an immage of the platinum plate was focussed on a screen. Then a prepared photographic plate was quickly moved across, in the plane of the screen, by a strong spring, while the mouthpiece was spoken to. A bounding line between light and shadow was so obtained on the prepared plate, forming a curve which closely corresponded to the sonorous vibrations. To the vowels pretty simple curves correspond, often approximately curves of sines, often interference curves of two or three curves of sines. The consonants give very multifarious curves.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferers for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widely increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly affected with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

HOW DIFFERENT!

WHILE the Reform and self-styled Temperance party of Ontario, are doing their best to misrepresent and malign the position of Sir John Macdonald and his proposed action with regard to the License question, it is gratifying to find both parties in the Quebec Legislature discussing the matter in a different spirit, and apparently solely with the view of adopting such action as the interests of temperance and good Government require to be taken, in view of the recent decision of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council.

We find there, that instead of denouncing interference by the Dominion Parliament with this question, the Hon. Mr. Joly late leader of the Quebec opposition advocated "that an "address should be voted by the House to the "Lieutenant-Governor, praying His Honor to "represent to the Federal Government that it "was the unanimous wish of the Quebec Legislature that the question should be settled this "session with a view to prevent the "deplorable increase of intemperance which is "threatened from the present state of uncertainty on the subject."

Mr. Joly evidently does not concur with Mr. Blake, that the decision of the Privy Council does not cast doubt upon the power of the Provinces to limit the liquor traffic, and instead of playing the part of "Flies on the wheel," he very properly desires to have the matter dealt with in such a manner as will prevent the possibility of that free trade in whiskey which Mr. Blezard professes to deplore.

In this connection the following statement of the Hon. Mr. Mousseau in the same debate will be read with interest.

"He had no doubt that the Dominion Government were fully impressed with the imminence and the magnitude of the danger apprehended and so properly condemned by his hon. friend, but, moreover, the Treasurer had been to Ottawa, and had suggested that all the restrictions contained in the Act should be enacted there if necessary, so as to place the regulation of the liquor traffic under control of the municipalities, and he had the assurance of Sir John Macdonald that it was the intention of his Government to adopt, as far as possible, the views of the several provinces, and it was for this purpose that the special committees there had been appointed."

STILL FALSIFYING.

AGAIN the Globe repeats its false assertions as to an alleged bargain between Mr. Mousseau and Sir John Macdonald. It describes the Quebec premier as one "who succeeded, in company with others from his own Province, in extorting from Sir John Macdonald a pledge that the Boundary Award would never be ratified by the Dominion Parliament." We suppose it is utterly vain to ask the Globe what shadow of authority it has for this unfounded and false statement, as it will probably adhere to its old tactics of deliberately repeating a slander fabricated by itself, in the hope that its reiteration may induce some to believe it. The fact remains that Mr. Mousseau denies that he demanded any such pledge, and Sir John Macdonald denies that he gave it. No such transaction took place, but the Globe will continue to repeat a statement which it knows to be false, and in support of which it cannot produce one tittle of evidence.

OUR CONSTITUTION.

ONCE more the Globe is calling upon Quebec and the other Provinces of the Dominion of Canada to secure a revision of the British North American Act in the sense of preventing "meddling" by the Dominion Government. Before the recent election we were told by the supporters of Mr. Mowat, both journalists and orators, that the Dominion Government was acting unconstitutionally, and loud was the abuse and dire the threats evoked by this alleged breach of our constitution. Now, however, their leading organ virtually admits that it was its own friends whose position was unconstitutional. If our great charter, the British North American Act, needs revision to make it accord with their contentions, it is plainly they, and not the Federal authorities and their supporters, who were unconstitutional.

RELEASED.

DUBLIN, March 28.—Twenty one out of the twenty-six persons arrested at Ballinrobe for complicity in the murder of Fereck have been released.

PREPARING FOR WAR.

LONDON, March 28.—It is announced by the German newspapers that Germany will not allow France to steal a march on her in the adoption of repeating rifles for the infantry. This causes much comment in Paris. Four battalions of German troops, at Konigsburg and Stettin, have already, as an experiment, been armed with repeating rifles, but the results so far are discouraging.

THE CUBAN REFUGEES.

LONDON, March 28.—It is stated that Cassillo and Rodiguez, two of the Cuban refugees surrendered at Gibraltar by the English, will be released immediately. Maceo will be released conditionally when the Government consider it safe to permit his liberation.

TWO SIDES OF THE STORY.

LONDON, March 28.—An abandoned vessel has been found lying off Swansea, Wales, laden with three and a half tons of explosives, and flying a red flag. The discovery has caused much excitement and consternation along the coast, as it is supposed the explosive materials were designed for use in the perpetration of further outrages of the same class as the recent explosion at the Government buildings in London. Another report states that the craft had previously been prohibited from landing her cargo at Liverpool, and was afterwards deserted by her crew.

AMERICAN.

STAR ROUTE TRIALS.

NEW YORK, March 27.—The Times' Washington special says the President is determined that no act or or word of his shall ever be referred to as standing in the way of the dispensation of strict justice to all the Star Route robbers. It is not known when the Kellogg and Price cases will be tried. The report that there is no intention of trying them is absurd. As soon as a vacancy in the cabinet is filled, the President will endeavour to go directly to Florida. After a short stay there he will return here, instead of extending his visit to the other States. He has anticipated nothing like a Presidential tour, and will go as much like a private citizen as the forbearance and kindness of the Southern people will permit.

FENELON FALLS.

CUTTING BOX ACCIDENT.—The Gazette says: Last Saturday a little girl, daughter of Mr. Mark McGivern, of this village, while playing with Mr. Jacket's children in their father's barn, got two fingers very badly crushed in the cogwheels of a cutting box, the dangerous nature of which she probably did not know. So many children are injured by the same means that every owner of a cutting box ought to keep it locked up when not in use.

Parliamentary Metaphors.

The injudicious use of metaphors has occasionally created great amusement both in the old Irish and English houses of commons. The other night Mr. Callan, M. P. for Louth, a staunch opponent of the Sunday closing and permissive bill and personally a great benefactor to the revenue, replying to the Irish attorney-general, said: "The facts relied on by the learned gentleman are very strange. Now, Mr. Speaker, I swallow a good deal. ("Hear hear," "Quite true," "Begorra you can," and roars of laughter.) I repeat, I can swallow a great deal ("Hear hear," and fresh volleys of laughter), but I can't swallow that." A few nights before, in a debate which had to do with the Jews, Baron de Worms had just remarked, "We owe much to the Jews," when there came a feeling groan from a well known member in the back corner, "We do."

A Canadian Murdered.

VICTORIA, B. C., March 27.—A Chinese gang employed on the railway near New Westminster, to-day made a savage onslaught on their foreman, a Canadian named Nevin, beating him until he was unconscious with shovels and picks. He was brought to the hospital in a dying condition. The gang is nominally under arrest, but it is not believed that they can be held, as there were no white witnesses. Wherever the Chinese congregate in large numbers they oppress the whites, and threaten to attack them. It is hoped the white immigrants now entering the country will render the employment of Chinese unnecessary.

A Singular Bet.

A bet has been made in Kingston, Ont., that a certain young man in that city will give up pool playing, drinking, etc., and become one of the active members of the Salvation Army. The person who bet on this result is said to be sure of winning.

A Great Discovery.

That is daily bringing joy to the homes of thousands by saving many of their dear ones from an early grave. Truly is Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Hay Fever, Loss of Voice, Tickling in the Throat, Pain in Side and Chest, or any disease of the Throat and Lungs, a positive cure. Guaranteed. Trial Bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's Drug Store. Large size $1,00.—6.

Answer This Question.

Why do so many people we see around us seem to prefer to suffer and be made miserable by Indigestion, Consumption, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Coming up of the Food, Yellow Skin, when for 75 cts., we will sell them Shiloh's Vitalizer, guaranteed to cure them. For sale by D. J. Tully

Mrs. Campbell, 344 Walton Avenue, Toronto, says:—"I had suffered much for a long time by derangements of Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Two months' using of Fountain of Health has almost completely restored me."

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain and cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

TERRIBLE STENCH.

BRAIDWOOD, Ill., March 29.—A terrible stench from the decaying bodies of mules in the Diamond Mine makes it almost impossible to continue the search for the remaining bodies in the mines. The progress so far is very slow.

WHAT IT WILL DO.

PATTERSON, N. J., March 29.—It is estimated that the new law, which goes into effect in July 4th, providing employment to persons under 14 years of age, will throw from 2,000 to 3,000 employees in the silk manufactories out of work.

DEATH OF A DIVINE.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Rev. Edward Dunlap Smith, Presbyterian, died here yesterday in his 76th year. He was formerly Chaplain of the White House in Washington.

PRICE OF MILK.

NEW YORK, March 19.—A meeting of the members of the milk exchange and outside dealers, yesterday agreed to fix the price to be paid producers for milk during April at 3 cents.

A "BIG" STEAL.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Gen. Ferrero's safe, in his office, second storey of Tammany Hall, was broken into by burglars, who stole $3,000 in money and some checks.

THE LOST FOUND.

NEW YORK, March 29.—A man supposed to be Henry Rich, whose mysterious disappearance last December excited so much comment and for whom a reward of $5,000 was offered, was picked up by the Gravesend, Long Island, police last night.

AN UNFORTUNATE VESSEL.

NEW YORK, March 29.—The ship Else arrived from Liverpool yesterday, after a voyage of 102 days. She was driven out of her course many times by storms. Robbers yesterday morning, in broad daylight, stole from 75,000 to 100,000 Havana cigars from her store room. M. O. Hermance, Park Place, loss $5,000.

AN ATTACK EXPECTED.

LORDSBURG, N. Mex., March 29.—Colonel and two companies of cavalry arrived here en route to Gilla Valley. The Indians are concentrated in great force in the hills around Clifton. An attack upon the town may be expected any moment.

CONKLING'S DISCHARGE.

NEW YORK, March 29.—The District Attorney characterizes the discharge of Conkling, who killed Haverstock, by Justice Smith, as an extraordinary proceeding. The Assistant District Attorney thinks Smith had no right to discharge Conkling. It is rumored that the facts in the case will be laid before Governor Cleveland, and Judge smith's removal will be demanded.

BODY SNATCHING.

SYRACUSE, March 29.—The body of Edwin P. Harmon, a prominent citizen of Cammillus, was stolen from the grave the other night and was recovered at the dissecting rooms of the university here. It was brought there by a man who, when sharply questioned, suddenly left.

MISERY IN ALEXANDRIA.

NEW YORK, March 29.—A Cairo, Egypt, letter says that thousand's who were burned out in Alexandria are now reduced to the last stages of destitution and are only kept alive by public charity. The misery in the city of ruins is appalling. All business is at a stand still.

OBIT.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Lewis L. Delafield one of the most prominent members of the bar, in this City, died yesterday, aged 48.

A COUNT MURDERED.

PESTH, March 29.—Count von Szekhely, president of the court of Cassiton, was found murdered at his residence at Ofen. was strangled and his tongue cut out. His hands were bound with ropes. The body was lying on the bed in the Count's room. The bed clothes were not distributed and the Count was not undressed. A tin rope was hanging from the window of the apartment to the street below. The Count's house was robbed by the murderers.

The best known remedy for all affections of the Chest, Lungs or Throat is Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum. It is constantly used by thousands of persons suffering from the above diseases, and in nearly every instance it affords immediate relief. THURSDAY, MARCH 29, 1883.

HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE.

Spring Sitting of the Queen's Bench and Common Pleas Division.

CYRENIUS PARKS was sworn. Have seen Ottesen walking. He limps more when he is watched than when no one is looking at him.

Cross-examined.—Am working for Dr. Sproule. The Tamline and Parks are related.

DR. SPROULE sworn and described the manner in which he set the fracture. Padded the splints well. The splints were got in London, England, they were made for the purpose. The fracture was a compound comminuted fracture. There was a fragment of bone entirely separated from the bone of the leg. It was an oblique fracture. Such a fracture is hard to treat. He described the position of the tendons and the manner in which they would contact and shorten the leg. In a fracture like this amputation is often necessary. There was an old sore on the leg through which the bones had broken. The father said that the boy's leg had previously been injured with a hatchet. The leg was not a healthy one; there was disease in the bone. Ottesen's father showed him a piece of bone which he said had come out of the leg. That would leave the bone weak, and it might cause the healing of the fracture to be slow. Wrapped the leg with linen surgical bandages. Was employed as a surgeon in the Ashantee War. The Congo under Admiral Hewett, the Dahomey war, the Zulu war, in India and in Afghan. Was in active service eight years, used the best treatment in this case. Attended him very frequently, more frequently than would be necessary in most cases, as the family were negligent. Attended him every day during the first week, every second day in the second week and visited him every two or three days afterwards. Made twenty six visits between the 14th of May and the 7th of July. Received $9 from Ottesen. On June 23rd Ottesen senior had an attack of delirium tremens. On the 12th of July Ottesen's father came to him and asked him to see his son. He said the leg was crooked, which was the first he had heard of it being crooked. Asked him how he knew it was crooked and he said that he had taken the splints off and looked at it. Told him then to go back and put them on, as he had spoiled the whole treatment. The result of the case was a good one, as he has a good, serviceable leg, and if he had left it alone it would most probably have been a straight one. The average shortening in such cases would be about half an inch to an inch and a half. The leg was progressing properly up to the 7th of July.

Cross-examined—These splints were sometimes used in the wars. Have been three years in strictly private practice, and in military practice for eight years. This fracture was one of the most serious fractures that he could have. Ottesen showed him two pieces of bones which he said had come from the leg. Had a box sent down to put the leg in if necessary to do so. It was not necessary to put it in a box. One reason was that there was a discharge from the wound and the box was badly made. Inflammation did not arise and that was an additional reason why the leg was not put into the box. In a simple fracture the bone may unite in thirty or forty days; in a compound fracture the chances are strongly that it would take two or three months; it depends on the progress made by the leg and the state of the patient. When undue inflammation did not take place the progress would be more rapid than if there was inflammation. The visits to the plaintiff were entered in the book produced. Remembered the payments made by the Ottesen. Had treated a number of fractures such as this. Declined to say how they turned out as compared with this one.

Re-examined—Within the first week of the fracture there is no growth of the bone.

DR. FRASER was sworn. From the evidence the physician gave there appeared to be no negligence on his part. Straight splints are often used. Would use longer splints than those produced, but there is no absolute rule in regard to that. The leg would swell after the bandages were put on. The marks on the leg, said to have been made by the splints, would have no effect on the length or straightness of the leg. Saw the leg in July. He was not able to walk then. The leg looks better now than at the last trial. Shortening of the leg is not an unusual result from a fracture of the leg. The shortening varies from an eighth of an inch to two inches. The plaintiff can walk very well. The shortening of the plaintiff's leg is a little under an inch. In view of the evidence he got on very well, though it might be better. The treatment described by Dr. Sproule was not improper treatment. Would expect the people of the house to keep the bedding, &c., clean. A hard bed would be better than a soft one. The physician would not be responsible for sores on the back.

Cross-examined.—The padding would strengthen the splints. Would not have used a splint as slight as the one produced. If it was well padded there is no reason why it would not have been strong enough. It is one of the principle things to see that the patient is comfortable. If a patient were lying on a narrow lounge, I would leave him there if he said he was comfortable. In a compound comminuted fracture the leg might progress favourably and still be a long time in uniting. On the 12th of July there was a slight union, but the union had not become firm. If there had been a union of the flesh and lymphic union of the bone on the 7th of July, muscular action might be sufficient to cause displacement; it would not be sufficient to do so if the splints remained on properly up to the 12th of July. Would not have liked to have remained away from the patient from the 1st to the 7th of July. Have never had a case of compound fracture where bandages could be left on eight weeks. It is necessary in such cases to keep the foot in position. Extension and counter extension is used to prevent shortening of the leg. Would see the clothes under the patient changed during my visits. Would say that the plaintiff was an average healthy young man. Cannot say that I ever saw Dr. Sproule drunk. Never saw him drink. Saw him one time when he acted peculiar.

Re-examined.—The splints should have been on on the 12th of July. If I found the father interfering with the case I would at once withdraw from it.

The Court then adjourned for dinner.

The evidence in the case of OTTESEN vs. SPROULE was continued after the recess at noon on Wednesday.

DR. FIFE, sworn:—Have been practising medicine for nineteen years. Have treated compound comminuted fractures. In the case of such fractures there has always been shortening of the leg. Remember one in which it was half an inch and another between an inch and an inch and a half. They were carefully nursed. Did not consider it an unnatural result. Have heard the evidence in this case. Would not call the result a very bad result. Have seen splints such as those produced used. There is a great variety of splints used. These splints are abundantly strong with the bandages usually applied. A clean cloth could be put under the leg by using care. Have seen maggots to a considerable extent when the greatest care was used. Would prefer a bed to the couch which the plaintiff laid on, as it was described in the evidence. Displacement by contraction of the muscles might occur in a day or it might take three weeks. Think it would have been better to have had a foot rest, but would not say it was necessary. Twenty-six visits in eight weeks is as often as we usually visit a patient in such a case. Each physician has his own peculiar ways in treatment. Ottesen came into his office after the last trial. There was an old sore on the leg with the appearance of dead bone.

Cross-examined—The cases to which the witness referred in his experience were explained at length. After a leg is set one of the most serious things to fear is inflammation. Would change bandages quite often in bad cases. Have generally seen that the bed was made right. It would not be as easy to change the clothes under the patient on a lounge with a back as it would in a bed. Would not think that he had done his duty if the clothes under a patient were eaten with maggots. Inflammation with its attendant evils is one of the dangers of a comminuted fracture. Would have seen the patient at shorter intervals than from the 7th to the 12th of July while there was danger of displacement. The straighter the leg was kept the less shortening there would be. Have washed the wounds of patients I attended.

Re-examined.—With the shortening of the leg it would likely be bowed. [The leg of the plaintiff was bared.] Considering the circumstances of the fracture the leg is a good result from fair treatment. Four maggots would not eat bed clothes. Splints and bandages should have been put on after the 12th of July. The length of a leg cannot be measured as accurately while the bandages are on.

DR. HAMILTON, of Port Hope, was sworn. The plaintiff showed him his leg in Port Hope, in February, 1882, and said he had been cut by an axe. Did not treat it then, and he came back again. The wound was a suppurating wound. Probed it to the depth of an inch and a half and pressed a lot of matter out. The pus was not laudable. The effect of the matter would be to corrode the bone. Declined to treat the case because he had treated the father and had not been paid, and because the dead bone would have to be removed, and it would need a great deal of attention. Would consider, looking at his leg now, that he has a better result than I could promise him if I were called to attend him. Would not say that the use of the splints produced was improper. Did not remark anything improper in the description of the treatment. Have never used a foot rest; bring the bandages around in such a way as to rest the foot. Would prefer a half-hard bed to a soft one. Would think twenty-six visits in eight weeks good attendance. From the nature of the old sore, would expect the fracture to heal slowly.

Cross-examined.—If the patient is lying on a couch that is too narrow it is an improper place to lie on. Would have given instructions to have the wound washed. Think these splints were long enough.

DR. R. SPROULE was recalled. Whenever I visited the patient I washed the wound. Used carbolic and lead lotion for dressing the wound. When the bandages were not clean or loose I replaced them with new ones. There is a breadth gone off each of the splints.

F. OTTESEN, the plaintiff, was recalled. A piece of bone as large as a quarter of a dollar never came out of my leg. The old cut was about two inches above where the fracture occurred. Never had any injury on that leg except the cut and the fracture. Got some salve at Taylor & Macdonald's drug store for the sore.

To a juryman—The small bone came out of the leg before it was broken.

The counsel then addressed the jury, Mr. Dumble making an able address in behalf of the defendant, and Mr. Blackstock reviewing the evidence on behalf of the plaintiff.

HIS LORDSHIP then charged the jury in a review of the evidence over an hour in length, submitting a number of questions to which they were to find answers and directing them, if they considered that the defendant had been negligent, to assess the damage the plaintiff had sustained.

The jury retired at eight o'clock, at which time the Court adjourned. At about half-past ten the jury, in charge of the Sheriff, were brought to the Judge's room at the hotel. The counsel for the plaintiff and the defendant were present. The answers which the jury found to His Lordship's questions were as follows:—

Q.—Did the plaintiff employ the defendant to cure the plaintiff's leg or only properly to treat it, and did the defendant accept such employment to cure or to properly treat the leg?

A.—To properly treat the leg.

Q.—Did the defendant treat the plaintiff with proper skill, care and attendance, or did he negligently and unskillfully treat the plaintiff?

A.—Fairly under the circumstances.

Q.—Has the leg of the plaintiff become shortened and crooked by reason of the injury he sustained?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Did the plaintiff or those of his family about him, without the defendant's consent, remove the splints, or otherwise interfere with the defendant's treatment of the plaintiff?

A.—We believe they did.

Q.—What was the cause of the shortening and crookedness of the plaintiff's leg; (a) Was it the natural and ordinary result of fair and proper treatment of an injury of that kind? or (b) Was it from neglect or unskilful treatment of the defendant? or (c) Was it from the removal of the splints by the plaintiff or those about him, that is if they, or any of them, did remove the splints?

A.—We believe in consequence of the splints being removed prematurely the leg became crooked.

Q.—And if you find for the plaintiff, what damages will you allow?

A.—No damages.

On the finding of the jury His Lordship directed a verdict to be entered for the defendant with costs.

QUEEN vs. MONTGOMERY.—This was a case in which Robert Montgomery was charged with committing an aggravated assault upon James Venard. In the absence of the witnesses for the Crown, Venard himself not being present, the case was laid over until the General Sessions of the Peace in June, and Montgomery was allowed to go on bail.

THE ONTARIO CABINET.

The Toronto World, an independent Reform journal says:

The vacant seat in the Ontario Government lies between Mr. Dryden and Mr. James Young. Mr. Dryden is a farmer, an eastern man, and has the promise of making a fair administrator. But there will have to be two new ministers. Mr. Crooks cannot retain his seat. He has not the mental vigor necessary for so responsible a part as that of a seat in the Government. Another man must be found in the public interest, and in the interest of a bestraitened cabinet.

An Excellent Idea.

A Colorado farmer has invented a duck-hunting outfit which discounts the California man's cow. He stripped the hide from a bullock and mounted it on a wire skeleton, which looked as natural as a living animal. He cut away the belley of his wire bullock for his body and made two holes in his shoulders to take sight through. When he wants a duck-shoot, he drops his skeleton over his head and starts out for the tules. He can walk right into a flock of ducks without startling them, and has on one or two occasions returned home with his hiding-place full of teal caught with his hands. He never fails to kill all he wants when he takes his gun, for he marches into a flock and turns both barrels loose at a time. He usually bags the whole flock. He has applied for a patent.—Exchange.

LAKEFIELD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

SCHOOL EXAMINATION.

On Thursday afternoon, March 22nd, a public examination of Mr. Shearer's room, the fourth department of the Lakefield Public School, was held, and was largely attended by parents and others. A number of classes were examined, a number of recitations were rendered by the pupils, and a number of visitors delivered short addresses. The most interesting part of the programme was the presentation to Mr. Shearer, upon the eve of his leaving the position of Head-master of Lakefield School, with a beautiful gold chain and an address by his pupils. Mr. Shearer has occupied the position of Head Teacher in the Lakefield school for a little over eight years, with credit to himself and the village, and leaves the position of his own will, on account of his health needing recruiting, his resignation being reluctantly accepted by the School Board.

NEW MASTER.

The Lakefield Public School opened after the Easter holidays on Tuesday last, the 27th, under the mastership of Mr. F. A. August, the "new master." Mr. August has a Second Class, Grade A, Normal School certificate, and also a first-class Provincial certificate of qualification, and he comes to Lakefield with unexceptionable recommendations as a practical teacher. He is said to have been the best teacher in the county of Dufferin, where he taught for some years. Mr. August has created a very favourable impression upon those whom he has come in contact with so far.

FALSE ALARM.

The fire alarm was sounded, and shortly after rung vehemently for about five minutes, on Monday evening, about 9.30. A good deal of excitement was raised and people rushed into the streets but it was found to be only a chimney on fire. Two or three parties who had either just retired or were about to do so, were very much annoyed, and some pretty strong language about the person ringing the bell was used on Regent street.

LOST.

Mr. George R. Shields, of this village, lost a valuable horse on Saturday last. Mr. Shields was returning from Peterborough with a load, and when within a couple of miles from the village the horse dropped dead on the road.]

EARLY CHICKENS.

Douro this year boasts of having the first pair of spring chicks. A party living not far from Lakefield, but in Douro, have a brood hatched early in March.

The monthly meeting of Lakefield Lodge, No. 39, True Blues, will be held in the Orange Hall, Lakefield, on Thursday evening next, the 5th instant at 8 o'clock.

SPRINGVILLE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

ENTERTAINMENT.—A musical and literary entertainment in aid of the Town Hall Union Sunday School, was given on Thursday evening, the 22nd, in the Town Hall, the Rev. Mr. Johnston, of Fraserville, in the chair. The programme consisted of quartettes by members of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church choir, Peterborough; songs by Mrs. Johnston, Miss Edmison and Mr. Howard; recitations by the school children and readings by several of local talent. Mr. T. Manning, B. A., was present, and delivered a short but interesting address on the progress of Sunday School work and the social condition of society. The chairman gave some good advice as to the kind of readings and recitations to be given on such occasions. The entertainment ended by singing the National Anthem, and the Rev. Mr. Johnston pronouncing the benediction. The proceeds of the evening amounted to $14.50.

BOUND FOR THE NORTH WEST.—Among those who leave for the North West from Millbrook on Tuesday are Mr. John Grandy and Mr. James Clarke, of Cavan.

How Monstrosities are Made.

Some time ago a man exhibited on the corner of Market and Macnab streets a monstrosity in the shape of a human child, with parts of various animals and the body of a duck. When the showman was removing his show some boys stole the monstrosity and hid it in the cellar, where it was discovered by another showman a few days ago, and by Constable Harris to-day. The alcohol had evaporated from the bottle, and the body of the infant was found to be almost perfectly formed, the head having been mutilated by the showman, and the body covered with the skin of a duck to make it look monstrous.—Hamilton Spectator.

A Prize for Astronomy.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 27.—Dr. Lewis Swift, director of the Warner observatory, today received from United States Minister Morton at Paris, 540 francs, being the La Launde prize of the Academy of Science awarded each year to the astronomer most distinguished during the year. The prize also includes a silver medal of the institute in Paris, of which Swift becomes an honorary member.

Moonlight on the Prairie.

Moonlight on the prairie has the strongest effect. There are some things which look well—if not indeed at their best—by moonlight. A river, a forest if it is not too dense, an old ruin, a lady if she have dark eyes and pallor becomes her: these are all enchanting, and some of them enchanted in moonlight, which flings shadows full of mystery over the river, relieved by an unearthly delicate glory, and which makes the drops from the suspended oar a wonder, no jeweler, though he had at his command all the gems of the purest ray in the bosom of the earth or in ocean's dark, unfathomless caves, could imitate. A forest by moonlight—only that beautiful myth of Diana bending over Endymion in the grove could do justice to it. An old ruin—Melrose abbey or Inniskillen, or Warwick castle—moonlight throws over their defects a gentle mantle and peoples the lonely, long-deserted aisle. And though one may never have seen it, one can fancy what a magic light the moonbeams would bring from under the dark fringes of a lustrous eye. But it is all different with the prairie. On Monday night it was very cold. It was even colder than on Sunday night. The snow, instead of the beautiful white which daylight gives it, looks like dirty silver, which had not been brushed or washed for many a day. The stars were all out—looking very cold and a three-quarter moon was sinding. A greenish mist appeared to the north-east of the moon, and the prairie looked like frozen sea in a sunless world. There was the sweep of the wave as it was seized in the icy grasp and fixed, and the Bank of Montreal looked the picture of an old dismasted merchantman, caught as she lurched to starboard, and the Land Office was not unsuggestive of a petrified mammouth. It was cold, so we we turned in, drew our desk near the stove, wrote until six and then looked out. The moon was gone. The sky was Oxford blue, with one or two filiments of clouds. In the east the horizon was a dull fiery brown, and just where the last shade of warm tints merged in the cold blue, like some life, brilliant and youthful and glad—the morning star!—Regina, N. W. T., Leader.

Mr. Forster's Mother.

Mr. Forster, the late Irish secretary, was born at Bradpole, in Dorsetshire, in a low straggling building still standing in the midst of a picturesque grove of elms, and shut in by huge iron gates. His mother, who followed the quaker persuasion in its pristine rigidity, was the originator of the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, and her virtues live in the memory of the poor for miles around. One day a wandering showman dragged a jaded and foot-sore dancing bear through the iron gates, and asked leave to exhibit its antics to Mrs. Forster and her children. "Friend," replied the tender-hearted Quaker, "put away your stick. See how weary the poor bear is. Give it an afternoon's rest in our stable, and we will give thee thy dinner and three shillings." The offer was gladly accepted, and the showman dined and was paid. Some hours afterwards the stable door was opened. The rested and refreshed bear had eaten Mrs. Forster's favorite pony.

Wild Potatoes.

A species of wild potatoes has been discovered on the table lands of southwestern Arizona, in altitudes of eight to twelve thousand feet, which is spoken of as superior in taste and flavor to the best cultivated potatoes. Experiments in the cultivation of the plant are being made in the State agricultural schools of California.

Those who "hack" to clear the throat every morning have Catarrh. The Fountain of Health is formulated to reach the seat of this disease, which cannot be cured by snuff or any other local remedy. We will help you or refund the money.

CATARRH is the seed of Consumption, and unless taken in time is a very dangerous disease. Hall's Catarrh Cure never fails to cure. Price 75 cents. For sale by John McKee, druggist.

HEADACHE, Biliousness, Dyspepsia and Constipation promptly relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. As a family medicine they are far superior to Pills. In large Bottles 50 cents.

ONE OF OUR BEST CITIZENS would say to the public that he has tried Hall's Catarrh Cure, and that it is all that is claimed for it. Price 75 cents per bottle. For sale by John McKee, druggist.

Catarrh cannot be cured by any local remedy. It is a deep-seated and constitutional wrong-being, the tendency of which is to lay the whole respiratory economy in ruins. The Fountain of Health will reach the seat of this malady.

The Fountain of Health cures Catarrh, Rheumatism, Scrofula, and all humours, such as Blotches, Pimples, Old Sores, Ulcers, and all obstinate diseases of the Skin and Blood; this it does by its power to cleanse the blood.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz. a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease, to any sufferer. Give Express and P. O. address.

DIVORCES.—No publicity; residents of any State. Desertion, Non-Supports. Advice and applications for stamps. W. H. LEE, Att'y, 280 B'way, N.Y.

ADVERTISERS by addressing GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., New York, can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of ADVERTISING in American Newspapers. 100-page Pamphlet, 10c.

The Great American Remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LOSS OF VOICE, HOARSENESS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS.

Prepared from the finest Red Spruce Gum. (Delicious Flavor.) Balsamic, Soothing, Expectorant and Tonic. Superior to any medicine offered for all the above complaints. A scientific combination of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce tree—without doubt the most valuable native Gum for Medicinal purposes.

Every one has heard of the wonderful effects of the Spruces and the Pines in cases of Lung Disease.

In France the physicians regularly send their consumptive patients to the pine woods and order them to drink a tea made from the Spruce tops.

GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM.

In this preparation the Gum never separates, and all its anti-spasmodic, expectorant, tonic, and balsamic properties are preserved. This Syrup, carefully prepared at a low temperature, contains a large quantity of the finest picked Gum in complete solution.

Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large.

Sold by all respectable chemists. Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

The words "Syrup of Red Spruce Gum" constitute our Registered Trade Mark, and our wrapper and labels are also registered.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

A LITTLE ROGUE.

Grandma was nodding, I rather think ;
Harry was sly and quick as a wink ;
He climbed on the back of her great armchair,
And nestled himself very snugly there.
Grandma's dark locks were mingled with white.
And quick this little fact came to his sight ;
A sharp twinge soon she felt at her hair,
And woke with a start to find Harry there.
"Why, what are you doing, my child ?" she said,
He answered : "I'se pulling a basting tread !"

Ladies who want Stylish patterns in Prints, should pay Munro & Alexander a visit. They are now showing the newest things in "Floral Effects," &c. Sateen Cloths in every desirable shade.

There is a strong feeling in favor of wool fabrics for spring wear, and nuns' veilings and vermicelli cloths are the most popular materials. Pink and blue are popular colours in prints, and some exceedingly pretty floral effects have been produced in this article. In cretonnes some exceptionally fine patterns are being shown this season, and these goods, on account of their extreme prettiness, are interfering with the sale of wool damasks and reps.

Housekeepers who intend purchasing Cretonnes would do well to examine the stock of these goods at Munro & Alexanders'. Their assortment of patterns is acknowledged to be the best in Peterborough.

The favorite shades during the coming summer will be frais cerviseuls, aoajou, terre cuite, mordore, and electric. There may be a few whom these terms will fail to enlighten as to the popular hues, and they will be pleased to learn that frais cerviseuls is another name for crushed strawberries, that acajou is literally mahogany, and terre cuite is French for terra cotta. Crushed gooseberries or bruised lemon have not yet been heard of from Paris, but certainly crushed strawberries is a very pretty idea, and suggests something exceedingly sweet in the way of trimmings.

Munro & Alexander have several very desirable lines of Union and all Wool Dress Goods to hand. They will open out in a day or two a direct importation of Nun's Veilings, in all the newest shades including "Crushed Strawberries" and "Cream." Prices right.

Though not in these days generally cultivated, at least in Europe, the despised nettle was at one time, and that for several centuries, held in high honour and esteem throughout the world. In Kamschatka the fibres have long been used for fishing-lines ; in France they have been made into paper ; in Hindustan and China, woven into so-called "grass cloth ;" and in Scotland and some parts of England the stalks have been dressed, spun, and woven into linen as good as that made from flax ; while the old German name for muslin, "nettle-cloth," shows that it must have been at one time extensively used for weaving purposes on the Continent.

Munro & Alexander are now showing a large stock of New Ducks and Denims. Strong Tweeds, Cotton Shirtings, Grey and White Cottons. Tickings and Table Linens.

POLICE COURT.

TWO CHARGES.

THURSDAY, March 29.—W. McNaughton was charged with using abusive language and indecent exposure in a public place. He was fined two dollars on each charge, which he paid.

The Cells.

One tramp and one prisoner were the occupants of the police cells last night.

The Ludgate Property.

The sale of the Ludgate Property, which was to have taken place to-day, has been adjourned until Thursday, April 5th, at 2 o'clock p.m., at the Stewart House.

T. V. C.

The Dominion estimates for the year 1883-4, contains the following items for works in which our readers are more immediately interested viz :—Trent River navigation—for construction of Locks and improvement of navigation between Lakefield and Balsam Lake (revote) $246,000 ; survey of Trent Valley navigation $8,000 ; River Otonabee $1,200 ; Trent canal repairs $5,100 ; and River Trent and Newcastle district works—repairs $4,250. Total $264,550, of which $18,550 is a new vote.

Premises Enlarged.

The store occupied by Mr. R. H. Pope, next door to Mr. Millar's, is being enlarged. Carpenters are at work preparing the rear of the store so that the shelves and counter can be extended some feet back, which will give more space for a large stock of goods. When the extension is completed the premises will be much more convenient. In the meantime, Mr. Pope is selling his stock at reduced prices, in order to save them from being injured by the dust, and thus a good opportunity for purchasing spring goods is afforded. The second story of the store is also being refitted, and the premises will be greatly improved.

The Late Mrs. John Green.

Mrs. John Green whose death at the advanced age of the 76, is recorded this week, under the usual heading, was another of the early settlers in this district, and of whom there will soon be none left. Mrs. Green came to Canada, from Devonshire, England, in 1829, and after spending a couple of years in Port Hope, moved back into the then wild woods of North Monaghan, where she has ever since lived. Residing on the leading road between Port Hope and Peterborough, Mrs. Green was widely and most favorably known to the early settlers of this district, and her kindly disposition endeared her to every one with whom she came in contact. Mrs. Green was twice married, her first husband, with whom she came to Canada, being Mr. J. Hard. Her maiden name was Tooley, she being a cousin of Mr. R. Tooley, late M. P. P., for a riding of Middlesex, Ontario. Mrs. Green predeceases Mr. Green and leaves behind her seven children.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

A Man Killed Almost Instantaneously on the "Missing Link."

On Wednesday afternoon, between four and five o'clock, a sad accident which resulted fatally occurred on the "Missing Link." The name of the unfortunate victim was Thomas Collins. He was breaking on the car on which the dirt was conveyed from the steam excavator at Tully's cut, and when the car was about half way out on the track the box of the car tilted over, it is supposed from the breaking of the chain which held it in its place. Collins was thrown on the iron rail with great force, his chest striking on the rail. He was immediately picked up, and not appear to be seriously hurt, but a few minutes after he complained of a pain in the region of the heart and in fifteen minutes after he was dead. Mr. Powers came to town for Dr. Kincaid, but before the physician reached there, Collins had died.

The victim of the accident was an Irishman, and he came to this country last summer. He has been working since that time on the "Link," and is spoken of as a steady, industrious man. About a month ago he received a letter from his sister in the United States asking him to go there, and he stopped work on the railway in order to comply with the request, but before he started he received another letter advising him not to go at present, as work was dull, and he went back to the railway. He had only worked one day after going back when he was killed.

CURLIANA.

The Peterborough Club Defeat the Lindsay Champions.

A match was played on the Curling rink here to-day between rinks from the home Club and the Lindsay Club, and the players who swept everything at the Montreal Carnival were defeated by the Peterborough curlers. The contest was close, and twenty-five ends were played, but the match resulted in a victory for the home club by two points. We congratulate the Peterborough players on having defeated curlers whose renown has now spread over the continent as skilful players, and this victory will no doubt give an impetus to curling in Peterborough. The following is the score :—

The rink will be closed for the season on Saturday, the 31st March. Parties will please call for their skates not later than that date. J. I. DAVIDSON, Sec. P.C and S.R. Co.

The Weather Probabilities.

The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows :—Lakes, light to moderate winds; fair, and slightly milder weather.

Ten Nights in One.

An entertainment will be given in the hall of Peterborough Lodge I. O. G. T. this evening, at which "Ten Nights in a Bar-room" will be presented by members of the Lodge, together with a comic dialogue. To-morrow evening there will be an entertainment in Carswell lodge hall.

Railway Notes.

A paragraph in the Mail, presumably originating in some other source, says that the Midland railway contemplate purchasing a site in the neighborhood of Bank street, Ottawa, on which to erect large workshops. The statement is, we are informed on the best authority, entirely erroneous.

Social Entertainment.

We learn that the social held at the residence of Mr. A. L. Davis on Tuesday night was very successful. The attendance was large, and the whole entertainment provided was excellent. The musical and literary programme was a good one. Financially, also, the social was a success. It was for the benefit of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church.

Insurance Guide.

Mr. J. H. Scriver, of the village of Hastings, has just issued the first number of Scriver's Insurance Guide, a quarterly periodical, to give information as to Insurance, Real Estate and Loans. It is well printed at the Hastings Star office and no doubt will be found useful by those for whom it is intended. The publisher guarantees a circulation of 2000 papers.

When Shall we Three Meet Again ?

Three exceptionally tall and heavy men dined together at Mr. Cavanagh's hotel to-day. The height of the first was 6 feet 8 inches, of the second 6 feet 5½ inches, and of the third 6 feet 1½ inches. Their combined measurement was 19 feet 2⅔ inches, and their average height was 6 feet 4⅔ inches. They weighed respectively 227 pounds, 170 pounds and 225 pounds. Their combined weight was 622 pounds, and their average weight was 207⅓ pounds. Is the race of giants extinct ?

REVIEWS.

HARPER'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE.—The April number of Harper has for its frontpiece an excellent engraving of G. S. Newton's portraits of Washington Irving. Mrs. Gibbon's paper on "English Farmers" is a pleasing study of rural life in Sussex, with suitable illustrations. Mr. G. M. Boughton retains the interest of the reader in his fourth instalment of "Artist Strolls in Holland," with his charming sketches. The description of "A Home Farm," by S. B. Parsons, should be read by all who purpose laying out grounds. Col. Higginson contributes another chapter of the history of the early settlement of North America, in "An English Nation." Mr. G. T. Curtis deals with a somewhat later date, that of "The Treaty of Peace and Independence." Mr. John Bigelow gives a sketch of Mexican Imperial family de Itwibide, and Mr. S. Newcomb makes us acquainted with another potentate in "A visit to Cetewayo." The two serial novels, "For the Major" and "Shandon Bells," are both brought to a conclusion, to the regret of the reader. Short tales, poems, and the ever welcome editorial miscellanies complete a most excellent number.

WHY IT WAS POSTPONED.

A quack they call Wiggins, in Johnny Bull's diggins,
Predicted a storm of great fury—
Tornado and thunder would rip earth asunder,
And make oceans foam like a brewery.

Like other false teachers, he found simple creatures
Quite eager to gobble his fiction ;
Some heads became dizzy and some went plumb crazy,
Through blind, superstitious conviction.

At the day's fair appearance his strongest adherents
Expressed much chagrin and vexation ;
But Wiggins, he grinned at the bagful of wind,
And pronounced it a grand revelation.

Still the dupes who were sold were prepared to behold
All creation go tumbling together ;
But the sun came out warm, and so Wiggins' storm
Was postponed on account of the weather.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic ; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcula which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly affected with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, MARCH 30, 1883.

THE Globe "hopes to see a movement in favour of a revision of the constitution and a more careful definition of jurisdiction entered upon at once and carried out with vigour." Mr. Mowat had better get the Boundary Question settled before he enters upon another agitation.

RIOTING AT LINGAN.

Volunteers and Constables Routed by the Strikers—A Magistrate Flees.

HALIFAX, N. S., March 29.—A report from Lingan this morning says that Magistrate McNeil, seven volunteers, and seven constables, were completely overpowered by a mob at Little Glace Bay this morning while attempting to arrest Lingan rioters. Chief Constable Musgrave escaped to the lock-up at Glace Bay to save himself from the mob. The magistrate was glad to escape with his life. Captain Hill has ordered the volunteers back to barracks to await orders from headquarters.

PORT HOPE.

CONSCIENCE MONEY.—The Guide says that a letter bearing the Midland post office stamp of March 26th, 1883, addressed as follows:—"Widow or heirs of the late Mr. Hall, baker, Port Hope," was received by Mrs. Hall on Tuesday. It contained a quantity of money, there was no writing by which it could be identified. It had the simple words written on a blank sheet, "Conscience Money." It was not registered. Mrs. Hall takes this method of acknowledging its receipt and hopes that if there is any more of the same kind, the conscience will be troubled still further. Many others should do likewise if they would do justice to their conscience.

THE NEW CHIEF CONSTABLE.—At a special meeting of the Town Council held on Thursday afternoon, says the Guide, the Special Police Committee reported in favor of Mr. John Douglas as Chief Constable, and Mr. Wm. Rankin as Assistant. The report was read and adopted.

Another Mystery.

DETROIT, March 29.—Yesterday Peter Le Fournay, who resides below Petite Cote, on the Canadian side, found in the water in front of his residence the body of a man. He drew it on shore and found a bullet hole in the right temple and a pump chain wound tightly about the waist, inclosing both arms. From the appearance of the body it had been in the water all winter, as the ice in which it was found has not been moved since it was first frozen. An inquest will be held by Coroner Casgrain. The body is that of a man about 5 ft. 7 in. in height, with dark hair. He was dressed in a blue or black coat and vest, striped or checked pants, checked woolen shirt, blue necktie, paper collar low shoes tied with strings, woollen socks, black felt hat, white wool undershirt and drawers, red cotton handkerchief in the coat. In the pants pocket was found a large two-bladed jack knife with a bone handle and brass tipped. A few cents were found in the pockets, but no papers that would lead to indentification. When the intelligence of the discovery of the body first reached police headquarters in this city it was thought that the body was that of Edwin Sheldon, the missing treasurer and drover of Shiawassee county, whose mysterious disappearance was chronicled a few weeks ago. But on obtaining a description of the body and clothing the whereabouts of Sheldon still remains a mystery. It is quite probable that the coroner's inquest may throw some light upon the indentity of the body. That the man was killed there is no doubt. The bullet in the forehead and the manner in which the arms were tied would indicate that.

ARRESTED AT CORK.

CORK, March 29.—Featherstone, an American, and O'Herlihy, a Parnellite, have been arrested, charged with conspiracy to murder. It is supposed they are connected with the man arrested in Liverpool to-day. The post office at Cork is occupied by the police, as threats have been made to blow up the building. Carmody, a plasterer, has been arrested at Cork. The police are searching for another person, who has fled. Documents were found upon O'Herlihy. The arrests are believed to be due to information given by the man arrested in Liverpool.

LADY DIXIE REFUTED.

LONDON, March 29.—A gentleman from Eton, of high position, has deposed that he saw Lady Florence Dixie the whole time she was standing on the spot where she alleged the outrage was committed, and saw her walk away without anyone accosting her.

A TRIPLE ALLIANCE.

ROME, March 29.—The recent speech of Signor Mancini, Italian Minister of Foreign Affairs, regarding the relations between Itlay, Germany and Austria, is believed to refer to a defensive triple alliance against France, with whom all have agreed to endeavour to maintain friendship; but should one of the three be compelled to make war against France, the other pledged themselves to maintain a neutral attitude, even if they do not aid in carrying on the war.

FUTILE ENQUIRY.

LONDON, March 29.—In the House of Commons to-day Sir William Harcourt said the enquiry of the police into the alleged attack upon lady Dixie had been futile.

AWAITING REVENGE.

METZ, March 30.—There is an uneasy feeling in Lorraine, amongst the population who still avow fealty to France. An address just issued by Deputy Antoine acknowledges the receipt of money collected by the patriotic league for the benefit of the sufferers by the recent inundations along the Rhine, and appeals to the French Government not to forget those unhappy children of France who, although parted from her temporarily by force of arms, are awaiting a day of revenge.

RECEPTION TO OFFICERS,

BERLIN, March 30.—Much importance is attached in Court circles to the fact that a reception has been given by the Emperor to Lienton and General von Werder, German military plenipotentiary, at St. Petersburg.

THE DYNAMITE FIENDS.

LIVERPOOL, March 30.—It is believed that the arrests here and at St. Helen yesterday of the men bringing infernal machines from Ireland, preven ed outrages to have been executed last evening. The destruction of public buildings, including possibly great loss of life, was probably part of the plot.

AMERICAN.

IN A FRIENDLY WAY.

NEW YORK, March 29.—A Washington special says the British Minister has formally, but in an entirely friendly way, called the attention of this Government to the utterances of the Irish agitators. The President has called the Cabinet's attention to the Minister's communication; he stated his own views, and requested the members of the Cabinet to submit their views in writing. This was done on Friday last, and there was no dissent in the opinion that in the existing situation of affairs this Government would not be justified in interfering with the Irish sympathizers now in this country.

"A RATHER HARD CASE."

DETROIT, Mich., March 29.—A Hillsdale Mich., despatch says that a terrible murder was committed in a saloon in this city to-night, by John Mulqueen. He killed a man named Adam Glasgow, whose home is in Ottawa, Ont., and who had been in this city only a short time. There had been bad blood between the parties for some time, and they met to-night in Wyatt's saloon, when Mulqueen asked Glasgow to take a drink. As Glasgow raised the glass to his lips, Mulqueen drew a razor and cut the poor fellow's throat. Glasgow staggered to the door and fell dead upon the walk. Mulqueen is rather a hard case, and served a while in the reform school at Ann Arbor.

A Lucky Editor.

C. B. Ketcheson, local editor of the Oswego Times, has fallen heir to $500,000. Mr. Ketcheson was born in Belleville, learnt the printing trade here, and here also began his career as a journalist. About two years since Mr. Ketcheson received news that through the death of a distant relative in England his father had fallen heir to this immense estate. The senior Ketcheson being dead and Mr. B. R. Ketcheson being the only heir now, he immediately instituted measures to test the reliability of the report, but with little or no confidence in the matter. His surprise may be imagined, when a few days since he received a letter, that the estate in question is legitimate, and Mr. Ketcheson's title is complete. About $300,000 of this estate is English securities and the balance in landed property in the North of Ireland, with a large annual rental. Mr. Ketcheson will immediately resign his position on the Times and take an extensive European tour.—Belleville Intelligence.

John Brown.

The rumour that John Brown's death was caused by Fenian poison is discredited and ridiculed. It is said that the Queen feels his loss severely. It had not been known in London that Brown was ill. He was a man well on in years and extremely irritable. His anxiety, personally, on the Queen's account was almost a mania, so that the accident to her was almost enough to make him ill. He was much worried because he was not present to prevent the Queen's recent fall, and blamed himself greatly because of the exhausting drive which followed, although Her Majesty went out despite his opposition.

The best known remedy for all affections of the Chest, Lungs or Throat is Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum. It is constantly used by thousands of persons suffering from the above diseases, and in nearly every instance it affords immediate relief. In cases of troublesome, tickling Cough, where the patient passes sleepless nights, one or two doses of the Syrup has such a quieting, soothing effect that rest ensues and the Cough speedily disappears. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

"Blood will tell." A face adorned with Pimples, Boils, Blotches &c., is not particularly pleasant sight, and invariably betokens an impure state of the Blood. Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters free the system from all gross humours, renders the Blood Pure and Cool, aids digestion and gives a healthy appetite. For sale by all Druggists in large Bottles at 50 cents.

OIL MARKET EXCITED.

PITTSBURG, March 30.—Oil market here closed yesterday amid scenes of excitement rarely equalled and never excelled. The prices fluctuated so rapidly as to completely carry away the usually level headed brokers. During the morning session and for an hour after the second was call hardly any business was transacted. The flurry was due to the Murphy well.

PUTTING DOWN GAMBLING.

NASHVILLE, March 30.—The passage of the bill by the Legislature making it felony to rent a building for gambling purposes, caused a sensation among the gambling fraternity. It is thought that it will break up their business. The House adopted a resolution accepting the proposition of the bondsmen of Treasurer Polk to settle with the State.

AN ALLEGED HEIRESS.

CAMDEN, N. J., March 30.—Mrs. Rebecca Barnes, colored, claims to be a grand-daughter of the Queen of Guinea. She says that she was stolen by slave traders eighty years ago, and is the heiress to the title. The Queen's descendants are entitled to a large amount of valuables left with a firm of coast traders in Africa. The State Department has been consulted in the matter.

A FIRE.

KINGSTON, N. Y., March 30.—There was a fire last evening in Eddyville, the terminus of the Delaware and Hudson Canal. The buildings were mainly wood. A slight breeze was blowing fresh and the flames spread rapidly. The fire department here went to the fire toward midnight. The fire is under control. Loss $35,000.

WARRANT REFUSED.

ST. LOUIS, March 30.—The young woman with whom Health Commissioner Francis recently eloped yesterday tried to obtain a warrant against him for seduction. She said that Francis promised to leave his family and marry her. The warrant was refused.

LEPROSY.

NEW ORLEANS, March 30.—A woman suffering with leprosy was admitted to the hospital here. The case excites great interest.

SUSPECTED LARD.

HAVANA, March 30.—Several brands of American lard denounced as fraudulent, have been refused admittance at the custom house, until the Academy of Science report on their quality.

ANOTHER MURDER.

PATERSON, N. J., March 30.—Mrs. Jacob Anderlin, a widow, was discovered on Wednesday at her home, gagged and bound to a bedpost, unconscious. Her head was split open, apparently by an axe. She died yesterday. She lived alone in a cottage on the outskirts of the town, and was known to have forty dollars, which are missing. The detectives are investigating.

ACQUITTED.

NASHVILLE March 30.—S. B. Hopkins and two brothers named Hooper, charged with murdering Dr. Nuckolls, of Springfield, were acquitted yesterday. Hopkins was formerly a wholesale whiskey dealer, and killed Nuckolls, his brother-in-law, by shooting without warning. Nuckolls had parted from his wife. The killing was the result of domestic difficulties. The case created a great deal of interest.

TO BE HANGED.

GREENVILLE, S.C., March 30.—Riley Anderson, colored, was yesterday sentenced to be hanged on May 18th for the murder of Lou Griffiths, his niece, and her child. Anderson was suspected of being unduly intimate with the woman. He attempted suicide by drinking turpentine after the verdict was rendered on Wednesday night and broke down entirely when sentenced.

THE DEATH SENTENCE.

TRENTON, Ga., March 30.—D. Walker was sentenced to be hanged for the murder of Wm. Hardberger. Wm. Treece, an accomplice, was sentenced to ten years.

CHARGE OF FORGERY.

COLLEGE POINT, La., March 30.—Samuel Caldwell, a lawyer and the defeated Candidate for the Assembly, is accused of obtaining money from several people on forged checks.

STRANGE ELOPEMENT.

TORRINGTON, Conn., March 30.—Ann Brooker, aged 24, of a respectable family, eloped with and married a full blood negro, Joe. Bradley, the coachman of her father. The couple are living in a miserable shanty at Ashley Falls, Mass. She refuses to leave Bradley.

A HOMICIDE.

NEW YORK, March 30.—Conkling, who killed Haverstick, went to Jersey City yesterday by the advice of his counsel to avoid arrest at night. His counsel says he will be produced at once if the grand jury indict him. Conkling's sister testified before the grand jury yesterday.

THE APACHES.

BENSON, Arizona, March 30.—Unusual fires were seen from here last night at the foot of the Dragoon Mountains, where there were successive flashes. It is understood that a large number of Sonora Apaches are approaching the line near Nogales. The people there have called for troops. one company has been sent there.

HORSE RACES.

LIVERPOOL, March 30.—At the spring meeting to-day for the general national steeple chase handicap, 1,000 guineas, Seaidon won, with Black Prince 2nd and Morbican 3rd. Nine started.

LOUISE MICHEL ARRESTED.

PARIS, March 30.—Louise Michel was arrested this morning. She stated that she was willing to give herself up rather than subject her mother to further annoyance from the police.

A THREAT.

LONDON, March 30.—The police have received a letter, purporting to emanate from Fenian sources, threatening that unless the prisoners in Dublin charged with the Phœnix Park murders are released, the central telegraph office of London will be blown up.

WOULD NOT INTERFERE.

BERLIN, March 30.—It is stated that the King of Denmark has requested the Prince of Wales to use his influence with the Prussian Government with a view to securing favorable action upon the grievances of the Danes living in Schleswig. The Prince answered that he preferred not to interfere.

FAT JOBS AND POLITICS.

In the indiscreet letter which we republish from the Daily Guide, the old Reform organ in Port Hope, amid all the absurdities as to alleged "Tory" misdeeds in Muskoka, there is one statement that deserves serious attention. It is stated that one especially prominent canvasser, was "a man whom Mowat's Government had made—for he used to get all the fat jobs of building bridges," and the context evidently implies that in consequence of this he should not be opposing Mr. Mowat.

Now, does not this paragraph plainly admit that we are right in our two main contentions as to the improper use made by the Mowat Administration of the grants for Colonization Roads, always so lavishly increased upon the eve of an election. It is stated in so many words that "fat jobs" are to be got from this Department by the faithful, and it is almost as plainly implied that our money, thus dishonestly lavished, is expected to secure not only the work for which it is nominally given, but also the vote and influence of the fortunate recipient, in favor of the corrupt administration which thus retains his political services with the money of the people. That the "own correspondent" of this organ of the Mowat Government should, as we believe, have blundered as to the side taken in the election by the gentleman then criticised by him, certainly does not in the least diminish the force of these admissions.

We have always contended that the Colonization Road grants were used by Mr. Mowat and his colleagues as a gigantic corruption fund, and now a "Reform" journalist confesses it.

CHOOSE ANOTHER HORN.

It is rather startling to find so-called Reformers having the impudence to compare Mr. Mowat's course with Sir John Macdonald's in regard to the Orange Bills. It is not yet forgotten that Mr. Mowat voted for the Orange Bills and supported them in the Ontario Legislature, but then turned round and advised the Lieutenant Governor not to let these measures become law. He hoped by this very dishonorable trick to curry favour both with the supporters and opponents of the Bills. If he thought the measures were wrong he was dishonest to vote for them, if he thought them right he was still more dishonest to advise the Lieutenant Governor not to assent to them. We believe this to be the first and only case, and we hope it will be the last, of a Premier thus grossly disregarding his sworn duty as the leader of a constitutional government by an action that no honest statesman would commit, and that would indeed be impossible for any honest man.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Mail says that petitions are now in against Mr. Ferris in East Northumberland, Colonel Morin in Welland, Mr. Gould, in North Ontario, Mr. Murray in North Renfrew, Mr. Dowling in South Renfrew, Mr. E. G. Sills in West Hastings, Mr. N. Awrey in South Wentworth, and against Mr. D. J. McIntyre in South Victoria. Personal bribery is alleged against Mr. Ferris; and in North Ontario Mr. Madill claims the seat—total 8. All the gentlemen petitioned against are supporters of Mr. Mowat.

⁂

Our local Reform contemporary has one editorial censuring the Mail for its strong language in respect to the Hon. Edward Blake, and to a considerable extent our sympathies were with the Examiner. But in another column of the same paper, we find another editorial, in which our contemporary uses still stronger language, without the same provocation or foundation, in regard to the Rt. Hon. Sir John Macdonald. It seems, according to the Reformers, that Conservative journalists must not criticise with strong or coarse language Reformers who are deserving of censure, but it is permitted to Reform journalists to slander Conservative statesmen with still stronger and coarser language.

⁂

Quebec wants an increased subsidy from the Dominion Treasury, and asks that the annual allowance of eighty cents per head should be from time to time calculated on its population according to the then last census instead of always on that of 1861. Were this done Quebec would now be receiving $1,087,221, per annum instead of the $889,252, which she is receiving. Were the same rule applied to Ontario, as would have to be done, we would now be receiving $1,532,582 per annum instead of the $1,115,872, which we are now receiving on this account—or an increase of $421,716 per annum.

A MUSKOKA ROMANCE.

The following letter appears in that strong Reform journal, the Port Hope Daily Guide, professedly from its own correspondent, and is so intensely ludicrous that we cannot resist the temptation to reproduce it. In doing so we must, however, say that we believe the charge of ingratitude brought against Mr. John Boyd is as destitute of foundation as the rest of this romance, though it is very possible that he worked hard, for he is no idler:—

MUSKOKA.

From Our (the Guide's) Own Correspondent.

HOW IT WAS DONE.

I suppose that you think that Wiggins' storm must have struck this district, but it didn't, though there was a much greater one in violence passed over Muskoka than any that Wiggins could have sent us. It came from Ottawa, too; sent by that arch schemer who is at the head of the affairs of the Dominion, Sir John. Of course all the readers of the Guide know that an election for a member of the Local Legislature was held here on the 13th inst. A brigade of Light Dragoons was sent up from the capital some two weeks before the election came off, and after they had charged the fort, they found they were unable to carry it by storm, so they sent to headquarters for reinforcements of heavy artillery. They came promptly to hand well supplied with spondulicks and took aim right in amongst us, and such slaughter has not been seen since the famous battle of Bull's Run. The wonder is that a single one was left to tell the tale.

THE ORANGE HORSE.

Big John Boyd, from Peterborough rode the Orange horse. A man whom Mowat's government had made—for he used to get all the fat jobs of building bridges, and paid his men 40 cents a day of this, on his part to help the poor man. He had a sleigh load, who charged the Orange fort under the direction of an ex-constable. They had lots of ammunition, in the shape of whiskey and Dominion Bank bills, with arms full of lying fly sheets. They were as successful as King William when he crossed the Boyne. Boyd & Co. said, "Look here boys, Mowat would not give us incorporation, and you must not vote for him. Sir John is going to give us what we want. 'Mowat must go,' for Sir John says so." "Well," the reply was, "the Mowat Government has done a good deal for us in here and I do not like to go against my old friend." The wife calls him in, when, after a few minutes Orange comes out, and says "all right, boys; I see Sir John is the poor man's friend, and a bully good fellow. I'll help him this time." They have a drink all round and shake hands. "Now, you do all you can, for the old boy."

THE CATHOLIC FORT.

Pat Whelan & Co. stormed the Catholic Fort with his force. He was armed with the inevitable whiskey bottle and lots of cash and a bundle of papers, purporting to come from Bishop Jamot, which says, "I wish you to vote for the son of the Church, Mr. Farquier; for you know it is like a sin against the Holy Ghost to vote against a son of the Church, and you know the Mowat Government is not favorable to us, as they give all the offices and fat places to Protestants." These are only a few of the tactics among the many that were used at the late contest. In a fair fight, we are a match for Meredith, any day.

THE AGENTS EMPLOYED.

It is said there were more than five hundred paid agents of the Ottawa Government imported into this constituency during the recent contest — nearly all cattle buyers—Some all the way from Winnipeg, Ottawa, Belleville, Cobourg and Peterborough; Port Hope furnished its quota in the person of the late Orange Grand Master of Ontario East, David Marshall, who had at the time his appointment to a permanent position in the Custom House at Winnipeg, in his pocket.

PREVIOUS CONTESTS.

Your correspondent has gone through a good many election fights in East Durham, but never one like that through which we have recently passed. I have seen rough times in Manvers, when it used to be Bob McIndoo, by the Grace of God; Queen, Defender of Ballyduff and John A. But even in Manvers, I never knew a Deputy-Returning Officer forced out and all the ballots marked for Farquier, and the said D. R. O. obliged to sign all the papers required, or they threatened to gut him.

WHERE DID THE VOTES COME FROM?

The question is, where did all the votes come from? Mr. Bettes polled 116 more votes all told, than he did at the previous election, when he had a majority of 442. The answer is, they come from Haliburton, Orillia, Ottawa, North Peterborough and Hastings. That's the way they did it up brown. It looks as if we were let loose and gone adrift to some place in Russia or some other despotic government.

MONTREAL AND ANTWERP.

The Establishment of the New Permanent Line of Steamers.

Mr. Munderloh, German Consul at Montreal, has succeeded in inducing the Dominion Government to place a sum of $24,000 in this year's estimates for the establishment of a new line of steamers between Antwerp and this port. Operations will be commenced early this summer, and steamships will be run monthly at first, and then if the movement is a successful one, the passages will take place fortnightly or perhaps weekly. This new departure meets a long felt want, and will, no doubt, contribute largely in promoting immigration to Canada and the exportation of cattle to Germany, &c. Antwerp is said to be an excellent distributing point for Germany, France, Switzerland and the Netherlands. Canadian banks have opened agencies in Antwerp, and Mr. Munderloh is confident of a successful and regular trade being established. An effort is to be made to create a special business in Canadian rye, which is said to be largely used in Germany in preference to Russian rye, which hitherto was the only similar product to be had. The steamers will run from Halifax in winter.—Montreal Star.

Rev. E. Shirin,

Bewdley P. O., Ont., like hundreds of others who have been cured of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma, consumption and all diseases of the head, throat and lungs, says: "The Spirometer, invented by M. Souvielle, of Paris, ex-aide surgeon of the French army, and the medicines and treatment prescribed at the International Throat and Lung Institute, have cured me completely of consumption (first stage) or advanced bronchitis, after everything else failed." Consultations and a trial of Spirometer free. Those who are unable to come to the Institute or see our surgeons, who visit all the principal towns and cities of Canada, can be successfully treated by writing, inclosing stamp for a copy of our International News, published monthly, which will give you full particulars and references, which are genuine. Address, 173 Church Street, Toronto, or 13 Phillips' Square, Montreal.

Well as Ever.—Lottie Howard writes from Buffalo, N.Y.:—"My system became greatly debilitated through arduous professional duties; suffered from nausea, sick headache and biliousness. Tried Burdock Blood Bitters with the most beneficial effect. Am well as ever."

LAKEFIELD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

Mr. Goodwin started a steam drill to work on Tuesday last, the 20th inst., at Buckhorn, commencing the construction of the locks, &c., at that place in connection with the T. V. C.

ACCIDENT.

On Monday last a farmer called Long tied his team to a post in this village with the lines. The team made a sudden start while he was untying the lines from the post; his fingers were caught in the lines by the post, and one was broken, and another put out of joint. It was so quickly done that he could scarcely explain how the accident occurred.

THE WEATHER.

The winter still lingers though the end of March is at hand. The increased power of the sun has had a telling effect in diminishing the quantity of snow, but the nights have been cold and freezing. It is anticipated that if a sudden thaw comes on quite a flood will be the result. In the meantime it would be advisable to make preparations by opening drains &c.

MANVERS.

Economical.—The Star says that a well known "mere de famille" of our village is a pattern of household economy. She has made a pair of socks last fifteen years by merely knitting new feet to them every winter, and legs every other winter.

Fire.—Mr. Henry Humphries' dwelling, a few miles west of the village, was burned last Friday afternoon. The building was of brick, and was insured in the Watertown for $600, and the contents at $400. The fire originated, it is supposed, from some defect in the chimney, as when discovered, it appeared to be raging between the chamber ceiling and the roof. One of Mr. H.'s children was very ill at the time, and the shock and removal in the cold may be attended with serious consequences. Mr. Humphries' loss is estimated at about $1,000 over and above the insurance.

THE RAILWAY COMMISSION.

Mr. Geo. Laidlaw exposes the injustice of "Special Rates," &c. We extract the following from a letter which appears in a recent Mail from Mr. George Laidlaw, who as an old railway man can speak with authority as to the manner in which the business of the country is manipulated by our Railway magnates:—

Mr. Laidlaw says:—One Grand Trunk president seeks the intervention of the Secretary for the Colonies to prevent the province of Quebec from building a railway! The next general manager buys for his shareholders the railway that was to ruin a province. Every independent railway scheme proposed in Canada for the last fifteen years has been opposed by the Grand Trunk and its satellites in Parliament, in Provincial Assemblies, in municipalities and courts of this country, and in the London money markets by all the arts and influences that could be had for patronage or money. This great railway corporation, that has cost Canada, principal and interest, 25 to 30 millions of dollars in coin, that has sold $10,000,000 of its stock at 20c. cash, and loads of bonds at heavy discounts, not only proposes that our traffic shall pay interest on the par of all those securities, but with haughty menace and proud boasts makes use of its Canadian franchise and the prestige derived therefrom to oppose the policy of the Government of the country, and hinder it from completing the work of Confederation by opening up our great North-West, and building a railway to our Pacific coast. The company has hung on the flanks of Government contractors, has embarrassed local railways, and by means of the "law's slow delays" in the courts, to which its emissaries in Ottawa want disputes left, it has for years prevented the free access of an important railway to its freight and water docks at Toronto. It prevented the building of a Grand Union depot such as would be worthy of the capital of this province. It impudently lays its track upon the public streets, and exacts tolls and rents from other railways on the Esplanade in amount sufficient to enable it, probably, to sit rent free, and to worry and harass the business of the city. The Northern Railway Company is a squatter for thirty years on property belonging to the city of Toronto worth $500,000. Such has been the general policy of the Grand Trunk. Its annual income is estimated, by an [illegible] conquest and [illegible] of power as is the War Office in St. Petersburg. Its revenue and patronage, with its subordinate lines, exceeds that of the general Government

Mr. McCarthy's bill is not too early; it is much too late. Our Government long since should have interposed the shield of justice to protect new and struggling railways, the traders and general body of producers from embarrassments, exactions and impositions. Let me instance a few out of many thousand similar circumstances which call for judicial regulation as well in the interest of the proprietors as of the public. Last fall freight on flour from Detroit to Boston was 30c per barrel; from Chatham to Boston 70c. per barrel; from Brantford, Galt and Guelph districts it was 62c. to Boston. Some time last year freight from Indianapolis to Montreal was 25c. a barrel; from Brantford, Galt and Guelph districts, 45c. per barrel. There was a National Policy for you with a vengeance. The benefit of your protecting duties swept away by differential rates quoted by "irresponsible" railway officials. To meet the wisdom of the guardians of vested interests, flour was shipped from Chatham to Detroit and thence to Boston. A car-load of wood freighted fifty or sixty miles to Parkdale for $7.50, costs $5.00 more to reach the consumers factory at the Don. One railway company monopolized, to the exclusion of private competition for years, the whole fuel business of its line. Another gives special rates to favoured shippers of special articles that injure and damage the interests of both producer and consumer. Railway officials defend private special rates because therein lie the "sweets of power." Special rates are indefensible. What signifies the published tariffs, if the business of the country is mainly conducted on private arrangements?

What business has an "irresponsible" railway official to dictate differential rates to two merchants, manufacturers, or farmers of the same place? Why should any general manager or superintendent have it in his "irresponsible" power to raise or depress, in fact to ruin, any village, mill, or manufactory by the imposition of differential and discriminating rates? Why should the National Policy as regards breadstuffs, fuel, and some other articles be nullified by an "irresponsible" general manager? If we can't have equity and fair play with our United States neighbours in the carrying trade, let us have it amongst ourselves. If Mr. A. has a special rate from Orangeville, Guelph, Brantford, or London to Montreal and the Maritime Provinces of three to four cents in his favour, he has only to work on that margin until he has killed competition in both the producer's and the consumer's market. He can then depress the prices of the producer and increase the prices to the consumer. With unhandicapped competition the markets of the producer would be better and firmer, and the consumers would have to pay less profits. It is true the opportunity of making a fortune would be lost. Every rate quoted by a railway company should be on some fixed principle and published. I very much question the judgment and correctness of the theories advanced by some railway men in favour of those low through rates for long trips being more profitable than higher rates on shorter distances.

I note that the fact that the Montreal Board of Trade petitioned against the proposed court of railway commissioners, and it is very likely but a few traders or manufacturers will petition for the establishment of the court, for the simple reason that their "hand is in the lion's mouth," and that an "irresponsible" railway official, by neglecting to supply them with cars, giving them to a favoured neighbor with special rates, can ruin their property and business. It is to the representatives of the people that we have to look for decisive action in support of Mr. McCarthy's proposed court. Municipal authorities should forward to their members petitions and facts bearing on the case, and, no doubt, there would be accumulated at Ottawa an amount of data which would impress the Government and Parliament with the imperative necessity existing for the establishment of a court of railway commissioners. Regarding its cost, since the amalgamation of the Great Western and Midland systems the equalizing and unreasonable increase of the tariffs would in my opinion pay the cost of the court for many years. It has been "fun for the boy, but death to the toad."

The Circumpolar Explorers Safe.

Winnipeg, March 27.—Later news has been received from the British Circumpolar Expedition, in charge of Captain Dawson, of the British navy, and three subalterns of the same service. The date of the letter received from W. C. King, the officer in charge of the Hudson Bay post at Fort Rae, is November 20th, 1882, and reports the members of the expedition well, and successful in their mission of taking Artic observations. It is their intention to make Fort Rae their headquarters, and after taking observations they will return to England, via Winnipeg, in the fall of 1883.

Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

Plain Truths!

The blood is the foundation of life, it circulates through every part of the body and unless it is pure and rich, good health is impossible, if disease has entered the system the only sure and quick way to drive it out is to purify and enrich the blood.

These simple facts are well known and the highest medical authorities agree that nothing but iron will restore the blood to its natural condition; and also that all the Iron preparations hitherto made blacken the teeth, cause headache, and are otherwise injurious.

Sulphur and Iron Bitters will thoroughly and quickly assimulate with the blood, purifying and strengthening it and thus drive disease from any part of the system, and it will not blacken the teeth cause headache or constipation and is positively not injurious.

St. Johnsbury, Vermont Oct. 31st 1882.

For six years I have been a great sufferer from blood disease, dyspepsia and constipation, and became so debilitated that I could not retain anything on my stomach, in fact life had almost become a burden, and when hope had almost left me, I was induced to give Sulphur and Iron Bitters a trial I am now taking the third bottle and have not felt so well in six years as I do at present.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz. a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

THE SUN'S first aim is to be truthful and useful; its second, to write an entertaining history of the times in which we live. It prints, on an average, more than a million copies a week. Its circulation is now larger than ever before. Subscription: Daily (4 pages), by mail, 55c. a month, or $6.50 a year; Sunday (8 pages), $1.20 per year; Weekly (8 pages), $1 per year.

I. W. ENGLAND, Publisher, New York City.

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease, to any sufferer. Give Express and P. O. address.

DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York.

DIVORCES.—No publicity; residents of any State. Desertion, Non-Supports. Advice and applications for stamps. W. H. LEE, Att'y, 239 B'way, N.Y.

ADVERTISERS by addressing GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., New York, can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of ADVERTISING in American Newspapers. 100-page Pamphlet, 10c.

The Great American Remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LOSS OF VOICE, HOARSENESS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS.

Prepared from the finest Red Spruce Gum. (Delicious Flavor.) Balsamic, Soothing, Expectorant and Tonic. Superior to any medicine offered for all the above complaints. A scientific combination of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce tree—without doubt the most valuable native Gum for Medicinal purposes.

Every one has heard of the wonderful effects of the Spruces and the Pines in cases of Lung Disease.

In France the physicians regularly send their consumptive patients to the pine woods and order them to drink a tea made from the Spruce tops.

GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM.

In this preparation the Gum never separates, and all its anti-spasmodic, expectorant, tonic, and balsamic properties are preserved. This Syrup, carefully prepared at a low temperature, contains a large quantity of the finest picked Gum in complete solution.

Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large.

Sold by all respectable chemists. Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

The words "Syrup of Red Spruce Gum" constitute our Registered Trade Mark, and our wrapper and labels are also registered.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, MARCH 30, 1883.

The Cells.

One prisoner and four tramps shared the police cells last night.

Drawing the Stone.

Mr. McNamara has commenced drawing the stone for the foundation of the town building, which is to be erected for a stable for the horses which will draw the fire engine.

The Ludgate Property.

The sale of the Ludgate Property, which was to have taken place to-day, has been adjourned until Thursday, April 5th, at 2 o'clock p.m., at the Stewart House.

Rink Notice.

The rink will be closed for the season on Saturday, the 31st March. Parties will please call for their skates not later than that date. J. I. DAVIDSON, Sec. P.C and S.R. Co.

Appealed.

The case of James Venard against John Ryan, which was tried in the Police Court on Saturday last, has been appealed, the necessary bonds having been filed on Wednesday.

Lacrosse.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club will be held at St. James' Hotel on Monday evening next (2nd April) at 7.30 o'clock. All interested in lacrosse, whether members of the club or not, are requested to attend.

Midland Railway of Canada.

The traffic for the above railway for the week ending March 24th, 1883, was as follows:—Passengers and mails, $4,322.66; freight, $9,059.88; total, $13,382.54, as compared with $20,233.38 for the corresponding week of 1882, being a decrease of $6,850.84; and the aggregate traffic to date is $165,776.04, being a decrease of $5,801.15 under 1882.

"Ten Nights."

The dramatic version of T. S. Arthur's well known book, "Ten Nights in a Bar-room," was played in the hall of Peterborough Lodge I. O. G. T. on Thursday evening, together with a humorous dialogue. The hall was crowded to the door. The manner in which the play and dialogue were given is well spoken of. Music was furnished during the evening, between the acts, and added to the entertainment.

Arctic and Egyptian Entertainments.

Mr. J. Cheyne Davidson, agent for Commander Cheyne, was in town to-day for the purpose of making arrangements with the Directors of the Mechanics Institute, for the delivery of the Commander's Lime Light Lectures on the great search for Sir John Franklin, and Egypt and the War. The matter is now under the consideration of the Directors of the Institute with a fair prospect of the offer being accepted.

ALMOST A SACRIFICE.

A Prisoner Fires the Police Cells and Nearly Becomes a Victim.

On Thursday afternoon at about 5 o'clock Constable Pidgeon arrested Alexander Fraser for being drunk, and locked him in the cells. About an hour and a half afterwards, Mr. Jas. English, the engineer, went into the fire engine shed, over the cells, and discovered smoke coming up through the floor. He at once went in search of a constable, and meeting Constable Adams coming out of the constable's room, they proceeded to the cells. When the door was opened they found the place full of smoke and a bright blaze in the corner to the right of the entrance. The prisoner Fraser, who was alone, was walking around in the cell and in a few minutes more would have been suffocated. His coat and vest were piled in the corner and were burning, and the walls of the cell were also ignited. The fire was quickly extinguished with water, and $21 was found in the coat which was rescued from the flames. In three other places the walls of the cells were blackened, where attempts had been made to set them on fire. There were no matches in the cell, except what the prisoner took in with him. When he was put in he was searched and no matches were found on him, but he must have had them concealed on his person. The discovery of the fire was none too soon, as the flames were taking a good hold on the board wall. When Fraser was asked why he did the act, he replied that "he wanted to burn the—(constable)—who put him in." He was charged with arson at the Police Court this morning and was committed for trial.

HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE.

Spring Sitting of the Queen's Bench and Common Pleas Division.

On Thursday the Court resumed at 9.30 o'clock in the morning.

HAMILTON PROVIDENT AND LOAN SOCIETY vs. DUMBLE, et al.—An action to recover the value of goods seized by Mr. Stapleton, as bailiff, and which the plaintiff's claimed under a chattel mortgage. The mortgage had been executed on the 15th of April, in Peterborough, and the affidavit of bona fides was sworn by a clerk in the plaintiff's office in Hamilton. The jury found that the clerk who made the affidavit was not competent to make it, upon which a verdict was entered for the defendants.—Mr. Muir for plaintiffs; Messrs. D. W. Dumble and H. T. Beck for defendants.

COCHRANE vs. BOUCHER, et al.—A claim by Mrs. Cochrane against the executors of Mr. Hatton for damages for seizing goods claimed by her. The goods was seized under a chattel mortgage given by the plaintiff and her husband. The defence was that Cochrane had made away with some of the goods covered by the mortgage and created a forfeiture which entitled the defendants to seize. The jury found that the goods had not been removed with Cochrane's knowledge. Verdict for plaintiff for $275.—Mr. E. A. Peck for plaintiff; Messrs. H. T. Beck and N. D. Beck for defendants.

HAMILTON PROVIDENT AND LOAN SOCIETY vs. CAMPBELL.—An interpleader. The plaintiffs claimed that as mortgagees of Cochrane's land they were entitled to take the growing crops previously seized by the Sheriff. The case was tried without jury. Judgment was reserved; the case was left for the decision of the Court.—Mr. Muir for plaintiff; Mr. D. W. Dumble for defendant.

The Court finally adjourned at eleven o'clock on Thursday night.

POLICE COURT.

DRUNK.

FRIDAY, March 30.—Alex Fraser was charged by Constable Pidgeon with having been drunk, and was fined $2 or ten days in gaol. He paid the fine.

ARSON.

Fraser was also charged by Constable Adams with arson. The charge was that he set fire to the police cells, where he was confined. The evidence of the two constables and Jas. English was taken, and the prisoner was committed to stand his trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction, which will be the Quarter Sessions in June.

The Weather Probabilities.

The weather continues soft and more spring-like. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Easter to north easterly winds; fair weather; followed by some snow or rain to-night or to-morrow.

Railway Notes.

Mr. H. J. Beemer arrived from Montreal yesterday. Mr. J. Davis Barnett, Mechanical Superintendent of the Midland, is at the Oriental.

The Port Hope Times says:—

"Mr. Patterson, of Stratford, has been appointed foreman of the Midland railway machine shops, in place of Mr. Wright. Mr. Barnett, the new Mechanical Superintendent, is making a number of changes in the management of his department. As innovations, whether for the better or worse, are unwelcome at first to old employees, there is some dissatisfaction expressed. When the men become used to the new regime they may change their opinions. This is altogether likely, as Mr. Barnett ranks as a first-class railroad man."

It is said that all the stone necessary for the building of the Ontario & Quebec Railway bridge here will be on the ground by the end of this week.

IF YOU WANT large fresh oysters dished up in good style, go to T. Darcy's Restaurant and Oyster Parlour.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold, a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup, and Bronchitis, while it's wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since it's first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a Cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10 cts., 50 cts. and $1.00. For sale by J. D. Tully.

A Relic of a Famous Sea-Fight.

A curiosity has turned up at the Stone Depot in the shape of a round shot imbedded in coral which came among a quantity of stone ballast now being landed from a vessel lately arrived from Martinique. From the appearance of the surface there can be little doubt that it had been in the sea for a considerable number of years. It measures five inches in diameter and bears evidence of being one of the identical cannon balls fired by the gallant admiral, Lord Rodney, in 1782, when he encountered the French fleet, commanded by Count de Grasse, and totally defeated it, taking five ships of the line, besides making a prisoner of their admiral. —Demerara Royal Gazette.

Answer This Question.

Why do so many people we see around us seem to prefer to suffer and be made miserable by Indigestion, Consumption, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Coming up of the Food, Yellow Skin, when for 75 cts., we will sell them Shiloh's Vitalizer, guaranteed to cure them. For sale by D. J. Tully

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widely increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.

DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury). THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution.

In Boxes at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., and 4s. 6d.

Sold by Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world. Prepared by Jas. Roche, London. Specially valuable Pills for residents abroad and travellers.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendencies, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6d. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

BRISK OPENING OF SPRING TRADE.

Messrs. Lockhart & Chowen Doing Work for Manitoba—A Word for the N. P.

The spring trade has opened briskly at Messrs. Lockhart & Chowen's carriage factory, as the firm have enough orders ahead for work to keep them busy for some time. The reputation they have for doing a good class of work assists them in keeping their hands full and in giving the workmen employed by them plenty to do. Among the orders for local work that they are engaged upon is the retrimming of Mr. Harry Drake's hack, which will be turned out with a new top, re-painted and thoroughly overhauled, in fact almost a new hack. They have set this season twenty-seven sets of tires, on light and heavy work, and they keep in stock a large assortment of good, thoroughly seasoned material, and are thus always ready to fill orders with despatch and in first class style.

But not only are they doing local work, for their trade extends to the Prairie Province, and they are now building waggons for shipment to Manitoba. For persons who are going or have gone west from this locality they are filling the following orders:—Two waggons for Mr. Samuel Roseborough, Smith; one for Mr. Geo. Hilliard, jr.; one for Mr. F. Dumble; one for Mr. Samuel H. Jackson, one for Mr. Wm. J. Jackson, one for Mr. Hawthorne, Dummer; one for Mr. John Bailey, Omemee; and one for Mr. John Walton, for Dakota. These are all heavy waggons, with racks, shelving and extra wide tires, and are manufactured and finished in first-class style.

A large trade is springing up between Ontario and Manitoba since the adoption of the protection tariff, and we are pleased to see that Peterborough is also sharing the benefits of that trade. One of the firm, in conservation with a reporter this morning, stated that but for the duties on imported articles the United States manufacturers would sweep the trade of Manitoba, but the National Policy gives the manufacturers of Ontario an opportunity of competing with them and of establishing a trade with that Province. This evidence in favor of the fiscal policy of the present Government, coming as it does from gentlemen politically opposed to the Administration, should have weight, and the fact of manufacturers in Peterborough filling orders for Manitoba is a plain evidence of the benefit of the National Policy.

An Inhuman Wretch.

SARNIA, March 29.—Thomas R. Strange, of Petrolea, was arraigned at Sarnia before Judge Robinson on the charge of cruelly ill-treating George Underhill, a seven-year-old lad, whom he had taken from Guthrie Home, near London. The inhuman manner in which the prisoner treated the poor orphan was brought to the notice of Mr. Gibbons, the Manager of the home, and he took action. It was clearly proven that the cruel wretch had suspended the poor child by the thumbs, beaten him terribly, and kept him short of food and clothing. The prisoner was found guilty, and sentenced to three years in the Provincial Penitentiary at Kingston.

FORCED TO EMIGRATE.

DUBLIN, March 31.—One hundred and fifty persons left the Island of Achill on the west cost of Ireland, for America. They were driven from homes by famine.

DYNAMITE EXPLOSION.

PARIS, March 31.—On Thursday a cartridge of dynamite was exploded near the Montceau les Mines at the doorway of a miner's house. No serious damage was done, but there is much excitement and speculation.

NEWSPAPER SUSPENDED.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 31.—A newspaper has been suspended for six months in consequence of the publication of articles regarded as seditious.

BROUGHT INTO COURT.

LIVERPOOL, March 31.—Dennis Delaney and Patrick Flannigan, both arrested on Thursday, were arraigned this morning on a charge of having explosives in their possession with felonious intent.

A MANIFESTO IN PARIS.

PARIS, March 31.—Hippolyte Oliver has issued a manifesto, demanding the overthrow of the Republic and the establishment of a Regency under the Duke D'Aumale, until the death of the Count de Chambord, head of the elder Bourbon line, his demise to be followed by the accession of the Count de Paris as King.

FORTY SAILORS DROWNED.

YARMOUTH, England, March 31.—During the recent gale six fishing smacks were sunk and forty sailors perished.

NIHILISTS ARRESTED.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 31.—The police while attempting to capture a band of Nihilists at an obscure residence here, met with stubborn resistence. Three officers were wounded and one Nihilist suicided. Eight remaining conspirators were arrested. It is supposed that only a section of the party was secured. Among the implements of destruction found were 144 pounds of dynamite.

AMERICAN.

SUDDEN DEATH.

WEST HAMPTON, L.I., March 31.—On Thursday evening Mrs. Albert Forddam spoke at a prayer meeting in her house. She fell in an apoplectic fit and soon died.

SUICIDED WHILE INSANE.

MINEOLA, L.I., March 31.—The woman who suicided by throwing herself before a train yesterday, was Sarah Ellis, and her mother was taking her to an insane asylum.

A FAILURE.

PHILADELPHIA, March 31.—Chas. Lander, Berger & Co., dealers in cotton goods, were closed by the Sheriff. Their liabilities amount to $114,000. It is thought that the judgments and secured claims will absorb all the assets.

THE PLOTS.

NEW YORK, March 31.—O'Donoghue says that he knows nothing of the alleged plot to blow up the public buildings in Liverpool. He says that the Queen is going to die presently and then they will blow up something.

SUIT FOR FALSE ARREST.

HARTFORD, Conn., March 31.—Deacon Davey, of Granby, sues the Chief of Police here and two policemen for five thousand dollars damages for false imprisonment. Davey fell from a waggon and was stunned and was put in gaol on a charge of drunkenness.

FIGHTING WITH INDIANS.

SEPAR, New Mexico, March 31.—Three men were killed between Separ and Animas valley yesterday. The Indians came within a mile of Separ. Captain Black's rangers are following their trail, and a fight is expected. The Indians are doubtless making for old Mexico.

TOO REALISTIC.

AUBURN, March 31.—On Thursday evening, during a play here, Mrs. R. N. Hudson was excited by the acting. She rose and denounced one of the performers as an evil man. She was removed from the theatre screaming and shouting and has become violently insane. She will be placed in Canadaigua asylum. She was an inmate of that institution years ago.

BASE BALL PLAYER DEAD.

ST. LOUIS, March 31.—Charles Fowell, a well-known patron of base ball, who, with William Herbert, organized the National League, died here yesterday.

G. T. R. DEPOT BURNED.

SWARTZ CREEK, Mich., March 31—Last night the Grand Trunk Railway depot, a large elevator and a number of cars were burned.

A BANKER ABSCONDED.

CLIFTON SPRINGS, March 31.—Gillis, an absconding banker, was proprietor of the Clifton Springs Press. He lately made expensive changes in the printing office. It was backed by ample capital. A year ago he forged the name of a prominent resident, but nothing was done, as it was thought that he was suffering from temporary financial embarrassments. Yesterday his stock was attached by several victims. It is believed that he went to Canada. He took the entire deposits of the bank, amounting to fifteen hundred dollars.

GOING TO FLORIDA.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The President will leave on Monday or Tuesday for Florida, where he will remain about ten days. He will make as few stops on the journey as possible.

ICE ON THE HUDSON.

ALBANY, N.Y., March 31.—Ice to the thickness of an inch formed last night on the river, and this morning the stream was motionless. The tug Niagara, with thirty boats, from New York, will arrive here about midnight.

THE MALAGASSY ENVOYS.

NEW YORK, March 31.—The Malagassy envoys sailed to-day for England.

THE GENEVA AWARD.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—It is stated that the reason the insurance companies have just filed claims in the Court of Claims for a share of the Geneva award is that the statute of limitation will run against them after to-day It seems to be expected that the Court of Claims will declare that it has no jurisdiction, where upon the companies will appeal to the Supreme Court.

BRUTAL PRIZE FIGHT.

PHILADELPHIA, March 31.—There was a prize fight near here last night between Jim Chambers and William Gore, for two hundred and fifty dollars a side. Four rounds were fought, and Gore won. Chambers' jaw was broken.

NITRO-GLYCERINE.

LIVERPOOL, March 30.—An analysis of the chemicals and explosives seized here yesterday develops the fact that they are composed of nitro-glycerine, mixed with sawdust, chlorine, potash and vitriol. It was almost a miracle the composition did not explode during the transmission through the streets.

CREW DROWNED.

LONDON, March 30.—A bark went ashore at Holyhead. The crew of 23 persons were drowned.

IN COURT.

CORK, March 30.—Featherstone, O'Herlehy, and Carmody were arraigned this morning for being members of a secret society having its headquarters at Cork. The authorities claim the object of the society is to commit murders whenever it is believed such a course will advance the interests of the organization, and blow up buildings in the principal cities of the British Isles. Bail was refused. Counsel for the prosecution intimated that a number of witnesses were ready to testify in support of the charges. There is evidence that Featherstone has been living in Cork since last June without apparent business or visible means of support. The prisoner O'Herlehy had a letter purporting to come from Mr. O'Brien, M.P. and the editor of United Ireland.

AMERICAN.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCK.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—There was a slight earthquake here this morning. Farther south the shock was heavy. At Watsonville nine shocks were felt, breaking crockery, plastering, etc. At Hollister plate glass windows were smashed and brick buildings cracked. The shock created a temporary panic. The streets were filled with the inhabitants, many in undress.

NORWOOD.

CHEESE FACTORY, PURCHASED.—The Register says that Mr. T. A. Pearsall, of this place, has purchased the Trent Bridge Cheese Factory. As Mr. P. is one of the best cheese-makers in this part of the Province, the farmers thereabouts may expect good work.

PROBABLY FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Monday as Mr. Jas. Pacey, of Belmont, and his eldest son, were engaged in drawing ties, the latter fell from the load, and the sleigh, passing over his leg above the knee, almost severed it. The young fellow was immediately placed under medical treatment, but at time of writing, is scarcely expected to survive.

HOTEL IMPROVEMENTS.—The proprietor of the McGregor house has had several changes made on the ground floor of his hotel which will add materially to the comfort of guests. The improvements being made in connection with the Norwood house are about completed. Norwood may boast of having as good hotels as any place of its size in Ontario.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Charles Hendren, a young son of Mr. Geo. Hendren, of this place, while sleigh-riding at school on Monday, was thrown off the sleigh and rendered insensible. On recovering he went home, but said nothing about the matter to his parents until Tuesday morning when he complained of a pain in his breast. A doctor was immediately sent for, who, after examining the boy, said he would be all right in a few days. On Wednesday the young fellow again complained of the pain in his breast, and remained home from school, but was not confined to his room. Thursday he suddenly grew worse, and before medical aid could be procured he was no more. Death was caused by severe internal injuries.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

is very valuable for professional men. It supplies the phosphates which are always lost by severe mental labor.

The best known remedy for all affections of the Chest, Lungs or Throat is Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum. It is constantly used by thousands of persons suffering from the above diseases, and in nearly every instance it affords immediate relief. In cases of troublesome, tickling Cough, where the patient passes sleepless nights, one or two doses of the Syrup has such a quieting, soothing effect that rest ensues and the Cough speedily disappears. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

"Blood will tell." A face adorned with Pimples, Boils, Blotches &c., is not particularly pleasant sight, and invariably betokens an impure state of the Blood. Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters free the system from all gross humours, renders the Blood Pure and Cool, aids digestion and gives a healthy appetite. For sale by all Druggists in large Bottles at 50 cents.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain and cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. SATURDAY, MARCH 31, 1883.

THE TRENT VALLEY ROUTE.

WHILE the estimates submitted to Parliament contradict the oft repeated statement of the opponents of the Dominion Government, that the works at Burleigh, Buckhorn and Fenelon Falls, were only undertaken for electioneering purposes and were certain to be abandoned as soon as the elections were over, yet we must confess to a certain degree of disappointment that they do not make provision for placing another section of this important work under contract. We do not expect the Trent Valley route to be opened up in a day, or in a year, but we do think the interests of the whole country require that substantial progress should be made by commencing a new section each year until the whole work is under contract. Whatever hesitation or doubts there might have been about the ability of the water ways to not only compete with, but to largely control the rates of freight charged by the railways, that hesitation and doubt should now be dissipated by the statements which have just been made before the Railway Committee by the opponents of Mr. McCarthy's railway bill. What the country wants and will sooner or later insist upon having is a Railway Commission to compel our railway corporations to deal justly, as between man and man, and between place and place, and the development of independent water ways to compel the railways to carry goods at reasonable rates. This latter we do not believe any Railway Commission can ever accomplish. Whether a railway should charge 30 or 20 cents per barrel for carrying flour from, say Peterborough to Montreal, is a thing which must be left to the railways themselves and the competition to which they are subjected to decide. All a Railway Commission can do, or ought to attempt to do, is to say that if the Midland and Grand Trunk charge 50 cents for flour from Peterborough to Montreal, they shall not charge more from Millbrook and less from Lakefield to the same point; in fact, that the rates charged shall be proportionate to the work performed, and that the charges shall always be the same under the same circumstances, no matter who the individual shipper may be.

Although the estimates already submitted do not authorize the calling for tenders and the letting of a new contract on the T. V. C., yet we trust that the supplementary estimates, still to be brought down, will make the necessary provisions therefor.

The ball must be kept rolling, and we look to our representatives, and those who have done so much in the past to place this work in its present advantageous position, to keep it rolling until the work is completed from Trenton to the Georgian Bay.

"ARCADES AMBO."

As the Globe does not, because it cannot, show any authority for its falsehood that Mr. Mousseau exacted from Sir John Macdonald a pledge that he would repudiate the Boundary Award, the Cobourg World rushes to the assistance of its big brother. But however great may be its chivalry in thus standing by a comrade in a difficulty, the World shows a great want of morality and common fairness by the manner of its defense, which is by the use of a mean quibble and of a deliberate falsehood.

As to its first offense, in order to show that Sir John was not at first averse to the award, it says :—

> "Indeed his first map of the district, after coming into power in 1878 in the Department of the Interior, gave the disputed territory as a part of the Province of Ontario,—thus giving effect to the award."

We have this map before us and find that it is dated "1st Nov., 1878," that is a few days after he entered upon his office. It does not bear the name of Sir John Macdonald, but is stated to be "Published by order of the Hon. the Minister of the Interior," so that "his first map," as the World calls it, was in reality that of his predecessor, the Hon. Mr. David Mills, under whose instructions it was drawn and prepared for publication, for such a work is not accomplished in a day. The only criticism that can be pronounced on Sir John in the matter is that he did not have such utter want of faith in his official predecessor as to forbid anything going out of the office till he had personally inspected and examined it, although already officially passed, and this while his Cabinet was barely formed and he was occupied with the arduous duties of an incoming premier. But there is a name to the map, for it is signed by "J. S. Dennis, Surveyor General," that is by the very gentleman who, according to Sir Francis Hincks, chose the North-western boundary for the arbitration, because the Albany River [illegible] natural boundary, though the arbitrators [illegible] would have been justified in extending the boundaries of Ontario very considerably (Sir F. Hinck's pamphlet, page 31.)

So much for this mean attempt of the World to convey an untruthful impression concerning Sir John Macdonald.

The second piece of roguery in which this very worthy organ indulges is even more despicable and dishonest. In order to show that Mr. Mousseau forced Sir John to repudiate the award the World pretends to quote from a speech by him, as reported in the Montreal Gazette. This it gives as follows :—

> "I laid down the condition on which we would be members of the Government at Ottawa. I said that if the Province of Ontario is to acquire an additional territory of [illegible] acres more than she was given under the British North America Act, Quebec would have the right to demand an equivalent."

And the World most shamelessly asks us, "Did Mousseau say this?" We answer most distinctly that he no more said it than the World's bible commands it: "Thou shalt bear false witness against thy neighbor," though that is evidently how our contemporary interprets the Decalogue. Just as it leaves out the "not" in the ninth commandment, it has left out an essential portion of the first sentence it pretends to quote. It dishonestly omits the former part of the mutilated sentence, because the words thus suppressed completely contradict the deliberately false construction which it seeks to place upon the remainder of the clause. The omitted words would show that it was not to Sir John Macdonald that Mr. Mousseau laid down conditions, as our unscrupulous contemporary asserts. When the World quotes Mr. Mousseau's words honestly, instead of basely garbling them to make them appear to convey the very opposite of what he really did say, it will be time enough to consider their meaning.

It will suffice to remark at present that Mr. Mousseau's view, whoever he expressed it to, is perfectly harmless, unless its meaning is wilfully perverted. We quite agree with him that Ontario should not get one single additional acre more than she was given under the British North American Act, but neither should she get one single acre less, as would apparently be the case, should the award be ratified. One reason why we wish to have an authoritative and valid settlement by a competent court, is that then every one, including Mr. Mousseau and his friends, would cheerfully submit to it, as they will not do to a personal arrangement made between an Ontario premier of Canada and a premier of Ontario, with no more authority for taking such action than the Mayors of Cobourg and Port Hope would have for settling some dispute between their corporations, for the settlement of which by-laws passed by their respective councils might be necessary according to law.

As to the abuse showered upon us by the World, it is of very little consequence, coming from such a source. As for convicting us without trouble of adopting its own disgraceful system of journalism, the World may boast of that when it is able to prove that we have wilfully misstated any single fact or misrepresented any person—mere vague abuse of us will not prove this.

We may mention that amidst all this vilification and falsehood the World is candid and accurate in one sentence, that in which it frankly admits the fact of a writer on its side pursuing the tactics of abusing and accusing Sir John Macdonald and his "Bleus in Quebec" wrongfully in the most shameless manner. No doubt this admission was a slip of the pen, but it certainly most accurately describes the course of the World and of its interesting client the Globe. It would be hard to decide whether culprit or advocate is entitled to the prize for mendacity and dishonesty.

The Princess Louise Ironing.

On the day before the reception tendered her at St. George's Bermuda, the Princess Louise went on a sketching expedition along the shore, all alone, and, after a time becoming thirsty, went for a drink to the cottage of a negro fisherman. No one was there but "auntie," and she was as busy as could be ironing a shirt for her "ole man" to wear at the reception. The Princess asked for a drink. "I'se no time to bodder getting water fo' you," was the reply "Ise fea'ful busy, for I'se bound to see the Queen's child to-morrow." "But if you'll get me a drink I'll iron while you do so," said the thirsty Princess. The offer was accepted, the Princess finished the shirt and got her drink, and then revealed her identity. "Fo' de Lo'd. honey!" exclaimed "auntie," when she recovered from her surprise, "ole man no' no one else'll ever wear dat shirt again, no how!"

Still Missing.

The mysterious disappearance of Mr. William Butler, a post office clerk on the Midland Railway, is still unexplained. Of late he has acted very strangely, and on more than one occasion has hinted to his family that he was tired of life. He left home as usual about six o'clock on Tuesday morning, and after visiting his train, was seen by a conductor walking rapidly west along the Esplanade. Esplanade Constable Williams made a search on Thursday through some of the openings in the ice at Dressett's hotel, the water works pump-house, and at the foot of Brock street, as it was thought the unfortunate man might have made away with himself in a fit of temporary insanity. Up to a late hour last night no new light had been thrown on the strange disappearance.—Mail.

Oil at Petrolia.

Great activity is observed in the Petrolia oil district. Major Savage struck oil in Thom's well at a depth of 310 feet from the top; the well has pumped since Thursday, when the well was put in, at the rate of 100 barrels a day and was as good as ever up to Saturday night. The well stands about 600 feet from the town [illegible]

Ireland's Testimonial to Lord Wolseley.

The Irish testimonial to Sir Garnet Wolseley consists of a centrepiece and adjuncts of antique Irish plate, the former being a reproduction of the famous Ardagh Cup, which will be enlarged to double the original size, standing on a plinth of ebony in the centre of the group. On the three sides of the plinth will be embossed silver representations of incidents in the career of this distinguished soldier. The fourth side will contain an inscription from the donors. There are also reproductions of two handsome loving cups of ancient type and a quaint old silver bowl, the originals of which are in Trinity college, Dublin. To these are added eight Irish dish rings, which are curious as they are rare. These rings were used instead of the wooden potato bowls, which in old times were placed on a corner of the table. They consist of a large circular open filigree work with various designs, such as men, animals and cottages. Those to be given Sir Garnet average about four inches in height and six in diameter.

ATTEND TO HOME AND FARM.

A farmer surely is not doomed to drudge through life a slave,
Your calling's not to grub and toil from youth down to the grave.
Although the storm hangs o'er your soil with deepest, darkest gloom,
And thousand thistles grow thereon, slavery is not your doom;
Affluence and ease is not your lot, you have work to perform,
Then do not rest on sluggish oars in the approaching storm;
Cast in your seed in proper time that it may early grow,
Improve each season as it comes and don't neglect your farm.

Pleasure and rest are truly sweet to body and to mind,
But do not seek pleasant joys and leave your work behind;
Excursion parties, picnic mirth, may you alone away,
When you should be at home at work making or pitching hay.
Don't lie beneath some sheltering shade, and careless, lurking round,
While your ripe grain is shelling out and scattering o'er the ground;
Spring up and brave the August sun and wield a willing arm;
Don't entertain one sluggish thought, attend to crops and farm.

When harvest toil and busy is o'er, and all your fields are bare,
Then rest your weary, aching frame, if you have time to spare,
Though you have plenty work to do, 'tis not to [illegible]
To these and [illegible] still attend, and don't neglect the plow.
When Autumn frosts seal up the soil and yellow leaves drop down,
For pleasure or on business you may take a drive to town,
But don't make that your daily rule, though there be much to charm;
While standing on street corners you neglect both stock and farm.

Let not light company keep you there, since such alluring fare;
If you wish pleasure's sunshine bless your home, stay in the place.
Don't spend the Winter nights in town at billiards, chess or cards,
While your poor cattle shivering stand out in your cold farmyards;
In loitering on the crowded streets no profit you can share,
Your stock neglected stands at home depending on your care;
[illegible]
To gain the name of [illegible] by hunger on your farm.

Don't keep a fancy driving horse unless you have the means;
It soon will drag you down to ruin, if pride applies the reins.
Style is the farmer's direst foe, it has dimmed brighter hopes
Than cruel misfortune's darkest clouds or failure of his crops.
Bid proud ambition stand aside, care not for outward show,
Attend your farm, keep out of debt, though plainly dressed you go;
Make home attractive to enjoy, your house both neat and warm,
But do not drive one nail in pride, nor clinch it on the farm.

Be cautious, use both hands and head, nor careless step astray;
Don't gather with one hand and let the other cast away;
Economize, industrious be, and rightly till the soil,
And guard against all hungry sharks that mark you for their spoil.
You must do more than plough and sow, or yearly mow and reap,
Keep your eye open how you stand within your means to keep;
Or you perhaps will hear a voice that strikes you with alarm,
As loud he calls, how much, how much for this neglected farm.

WILLIAM TELFORD.

Smith, March 12th, 1883.

FAULT FINDING.

If any one complains that most people are selfish, unsympathetic, absorbed in their own pursuits, their own happiness and their own sorrow, the chances are ten to one that the complainant is conspicuous for the very faults which he condemns. His thoughts are so concentrated on his own concerns that he is impatient because other people think of their concerns and not his. He is unable to enter into their grief or their joy; when he is wretched he is amazed and indignant that any one can be happy; when he is happy he thinks it intolerable that other people should be so oppressed with their own sorrows as not to make merry with him in his gladness. He has so high an estimation of the importance of his own work that he thinks other men ought to spend a large part of their time in watching and admiring it, and he wonders at the selfishness which keeps them close at their own occupations when they ought to be showing their sympathy with his. This absorption in everything that relates to himself is the explanation of the universal indifference of which he complains. To secure sympathy we must give as well as take. The country that exports nothing will have no imports; but if it infers that all the rest of the world is in wretched poverty, with no mines and no timber, and no glorious harvests, the inference will be a false one. As soon as a man finds that he is beginning to think all human hearts are cold let him suspect himself. When an iceberg floats away from the frozen fields which lie near the pole it cools the water into which it drifts; the very Gulf Stream sinks in temperature as soon as the mountain of ice touches it. In a crowd it is the man who pushes hardest who thinks that everybody is pushing him: it is the man who is resolved to make his way to the front who complains that everybody wants to get in front of him. If people speak to you roughly take warning; the probability is that you speak roughly to them.—Good Words.

It is reported in Montreal that a permanent military school is about to be established in Montreal by the Government.

CATARRH is the seed of Consumption, and unless taken in time is a very dangerous disease. Hall's Catarrh Cure never fails to cure. Price 75 cents. For sale by John McKee, druggist.

HEADACHE, Biliousness, Dyspepsia and Constipation promptly relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. As a family medicine they are far superior to Pills. In large Bottles 50 cents.

THE following is a statement of the lottery prosecutions in Toronto, and their results. There have been 50 real issues tried, 19 convictions have been made, 11 dismissals, and the remaining 20 are yet to be decided on.

ONE of our merchants would say to the public that he has tried Hall's Catarrh Cure, and that it is all that is claimed for it. Price 75 cents per bottle. For sale by John McKee, druggist.

MRS. JACOBS, attending a store in Chicago during her husband's absence, was on Wednesday night attacked by robbers. Her head was almost beaten to a jelly with brass knuckles. She died yesterday morning.

Mrs. Campbell, 344 Walton Avenue, Toronto, says:—"I had suffered much for a long time by derangements of Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Two months' using of Fountain of Health has almost completely restored me."

THE Toronto Police Magistrate deserves a medal. He has fined a "masher" $20 for jostling ladies in the street. A little of the same medicine might possibly abate the same disease here, where it prevails unchecked.—Hamilton Spectator.

Catarrh cannot be cured by any local remedy. It is a deep-seated and constitutional wrong-being, the tendency of which is to lay the whole respiratory economy in ruins. The Fountain of Health will reach the seat of this malady.

Those who "hack" to clear the throat every morning have Catarrh. The Fountain of Health is formulated to reach the seat of this disease, which cannot be cured by snuff or any other local remedy. We will help you or refund the money.

The Fountain of Health cures Catarrh, Rheumatism, Scrofula, and all humours, such as Blotches, Pimples, Old Sores, Ulcers and all [illegible] diseases of the Skin and Head; this it does by its power to cleanse the blood.

It is a curious comment upon New York society that the invited guests to Vanderbilt's ball, who were presumably the creme de la creme of Gotham, inspected the marvellous evidences of wealth under the keen eyes of six disguised detectives.

MACK'S MAGNETIC MEDICINE is an unfailing food for the Brain and Nerves, and by its rejuvenating effect on those organs never fails to cure nervous exhaustion and all weaknesses of the generative organs. See advertisement in another column. Guarantee issued only by Ormond & Walsh, Peterborough.

A REPORT has been presented to the Sultan charging several members of the Cabinet and other high Government officials with having entered into an arrangement to receive bribes in connection with the collection of the tobacco tax. In consequence of this the Ministers implicated tendered their resignations, which the Sultan refused to accept.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz. a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all ports of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or are open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. [illegible] rapid increase in the value of lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

The Great American Remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LOSS OF VOICE, HOARSENESS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS.

Prepared from the finest Red Spruce Gum. (Delicious Flavor.) Balsamic, Soothing, Expectorant and Tonic. Superior to any medicine offered for all the above complaints. A scientific combination of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce tree—without doubt the most valuable native Gum for Medicinal purposes.

Every one has heard of the wonderful effects of the Spruces and the Pines in cases of Lung Disease. In France the physicians regularly send their consumptive patients to the pine woods and order them to drink a tea made from the Spruce tops.

GRAY'S
SPRUCE
GUM.

In this preparation the Gum never separates, and all its anti-spasmodic, expectorant, tonic, and balsamic properties are preserved. This Syrup, carefully prepared at a low temperature, contains a large quantity of the finest picked Gum in complete solution.

Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large.

Sold by all respectable chemists. Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

The words "Syrup of Red Spruce Gum" constitute our Registered Trade Mark, and our wrapper and labels are also registered.

Daily Evening Review

SATURDAY, MARCH 31, 1883.

Manitoba Property.

The sale of Manitoba property at the Oriental House will be resumed at 7 p.m. this evening. An excellent opportunity now offers to parties wishing to invest in Manitoba Town property.

Lacrosse.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club will be held at St. James' Hotel on Monday evening next (2nd April) at 7.30 o'clock. All interested in lacrosse, whether members of the club or not, are requested to attend.

The Cells.

For the first time in some days the police cells were entirely empty last night. No tramps applied for lodgings, and no arrests were made. There was a blank at the police court this morning.

It Didn't Come.

Mr. H. G. Venner predicted for yesterday or to-day the heaviest snow storm of the season. It has not arrived yet. In fact this is one of the finest days we have had for some time. March came in like a lamb, became lion-like, and is now going out like a lamb.

Entertainment.

An "open lodge" was held in the hall of Caswell Lodge I. O. G. T. on Friday night. There was a large attendance of members of the Order and others, and an interesting programme of music and readings was furnished to entertain them.

Presbyterian Missions.

The Home Mission Committee of the Presbyterian Church, which concluded its labors in Toronto on Thursday, made the following appointments for this district for 1883:—Messrs. R. B. Smith, W. Farquharson, D. C. Cameron and Hugh Ross.

Beats the Channel Tunnel.

The small stores in Lindsay do not afford the merchants of that town space in which to keep their goods, so they pile them on boxes in the street. It is now proposed that the council be petitioned to place a suitable number of gas lights in the main sewer, so that the tunnel can be used as a means of rapid transit. That suggestion comes from the Post.

The Weather Probabilities.

The weather this morning was cool, but became warm towards the middle of the day. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Moderate to fresh northeasterly to northwesterly winds; fair to cloudy weather, with rain or snow at night in some localities; not much change in temperature.

Turnbull's Black Cashmeres are hard to beat in either Quality, Color or Weight. Southern.

All Fool's Day.

The first of April [illegible] falls on Sunday (to-morrow), so we suppose the [illegible] usually practised on [illegible] be deferred this year.

Personal.

We are pleased to be able to say that the rumors of the serious illness of Mr. C. D. Macdonald were greatly exaggerated. Mr. Macdonald was seized with dizziness this morning, but Dr. Kincaid, who attended him, says that no serious results are apprehended, and that he will soon be out again.

Midland Railway Workshops.

The Ottawa Free Press of Friday, March 30th, contains the following paragraph:—

"It has been ascertained for a certainty that the Midland Railway Company are negotiating for fifteen acres of land on the west side of Bank street as a site for workshops. The company have through their agent approached a large land owner of this city and made an offer, which has not yet, however, been accepted."

Ribbons, Ribbons! Ribbons, Ribbons! Ribbons, wide, in any color you wish, at Turnbull's.

Half a Century Old.

An old land mark has been removed from George street, below Charlotte street. It was a house which was built in the year 1833, fifty years ago, by Mr Wm. Lundy. The timber the house was got close to the town, and parts of the timber, which is large and heavy, is yet in a good state of preservation and could be again used. Squire Heathorn was the contractor who erected the building, and at that time it was the "large house" of the town. Mr. J. J. Lundy will not rebuild on the lot until it is ascertained what changes the Ontario and Quebec railway will make in that part of the town, as it may be a good place for a business house.

American Canoe Association.

Mr. E. B. Edwards, Commodore of the American Canoe Association, accompanied by Mr. Tyson, a member of the Regatta Committee, paid a visit to Stoney Lake on Friday for the purpose of laying out courses for the meeting of the Association which is to take place there in the autumn. This could be done to greater advantage on the ice, and they were successful in laying out excellent courses, two for the mile paddling races, one of them under the shelter of the islands, in case of rough weather, and a good sailing course, having small islands to mark the turning points. We have every reason to expect a very successful meeting of the Association, as many devotees of the paddle from various parts of Canada and the United States have promised to attend. We may hint that the people of Peterborough in general may well think it to their interest to do their share in welcoming their visitors.

Heavy Check or Striped Shirtings in any color you please, dark or light, at Turnbull's.

Presentation.

On Friday evening the members of Caswell Lodge I. O. G. T. presented Miss Mary Garlick, a member of the Lodge, who is about to remove from Peterborough, with a handsome piece of silverware accompanied by the following address:—

"To Miss Mary Garlick.

"DEAR SISTER,—The officers and members of Caswell Lodge I. O. G. T. regret to learn of your early departure from Peterborough, which will deprive us of your presence at our meetings, when your valuable assistance has aided so much in maintaining the Lodge and promoting the temperance cause. We assure you that we will ever cherish the memory of the evenings spent together, and we would ask you to accept this present as a souvenir of our respect. We trust that you will always remain a faithful worker in the cause of temperance.

"Signed on behalf of the members.

G. J. Early,	Mary Wallace,
John Holmes,	Mary A. Russell,
Wm. Crowe,	John Matherson, W.C.T."

Miss Garlick, who was taken by surprise, replied in appropriate terms, thanking the members for their kindness and expressing the hope of meeting with them again soon.

NORTH MONAGHAN.

From Our Own Correspondent.

NOT GOING WEST.—It will, no doubt, be a great pleasure for all his friends to hear that Mr. Wm. Storey, one of our old and widely known residents, has given up the notion of going to the North-West for the present. He is a young man of large sympathies and a particular favourite with the ladies. Such being the case, it is easy to understand how difficult it would have been for him to have resisted the entreaties of the many fair ones who are known to have used their every effort to prevent him from taking such a long and dangerous journey. We do not blame him in the least, for it is an indisputable fact that many of the greatest men, both of the present and past, have found it useless to resist the prayers and persuasions of the opposite sex. But seeing that our friend has given up the idea of going away, we hope to see him making preparations to settle down and taking unto himself an help-meet. Then his troubles would be brought to the minimum. If we are not much mistaken we shall Mr. Storey, at no distant day, taking a leading part in municipal matters, and perhaps occupying the highest position his township can bestow.

Turnbull's Millinery Show Room will be opened on Wednesday and Thursday, 4th and 5th April.

Answer This Question.

Why do so many people we see around us seem to prefer to suffer and be made miserable by Indigestion, Consumption, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Coming up of the Food, Yellow Skin, when for 75 cts., we will sell them Shiloh's Vitalizer, guaranteed to cure them. For sale by D. J. Tully

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold, a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup, and Bronchitis, while it's wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since it's first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a Cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10 cts., 50 cts. and $1.00. For sale by J. D. Tully.

The Lost Charlie Ross.

An intimate friend of the family of Charlie Ross in Germantown, Philadelphia, says that the father of the long lost boy has nearly, if not quite, given up hope of finding his child, and that the mother despaired long ago of his ever being returned to her. He speaks of the interesting collection of photographs—over one hundred—which the family has, these having been sent them from every quarter by people who thought they had found or seen the missing child. From very many sections reports and clues are coming even to this day, although nearly ten years have elapsed since the boy was abducted.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widely increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete elimination of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.

DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.) THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pill for every constitution.

In Boxes at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., and 4s. 6d.

Sold by Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world. Prepared by Jas. Rorke, London. Specially valuable Pills for residents abroad and travellers.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC renews and develops the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendencies, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

Daily Evening Review

MONDAY, APRIL 2, 1883.

Photographic.

Mr. Jas. McClelland's studio on Simcoe street will be closed until Saturday next, April 7th.

To be Tried on Thursday.

Alex. Fraser, who tried to burn the police cells while he was in them, was brought before the County Judge to-day and elected to be tried by him. His trial was fixed for Thursday.

A Rapid Change.

The thermometer last night marked 1° below zero, according to the Rev. V. Clementi's self-registering instrument. At ten o'clock this morning the temperature was 31° above zero.

Police News.

According to the record kept by the police, ninety-one tramps were given shelter in the police cells during the three months of January, February and March.

One tramp occupied the cells on Saturday night, and two on Sunday night. No prisoners were arrested.

Attempted Shooting.

Mrs. Margaret Newell, of Norwood, will be tried before the County Judge on Thursday for attempting to shoot her husband. She was committed to gaol on Saturday, and it is alleged that she and her husband had a quarrel, that he threatened to break the house down, but that before he proceeded far his wife fired at him with a revolver and would have done so again had she not been prevented.

Railway Notes.

The Trenton Courier says that the Central Ontario Railway Company are anxiously waiting the return of navigation to commence the dredging of their docks and the building of the same. The stations along the line are to be commodious and built of brick, for which tenders are asked by advertisement. Work on the road that can be done is being pushed forward. Gates for fences have been made during the winter in Trenton, and everthing done for a big push as soon as the frost will allow the resumption of track laying. The rails now are laid on twenty miles of the road as far as the 8th concession of Rawdon, and the shipment of ore is expected to commence in the summer.

Removal.

The Messrs. Mills Bros., hatters and furriers, have been compelled, on account of their increasing business, to find larger premises, and they have removed into the store formerly occupied by Mr. Hyman. The store has been fitted up for their reception, new plate glass having been put in the door and in the side of the window. A glass arch has been put in at the rear of the store, and a room has been fitted up behind it for a show room for fur mantles. Two large mirrors will be placed one on each side of the store at the rear, so that customers can view themselves from all sides when fitting on purchases. The premises have been thoroughly renovated and painted, and it now contains a fine stock of English, Canadian and American goods, of the newest styles. A new style of hat which they have in stock, of square crown, is very nobby and of good quality.

Ontario Veterinary College.

The high repute in which the Ontario Veterinary college stands is evidenced by the fact that twenty-two, or about one half of all the students who graduated yesterday, come from all parts of the United States. The college has long since gained a continental reputation and it apparently means to mantain it.—Toronto World.

A Resentful Waiter.

A smart travelling man from Chicago tried to paralyze a dining-room girl at a leading hotel here, during the snow blockade. At dinner one day he ordered "sponge soup," and "quail on fence." She went to the kitchen and got a quail and built a fence on the plate, out of kindling wood. Then she got a piece of sponge from the bath-room and put it in the soup, and served his order in the presence of several other travelling men, who gave him the grand laugh. The wise land-lord charged him a dollar extra for serving articles not on the bill of fare, and it cost him six dollars for cigars and drinks, to keep the matter quiet.—Walkerton Telescope.

THIS DAY'S TELEGRAMS.

From Despatches to the Review.

CABLE.

BOILER EXPLOSION.

PARIS, April 2.—In a boiler explosion at St. Denis, thirty-one persons were killed and sixty-five injured, many fatally.

ATROCIOUS, IF TRUE.

LONDON, April 2.—An anonymous letter sent to an editor asserts that the Fenians are sending packages containing linen infected by small pox to persons obnoxious to the Irish national party.

STREAM OF THREATS.

LONDON, April 2.—On account of the steady stream of letters containing threats of death and destruction received by prominent persons and government functionaries, additional schemes are being devised against the execution of the threats, particularly in London. The gas works are carefully guarded against surprises. Only known and trusted hands are allowed on the premises.

LAND LEAGUE IN AUSTRALIA.

LONDON, April 2.—Mr. Parnell has received a letter from William Redmond, who went to Australia to organize a Land League. Mr. Redmond reports that he has been successful beyond all expectations, and that the prospects are brighter for Ireland on account of his visit.

ENGLISH SOCIETY IN INDIA.

CALCUTTA, April 2.—An European and Anglo-Indian defence society has been formed here for the purpose of watching the interests of Europeans and Americans in India. The immediate efforts of the society will be devoted to the preservation of the right of Europeans and British subjects to be tried by their own countrymen, and to defeat the bill permitting the trial of whites by native judges in certain cases.

AMERICAN.

A MODERN BRUTUS.

HAWLEY, PA., April 2.—John Bowles, a lad aged sixteen, belonging to a respectable family at Beaver Hollow, assaulted the six year old daughter of another family. The neighbors organized a court and sentenced the culprit to be publicly whipped. John's father volunteered to carry out the sentence. He tied his son to a post in the barn and lashed his bare back with a beech switch until the neighbours committee declared the chastisement sufficient.

A RECKLESS CRIME.

HAMPTON, Va., April 2.—Last night P. Joyce, a clerk at the National Soldiers' Home, invited Thomas Philips, an inoffensive citizen, to take a drink with him in an hotel. Joyce refused to drink, but accepted a cigar. While standing at the bar, Joyce deliberately and without provocation shot and killed Philips. He placed his hand in the latter's pocket and fled. He was arrested. An attempt at lynching is feared. There will be an extra guard at the jail to-night.

AN INDIAN AGENT AGAIN.

CHAMBERLIAN, Dak., April 2.—All the fourteen chiefs of the lower Brule agency and 224 head men of the tribes have petitioned the Secretary of the Interior for the removal of Agent Parkhurst. They make serious charges against him.

CRAZED BY WEALTH.

PAVILION, N. Y., April 2.—Charles Cox, a young farmer, was commissioned by his wife to draw $2,000 from the bank. He absconded and has been traced to Buffalo. It is thought that he was made insane by having so much money in his possession.

THE BASE BALL SEASON.

WILMINGTON, Del., April 2.—The Inter State Association of base ball players met here on Saturday. The Brooklyn, Trenton and Albany clubs applied for admission, and the two former were successful. The Albany club was rejected; it is not a member of the American Association, and its members are all aliens. A schedule of games for the championship was adopted.

A DANGEROUS FROLIC.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Despite the efforts of the watchmen five thousand people yesterday obtained access to the East River bridge. Many crossed, and a large number of boys engaged in dangerous frolicking. The crowd was finally driven off by the police.

Cracksmen Cheated.

The safe in the bursar's office of the central prison was blown open on Tuesday night by cracksmen. They gained admission to the building by boring a two-inch hole opposite the night latch on the outside door which they then forced off. The door entering the bursar's department was treated in a similar manner. A hole was bored in the top of the safe terminating behind the door. This was filled with the explosive and ignited. The result was that the door was blown across the room and the woodwork completely destroyed. The burglars got nothing for their work but a few worthless papers. The bursar's office is not connected with the central prison proper, and is never watched at night. As a consequence what had occurred was not known before 6 o'clock.—Toronto World.

How Much of a Mistake?

A diplomatist is having an after-dinner talk with the grand vizier of the oriental sovereign to whose court he is accredited. "The only fault I have to find with your system of government," he says, laughing, "is its murderous tendency. Why, not a single one of your sultans has died in his bed during the last two hundred years!" "You mistake, sir," says the grand vizier, with patriotic warmth, "Four of them died in their beds during that period. Though I must admit that in each one the royal sleeper was found with the mattress on top of him!"

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The greatest medical wonder in the world. TELEGRAPH AND TELEPHONE.

Working Over the Same Wire with Both Instruments.

The certificate of incorporation of the Telephonic Telegraph Company was filed with the proper authorities in New York on the 22nd of March. The object of the new company, as stated in the certificate, is to construct and use lines for telegraphic and telephonic purposes, between New York and San Francisco, and the cities of Quebec, Montreal, Hamilton and Toronto. The apparatus to be used by this company is the joint invention of Dr. Rosebrugh, of this city, and Mr. George Black, of Hamilton. Judging by the experiments already made with the invention, the success of the company is assured, as by its means telephonic communication may be carried on over a telegraph wire while the latter is being used in the ordinary way. A few days ago Dr. Rosebrugh conducted some experiments in New York before a party of expert electricians, who were satisfied that the invention is a success, and the same may be said of the experiment made some time ago between Toronto and Hamilton.

The invention consists of a telephone and a condenser, the grounding of the Morse line being prevented by the use of the condenser. The making and breaking of the current by the Morse key is overcome by "bridging" the keys with condensers. A through telegraph wire, therefore, may be tapped at intermediate points and used as a way telephone wire; and by bridging a way telegraph wire it may be utilized as a through telephone wire.

In conversation with Dr. Rosebrugh yesterday, that gentleman said that the company had not decided as yet on the manner in which they will use the invention in Canada. It is possible they may offer the use of their instruments to the telegraph companies, the latter making their own arrangements with the telephone Company.—Toronto Mail.

LAKEFIELD.

THE LUMBER TRADE.

Messrs. R. & G. Strickland have purchased from Messrs. Thompson Smith & Son their limits in the Townships of Ridout and Sherborne. The timber and logs from these limits will come to Lakefield, their waters being tributary to the Otonabee River. These limits added to those previously in the possession of the firm will afford a supply to the Lakefield mills for many years to come. Messrs. Strickland have also purchased from Messrs. T. Smith & Son their large steam saw mill at Bradford, at which they purpose cutting the logs from the limits in Oakley and Hindon, which they purchased from the Dominion Bank the year before last, and on which they estimate that they have over 100,000,000 feet of lumber. This estimate does not include the Northwest quarter of Oakley, which Messrs. Strickland lately sold to Messrs. Thomson & Baker, of Hamilton, for $30,000, on which it is estimated that there is about 30,000,000 feet of lumber, but which the firm sold on account of its not being tributary to the waters in connection with their mills.

The capacity of the Bradford mill is 100,000 feet in twelve hours, and being situated on the Northern Railway, about forty miles from Toronto, it will find a ready market there, not only for the lumber, but also for the slabs and other mill refuse for fuel. It is possible that the Midland Railway may see the advantage of making an extension from Atherly to Black River, so as to put themselves in a position to carry the lumber of the extensive limits in the district. If this were done, Messrs. Strickland would remove the mill from Bradford to the Black River.

How a Mill was Kept Running.

We have obtained the following interesting description of how Mr. Willet's mills at Chambly were kept running through the winter. The water was so low in the Richelieu River, when the winter set in last fall and, owing to the great severity of the winter, it froze completely over and to such thickness that there was only from 10 to 12 inches of water between the ice and the bottom of the river, and consequently backed what water there was on to Mr. Willett's water-wheels burying them in water four or five feet deep, and forcing him to shut down. It stopped the mill completely, and he finally concluded to open a channel, and sent down to the Hamilton Powder Company and obtained some three or four boxes of dualine with flat fuses, four feet long, and went to work with an electric battery. In three days he had blown open a channel about 1,000 feet long by from 10 to 12 feet, thereby lowering the back water at the wheels by some two and a half to three feet. The mills were started and have since been running with good speed. This dualine is done up in half pound packages, and two or three of them are attached to the flat fuse and then the fuse to the battery and it blows the ice all to pieces, and if there is water enough to carry it off it will make the channel and lower the water. The ice disposed of in this case was from two and a half to four and a half feet thick. Mr. Willett writing to a friend in this city says he believes it would be effective in preventing a flood in Montreal in case of any sudden thaw. If the material were furnished he believes he could blow all the ice out of the St. Lawrence and save the city from a flood.—Montreal Witness.

Queer People.

Philip Roakes, of Waterloo, Ont., sympathized with Mrs. Markham, of the same place, whose husband threatened to leave her, and offered the latter $100 to carry out his threat, which was accepted. Roakes, when Mrs. Markham and her four children, went to Detroit, where the woman, after getting $225 from her admirer on pretence of securing a divorce, left him by a ruse and recrossed the border.

A Life Saving Present.

Mr. M. E. Allison, Hutchinson, Kan.: Saved his life by a sample Trial Bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, for Consumption, which caused him to procure a large bottle, that completely cured him, when Doctors, change of climate and everything else had failed. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Severe Coughs, and all Throat and Lung diseases, it is guaranteed to cure. Trial Bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's Drug Store. Large size $1.00.—1

REMARKABLE AND TRUE.—Alonzo Aowe, of Tweed, was cured of a fever sore of thirty-five years duration, by six bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters. He had suffered terribly, and tried many remedies in vain. He considers Burdock Blood Bitters as a marvellous medicine.

The worst Scrofulous Sores, the most indolent Tumor, and the most foul Ulcer known, may be cured by the combined use of Burdock Bitters and Burdock Healing Ointment. Ask your Druggist for these infallible remedies.

HEADACHE, Biliousness, Dyspepsia and Constipation promptly relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. As a family medicine they are far superior to Pills. In large Bottles 50 cents.

RETROACTIVE LEGISLATION.

Under this heading the Globe of the 27th ult. March contained an article which for an unblushing and wilful misrepresentation of actual facts and the circumstances under which they occurred could not be surpassed and is seldom equally even in the columns of Messrs. Edgar, Jaffray and Cook's journal. That our readers may fully appreciate the depths to which the once great Globe is sinking in the hands of the self-seeking ring who now control it we shall begin with a reproduction of the entire article, which is as follows:—

"One of the reasons given for disallowing the Ontario Streams Act was that it was retroactive in its operation, and interfered with an action at law then pending. That action was what is known as the Caldwell-McLaren case, one of the parties to which is Mr. Peter McLaren, the would-be senator of the Ministerial [illegible]. It is an interesting historical fact that this same Mr. McLaren was once before the subject of retroactive legislation, and that the [illegible] Act [illegible] was brought under the consideration of Sir John Macdonald when he was himself Minister of Justice—with what result we shall presently state.

"Mr. McLaren in taking the timber off some limits which he held under license in the county of Frontenac assumed that he had the right to all the pine growing on the road allowances. His claim was disputed by the municipality interested, and judgment was given in one of the Superior Courts against McLaren. Instead of either resting satisfied with that judgment or carrying it to the Courts of Appeal he applied to the Sandfield Macdonald Government for legislative relief, and got it. An act was passed granting him the timber which the Court had declared the property of the public, and a perusal of the following section of that statute will show how thoroughly retroactive it was made:—

"'Every Government road allowance included in any Crown Timber license heretofore granted or which may hereafter be granted, under section 1 of chap. 23 of the Consolidated Statutes of Canada, shall be deemed, and taken to be, and to have been ungranted lands of the Crown, within the meaning of that section, and liable as such to be included in such license.'

"A vigorous attempt was made on behalf of the municipality to prevent this bill from becoming law, and application was made to Sir John Macdonald, as Premier and Minister of Justice of the Dominion, to procure its disallowance. The effort was vain, however. Mr. McLaren had the inside track, and the public interest was allowed to suffer. The municipality could not be bled for election funds while Mr. McLaren could, and that was a sufficient reason for refusing to disallow a measure which was retroactive in his favour. Ten years later the necessity of securing his support was again a sufficient reason for consenting to disallow a measure which was retroactive against him. An analysis of the circumstances connected with these two Acts of the Ontario Legislature shows clearly enough on what principle Sir John Macdonald proceeds in the exercise of the veto power. Like every other power which his position enables him to make use of, he uses it always for a party purpose."

Now for the actual facts. The Act to which the Globe refers, and from which it makes a single extract, was passed by the Sandfield Macdonald Government during the session of 1870-71, WITH THE APPROBATION OF MR. BLAKE and his followers. We say with their approbation, because the journals of the Legislature fail to show that he or any of his friends disputed its wisdom either in principle or detail. The Act in question, it is true, was passed in consequence of the courts rendering the decision referred to, but how differently does this Act deal with not only private, but municipal rights, as defined by the courts, in comparison with the Globe's Streams Bill?

Although both the Province and the license holder had always, up to this time, understood and acted upon the belief that the law as it stood, gave them the timber growing on such road allowances, yet this Act recognizes and protects the rights of the municipalities as defined by the Courts. While the Globe quotes the only section calculated to serve its purpose, it dishonestly omits to state:—

1st. That the 7th section declares that "Nothing herein contained shall effect any action in which any trial has been had before the passing of this Act," thereby giving the "lie direct" to the Globe's statement that this Act was "retroactive in his (McLaren's) favour."

2. This Act provides (sec. 4) for compensating the municipalities for a right which they had obtained by an oversight in previous legislation, by providing that they should receive, for expenditure on roads, two per cent. of the entire dues collected in their municipalities. Now if any one will take the trouble of figuring the matter out they will find that as near as may be the proportion of land occupied by road allowances under our system of surveys, is just about two per cent of the whole. Hence this act did not "rob" the municipalities or any one else of that which the courts had declared them to be entitled to.

That the Globe has been driven to institute a comparison between these two acts, in order to defend Mr. Mowat and attack Sir John Macdonald is the best possible evidence of the weakness of its case. Not that we think even such legislation as that of 1870-71, is to be commended or repeated, but if it was bad, how infinitely much worse is the Streams Bill.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Cobourg World suggests that in the event of the resignation of the Hon. Mr. Pope, as Minister of Agriculture, Dr. Orton would be well qualified for the position [illegible] well deserved credit for his services. But our contemporary proceeds to strengthen its recommendation by saying:—

"Besides all this the portfolio should come to Ontario, which is by no means too fully represented in the Cabinet."

In this opinion the World differs widely from the leader of its party, for Mr. Blake censured Sir John Macdonald in the House of Commons, for giving too large a proportion, eight out of sixteen, or one-half, of the great prizes in his gift, to Ontario, namely, six seats in the Cabinet and the two Speakerships.

* *

THE following paragraph appears in Saturday's Globe:—

"A good old Quaker lady, after listening to the extravagant yarn of a person as long as her patience would allow, said to him, 'Friend, what a pity it's a sin to lie, when it seems so necessary to thy happiness.'"

This interesting and instructive item does not appear in the editorial columns, in fact we doubt if the Editor of the Globe had seen it, for the same issue contains a series of editorials attacking Mr. Meredith, Sir L. Tilley, Mr. McLaren, Sir John Macdonald, Sir Charles Tupper, and the Quebec Bleus, in the very manner thus censured.

* *

THE London Advertiser published a disgraceful paragraph about the Hon. John O'Donohoe, and the Toronto Evening Canadian quoted it with well deserved reprobation. Thereupon the Advertiser averred that the item in question had never appeared in its columns, and accused the Evening Canadian of writing it with the object of falsely imputing it to the Advertiser. And yet the truth remains that the vile paragraph was really published by the London Advertiser to injure if possible a political opponent. To such base practice do self-styled "Reform," journals stoop in order to bolster up a bad cause.

HAS HE FOUND PERPETUAL MOTION?

A Roller and a Track from Which an Inventor Expects Great Results.

The following letter appears in the New York Sun:—

SIR,—I will endeavor to give you a clear idea of the construction of my perpetual motion. I shall write you facts just as they are, just as my apparatus has been shown and as it can be seen.

The original starting point is that I could construct a roller that would run on a level laced track up grade. This I tested by having two strips 1 inch square, dressed out 20 inches long, placed on plats that were placed at each end of strips, or "rails," as they may be called, giving one end the rise 3/8 inches above the other. These rails were put 1½ inches apart at the upper end, and 1¼ inches at the lower end, and make what I call one section. For a test I then had a dry piece of hickory, 1 inches in diameter and 1¾ inches in length, turned out round, tapering each way from the centre alike to a point. Placing this roller on the lower end of the track, which is 1¼ inches apart, it will start of itself, and run up the grade of ⅜ inches with a steady motion. As it would run one section I built another, placing it directly in front of the first section. As it was exactly like the first one, all it was necessary to find out was if the roller would run off from first to second, and so on.

The test was successful. I found at the end of the first section the roller left entering the second perfectly true, and at the end of the second section the speed had not in any way been increased. So I built six more, making eight in all, placing them one ahead of the other in a straight line, and it would roll the same on all alike as it did on the first one. When I placed them in shape of a circle, as near as I could, making about one-third circle with the whole eight, and it ran the same, though the roller starts unsteadily on each section after leaving the first, for, of course, it leaves the first section perfectly true, and by the second one being twisted to the right or left to form the part circle it can't enter true, but catches its balance and redeems its steady motion before leaving second for third, and so on. The sections being crotch shape, and the roller being largest in the centre, there is no side friction, and the centre of the roller is running centre all the time. Were the roller 12 inches in diameter in the centre, and the same length it is now (10 inches), the power within itself would be much greater, and would roll up a much steeper grade. I do not as yet claim I can attach power to this simple construction, though there are those that have seen who think it can be done. I am having a circle track built that will be 8 feet in diameter, and a new roller with one end from centre all the way, long enough to travel the extra distance the outer rail will have.

Another style of track which I am going to have built will consist of two sections, one directly above the other, with the exception that the bottom one will be longer. At one end they will run together. The upper section, a short distance from the end where it comes in contact with the lower track, will have a joint, so that when the roller runs up and drops off the upper track to the lower, it will run back and pass through underneath the ends of upper track, on account of the joints near end, and will then come in contact with a grade it can't raise, and by that time the ends of upper track will have fallen back, making the upper grade perfect as before, and the roller, not being able to make the grade beyond the upper section, will roll back and on, and be ready to start up as before.

ALLAN HAMILTON, a clerk in the court house at Montreal, has entered an action for libel against the proprietors of the Witness. The damages are laid at $5,000.

MRS. BODMAN of Bothwell, says my daughter was very ill with Bilious Fever, used Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters with wonderful results, one Bottle entirely subdued the fever and thoroughly restored her health and vigor.

AN old woman who lived alone at New Baltimore, near Detroit, was missed for a week. Her house was broken into, when she was found partly lying on her bed dead, with her face almost entirely eaten off by the cat which sat beside her.

A [illegible].—The [illegible] of [illegible] is pure blood and good health. Burdock Blood Bitters is the grand key that unlocks all the the secretions. It cures all Scrofulous diseases, acts on the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, Skin and Bowels, and brings the bloom of health to the pallid cheek.

THE jury in the trial of Hardinge and Greenwood at Sandwich, Ont., for the murder of Wm. Maher, have disagreed. Ten were for conviction. They will now be arraigned on the charge of robbery, for which a true bill has been returned against them.

A SPECIAL cable despatch announces that the Times commenting upon the projected visit of the British Association to Montreal admits that it is impossible to cancel the engagement now, and urges those members originally opposed to the scheme to cheerfully assent to the wishes of the majority.

"BLOOD WILL TELL." A face adorned with Pimples, Boils, Blotches &c., is not a particularly pleasant sight, and invariably betokens an impure state of the Blood. Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters free the system from all gross humors, renders the Blood Pure and Cool, aids digestion and gives a healthy appetite. For sale by all Druggists in large Bottles at 50 cents.

BRET HARTE in one of his charming sketches tells of a schoolmistress who was accustomed to to take long walks in the pine woods of California for the benefit of the balsamic air. There is more in this treatment than most people will be inclined to credit. We see the pines and spruces have been brought into requisition in the cause of medical progress. GRAY' SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE—a thoroughly scientific preparation—provides this treatment in a concentrated form, and has, after twenty years test, proved itself the most satisfactory cure extant for Coughs, Colds, Lung and Throat Affections. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

OMEMEE.

A GOOD PRICE.—The Herald says that on Saturday Mr. R. B. Ford, of Emily, sold to Mr. John Junkin, of Verulam, a splendid span of colts 1½ years old, sired by Hobby Noble, for the handsome sum of $220. This is another link in favor of stock raising.

A HANDSOME GIFT.—The Rev. J. Ewing, presiding Presbyterian Minister over Lakevale, Mt. Pleasant and Omemee congregations, has been the recipient of a valuable fur overcoat and cap from the former, and a purse containing $140 from the two latter, where he has been in charge for the last 24 years.

DIVISION COURT.—The March session of the 4th Division Court of the County of Victoria, was held in the village hall, Omemee, on Tuesday. In the absence of Dep.-Judge Hudspeth, C. A. Weller, Esq., of Peterborough presided. Only three cases were disposed of, a large number being adjourned till next court.

Plain Truths!

The blood is the foundation of life, it circulates through every part of the body and unless it is pure and rich, good health is impossible, if disease has entered the system the only sure and quick way to drive it out is to purify and enrich the blood.

These simple facts are well known and the highest medical authorities agree that nothing but iron will restore the blood to its natural condition; and also that all the Iron preparations hitherto made blacken the teeth, cause headache, and are otherwise injurious.

SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS will thoroughly and quickly assimulate with the blood, purifying and strengthening it and thus drive disease from any part of the system, and it will not blacken the teeth cause headache or constipation and is positively not injurious.

St. Johnsbury, Vermont Oct. 21st 1882.

For six years I have been a great sufferer from blood disease, dyspepsia and constipation, and became so debilitated that I could not retain anything on my stomach, in fact life had almost become a burden, and when hope had almost left me, I was induced to give SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS a trial I am now taking the third bottle and have not felt so well in six years as I do at present.

MRS. S. L. MOORE.

SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS effectually cures dyspepsia, indigestion and weakness, and renders the greatest relief and benefit to persons suffering from such diseases as kidney and liver complaints, dyspepsia, indigestion etc.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz. a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

No Central.

In accordance with previous announcement the Directors of the West Riding Agricultural, Society met last Saturday, to finally decide as to whether they would go on with the Central Exhibition or not. The Secretary reported that the East Peterborough, Smith and Peterborough Horticultural Societies, had agreed each to contribute the amount asked towards the guarantee fund, and that while he had no official communication from either the South Monaghan, or Otanabee Societies, he was informed that neither of these Societies were likely to make any grant. Victoria and Durham had only guaranteed one half of the amount which they should do, this would leave the West Riding Society still responsible for six-tenths of the whole guarantee fund. In consequence of these circumstances it was unanimously decided not to go on with the Central Exhibition—the feeling of the Directors being that if this County had to carry eight-tenths of the burden they had better carry the whole, and run the show themselves.

POST MORTEM INQUEST

OF THE BODY OF A MAN WHO EXPIRED IN THE GAOL.

A Fall and an Immersion in a River—Brought from Lakefield While his Clothes were Wet—Paralyzed with Cold—The Inquest Adjourned.

On Thursday last, while the Court of Queen's Bench was in session here, a prisoner named John Desinault was brought to the County Gaol from Lakefield. His clothes were wet, and he was unable to use his limbs. It was said by Constable Shields, of Lakefield, who had charge of him from Lakefield and delivered him to the gaoler here, that he had fallen on a bridge and injured himself, and on going to the river to wash off the blood he had fallen in. As soon as his situation was made known, the gaol authorities had his clothes changed and summoned the gaol surgeon, who attended him until his death, which occurred on Sunday morning at twenty-five minutes after one o'clock.

Not much has been made known of the unfortunate man. He is a Frenchman, and he stated before his death that he came from Montreal, and it is said that he had been in the woods during the winter, at some lumbering shanty.

An inquest was held this forenoon by Dr. R. W. Bell, Coroner, at the gaol. On account of the circumstances, more interest was attached to the inquiry than is usually connected with a formal inquest on the death of a prisoner in the gaol. A jury was summoned and duly sworn.

JOHN MCWILLIAMS, gaoler, was the first witness. He testified that the deceased, John Desinault, was brought to the gaol by Constable Shields of Lakefield, on Thursday, and that he had been committed for fifteen days by John Hull, J. P., of Lakefield, for, as the warrant stated, being drunk, having fallen into the river and nearly perished. The constable said that the deceased had walked into the river, and the witness supposed that he was only wet about the lower part of the limbs, but it was afterwards ascertained that he had been in the water bodily. His face was cut and patched with sticking plaster. The constable said that he had fallen on the bridge and hurt his face, and on going to the river to wash he had fallen in. The gaol surgeon was sent for on the evening the deceased was brought to the gaol. The deceased became speechless on Friday afternoon. Before he became speechless the witness sent for a French interpreter, but did no succeed in getting any information. He died at 1.25 o'clock on Sunday morning. The Gaol Surgeon had attended him regularly up to the time of his death, and on Saturday he brought another physician with him for consultation. The deceased did not appear to be suffering much, except that he appeared to breathe with difficulty. He took but little nourishment.

H. NESBITT, turnkey, having been sworn, said that he was down street on Thursday afternoon, and on coming back he met Constable Shields, of Lakefield. The constable said that he had left a prisoner in the gaol who had fallen into the river and was wet. The witness found that the prisoner was all wet, and he immediately had his clothes changed for dry prison garments. The clothes that the deceased had on seemed to be all quite wet. He was sensible at that time, but he did not seem to have proper use of his limbs. He answered the usual questions put to prisoners and recorded in the gaol register, and said that his home was in Montreal. The deceased said that he fell into a river and was pulled out by two men. His face seemed to be badly bruised. The Gaol Surgeon was sent for, and he came the same evening, not long after the deceased was brought to the gaol. Could not say that the deceased was under the influence of liquor. Left two prisoners to keep the fire on and to care for him. On Friday morning he was scarcely able to speak, and the physician was again sent for. Could not understand what the deceased said, but he talked very little. The doctor ordered extra diet for him, and he was given beef tea, &c., but he took very little nourishment.

DR. KINCAID, Gaol Surgeon, testified that he was first called to see the deceased on Thursday evening, and that he came at once. Found him with dry clothes on sitting on a bench at the stove. His face was all battered up, but his wounds had been properly dressed. He spoke very little English, and the witness could not ascertain from him how he got the wounds. Requested the gaol authorities to give him extra attendance and to give him all the nourishment they could get him to take. He refused to take medicine from the witness or the gaol authorities, but took it from B. Reynolds, a prisoner in the gaol. He therefore requested Reynolds to give him the medicine regularly. Paid the same attention to the deceased as he would to a patient out of the gaol. Prescribed for him beef tea, brandy, ammonia and bromide of potash. On Friday he saw that the case was, in his opinion hopeless, and he requested Dr. Bingham to see the patient, which he did, and he agreed with his treatment in the presence of the gaol authorities. Consider that the death of the prisoner was caused by the fall (if it was such) which caused the injuries on his face, which must have been severe, as his nose was partially broken, and by his being in the water and being brought all the way from Lakefield to Peterborough in wet clothes. The witness made use of vigorous language in denouncing this action. The powerless condition of the deceased's limbs would be the effect of having been in the water and of having had nothing to start the circulation which had been thus checked. Believe that if dry clothes had been put on him at Lakefield, and he had been cared for there, his limbs would not have been paralyzed and he might have lived. It would be impossible to say how the wounds on his face were caused. Do not believe that all the wounds on his face could have been caused by a simple fall. Death was the result of the shock to his system. His lungs were perfectly clear. He breathed with difficulty, and was paralyzed from his feet up.

BENJ. REYNOLDS, a prisoner confined in the gaol, was sworn. He said that he saw the deceased first on Thursday afternoon when he was brought into the gaol at about five o'clock. He had on wet clothes then. He had four flannel shirts on and two pair of pants. He said that he had fallen into a river, but said nothing about the injuries to his face. He was not able to stand, and three prisoners had to hold him up while they changed his clothes, which was done ten or fifteen minutes after he was brought into the gaol. The deceased refused to take medicine from the doctor, but he took it from the witness, as he had given him drinks before that. The doctor requested him to give it to him, and he got his medicine regularly. He complained of one of his eyes being sore.

This was all the evidence that was forthcoming, and the Jury said they required further evidence. One of the jurymen said that he saw a bruise on his body which he believed to have been caused by a kick.

The inquest was adjourned until Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, witnesses to be subpœned from Lakefield in the meantime.

Rats in the House.

The rat, says Professor Huxley, has no place in a well-built dry house. The mouse is harmless, but the presence of rats means a connection with the rat place the sewer. Hence, when he knew there were rats in the basement of his house, Mr. Huxley had the floor of his house taken up, and found an opening in the sewer where the builder had omitted to close up the opening to a side drain, designed, but abandoned before using. During all the years that the house had been occupied this opening had been in unsuspected existence, and had given open passage to the emations from the sewer.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widely increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.

DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.) THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution.

In Boxes at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., and 4s. 6d.

Sold by Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world. Prepared by Jas. Rorke, London. Specially valuable Pills for residents abroad and travellers.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendencies, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This fluid combination extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6d. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

FIGHT FOR A DEAD SEAL.

Gulf Fishermen Attacked by a Greenland Shark—A Lower Canadian Scene.

QUEBEC, April 2.—A correspondent writing from Point des Montes and the river Godbout under date of March 10th, and whose letter only reached here yesterday, says that the winter has been unusually severe in that region, the mercury in the months of January and February having frequently descended to from 30 to 47 degrees below zero. At Point des Montes hunting has been attended this year with excellent results, nine hunters having killed 200 seals valued at $4 each. On the 29th of February a hunter named David Picard narrowly escaped losing his life. He had just killed a seal, and was endeavouring to draw him into his canoe, when a monster of the deep, with a terrific splurge, jumped at the other end of the seal. Picard held on to the seal and called upon a companion to fire at the monster. Two bullets fired into it only rendered it more furious, and caused it to leave to leave the seal and attack the canoe, when a third bullet put an end to the struggle. The dead enemy was towed ashore and found to be a Greenland shark fourteen feet long and weighing 500 lbs. His stomach was opened, and found to contain the entire carcass of a seal, several large pieces of fur, and a number of partially digested fish.

BEATEN WITH HIS BATON.

Accident to a St. Thomas Constable—A Severe Pounding.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., April 2.—On Saturday night Policeman Sisson discovered a colored man named Dan Irons stealing some crockery out of a crate behind N. Webb's china hall, and attempted to arrest him, but Irons showed fight, and hit Sisson with a pitcher. The policeman then drew his baton, and knocked the coloured man down, but while trying to handcuff him Irons threw the policeman, snatched his baton from him, and beat him over the head until he was senseless, and would probably have killed him if some passers-by had not heard his cries, and gone to his assistance. Irons made good his escape, but voluntarily gave himself up afterwards. Sissons was carried home. He will probably recover.

BELLEVILLE.

BRAKEMAN KILLED.—Wm. Hopkins, a Grand Trunk brakeman, who was acting temporarily as switchman, owing to the illness of the switchman, was killed on the track here on Sunday night. It is supposed that he slipped and fell on the icy track, and several cars passed over him, mangling his body dreadfully. Death was probably instantaneous, as life had departed when the body was found, a few minutes later. The deceased, who was a resident of this city, was 25 years of age, and leaves a widow and five children. His life was insured for $500 in the Grand Trunk Railway Employees Insurance Association.

The "Misty Future."

The desire for peeping into the future is a characteristic of human nature, and especially of weak-minded, ignorant human nature. Hence all the deference to augurids and oracles which prevailed among the Greeks and Romans; hence the successful swindles of fortune-tellers and spiritualists of more modern times; hence also the popularity of the interpreters of prophecies about the end of the world, and hence the rage for weather prophets. How men of no special mark of importance can make their names prominent in every newspaper and every mouth over this continent, would be mystery were it not that the people are gaping to receive prophecies concerning the future of the weather. It is to be hoped that the case of Wiggins, whose fame went up like a rocket and has come down like a stick, will render any future predictions by him, or any one else, too ridiculous to be even talked about. We do not speak of the probabilities of the weather in the near future, which the telegraph has reduced almost to certainties, but to all that class of predictions six months, or even one month, or one week ahead, which can only be the merest random guesses if they go beyond such warrantable forecasts as that warm weather may be expected in summer and cold weather in winter.—N. Y. Witness.

Press Despatches to the Review.

CABLE.

LOWELL'S VIEWS.

LONDON, April 3.—Minister Lowell, at the Lord Mayor's banquet, said he had read sensational statements in the newspapers purporting to give instructions here coming from his Government and words he spoke on diplomatic questions. These prophecies were like those of Wiggins. He should, in spite of them, continue as before the good relations between Great Britain and the United States enduring. Nothing he could do would tend to lessen their friendly character.

RIOT IN COLOMBO.

LONDON, April 3.—Advices from Colombo, the capital of Ceylon, report that the Catholics recently objected to the religious procession of the Buddhists in which was carried a crucifix surmounted by a monkey. The Papists regarded this combination as an insult to the Catholic religion. A violent physical contest ensued in the street. Troops dispersed the rioters and restored peace without bloodshed. A number of the participants, however, were roughly handled, and there were several broken heads.

EXECUTIONS IN IRELAND.

LONDON, April 3.—During yesterday's debate in the House of Commons, Parnell urged further executions in Ireland to be suspended until the Court of Criminal Appeal has been established.

THE CONFERENCE.

BERLIN, April 3.—The proposed conference in Vienna of persons interested in the Red Cross Society is generally abandoned. The German Government will negotiate with various countries in Europe with a view of extending the benefits of the organization to natives of all nations.

HOPES OF A COMPROMISE.

BERLIN, April 3.—There are still hopes of a compromise between Prussia and the Vatican.

TROOPS STARTED.

MADRID, April 3.—Two companies of Spanish troops have started to occupy Santa Cruz De la ane Quena.

EMPEROR'S ILLNESS.

VIENNA, April 3.—The Emperor has for months suffered from a painful internal malady. He will spend the summer at Carlsbad for the purpose of trying the healing waters.

THE QUEEN AND THE DEAD.

LONDON, April 3.—The Queen will attend the funeral service over the body of John Brown this afternoon.

AMERICAN.

LITIGATION ENDED.

NEW YORK, April 2.—The fifty years litigation over the famous Jumel estate has been practically ended. An arrangement has been made between Mrs. Caryle, who with her husband and father, Amos Chase, occupied the Jumel Mansion, on Washington Heights, and the French claimants to the estate. Chase and Mrs. Caryle will remain in possession of the historic mansion.

THE RICE MARKET.

ST. LOUIS, April 3.—There is unwonted excitement on the rice market. A prominent firm made considerable sales of rice to arrive in expectation of getting supplies from Bassorah and securing a large tonnage for England. The natives held all the supplies. Large purchases have been made in open market here for the purpose of filling contracts. The range on rice has risen ten per cent, during the past week. Failures are expected.

WILL PAY ALL CLAIMS

COLLEGE POINT, L. I., April 3.—Caldwell the lawyer accused of getting money on worthless checks, has returned and announces that he will pay all the claims.

PURSUING INDIANS.

SEPAR, New Mexico, April 2.—Col. Forsyth followed the Indians from the Southern Pacific Railway crossing to the Chipuahua Mountains in Arizona. Near Cottonwood Springs the Indians attacked a house containing ranchmen's supplies, and wounded two men, after which they took to the hills, where the soldiers were unable to follow their trail. Forsyth will remain there several days, scouting the surrounding country.

DEMOCRATIC VICTORY.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, April 3.—The entire Democratic city ticket is elected. O'Donnell's majority for mayor is a thousand.

EMINENT PHYSICIAN DEAD.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Joseph H. Bailey, an eminent physician, died at Kent Cliffs on Sunday, aged 82.

ARRESTED FOR ROBBERY.

NORFOLK, Va., April 3.—John Hiemmer, of the United States steamer Pinta, who enlisted in New York recently for a cruise to Alaska, was arrested yesterday on a charge of robbing a house in Philadelphia of $1,500 worth of valuables.

A HEAVY THEFT.

NEW YORK, April 3.—The amount of securities stolen from the safe of Frost the publisher, are stated to be as high $95,000.

SUSPENDED.

NEW YORK, April 3.—The liabilities of J. W. Frasier, a suspended dealer in war material, amount to $100,000; his assets are more.

LARGE MAJORITY.

CINCINNATI, April 3.—The returns from twenty-six districts aggregate 18,000 votes. Stephens' (Democrat) majority is seventeen hundred.

FOUR MILLIONS WANTED.

NEW YORK, April 3.—The authorities of Columbia College intimate that they need $4,000,000 to make a university at the institution.

REDUCTION OF WAGES.

PHILADELPHIA, April 3.—The Shoemakers factory of Mundell & Co., have declined a reduction in wages. The firm discharged 600 workmen yesterday, and the remainder, two hundred, struck.

SMALL POX.

ST. LOUIS, April 3.—The dirty condition of the city has resulted in an epidemic of small pox in St. Peter and St. Paul, one of the most densely populated parts of the city.

QUARANTINE ESTABLISHED.

NEW ORLEANS, April 3.—The Governor has issued a proclamation establishing a quarantine against vessels from several Mexican and Brazilian ports, West India Islands and ports along the Isthmus and coast of South America to Brazil. The quarantine goes into effect in May next and is unusually severe, and practically prevents intercourse with the specified points. All the steamers employed in the Havana and Vera Cruz trade will be taken off after May 1st, and the trade with those points restricted to New York. A large coffee trade will be sent back to Baltimore.

MACHINE COMPANY SUSPENDED.

BOSTON, April 3.—The Boston Machine Company has suspended. Liabilities, $500,000; the assets show a nominal surplus.

DEVOURED BY WOLVES.

OMAHA, April 3.—The body of Miss A. M. Church, a teacher, whose parents live in St. Lawrence County, New York, was found half devoured by wolves three miles north of Stanton yesterday. She has been missing since January 1st. She evidently committed suicide, as she wrote on an envelope directing that her body be sent to Perkinville, N. Y. No cause is assigned.

STEAMER ARRIVED.

NEW YORK, April 3.—The steamer Canada has arrived from Havre.

A TECHNICAL DIFFICULTY.

ST. LOUIS, April 3.—The action of the United States Supreme Court reversing the decision of the Supreme Court in the Kring murder case has created great excitement here. Kring murdered Dora Broemser, because she would not marry him when she had a husband living, and Kring had a wife and family. The effect of the decision is virtually to clear Kring. Kring was permitted to plead guilty of murder in the first degree, but the plea was set aside. His attorney claim that he can only be tried for murder in the second degree now, and as evidence will show murder in the first degree, they must instruct to discharge. He has been tried six times and three times sentenced to be hanged.

BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT.

NEW YORK, April 3.—The testimony was taken yesterday in the suit of Bernard Berwick, who sues to recover $10,000 damages for alleged breach of promise of marriage from Rebecca McLean, of Staten Island.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

CABLE.

ARRESTED.

CORK, April 2.—Morgan, a labourer, was arrested here to-day on the charge of conspiracy. Important documents and a quantity of a compound used in making dynamite were found on him.

WHOLESALE MURDER.

VIENNA, April 2.—Twenty-five members of the Castrati tribe were murdered at Lake Scutari by Montenegrins, instead of four as first reported.

ROYAL MARRIAGE IN SPAIN.

MADRID, April 2.—The marriage of Prince Louis Ferdinand of Bavaria to the Infante Maria Della Paz of Spain was celebrated to-day. The Patriarch of the Indies solemnized the marriage. The King and Queen of Spain were sponsors.

BESTIRRING THEMSELVES.

LONDON, April 2.—Prominent officials of railways are in consultation in London regarding recent outrages, and have resolved to organize a protective corps to watch suspicious persons travelling on the roads, and to guard against the carriage of supplies supposed to be used for the prosecution of unlawful and disloyal purposes.

ITALIAN ASSASSINS ARRAIGNED.

ROME, April 2.—Five men charged with attempting to kill Coccapiller, the noted Socialist member of the Chamber of Deputies, have been placed for trial. The chief assassin, named Tognetti, is a brother of the man executed, under the Papal Government, for causing an explosion in the Serristori barracks.

A STEW IN BRUSSELS.

BRUSSELS, April 2.—There is a sensation in in financial circles over the discovery that Van Damme, a prominent stock broker, has embezzled a million francs belonging to persons who deposited money with him. Van Damme has been arrested.

SUPPOSED INCENDIARISM.

LIVERPOOL, April 2.—The Government bonded warehouse was entered yesterday by unknown parties, and the contents of a number of casks of spirits spilled. It is supposed that this was done with incendiary intent, but no fire resulted. Damage was done to the extent of £1,000.

AMERICAN.

ARRESTS IN BROOKLYN.

BROOKLYN, N.Y., April 2.—A dozen persons, mostly lightermen, were arrested here to-day. It is understood the arrests are connected with the recent fire at Inman dock, and involve theft and smuggling. It is said a large number of other arrests will be made here and in New York.

POWDER MILL EXPLOSION.

HAZARDVILLE, Conn., April 2.—The double powder mill blew up here this afternoon. It contained 400 pounds of powder. A 4,000 pound wheel was hurled a long distance. Had the explosion occurred ten minutes later there would have been considerable loss of life. Damage, $2,000.

Rev. E. Shirts,

Bewdley P. O., Ont., like hundreds of others who have been cured of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma, consumption and all diseases of the head, throat and lungs, says: "The Spirometer, invented by M. Souvielle, of Paris, ex-aide surgeon of the French army, and the medicines and treatment prescribed at the International Throat and Lung Institute, have cured me completely of consumption (first stage) or advanced bronchitis, after everything else failed." Consultations and a trial of Spirometer free. Those who are unable to come to the Institute or see our surgeons, who visit all the principal towns and cities of Canada, can be successfully treated by writing, inclosing stamp for a copy of our International News, published monthly, which will give you full particulars and references, which are genuine. Address, 173 Church Street, Toronto, or 13 Phillips' Square, Montreal.

A Life Saving Present.

Mr. M. E. Allison, Hutchinson, Kan.: Saved his life by a sample Trial Bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, for Consumption, which caused him to procure a large bottle, that completely cured him, when Doctors, change of climate and everything else had failed. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Severe Coughs, and all Throat and Lung diseases, it is guaranteed to cure. Trial Bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's Drug Store. Large size $1.00.—1

TUESDAY, APRIL 3, 1883.

GOVERNMENT BY COMMITTEE.

The Globe has a great deal to say just now against "Government by Committee." It looks upon or professes to do so, the appointment of a committee to consider the License question as contrary to the spirit of our constitution, and an abdication of the duties devolving upon the Government of the day. Well it may be so, we do not intend to dispute the point with the Globe—but we cannot help calling that consistent and honest journal's attention to the fact that Mr. Mowat in 1878, pursued precisely the same course with regard to the important question of municipal taxation and exemption, and that in making the motion for the appointment of a committee that [illegible] and sturdy statesman said, "It had been customary to submit all important laws affecting municipalities to committees," because "committees had always given very valuable assistance in determining what was best to be done," and because the "House contained on both sides Hon. members who were extremely familiar with the working of the laws of municipalities,"—observations, all of which apply with equal if not greater force to the License question as it now comes before the Dominion Parliament. And it is worthy of note that on that occasion the opposition instead of refusing to act on the committee—a committee which they then said was and which subsequently proved to have been appointed for the purpose of throwing the exemption question over to a more convenient season—actually asked for more names from their side of the House to be added. Evidently we have two kinds of ministerial responsibility in this country, one for Mr. Mowat and another for Sir John Macdonald.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

The House met again after the holidays on Wednesday, March 28th.

The third reading of the bill as to frauds in relation to public contract was passed after some debate, an amendment inflicting a year's imprisonment upon any contractor contributing to an election fund being defeated.

In committee the bill as to seduction &c. was amended by making corroborative evidence necessary.

The land carriers bill passed through committee.

On Thursday the bill on criminal procedure, including a clause permitting "Agnostics" to affirm, was considered in Committee, which rose without reporting, thus dropping the measure.

A bill for the speedy indictment of corporation was read a second time.

There was a long and sharp debate upon proposed restrictions upon Chinese immigration.

On Friday, Sir L. Tilley made his budget speech, explaining his delay in doing so by the fact that the Government had resolved to reduce taxation by a million and a quarter dollars, and could not well settle the details of the reduction till they could consider the effect of the tariff changes in the United States. The changes in our own tariff, while making the reduction mentioned, were still of a protective nature, being largely the remission of duties on raw or partly manufactured materials, while on other articles duties were increased. We will deal with this speech more at length elsewhere.

Mr. Paterson replied, criticising the Finance Minister's speech and programme in a sense adverse to the National Policy. He admitted that many of the increases in expenditure were necessitated by the progress in the North-West and elsewhere. He concluded by an unfounded attack upon the Conservatives for gerrymandering the Ontario constituencies.

Mr. Thomas White followed and exposed the falseness of the last charge. He then dealt very fully with the financial subjects, ably answering Mr. Paterson's points.

THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

The Globe says, with regard to the recent debate on the temperance question:

"Mr. Blake took the ground that the decision in Russell v. The Queen does not call in question the powers of the Local Legislatures to regulate the liquor traffic as Sir John Macdonald says it does."

The judgment itself says (page 7):

"With regard to the first of these classes, No. 9, it is to be observed that the power of granting licenses is not assigned to the Provincial Legislatures for the purpose of regulating trade, but in order to the raising of a revenue for provincial, local, or municipal purposes."

It is just as well that there should be no mistake about this matter.—Belleville Intelligencer.

THE DAILY EVENING REVIEW is delivered to subscribers at ten cents a week.

A TOUCHING INCIDENT.

The Witness details the following touching incident of the meeting of Madame Albani with her father at Montreal, after the presentation of an address, from a deputation from her native village of Chambly:

"An aged gentleman had been patiently waiting on the outskirts of the vast throng when some gentlemen happened to notice that he was the father of the gifted lady who was the recipient of all the applause. They conducted him to the parlor, and as the crowd divided to allow him to come forward, Madame was conversing with some of those who had been introduced to her, when she caught sight of the eager face and the grey-white locks of the aged gentleman. She looked for just an instant and then with a quick step forward caught her father in her arms and kissed him passionately on both cheeks, while she called him "father, father," and hugged him and patted him with almost childlike delight. The crowd did not require to be told that public greeting [illegible] had to make way for [illegible] feelings, and [illegible] moved away, leaving father and child and husband and wife to themselves. Meanwhile the band and the snow-shoe clubs were playing and singing in the rotunda of the hotel, and this animated scene was undisturbed until long after Albani had bidden adieu to her friends to seek rest after the fatigue of the journey and excitement of her reception."

The Phosphates Trade.

To those interested in recent developments of the mineral resources of our country, a careful examination of the immense pile of apatite or phosphate of lime now visible at Templeton or Buckingham stations on the line of the Canadian Pacific railway near Ottawa, will well repay the visitor. This line of trade, although only in operation for a very few years, has rapidly developed into one of great importance as far as the resources of this section of Canada are concerned. Capitalists are now coming in from various quarters and acquiring new fields for the working up of mines where this substance is to be obtained. It has been ascertained that a small distance from the Ottawa river to fully one hundred miles up towards the Pickerel river, on both sides of the rivers Lièvre, Blanche and Gatineau, there have been observed excellent indications of this mineral, and recent workings show it to be much more extensive than previously supposed. This season alone, in the hands of a few operators, from eight to ten thousand tons will be exported to the English market. The value of the mineral at present on sale is about $20 per ton, which can be got out for from $6 to $8.50 per ton; and it is well known that it yields fully 80 per cent of tribasic phosphate of lime. Its excellence as a fertilizer is now so thoroughly established in the home and foreign markets that the Ottawa valley is now looked forward to as a field in which there will be an immense development of mineral interests.—Mail.

A Titled Swindler.

The Court of Appeal at Vienna has confirmed the sentence of the criminal court at Innspruk against Baron Alexander von Pamel Hammingen, convicted of swindling. His sentence was seven years' imprisonment with deprivation of his title to nobility. The baron is a cousin to the husband of Princess Frederika of Hanover, and was in 1879 appointed chamberlain to the Pope. General Reinhardt, who in the 18th century served in the army of the Grand Mogul of Delhi against the English, founded the principality of Sirdhana in North-West India. He married the Cabul Begum Somru and died enormously rich. He left property to his wife, who embraced Catholicism and adopted the general's grandson, David Dyce. The East India Company sequestrated the legacy, and a long litigation ensued. A compromise was then effected, but Dyce disagreed with his wife and willed his property to the East India Company. After his death his wife contested the will. Certain parties in the Tyrol then claimed to be Reinhardt's heirs, but their suit miscarried. Baron Hammingen undertook to promote their claims; he induced several notable personages to interest themselves in the matter, and borrowed large sums from capitalists whom he promised to pay threefold.

The New Commander of the Troops.

Lord Alexander George Russell, C. B., successor to Gen. McDougall, is the fourth son of the sixth Duke of Bedford and uncle to the present—the ninth—Duke. He was born in 1821, and entered the army in 1839. He became Captain in 1846, Major 1855, Lieutenant-Colonel 1856, Colonel 1861, Major-General 1874, Lieutenant-General 1877, and went on half pay 1871. He served in the Kaffir war, 1852-3, acting as Deputy Assistant Quartermaster General to the first Division. He was present at the battle of Berea, for which he obtained a medal, and served in the Crimea with the forces operating against Sebastopol, obtaining the Crimean medal and clasp, Sardinian and Turkish medals and the Turkish order of the Medjidie. In 1864 he held command at Shorncliffe, and commanded the Eastern division 1877-80. This is the second time he has held an official position in Canada, having been A.D.C. to the Governor-General in 1847. His residence is Ewhurd Park, Basingstoke. He married, in 1844, Anne Emily, daughter of Sir Leonard Worsley Holmes, Bart.

Mrs. Langtry's Chaperone Elopes.

When Mrs. Langtry visited Toronto she was accompanied by her sister-in-law, Miss Agnes Langtry, who replaced the piqued Mrs Labouchere as chaperone to "The Lily." She left Toronto on Saturday night with the company, and apparently was accompanied by a young Torontonian, who had been introduced to her while the company was here. At Suspension Bridge Mrs. Langtry stopped over Sunday, but when on Monday, at the hour for leaving, the company assembled at the station, Miss Langtry was missing. Someone said they saw her driving on the Canada side with the young man from Toronto. A few days ago Mrs. Langtry received a telegraphic message from her sister-in-law requesting her to forward Miss Langtry's baggage to this city. Mrs. Langtry refused to do so, and a number of subsequent dispatches from the romantic chaperone who deserted her charge did not alter her determination. So far as known Miss Langtry is still in Toronto. They are at present playing in Philadelphia, from which city the above news is telegraphed.—Globe.

"Freedom" A Fallacy!

No word has had more current use for the last hundred years than freedom; but, looking round who can say that the word has any practical meaning on its social side? How few dare to seem poor, however poor they may be. How few feel themselves free to follow any special taste or talent, if it draws them to adopt a life differing in any marked degree from that of the social circle in which they happen to find themselves. What educated person, for instance, would not be left on one side by that society whose unwritten laws he broke, if he deliberately chose to have very few material wants, and elected to satisfy those wants by manual labor?—London (Eng.) Spectator.

THE [illegible] BALLAD.

AN EXCELLENT [illegible] OF OUR [illegible]

I.

"How shall we win?" 'twas Bettes said,
Before th' election day was sped,
"Here's Fauquier's friends in great array,
And there's the very deuce to pay."
"Then pay him well," says Mister Boyd,
Says Mr. Boyd, says he,
"With whiskey and the dogs we'll beat,
And march home merrilee."

II.

"How shall we win?" 'twas Bettes cried,
As [illegible] his strength he tried;
"The woods are full of Fauquier's men,
Must I to private life again?"
"Not much, you don't!" says Mr. Boyd,
Says Mr. Boyd, says he!
"The Orange horse is still a force
To carry you and me."

III.

"By every job," 'twas Bettes screamed,
"That [illegible] planned or Hardy dreamed,
By every dollar Mowat gave,
[illegible] and he—and save!"
"You bet I will," says Mr. Boyd,
Says Mr. Boyd, says he,
"We've lots of [illegible], and right-good wills,
The Tory coon to tree!"

Postscript.

IV.

When Boyd had bullied, bribed, and roared,
His money spent, and whiskey poured,
But all in vain! his party stood
[illegible] beneath the enemy foot!
"I'll have revenge," says Mr. Boyd,
Says Mr. Boyd, says he,
"Next time I'll run, at least for fun,
They're sure to wallop me,"
Says he,
"They're sure to wallop me!"

Practical Prohibition.

The young ladies of Topeka, Kan., have organized Red Ribbon Clubs, the members of which pledge themselves to reject all attention from young men who use intoxicating beverages. This is practical prohibition.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Large Reward Offered.

A despatch was received by the Police authorities this morning, from Commissioner Henderson of the London Metropolitan Police, in which it is stated that a reward of £1,000 will be paid by the Home Secretary for the apprehension of the persons who caused the explosion at the Local Government offices, Westminster, and who placed explosive material in vicinity of the Times publishing office, and also that a pardon would be granted in addition to the above reward to any accomplice not the actual perpetrator of either outrage.

Very Economical.

A good story is related of an English theatrical manager, who by thrift and hard work has amassed a very handsome fortune. Previous to a pantomime one of the traps needed repair, and the head carpenter went to the manager, and informed him that it could not be done in the dark. "Well, lad, thee won't have the gas," answered the manager; "here, tak' this and buy a candle," and he handed him a halfpenny. The carpenter pleaded that they wanted two in order to show a light on the subject. "How long will t' job tak' thee?" asked the manager. "About ten minutes," was the reply. "Then cut t' candle in two," said the theatrical Crœsus; "thee won't have any more brass (money)."

April.

The Romans gave this month the name of Aprilis, from Aperire, to open, because it was the season when the buds began to open; by the Anglo-Saxon it was called Ooster, of Eastermonth; and, by the Dutch, Grass-month. The custom of sending one on bootless errands on the first day of this month is, perhaps, a travesty of the sending hither and thither of the Saviour from Pilate to Herod, because during the middle ages this scene in Christ's life was made the subject of a miracle play at Easter. It is possible, however, that it may be a relic of some old heathen festival. The custom is practised by juveniles at the present day, and much amusement is caused by the practice.

A Plan to Rob.

"Mother, are you hurt?" asked an agitated young woman as she leaned over the prostrate form of an old lady who had been knocked senseless in a Chicago street last Saturday by a runaway horse and carried into the nearest drug store for resuscitation. The crowd fell back with exclamations of pity and a gentleman handed her the old lady's hand-bag which he had picked up after the accident. Thereupon saying she would go for the family doctor, she left the store and disappeared down the street. A few moments later the old lady recovered her senses and asked for her hand-bag. When told that it had been given to her daughter, she uttered the single word, "Robbed!" and fainted dead away. At last accounts the police were looking for the "daughter."

A Boy Thrown Into a River.

A despatch from London, Ont., says that between six and seven o'clock on Sunday morning a twelve year old youth named Morris, while walking across Kensington bridge to put out a gas lamp at the west end of the bridge, met a boy who he thought was going to mass, as he had a book in his hand. While the two were conversing together, a tall man, very drunk, and whose clothing was muddy, met them and deliberately picked up the smallest of the youths and threw him over the railing into the rapid current of the river. With an oath he made a spring at Morris, but the latter ran for home and told his parents. The father and the boy returned to the place, but could not discover any clue to either the man or the boy. At first the yarn was felt to be a first of April one, but Morris' parents state that their son was very much excited when he arrived home, and the reporters who have since conversed with him are convinced the story is not a hoax. No report has been made at the police headquarters of a missing boy.

Bismarck contemplates reappointing the Prussian State Council, which formerly passed on all Government bills before they were submitted to Parliament.

Catarrh cannot be cured by any local remedy. It is a deep-seated and constitutional wrong-being, the tendency of which is to lay the whole respiratory economy in ruins. The Fountain of Health will reach the seat of this malady.

Bret Harte in one of his charming sketches tells of a schoolmistress who was accustomed to to take long walks in the pine woods of California for the benefits of the balsamic air. There is more in this treatment than most people will be inclined to credit. We see the pines and spruces have been brought into requisition in the cause of medical progress. Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce—a thoroughly scientific preparation—provides this treatment in a concentrated form, and has, after twenty years test, proved itself the most satisfactory cure extant for Coughs, Colds, Lung and Throat Affections. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

"Mutton" or "Lamb."

Some time ago a butcher named Emond, was brought before the Recorder accused of having sold meat unfit for food. The meat in question was a leg of a lamb, and in giving judgment against him the Recorder did so because he had sold "lamb" unfit for food. Emond appealed to the Superior Court against this decision, and the sentence of the Recorder was yesterday upset on the ground that the meat in question was described as "lamb" whereas the by-law under which the decision was given, stipulated that no "mutton, pork, beef or veal" should be sold if unfit for food.—Montreal Witness.

THE
PACIFIC NORTHWEST!
Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz. a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

The Great American Remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LOSS OF VOICE, HOARSENESS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS.

Prepared from the finest Red Spruce Gum. (Delicious Flavor.) Balsamic, Soothing, Expectorant and Tonic. Superior to any medicine offered for all the above complaints. A scientific combination of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce tree—without doubt the most valuable native Gum for Medicinal purposes.

Every one has heard of the wonderful effects of the Spruces and the Pines in cases of Lung Disease.

In France the physicians regularly send their consumptive patients to the pine woods and order them to drink a tea made from the Spruce tops.

GRAY'S
SPRUCE
GUM.

In this preparation the Gum never separates, and all its anti-spasmodic, expectorant, tonic, and balsamic properties are preserved. This Syrup, carefully prepared at a low temperature, contains a large quantity of the finest picked Gum in complete solution.

Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large.

Sold by all respectable chemists. Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

The words "Syrup of Red Spruce Gum" constitute our Registered Trade Mark, and our wrapper and labels are also registered.

Daily Evening Review

TUESDAY, APRIL 3, 1883.

The Cells.

One prisoner, arrested for drunkenness, and one tramp were the occupants of the police cells last night.

Gates.

Mr. A. L. McKay, who had the contract of making 400 gates for the Ontario and Quebec Railway, has about finished the work.

Board of Education.

A regular meeting of the Board of Education will be held this evening in the Collegiate Institute building at 7.45 o'clock.

Arrested.

William Doyle, junior, a former resident of Peterborough, who spent some time in gaol in this Province for burglary, has been arrested in Winnipeg on a charge of stealing a watch.

Cheap Land Salt.

The first consignment of Liverpool Salt, which has been expected for some days, has arrived at Rogers' Flour and Oatmeal Mill. Selling at 90 cents per sack.

Hour Changed.

The Police Court during the past week has been held at the hour of nine o'clock in the morning, instead of at ten o'clock. The former will be the regular hour for the holding of the Police Court during the summer.

Capt. Cheyne's Lectures.

The Mechanics' Institute has made arrangements with Commander Cheyne to give two lectures on Thursday and Friday, April 12th and 13th, the subjects being "Egypt and the War," and "The great search for Sir John Franklin." Those who heard Capt. Cheyne's lecture on the occasion of his previous visit will be glad to learn that they will have a repitition of the pleasure they then experienced, and the Mechanics' Institute deserves credit for this additional instance of its efforts to secure us lectures of a high class.

Shorthand.

The shorthand profession in Canada is represented in Canada by two Associations, one called the Canadian Shorthand Writers' Association, and the other the Canadian Shorthand Society. A discussion took place at Ottawa at a large and representative meeting of the profession in regard to the amalgamation of these organizations, a full report of which is published in Bengough's Cosmopolitan Shorthand Writer for March. The Canadian Shorthand Society will receive as guests, on the 16th and 17th of August, the International Congress of Shorthand Writers for the United States and Canada. Delegates are also from Great Britain and the continent, and this meeting will be by far the largest and most important that has ever been held in Canada.

IF YOU WANT large fresh oysters dished up in good style, go to T. Darcy's Restaurant and Oyster Parlour.

LACROSSE.

The Annual Meeting of the Peterborough Club—Election of Officers.

The Annual meeting of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club was held on Monday night in the St. James' Hotel. The attendance was large. The following officers were elected for the present year:—

HON. PRESIDENT—R. A. Morrow, re-elected.
PRESIDENT—H. LeBrun, re-elected.
VICE-PRESIDENT—J. Hackett.
2ND VICE-PRESIDENT—R. H. Fortye.
SECRETARY-TREASURER—A. Yelland, re-elected.
FIELD CAPTAIN—W. A. Sanderson, re-elected.
COMMITTEE—C. Rutherford, W. Redkins and M. McDonald.

The club has commenced another year under very favorable circumstances. They have a good record for the last year to encourage them. The attendance at the annual meeting on Monday night was the largest since the organization of the club, and twenty-five new names were added to their roll of membership. Already the members partake of the spirit of the sport, and as soon as the weather will permit practice will begin. This will be necessary, as the club are determined to hold the Gildersleeve cup this year, which will then become their absolute property, and to retain the championship of Central Ontario. We wish them a successful season.

POLICE COURT.

DRUNK.

TUESDAY, April 3.—Alfred Race was charged by P. C. Pidgeon with being drunk. He was a first timer and was allowed to depart in peace.

Personal.

Mr. John Shields, of Winnipeg, Mr. D. M. Russell, of Brandon, Man., and Mr. J. M. Ferris, M. P. P., Campbellford, are at the Oriental Hotel.

The Streets.

The continuous thaw has had the effect of putting the streets, especially George street, which has to bear the most of the traffic, in a very muddy condition. Although sleighing continues outside of the town, the wheels run the easier in the streets.

The Weather Probabilities.

The weather last night was quite cold. To-day it is milder, although there is a cool breeze. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Southerly to south easterly winds; fine, decidedly milder weather; probably some rain on Wednesday.

One of the Queen's Assailants.

The unfortunate monomaniac, Captain Goode, who died recently at Broadmoor, England, after confinement in a lunatic asylum for nearly fifty years for the outrage on Queen Victoria on May 24, 1837, persisted to the last, though sane on other points, that he was the son of George IV. For twenty years he was an inmate of Bedlam, where there were once at the same time three more royal maniacs—Jane Long, who called herself Queen Caroline (her madness was attributable to remorse consequent on marital unfaithfulness; Mary Stuart, religiously mad, who believed herself to be consort of George IV. and Charlotte Harding, an unmarried woman, who believed she was Queen Charlotte. Whenever their majesties met at the same time Bedlam became the theatre of a fierce and clamorous words, attitudes and grimaces, each claiming the exclusive rights of hereditary power, and disowning the others as impostors. A few years before Goode entered Bedlam, Margaret Nicholson, who made an attempt on the life of George III., in 1786, died there, aged 80, and James Hatfield, who fired at the same king as he stood in the royal box, Drury Lane theatre, in May, 1800, was an inmate when he entered.

Canada and Germany.

A large number of immigrants from Germany may be expected by the line between this city and Antwerp. These steamers will stop at London both coming and going. It is understood that the Government has made this wise provision in the contract without which it would not have been made: That while the steamers may go to a port in the United States during winter, the Company cannot charge a higher freight to the Dominion port than is taken for the further United States port. It is expected that the new line, with the establishment of which one of the directors of the Montreal and Sorel Railway, has had some connection, will make North Sorel a port of call to take in cattle brought from the west by the Canadian Pacific, and Montreal and Sorel Railways, and from the numerous parishes of Eastern Canada through which the South Eastern passes. An enthusiastic Soreller anticipates that importations will soon be made direct from London by parties residing along the line of the South Eastern, as the freight could be taken out of the hold of the steamer and placed at once in a car.—Witness.

A Bank Clerk's Suicide.

BROCKVILLE, April 2.—The body of a young man named Buchanan, junior clerk at the Molsons Bank, and who has been missing since Saturday, was found at 5.30 this evening in about 25 feet of water at the end of the Canada Pacific slip. It is rumoured that he was deeply in debt.

Result of an Examination.

NAPANEE, April 2.—Lewis Clark, gaol turnkey, was examining a loaded revolver this morning when it went off, a bullet entering his ribs. It is doubtful if he will recover.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

AS A REFRIGERANT DRINK IN FEVERS.

DR. C. H. S. DAVIS, Meriden, Conn., says: "I have used it as a pleasant and cooling drink in fevers, and have been very much pleased with it."

CREAM PUDDING.—Stir together one pint of cream, three ounces of sugar, the yolks of three eggs, and a little grated nutmeg. Add the well beaten whites, stiring lightly, and pour into a buttered pie plate, on which has been sprinkled the crumbs of stale bread to about the thickness of an ordinary crust, sprinkle over the top a layer of bread crumbs and bake.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcula which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly affected with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete elimination of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.

DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.) THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution. In Boxes at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., and 4s. 6d. Sold by Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world. Prepared by Jas. [illegible], London. Specially valuable Pills for residents abroad and travellers.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendencies, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

ANGLO-AMERICAN RELATIONS.

LONDON, April 3.—United States Minister Lowell, at the Lord Mayor's banquet, said he had read sensational statements in the newspapers purporting to give the instructions he received from his Government and the words he spoke on diplomatic questions. These prophecies were like those of Wiggins. He should, in spite of them, continue to believe the good relations between Great Britain and the United Statesenduring. Nothing he could do would tend to lessen their friendly character.

BUDDHISTS PROVOKE A RIOT.

LONDON, April 3.—Advices from Colombo, the capital of Ceylon, report that the Catholics recently objected to the religious procession of the Buddhists in which was carried a crucifix surmounted by a monkey. The Catholics regarded this combination as an insult to the their religion. A violent physical contest ensued in the street. Troops dispersed the rioters and restored peace without bloodshed. A number of the participants, however, were roughly handled, and there were several broken heads.

A KING ABDICATES.

LONDON, April 3.—Reports from Coomassie say that the King of Ashantee has relinquished the throne, and the entire coat of Western Africa is in confusion. No details have been received.

AN IMPORTANT FACT.

CORK, April 3.—The police attach much importance to the fact that O'Herlity has received an order for £20 from America. The order was stopped at the bank owing, it is thought, to the action of the Government.

EXECUTIONS IN IRELAND.

LONDON, April 3.—During Monday's debate in the House of Commons Mr. Parnell urged that further executions in Ireland be suspended until the Court of Criminal Appeal has been established. The bill establishing the Court reached its second reading in the House of Commons on Monday.

SOCIALIST ARRESTED.

BERLIN, April 3.—Vollmar, Socialist member of the Reichstag, was arrested this morning. He was returning from a Socialist congress at Copenhagen when arrested. The congress passed resolutions strongly denouncing Bismarck.

SENTENCED.

PARIS, April 3.—Five Socialists, who signed placards calling the public meeting on the 9th of March, and urging resistance in the event of interference by the police, were to-day convicted of instigating the riots, and were sentenced to three years' imprisonment each.

RUSSIA AND ARMENIA.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 3.—A private despatch received from Ezeroum states that business is virtually at a standstill in consequence of fears brought about by the great military movement of Russians in the Caucasus. It is known that a number of cipher despatches recently passed between the the Imperial Palace at Yildiz and the Governor-General of Armenia. Arrests of notable Armenians have begun. A fresh and long report from the Governor-General of Ezeroum to his Government accuses the Armenian Archbishop of formenting insurrection among his flock, and concludes with the demand for his arrest. The Russian force concentrated along the frontier is estimated at from 80,000 to 100,000 men of all arms, opposed to which the Turks only have some 20,000.

DOMESTIC SERVANTS.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—Has not anything resulted from the letter of "Sigma" as to making an application to the Emigration Department to have some domestic servants sent to Peterborough.

Perhaps if some of the ladies will make arrangements for doing this, they would call at your office and put their names on a list of those requiring servant girls.

Yours truly,

ACCIDENTAL OR INTENTIONAL?

LONDON, April 4.—A few months ago Mrs. Ordway was shot and killed, it was supposed accidentally, by a young stepson. Afterwards the boy was arrested on a charge of murder. It is understood that the authorities think that the boy was not alone in the crime. The woman's husband has been summoned before the Grand Jury.

THE PHŒNIX PARK MURDER.

DUBLIN, April 4.—The trial of the prisoners charged with the Phœnix Park murders and other crimes, which it was expected would begin on Tuesday next, will be postponed a fey days, owing to the fact that sufficient funds have not been raised for the defence of the prisoners. It is the intention of the accused to request in court that they be furnished counsel.

DAVITT ON DYNAMITE.

DUBLIN, April 4.—A detective from here operating in France has been recalled. Michael Davitt from the prison has written a vigorous letter to the Young Ireland Society of Glasgow. He says that the dynamite policy can only have the effect of exasperating the English democracy. He declares it would be far better to work and wait another twenty years than to play into the hands of Ireland's enemies by giving the reign to despair and revenge.

THEATRE BURNED IN BERLIN.

BERLIN, April 4.—The National Theatre was completely destroyed by fire with its contents to-day. There was no loss of life and nobody was injured. No entertainment was being given. The origin of the fire is unknown. The damage to the surrounding buildings was comparatively small.

TRIALS DELAYED.

DUBLIN, April 4.—It is said the Pheonx Park murder trials will be delayed until their counsel have been instructed.

HORSE RACE.

LONDON, April 4.—In the race for the great Northamptonshire stakes to-day Glenluce won, with Sun of York 2d, and Glider 3rd. There were six starters.

OBIT.

VIENNA, April 4.—Baron Wertheim, the wealthiest manufacturer in Austria, and a celebrated fabricant of iron safes, is dead.

A FIASCO.

LIMERICK, April 4.—The public meeting yesterday for the purpose of giving Mr. Parnell a testimonial proved a fiasco. Only forty persons subscribed to the projected fund.

SPECULATOR ARRESTED.

PARIS, April 4.—Simeon Philipsat, a famous daring speculator, was arrested here yesterday upon the representations of a Belgian public prosecutor. The charge is that he falsified accounts at his banker. The prosecutor demands that Philipsat be handed over to the Belgian authorities.

A MEAN FRAUD.

NEW YORK, April 4.—Stephen Roper was arrested on a charge of obtaining money from William Sherman, of Poughkeepsie, and John Relyea, of Rochester, by falsely promising to secure positions for them as railroad engineers.

SHOT IN A SCUFFLE.

CHATTANOOGA, April 4.—John Mellville and Toney Wiley quarrelled on account of the latter's wife. Wiley attempted to shoot Mellville, when the woman interfered. In the scuffle the pistol discharged, and Wiley was fatally wounded.

A TREACHEROUS RELATIVE.

WARSAW, N. Y., April 4.—The Sheriff of Wyoming county offers one hundred dollars for the arrest of Charles Cox, who went west with a draft for $1,650, issued by the Smith Bank, payable to E. M. Smith, and endorsed by him to Cox. The money belongs to Cox's widowed sister-in-law, who sent Cox to obtain it, and is part of an insurance upon the life of her deceased husband.

THE LARGEST MAJORITY.

LEAVENWORTH, April 4.—Nelly, Democrat, was elected Mayor by a larger majority than any Mayor has received for years.

ROUND HOUSE BURNED.

CORNING, N. Y., April 4.—The round house of the Fall Brook Coal Company was burned last evening. It contained five fifty ton engines and four small ones. Loss $75,000.

EXPELLED FROM THE MINISTRY.

TROY, April 4.—The Rev. George Spencer, in charge of the Methodist Church at Corinth and South Corinth, Saratoga County, has been expelled from the Ministry and has left town. He and his sister-in-law are accused of outrageous conduct.

MUNICIPAL ELECTION.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 4.—The Citizens nominees for Mayor and other city offices were elected by majorites of from ten to seven hundred.

A CLERGYMAN'S FLIGHT.

BOSTON, April 4.—It is stated that the Rev. Aderondack Murray's female friend preceded him in his flight from San Antonio, Texas. Murray had arraanged a meeting with his creditors. He had engaged in various enterprises in Texas, but failed in all. He had become very poor. He was last seen on Sunday in New Orleans, where it is supposed his friend joined him.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 4, 1883.

THE BUDGET.

Reflecting, as it ever must, the general prosperity or adversity prevailing throughout the country during the twelve months preceding its delivery, the annual statements of the Finance Minister of the Dominion must always contain much of interest to the people at large and a greater or less gathering together of financial and trade statistics bearing upon the business of the country and calculated to serve as guides to those engaged in mercantile and financial operations. It is scarcely necessary to say that the financial statement delivered by Sir Leonard Tilley last Friday is fully up to the standard of all his preceding financial statements, and is replete with facts of a most interesting, and, we are glad to add, of a most pleasing character. As space forbids our giving anything like a synopsis of his speech, we propose to do the next best thing which we can for our readers, and epitomize a few of the points which Sir Leonard made, and which are likely to prove of most interest to them.

In accounting for the delay which has occurred in bringing down this year's Budget, Sir Leonard explained that it was due to the late period at which the American Congress arrived at a decision with regard to the proposed alterations in their tariff, as it was impossible to ignore the nature and amount of their duties in framing ours. As finally adopted their tariff materially reduced the duties on tobacco, and in order to protect our own manufacturers, and to curtail smuggling it became necessary to revise and reduce our own duties on these articles.

Dealing with the financial position of the Dominion for the year 1881-2 the Finance Minister was enabled to show a surplus of over eight million dollars made up as follows:—

Surplus of Consolidated Fund Revenue	$6,316,000
Receipts from North West Lands	1,744,000

while the gross expenditure on capital account on the Pacific and Intercolonial Railways, enlargement of canals and surveys of the North-west was but $7,340,000, thus leaving a surplus over the entire expenditure of the year, and proving that Canada during the year, notwithstanding its enormous expenditure on public works of various kinds, paid for everything as it went along.

Sir Leonard completely pricked the opposition out-cry about the rapid increase of the Dominion expenditure when he explained and accounted for it. The first item of increase was $146,639 for interest, while as a matter of fact the country paid some $15,000 of interest less in 1881-2 than it did during the preceding year—the apparent increase being caused by the increased deposits in the saving banks and the deposits of the C. P. R. under their contract, and upon which four per cent had to be paid, but for which the same rate of interest was also received and went to swell the receipts. Another increase was on account of sinking fund. Then public works show a large increase, but Post Offices, Custom Houses, &c. cannot be built, and the rents now paid for the same ultimately saved, without expending money in their erection in the first place; neither can the Post Office earn an increased revenue and supply increased facilities to new and outlying districts, without increasing the expenditure therefore; so with the Intercolonial and Prince Edward Island Railways and the canals, upon which an increased expenditure of nearly $200,000 was recouped to the country by increased earnings.

But Sir Leonard completely knocked the bottom out of the opposition increased taxation cry when he stated that though the expenditure of 1881-2 was a million and a half in excess of the preceding year, yet the taxation required to meet that expenditure was actually thirteen cents per head less than would have been required to meet the expenditure between 1874 and 1878, under the Mackenzie Government, had the actual expenditure been then provided for, and this after all is the true test of the measure of taxation, not that of the gross expenditure. No one but a born fool would attempt to deny that as the country grows, as our receipts from our railways, our post offices, our canals and our other sources of revenue increase, so must our expenditure, but unless that increase causes an increase of taxation the people ought not only not to object, but should hail it as a sign of the growth and prosperity of the country, and we believe most of them do so view it under existing circumstances.

Coming to the financial year ending the 30th June next, Sir Leonard estimates the receipts on account of consolidated fund at $34,850,000—of which over six million dollars is derived outside of the customs and excise revenues. The expenditure is estimated at $28,500,000, leaving a surplus under this head for the current year of $6,000,000. To this, however, has to be added the receipts from North West lands, which the Dominion Government unlike that of Mr. Mowat, at Toronto, reckons as a receipt on capital account, amounting to $1,750,000, making the total surplus for the year $7,750,000. That will be our actual surplus receipts, and this with the increased deposits in the Post Office Savings Banks, (estimated at $5,250,000) will meet the entire expenditure on capital account on the C. P. R. and Intercolonial Railways, canals and surveys in the North West, estimated at $12,500,000, without going abroad for a dollar. Surely this is a satisfactory state of affairs for this Canada of ours, and an infinitely better showing than any ever presented to the people by the knight of deficits and ruinous loans.

But perhaps the most tell-tale point made by Sir Leonard—the one that proves that the great mass of our people are now enjoying a state of prosperity which they never enjoyed before—was that relating to the Post Office Savings Banks, and it is this:—That while the deposits in the Post Office Savings Banks only increased $2,300,000 from 1874 to 1878, or practically about the amount of the interest added to the previous deposits, the deposits have increased during the last four years $12,600,000! If the people have been injured by the N. P., where under the sun has all this money come from?

Well might the Finance Minister ask: Where would our securities have been to-day, if, instead of having surpluses, we had had deficits to provide for as well as the $36,000,000 we have spent on capital account, and the $20,000,000 of debentures and securities which fell due during the last four years? Even with a revenue sufficient to meet the ordinary expenditure of the country, the throwing of $56,000,000 of our securities on the English market would have been a serious matter, and would undoubtedly have added largely to our annual expenditure for interest—probably to the extent of a couple of million of dollars per annum, for all time to come. How much better for us is it that this expenditure and debt have either been paid for, or that the money has been chiefly borrowed from our own people, and that the interest paid thereon is spent in, instead of being sent our of, the country.

Looking to the future—the year 1883-4—the Finance Minister estimates the revenue, after taking off $1,200,000 for customs and excise taxation, at $33,250,000, against an expenditure of about $30,000,000, as provided for in the estimates already submitted. This shows a surplus of over $3,250,000, but the supplementary estimates are still to come down, and as our readers know, we hope to find in them a substantial sum for another division of the Trent Valley Canal. But, even if there is, and along with it substantial sums for other public works throughout the Dominion, we have no apprehension but that the revenue for the year will meet the expenditure. In the first place, all of these appropriations for public works never are, and seldom can, be expended within the year in which they are first made; then these estimates do not include the receipts from the North-West lands, which may fairly be appropriated occasionally, at least, for expenditure in the older Provinces, which have made the North-West what it is, so that even if Sir Leonard's estimated receipts should not be fully realized, which, judging by past experience, they are more than likely to be, there is no reason why necessary public works should not be pushed on with vigor. No one will feel to a great extent any of the reductions in taxation which can be made, but everyone will appreciate the improvement of the country, and of their own position. Therefore, improve the country.

Startling Statement.

Investigation at Boston into the management of the Tewksbury almshouse is developing some startling statements. Seventy-two children are stated to have died out of the seventy-three entered in a year. Drunken and insane inmates are said to have died of neglect. "Resurrecting" dead bodies is stated to have been a favorite pastime of the employees. Children and patients are said to have been fed on sour bread, and precious little of it at that.

Telephone Connections.

It is the intention to connect Cobourg and Kingston with all intermediate points by telephone shortly with the head office at Belleville. As soon as the poles are secured the extension will be made. By this Cobourg, Trenton, Deseronto, Napanee, Kingston, and Belleville will be connected by telephone.

POST MORTEM INQUEST

ON THE BODY OF JOHN DESINAULT. WHO DIED IN THE GAOL.

Died from the Effects of a Fall, Falling into the River and Remaining Several Hours in Wet Clothes—The Authorities and Hotel-Keepers of Lakefield Censured.

The inquest into the cause of the death of John Desinault, who died in the gaol on Sunday morning, was continued on Tuesday afternoon.

GEO. CHALMERS, of Lakefield, was the first witness called. He said that he was acquainted with the deceased. Saw him last in Lakefield on Wednesday night. He was a hard working man while at work, but was inclined to drink. He seemed to be sober when the witness saw him last. He left the witness' shanty about two weeks ago. Never saw him fight. There were no injuries on his face on Wednesday; do not know how he received those that were on it on Thursday. Never heard him complaining of having been hurt or of having any disease. The deceased was working for the witness for about five months. Heard that he was a married man. Paid him about $80 when he left work.

THOS. A. MASON, hotel-keeper, Lakefield, was sworn: He said that the deceased stopped at his house the night before he was brought to Peterborough. He laid on a lounge without undressing. He went out some time during the night. Last saw him about ten o'clock, and do not know what time he went out. He had nothing to drink there that night. He wanted to get liquor, but it was refused. There was then no cuts on his face. He was brought back some time in the forenoon of the next day, by Constable Shields. His face was then covered with blood. Did not notice whether he was wet or dry; he was only in the house about five minutes. Ordered the constable to take him out again, as there was sickness in the house and did not want to have to attend to a stranger. On Wednesday night he appeared to be recovering from a spree. Do not know how he received the wounds on his face. When he came to the house he appeared to be paralysed all over.

GEORGE R. SHIELDS, constable, of Lakefield, was the next witness. He said that he first saw the deceased between 8 and 9 o'clock on Thursday morning in J. H. Davis' shop. He was sitting beside a stove, warming himself. He was almost chilled to death, and was cut on the face and bleeding. Mr. Davis had sent for a constable, and the boy called for him. Took him before Mr. Hull, a magistrate, at his mill. Arrested him as a vagrant. Sent a messenger for Dr. Caldwell, and, by Mr. Hull's directions, took the deceased to Mr. Mason's hotel, where, it was said, he had got liquor. Was told that Mr. Purser had refused to admit him. Met the doctor while taking him to Mr. Mason's, and he went with them. Mr. Mason ordered the witness to take the deceased out, and took him to the door himself. Tried to take him into Mr. Berubee's hotel, but Mr. Berubee refused to have him taken in there. The doctor then told the witness to take him to his office. He was taken there and his wounds were dressed. While the doctor was dressing his wounds, the witness went to Mr. Hull to see what could be done, and Mr. Hull said that, as he would not be admitted into an hotel, the best they could do would be to commit him to gaol. Then took the deceased to Mr. Hull's office again, when he was formally tried and committed to gaol. Rolled him up in the buffalo robes in the sleigh, and brought him to Peterborough. Put some straw and a horse blanket under him and covered him with two buffalo robes. On the way down, asked him several times how he felt, and he replied, "all right." The deceased said he came from six miles back of Montreal. No change was made in his clothes after the witness saw him. Had no clothes to give him, but kept him near a warm stove. Was about an hour and a half coming from Lakefield to Peterborough. The deceased said in Mr. Hull's office that he had got liquor in Mr. Mason's, but while at Mr. Mason's he said he had got none there. Could not say that he was under the influence of liquor. He appeared to be suffering from weakness and cold. Did not think it was safe to drive him to Peterborough in his wet clothes, but did not think it would endanger his life. He required assistance to walk when first seen by the witness. He had not the use of his limbs. Seemed to be as helpless in Lakefield as when he arrived here. Do not know how he received the wounds on his face. Only supposed he had fallen. Remonstrated against bringing him to Peterborough in the condition in which he was, but Mr. Hull said that they could do nothing else, as they could not get him into an hotel. Mr. Hull directed the witness to bring him to Peterborough. Felt more uneasy about starting with him, as the doctor said he was not in a fit condition for the drive. Think that he was put into gaol here about two o'clock in the afternoon. Did not hear of him fighting or quarrelling with anyone.

CHARLES D. CRAWFORD, of Lakefield, was sworn. He said that he first saw the deceased on Thursday morning at about 8 o'clock. Saw him going down to the river at the end of the bridge in Lakefield. He was carrying a bag in his hand, which he dropped on the bank. He went to the river and stooped down as if to take a drink, kneeling on a plank. A moment or two afterwards saw him in the water, with his arms resting on a plank. There was no ice where he fell in, although there was ice below that point. The water there was about two feet deep. Went across the road to Mr. David Smith's blacksmith shop, and asked to be allowed to take him in there. Mr. Smith refused, and said to take him to an hotel. The feet and legs of the deceased were in the water, and the witness and Mr. Smith pulled him out, and took him as far as Mr. Purser's hotel. Met a young man on the street there who knew him, and requested the young man to take charge of him, but he replied that it would be of no use, as the hotel-keepers would not take him in. The witness left him with Mr. Smith and the young man and went back to his store. The deceased, about twenty minutes afterwards, got the bag he had dropped and went across the bridge. His face was besmeared with blood, but did not examine to see if there were any cuts on it and did not see any. Do not know how he received the wounds. Did not appear to be the worse of liquor, only that he appeared to be very weak. He could walk, but did so unsteadily. He did not not complain in any way. Afterwards saw him in charge of the constable. Do not think he was in a fit condition to be brought to Peterborough without a change of clothes. Only heard the deceased say that he wished to get to Peterborough. Saw him fall on the road on his face and hands. Think the wounds were caused by his falling on the road, and not when he fell into the river.

LUKE GROGAN, sworn, said that he saw deceased on Wednesday last about noon in Lakefield. Had seen him before that and knew him. He had a bag on his back, and did not appear to be the worse of liquor. Saw him on the same evening about four o'clock in Mason's yard in a sleigh, and he was then under the influence of liquor. He was shaking with cold, and the witness asked him to go into Mason's and warm himself, but he would not go. The witness then left him. Saw him again at about ten o'clock on the same night. He walked across the road towards Mr. Berubee's hotel, and fell against the side of the hotel, and his head struck against the side of the house. He went back to Mason's and laid down on the floor. He appeared to be drunk at that time. He did not cut his face then. Did not see him again that night. Did not see him drink anything in Lakefield that day. Do not know how he got the wounds on his face.

DR. WM. CALDWELL was sworn and said that he first saw the deceased on Thursday morning between 9 and 10 o'clock. Went to Mr. Mason's hotel. Mr. Mason and Constable Shields had a dispute as to whether the deceased should remain there, and Mr. Mason said he would put him out. Mr. Mason put his hand on his shoulder, but the man walked out. He was taken to the witness' office. Found his face and whiskers smeared with blood. His nose was badly bruised, and there was a cut on his right cheek, his lip was also cut. The witness dressed these wounds. Put two stiches into the wound on his cheek, and one in the cut on his nose. The wounds of themselves were not such as would endanger his life. He was then in wet clothes and was cold. Gave him a drink to warm him. He was at the witness' office less than an hour. When his wounds were dressed the constable took him away. Said that he should not be taken to Peterborough without having his clothes changed. He was asked whether he had any dry clothes, and he said he had, but that they were dirty. Remarked that the dirt would not hurt so long as they were dry. Did not smell any liquor on him. He acted like a man who had been drinking. Could not get information from him as he spoke little English. Am not in a position to express any opinion as to the cause of his death. There would be a risk of a drive to Peterborough, in the condition he was then in, causing a shock to his system. He volunteered no information.

JOHN HULL, J. P., of Lakefield, was sworn. First saw the deceased between 8 and 9 o'clock on Thursday morning, when Mr. Davis and Mr. Shields brought him into his office. Previous to that a boy came for him and told him a man was drunk, and he told the boy to get a constable. The deceased's face was covered with blood when he first saw him. A doctor was sent for, and he told the constable to take the deceased to an hotel. Mr. Shields and Mr. Davis took him away, and brought him back between eleven and twelve. Received the constable's information, and committed the deceased to gaol under the Vagrant Act. Did not know that he had been in the water bodily, and did not notice that he was wet. Asked him where he got his liquor, and he said at Mason's. None of the hotels would take him in, and there was no place in the village to put him. The deceased said that he had no money. Never saw a man in such a state as he was before Dr. Caldwell dressed his wounds. Do not know that a magistrate has power to provide anything for a man in such a case at the public expense. The witness thought that he was doing the very best that could be done for the man in sending him at once to gaol. Believe that if Mr. Davis had not taken him in in the morning he would [illegible] have lived to reach the office.

GEORGE R. SHIELDS, recalled, said that he did not examine the contents of the bag which the deceased had. Had no place except a public office to change his clothes in, if there had been dry clothes. Had him warmed well at stoves.

THE CORONER then read over the evidence given by the witnesses and addressed the jury. He pointed out the condition the prisoner was in when brought to the gaol and that he was properly cared for while here. In Dr. [illegible] evidence the cause of death was given. The question was, was any one responsible for his death? Did it arise from violence or from the culpable negligence of any person? If it did, who was thus negligent? He did not think they could hold any one legally responsible, as the constable and none of the others were compelled to furnish him dry clothes. At the same time the laws of ordinary humanity certainly required them to take care of him and should have prevented them from exposing him. Further on there was evidence which showed that the deceased had dry clothes, and that the constable was aware of it. While the deceased was at work he worked hard, but when off work he drank, and he had not been working for some time and had probably been on a spree for some days. He had not complained of anyone beating him, and the wounds on the unfortunate man were caused by his own weakness in giving away to the vice of drinking. They must take into consideration that the hotels had refused to take him in, and the authorities might have thought that the best thing they could do would be to get him to goal, where he would be attended to as quickly as they could. At the same time they admitted that he was not in a fit condition for the the drive. He thought that the authorities in Lakefield and the hotel-keepers were deserving of censure. It was unfortunate that there was no lock-up, or any such place, in Lakefield. He then gave them further directions as to the form of drawing up their verdict.

The jury was then left alone, and after some consideration returned the following verdict:—

"That John Desinault died on Sunday morning, April first, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three, in the common gaol of the county of Peterborough; that his death was caused from injuries received by falling and from falling into the river, while suffering from the effects of intoxicating liquor, and remaining in his wet clothes for several hours under exposure to cold, thereby producing shock.

"We are further of the opinion that the hotel-keepers to whom application was made for his admission to their houses, as also the authorities of Lakefield under whose notice he came, for subjecting him to the exposure entailed in driving him from Lakefield to Peterborough, a distance of nine miles, without changing his wet clothes on a cold day, when the evidence shows that he had dry ones in his possession, are guilty of violating the laws of ordinary humanity and thereby deserving of censure.

"In witness whereof, as well the said Coroner as the Jurors aforesaid, hereunto set and subscribed their hands and seals the day and year above written.

Plain Truths!

The blood is the foundation of life, it circulates through every part of the body and unless it is pure and rich, good health is impossible, if disease has entered the system the only sure and quick way to drive it out is to purify and enrich the blood.

These simple facts are well known and the highest medical authorities agree that nothing but iron will restore the blood to its natural condition; and also that all the Iron preparations hitherto made blacken the teeth, cause headache, and are otherwise injurious.

SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS will thoroughly and quickly assimulate with the blood, purifying and strengthening it and thus drive disease from any part of the system, and it will not blacken the teeth cause headache or constipation and is positively not injurious.

St. Johnsbury, Vermont Oct. 21st 1882.

For six years I have been a great sufferer from blood disease, dyspepsia and constipation, and became so debilitated that I could not retain anything on my stomach, in fact life had almost become a burden, and when hope had almost left me, I was induced to give Sulphur and Iron Bitters a trial [illegible] and have not felt so well in six years as I do at present.

MRS. S. L. MOORE.

SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS effectually cures dyspepsia, indigestion and weakness, and renders the greatest relief and benefit to persons suffering from such diseases as kidney and liver complaints, dyspepsia, indigestion etc.

Sold by all Druggists and at Depot 150 St. James St. West, Montreal, Price 50c.

The worst Scrofulous Sores, the most indolent Tumor, and the most foul Ulcer known, may be cured by the combined use of Burdock Bitters and Burdock Healing Ointment. Ask your Druggist for these infallible remedies.

Daughters, Wives, Mothers, look to your health! The many painful and weakening diseases from which you suffer, despairing of a cure, can be remedied by that unfailing regulator and unfailing tonic—Burdock Blood Bitters. Ask your Druggists for proof.

A HEARTY RECOMMENDATION.—Jacob A. Empey, of Cannamore, states that he has taken Burdock Blood Bitters with great benefit in a lingering disorder, and adds that he would gladly recommend it to all.

GUM.

In this preparation the Gum never separates, and all its anti-spasmodic, expectorant, tonic, and balsamic properties are preserved. This Syrup, carefully prepared at a low temperature, contains a large quantity of the finest picked Gum in complete solution.

Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large.

Sold by all respectable chemists. Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

The words "Syrup of Red Spruce Gum" constitute our Registered Trade Mark, and our wrapper and labels are also registered.

THE
PACIFIC NORTHWEST!
Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz. a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

Daily Evening Review

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 4, 1883.

Photographic.

Mr. Jos. McClelland's studio on Simcoe street will be closed until Saturday next, April 7th.

The Cells.

The police cells were empty last night—no tramps, and no prisoners.

Personal.

Mr. F. E. Burnham, M. P. P., for Emerson, Manitoba, has resigned his seat, but it is reported that he will run again.

Court of Chancery.

The spring sittings of the Chancery Division of the High Court of justice will commence in the Court House on Friday next.

The Weather Probabilities.

The weather to-day is mild and cloudy. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Moderate to fresh winds, mostly south to southeast; fair to cloudy milder weather, with light in some localities.

That Unfortunate Man.

The body of John Desinault, who died in the gaol on Sunday morning, and on whom an inquest has been held, was buried on Tuesday morning. We understand that it is the intention of the County Attorney to forward the papers in connection with the inquest, including the evidence taken, to the Attorney-General for the Province.

News from Abroad

The following paragraph is clipped from the columns of the Belleville Ontario:—

> "A young woman in Peterborough thinks she is heiress to the $50,000 a year, that is said to have been left to a Kingstonian who cannot be found. This is the third person who claims to be the heiress. Several townships have yet to be heard from."

We have not heard of any such claim being made by a Peterborough young lady, but would not complain if some fair one of this town should prove to be the heiress.

Journalistic.

The latest addition to Canadian journalism is the Hamilton Evening Tribune, and we welcome it as an addition to our ranks. It is full of news, fresh and well arranged, and admirably printed, while its editorials are short and terse. Though of course we cannot wholly agree with its programme there is much in it that is excellent. We hope that the Tribune will preserve the neutrality it promises, and when its independent position is well established it may spare rather uncalled for jibes at the political press—a party journal is not necessarily a hack or subject to the "dictation" of party leaders. We wish our contemporary the success it deserves.

POLICE COURT.

VICIOUS DOG.

Wednesday, April 4.—T. Cavanagh was charged by Peter B. Rogg with keeping a vicious dog. The complainant said that he was bitten by a dog on George Street, that Mr. Cavanagh's hack was near by at the time, that the dog followed the hack and that he had seen it in Mr. Cavanagh's yard. His evidence was corroborated by Charles Deline. Mr. Cavanagh said that he did not own a dog, but that he believed the dog belonged to Conners, who is in his employ. Judgement was reserved, and Mr. Cavanagh said that he would require Conners to get rid of the dog.

Remember.

The date of Hall, Innis & Co.'s Millinery Opening, Tuesday and Wednesday, 10th and 11th April.

Don't Fail to See

Hall, Innis & Co.'s exhibit of Spring Millinery, on Tuesday and Wednesday, 10th and 11th April.

No Quorum.

There was no meeting of the Board of Education on Tuesday evening, the regular monthly meeting night, as there was not quorum of members present at eight o'clock.

Acknowledgment.

The Committee of the Protestant Home acknowledge with thanks the receipt of $5.00 in lieu of 200 lbs of flour from the curling club, the result of two matches.

Bare Roads.

The roads in the county which are travelled to any great extent are now bare, the warm weather having removed the snow. On the Norwood road, for some distance from Peterborough at least, we are informed that wheels would run better than runners.

Fingers Lacerated.

A man named Robinson, who resides in the south part of the town, had three fingers of his right hand lacerated on a saw in McKee's furniture factory this morning. They were dressed by a surgeon, and though severely cut he will not lose them.

The 24th of May.

The Fire brigade having received an invitation from the Cobourg Brigade to be present and take part in a great demonstration to be held in that town on the Queen's Birthday, considered the matter at the regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening. All the members of the Brigade were in favour of accepting the invitation, but learning that the band proposed having an excursion to Niagara on the 24th of May, and were already negotiating to secure a steamer, the matter was laid over for a few days.

Personal.

The Rev. D. J. Macdonnell, of Toronto, and formerly of St. Andrew's, Peterborough, comes in for a bequest of $2,000 under the will of the late Mr. James Michie of Toronto.

Mr. Ormiston Dixon, the now widely celebrated ventriloquist, is visiting his relations in Peterborough. After a fortnight's holiday he proposes to join P. T. Barnum's great company, having made an engagement with him for the season.

Mr. John M. Wallis, who is conducting a very successful banking business in Brandon, Manitoba, has been in town on a visit to his relations, but has now returned to the North-West.

Oddfellows Celebration.

We understand that the Oddfellows of this town have decided to celebrate the 64th anniversary of the establishment of the Society on the American Continent, which falls on the 26th of this month. The lodges will attend Divine Service in a body, in the George Street Methodist Church on Sunday evening, the 22nd instant, when the Rev. Bro. J. Shaw, Chaplain of the Otonabee Lodge, will deliver an appropriate sermon. On the evening of the 26th instant, a musical and literary entertainment will be given in the Hall of the Otonabee Lodge, Mr. Cluxton's new block. Tea and coffee will also be served. It is expected the affair will be one of the most pleasant of the season. About two hundred guests will be present.

Another Inquest in the Gaol.

Dr. Bell, Coroner, was called on this morning to conduct another inquest in the gaol, on the body of a prisoner who died at half-past nine o'clock on Tuesday night. He was committed to gaol by the Police Magistrate on March 30th as a vagrant, having been picked up on the road by a farmer and brought into town. At that time he appeared to be almost dead from disease. A jury was empanelled, evidence taken and the following verdict was found:—"That the deceased, Nicholas O'Neil, died on the evening of April 3rd, in the common gaol of the County of Peterborough, and that he died from natural causes, namely the disease known as consumption." The deceased came to this country from Tyrone, Ireland, about six years ago, and has had no permanent home in Canada.

IF YOU WANT large fresh oysters dished up in good style, go to T. Darcy's Restaurant and Oyster Parlour.

Personal! To Men Only!

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and Manhood, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

Oh, What A Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50 cts., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will Cure your Cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves Croup, and Whooping Cough, at once. Mothers do not be without it. For sale by J D. Tully.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S INJURY.

Her Recovery Not so Rapid as Expected—Fears of her Health Being Affected.

Special Despatch to the Review.

LONDON, April 4.—The recovery of the Queen is less rapid than her physicians expected. While the injury to the knee is not serious, it is feared that it may effect Her Majesty's health by causing her to lose daily out door exercise. It is thought that complete rest will will soon reduce the inflammation in the limb.

H. C. ROGERS Postmaster.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used wide more and more favourably to its widely increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION. BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.

DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.) THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution.

In Boxes at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., and 4s. 6d.

Sold by Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world. Prepared by Jas. Royle, London. Specially valuable Pills for residents abroad and travellers.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendencies, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, billiousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

WISE people are always on the lookout for chances to increase their earnings, and in time become wealthy; those who do not improve their opportunities remain in poverty. We offer a great chance to make money. We want many men, women, boys and girls to work for us right in their own localities. Any one can do the work properly from the first start. The business will pay more than ten times ordinary wages. Expensive outfit furnished free. No one who engages fails to make money rapidly. You can devote your whole time to the work, or only your spare moments. Full information and all that is needed sent free. Address STINSON & Co., Portland, Maine.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

AN INFLUENTIAL DEPUTATION ASKS FOR A FURTHER GRANT FOR CONSTRUCTION

Favorable Reception, by the Minister of Railways and Canals—The matter to be Laid before his Colleagues.

Special to the Review.

OTTAWA, April 5.—Messrs. Hilliard and Burnham, accompanied by Messrs. Carnegie, Smith and Morrow, of Peterborough; Cockburn, East Northumberland; Dundas, of South Victoria: McFarlane, (Reeve) Switzer, Clew, Howell, Ganton and Stafford of Midland; Thomson, of Penetanguishene; Quinn, of Orillia; Rattledge, of Coldwater, and a number of others, waited upon Sir Charles Tupper this morning with a view to securing a grant during the present session, for another section of the Trent Valley Canal. In reply Sir Charles expressed himself as increasingly impressed with the importance of this work, not merely in the interest of the section of the country through which it passes, but the interest of the whole Dominion, and especially of the North-West. He requested that the views of the deputation should be put in writing so that they might be placed before his colleagues, and that steps might be taken thereon.

OTTAWA.

Special to the Review, March 28.

CONVERSING WITH A FRIEND at the Government House recently, the Marquis of Lorne is said to have expressed a desire that his term of office should be extended another year. There is a rumour current in this connection to the effect that the Imperial Government will gratify the wishes of His Excellency. As an evidence of the interest the Marquis takes in the welfare of Canada, it may be mentioned that while Mr. Stuart Cumberland, the mind reader, was a guest at the Government House, and during his stay there, His Excellency requested him as a favour to say a kind word for Canada on his return to the mother country in places where he gave his entertainments.

THE DEPARTMENT OF INLAND REVENUE acknowledges the receipt of twenty five pounds sterling, "conscience money," in Bank of England notes.

COUNTY COURT.

ARSON.

Alexander Fraser was brought before His His Honor Judge Dennistoun this morning on a charge of arson. The charge was that he set fire to to the police cells while confined in them, the particulars of which we gave at the time. He pleaded guilty.

Witnesses were examined, who had known the prisoner for some years and testified that he was a steady and industrious man.

His Honor took into consideration the circumstances, at the same time stating that drunkenness was no excuse for a crime, and sentenced the prisoner to one month in gaol at hard labour.

Mr. Weller, County Attorney, appeared for the Crown, and Mr. R. H. Dennistoun for the prisoner.

A SHOOTING CASE.

Mrs. Margaret Newell was brought into Court on a charge of shooting at her husband. The parties live in Norwood, and the family do not seem to live very harmoniously together. In the absence of the witnesses, the children of the prisoner and the complainant, the case was adjourned until Monday at noon.

THE CZAR'S CORONATION.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 4.—It is stated that the date of the coronation ceremony at Moscow may be put off till June. The date has been left blank in the invitations forwarded to the foreign Powers. Precautions of all kinds are continually invented in the hope of thwarting the Nihilists. It is reported that 40,000 men from the ranks of the Moujiks have been enlisted, and promoted to those of the nobility. These will be clothed in the garb of private citizens and stationed on the day of the coronation between the Petrowski Palace and the Kremlin. They will mingle with the crowd and all be armed, and be organized to act against disturbers of the ceremonies. The police have designated one in each house in Moscow who will be held responsible for the doings of the inhabitants of the house.

DANES RESIST PRUSSIAN DEMANDS.

BERLIN, April 4.—The resistance of Danes in Schleswig to the demand of Prussia that they serve in the Prussian military service is as strong as ever, and 20 have just been expelled from the country.

THE SPREAD OF SPIRITUALISM.

VIENNA, April 4.—The Bishop of Bohemia has become so alarmed at the rapid spread of spiritualism that he has declared that anyone professing a belief in spiritualistic doctrines is guilty of heresy.

THE BRITISH IN EGYPT.

CAIRO, April 4.—Lord Dufferin has received twenty petitions in favour of the retention of the British troops in Egypt.

NIHILISTIC PREPARATIONS.

MOSCOW, April 4.—A large mine has been discovered connecting with Kremlin, where the coronation of the Czar is to take place. One hundred tappers have been sent for to destroy the mine.

CONVICTS SHOT.

CHESTER PRISON. Ill., April 4.—Yesterday four convicts attempted to escape. One of them, McCormack, was shot in the leg, and Jas. Rogers in the shoulder; another was slightly wounded. All were recaptured.

THE STAR ROUTE TRIAL.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—It is reported that the foreman of the Grand Jury declines to sign the indictment against Kellogg on the ground that it contains a date which does not agree with the testimony before the Grand Jury.

SHE CAUGHT HIM.

NEW YORK, April 4.—Elizabeth Gendy, who accused Henry Herman, a wealthy furniture manufacturer here, with being her runaway husband, has found her real husband in Baltimore.

THE JEANNETTE EXPEDITION.

NEW YORK, April 4.—The Graphic's Washington correspondent says that it is rumoured that Bartlett and Otters will tell many things with reference to the controversies on the Jeannette, if the questions are not so skilfully put as to avoid unpleasant disclosures. It is said that Danenhower, at San Francisco, contracted a disease which unfitted him for the service required, and that he was much worse off than was admitted, and that DeLong was justified in placing Melville in charge of a boat.

SINGULAR SUIT.

NEW YORK, April 4.—Cornelius Brinkerhoff brought suit to recover from his former wife, now divorced, property valued at $118,000, which he once conveyed to her, as he supposed, in trust, to avoid its being squandered, the plaintiff being then dissipated. He also alleges he signed the deed while drunk. The jury rendered a verdict in favour of plaintiff. The verdict states that the defendant made false representations to the plaintiff. A motion for new trial was denied.

TWO CHILDREN BURNED.

SHELBYVILLE, Tenn., April 5.—A cabin here was burned yesterday and two children of Harden Hughes, colored, aged five and two years, perished. The mother left them locked up in the cabin. The Cumberland Presbyterian church and the cottage adjoining were also destroyed.

CATTLE BURNED.

GOSHEN, N. Y., April 5.—The barn and stables of Jesse Holdert, at Six and a Half Station, were burned last night. Forty-four cows and two horses were burned. The dairy was one of the finest in the country. Loss, $10,000.

INDIAN TROUBLES.

SANTA FE, April 5.—There are some apprehensions of a general outbreak at the San Carlos Agency. The Fourth Cavaly has been ordered to Fort Stanley and to Fort Selden to secur the country between the Rio Grande and Deming. Another company is scouting between Silver City and Lordsburg. Forsythe is still on the Animous range. The hostiles seem to have fled to Old Mexico. Everything is quiet at the Navago Agency.

HEAD WINDS.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Three hundred vessels arrived at this port yesterday. The most of them had been delayed by head winds. Many had perishable cargoes which are considerably damaged.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain and cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

BELLEVILLE.

A CHILD DROWNED.—The Ontario says that a sad drowning accident occurred in West Belleville on Tuesday afternoon. a four-year-old son of Mrs. William Dame, who lives in Beaty's Terrace, Coleman street, was playing in the back yard when it fell into the well, and was drowned. There was about eight or nine feet of water in the well. The child had been missed about ten minutes before the mother discovered it in the well. Mr. George Soby rescued the child but life was extinct. A physician was summoned but could do nothing towards resuscitation.

A Relic of a Celebrated Case.

Dr. Gully, notorious in connection with the Bravo London murder case, is dead. The case was that in which Charles DeLauncy Bravo, a barrister, died suddenly and mysteriously, in 1876. At first suicide was suspected, but the verdict of the jury was wilful murder by the administration of tartar emetic, but there was not sufficient evidence to fix the guilt on any person.

A Socialist Gathering.

The German Socialists have just concluded a three-days' secret congress at Copenhagen. Sixty members were present. including Bebel, Liebknecht and Hasenclever, members of the Reichstag, with delegates from Paris and London. It was decided to strongly oppose at the election in 1884 Bismarck's policy, chiefly his social programme and force fight against capital. The German police believed the congress was being held in Switzerland.

Fire in Montreal.

The Star says that on Saturday night about 8.30, a fire was discovered in the large four story brick building on Cotte street, adjoining the Theatre Royal, and occupied by three separate firms, the upper portion being tenanted by Messrs. Tees & Co., undertakers, the middle portion by Messrs. Sharpe & McKinnon, boot and shoe manufacturers, and the lower portion by the Union Machine Company. The fire originated in the second flat occupied by Messrs. Sharpe & McKinnon, and by the time the firemen had arrived on the scene, had made considerable headway. About ten o'clock the roof fell in with a tremendous crash. From this time the firemen had the fire under control, and prevented it from spreading further, but the building had been completely destroyed. The total loss is estimated at $50.000.

Electrical Tram Cars.

The trial of the electrical tram car at Gunnersbury was not a complete success. The car moved down the incline but had not sufficient motive power to ascend the up grade. It is claimed that the weight of the Sellon-Volckmar-Faure cells is very considerable (over 2000 lbs.), and so much dead load upon grooved tramway rails, meant not for traction, but for the guidance of horsed cars, is not applied in a way to show off an electrical mottor of this class. The electrical launch, however, moved about on the river at Kew Bridge, buoyed up by the water, at a good speed, and the silence of the machinery, the rapidity of its reversal, its noiselessness, and the absence of fire or smoke, would make the service of torpedo boats so fitted truly formidable for night attacks. Power and speed were thus well shown in this portion of the day's programme.

Another Safe-blowing Job.

The industrious band of cracksmen who have been blowing up safes with so much persistence during the past few weeks, Monday night made another attempt to reap a golden harvest, but they met with another disappointment. Some time Monday night thieves gained entrance into P. Burns' coal office on Bathurst street, climbing in through a window. The handle of the safe door was loose. This they pulled out, and charging the safe with powder through the orifice succeeded in blowing open the outer door. The inner door, however, remained unbroken, and before measures could be taken to overcome the second obstruction something alarmed the burglars and they decamped. The safe, which was worth $400, was damaged to the extent of $100. It contained no money, being merely used for the storage of books of account, so that the thieves are about as well off as if they had accomplished their end.—Globe.

Killed by a Locomotive.

At 2.45 on Wednesday afternoon Michael McCann, an expressman, living at 24 Mutual street, met with a serious accident on the Esplanade, a short distance west of the City Hall Station. He was unloading scrap iron into a box car, which stood on the Northern Railway siding. McCann foolishly backed his wagon up to the door of the car in such a way that his horse stood on another siding. He failed to notice the approach of a Northern Railway express, which was coming down the siding on which his horse was standing. The train men could not have been keeping a bright look-out, for they also failed to notice the horse standing on the track until it was too late to stop the train. The poor animal was struck by the engine and both its fore-legs cut off. The shock was so great that McCann was thrown off his wagon under the wheels of the engine. He received a severe scalp-wound, and one of the tender wheels passed over his right leg and arm, crushing them badly. P. C. Sheehan, who was on the train, immediately telephoned for the ambulance, whith arrived in about 30 minutes, and the injured man was conveyed to the Hospital, where he gradually grew weaker until he died, at 7.45 o'clock.—Globe.

THURSDAY, APRIL 5, 1883.

A SERIOUS CASE.

THE inquest on the body of the unfortunate man Desinault, though the verdict itself is rather vague, shows that his death was hastened if not caused by his being left in his wet clothes for six hours and driven in that state for nearly ten miles. However much his own misconduct may have contributed to the state he was in, he certainly had not forfeited his right to be treated with common humanity. But it appears as if even more that the laws of ordinary humanity were violated, for while under duress, in the hands of the law and not a free agent, there must certainly be some responsibility on the part of those who thus had charge of him. That a man with dry clothes in his possession should be allowed to perish in his wet ones seems to be something worse than a blunder and is no credit to our boasted civilization. We feel that the matter calls for further consideration and further action.

WILL THERE?

The St. Catharines News says:—

"Mr. Mowat will have a majority when the House meets, or he will not. If he has a majority he will go on with the administration of public affairs as he has done in the past; and, if he has not a majority, there will be an appeal to the people, and Ontario will be heard a second time."

Indeed! We rather think his Honor the Lieut.-Governor will have something to say about Mr. Mowat having another appeal to the people. If Mr. Mowat is beaten when the present House meets, or during either the first or second sessions, it will be his duty to resign. Should he not do so it will be Lieut.-Governor Robinson's duty to dismiss him, and call in some one else to form a government that will obtain the confidence of the Legislature. Should the new man fail to obtain its support he will then have some ground for asking for an appeal to the people. It would be contrary to all precedent to permit Mr. Mowat to appeal from a House just elected under his own auspices to the people, as suggested by the News.

DOMINION PALIAMENT.

On Monday Mr. Curran's bill to provide for the distribution of the assets of insolvent and for compulsory insolvency but not for discharge was read a first time.

The Credit Foncier bill was read a third time on a division after being amended so as to make the limit of 8 per cent for interest, include cost of management.

Sir John Macdonald informed Mr. Blake that no offer had been made to Sir C. Tupper to succeed Sir A. Galt in London.

Other questions were answered and several measures were advanced a stage.

On Tuesday the Budget debate was resumed. Mr. Ross attacked our fiscal policy, which Mr. Rykert, who followed him, defended. Mr. Rinfret, in French condemned the Budget, which Mr Amyot supported in the same language. Mr. Armstrong attacked the N. P. and said that if the Ministerialists were the choice of the people, "so was Barabas."

REPATRIATION.

THIS is what the independent Hamilton Tribune has to say on the subject of repatriation:—

"The Dominion Government's repatriation policy is energetic and deserves the success it has met. During last year no less than 20,857 Canadians, who had formerly left Canada to reside in the U. S., returned to this country, and with them came 3,411 Americans. The emigration of Canadians to Minnesota last year only amounted to 1,134; therefore the balance is largely in our favor. Every patriotic Canadian, no matter what his party predilections, should gave the Government credit for this.

THAT independent Reform journal the Toronto World, thus tersely and truly depicts the unpatriotic hopes and arguments of the Globe:—

"While the Ontario elections were pending the Globe kept quiet; now they are over and it is at its old work of decrying the country and the policy that the people have twice declared for. In every line of the article you can see the sentiment "would to heaven the times would get hard and ruin come." And why does the Globe wish this? Through the purest political selfishness, through the most disreputable partizanship. No true man desires to see the country ruined to vindicate his opinion."

MR. MOWAT has publicly owned that the late election has reduced his majority from about 20 (it should be 32) to 9 (which includes the independents).

OUR THROUGH RAILWAYS.

An Interview at Winnipeg with a Railway Authority—Peterborough Roads.

Sometimes home news comes from afar, and as the subject of the construction of the Toronto and Ottawa and the Ontario and Quebec Railways is of interest to our readers, we give for what it is worth the following extract from the Winnipeg Sun. Mr. Ross is probably a far better authority as to the road with which he was connected than as to the rival road:—

"Mr. James Ross, the newly appointed manager of construction on the C. P. R., arrived here last night. He was interviewed this morning. Mr. Ross was consulting engineer on the Ontario and Quebec in addition to being superintendent of the Credit Valley, and gave some information regarding the construction on the former road. The Ontario and Quebec is the C. P. R. link from Toronto to Ottawa, the western connection being the Credit Valley from Toronto, and the eastern the North Shore road from Ottawa. The work was commenced two years ago, and when the syndicate realized the loss they were sustaining by allowing the Grand Trunk the monopoly, one million dollars was placed last year at the control of Mr. Hugh Ryan, who was appointed superintendent of construction, with instructions to push the work with all possible despatch. Last summer nearly four thousand men were employed and the work of grading was prosecuted very rapidly. During the winter months the men worked on the rock cutting and blasting in the country surrounding Sharbot Lake, which is very rough. Mr. Ross states that just as soon as the ground thaws two thousand extra workmen will be employed (two thousand have been working all the winter) and the road will be pushed to completion. He says that by the end of the season the entire track will be laid, and there will only be a small amount of ballasting to be done. The section between Perth and the junction of the Kingston and Pembroke near Sharbot lake will be in operation in July, so that a considerable local traffic can be done, as the old Canada Central (now the C. P. R.) outlet from Perth will be utilized. The loop line in connection with the road from Yonge street, Toronto, round to Carlton, where connection is made with the Credit Valley, is now completed.

Replying to a question as to the progress on the Toronto and Ottawa, Mr. Ross said work on that line has ceased entirely and will not be resumed."

"How much money do you suppose was spent on that road?"

"I can hardly say, perhaps about $200,000. You see it was just like this. It was a Midland enterprise, backed by the Grand Trunk, the object being to secure the local traffic. I suppose the promoters never thought the Ontario and Quebec was going ahead, else they would not have expended so much money in pushing the work on that line."

"No prospect whatever of it going ahead?"

"It don't look much like. All work has been stopped, and the engineers and other officials have been discharged."

"How about the Erie and Huron?"

"Oh, that line is going ahead all right. Work which ceased last fall will be resumed in a few weeks, and the company hope to have the line completed by the end of the season."

"When will you commence work here?"

"At once, I suppose. I was just having an interview with Major Rogers last night, and collecting a few points. By the way, the Major left for Minneapolis this morning to organize his party to go to the Rocky mountains for the summer to prosecute the survey."

LAKEFIELD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

LAKEFIELD CHEESE FACTORY.

A meeting of the patrons of the Lakefield cheese factory was held in the factory for the purpose of completing arrangements for the ensuing season's work. Everything seems to have been quite satisfactory to the patrons as regards the past season's operations, and all seemed desirous of carrying on more extensive operations during the next season. Mr. R. C. Strickland our respected and popular Reeve, who has always taken a deep interest in the advancement of this important industry in Lakefield, in fact he has been its main stay since its start as well as the central figure in starting the factory at first, was through business unavoidably absent.

It was moved by Mr. T. J. Nelson, seconded by Mr. Isaac Garbutt, that Mr. R. C. Strickland be tendered the hearty thanks of the patrons of the Lakefield Cheese Factory for his services as salesman last year, and also that he be appointed to act in the same capacity this season.—(Carried unanimously.)

The above motion was subsequently handed to Mr. Strickland who replied that he appreciated and felt grateful for the kindly feelings to himself of the patrons of the Lakefield Cheese Factory expressed in the motion, but that owing the multiplicity of business and other engagements, which would probably necessitate his being away from home at the particular times when a salesman would be required in the interests of the patrons to attend the cheese markets, he must decline the appointment.

REGISTRAR.

The people in this part of the county of Peterborough who have frequent business connections with the registry office in Peterborough have been anxiously looking for and expecting the appointment of Mr. Grundy to the position of registrar. It would doubtless be the best appointment in the interest of the county, and likely the most convenient one that the Reform party could make. Mr. Grundy is very popular with the Lakefield people on account of the attentiveness and consideration extended to every one having business with the office.

LICENSE COMMISSIONER.

Mr. Robert Graham, of Lakefield, has been appointed one of the License Commissioners for the West Riding of the county of Peterborough by the Ontario Government. Mr. Graham will, no doubt, prove to be a competent, fair and energetic License Commissioner, and we congratulate him on his appointment to an honorable, if not lucrative, office.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

THE NEW HOTEL.—The new hotel is fast approaching completion. It is only two weeks since the former building was burned to the ground, and now Mr. Joplin is ready for the plasterers to go ahead. He and his employees work with a will; such men are a credit to any community for being good workmen—and steady.

ICE HOUSE.—Mr. Geo. Chalmers got the contract from the American Canoe Association, through Mr. E. B. Edwards of Peterborough, the Commodore, to erect a large ice house on Gin Island, Stony Lake, for the use of the great numbers that will be frequenting our back waters in August next, a very requisite thing for our visitors in hot weather, along with a saw-log.

THE ROADS.—The roads on all sides of us are getting impassible for travel. Farmers and lumbermen and others are getting disgusted at the long winter, and are wishing we had wheeling to-morrow.

THE SHANTIES.—The shanties are all broken up, and the men are wishing for the lakes and creeks to open, in order to drive their logs to their respective saw-mills.

Innocent Law-Breakers.

On Tuesday an amusing incident occurred at Kingston. The young ladies of three prominent families, one of whom is a daughter of a British military officer, wanted to catch the out-going steamer from New York, and the party left for Cape Vincent in two dashing equipages. The party reported to the preventive officer at Wolfe Island, and passed to the American shore. After seeing their friends aboard the train they started homeward, but forgot to report on the homeward trip to George Briggs. The officer saw the turnouts return, and immediately gave chase with a fast nag. He caught up after many miles had been traversed, and astonished the innocent law-breakers by stopping them and peremptorily demanding their return. Arriving at the Customs office the officer explained, in a solemn manner, that a penalty of $200 had been incurred, and further that he had the right to seize everything. Mr. Briggs decided to hand the case over to the collector in Kingston. The procession set out, and Officer Briggs must have felt proud of his distinguished following. Collector Hamilton took the parole of honor of the owners of each handsome turnout, and the case will be reported to Ottawa, with the result of an ending without an action without a doubt.

VICTORIA, B. C., April 2.—The body of a young man named Bailey was found floating in the Fraser river on Sunday. There was a bullet hole through the head. Robbery was evidently the object of the crime, and a half-breed has been arrested, who implicates an Indian.

The Education of Women.

A committee of the trustees of the Pennsylvania university have agreed upon a plan for the education of women by which they receive the same instruction as the male students, but at a different time and place. The female students receive degrees on the same terms as the males.

Discovery of a Suicide.

Mr. Daniel Sexton, farmer, in Gainsboro', four miles from Wellandport, was found dead on Tuesday morning in an apartment of a barn on his place. Deceased left the house at seven o'clock at night about a month ago, and not returning the family became alarmed and searched for him in vain, but finally came to the conclusion he had gone to Michigan. It is generally supposed that he suicided, as he had at different times spoken of putting himself out of the way.

Following a Precedent.

The Hamilton Times pitches at the Barton 'assessor for the daring, as it alleges, to inquire of ratepayers the nature of their political opinions. The man may have exceeded his instructions in this particular case, but he may plead the numerous precedents set up on behalf of the Little Premier. If the political leanings of the hotel keepers are each to be found out and tabulated in books kept for the purpose, why may not all the community? Is there any reason for making an exception, as against one class of the community?—Hamilton Spectator.

Ross and Hanlan.

Wallace Ross writes: "I was surprised that Hanlan did not accept my offer to row on Toronto bay, as he ought to have had no trouble in raising the money for my expenses, as it would pay the citizens to subscribe $500 to have the race on the bay, and if he did not want to give expenses he could take them and row here." Mr. John Wilson of this city, who recently beat Hanlan in a pigeon shooting match, received the following from the defeated competitor from Washington: "Go and get your suit of clothes and charge to me; I'll shoot you for $500 in the fall."—World.

Settling the North-West.

The Emerson International of March 30th, says:—At 10.25 last evening a train of seventeen cars of stock and one car of fruit arrived from the south, and this morning a special with three cars of passengers and baggage came through direct from Toronto. There were 125 passengers, and they had a very short trip. They passed on the way a very heavy train of English emigrants bound for the great North-west. The party that arrived this morning were nearly all going west of Winnipeg. They were a very superior class of settlers.

His Hand At Last.

Morgan, who was arrested at Cork on Monday, is an employee of a steamship company and is accused of using his position to facilitate the carrying of arms and explosives between England and Cork. He is also a caretaker of the temperance club of which O'Herlihy is president. The documents found on Featherstone, the man who was arrested with O'Herlihy, and said to be a newspaper writer, shows him to be in direct communication with O'Donovan Rossa. Letters from Rossa were seized, giving elaborate orders regarding the mode of using explosives similar to those found in a box carried by Deasy, arrested at Liverpool on Thursday.

Heroic Rescue.

Near the corner of Clarence and York streets, London, on Thursday morning, a horse attached to a heavy single wagon became frightened at a passing engine, it was supposed, and ran away. At the same time a little girl was passing over the crossing, but did not observe the coming rig. Inspector Lee, who happened to be passing at the time, caught the lines and dragged the horse to one side, just in time to save the child. The horse was not checked entirely, however, for Mr. Lee was thrown down, pulled along a few steps and then run over by the hind wheel of the vehicle.

Gold in Wales.

Several eminent English geologists think that Wales is to be the new El Dorado. Small pieces of gold washed away from the hillsides have been found in the valley of Llanelltyr, and they say if there are nuggets of gold in the valley or in the spurs of old river beds, then there is gold quartz in the mountains. If some of the mountain ranges were tapped, it is likely a real gold field would be found there. From the run of the hills in North Wales, the gold reefs, if they were worth working, run from the coast line across Merioneth, North Montgomery, a part of Shropshire and Cheshire, and on into Derbyshire.

Serious Railway Accident.

When the engine of the Canada Southern accommodation train, due to leave at Niagara Falls at ten on Tuesday morning for Buffalo, was taking some freight cars out of the siding it ran off the switch, which was wrongly set, and toppled over into the ditch fifteen feet below the level of the track, badly wrecking the engine and blocking the tracks. Engineer Patterson Hall very narrowly escaped death, both he and his fireman jumping from their engine. He leaving it on the side it went over into the ditch but managed to clear himself from being struck by the engine. An auxiliary force from Fort Erie arrived, and inside of two hours had the track clear for traffic.

FROM ALL OVER.

HOPES are still entertained that a compromise will be effected in the negotiations between Germany and the Vatican.

DON'T PULL IT.—Use Newton's one minute toothache cure. Relief at once; of all dealers, 15cts.

THE dissensions in the Cabinet are causing some excitement in France. Gen. Thibaudin declared he would resign unless General De Galliffet, Commander of the Cavalry, were removed.

A VISITOR to Rio Janeiro writes that the burial caskets in that locality are covered with black, red, or violet material, bordered with gilt tinsel, giving them the sprightly air of bon-bon boxes.

CATARRH is the [illegible] Hall's Catarrh Cure never fails to cure. Price 75 cents. For sale by John McKee, druggist.

DURING the past six days eight old residents of Hamilton have died. Their ages added together amount to 563 years, making an average of 69 years to each. The oldest was 75 years and the youngest 50 years.

ONE OF OUR BEST CITIZENS would say to the public that he has tried Hall's Catarrh Cure, and that it is all that is claimed for it. Price 75 cents per bottle. For sale by John McKee, druggist.

MR. J. B. JOHNSTONE, who is now acting in London, is believed to be the oldest actor on the English stage. His age is 80. In his time Mr. Johnstone has contributed to the literature of the stage some 200 pieces, including adaptations. He says the average price which he received for them was $25 each.

MRS. CAMPBELL, 244 Walton Avenue, Toronto, says:—"I had suffered much for a long time by derangement of Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Two months' using of Fountain of Health has almost completely restored me."

LAST Sunday Professor Swing administered the rite of baptism to seven children at his residence in Chicago. The water used was brought from the river Jordan by the grandfather of one of the little ones, and the silver christening cup in which it was held was formerly the property of President Lincoln.

AN acrobat gives an exhibition in Chicago that for daring surpasses anything ever seen. He balances himself on his head on a trapeze 30 feet high, and, without support from either hands or feet, remains for fully five minutes eating and drinking in this inverted position. He then makes the trapeze swing sideways.

"BLOOD WILL TELL." A face adorned with Pimples, Pulls, Blotches &c., is not a particularly pleasant sight, and invariably betokens an impure state of the Blood. Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters free the system from all gross humours, renders the Blood Pure and Cool, aids digestion and gives a healthy appetite. For sale by all Druggists in large Bottles at 50 cents.

A CLEVER Yankee in Paris recently opened a booth on one of the boulevards and invited the public to enter at an admission fee of three sous and inspect the fashions of the times. One of the conditions of admission was that visitors were to say nothing outside as to what they had seen. What they saw was their own images in a large mirror.

BRET HARTE in one of his charming sketches tells of a [illegible] who was recommended to take long walks in the pine woods of California for the benefits of the balsamic air. There is more in this treatment than most people will be inclined to credit. We see the pines and spruces have been brought into requisition in the cause of medical progress. GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE—a thoroughly scientific preparation—provides this treatment in a concentrated form, and has, after twenty years' test, proved itself the most satisfactory cure extant for Coughs, Colds, Lung and Throat Affections. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

A Medical School for Women.

The Canadian Practitioner of Toronto, for April, says:—"We believe there is some foundation for the rumour which recently appeared in lay and professional journals respecting the organization of a medical school for women in Toronto. Such a scheme is under consideration, and it is thought arrangements will soon be completed, whereby a commencement will be made in October of this year. One of the most serious difficulties in such an undertaking will be the all-important question of money, of which a considerable amount will be required in inaugurating the movement; but as there are many of both sexes in this city who have strong convictions on the question of the education of women, and as such persons have intimated their willingness to give substantial assistance, the promoters have reason to believe that the means will be provided by such parties to form an endowment fund, which will place the proposed school on a permanent basis, and guard against the possibility of failure." A World reporter learned last night that the school was sure to go ahead, and that Dr. Jenny K. Trout, of Jarvis street has determined on giving $10,000 toward the establishment of the school.—World.

The Passion Play.

Salmi Morse undertook to produce the Passion Play in New York on Tuesday evening for the benefit of the home for poor children, no entrance fee being charged. The temple was crowded. A few minutes before 8 o'clock the police served upon Morse an injunction, sued out by the society for the reformation of juvenile delinquents, restraining the production of the play. Mr. Morse informed the audience, and the announcement was greeted with hisses. Morse's counsel made a speech denouncing the proceeding as an outrage, and trampling on civil and religious liberty. The affidavit on which the injunction granted was made by J. J. Fitzgerald, and declares the performance a disgrace to religion, and was to be given in an unlicensed place. The matter will come before Judge Donohue on April 11th.

Arrested for Theft.

Three captains of lighters, the superintendent of a transportation company, two engineers and five workmen have been arrested in connection with a theft of goods from the Inman pier at New York after the fire a few months ago. The goods were valued at $60,000. Three thousand dollars worth have been recovered. Duty had not been paid on the stolen property.

Plain Truths!

The blood is the foundation of life, it circulates through every part of the body and unless it is pure and rich, good health is impossible, if disease has entered the system the only sure and quick way to drive it out is to purify and enrich the blood.

These simple facts are well known and the highest medical authorities agree that nothing but iron will restore the blood to its natural condition; and also that all the Iron preparations hitherto made blacken the teeth, cause headache, and are otherwise injurious.

SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS will thoroughly and quickly assimulate with the blood, purifying and strengthening it and thus drive disease from any part of the system, and it will not blacken the teeth cause headache or constipation and is positively not injurious.

St. Johnsbury, Vermont Oct. Sept 1882.

For six years I have been a great sufferer from blood disease, dyspepsia and constipation, and became so debilitated that I could not retain anything on my stomach, in fact life had almost become a burden, and when hope had almost left me, I was induced to give SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS a trial. I am now taking the third bottle and have not felt so well in six years as I do at present.

MRS. S. L. MOORE.

SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS effectually cures dyspepsia, indigestion and weakness, and renders the greatest relief and benefit to persons suffering from such diseases as kidney and liver complaints, dyspepsia, indigestion etc.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz: a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUGHTS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

A large area of very fertile [illegible] the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The Weather Probabilities.

The weather is mild, but a slight rain has been falling all day. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Southerly to south westerly winds; warmer, fair to cloudy weather, with local rains to-day. Colder north and north-east winds on Friday.

Capt. Cheyne's Lectures.

In reference to the lectures to be given by Capt. Cheyne R. N., on the War in Egypt and the search for Sir John Franklin, we may state that they will be illustrated by means of the Lime Light; and as the Captain's lanterns are now in perfect order the lectures will be exceedingly interesting as well as instructive. At his last visit he had to use a substitute for his own apparatus which had been smashed on the railway. It is confidently hoped that the public will support the Institute in its endeavours to promote rational and intellectual amusement by an overflowing house. The lectures will be delivered on Thursday and Friday of next week.

Good Advice Gratis.

As the winter season is taking its leave I would impress upon the minds of my numerous customers the necessity of having their furs repaired before storing them away, or not later than the first of October. As the fur trade is more peculiar than any other trade, dependent, not only on the whims of climate, but on the changing of styles as well, the season of only a couple of months demands entirely the attention of ordered goods, and mending of furs becomes an impossibility without incurring great loss. The increasing trade has made it necessary to introduce a fur sewing machine, hitherto only used by wholesale manufacturing houses, but as the stock of furs has been well cleared out, the busy season for manufacturing new stock has begun.

SPRING MILLINERY.

Preparing for the Coming Spring—A Beautiful Display to Tempt the Ladies.

Though the weather at present does not seem very propitious for the display of spring finery, some of our leading millinery establishments have taken time by the forelock and have already opened their show-rooms for the display of their attractive goods.

MISS DELANEY.

On visiting Miss Delaney's millinery establishment, now open for the display of spring goods, one is at once struck with the taste with which the windows are dressed with bonnets, hats, &c., giving promise in advance of the attractions within. On entering, a beautiful hanging trophy of artificial [illegible] the eye is attracted by a large case of [illegible] flowers. To match with this is a similar case of plumes, plain and shaded, in a great variety of tints, with a beautiful novelty, the ostridge pompons and willow plumes. There is also a very extensive assortment of black plumes. There is an abundance of room for choice in the bonnets and hats in Parisian, American and English patterns, among which we may mention for bonnets the "Peek-a-boo," "Coralie," &c., and for hats the "Langtry," "Standard," and "Jersey Lily." There is also a great variety in mantles and in the materials for them, including plain Ottoman silks, Ottoman brocades (with laces to match), Satin de Lyons and gros grain. Of ribbons, which are especially beautiful this season, there is a large and well chosen assortment, and laces are also a specialty at this establishment. As to minor matters, we have no space for an enumeration, but no doubt the ladies will call and judge for themselves.

FAIRWEATHER & CO.

The millinery show rooms of Messrs. Fairweather & Co., which were opened on Wednesday and Thursday, presented a very beautiful display, arranged in a most effective manner. As usual, the bonnets and hats were the most striking objects amid so many attractions. Many of them are patterns just imported from Paris, and others are due to the good taste of Miss Elliott, who has charge of this department. They present a great variety, of all the different styles of the new fashions, some of the most noticeable of the shapes in bonnets being the "Peek-a-boo," "Mistletoe," &c., and in hats the "Gondola," "Albany," &c., and a very pretty blue hat is quite a new and quaint style for children. Some of the hats are still large enough to be rather obstructive in a theatre, while, on the other hand, many of the bonnets are small and close fitting. In mantles there are the "Brocade," "Ottoman," "Imbricated," and a variety of others. There is a choice assortment of other millinery goods, feathers, flowers, &c., in short, a host of attractions for the fair customers for whom all these beautiful things are provided.

MUNRO AND ALEXANDER.

Messrs. Munro and Alexander's display of spring millinery is admirably arranged in their show room, and has been adjusted in such a way as to impart a good effect, while the quality of the goods themselves heighten that effect when they are more closely examined. A handsome bouquet of artificial flowers, placed so as to attract attention at once, displays many of the different kinds of flowers. The new styles in hats are very pretty, and the "Peek-a-boo" is appropriately named and is likely to be much worn. The hats of smaller size are very neat, and the larger ones, while not too large, are very graceful. In the trimmings the abundance of flowers and lace is noticed, and admirable taste is displayed in the manner in which they are used. The most fashionable colors are the crushed strawberry (of different shades), sapphire (or cadet) blue and terracotta of different hues. The stock of millinery which the firm shows is large, handsome and of good quality. They have a large assortment of fine flowers, feathers, &c., and of the ribbons most used in trimming, such as the narrow ribbons, of the fashionable colors. Their stock of children's hats of neat patterns is also large, and they have an extensive supply of requisites for ladies wear. The millinery department is under the able management of Miss Winters, and the specimens of her work shown prove that she is competent to please the most fastidious. The windows of the store are dressed with taste.

MR. J. C. TURNBULL.

On entering Mr. Turnbull's show room one is struck with the idea that Miss Irons, who in charge of the department, has a natural gift for millinery work. The display of millinery is very attractive, and the ladies who have visited the show room have been agreeably surprised at the taste displayed in decorating the show room with the articles which they will require. The English, French and American millinery is unusually enticing, and of these goods Mr. Turnbull has an uncommonly large supply. The trimming is of superior quality, and the presence of flowers in abundance is noticeable. The use made of the rose-bud is exceedingly pretty, and the fashionable colors in trimmings—which, let us remark, are beautiful colors—are adapted with skill and taste. The assortment of artificial flowers is extensive, and the millinery made in the department of his establishment is such as to prove that customers who leave orders can depend on having the work executed to their satisfaction. The mantle department is supplied with a large stock made of silks, plain and brocaded, and satins, with trimmings to match—the trimmings are indeed beautiful. The windows of Mr. Turnbull's store are very attractively dressed.

HALL, INNIS & CO.

This old establishment and highly appreciated firm, has announced its millinery opening for Tuesday and Wednesday, April 10th and 11th, when no doubt they will have numerous visitors and will gratify them with usual excellent display.

OTHER ESTABLISHMENTS.

So far no announcements has been made by the other millinery establishments of Peterborough of their spring business, but we will probably have them shortly.

Remember

The date of Hall, Innis & Co.'s Millinery Opening, Tuesday and Wednesday, 10th and 11th April.

DOMESTIC AND USEFUL.

LEMON SYRUP.—To every pint of juice, add one pound and a quarter of white sugar. Simmer until clear, then cool and bottle, corking tightly.

MINCE PIE.—If you wish to be exact about distribution of raisins a mince pie, this is the way to do so; When the mincemeat is ready to be put in the crust, pick out the raisins and put them in a basin on the stove with enough water to cover them. Let them cook until tender; then after you fill the crust you can put the raisins in so that about the same number will come in each pie. Then if you wet the edges of the crust so that no juice can escape, you will never know by the taste that the raisins were not cooked with the mince.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS OF CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID perfect in itself, is the most potent cure for all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used wider and more favourably to the widely increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly affected with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, [illegible]. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

POLICE COURT.

INJURY TO PROPERTY.

FRIDAY, April 6.—Wm. Donovan and M. Hayes were charged with maliciously injuring the property of Thos. Bradburn. The circumstances of the case, according to the evidence given, were these: Two young men came up the street and, seeing a dim light in the window of John Craig's store, rapped at the door to get cigars. They were asked their names, and while waiting to see if they would be admitted, Donovan and Hayes came up. One of the latter two kicked the door, and not being admitted, Donovan kicked the window three times and it give way at the third blow. It is badly cracked, but yet remains in its position. The whole light of glass is worth about $100. This occurred at about midnight on Tuesday.

It having been shown that Hayes had nothing to do with breaking the glass, he was discharged. Donovan was found guilty and judgment was reserved.

Attempted Suicide.

Hiram Cornwall and wife, who reside at Byron, a short distance west of London, have been on a visit at the residence of Cornwall's father, near Palmyra, in the township of Oxford. Mrs. Cornwall suffers from occasional attacks of insanity, and during these attacks is bent on self-destruction. She is therefore constantly kept under close surveillance, and everything of a dangerous character is kept out of her reach. Old Mrs. Cornwall, Hiram's mother—who suffers much from rheumatism—keeps always by her a quantity of laudanum, and Sunday last, while the family were away attending church, young Mrs. Cornwall surreptitiously procured about two fluid ounces of the poison and swallowed it. She then went to bed, and a lady, the only other inmate of the house, was shortly afterwards alarmed by loud snoring. She repaired to the room, and finding Mr. Cornwall in a comatose condition, gave the alarm. Dr. Leitch was sent for, and the contents of the stomach speedily removed. By the copious use of suitable stimulants her life was saved. In her pocket was found a letter written to her sister before swallowing the poison, in which she avowed her determination to commit suicide. She was suffered from these attacks about thirteen years.

A Long Sleep.

On Friday afternoon Thomas Cobbledick, butcher, London East, prepared a quantity of meat which he intended to offer for sale on the market on Saturday. At the usual hour on Fridy night Cobbledick, who was alone, retired to rest, and sleep soon closed out all worldly thoughts from his mind. He intended to be up early in the morning. When the day dawned he still slumbered. Noon came, but still there was no sign of life in the dwelling of Cobbledick. Night closed and passed away and Sunday morning was ushered in, and still he slumbered on, apparently unconscious that a large quantity of meat was going to destruction in the adjoining building. At noon on Sunday he awoke, and after ascertaining that he had slept just 42 hours, his disgust can be better imagined than described. The only explanation that can be given is that an escape of gas from a coal stove overcame Cobbledick, and this being the case he had a narrow escape from joining the majority.

An Answer Wanted.

Can any one bring us a case of Kidney or Liver Complaint that Electric Bitters will not speedily cure? We say they can not, as thousands of cases already permanently cured and who are daily recommending Electric Bitters, will prove. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Weak Back, or any urinary complaint quickly cured. They purify the blood, regulate the bowels, and act directly on the diseased parts. Every bottle guaranteed. For sale at 50 cents a bottle by Taylor & McDonald.—1

Mrs. Campbell, 344 Walton Avenue, Toronto, says:—"I had suffered much for a long time by derangements of Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Two months' using of Fountain of Health has almost completely restored me."

A HEARTY RECOMMENDATION—Jacob A. Empey, of Cannamore, states that he has taken Burdock Blood Bitters with great benefit in a lingering complaint, and adds that he would gladly recommend it to all.

The worst Scrofulous Sores, the most indolent Tumor, and the most foul Ulcer known, may be cured by the combined use of Burdock Bitters and Burdock Healing Ointment. Ask your Druggist for these infallible remedies.

THE IMPERIAL BUDGET.

LONDON, April 5.—In the House of Commons Mr. Childers submitted the Budget for the year ending March, 1883. The revenue was £89,004,000, and exceeded the estimate £4,096,000. The decrease in the consumption of spirits made a reduction from that source of £500,000. The total expenditures were £88,906,000. The expenses of the war in Egypt, including the amount for the Indian contingent, were £3,896,000. He had no arrears to report on account of war expenditure as incurred by the present Government. The expenditure of the coming year he estimated at £85,789,000, and the revenue £88,480,000. The national debt was reduced during the past year by £7,100,000. He expected to make a further reduction this year of £8,000,000. During the next twenty years he expected to see the debt reduced by £172,000,000.

A NITRO-GLYCERINE FACTORY.

BIRMINGHAM, April 5.—The police made a raid on a suspected locality in Ledsom street, Ladywood, and discovered a Fenian nitroglycerine factory in full operation.

A SCARE AT NEWRY.

LONDON, April 5.—There was renewed excitement in Government circles this afternoon over a report that a sentinel guarding a magazine at the Government infantry barracks at Newry, Ireland, last night challenged a man discovered scaling the wall. The sentry fired and gave the alarm, but a search for the intruder was fruitless. The guard was doubled and orders issued to take every precaution to prevent surprise.

ANOTHER DYNAMITE FIEND.

LONDON, April 5.—Last night detectives arrested a man who had a quantity of stuff supposed to be dynamite, The arrest caused a sensation in business and police circles. The detectives followed the prisoner from Manchester, as he appeared a suspicious person. The officials at Woolwich are engaged in a chemical examination of the explosive found upon him. The police regard the arrest as most important.

WIFE MURDER IN PARIS.

PARIS, April 5.—Mme. Chalenton was murdered to-day by her husband. The Chalenton family were brought into prominence in connection with a sensational abduction trial. The woman sheltered Mme. Eidelia Demonasterio against the attempts of her mother to confine her in a mad-house. The young lady was taken by force from the Chalenton mansion by Carlos Lafit, son of Madame Demonasterio, who is a widow, and another accomplice.

PRECAUTIONS AT WINDSOR.

LONDON, April 5.—More precautions are being taken at Windsor Castle. It is hinted that the whole conspiracy here and in America will be exposed.

THE PARNELL TESTIMONIAL.

DUBLIN, April 5.—Mr. Dawson, the Lord Mayor, is forming a national committee to raise funds for the testimonial to Mr. Parnell. The committee is composed of bishops, priests, members of Parliament, mayors, and public officials. The fund already reaches £800.

THE MYSTERIOUS "No. 1."

DUBLIN, April 6.—At the trial of the prisoners charged with the Phœnix Park murder, a photograph of Tynan, recently alluded to as "Tyner," will be produced. The photograph has been identified by Carey and three others as that of "No. 1." It is stated that a portion of the money with which Tynan was entrusted for distribution can be traced to the Invincibles. The Government has an affidavit to the effect that Tynan and "No. 1" are identical. The Crown solicitor will strongly oppose the postponement of the trial. Peter Carey, brother of James, has been accepted as an informer.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

PANAMA, March 27.—Severe continuous rioting has taken place along the canal works, originating in race hatred between the Jamaicans and Carthagenians. Twenty of the former were massacred. The Government are unable to restore order; arms are being indiscriminately purchased, and no work is going on. Eight thousand men are drinking freely, and serious troubles is anticipated. The Government will be compelled to keep a strong police force on the Isthmus, which is being rapidly overrun by the dregs of all nations. The revolutionists gain ground in Ecuador. Orders is gradually being established in various sections.

HUMANITY REWARDED.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 5.—The local chief of police and other persons who contributed to the comfort of the members of the crews of the Jeannette and Rodgers, and extended courtesies to them, have been decorated by the Czar as a mark of his gratification at their kindness.

THE SOCIALIST CONGRESS.

COPENHAGEN, April 5.—While the Socialist Congress was in the midst of its session on the fourth day, the prefect of police, with the approval of the king, ordered Liebknecht, the leader in Congress, to close the Congress forthwith. The members of the Congress from foreign countries were informed that the authorities desired them to leave Denmark by Tuesday.

GERMANY AND SPAIN.

BERLIN, April 5.—A treaty between Germany and Spain for commercial protection and mutual advantages has been signed by both Governments.

AMERICAN.

BLAZE AT SYRACUSE.

SYRACUSE, N.Y., April 5.—Five salt blocks belonging to the Morris Run Coal Company at Green Point, and some blocks owned by Martin Cooney, and five dwellings were burned this morning. Loss $20,000; partly insured. It is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

MURDER AND ROBBERY.

ST. UNION, West Va., April 6.—Weekey, one of the men arrested on suspicion of murdering Doyle and two children, is under bail for threatening to kill Doyle, for alleged seduction of Weekey's wife. The citizens are excited and hundreds are coming into town. There are threats of lynching. Doyle kept a low grocery as a blind for doing an illicit liquor business. It is thought that he accumulated a large sum which he kept in the house. The robber must have obtained several thousand dollars.

CANADIAN CATTLE SALE.

CHICAGO, April 5.—There was a large gathering of stockmen at Dexter Park to-day to participate in the sale of Polled Angus, Galloway, Hereford, Shorthorn, Devon, and West Highland cattle, the property of Leary Brothers, of Canada, Georges, Whitefield, and others. Forty two heads were disposed of for an aggregate of $19,350; only two reached $1,000.

THE DYNAMITE FIENDS.

LONDON, April 6.—Thos. Wilson and Gallagher, the dynamite fiends arrested, have been placed under police surveillance. All persons entering are carefully scrutinized by the police. There are numerous accomplices of the prisoners at large. Large sums at regular intervals have been deposited in the Bank of England to the credit of the prisoners in Dublin charged with the Phœnix Park and other murders. The authorities vigorously but vainly searched for the source of these deposits. Dalton, arrested in connection with the dynamite plots, reached England in February. He was unassuming and maintained a reserved demeanour. He appeared more interested in English papers than in more common Americans periodicals and was more especially concerned to get the latest news. Wm. Doveton Smith, a prominent counsellor will defend Norman. It is understood that he will base the defence on the plea that Norman was an innocent agent and employed in the capacity of clerk for a limited time by a man from the United States, who has not yet been arrested. It will be held that Norman was entirely ignorant of the fact that the box contained explosives. It is alleged that Norman is respectable by birth and education, and to came England to find employment.

AMERICAN.

AMERICANS IN PRISON.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The World has received a letter from seven Americans imprisoned in Panama on a charge of robbing a railroad, complaining that they have been kept in a filthy place nearly three months, and vainly appealed for a trial, at which they assert they can establish their innocence.

POISONED BY MISTAKE.

TALLADEGA, Ala., April 6.—Four members of the family of John Adams were poisoned by eating food in which lubricating oil was used by mistake for cotton seed oil.

HUDSON RIVER TUNNEL.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The work of constructing the Hudson River tunnel has been resumed on the New York side.

A DENIAL.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The Rev. Adirondack Murray denies all the scandalous reports about himself and attributes them to an enemy.

A CAPTAIN'S SUICIDE.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Aapt. Holrest, of the bark Amelia, from Trieste, while the vessel was in the Mediterranean, bade the crew farewell and deliberately jumped overboard and was drowned.

SPIRITUALISTS.

CINCINNATI, April 6.—Nearly two hundred members of St. Francis' and St. John's Roman Catholic churches here have suddenly developed into spiritualists. Their action in attending seances have been severely denounced from the pulpits of both churches.

THE PRESIDENT'S PARTY.

WELDON, N. C., April 6.—The conductor, who failed to receive instructions in time yesterday, tried to collect forty-seven dollars fare from the Presidential party, to whom the courtesies of the railroad had been extended.

HATTERS ON STRIKE.

ORANGE, N. J., April 6.—A hatting firm here engaged Calvin Nichols, who for four or five years acted as instructor in the convict's prison, Sing-Sing, and Dannemora. Yesterday the men in the shop refused to work with him. All hatters here thereupon quit work.

RAILWAY NEWS.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Jay Gould was yesterday elected President of the Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific railway. The Directors authorised the Executive Committee to arrange with the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern railway for a lease of it to the Wabash road. The Rochester and Ontario Belt Railway Company have elected J. R. Dillon president.

THE SIZE OF IT.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Parties acquainted with the town Iquique, Peru, where it is reported a ten million dollar fire occurred recently, state that the whole place could be duplicated for half a million.

WIPING OUT THE INDIANS.

SANTA FE, April 6.—Small bands of Indians are making for the Buro Mountains. They passed near Deming yesterday. Two companies are in pursuit. Crook will make an aggressive campaign in Arizona, with a view of carrying out the idea of wiping out the entire band of Chiriouchua hostiles under the leadership of Old Ju. It is supposed that they are scattered through Chiriouchua Mountains.

A WATERSPOUT.

NASHVILLE, April 6.—A waterspout here yesterday flooded the streets, accompanied by vivid lightning, terrific thunder and a strong gale. It is now thought that the Cumberland river will rise above the danger line, with heavier rain in prospect.

UNPAID TAXES.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The Receiver of the Knicker bocker Life Insurance Company, has discovered that the company's real estate in Brooklyn is subject to unpaid taxes for five years, amounting to $300,000. These arrears were not charged as liabilities in the company's statements.

SHIP BURNED.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The ship Zorko was burned last night. She was valued at $75,000.

PRESIDENT OF A COLLEGE.

MEADVILLE, April 6.—Daniel F. Wheeler, of New York, was elected President of the Allegheny College, over the Rev. W. G. Williams, of Jamestoun, N. Y., and Prof. Gaff, of Pittsburgh.

REVISING THE LITURGY.

NEW YORK, April 6.—A commission of Bishops, clergymen, and representatives of the laity of the Episcopal church is in session here for the purpose of revising the liturgy of the church. The members of the commission include Bishop Coxe, of Western New York; Bishop Huntington, of Central New York; Bishop Doane, of Albany; Rev. Drs. Dix, of New York; Harrison, of Troy, and Judge Smith, of Buffalo. The deliberations are private. The alterations the commission may recommend will not be made public until the convening of the General Conference in October. It is not expected that many changes will be made in the liturgy.

THE PANAMA CANAL.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Charles DeLesseps has arrived. He says that seven thousand men are working on the Panama Canal.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, APRIL 6, 1883.

SPEAKING of the Orange Bills the Globe says Sir John Macdonald can "whip the French Bleus into line" if he wishes. Speaking of the Boundary Award the Globe says that these same Quebec Bleus have coerced Sir John Macdonald into robbing his own Province. It would be well for our contemporary to try if it could make its falsehoods a little more consistent.

IN the regard to the Bill for establishing a Railway Commission, which was negatived by the sweeping majority of more than six to one in the Railway Committee, Mr. Blake suggests and the Globe approves the suggestion, that committee should investigate the matter during the recess, and our contemporary adds that "upon the facts procured by this committee the Government should prepare a bill for which it should be responsible." The Globe seems to have lost its dread of committees to assist in framing legislation, which it recently manifested in regard to the liquor question.

BIRDS OF A FEATHER.

It is a common proverb, founded upon Scripture, that "No man is a prophet in his own country," but it seems that the Belleville Ontario attributes prophetic powers to the Peterborough REVIEW. The Ontario thinks that we ought to have known that the London Advertiser had apologized for one of its many vile imputations upon its political opponents, that this knowledge should have reached us before the paper, in question could have arrived in Peterborough and though we do not exchange with the Advertiser.

The London Reform organ, having published a disgraceful paragraph concerning the Hon-John O'Donohue, denied ever having printed it, and falsely charged its accuser with writing the paragraph in order to bring an unfounded accusation against it.

We are glad to make public, if it is any satisfaction to the Advertiser or the Ontario, that the Advertiser (after its guilt was clearly proved) acknowledged that it published the vile paragraph, professed that it had been overlooked (as it well might be amidst such a mass of slander,) and apologized for this particular specimen of its usual base practices.

We hope this will satisfy the Ontario.

MORE LIGHT WANTED.

THAT report in the Port Hope Guide about the Muskoka election seems to be attracting some attention, as well it may. The Examiner says:—

> "The Guide's correspondent, while in the main striking the truth, was palpably astray as to the part taken in the election by Mr. John Boyd, and yet this paragraph, which charges this gentleman with working to secure Mr. Bettes' defeat, and which our contemporary knows to be misleading and untrue, is the very one on which it founds a homily on improper influence by the Mowat Administration."

It will be seen that the Examiner agrees with us in believing it to be untrue that Mr. Boyd was working for Mr. Bettes. Our contemporary, however, admits that the report from the Guide's own correspondent "in the main struck the truth," and in this also we agree with it.

But it is just here that a question comes in that is a matter of interest for the public. If it is untrue, as we believe it to be, that Mr. John Boyd, who is so very uncivilly described by this "own correspondent" of a Reform journal, was working for "Sir John," we would like to know for whom he really was working in the manner described, along with the anonymous, "ex-constable." Upon whose behalf did they set all this whisky flowing, dispense all these Dominion Bank Bills, and distributes these fly-sheets, described by the Guide's "own correspondent" as "lying" ones? In whose favor did they invoke with so much success the influence of the wives of the electors?

Can anyoné who knows him imagine that Mr. John Boyd, who is a fair and open opponent, after working hard for his party in Peterborough, turned round and worked still harder against the same party in Muskoka a few days later?

As to the imputation conveyed by this "own correspondent," that Mr. Boyd was given "fat jobs" by Mr. Mowat, we do not blame Mr. Boyd for getting the best pay he can for good work. But we do blame Mr. Mowat and his colleagues most emphatically for so paying Mr. Boyd with our money as to make it worth his while to leave his business here that he may go to Muskoka in order to exert his influence, gained by means of these very "jobs," in behalf of these liberal paymasters.

CAMPBELLFORD.

THE BAND.—From the Herald we learn that a carnival was held in the skating rink on Friday night to raise funds to assist in purchasing new instruments for the band.

FALL WHEAT.—Fall wheat has stood up well in its vitality against the heavy covering under which it has lain for four months past, and it seems to have escaped any serious injury. The theory is entertained that the plant is affected to a great extent, or what is termed "smothered" by heavy snowfalls, but this winter seems to set that idea aside. From what we can learn of such places as are uncovered, there is good prospect of the healthy condition of wheat; it is looking well and is likely to flourish if not subject to too much frost and thaw.

SHIPMENT OF APPLES.—A carload of apples was shipped from this station to Liverpool last week. The purchaser and shipper was Mr. Simmons, of Colborne—the noted apple shipper—who bought them from Mr. Johnston, nurseryman, of Seymour. Some years ago Canadians could not grow good apples—they had to come from our friends on the American shore. Now there is a change. We not only ship apples to the United States as good as any that can be grown there, but our apples are eaten by the inhabitants of the old world—three thousand miles away.

WESTERN HEGIRA.—Some of the pilgrim fathers, and pilgrim mothers, and pilgrim sons and daughters have gone, and some are going on their pilgrimage to the West, and in succeeding years they will be looked upon as the pioneers who paved the way in the early settlement of the country, Among the number are Mr. Chas. Bonnycastle and family, Mr. H. Bonnycastle and family, Mr. H. Skinner and family, Mr. R. Skinner, Mr. C. Cockburn, and Mr. C. W. Turner.

A Thief Caught.

Complaints frequently reached the post office in Montreal, from the Witness office, that money letters had not arrived. The post office officials at length suspected that the thefts were not committed in the post office, and a man on Wednesday morning followed the boy who carried the letters, in the employ of the Witness office, to the office of that paper, having previously posted a letter with the appearance of containing money. The delinquent had delivered the letters when they arrived, but was called into the presence of the publisher of the paper, and there accused of abusing the trust reposed in him. It is said a guilty conscience is its own accuser, and never was the proverb more strikingly illustrated than in this case; for, on hearing the charge, the criminal dropped instantly in a faint, and lay motionless on the floor for twenty minutes. It was a sad scene to witness, but where there was so much sensitiveness to unutterably disgrace at his fall from honour and integrity, there must be hope entertained for future amendment. On the delinquent's person three money letters were found, and when he revived from the swoon, he confessed his guilt. Up to a late hour that night he had not been arrested, or a warrant applied for, but in fair play to the whole staff of the local post office, which has been labouring under unjust suspicions, justice should be meted out to the offender as a wholesome example to others.

Burglars in Toronto.

The hand of the burglars who worked the Elder carriage factory, Central prison, and Burns' coal office jobs in Toronto, has been seen again. This time, however, the "midnight mechanics" have changed their base of operations from the western section of the city to the extreme eastern limits. Early on Wednesday morning they visited several places on the Kingston road in the vicinity of Leslieville. At the store and dwelling of Mr. Manson they were accorded a pretty armreception, that gentleman, as a parting rememberance, sending two bullets after them. The drug store and residence of Dr. Spears, Kingston road, Riverside was also visited, and here the operations seem to have been more successful as they carried off about $200 worth of valuables. The grocery store of Mr. John McFadden, on the county side of the Kingston road, corner of Russell's lane, Leslieville, was also entered some time on Tuesday night or Wednesday morning. The till, containing eight dollars, was taken. Dr. Fisher's drug store and J. Hourigan's fancy store, corner of Kingston road and DeGrassi street, were also entered, it is supposed about 3 a. m. Nothing was missed, as no money was left in the tills. All the premises burglarized were entered by opening the doors with pliers from the outside.

Hydrophobia From Fear.

The Gazette des Hopitaux, while noticing a case of alleged recovery from hydrophobia, observes that it is often difficult to make the distinction between true hydrophobia, due to the absorption of the rabit virus, and the symptoms of hydrophobia caused by fear of the disease. It cites the case of a woman who died at the hotel Dieu with what seemed to be all the symptoms of the disease, under all the circumstances of the case. Several months before, this woman who was a street vender, had been bitten by a dog as she was passing Notre Dame, and went at once and had the wound cauterized at the hotel Die. From that time she continued perfectly well, until one day, when she was pushing her barrow before the hotel Dieu, she was recognized by one of the students, who called out to her: "Halloa! you are not dead yet, then! The dog that bit your thigh was downright mad, as they found out at Alfort!" At the very instant this remark was made the poor woman was seized with a violent pharyngeal spasm, and was at once taken indoors, where she died with all the indications of hydrophobia.

Confiscating Property.

Mr. Blake has said that the Streams bill does not give Mr. McLaren adequate compensation. Mr. Miller, a Reformer and a lumberman, says it does not give him adequate compensation. The last number of the Bystander said: "On its face, the act certainly seems to be one confiscating improvements and assigning only an arbitrary compensation. It also looks very like a law directed against an individual under color of a general enactment." Here are three opinions, two of them from political friends of the Globe and the third from an independent authority, supporting our contention that the Streams bill does not give Mr. McLaren adequate compensation for the value taken from him. To take property without ample compensation is an act which strikes at the very foundation principles of our constitution; and the general Government could not permit such a law to disgrace the statute book of a Province of the Dominion.—Hamilton Spectator.

Disgraceful Row.

A disgraceful row broke out among a number of young men, chiefly, it is stated, from the city of London, at Westbrook's Hotel on Wednesday night, and one of the members of the crowd named Rogers, got away from his companions and was industriously sought by one of those whom he had eluded. Finally, one of the seekers hid himself at the corner of King and Adelaide streets, behind a building, in order to await Rogers' coming. Mr. Park, tinsmith, and his wife had occasion to pass this corner on their way home, and the party in hiding, mistaking Park for Rogers, knocked a brick with terrific force at Park. It missed him, however, and struck his wife, hurling her to the ground, severely injuring her.

Going to "See a Man."

It is astonishing how many of the sterner sex jump up immediately on the fall of the curtin at the end of each act, and rudely push past ladies for the purpose of going outside to "see a man." On Monday night, at the Grand, by actual count, no less than 117 in the parquette and orchestra chairs were seized with this desire at the close of the second act, and so on, more or less, till the conclusion of the play. The same objectionable practice was indulged in last night. Those who remain quietly seated are annoyed by these parties coming in after the curtain has risen, making such a noise as to drown the voices of the actors, besides again putting them to the inconvenience of rising to enable them to regain their seats. It would be a wonderful improvement if they would finish their business with their friends outside before the performance commenced, instead of remembering every half hour that they had omitted to tell them something, and thereby gain the thanks of the patrons of the theatre.—Mail.
